1992 NON-STATUTORY EMPLOYEE STOCK OPTION AGREEMENT

This Stock Option Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into by and between Sterling Software, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and Sam Wyly, an employee, director or other advisor of the Company or one of its subsidiaries (the "Participant"). The Company and the Participant agree as follows:

1. Grant of Option. Pursuant to a duly adopted resolution of the Board of Directors of the Company or a duly appointed committee thereof (as used herein, "Committee" shall mean the Board of Directors of the Company or its duly appointed committee, as applicable), the Company hereby grants to the Participant an option (the "Option") pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Company's 1992 Non-Statutory Stock Option Plan (the "Plan") to purchase from the Company a total of 400,000 shares of the Company's common stock, par value $0.10 per share ("Common Stock"), at an exercise price per share of $29.00 (Twenty-Nine and 00/100 dollars) (the "Exercise Price"), in the amounts, during the periods and upon the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Plan.

2. Time of Exercise. The Option may be exercised, in whole or in part, at any time commencing May 23, 1995.

Notwithstanding the above vesting schedule, in the event of a Change of Control (as defined in Section 7 of the Employment Agreement dated July 7, 1987 between the Participant and the Company and any amendments thereto) or a threatened Change of Control, all of the unexercised portion of this Option shall become immediately exercisable. Whether a Change of Control is threatened shall be determined solely by the Board of Directors of the Company.

3. Term. The Option and all rights incident thereto shall terminate ten years from November 23, 1994 (the "Expiration Date").

4. Restrictions on Exercise. The Option:

(a) May be exercised only with respect to full shares and no fractional shares of Common Stock shall be issued upon exercise of the Option; and

(b) May be exercised in whole or in part, but no certificates representing shares subject to the Option shall be delivered if any requisite registration with, clearance by, or consent, approval or authorization of, any governmental authority of any kind having jurisdiction over the exercise of the Option, or issuance of securities upon such exercise, shall not have been obtained or secured.

5. Manner of Exercise. The Option may be exercised by written notice to the Company of the number of shares being purchased and the Exercise Price to be paid, accompanied by the following:

(a) Full payment of the Exercise Price in United States dollars, or in shares of Common Stock then owned by the Participant, or in any other form of valid consideration, or a combination of any of the foregoing as required by the Committee in its discretion; and

(b) An undertaking to furnish or execute such documents as the Company in its discretion shall deem necessary to (i) evidence such exercise of the Option, (ii) determine whether registration is then required under the Securities Act of 1933, as then in effect, and (iii) comply with or satisfy the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, or any other federal, state or local law, as then in effect.

If Common Stock is to constitute all or any portion of the Exercise Price, it shall be valued at its fair market value, as determined by the Committee on the basis of such factors as the Committee may deem appropriate; provided that if at the time the determination of fair market value is made, the shares of Common Stock are admitted to trading on a national securities exchange for which sale prices are regularly reported, the fair market value of the shares shall not be less than the lower of (i) the mean between the closing bid and asked prices reported for, or (ii) the closing price of, the Common Stock on that exchange on the most recent trading day preceding the date on which the Option is exercised. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "national securities exchange" shall also include the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation System and the over-the-counter market. Any federal, state or local taxes required to be paid or withheld at the time of exercise shall be paid or withheld in full prior to any delivery of shares upon exercise.

6. Transferability of Options. This Option may be transferred by the holder hereof upon five (5) days prior written notice to the Company.

7. Rights as Stockholder. Neither the Participant nor any of the Participant's beneficiaries shall be deemed to have any rights as a stockholder with respect to any shares covered by the Option until the issuance of a certificate to the Participant for such shares.

8. Capital Adjustments. The number of shares of Common Stock covered by the Option evidenced by this Agreement, and the Exercise Price thereof, shall be subject to adjustment to reflect any stock dividend, stock split, share combination, exchange of shares, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, separation, reorganization, liquidation, or the like of, or in any manner involving the Company. Except as provided in this Section 8, no adjustment shall be made for dividends or other rights for which the record date is prior to the issuance of the certificate or certificates representing shares issued pursuant to the Option.

9. Rights in Event of Death of Participant. If the Participant dies prior to the Expiration Date, any unexercised portion of the Option shall become immediately exercisable and shall continue to be exercisable in accordance with the terms of this Agreement by the Participant's estate or a person who acquired the right to exercise the Option by bequest or inheritance or by reason of the death of the Participant or, if applicable, by any transferee of the Option.

10. Stock Purchased for Investment. Unless the shares are covered by a then current and effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as then in effect, the Participant, by accepting the Option, represents, warrants, covenants and agrees on behalf of the Participant and the Participant's transferees that all shares of Common Stock purchased upon the exercise of the Option will be acquired for investment and not for resale or distribution, and that upon each exercise of any portion of the Option, the person entitled to exercise the same shall furnish evidence satisfactory to the Company (including a written and signed representation) to the effect that the shares are being acquired in good faith for investment and not for resale or distribution.

11. Notices. Each notice relating to this Agreement shall be in writing and delivered in person or by certified mail to the proper address. Each notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date it is received. Each notice to the Company shall be addressed to it at its principal office, now 8080 North Central Expressway, Suite 1100, Dallas, Texas 75206, attention of the Secretary. Each notice to the Participant or other person or persons then entitled to exercise the Option shall be addressed to the Participant or such other person or persons at the Participant's address specified below. Anyone to whom a notice may be given under this Agreement may designate a new address by notice to that effect.

12. Rights in Event of Termination of Employment Other Than as a Result of Death. If the Participant ceases to be employed by the Company or one of its subsidiaries prior to the Expiration Date, other than as a result of death, any unexercised portion of the Option shall continue to be exercisable in accordance with the terms of this Agreement by the Participant or, if applicable, by any transferee of the Option.

13. Employment. This Agreement does not confer upon the Participant any right to be employed or to continue in the employ of the Company or any of its subsidiaries, nor does it in any way interfere with the right of the Company or any such subsidiary to terminate the employment of the Participant at any time.

14. No Obligation to Exercise Option. This Agreement does not impose any obligation upon the Participant to exercise the Option.

15. Law Governing. This Agreement is intended to be performed in the State of Texas and shall be construed and enforced in accordance with and governed by the laws of such State, except as to matters of corporate law, which shall be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware.

NON-STATUTORY STOCK OPTION AGREEMENT

This Non-Statutory Stock Option Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into by and between Michaels Stores, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and Charles J. Wyly, Jr., an employee, director or other advisor of the Company or one of its subsidiaries (the "Participant"). The Company and the Participant agree as follows:

1. Grant of Option. Pursuant to a duly adopted resolution of the Board of Directors of the Company or a duly appointed committee thereof (collectively referred to herein as the "Board"), the Company hereby grants to the Participant a non-statutory option (the "Option") pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Company's 1992 Non-Statutory Stock Option Plan (the "Plan") to purchase from the Company a total of 300,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock, par value $.10 per share ("Common Stock"), at an exercise price per share of $20.625 (the "Exercise Price"), in the amounts, during the periods and upon the terms and conditions set forth herein.

2. Time of Exercise. Subject to the other terms hereof, the Option may be exercised, in whole or in part, according to the following schedule:

Percentage Exercisable	Date
25%	August 19, 1993
25%	August 19, 1994
25%	August 19, 1995
25%	August 19, 1996

The unexercised portion of the Option from one period may be carried over to a subsequent period or periods and the right of the Participant to exercise the Option as to such unexercised portion shall continue for the entire term. Notwithstanding the foregoing, however, the Option shall become immediately exercisable in full if either (i) the Company's net income per share over any period of four consecutive fiscal quarters is at least $2.00 or (ii) the average closing price of the Company's Common Stock as quoted by NASDAQ or any stock exchange over any period of 90 consecutive calendar days is at least $40.00 per share, in either case giving appropriate effect to, and making appropriate adjustment for, any change in capitalization of the Company, such as a stock dividend, stock split, reverse stock split, share combination, exchange of shares, merger, consolidation, reorganization, liquidation, or the like, of or by the Company. In no event may the Option be exercised in whole or in part after the expiration of the term described in Section 3 below.

3. Term. Subject to the other terms hereof, the Option and all rights incident thereto shall terminate on August 18, 1997.

4. Restrictions on Exercise. The Option:

(a) May be exercised only with respect to full shares and no fractional shares of Common Stock shall be issued upon exercise of the Option; and

~~(b) May be exercised in whole or in part, but no certificates representing shares subject to the Option shall be delivered if any requisite registration with, clearance by, or consent, approval or authorization of, any governmental authority of any kind having jurisdiction over the exercise of the Option, or issuance of securities upon such exercise, shall not have been taken or secured.~~

5. Manner of Exercise. The Option may be exercised by written notice to the Company of the number of shares being purchased and the Exercise Price to be paid, accompanied by the following:

(a) (i) Full payment of the Exercise Price in United States Dollars, or in shares of Common Stock then owned by the Participant, or in any other form of valid consideration, (ii) a copy of irrevocable instructions from the Participant to a broker or dealer, reasonably acceptable to the Company, to sell certain of the shares purchased upon exercise of the Option or pledge them as collateral for a loan and promptly deliver to the Company the amount of sale or loan proceeds necessary to pay the Exercise Price, or (iii) a combination of any of the foregoing as required by the Board in its discretion; and

(b) An undertaking to furnish or execute such documents as the Company in its discretion shall deem necessary (i) to evidence such exercise of the Option, (ii) to determine whether registration is then required under the Securities Act of 1933, as then in effect and (iii) to comply with or satisfy the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, or any other federal, state or local law, as then in effect.

If Common Stock is to constitute all or any portion of the Exercise Price, it shall be valued at its fair market value, as determined by the Board on the basis of such factors as the Board may deem appropriate; provided that if at the time the determination of fair market value is made, the shares of Common Stock are admitted to trading on a national securities exchange for which sale prices are regularly reported, the fair market value of the shares shall not be less than the lower of (i) the mean between the closing bid and asked prices reported for, or (ii) the closing trade price of, the Common Stock on that exchange on the date or most recent trading day preceding the date on which the Option is exercised. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "national securities exchange" shall include without limitation the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation System and the over-the-counter market. Any federal, state or local taxes required to be paid or withheld at the time of exercise shall be paid or withheld in full prior to any delivery of shares upon exercise. Upon due exercise of the Option, the Company shall issue such shares registered in the name of the person exercising the Option or as directed by such person in writing reasonably acceptable to the Company.

6. Transferability of Option. This Option may be transferred by the holder hereof upon five (5) days prior written notice to the Company.

7. Rights as Stockholder. Neither the Participant nor any of the Participant's beneficiaries shall be deemed to have any rights as a stockholder with respect to any shares covered by the Option until the issuance of a certificate to the Participant for such shares.

8. Capital Adjustments. If the outstanding shares of Common Stock are increased, decreased, changed into or exchanged for a different number or kind of shares or securities through merger, consolidation, combination, exchange of shares, other reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, stock dividend, stock split or reverse stock split, an appropriate and proportionate adjustment shall be made changing the number or kind of shares allocated to unexercised portions of the Option. Any such adjustment shall be made without change in the aggregate Exercise Price applicable to the unexercised portions of the Option, but with a corresponding adjustment in the Exercise Price for each share covered by such unexercised portions. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, no adjustment shall be made for dividends or other rights for which the record date is prior to the issuance of the certificate or certificates representing shares issued pursuant to the Option.

9. Rights in Event of Death of Participant. If the Participant dies prior to termination of the Participant's rights to exercise the Option in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement without having exercised the Option as to all shares covered thereby, the Option may be fully exercised as to the unexercised portion thereof and subject to all other conditions of the Plan and this Agreement by the Participant's estate or a person who acquired the right to exercise the Option by bequest or inheritance or by reason of the death of the Participant, provided the period during which the Option may be so exercised shall not continue beyond the expiration of the Option or one year from the date of the Participant's death, whichever date first occurs.

10. Stock Purchased for Investment. Unless the shares are covered by a then current and effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as then in effect, the Participant, by accepting the Option, represents, warrants, covenants and agrees on behalf of the Participant and the Participant's transferees that all shares of Common Stock purchased upon the exercise of the Option will be acquired for investment and not for resale or distribution, and that upon each exercise of any portion of the Option, ~~the person entitled to exercise the same~~ shall furnish evidence satisfactory to the Company (including a written and signed representation) to the effect that the shares are being acquired in good faith for investment and not for resale or distribution. The Participant understands and agrees that all certificates evidencing any of the shares purchased upon the exercise of the Option shall bear a legend, prominently stamped or printed thereon, reading substantially as follows:

The shares represented by this certificate have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act"), or the securities law of any state (a "State Act"). The shares have been acquired for investment and may not be transferred or otherwise disposed of unless such shares are then registered under the Act and any applicable State Acts or the issuer has received an opinion of counsel, satisfactory to the issuer, that such transfer does not require registration under the Act or any State Act.

11. Notices. Each notice relating to this Agreement shall be in writing and delivered in person or by certified mail to the proper address. Each notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date it is received. Each notice to the Company shall be addressed to it at its principal office, now 5931 Campus Circle Drive, Irving, Texas 75063, Attention: Secretary. Each notice to the Participant or other person or persons then entitled to exercise the Option shall be addressed to the Participant or such other person or persons at the Participant's address specified below. Anyone to whom a notice may be given under this Agreement may designate a new address by notice to that effect.

12. No Obligation to Exercise Option. This Agreement does not impose any obligation upon the Participant to exercise the Option.

13. Employment. This Agreement does not confer upon the Participant any right to be employed or to continue in the employ or service of the Company or any of its subsidiaries, nor does it in any way interfere with the right of the Company or any such subsidiary to terminate the employment or service of the Participant at any time.

14. Law Governing. This Agreement is intended to be performed in the State of Texas and shall be construed and enforced in accordance with and governed by the laws of such State, except as to matters of corporate law, which shall be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Company and the Participant have executed this Agreement as of the 19th day of August, 1992.

