A BILL

To establish an Office of Intercountry Adoptions within the Department of State, and to reform United States laws governing intercountry adoptions.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Intercountry Adoption
5 Reform Act of 2004” or the “ICARE Act”.

6       SEC. 2. FINDINGS; PURPOSES.

7       (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

1           (1) That a child, for the full and harmonious
2 development of his or her personality, should grow 3 up in a family environment, in an atmosphere of 4 happiness, love, and understanding.

5           (2) That intercountry adoption may offer the 6 advantage of a permanent family to a child for 7 whom a suitable family cannot be found in his or her
8 country of origin.

9           (3) There has been a significant growth in 10 intercountry adoptions. In 1990, Americans adopted
11 7,093 children from abroad. In 2001, they adopted 12 19,237 children from abroad.

13           (4) Americans increasingly seek to create or en-
14 large their families through intercountry adoptions.

15           (5) There are many children worldwide that are 16 without permanent homes.

17           (6) In the interest of United States citizens and 18 homeless children, reforms are needed in the inter-
19 country adoption process used by United States citi-
20 zens.

21           (7) In addition, Congress recognizes that for-22 eign born adopted children do not make the decision
23 whether to immigrate to the United States. They are 24 being chosen by Americans to become part of their 25 immediate families.

1           (8) As such these children should not be classi-
2           fied as immigrants in the traditional sense. Once 3           fully and finally adopted, they should be treated as 4           children of United States citizens.

5           (9) Since a child who is fully and finally adopt-
6           ed is entitled to the same rights, duties, and respon-7           sibilities as a biological child, the law should reflect 8           such equality.

9           (10) Therefore, foreign born adopted children
10          of United States citizens should be accorded the 11          same procedural treatment as biological children
12          born abroad to a United States citizen.

13          (11) If a United States citizen can confer citi-
14          zenship to a biological child born abroad, then the 15          same citizen is entitled to confer such citizenship to 16          their legally and fully adopted foreign born children
17          immediately upon final adoption.

18          (12) If a United States citizen cannot confer
19          citizenship to a biological child born abroad, then 20          such citizen cannot confer citizenship to their legally 21          and fully adopted foreign born child, except through 22          the naturalization process.

23          (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are—

24                 (1) to ensure that foreign born children adopted
25                 by United States citizens will be treated identically

1 to a biological child born abroad to the same citizen
2 parent;

3 (2) to improve the intercountry adoption proc-
4 ess to make it more citizen friendly and child ori-
5 ented; and

6 (3) to foster best practices.
