(1) Have a residency program director.

(2) Employ an individual with relevant experience or training who is responsible for curriculum development and evaluation.

(3) Employ faculty members experienced in the practice of general internal medicine and/or general pediatrics who participate as instructors at principal training settings.

(4) Employ individual(s) with formal education in behavioral sciences who participate in the preparation and implementation of the curriculum and in clinical consultation.

(5) Use a resident recruitment and selection process which assures that residents in the program have applied specifically for training in a program that emphasizes the practice of general in-

(6) Provide financial assistance from grant funds only to residents who have signed statements of their intention to specialize or work in the practice of general internal medicine and/or general pediatrics.

(7) Have, in each program of a school of medicine, at least four residents in training by the beginning of the second year of Federal support, and at least 12 residents in training by the beginning of the fourth year of Federal support. By the beginning of the fourth year of Federal support, a program may meet this requirement with less than 12 residents in training if the number of internal medicine or pediatric residents in primary care training is at least 50 percent of the total number of internal medicine or pediatric residents at the institution. The Secretary may suspend this requirement for a period which he or she finds appropriate if the Secretary determines that a grantee has made a good faith effort to comply with the requirement and has met the other requirements of this Subpart and the Act, but is unable to have the required number of residents in the program due to circumstances beyond its control.

(8) Have, in each program of a school of osteopathic medicine, at least two residents in training by the beginning of the second year of Federal support; and at least six residents in training in 3-year programs and at least four residents in training in 2-year programs by the beginning of the fourth year of Federal support. The Secretary may suspend any of these requirements for a period which he or she finds appropriate if the Secretary determines a grantee has made a good faith effort to comply with the requirement and has met the other requirements of this Subpart and the Act, but is unable to have the required number of residents in the program due to circumstances beyond its control.

(9) Plan to have residents distributed so that there is no decrease in numbers of residents in successive levels of training by the time the program is fully operational.