1996 STOCK OPTION PLAN

Stock Option Agreement

This Stock Option Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into by and between Sterling Commerce, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and Sam Wyly (the "Participant"). The Company and the Participant agree as follows:

1. Grant of Stock Option. Pursuant to a duly adopted resolution of the Special Stock Option Committee on February 12, 1996 (the "Date of Grant"), the Company hereby grants to the Participant, upon the terms and conditions set forth below and subject to the terms and conditions of the Company's 1996 Stock Option Plan (the "Plan"), an option (the "Stock Option") to purchase from the Company a total of 3,000,000 shares of the Company's common stock, par value $0.01 per share ("Common Stock"), at an exercise price per share (the "Option Price") equal to the price per share to the public of the shares of Common Stock offered and sold by the Company in the underwritten initial offering of the Common Stock ("IPO"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Stock Option will be effective on the date on which the purchase and sale of the Common Stock pursuant to the IPO first occurs and may not be exercised prior to such date. Any terms, when used in this Agreement with initial capital letters but not defined herein, have the same meanings as in the Plan, the provisions of which are incorporated into this Agreement by reference. The Participant acknowledges receipt of a copy of the Plan.

2. Time of Exercise. The Stock Option may be exercised, in whole or in part, at any time on or after the date on which this Stock Option becomes effective, as provided in Section 1, without regard to whether the Participant is an employee of the Company or any Subsidiary at the time of exercise. In no event may the Stock Option be exercised in whole or in part, however, after the expiration of the term described in Section 3 below.

3. Term. The Stock Option will expire and all rights under this Agreement will terminate on the tenth anniversary of the Date of Grant.

4. Restrictions on Exercise. The Stock Option:

(a) may be exercised only with respect to full shares and no fractional shares of Common Stock will be issued upon exercise of the Stock Option; and will be delivered if any requisite registration with, clearance by, or consent, approval or authorization of, any governmental authority of any kind having jurisdiction over the exercise of the Stock Option, or issuance of securities upon such exercise, has not been obtained or secured.

(b) may be exercised in whole or in part, but no certificates representing shares subject to the Stock Option

5. Manner of Exercise. The Stock Option may be exercised by written notice to the Company of the number of shares being purchased and the Option Price to be paid, accompanied by full payment of the Option Price (a) in cash or by check acceptable to the Company, (b) by the transfer to the Company of shares of Common Stock owned by the Participant for at least six months and having an aggregate fair market value per share at the date of exercise equal to the aggregate Option Price (provided that the payment method described in this clause (b) will not be available at any time that the Company is prohibited from purchasing or acquiring such shares of Common Stock), or (c) by a combination of any of the foregoing, provided that payment of the Option Price may also be made by deferred payment from the proceeds of sale through a bank or broker of some or all of the shares to which the exercise relates. Any federal, state or local taxes required to be paid or withheld at the time of exercise will be paid or withheld in full prior to any delivery of shares upon exercise.

6. Transferability of Stock Options. This Stock Option may be transferred by the Participant on five days prior written notice to the Company.

7. Rights as Stockholder. Neither the Participant nor any of the Participant's beneficiaries will be deemed to have any rights as a stockholder with respect to any shares covered by the Stock Option until the issuance of a certificate to the Participant for such shares.

8. Adjustments. The number of shares of Common Stock covered by the Stock Option evidenced by this Agreement, and the Option Price thereof, will be subject to adjustment as provided in the Plan. No adjustment will be made for dividends or other rights for which the record date is prior to the issuance of the certificate or certificates representing shares issued pursuant to the Stock Option.

9. Rights in Event of Death of Participant. In the event of the death of the Participant, the Stock Option may be exercised by the Participant's estate or a person who acquired the right to exercise the Stock Option by bequest or inheritance or by reason of the death of the Participant. In no event may the Stock Option be exercised after the expiration date set forth in Section 3.

10. Stock Purchased for Investment. Unless the shares are covered by a then current and effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as then in effect, the Participant, by accepting the Stock Option, represents, warrants, covenants and agrees on behalf of the Participant and the ~~Participant's transferees that all shares of Common Stock~~ purchased upon the exercise of the Stock Option will be acquired for investment and not for resale or distribution, and that upon each exercise of any portion of the Stock Option, the person entitled to exercise the same will furnish evidence satisfactory to the Company (including a written and signed representation) to the effect that the shares are being acquired in good faith for investment and not for resale or distribution. The Participant agrees to furnish or execute such documents as the Company in its discretion deems necessary to (a) evidence such exercise of the Stock Option, (b) determine whether registration is then required under the Securities Act of 1933, as then in effect, and (c) comply with or satisfy the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, or any other federal, state or local law, as then in effect.

11. Notices. Each notice relating to this Agreement will be in writing and delivered in person or by certified mail to the proper address. Each notice will be deemed to have been given on the date it is received. Each notice to the Company will be addressed to it at its principal office, now 8080 North Central Expressway, Suite 1100, Dallas, Texas 75206, attention of the Secretary. 1996 STOCK OPTION PLAN

Third Amendment to Stock Option Agreement

This Third Amendment to Stock Option Agreement (this "Amendment") is entered into by and between Sterling Commerce, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and Moberly Limited, an Isle of Man corporation (the "Participant").

A. The Company and Sam Wyly entered into a Stock Option Agreement, dated February 12, 1996 (the "Agreement").

B. By Amendment to Stock Option Agreement, dated March 7, 1996, Sam Wyly transferred his rights under the Agreement to Aundyr Trust Company Limited, Trustee of The Crazy Horse Trust, a trust created under the laws of the Isle of Man ("Aundyr").

C. By Second Amendment to Stock Option Agreement, dated March 7, 1996, Aundyr transferred its rights under the Agreement to the Participant.

D. For good and valuable consideration, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the Company and the Participant desire to amend the Agreement as set forth below.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Company and the Participant agree as follows:

1. Section 2 of the Agreement is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

"2. Time to Exercise. The Stock Option may be exercised, in whole or in part, at any time on or after the second business day after the first anniversary of the record date (the "Record Date") established by the Board of Directors of Sterling Software, Inc. ("Sterling Software") with respect to the special dividend consisting of the distribution to all holders of Sterling Software's common stock, par value $.10 per share, of all shares of common stock, par value $.01 per share, of the Company owned by Sterling Software on the Record Date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a Change in Control (as hereinafter defined) or a threatened Change in Control, all of the unexercised portion of the Stock Option will become immediately exercisable. Whether a Change in Control is threatened will be determined solely by the Board. The Stock Option may be exercised without regard to whether the Participant is an employee of the Company or any Subsidiary at the time of exercise. In no event may the Stock Option be exercised in whole or in part, however, after the expiration of the term described in Section 3 below.

For purposes of this Agreement, a "Change in Control" means the occurrence of any of the following events:

(a) the Company is merged, consolidated or reorganized into or with another corporation or other legal person, and as a result of such merger, consolidation or reorganization less than two-thirds of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors ("Voting Stock") of such corporation or person immediately after such transaction are held in the aggregate by the holders of Voting Stock of the Company immediately prior to such transaction;

(b) the Company sells or otherwise transfers all or substantially all of its assets to another corporation or other legal person, and as a result of such sale or transfer less than two-thirds of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding Voting Stock of such corporation or person immediately after such sale or transfer is held in the aggregate by the holders of Voting Stock of the Company immediately prior to such sale or transfer;

(c) there is a report filed on Schedule 13D or Schedule 14D-1 (or any successor schedule, form or report), each as promulgated pursuant to the Act, disclosing that any person (as the term "person" is used in Section 13(d)(3) or Section 14(d)(2) of the Act) has become the beneficial owner (as the term "beneficial owner" is defined under Rule 13d-3 or any successor rule or regulation promulgated under the Act) of securities representing 20% or more of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding Voting Stock of the Company;

(d) the Company files a report or proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Act disclosing in response to Form 8-K or Schedule 14A (or any successor schedule, form or report or item therein) that a change in control of the Company has occurred or will occur in the future pursuant to any then-existing contract or transaction; or

(e) if, during any period of two consecutive years, individuals who at the beginning of any such period constitute the directors of the Company cease for any reason to constitute at least a majority thereof; provided, however, that for purposes of this clause (e) each director who is first elected, or first nominated for election by the Company's stockholders, by a vote of at least two-thirds of the directors of the Company (or a committee thereof) then still in office who were directors of the Company at the beginning of any such period will be deemed to have been a director of the Company at the beginning of such period.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of clauses (c) or (d) above, unless otherwise determined in a specific case by majority vote of the Board, a "Change in Control" will not be deemed to have occurred for purposes of clause (c) or clause (d) above solely because (A) the Company, (B) a Subsidiary, (C) any Company-sponsored employee stock ownership plan or any other employee benefit plan of the Company or any Subsidiary or (D) Sterling Software, Inc. or any of its wholly owned subsidiaries (collectively, "SSW") either files or becomes obligated to file a report or a proxy statement under or in response to Schedule 13D, Schedule 14D-1, Form 8-K or Schedule 14A (or any successor schedule, form or report or item therein) under the Act disclosing beneficial ownership by it of shares of Voting Stock of the Company, whether in excess of 20% or otherwise, or because the Company reports that a change in control of the Company has occurred or will occur in the future by reason of such beneficial ownership or any increase or decrease thereof; provided, however, that the exception contained in clause (D) above with respect to the beneficial ownership of Voting Stock of the Company by SSW will expire, without further action, effective as of the date on which SSW no longer beneficially owns more than 10% of the outstanding Voting Stock of the Company."

2. In all other respects, the terms of the Agreement will remain in full force and effect.

This Amendment is effective as of September 13, 1996.

Re: Private Annuity Agreement Between Charles J. Wyly, Jr. and Roaring Creek Limited

Dear Mr. Wyly:

As requested by Sharyl Robertson, we have calculated the annual annuity payment under the Private Annuity Agreement between Charles J. Wyly, Jr. (Annuitant) and Roaring Creek Limited (Obligor).

Our calculations indicate that the annual annuity payment, with the first payment to be made on November 1, 1998 and to continue for your lifetime, is $708,645.

Our calculations were based on the following information:

- ▶ Birth date of Charles J. Wyly, Jr.: October 13, 1933
- ▶ Value of securities being transferred under the terms of the agreement: $3,304,687
- ▶ Agreement date: April 13, 1992
- ▶ Interest rate specified in agreement: 8.4% compounded annually

The amount of the annual annuity payment was calculated according to the provisions of Section II of the Annuity Agreement. The annual annuity payment of $708,645 includes the interest adjustment (at 8.4% compounded annually) for the deferral period between the agreement date and the annuity starting date (November 1, 1998) as specified by Section 2.4(b) of the Agreement.

In accordance with Section 2.3 of the Agreement, our calculation utilized the Table R(1), based on Life Table 80 CNSMT Single Life Remainder factor using an interest rate of 8.4%. This factor was retrieved from the table published in Internal Revenue Service Notice 89-60 and has a value of .33528 for age 65. The age 65 annuity factor produced from this value is:

With respect to the Private Annuity Agreement, the role of Milliman & Robertson was strictly confined to calculating the annual annuity payment called for under the provisions of Section II of the Agreement. We are not rendering an opinion on any other aspect of this transaction.

Re: Private Annuity Agreement Between Sam Wylie and Morehouse Limited

Dear Mr. Wylie:

As requested by Sharyl Robertson, we have calculated the annual annuity payment under the Private Annuity Agreement between Sam Wylie (Annuitant) and Morehouse Limited (Obligor).

Our calculations indicate that the annual annuity payment, with the first payment to be made on November 1, 1999 and to continue for your lifetime, is $600,534.

In accordance with Section 2.3 of the Agreement, our calculation utilized the Table R(1), based on Life Table 80 CNSMT Single Life Remainder factor using an interest rate of 8.4%. This factor was retrieved from the table published in Internal Revenue Service Notice 89-60 and has a value of .33528 for age 65. The age 65 annuity factor produced from this value is:

With respect to the Private Annuity Agreement, the role of Milliman & Robertson was strictly confined to calculating the annual annuity payment called for under the provisions of Section II of the Agreement. We are not rendering an opinion on any other aspect of this transaction.

Ms. Caroline D. Wyly

Dear Ms. Wyly:

You have requested the opinion of PRATTER, TEDDER & GRAVES concerning the 1992 federal income tax consequences that are likely to apply to the proposed sale of "Securities" herein defined and identified in Schedule A, in exchange for a private annuity, with such sale occurring during the 1992 taxable year.

Our analysis and opinion are based upon the facts and information as set forth herein and our assumption that these facts and information present a true, accurate, and complete description of the facts that are relevant to the proposed transaction described herein and the taxation issues we are addressing herein.

We have reviewed the various legal documents and other information in connection with this proposed plan. This opinion assumes that the program will be implemented in a manner that is unmodified from the proposed program described herein.

We have only been requested to examine the material federal tax aspects that relate to the proposed program described herein. We have not been requested to examine other laws and concerns that pertain to the business transactions and/or the proposed program. Consequently, although numerous federal and state laws and Regulations apply to the business transactions, we expressly disclaim any opinion as to the effect of such laws and Regulations to the business transaction except as are otherwise expressly indicated herein.

This opinion is founded upon a prospective plan of action that has not yet been completed. Recognizing that facts and circumstances may change, and recognizing that such changes may affect the legal and tax consequences pertaining to the operations of the business transaction, we must therefore advise you that any change or deviation from the proposed plan of action described herein might produce different tax consequences than those set forth in this opinion.

Our opinion represents our conclusions derived from our legal analysis in which we applied the facts and circumstances pertaining to the Securities owned by you personally and the proposed business transaction as described herein to our interpretation of federal tax law.

Our analysis and opinion are limited to the above issue of federal taxation and do not cover or relate to any other legal or taxation issue that may pertain to such a transaction, and we expressly disclaim any opinion as to such matters.

Our opinion has no binding effect or official status of any kind, type, or character. We cannot assure you or anyone else that the opinions and conclusions contained in this opinion letter will be sustained by the Internal Revenue Service, any court of law, or anyone else.

I. THE FACTUAL FOUNDATION:

It is our understanding that you are considering the sale of Securities to an unrelated domestic corporation which will issue a private annuity in exchange for the Securities. It is our further understanding that it is the express intent of the parties to the transaction that the value of the Securities will equal the value of the annuity and that no gift or bargain sale or discounted sale price will arise as a result of the transaction. Further, it is our understanding that the private annuity is intended to be issued in an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the Securities that are being sold in exchange for the private annuity. Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" are intended to be made by you with respect to this private annuity transaction.

The private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities sold in exchange for the annuity. The amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities.

It is our further understanding that the domestic corporation intending to purchase the Securities in exchange for the issuance of the private annuity is wholly owned by a foreign corporation which is wholly-owned by a foreign nongrantor trust. This trust has been established by you for the benefit of one (1) or more foreign beneficiaries during your lifetime. We understand that during your lifetime the trust will have no United States beneficiaries, but in the taxable years following your death the trust may have one (1) or more beneficiaries who are United States citizens and/or resident aliens.

We understand that the private annuity is intended to be unsecured. There are to be no security interests, guarantees, specific funds, or other forms of collateral or assurances that the private annuity payments will be made by the corporation other than the mere unsecured contractual promise of such corporation that it will make the annuity payments as they become due under the terms of the annuity agreement.

We further understand that the private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities transferred by you in exchange for the annuity. Any income generated by the Securities will belong to the corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments.

We understand that the amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities being exchanged for the annuity and will not be based on any income generated by the Securities that are being transferred for the annuity.

~~We also understand that the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being exchanged for the private annuity will reside exclusively with the acquiring corporation, and you will not preserve or reserve any control of any kind or character over such Securities or any income therefrom that would constitute a retained interest in the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being exchanged for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that you will irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the Securities which are sold in exchange for the private annuity.~~

It is our understanding that the private annuity payments will contain an interest factor in the amount stipulated by the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling that applies for the month in which the annuity agreement is entered into.

We understand that the corporation issuing the private annuity is not in the business of issuing annuities from time to time, and it will not issue any additional annuities during the term of its private annuity agreement with you.

We further understand that the corporation issuing the private annuity is not a life insurance company or a bank and is not authorized to conduct either the banking business or the life insurance company business and does not intend to obtain such authorization.

We have been advised that there are no outstanding encumbrances on the Securities, and consequently we do not express any opinion that relates to this issue.

You have advised us that your stock options are nontransferable and are not actively traded on an established market. The Nonstatutory Option Agreements verify and specify the nontransferability of the stock options.

You have further informed us that the stock warrants are transferable and that certain warrants are compensatory while other warrants are noncompensatory in nature. You have advised us that these warrants are not actively traded on an established market.

II. OPINION AND ANALYSIS OF THE 1992 FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES THAT ARE LIKELY TO APPLY TO THE PROPOSED SALE OF SECURITIES TO A CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY, WITH SUCH SALE OCCURRING DURING THE 1992 TAXABLE YEAR UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES DESCRIBED HEREIN:

A. PURSUANT TO THE GENERAL FEDERAL INCOME TAX TREATMENT OF PROPERTY EXCHANGED FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY THE SALE OF PROPERTY TO THE CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR THE RECEIPT OF A PRIVATE ANNUITY IS NOT A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992.

The general federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity is explained in Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4805 as follows:

"The transfer of property in exchange for a private annuity is not a taxable transaction. Thus, a taxpayer who turns his property over to a member of his family or other private individual, or to his own corporation or other corporation, which is not a life insurance company or a bank or an organization which issues annuities from time to time, in exchange for payments for life, has no immediate taxable gain. (Emphasis is included in the text.) However, the payments under the arrangement are taxable when received, see Paragraph J- 4807. The actual transfer isn't taxable because the promise to make the lifetime payments is considered to have no determinable value. It makes no difference if the obligor under the private annuity arrangement (i.e., the transferee) is financially sound at the time of the transfer since that 'private' transferee is not in the business of granting annuities, his solvency is not subject to the supervision and restrictions of insurance companies and banks, and may change over the payment period. (Citations omitted.)"

In your situation, because the corporation which is issuing the annuity is not in the business of issuing annuities from time to time, and will not issue any additional annuities during the term of its private annuity agreement with you, and because the corporation is not a life insurance company or a bank and is not authorized to conduct either the banking business or the life insurance company business and does not intend to obtain such authorization, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the annuity will likely be taxable as a private annuity in accordance with the aforedescribed federal income tax consequences, as opposed to its being taxable as a commercial annuity.

B. THE PRIVATE ANNUITY IS NOT INTENDED TO CONTAIN A GIFT OR BARGAIN SALE ELEMENT, AND THE EXCHANGE OF SECURITIES FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY OF EQUIVALENT ACTUARIAL VALUE IS LIKELY TO BE EXCLUDED FROM FEDERAL GIFT TAX.

The private annuity is intended to be issued in an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the Securities that are being sold in exchange for the private annuity. Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" are intended to be made by either you or the corporation with respect to this private annuity transaction.

Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d describes

private annuity taxation as follows at Paragraph C- 5408:

"Under the private annuity rules, there's no gift tax if the sale is made at market price (see Chapter Q), there's no estate tax on the property remaining after the taxpayer's death (see Chapter R), and the taxpayer's taxable gain on the sale is spread over the annuity payments he receives (see Chapter J)."

Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities, at page A-5 states:

"Under a private annuity the possibility of the Service's finding a gift in the exchange of property for an annuity of actuarially equal value is nil."

This author further explains at page A-15:

"The rules already discussed all assume that the transferor is not making a partial gift through the annuity agreement. In other words, it is assumed that the fair market value of the property and the present value of the annuity are equal...."

Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4804 contains some explanatory language that is helpful and should be heeded if the avoidance of a gift element is being sought by the parties to the Annuity Agreement. The pertinent language in that Paragraph states:

"Some evidence of a gift must be present for any amount to be excluded as a gift from the cost of the private annuity.

"The fact that the value of the property exceeds the present value of the annuity is not conclusive evidence of a partial gift. (Citations omitted.) However, some evidence of a gift may appear if the taxpayer filed a gift tax return for the excess value. (Citation omitted.) ..."

It is our understanding that the private annuity payments you are to receive will contain an interest factor in the amount stipulated by the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling that applies for the month in which the annuity agreement is entered into.

~~This is very important because the Internal Revenue Service can take the position that the present value of the annuity is less than the present value of the Securities sold in exchange for the annuity if the annuity does not contain an adequate interest rate factor to compensate for the time delay to the annuitant in receiving its consideration for the sale and exchange of the Securities. For example, see Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities at page A-21 discussing the United States Tax Court decision in LaFargue v. Commissioner, 73 T.C. 40 (1979), which was affirmed in part and reversed in part by the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit in 689 F.2d 845 (9th Cir. 1982), in which the Tax Court found that the annuity transaction was not taxable as a private annuity for among other reasons:~~

"...(T)he transaction was not based on the actuarial tables and did not include an interest factor, and there was a large gap between the present value and the fair market value of the annuity. ..."

Although the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit reversed the Tax Court's holding that the transaction did not involve a private annuity, it is important that the annuity contain an interest factor to account for the time value of money.

In your situation it is clearly the intent of the parties that the price of the annuity is to be equal to the value of the Securities being exchanged for the annuity, and no gift or other valuation benefit in excess of such value is intended to be received by either party to the agreement. It is thus our opinion that it is more likely than not that no gift tax will be imposed on your disposition of the Securities in exchange for your receiving a private annuity of equal value, provided the actuarial value of the Securities being sold in exchange for the receipt of the private annuity are of an equivalent actuarial value.

C. THE ANNUITY PAYMENTS MUST BE UNSECURED TO AVOID YOUR BEING TAXED IMMEDIATELY IN 1992 ON THE GAIN FROM THE DISPOSITION OF THE SECURITIES BEING EXCHANGED FOR THE ANNUITY.

The United States Tax Court has held that the private annuity income ~~tax rules apply only to private annuities that are unsecured.~~ If the annuity payments are secured the annuity will be taxable as if it were a commercial annuity rather than a private annuity. (See Estate of Lloyd Bell, (1973) 60 TC 469 and 212 Corp., (1978) 70 TC 788.)

For example, the Tax Court in Bell held that the property transferred in exchange for the private annuity was secured because such property was placed in escrow as security for the annuity payments, and the annuity agreement also provided for a "cognovit" judgment against the parties issuing the annuity in the event they defaulted in making their annuity payments. Consequently, the Tax Court applied the rules pertaining to commercial annuities to the transaction and held that the taxpayers had an immediately taxable gain when they exchanged their appreciated stock in exchange for the secured private annuity.

It is our understanding that the private annuity being issued to you is intended to be unsecured. There are to be no security interests, guarantees, specific funds, or other forms of collateral or assurances that the private annuity payments will be made by the corporation other than the mere unsecured contractual promise of such corporation that it will make the annuity payments as they become due under the terms of the annuity agreement.

In addition, the private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities transferred by you in exchange for the annuity. The income generated by the property will belong to the corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments. The amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities being sold for the annuity and will not be based on the income generated by the Securities being exchanged for the annuity.

Furthermore, the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being sold in exchange for the private annuity will reside exclusively with the corporation, and you will not preserve or reserve any control of any kind or character over such Securities and the income therefrom that would constitute a retained interest in the possession or enjoyment of the Securities being sold in exchange for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that you will irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the Securities which are being sold in exchange for the private annuity.

Consequently, provided that the private annuity payments will be unsecured and will always remain unsecured it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the private annuity will not be taxable as a secured annuity that is taxable as a commercial annuity.

D. THE DISPOSITION OF COMPENSATORY NON-STATUTORY NONVESTED SECURITIES IN AN ARM'S LENGTH TRANSACTION BEFORE RIGHTS IN THE SECURITIES BECOME TRANSFERABLE TO THE OBLIGOR CORPORATION, AND THE DISPOSITION OF A COMPENSATORY NONSTATUTORY TRANSFERABLE WARRANT IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A SUBSTANTIALLY NONVESTED PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION IS NOT A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992.

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that an exchange of your nontransferable stock options for a private annuity will not be subject to an immediate taxable event.

Section 83 and Regulations Section 1.83-1, 1.83-3, and 1.83-7.

Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not initially apply to the taxation of your nonqualified stock options because your options are not actively traded on an established market and are not transferable. However, once the nontransferable stock options are exchanged for the nonvested private annuity, you will then be subject to the rules of Internal Revenue Code Sections 83(a) and 83(b). Under these rules to avoid an immediate taxable event upon the transfer of your stock options for a private annuity, the stock options must be transferred for a substantially nonvested private annuity.

Substantially nonvested property is property that is nontransferable and subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture. (See Regulations Section 1.83-3(b).)

The general rule regarding the transferability of property is cited in Regulation Section 1.83-3(d):

"For purposes of Section 83 and the Regulations thereunder, the rights of a person in property are transferable if such person can transfer any interest in the property to any person other than the transferor of the property, but only if the rights in such property of such transferee are not subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture. Accordingly, property is transferable if the person performing the services or receiving the property can sell, assign, or pledge (as collateral for a loan, or as security for the performance of an obligation, or any other purpose) his interest in the property to any person other than the transferor of such property and if the transferee is not required to give up the property or its value in the event the substantial risk of forfeiture materializes. On the other hand, property is not considered to be transferable merely because the person performing the services or receiving the property may designate a beneficiary to receive the property in the event of his death."

3(c) as follows:

"A substantial risk of forfeiture exists where rights in property that are transferred are conditioned, directly or indirectly, upon the future performance (or refraining from performance) of substantial services by any person, or the occurrence of a condition related to a purpose of the transfer, and the possibility of forfeiture is substantial if such condition is not satisfied."

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that a private annuity will be treated as being substantially nonvested.

To be substantially nonvested, the private annuity must be nontransferable and subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture.

Section XVI of the Private Annuity agreement specifically states that the private annuity payments to you are nonassignable and nontransferable or capable of being pledged or otherwise encumbered by you without the prior written consent of the Obligor first being obtained. Furthermore, a private annuity is customarily nontransferable. (See Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities, at page number A-7.)

It is also our opinion that it is more likely than not that the private annuity is subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture as exemplified by Section 2.5(a) of the Private Annuity Agreement which states:

"The Annuity payments payable hereunder to the Annuitant are subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture to the Annuitant in that such Annuity payments shall terminate and lapse with the last payment immediately preceding the death of the Annuitant, or upon the death of the Annuitant if no payments have been made as of the death of the Annuitant; however, notwithstanding the foregoing, any annuity payments that were not made prior to the death of the Annuitant because of a breach of this Agreement by the Obligor shall be due and payable upon the death of the Annuitant together with any applicable interest, late charges, or other payments due hereunder, and any such payments shall be made to the estate of the Annuitant . There will be no proration of payments at the time of the death of the Annuitant or at anytime thereafter."

~~The unpaid annuity payments upon your death are thus totally terminable, extinguishable, and forfeitable. Consequently, the private annuity is subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture.~~

It is therefore our opinion that your private annuity will then be treated for tax purposes as your stock options would have been treated under Internal Revenue Code Section 83. The result of this substitution is that when your private annuity substantially vests under Internal Revenue Code Section 83, it will be taxed in the Caroline D. e manner that the stock options would have been taxed under Internal Revenue Code Section 83(a) and (b)¹. Therefore, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that when the private annuity substantially vests (i.e., when payments under the terms of the annuity agreement are actually received by you) you will at that time be subject to a taxable event.

The term "nonstatutory stock options" includes warrants to purchase stock. (See Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at paragraphs H-2850 and H-2853, citing Frank Shamburger (1973) 61 TC 85, affirmed (1975, CA8) 508 F2d 883.)

It is our opinion that the compensatory nonstatutory transferable warrant which is being sold in exchange for your receiving a substantially nonvested private annuity will not cause a taxable event in 1992, the year of the exchange.

Furthermore, assuming that vested nontransferable stock options and a vested transferable warrant (as defined in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(a)) are exchanged for a private annuity, it is more likely than not that such an exchange will not result in an immediate taxable event.

E. NONCOMPENSATORY NONSTATUTORY SECURITIES TRANSFERRED TO THE OBLIGOR CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A SUBSTANTIALLY NONVESTED PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION WILL LIKELY NOT BE A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992, THE YEAR OF EXCHANGE.

Noncompensatory nonstatutory Securities are not covered by Internal Revenue Code Section 83. Internal Revenue Code Section 83 only governs property transferred in connection with the performance of services, and since these Securities are non-compensatory they will be exempt from Internal Revenue Code Section 83 rules as previously herein discussed.

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that these non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities will be covered by the general federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity. The Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4804 explains the federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity as follows:

"The transfer of property in exchange for a private annuity is not a taxable transaction. Thus, a taxpayer who turns his property over to a member of his family or other private individual, or to his own corporation or other corporation, which is not a life insurance company or a bank or an organization which issues annuities from time to time, in exchange for payments for life, has no immediate taxable gain. (Emphasis is included in the text) However, the payments under the arrangement are taxable when received, see Paragraph J-4806. The actual transfer isn't taxable because the promise to make the lifetime payments is considered to have no determinable value. It makes no difference if the obligor under the 'private' transferee is not in the business of granting annuities, his solvency is not subject to the supervision and restrictions of insurance companies and banks, and may change over the payment period. (Citations omitted.)"

Because the non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities are not subject to Internal Revenue Code Section 83 coverage, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities transferred in exchange for the private annuity will likely be taxable as property transferred in exchange for a private annuity in accordance with the aforescribed federal income tax consequences.

F. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, THE DISPOSITION OF SECURITIES WITHOUT A READILY ASCERTAINABLE FAIR MARKET VALUE TO AN OBLIGOR CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION IS ARGUABLY NOT GOVERNED BY INTERNAL REVENUE CODE SECTION 83, AND WOULD THUS BE EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PURSUANT TO THE FOREGOING INTERNAL REVENUE CODE SECTION 83 RULES!

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the transfer of stock options without a readily ascertainable fair market value in exchange for a private annuity is arguably not subject to the Internal Revenue Code Section 83 rules.

If Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not apply to the transfer of stock options in exchange for a private annuity, the stock options that are transferred in exchange for a private annuity, will likely be governed according to the aforescribed federal income rules covering private annuities, that apply to property interests that are not transferred in connection with the performance of services.

Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e) recites the situations in which Section 83 does not apply to certain property interests transferred in connection with the performance of services. That statute states:

"This Section shall not apply to-

(1) a transaction to which Section 421 applies,

(2) a transfer to or from a trust described in Section 401(a) or a transfer under an annuity plan which meets the requirement of Section 404(a)(2),

(3) the transfer of an option without a readily ascertainable fair market value,

(4) the transfer of property pursuant to the exercise of an option with a readily ascertainable fair market value at the date of grant, or

(5) group-term life insurance to which Section 79 applies."

Under Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e)(3), a stock option without a readily ascertainable fair market value is not subject to Internal Revenue Code Section 83.

In your situation, your stock options are not actively traded on an established market and according to Regulation Section 1.83-7(b) should not have a readily ascertainable fair market value: That Regulation states:

"(1) Options have a value at the time they are granted, but that value is ordinarily not readily ascertainable unless the option is actively traded on an established market .

(2) When an option is not actively traded on an established market, it does not have a readily ascertainable fair market value unless its fair market value can otherwise be measured with reasonable accuracy. For purposes of this Section, if an option is not actively traded on an established market, the option does not have a readily ascertainable fair market value when granted unless the taxpayer can show that all of the following conditions exist:

- (i) The option is transferable by the optionee;
- (ii) The option is exercisable immediately in full by the optionee;
- (iii) The option or the property subject to the option is not subject to any restriction or condition (other than a lien or other condition to secure the payment of the purchase price) which has a significant effect upon the fair market value on the option; and
- (iv) The fair market value of the option privilege is readily ascertainable in accordance with paragraph (b)(3) of this Section."

The Regulations further state in Section 1.83-7(b)(3) that in determining whether the value of the option privilege is readily ascertainable, and in determining the amount of such value when such value is readily ascertainable, it is necessary to consider-

- "(i) Whether the value of the property subject to the option can be ascertained;
- (ii) The probability of any ascertainable value of such property increasing or decreasing; and
- (iii) The length of the period during which the option can be exercised"

It is our understanding that none of these factors exist regarding your stock options, and therefore your stock options do not have a readily ascertainable value. Consequently, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that if your stock options do not have a readily ascertainable value Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not apply to the transfer of the stock options in exchange for the private annuity by virtue of Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e)(3).

However, this provision is a seemingly ignored provision of the Internal Revenue Code. There is little discussion of the applicability of this provision and the Regulations and authorities have generally overlooked this Section. Instead, the Regulations and authorities provide for an alternative method of analysis, as already herein discussed, for treating the transfer of nonvested stock options in exchange for a private annuity.

We thus caution you that while Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e) states that Internal Revenue Code Section 83 shall not apply to the transfer of stock options without a readily ascertainable fair market value, this provision should be viewed most speculatively because of the lack of substantive material supporting the application and use of this Section. Therefore, it is our opinion that while you should be aware of this provision you should be cautious in your reliance upon it. It is advisable that you proceed conservatively, and cautiously follow the Regulations governing the transfer of property in connection with the performance of services as already herein set forth.

G. A PRIVATE ANNUITY MIGHT NOT BE CLASSIFIED AS CONSTITUTING "PROPERTY" WITHIN THE MEANING OF INCOME TAX REGULATION SECTION 1.83-3(e).

A private annuity might not be considered to constitute "property" as that term is defined in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e). This regulation defines property as including "real and personal property other than either money or an unfunded and unsecured promise to pay money or property in the future."

The private annuity is an unsecured promise to pay money in the future.

Section III 3.1 of the Private Annuity Agreement states in pertinent part that "(T)he parties further agree that the Obligor will not establish any security or any fund or other specific chargeable source for the payment of the purchase price (being the Annuity) hereunder."

It is thus reasonable to conclude that the private annuity is unfunded as well as being unsecured, and thus does not constitute property within the meaning of Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e). However, you should be aware that we have not located any pertinent decisions, rulings, or other legal authority that substantiates this conclusion.

Professor of Law Daniel C. Knickerbocker, Jr. of Seton Hall University School of Law has written in Knickerbocker, 134-4th T.M., Annuities, at page A-34 that: "...Section 83 governs property transferred in connection with the performance of service. ... Where an employer has merely promised to pay an annuity to a beneficiary surviving one of its employees, there is no transfer of property either to the employee when the promise is made or to the beneficiary when the promise matures on the employee's death. 'Property' as used in Section 83 does not include 'an unfunded and unsecured promise to pay money in the future.' On the other hand, if the employer backs the promise with assets placed beyond the reach of the employer's creditors, the value of the promise will be includible in the employee's or beneficiary's income at the moment the benefits become transferable or nonforfeitable." (Citing Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e).)

The assets of the Obligor are not to be placed beyond the reach of its creditors, and it is thus quite likely that the private annuity that is being issued to you will not be construed to constitute "property" as that term is defined in determining the applicability of Section 83 of the Internal Revenue Code to the private annuity.

H. THE SUBSEQUENT EXERCISE OF THE SECURITIES BY THE OBLIGOR WILL LIKELY NOT GENERATE A TAXABLE EVENT TO THE ANNUITANT.

Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-1(c) describes the tax

consequences with respect to the disposition of nonvested property in a transaction that is not engaged in at arm's-length. Under such circumstances, the subsequent exercise of the securities by the Obligor would cause the earner of the compensatory element of the property to be taxed upon the exercise of the option. A detailed example of this principle is given in the regulation to illustrate this point.

However, in our situation the disposition of the securities does not involve nonvested property, and the disposition is at arm's-length. Consequently, the tax consequences set forth in this regulation do not apply. Instead, the tax consequences set forth in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-7(a) apply to the transaction. In pertinent part such regulation states: "If the option is sold or otherwise disposed of in an arm's-length transaction, sections 83(a) and 83(b) apply to the transfer of money or other property received in the same manner as sections 83(a) and 83(b) would have applied to the transfer of property pursuant to an exercise of the option."

Thus, as under Internal Revenue Code Sections 83(a) and (b) and the regulations promulgated thereunder no taxable event will occur to the Annuitant until the annuity vests (when the annuity payments are received by the Annuitant), the exercise of the options after the transfer of the securities to the Obligor pursuant to the annuity transaction is not likely to be a taxable event to the Annuitant.

I. THE SUBSEQUENT CONTRIBUTION OF THE ANNUITY TO A GRANTOR TRUST BY THE ANNUITANT WHO IS THE GRANTOR-SETTLOR OF SUCH TRUST WILL LIKELY NOT CAUSE THE INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES TO VARY FROM THOSE DESCRIBED HEREIN.

You have indicated that you are contemplating the possibility of contributing the annuity to a grantor trust in which you would be the settlor. You have inquired whether such a contribution would alter the anticipated federal income tax consequences from those described herein.

The pertinent rules relating to the taxation of a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes are set forth in Section 671 of the Internal Revenue Code. In pertinent part that statute states: Where it is specified in this subpart that the grantor ... shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust, there shall then be included in computing the taxable income and credits of the grantor ... those items of income, deductions, and credits against tax of the trust which are attributable to that portion of the trust to the extent that such items would be taken into account under this chapter in computing taxable income or credits against tax of an individual."

This statute is further interpreted in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.671-2(a) in pertinent part as follows: "Under section 671 a grantor or another person includes in computing his taxable income and credits those items of income, deduction, and credit against tax which are attributable to or included in any portion of a trust of which he is treated as the owner."

Thus, provided that the trust to which the annuity is contributed by the Annuitant is classified as a "grantor trust" under Internal Revenue Code Section 671, the tax consequences of such trust will be incurred by the Annuitant-Grantor.

In addition, Section 72(u) of the Internal Revenue Code indicates that an annuity contract that is not held by a natural person (such as the grantor trust) is to be taxed in accordance with the statutory scheme set forth within such statute.

However, that statute specifies that "For purposes of this paragraph, holding by a trust or other entity as an agent for a natural person shall not be taken into account."

Because the Annuitant is a "natural person" this statute does not apply and the normal annuity taxation rules would apply to the annuity.

Consequently, the tax consequences relating to the annuity will likely not vary from those incurred by the Annuitant in the event that the Annuitant were to subsequently contribute the annuity to the grantor trust.

In light of these matters, we need to caution you that the Internal Revenue Service, other government agencies, or a court might view the transactions which are the subject of this letter in a manner differently than we would view them.

There are numerous instances when the Internal Revenue Service or the courts misread or misapply the legal principles involved in the case, leading to a tax result that may be contrary to what the taxpayer anticipated.

The Internal Revenue Service and the courts generally carefully examine the substance and business purpose and economic reality behind a transaction to determine if the transaction is genuine and is to be granted recognition for tax purposes.

However, it is our view based on the information presented to us as expressed herein that it is more likely than not that the transactions described herein will be upheld as being bona fide.

Mr. Sam Wyly
8080 North Central Expressway, Suite #1100
Dallas, Texas 75206

Dear Mr. Wyly:

You have requested the opinion of PRATTER, TEDDER & GRAVES concerning the 1992 federal income tax consequences that are likely to apply to the proposed sale of "Securities" herein defined and identified in Schedule A, in exchange for a private annuity, with such sale occurring during the 1992 taxable year.

Our analysis and opinion are based upon the facts and information as set forth herein and our assumption that these facts and information present a true, accurate, and complete description of the facts that are relevant to the proposed transaction described herein and the taxation issues we are addressing herein.

We have reviewed the various legal documents and other information in connection with this proposed plan. This opinion assumes that the program will be implemented in a manner that is unmodified from the proposed program described herein.

We have only been requested to examine the material federal tax aspects that relate to the proposed program described herein. We have not been requested to examine other laws and concerns that pertain to the business transactions and/or the proposed program. Consequently, although numerous federal and state laws and Regulations apply to the business transactions, we expressly disclaim any opinion as to the effect of such laws and Regulations to the business transaction except as are otherwise expressly indicated herein.

~~This opinion is founded upon a prospective plan of action that has not yet been completed. Recognizing that facts and circumstances may change, and recognizing that such changes may affect the legal and tax consequences pertaining to the operations of the business transaction, we must therefore advise you that any change or deviation from the proposed plan of action described herein might produce different tax consequences than those set forth in this opinion.~~

Our opinion represents our conclusions derived from our legal analysis in which we applied the facts and circumstances pertaining to the Securities owned by you personally and the proposed business transaction as described herein to our interpretation of federal tax law.

Our analysis and opinion are limited to the above issue of federal taxation and do not cover or relate to any other legal or taxation issue that may pertain to such a transaction, and we expressly disclaim any opinion as to such matters.

Our opinion has no binding effect or official status of any kind, type, or character. We cannot assure you or anyone else that the opinions and conclusions contained in this opinion letter will be sustained by the Internal Revenue Service, any court of law, or anyone else.

I. THE FACTUAL FOUNDATION:

It is our understanding that you are considering the sale of Securities to a domestic corporation which will issue a private annuity in exchange for the Securities. It is our further understanding that it is the express intent of the parties to the transaction that the value of the Securities will equal the value of the annuity and that no gift or bargain sale or discounted sale price will arise as a result of the transaction. Further, it is our understanding that the private annuity is intended to be issued in an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the Securities that are being sold in exchange for the private annuity. Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" are intended to be made by you with respect to this private annuity transaction.

The private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities sold in exchange for the annuity. The amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities.

It is our further understanding that the domestic corporation intending to purchase the Securities in exchange for the issuance of the private annuity is wholly owned by a foreign corporation which is wholly owned by a foreign nongrantor trust. This trust has been established by you for the benefit of one (1) or more foreign beneficiaries during your lifetime. We understand that during your lifetime the trust will have no United States beneficiaries, but in the taxable years following your death the trust may have one (1) or more beneficiaries who are United States citizens and/or resident aliens.

We understand that the private annuity is intended to be unsecured. There are to be no security interests, guarantees, specific funds, or other forms of collateral or assurances that the private annuity payments will be made by the corporation other than the mere unsecured contractual promise of such corporation that it will make the annuity payments as they become due under the terms of the annuity agreement.

We further understand that the private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities transferred by you in exchange for the annuity. Any income generated by the Securities will belong to the corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments.

We understand that the amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities being exchanged for the annuity and will not be based on any income generated by the Securities that are being transferred for the annuity.

~~We also understand that the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being exchanged for the private annuity will reside exclusively with the acquiring corporation, and you will not preserve or reserve any control of any kind or character over such Securities or any income therefrom that would constitute a retained interest in the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being exchanged for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that you will irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the Securities which are sold in exchange for the private annuity.~~

It is our understanding that the private annuity payments will contain an interest factor in the amount stipulated by the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling that applies for the month in which the annuity agreement is entered into.

We understand that the corporation issuing the private annuity is not in the business of issuing annuities from time to time, and it will not issue any additional annuities during the term of its private annuity agreement with you.

We further understand that the corporation issuing the private annuity is not a life insurance company or a bank and is not authorized to conduct either the banking business or the life insurance company business and does not intend to obtain such authorization.

We have been advised that there are no outstanding encumbrances on the Securities, and consequently we do not express any opinion that relates to this issue.

You have advised us that your stock options are nontransferable and are not actively traded on an established market. The Nonstatutory Option Agreements verify and specify the nontransferability of the stock options.

You have further informed us that the stock warrants are transferable and that ~~certain warrants are compensatory while other warrants are noncompensatory~~ in nature. You have advised us that these warrants are not actively traded on an established market.

II. OPINION AND ANALYSIS OF THE 1992 FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES THAT ARE LIKELY TO APPLY TO THE PROPOSED SALE OF SECURITIES TO A CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY, WITH SUCH SALE OCCURRING DURING THE 1992 TAXABLE YEAR UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES DESCRIBED HEREIN:

A. PURSUANT TO THE GENERAL FEDERAL INCOME TAX TREATMENT OF PROPERTY EXCHANGED FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY THE SALE OF PROPERTY TO THE CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR THE RECEIPT OF A PRIVATE ANNUITY IS NOT A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992.

The general federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity is explained in Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4805 as follows:

"The transfer of property in exchange for a private annuity is not a taxable transaction. Thus, a taxpayer who turns his property over to a member of his family or other private individual, or to his own corporation or other corporation, which is not a life insurance company or a bank or an organization which issues annuities from time to time, in exchange for payments for life, has no immediate taxable gain. (Emphasis is included in the text.) However, the payments under the arrangement are taxable when received, see Paragraph J- 4807. The actual transfer isn't taxable because the promise to make the lifetime payments is considered to have no determinable value. It makes no difference if the obligor under the private annuity arrangement (i.e., the transferee) is financially sound ~~at the time of the transfer since that 'private' transferee is not in the business of granting annuities, his solvency is not subject to the supervision and restrictions of insurance companies and banks, and may change over the payment period.~~ (Citations omitted.)"

In your situation, because the corporation which is issuing the annuity is not in the business of issuing annuities from time to time, and will not issue any additional annuities during the term of its private annuity agreement with you, and because the corporation is not a life insurance company or a bank and is not authorized to conduct either the banking business or the life insurance company business and does not intend to obtain such authorization, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the annuity will likely be taxable as a private annuity in accordance with the aforescribed federal income tax consequences, as opposed to its being taxable as a commercial annuity.

B. THE PRIVATE ANNUITY IS NOT INTENDED TO CONTAIN A GIFT OR BARGAIN SALE ELEMENT, AND THE EXCHANGE OF SECURITIES FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY OF EQUIVALENT ACTUARIAL VALUE IS LIKELY TO BE EXCLUDED FROM FEDERAL GIFT TAX.

The private annuity is intended to be issued in an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the Securities that are being sold in exchange for the private annuity. Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" are intended to be made by either you or the corporation with respect to this private annuity transaction.

private annuity taxation as follows at Paragraph C- 5408:

"Under the private annuity rules, there's no gift tax if the sale is made at market price (see Chapter Q), there's no estate tax on the property remaining after the taxpayer's death (see Chapter R), and the taxpayer's taxable gain on the sale is spread over the annuity payments he receives (see Chapter J)."

Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities, at page A-5 states:

"Under a private annuity the possibility of the Service's finding a gift in the exchange of property for an annuity of actuarially equal value is nil."

This author further explains at page A-15:

"The rules already discussed all assume that the transferor is not making a partial gift through the annuity agreement. In other words, it is assumed that the fair market value of the property and the present value of the annuity are equal...."

Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4804 contains some explanatory language that is helpful and should be heeded if the avoidance of a gift element is being sought by the parties to the Annuity Agreement. The pertinent language in that Paragraph states:

"Some evidence of a gift must be present for any amount to be excluded as a gift from the cost of the private annuity.

"The fact that the value of the property exceeds the present value of the annuity is not conclusive evidence of a partial gift. (Citations omitted.) However, some evidence of a gift may appear if the taxpayer filed a gift tax return for the excess value. (Citation omitted.) ..."

It is our understanding that the private annuity payments you are to receive will contain an interest factor in the amount stipulated by the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling that applies for the month in which the annuity agreement is entered into.

This is very important because the Internal Revenue Service can take the position that the present value of the annuity is less than the present value of the Securities sold in exchange for the annuity if the annuity does not contain an adequate interest rate factor to compensate for the time delay to the partnership in receiving its consideration for the sale and exchange of the Securities. For example, see Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities at page A-21 discussing the United States Tax Court decision in LaFargue v. Commissioner, 73 T.C. 40 (1979), which was affirmed in part and reversed in part by the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit in 689 F.2d 845 (9th Cir. 1982), in which the Tax Court found that the annuity transaction was not taxable as a private annuity for among other reasons:

"...(T)he transaction was not based on the actuarial tables and did not include an interest factor, and there was a large gap between the present value and the fair market value of the annuity. ..."

Although the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit reversed the Tax Court's holding that the transaction did not involve a private annuity, it is important that the annuity contain an interest factor to account for the time value of money.

In your situation it is clearly the intent of the parties that the price of the annuity is to be equal to the value of the Securities being exchanged for the annuity, and no gift or other valuation benefit in excess of such value is intended to be received by either party to the agreement. It is thus our opinion that it is more likely than not that no gift tax will be imposed on your disposition of the Securities in exchange for your receiving a private annuity of equal value, provided the actuarial value of the Securities being sold in exchange for the receipt of the private annuity are of an equivalent actuarial value.

C. THE ANNUITY PAYMENTS MUST BE UNSECURED TO AVOID YOUR BEING TAXED IMMEDIATELY IN 1992 ON THE GAIN FROM THE DISPOSITION OF THE SECURITIES BEING EXCHANGED FOR THE ANNUITY.

The United States Tax Court has held that the private annuity income tax rules apply only to private annuities that are unsecured. If the annuity payments are secured the annuity will be taxable as if it were a commercial annuity rather than a private annuity. (See Estate of Lloyd Bell, (1973) 60 TC 469 and 212 Corp., (1978) 70 TC 788.)

For example, the Tax Court in Bell held that the property transferred in exchange for the private annuity was secured because such property was placed in escrow as security for the annuity payments, and the annuity agreement also provided for a "cognovit" judgment against the parties issuing the annuity in the event they defaulted in making their annuity payments. Consequently, the Tax Court applied the rules pertaining to commercial annuities to the transaction and held that the taxpayers had an immediately taxable gain when they exchanged their appreciated stock in exchange for the secured private annuity.

It is our understanding that the private annuity being issued to you is intended to be unsecured. There are to be no security interests, guarantees, specific funds, or other forms of collateral or assurances that the private annuity payments will be made by the corporation other than the mere unsecured contractual promise of such corporation that it will make the annuity payments as they become due under the terms of the annuity agreement.

In addition, the private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities transferred by you in exchange for the annuity. The income generated by the property will belong to the corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments. The amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities being sold for the annuity and will not be based on the income generated by the Securities being exchanged for the annuity.

Furthermore, the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being sold in exchange for the private annuity will reside exclusively with the corporation, and you will not preserve or reserve any control of any kind or character over such Securities and the income therefrom that would constitute a retained interest in the possession or enjoyment of the Securities being sold in exchange for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that you will irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the Securities which are being sold in exchange for the private annuity.

Consequently, provided that the private annuity payments will be unsecured and will always remain unsecured it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the private annuity will not be taxable as a secured annuity that is taxable as a commercial annuity.

D. THE DISPOSITION OF COMPENSATORY NON-STATUTORY SECURITIES IN AN ARM'S LENGTH TRANSACTION BEFORE RIGHTS IN THE SECURITIES BECOME TRANSFERABLE TO THE OBLIGOR CORPORATION, AND THE DISPOSITION OF A COMPENSATORY NONSTATUTORY TRANSFERABLE WARRANT IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A SUBSTANTIALLY NONVESTED PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION IS NOT A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992.

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that an exchange of your nontransferable stock options for a private annuity will not be subject to an immediate taxable event.

The federal income tax treatment of your nontransferable non-statutory stock options is generally covered in Internal Revenue Code

Section 83 and Regulations Section 1.83-1, 1.83-3, and 1.83-7.

Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not initially apply to the taxation of your nonqualified stock options because your options are not actively traded on an established market and are not transferable. However, once the nontransferable stock options are exchanged for the nonvested private annuity, you will then be subject to the rules of Internal Revenue Code Sections 83(a) and 83(b). Under these rules to avoid an immediate taxable event upon the transfer of your stock options for a private annuity, the stock options must be transferred for a substantially nonvested private annuity.

Substantially nonvested property is property that is nontransferable and subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture. (See Regulations Section 1.83-3(b).)

The general rule regarding the transferability of property is cited in Regulation Section 1.83-3(d):

"For purposes of Section 83 and the Regulations thereunder, the rights of a person in property are transferable if such person can transfer any interest in the property to any person other than the transferor of the property, but only if the rights in such property of such transferee are not subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture. Accordingly, property is transferable if the person performing the services or receiving the property can sell, assign, or pledge (as collateral for a loan, or as security for the performance of an obligation, or any other purpose) his interest in the property to any person other than the transferor of such property and if the transferee is not required to give up the property or its value in the event the substantial risk of forfeiture materializes. On the other hand, property is not considered to be transferable merely because the person performing the services or receiving the property may designate a beneficiary to receive the property in the event of his death."

3(c) as follows:

"A substantial risk of forfeiture exists where rights in property that are transferred are conditioned, directly or indirectly, upon the future performance (or refraining from performance) of substantial services by any person, or the occurrence of a condition related to a purpose of the transfer, and the possibility of forfeiture is substantial if such condition is not satisfied."

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that a private annuity will be treated as being substantially nonvested.

To be substantially nonvested, the private annuity must be nontransferable and subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture.

Section XVI of the Private Annuity agreement specifically states that the private annuity payments to you are nonassignable and nontransferable or capable of being pledged or otherwise encumbered by you without the prior written consent of the Obligor first being obtained. Furthermore, a private annuity is customarily nontransferable. (Sec. Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities, at page number A-7.)

It is also our opinion that it is more likely than not that the private annuity is subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture as exemplified by Section 2.5(a) of the Private Annuity Agreement which states:

"The Annuity payments payable hereunder to the Annuitant are subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture to the Annuitant in that such Annuity payments shall terminate and lapse with the last payment immediately preceding the death of the Annuitant, or upon the death of the Annuitant if no payments have been made as of the death of the Annuitant; however, notwithstanding the foregoing, any annuity payments that were not made prior to the death of the Annuitant because of a breach of this Agreement by the Obligor shall be due and payable upon the death of the Annuitant together with any applicable interest, late charges, or other payments due hereunder, and any such payments shall be made to the estate of the Annuitant . There will be no proration of payments at the time of the death of the Annuitant or at anytime thereafter."

The unpaid annuity payments upon your death are thus totally terminable, extinguishable, and forfeitable. Consequently, the private annuity is subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture.

It is therefore our opinion that your private annuity will then be treated for tax purposes as your stock options would have been treated under Internal Revenue Code Section 83. The result of this substitution is that when your private annuity substantially vests under Internal Revenue Code Section 83, it will be taxed in the same manner that the stock options would have been taxed under Internal Revenue Code Section 83(a) and (b). Therefore, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that when the private annuity substantially vests (i.e., when payments under the terms of the annuity agreement are actually received by you) you will at that time be subject to a taxable event.

The term "nonstatutory stock options" includes warrants to purchase stock. (See Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at paragraphs H-2850 and H-2853, citing Frank Shamburger (1973) 61 TC 85, affirmed (1975, CA8) 508 F2d 883.)

It is our opinion that the compensatory nonstatutory transferable warrant which is being sold in exchange for your receiving a substantially nonvested private annuity will not cause a taxable event in 1992, the year of the exchange.

Furthermore, assuming that vested nontransferable stock options and a vested transferable warrant (as defined in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(a)) are exchanged for a private annuity, it is more likely than not that such an exchange will not result in an immediate taxable event.

E. NONCOMPENSATORY NONSTATUTORY SECURITIES TRANSFERRED TO THE OBLIGOR CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A SUBSTANTIALLY
NONVESTED PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT
VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION WILL LIKELY NOT BE A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992, THE YEAR OF EXCHANGE.

Noncompensatory nonstatutory Securities are not covered by Internal Revenue Code Section 83. Internal Revenue Code Section 83 only governs property transferred in connection with the performance of services, and since these Securities are non-compensatory they will be exempt from Internal Revenue Code Section 83 rules as previously herein discussed.

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that these non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities will be covered by the general federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity. The Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4804 explains the federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity as follows:

"The transfer of property in exchange for a private annuity is not a taxable transaction. Thus, a taxpayer who turns his property over to a member of his family or other private individual, or to his own corporation or other corporation, which is not a life insurance company or a bank or an organization which issues annuities from time to time, in exchange for payments for life, has no immediate taxable gain. (Emphasis is included in the text) However, the payments under the arrangement are taxable when received, see Paragraph J-4806. The actual transfer isn't taxable because the promise to make the lifetime payments is considered to have no determinable value. It makes no difference if the obligor under the 'private' transferee is not in the business of granting annuities, his solvency is not subject to the supervision and restrictions of insurance companies and banks, and may change over the payment period. (Citations omitted.)"

Because the non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities are not subject to Internal Revenue Code Section 83 coverage, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities transferred in exchange for the private annuity will likely be taxable as property transferred in exchange for a private annuity in accordance with the ~~foredescribed~~ federal income tax consequences.

F. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, THE DISPOSITION OF SECURITIES WITHOUT A READILY ASCERTAINABLE FAIR MARKET VALUE TO AN OBLIGOR CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION IS ARGUABLY NOT GOVERNED BY INTERNAL REVENUE CODE SECTION 83, AND WOULD THUS BE EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PURSUANT TO THE FOREGOING INTERNAL REVENUE CODE SECTION 83 RULES!

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the transfer of stock options without a readily ascertainable fair market value in exchange for a private annuity is arguably not subject to the Internal Revenue Code Section 83 rules.

If Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not apply to the transfer of stock options in exchange for a private annuity, the stock options that are transferred in exchange for a private annuity, will likely be governed according to the foredescribed federal income rules covering private annuities, that apply to property interests that are not transferred in connection with the performance of services.

Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e) recites the situations in which Section 83 does not apply to certain property interests transferred in connection with the performance of services. That statute states:

"This Section shall not apply to-

(1) a transaction to which Section 421 applies,

(2) a transfer to or from a trust described in Section 401(a) or a transfer under an annuity plan which meets the requirement of Section 404(a)(2),

(3) the transfer of an option without a readily ascertainable fair market value,

(4) the transfer of property pursuant to the exercise of an option with a readily ascertainable fair market value at the date of grant, or

(5) group-term life insurance to which Section 79 applies."

Under Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e)(3), a stock option without a readily ascertainable fair market value is not subject to Internal Revenue Code Section 83.

In your situation, your stock options are not actively traded on an established market and according to Regulation Section 1.83-7(b) should not have a readily ascertainable fair market value: That Regulation states:

"(1) Options have a value at the time they are granted, but that value is ordinarily not readily ascertainable unless the option is actively traded on an established market .

(2) When an option is not actively traded on an established market, it does not have a readily ascertainable fair market value unless its fair market value can otherwise be measured with reasonable accuracy. For purposes of this Section, if an option is not actively traded on an established market, the option does not have a readily ascertainable fair market value when granted unless the taxpayer can show that all of the following conditions exist:

- (i) The option is transferable by the optionee;
- (ii) The option is exercisable immediately in full by the optionee;
- ~~(iii) The option or the property subject to the option is not subject to any restriction or condition (other than a lien or other condition to secure the payment of the purchase price) which has a significant effect upon the fair market value on the option; and~~
- (iv) The fair market value of the option privilege is readily ascertainable in accordance with paragraph (b)(3) of this Section."

The Regulations further state in Section 1.83-7(b)(3) that in determining whether the value of the option privilege is readily ascertainable, and in determining the amount of such value when such value is readily ascertainable, it is necessary to consider-

- "(i) Whether the value of the property subject to the option can be ascertained;
- (ii) The probability of any ascertainable value of such property increasing or decreasing; and
- (iii) The length of the period during which the option can be exercised"

It is our understanding that none of these factors exist regarding your stock options, and therefore your stock options do not have a readily ascertainable value. Consequently, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that if your stock options do not have a readily ascertainable value Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not apply to the transfer of the stock options in exchange for the private annuity by virtue of Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e)(3).

However, this provision is a seemingly ignored provision of the Internal Revenue Code. There is little discussion of the applicability of this provision and the Regulations and authorities have generally overlooked this Section. Instead, the Regulations and authorities provide for an alternative method of analysis, as already herein discussed, for treating the transfer of nonvested stock options in exchange for a private annuity.

We thus caution you that while Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e) states that Internal Revenue Code Section 83 shall not apply to the transfer of stock options without a readily ascertainable fair market value, this provision should be viewed most speculatively because of the lack of substantive material supporting the application and use of this Section. Therefore, it is our opinion that while you should be aware of this provision you should be cautious in your reliance upon it. It is advisable that you proceed conservatively, and cautiously follow the Regulations governing the transfer of property in connection with the performance of services as already herein set forth.

G. A PRIVATE ANNUITY MIGHT NOT BE CLASSIFIED AS CONSTITUTING "PROPERTY" WITHIN THE MEANING OF INCOME TAX REGULATION SECTION 1.83-3(e).

A private annuity might not be considered to constitute "property" as that term is defined in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e). This regulation defines property as including "real and personal property other than either money or an unfunded and unsecured promise to pay money or property in the future."

The private annuity is an unsecured promise to pay money in the future.

Section III 3.1 of the Private Annuity Agreement states in pertinent part that "(T)he parties further agree that the Obligor will not establish any security or any fund or other specific chargeable source for the payment of the purchase price (being the Annuity) hereunder."

It is thus reasonable to conclude that the private annuity is unfunded as well as being unsecured, and thus does not constitute property within the meaning of Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e). However, you should be aware that we have not located any pertinent decisions, rulings, or other legal authority that substantiates this conclusion.

Professor of Law Daniel C. Knickerbocker, Jr. of Seton Hall University School of Law has written in Knickerbocker, 134-4th T.M., Annuities, at page A-34 that: "...Section 83 governs property transferred in connection with the performance of service. ... Where an employer has merely promised to pay an annuity to a beneficiary surviving one of its employees, there is no transfer of property either to the employee when the promise is made or to the beneficiary when the promise matures on the employee's death. 'Property' as used in Section 83 does not include 'an unfunded and unsecured promise to pay money in the future.' On the other hand, if the employer backs the promise with assets placed beyond the reach of the employer's creditors, the value of the promise will be includible in the employee's or beneficiary's income at the moment the benefits become transferable or nonforfeitable." (Citing Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e).)

The assets of the Obligor are not to be placed beyond the reach of its creditors, and it is thus quite likely that the private annuity that is being issued to you will not be construed to constitute "property" as that term is defined in determining the applicability of Section 83 of the Internal Revenue Code to the private annuity.

H. THE SUBSEQUENT EXERCISE OF THE SECURITIES BY THE OBLIGOR WILL LIKELY NOT GENERATE A TAXABLE EVENT TO THE ANNUITANT.

consequences with respect to the disposition of nonvested property in a transaction that is not engaged in at arm's-length. Under such circumstances, the subsequent exercise of the securities by the Obligor would cause the earner of the compensatory element of the property to be taxed upon the exercise of the option. A detailed example of this principle is given in the regulation to illustrate this point.

~~However, in our situation the disposition of the securities does not involve nonvested property, and the disposition is at arm's-length. Consequently, the tax consequences set forth in this regulation do not apply. Instead, the tax consequences set forth in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-7(a) apply to the transaction. In pertinent part such regulation states: "If the option is sold or otherwise disposed of in an arm's-length transaction, sections 83(a) and 83(b) apply to the transfer of money or other property received in the same manner as sections 83(a) and 83(b) would have applied to the transfer of property pursuant to an exercise of the option."~~

Thus, as under Internal Revenue Code Sections 83(a) and (b) and the regulations promulgated thereunder no taxable event will occur to the Annuitant until the annuity vests (when the annuity payments are received by the Annuitant), the exercise of the options after the transfer of the securities to the Obligor pursuant to the annuity transaction is not likely to be a taxable event to the Annuitant.

I. THE SUBSEQUENT CONTRIBUTION OF THE ANNUITY TO A GRANTOR TRUST BY THE ANNUITANT WHO IS THE GRANTOR-SETTLOR OF SUCH TRUST WILL LIKELY NOT CAUSE THE INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES TO VARY FROM THOSE DESCRIBED HEREIN.

You have indicated that you are contemplating the possibility of contributing the annuity to a grantor trust in which you would be the settlor. You have inquired whether such a contribution would alter the anticipated federal income tax consequences from those described herein.

The pertinent rules relating to the taxation of a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes are set forth in Section 671 of the Internal Revenue Code. In pertinent part that statute states: Where it is specified in this subpart that the grantor ... shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust, there shall then be included in computing the taxable income and credits of the grantor ... those items of income, deductions, and credits against tax of the trust which are attributable to that portion of the trust to the extent that such items would be taken into account under this chapter in computing taxable income or credits against tax of an individual."

This statute is further interpreted in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.671-2(a) in pertinent part as follows: "Under section 671 a grantor or another person includes in computing his taxable income and credits those items of income, deduction, and credit against tax which are attributable to or included in any portion of a trust of which he is treated as the owner."

Thus, provided that the trust to which the annuity is contributed by the Annuitant is classified as a "grantor trust" under Internal Revenue Code Section 671, the tax consequences of such trust will be incurred by the Annuitant-Grantor.

In addition, Section 72(u) of the Internal Revenue Code indicates that an annuity contract that is not held by a natural person (such as the grantor trust) is to be taxed in accordance with the statutory scheme set forth within such statute.

However, that statute specifies that "For purposes of this paragraph, holding by a trust or other entity as an agent for a natural person shall not be taken into account."

Because the Annuitant is a "natural person" this statute does not apply and the normal annuity taxation rules would apply to the annuity.

Consequently, the tax consequences relating to the annuity will likely not vary from those incurred by the Annuitant in the event that the Annuitant were to subsequently contribute the annuity to the grantor trust.

III. CONCLUDING COMMENTS.

The opinions contained herein have been carefully considered by us and reflect the federal income tax consequences we anticipate will apply to the areas we have discussed. Nevertheless, they are only opinions and should not be considered to be guarantees.

Our opinions have been limited to our examination of the federal income tax consequences discussed above, as indicated herein. Our opinion expressly does not cover or concern itself with other issues not addressed herein, including but not limited to the reality of values.

Our opinion is based upon the status of the federal income tax law as of the date in which this opinion is written. Should there be any change in the applicable tax laws or the facts and circumstances relating to the events described herein, the opinions expressed herein necessarily require a reevaluation in the light of such changes.

In the event there is any change in the tax principles applicable to our opinion herein, we specifically disclaim any undertaking or obligation to advise you of any such changes which may hereafter occur.

There is no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service or anyone else will not raise issues that have not been discussed herein.

Our analysis is based on the facts and/or assumptions contained in this letter. If such facts and/or assumptions are inaccurate or incomplete, our analysis and conclusions are equally inaccurate or incomplete and might vary substantially from those contained herein.

As you may be aware, the Internal Revenue Service, other government agencies, and the applicable courts possess the ability to challenge the legitimacy and reality of an entity or a transaction and can claim that an entity or a transaction are something other than what the parties genuinely believed them to be.

~~In light of these matters, we need to caution you that the Internal Revenue Service, other government agencies, or a court might view the transactions which are the subject of this letter in a manner differently than we would view them.~~

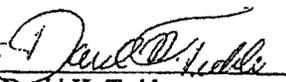

There are numerous instances when the Internal Revenue Service or the courts misread or misapply the legal principles involved in the case, leading to a tax result that may be contrary to what the taxpayer anticipated.

The Internal Revenue Service and the courts generally carefully examine the substance and business purpose and economic reality behind a transaction to determine if the transaction is genuine and is to be granted recognition for tax purposes.

However, it is our view based on the information presented to us as expressed herein that it is more likely than not that the transactions described herein will be upheld as being bona fide.

February 28, 1992

Mr. Charles Wylly
8080 North Central Expressway, Suite #1100
Dallas, Texas 75206

Dear Mr. Wylly:

You have requested the opinion of PRATTER, TEDDER & GRAVES concerning the 1992 federal income tax consequences that are likely to apply to the proposed sale of "Securities" herein defined and identified in Schedule A, in exchange for a private annuity, with such sale occurring during the 1992 taxable year.

Our analysis and opinion are based upon the facts and information as set forth herein and our assumption that these facts and information present a true, accurate, and complete description of the facts that are relevant to the proposed transaction described herein and the taxation issues we are addressing herein.

We have reviewed the various legal documents and other information in connection with this proposed plan. This opinion assumes that the program will be implemented in a manner that is unmodified from the proposed program described herein.

We have only been requested to examine the material federal tax aspects that relate to the proposed program described herein. We have not been requested to examine other laws and concerns that pertain to the business transactions and/or the proposed program. Consequently, although numerous federal and state laws and Regulations apply to the business transactions, we expressly disclaim any opinion as to the effect of such laws and Regulations to the business transaction except as are otherwise expressly indicated herein.

This opinion is founded upon a prospective plan of action that has not yet been completed. Recognizing that facts and circumstances may change, and recognizing that such changes may affect the legal and tax consequences pertaining to the operations of the business transaction, we must therefore advise you that any change or deviation from the proposed plan of action described herein might produce different tax consequences than those set forth in this opinion.

Our opinion represents our conclusions derived from our legal analysis in which we applied the facts and circumstances pertaining to the Securities owned by you personally and the proposed business transaction as described herein to our interpretation of federal tax law.

Our analysis and opinion are limited to the above issue of federal taxation and do not cover or relate to any other legal or taxation issue that may pertain to such a transaction, and we expressly disclaim any opinion as to such matters.

Our opinion has no binding effect or official status of any kind, type, or character. We cannot assure you or anyone else that the opinions and conclusions contained in this opinion letter will be sustained by the Internal Revenue Service, any court of law, or anyone else.

I. THE FACTUAL FOUNDATION:

It is our understanding that you are considering the sale of Securities to an unrelated domestic corporation which will issue a private annuity in exchange for the Securities. It is our further understanding that it is the express intent of the parties to the transaction that the value of the

Securities will equal the value of the annuity and that no gift or bargain sale or discounted sale price will arise as a result of the transaction. Further, it is our understanding that the private annuity is intended to be issued in an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the Securities that are being sold in exchange for the private annuity. ~~Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" are intended to be made by you with respect to this private annuity transaction.~~

The private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities sold in exchange for the annuity. The amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities.

It is our further understanding that the domestic corporation intending to purchase the Securities in exchange for the issuance of the private annuity is wholly owned by a foreign corporation which is wholly-owned by a foreign nongrantor trust. This trust has been established by you for the benefit of one (1) or more foreign beneficiaries during your lifetime. We understand that during your lifetime the trust will have no United States beneficiaries, but in the taxable years following your death the trust may have one (1) or more beneficiaries who are United States citizens and/or resident aliens.

We understand that the private annuity is intended to be unsecured. There are to be no security interests, guarantees, specific funds, or other forms of collateral or assurances that the private annuity payments will be made by the corporation other than the mere unsecured contractual promise of such corporation that it will make the annuity payments as they become due under the terms of the annuity agreement.

We further understand that the private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities transferred by you in exchange for the annuity. Any income generated by the Securities will belong to the corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments.

We understand that the amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities being exchanged for the annuity and will not be based on any income generated by the Securities that are being transferred for the annuity.

We also understand that the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being exchanged for the private annuity will reside exclusively with the acquiring corporation, and you will not preserve or reserve any control of any kind or character over such Securities or any income therefrom that would constitute a retained interest in the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being exchanged for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that you will irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the Securities which are sold in exchange for the private annuity.

It is our understanding that the private annuity payments will contain an interest factor in the amount stipulated by the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling that applies for the month in which the annuity agreement is entered into.

We understand that the corporation issuing the private annuity is not in the business of issuing annuities from time to time, and it will not issue any additional annuities during the term of its private annuity agreement with you.

We further understand that the corporation issuing the private annuity is not a life insurance company or a bank and is not authorized to conduct either the banking business or the life insurance company business and does not intend to obtain such authorization.

We have been advised that there are no outstanding encumbrances on the Securities, and consequently we do not express any opinion that relates to this issue.

You have advised us that your stock options are nontransferable and are not actively traded on an established market. The Nonstatutory Option Agreements verify and specify the nontransferability of the stock options.

~~You have further informed us that the stock warrants are transferable and that certain warrants are compensatory while other warrants are noncompensatory in nature. You have advised us that these warrants are not actively traded on an established market.~~

II. OPINION AND ANALYSIS OF THE 1992 FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES THAT ARE LIKELY TO APPLY TO THE PROPOSED SALE OF SECURITIES TO A CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY, WITH SUCH SALE OCCURRING DURING THE 1992 TAXABLE YEAR UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES DESCRIBED HEREIN:

A. PURSUANT TO THE GENERAL FEDERAL INCOME TAX TREATMENT OF PROPERTY EXCHANGED FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY THE SALE OF PROPERTY TO THE CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR THE RECEIPT OF A PRIVATE ANNUITY IS NOT A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992.

The general federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity is explained in Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4805 as follows:

"The transfer of property in exchange for a private annuity is not a taxable transaction. Thus, a taxpayer who turns his property over to a member of his family or other private individual, or to his own corporation or other corporation, which is not a life insurance company or a bank or an organization which issues annuities from time to time, in exchange for payments for life, has no immediate taxable gain. (Emphasis is included in the text.) However, the payments under the arrangement are taxable when received, see Paragraph J- 4807. The actual transfer isn't taxable because the promise to make the lifetime payments is considered to have no determinable value. It makes no difference if the obligor under the private annuity arrangement (i.e., the transferee) is financially sound at the time of the transfer since that ~~'private' transferee is not in the~~ business of granting annuities, his solvency is not subject to the supervision and restrictions of insurance companies and banks, and may change over the payment period. (Citations omitted.)"

In your situation, because the corporation which is issuing the annuity is not in the business of issuing annuities from time to time, and will not issue any additional annuities during the term of its private annuity agreement with you, and because the corporation is not a life insurance company or a bank and is not authorized to conduct either the banking business or the life insurance company business and does not intend to obtain such authorization, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the annuity will likely be taxable as a private annuity in accordance with the aforescribed federal income tax consequences, as opposed to its being taxable as a commercial annuity.

B. THE PRIVATE ANNUITY IS NOT INTENDED TO CONTAIN A GIFT OR BARGAIN SALE ELEMENT, AND THE EXCHANGE OF SECURITIES FOR A PRIVATE ANNUITY OF EQUIVALENT ACTUARIAL VALUE IS LIKELY TO BE EXCLUDED FROM FEDERAL GIFT TAX.

The private annuity is intended to be issued in an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the Securities that are being sold in exchange for the private annuity. Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" are intended to be made by either you or the corporation with respect to this private annuity transaction.

private annuity taxation as follows at Paragraph C- 5408:

"Under the private annuity rules, there's no gift tax if the sale is made at market price (see Chapter Q), there's no estate tax on the property remaining after the taxpayer's death (see Chapter R), and the taxpayer's taxable gain on the sale is spread over the annuity payments he receives (see Chapter J)."

Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities, at page A-5 states:

"Under a private annuity the possibility of the Service's finding a gift in the exchange of property for an annuity of actuarially equal value is nil."

This author further explains at page A-15:

"The rules already discussed all assume that the transferor is not making a partial gift through the annuity agreement. In other words, it is assumed that the fair market value of the property and the present value of the annuity are equal...."

Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4804 contains some explanatory language that is helpful and should be heeded if the avoidance of a gift element is being sought by the parties to the Annuity Agreement. The pertinent language in that Paragraph states:

"Some evidence of a gift must be present for any amount to be excluded as a gift from the cost of the private annuity.

"The fact that the value of the property exceeds the present value of the annuity is not conclusive evidence of a partial gift. (Citations omitted.) However, some evidence of a gift may appear if the taxpayer filed a gift tax return for the excess value. (Citation omitted.) ..."

It is our understanding that the private annuity payments you are to receive will contain an interest factor in the amount stipulated by the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling that applies for the month in which the annuity agreement is entered into.

This is very important because the Internal Revenue Service can take the position that the present value of the annuity is less than the present value of the Securities sold in exchange for the annuity if the annuity does not contain an adequate interest rate factor to compensate for the time delay to the annuitant in receiving its consideration for the sale and exchange of the Securities. For example, see Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities at page A-21 discussing the United States Tax Court decision in LaFargue v. Commissioner, 73 T.C. 40 (1979), which was affirmed in part and reversed in part by the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit in 689 F.2d 845 (9th Cir. 1982), in which the Tax Court found that the annuity transaction was not taxable as a private annuity for among other reasons:

"...(T)he transaction was not based on the actuarial tables and did not include an interest factor, and there was a large gap between the present value and the fair market value of the annuity. ..."

Although the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit reversed the Tax Court's holding that the transaction did not involve a private annuity, it is important that the annuity contain an interest factor to account for the time value of money.

In your situation it is clearly the intent of the parties that the price of the annuity is to be equal to the value of the Securities being exchanged for the annuity, and no gift or other valuation benefit in excess of such value is intended to be received by either party to the agreement. It is thus our opinion that it is more likely than not that no gift tax will be imposed on your disposition of the Securities in exchange for your receiving a private annuity of equal value, provided the actuarial value of the Securities being sold in exchange for the receipt of the private annuity are of an equivalent actuarial value.

C. THE ANNUITY PAYMENTS MUST BE UNSECURED TO AVOID YOUR BEING TAXED IMMEDIATELY IN 1992 ON THE GAIN FROM THE DISPOSITION OF THE SECURITIES BEING EXCHANGED FOR THE ANNUITY.

The United States Tax Court has held that the private annuity income tax rules apply only to private annuities that are unsecured. If the annuity payments are secured the annuity will be taxable as if it were a commercial annuity rather than a private annuity. (See Estate of Lloyd Bell, (1973) 60 TC 469 and 212 Corp., (1978) 70 TC 788.)

For example, the Tax Court in Bell held that the property transferred in exchange for the private annuity was secured because such property was placed in escrow as security for the annuity payments, and the annuity agreement also provided for a "cognovit" judgment against the parties issuing the annuity in the event they defaulted in making their annuity payments. Consequently, the Tax Court applied the rules pertaining to commercial annuities to the transaction and held that the taxpayers had an immediately taxable gain when they exchanged their appreciated stock in exchange for the secured private annuity.

It is our understanding that the private annuity being issued to you is intended to be unsecured. There are to be no security interests, guarantees, specific funds, or other forms of collateral or assurances that the private annuity payments will be made by the corporation other than the mere unsecured contractual promise of such corporation that it will make the annuity payments as they become due under the terms of the annuity agreement.

In addition, the private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the Securities transferred by you in exchange for the annuity. The income generated by the property will belong to the corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments. The amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the Securities being sold for the annuity and will not be based on the income generated by the Securities being exchanged for the annuity.

Furthermore, the possession and/or enjoyment of the Securities being sold in exchange for the private annuity will reside exclusively with the corporation, and you will not preserve or reserve any control of ~~any kind or character over such Securities and the income therefrom~~ that would constitute a retained interest in the possession or enjoyment of the Securities being sold in exchange for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that you will irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the Securities which are being sold in exchange for the private annuity.

Consequently, provided that the private annuity payments will be unsecured and will always remain unsecured it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the private annuity will not be taxable as a secured annuity that is taxable as a commercial annuity.

D. THE DISPOSITION OF COMPENSATORY NON-STATUTORY NONVESTED SECURITIES IN AN ARM'S LENGTH TRANSACTION BEFORE RIGHTS IN THE SECURITIES BECOME TRANSFERABLE TO THE OBLIGOR CORPORATION, AND THE DISPOSITION OF A COMPENSATORY NONSTATUTORY TRANSFERABLE WARRANT IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A SUBSTANTIALLY NONVESTED PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION IS NOT A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992.

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that an exchange of your nontransferable stock options for a private annuity will not be subject to an immediate taxable event.

The federal income tax treatment of your nontransferable non-statutory stock options is generally covered in Internal Revenue Code

Section 83 and Regulations Section 1.83-1, 1.83-3, and 1.83-7.

Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not initially apply to the taxation of your nonqualified stock options because your options are not actively traded on an established market and are not transferable. However, once the nontransferable stock options are exchanged for the nonvested private annuity, you will then be subject to the rules of Internal Revenue Code Sections 83(a) and 83(b). Under these rules to avoid an immediate taxable event upon the transfer of your stock options for a private annuity, the stock options must be transferred for a substantially nonvested private annuity.

Substantially nonvested property is property that is nontransferable and subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture. (See Regulations Section 1.83-3(b).)

The general rule regarding the transferability of property is cited in Regulation Section 1.83-3(d):

"For purposes of Section 83 and the Regulations thereunder, the rights of a person in property are transferable if such person can transfer any interest in the property to any person other than the transferor of the property, but only if the rights in such property of such transferee are not subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture. Accordingly, property is transferable if the person performing the services or receiving the property can sell, assign, or pledge (as collateral for a loan, or as security for the performance of an obligation, or any other purpose) his interest in the property to any person other than the transferor of such property and if the transferee is not required to give up the property or its value in the event the substantial risk of forfeiture materializes. On the other hand, property is not considered to be transferable merely because the person performing the services or receiving the property may designate a beneficiary to receive the property in the event of his death."

3(c) as follows:

"A substantial risk of forfeiture exists where rights in property that are transferred are conditioned, directly or indirectly, upon the future performance (or refraining from performance) of substantial services by any person, or the occurrence of a condition related to a purpose of the transfer, and the possibility of forfeiture is substantial if such condition is not satisfied."

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that a private annuity will be treated as being substantially nonvested.

To be substantially nonvested, the private annuity must be nontransferable and subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture.

Section XVI of the Private Annuity agreement specifically states that the private annuity payments to you are nonassignable and nontransferable or capable of being pledged or otherwise encumbered by you without the prior written consent of the Obligor first being obtained. Furthermore, a private annuity is customarily nontransferable. (See Warnick, 195-3rd T.M., Private Annuities, at page number A-7.)

It is also our opinion that it is more likely than not that the private annuity is subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture as exemplified by Section 2.5(a) of the Private Annuity Agreement which states:

"The Annuity payments payable hereunder to the Annuitant are subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture to the Annuitant in that such Annuity payments shall terminate and lapse with the last payment immediately preceding the death of the Annuitant, or upon the death of the Annuitant if no payments have been made as of the death of the Annuitant; however, notwithstanding the foregoing, any annuity payments that were not made prior to the death of the Annuitant because of a breach of this Agreement by the Obligor shall be due and payable upon the death of the Annuitant together with any applicable interest, late charges, or other payments due hereunder, and any such payments shall be made to the estate of the Annuitant . There will be no proration of payments at the time of the death of the Annuitant or at anytime thereafter."

~~The unpaid annuity payments upon your death are thus totally terminable, extinguishable, and forfeitable. Consequently, the private annuity is subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture.~~

It is therefore our opinion that your private annuity will then be treated for tax purposes as your stock options would have been treated under Internal Revenue Code Section 83. The result of this substitution is that when your private annuity substantially vests under Internal Revenue Code Section 83, it will be taxed in the Caroline D. e manner that the stock options would have been taxed under Internal Revenue Code Section 83(a) and (b)¹. Therefore, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that when the private annuity substantially vests (i.e., when payments under the terms of the annuity agreement are actually received by you) you will at that time be subject to a taxable event.

The term "nonstatutory stock options" includes warrants to purchase stock. (See Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at paragraphs H-2850 and H-2853, citing Frank Shamburger (1973) 61 TC 85, affirmed (1975, CA8) 508 F2d 883.)

It is our opinion that the compensatory nonstatutory transferable warrant which is being sold in exchange for your receiving a substantially nonvested private annuity will not cause a taxable event in 1992, the year of the exchange.

Furthermore, assuming that vested nontransferable stock options and a vested transferable warrant (as defined in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(a)) are exchanged for a private annuity, it is more likely than not that such an exchange will not result in an immediate taxable event.

E. NONCOMPENSATORY NONSTATUTORY SECURITIES TRANSFERRED TO THE OBLIGOR CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A SUBSTANTIALLY NONVESTED PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION WILL LIKELY NOT BE A TAXABLE EVENT IN THE YEAR 1992, THE YEAR OF EXCHANGE.

Noncompensatory nonstatutory Securities are not covered by Internal Revenue Code Section 83. Internal Revenue Code Section 83 only governs property transferred in connection with the performance of services, and since these Securities are non-compensatory they will be exempt from Internal Revenue Code Section 83 rules as previously herein discussed.

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that these non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities will be covered by the general federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity. The Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4804 explains the federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity as follows:

"The transfer of property in exchange for a private annuity is not a taxable transaction. Thus, a taxpayer who turns his property over to a member of his family or other private individual, or to his own corporation or other corporation, which is not a life insurance company or a bank or an organization which issues annuities from time to time, in exchange for payments for life, has no immediate taxable gain. (Emphasis is included in the text) However, the payments under the arrangement are taxable when received, see Paragraph J-4806. The actual transfer isn't taxable because the promise to make the lifetime payments is considered to have no determinable value. It makes no difference if the obligor under the 'private' transferee is not in the business of granting annuities, his solvency is not subject to the supervision and restrictions of insurance companies and banks, and may change over the payment period. (Citations omitted.)"

Because the non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities are not subject to Internal Revenue Code Section 83 coverage, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the non-compensatory nonstatutory Securities transferred in exchange for the private annuity will likely be taxable as property transferred in exchange for a private annuity in accordance with the aforescribed federal income tax consequences.

F. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, THE DISPOSITION OF SECURITIES WITHOUT A READILY ASCERTAINABLE FAIR MARKET VALUE TO AN OBLIGOR CORPORATION IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR RECEIVING A PRIVATE ANNUITY OF AN EQUIVALENT VALUE FROM SUCH CORPORATION IS ARGUABLY NOT GOVERNED BY INTERNAL REVENUE CODE SECTION 83, AND WOULD THUS BE EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PURSUANT TO THE FOREGOING INTERNAL REVENUE CODE SECTION 83 RULES!

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the transfer of stock options without a readily ascertainable fair market value in exchange for a private annuity is arguably not subject to the Internal Revenue Code Section 83 rules.

If Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not apply to the transfer of stock options in exchange for a private annuity, the stock options that are transferred in exchange for a private annuity, will likely be governed according to the aforescribed federal income rules covering private annuities, that apply to property interests that are not transferred in connection with the performance of services.

Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e) recites the situations in which Section 83 does not apply to certain property interests transferred in connection with the performance of services. That statute states:

"This Section shall not apply to-

- (1) a transaction to which Section 421 applies,
- (2) a transfer to or from a trust described in Section 401(a) or a transfer under an annuity plan which meets the requirement of Section 404(a)(2),
- (3) the transfer of an option without a readily ascertainable fair market value,
- (4) the transfer of property pursuant to the exercise of an option with a readily ascertainable fair market value at the date of grant, or
- (5) group-term life insurance to which Section 79 applies."

Under Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e)(3), a stock option without a readily ascertainable fair market value is not subject to Internal Revenue Code Section 83.

In your situation, your stock options are not actively traded on an established market and according to Regulation Section 1.83-7(b) should not have a readily ascertainable fair market value. That Regulation states:

"(1) Options have a value at the time they are granted, but that value is ordinarily not readily ascertainable unless the option is actively traded on an established market .

(2) When an option is not actively traded on an established market, it does not have a readily ascertainable fair market value unless its fair market value can otherwise be measured with reasonable accuracy. For purposes of this Section, if an option is not actively traded on an established market, the option does not have a readily ascertainable fair market value when granted unless the taxpayer can show that all of the following conditions exist:

- (i) The option is transferable by the optionee;
- (ii) The option is exercisable immediately in full by the optionee;
- (iii) The option or the property subject to the option is not subject to any restriction or condition (other than a lien or other condition to secure the payment of the purchase price) which has a significant effect upon the fair market value on the option; and
- (iv) The fair market value of the option privilege is readily ascertainable in accordance with paragraph (b)(3) of this Section."

The Regulations further state in Section 1.83-7(b)(3) that in determining whether the value of the option privilege is readily ascertainable, and in determining the amount of such value when such value is readily ascertainable, it is necessary to consider-

- "(i) Whether the value of the property subject to the option can be ascertained;
- (ii) The probability of any ascertainable value of such property increasing or decreasing; and
- (iii) The length of the period during which the option can be exercised"

It is our understanding that none of these factors exist regarding your stock options, and therefore your stock options do not have a readily ascertainable value. Consequently, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that if your stock options do not have a readily ascertainable value Internal Revenue Code Section 83 does not apply to the transfer of the stock options in exchange for the private annuity by virtue of Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e)(3).

However, this provision is a seemingly ignored provision of the Internal Revenue Code. There is little discussion of the applicability of this provision and the Regulations and authorities have generally overlooked this Section. Instead, the Regulations and authorities provide for an alternative method of analysis, as already herein ~~discussed, for treating the transfer of nonvested stock options in exchange for a private annuity.~~

We thus caution you that while Internal Revenue Code Section 83(e) states that Internal Revenue Code Section 83 shall not apply to the transfer of stock options without a readily ascertainable fair market value, this provision should be viewed most speculatively because of the lack of substantive material supporting the application and use of this Section. Therefore, it is our opinion that while you should be aware of this provision you should be cautious in your reliance upon it. It is advisable that you proceed conservatively, and cautiously follow the Regulations governing the transfer of property in connection with the performance of services as already herein set forth.

G. A PRIVATE ANNUITY MIGHT NOT BE CLASSIFIED AS CONSTITUTING "PROPERTY" WITHIN THE MEANING OF INCOME TAX REGULATION SECTION 1.83-3(e).

A private annuity might not be considered to constitute "property" as that term is defined in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e). This regulation defines property as including "real and personal property other than either money or an unfunded and unsecured promise to pay money or property in the future."

The private annuity is an unsecured promise to pay money in the future.

Section III 3.1 of the Private Annuity Agreement states in pertinent part that "(T)he parties further agree that the Obligor will not establish any security or any fund or other specific chargeable source for the payment of the purchase price (being the Annuity) hereunder."

It is thus reasonable to conclude that the private annuity is unfunded as well as being unsecured, and thus does not constitute property within the meaning of Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e). However, you should be aware that we have not located any pertinent decisions, rulings, or other legal authority that substantiates this conclusion.

Professor of Law Daniel C. Knickerbocker, Jr. of Seton Hall University School of Law has written in Knickerbocker, 134-4th T.M., Annuities, at page A-34 that: "...Section 83 governs property transferred in connection with the performance of service. ... Where an employer has merely promised to pay an annuity to a beneficiary surviving one of its employees, there is no transfer of property either to the employee when the promise is made or to the beneficiary when the promise matures on the employee's death. 'Property' as used in Section 83 does not include 'an unfunded and unsecured promise to pay money in the future.' On the other hand, if the employer backs the promise with assets placed beyond the reach of the employer's creditors, the value of the promise will be includible in the employee's or beneficiary's income at the moment the benefits become transferable or nonforfeitable." (Citing Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-3(e).)

The assets of the Obligor are not to be placed beyond the reach of its creditors, and it is thus quite likely that the private annuity that is being issued to you will not be construed to constitute "property" as that term is defined in determining the applicability of Section 83 of the Internal Revenue Code to the private annuity.

H. THE SUBSEQUENT EXERCISE OF THE SECURITIES BY THE OBLIGOR WILL LIKELY NOT GENERATE A TAXABLE EVENT TO THE ANNUITANT.

Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-1(c) describes the tax

consequences with respect to the disposition of nonvested property in a transaction that is not engaged in at arm's-length. Under such circumstances, the subsequent exercise of the securities by the Obligor would cause the earner of the compensatory element of the property to be taxed upon the exercise of the option. A detailed example of this principle is given in the regulation to illustrate this point.

However, in our situation the disposition of the securities does not involve nonvested property, and the disposition is at arm's-length. Consequently, the tax consequences set forth in this regulation do not apply. Instead, the tax consequences set forth in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.83-7(a) apply to the transaction. In pertinent part such regulation states: "If the option is sold or otherwise disposed of in an arm's-length transaction, sections 83(a) and 83(b) apply to the transfer of money or other property received in the same manner as sections 83(a) and 83(b) would have applied to the transfer of property pursuant to an exercise of the option."

Thus, as under Internal Revenue Code Sections 83(a) and (b) and the regulations promulgated thereunder no taxable event will occur to the Annuitant until the annuity vests (when the annuity payments are received by the Annuitant), the exercise of the options after the transfer of the securities to the Obligor pursuant to the annuity transaction is not likely to be a taxable event to the Annuitant.

I. THE SUBSEQUENT CONTRIBUTION OF THE ANNUITY TO A GRANTOR TRUST BY THE ANNUITANT WHO IS THE GRANTOR-SETTLOR OF SUCH TRUST WILL LIKELY NOT CAUSE THE INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES TO VARY FROM THOSE DESCRIBED HEREIN.

You have indicated that you are contemplating the possibility of contributing the annuity to a grantor trust in which you would be the settlor. You have inquired whether such a contribution would alter the anticipated federal income tax consequences from those described herein.

The pertinent rules relating to the taxation of a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes are set forth in Section 671 of the Internal Revenue Code. In pertinent part that statute states: Where it is specified in this subpart that the grantor ... shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust, there shall then be included in computing the taxable income and credits of the grantor ... those items of income, deductions, and credits against tax of the trust which are attributable to that portion of the trust to the extent that such items would be taken into account under this chapter in computing taxable income or credits against tax of an individual."

This statute is further interpreted in Income Tax Regulation Section 1.671-2(a) in pertinent part as follows: "Under section 671 a grantor or another person includes in computing his taxable income and credits those items of income, deduction, and credit against tax which are attributable to or included in any portion of a trust of which he is treated as the owner."

Thus, provided that the trust to which the annuity is contributed by the Annuitant is classified as a "grantor trust" under Internal Revenue Code Section 671, the tax consequences of such trust will be incurred by the Annuitant-Grantor.

In addition, Section 72(u) of the Internal Revenue Code indicates that an annuity contract that is not held by a natural person (such as the grantor trust) is to be taxed in accordance with the statutory scheme set forth within such statute.

However, that statute specifies that "For purposes of this paragraph, holding by a trust or other entity as an agent for a natural person shall not be taken into account."

Because the Annuitant is a "natural person" this statute does not apply and the normal annuity taxation rules would apply to the annuity.

Consequently, the tax consequences relating to the annuity will likely not vary from those incurred by the Annuitant in the event that the Annuitant were to subsequently contribute the annuity to the grantor trust.

Dear Roaring Creek Limited:

You have requested the firm of Pratter, Tedder & Graves to provide you with our opinion with respect to the anticipated federal income tax treatment relating to the following matters:

1. Your anticipated federal income tax treatment to you, a Nevada corporation, relating to your acquisition and sale of the securities listed in Schedule "A" (hereinafter referred to as Securities) in exchange for your issuing a private annuity to Charles J. Wily Jr.
2. Your anticipated federal income tax treatment that would likely apply if you were to subsequently relinquish your obligation to pay the private annuity referred to in Paragraph 1 above, provided that you relinquish such liability by paying the assuming party assets of a value worth the equivalent of the annuity liability.
3. The anticipated federal excise tax treatment under Internal Revenue Code sections 4371 and following regarding a possible subsequent assumption of the obligation to pay the private annuity payments by a foreign corporation not engaged in a trade or business in the United States in exchange for its receiving cash or an asset worth the equivalent value of the annuity liability.

PSI-WYBR 0012:

with respect to these issues. Our opinion does not command any legal authority and may be rejected by a government official, agency, private party, or anyone else. Our opinions represent our views on these issues, but they do not represent our guarantee that they will be followed or accepted by anyone else.

The tax laws change rapidly, and should there be any change in the applicable law or the facts and circumstances relating to the events described herein, the opinions expressed herein necessarily require a reevaluation in the light of such changes.

There is no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service or anyone else will not raise issues that have not been addressed herein.

For the sake of brevity, our discussion of the applicable legal principles will omit certain cases and other authorities that may apply to the facts and circumstances of these matters. We will take them into account in issuing this opinion letter, however.

In the event any change impacts on the tax principles or laws applicable to our opinions herein, we specifically disclaim any undertaking or obligation to advise you or anyone else of any such changes which may hereafter occur.

Our opinions are based on the correctness of the facts and circumstances set forth herein.

The Internal Revenue Service and applicable courts possess the ability to challenge the legitimacy and reality of an entity or a transaction and can claim that an entity or a transaction are something other than what the parties intended them to be. Government authorities can recharacterize a transaction into something other than what the parties intended.

There are numerous instances when the Internal Revenue Service, courts or judges are in error. They are not infallible. They can thus misread or misapply the legal principles involved in the case, leading to a tax result that may be contrary to what the taxpayer anticipated, and leading to a tax result that may be wrong.

The Internal Revenue Service, and the courts generally examine the substance and business purpose and economic reality behind a transaction in a very careful manner to determine if the transaction is genuine and is to be granted recognition in the form presented for tax purposes.

Consequently, we need to caution you that the Internal Revenue Service, or a court might view the transactions that are the subject of this opinion letter in a manner differently than either you or I would view them. Nonetheless, it is our ~~opinion~~ that the anticipated and intended transactions and entities described herein are more likely than not to be given recognition as being treated in the manner expressed herein. This view will be enhanced by the proper operation of the entities and transactions to comply with their intended consequences.

You should be aware that the Internal Revenue Service can charge interest on tax deficiencies and can impose numerous penalties if it disagrees with the tax treatment of the reported transactions.

It is our view based on the information presented to us as expressed herein that it is more likely than not that the anticipated federal tax treatment relating to the matters discussed herein will be as we opine herein.

OPINION AND ANALYSIS OF THE FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES THAT ARE LIKELY TO APPLY TO THE TRANSACTIONS DESCRIBED BELOW:

A. The anticipated tax treatment relating to your acquisition and subsequent sale of Securities in exchange for your issuing a private annuity on the life of Charles J. Wylly Jr.

Because there could be an unending list of possible factual circumstances regarding your purchase, ownership, and sale of the Securities in exchange for your issuing a private annuity, this opinion will only address your anticipated income tax basis with respect to such security interests.

Upon acquiring the Securities, you need to determine your income tax basis.

The income tax basis rules pertaining to the party contractually obligated to make the private annuity payments are discussed in depth in Warnick, 195-3rd T.M. Private Annuities at pages A-28 and A-29. These rules are predicated upon the principles set forth in Revenue Ruling 55-119.

It is our understanding that no gift element is involved in this transaction.

In the event the Securities are sold at a gain prior to the annuitant's death, your tax basis is equal to the total of the annuity payments made to the date of sale, plus the actuarial value of the annuity payments that are yet to be made under the annuity agreement. If the Securities are sold at a loss prior to the annuitant's death the tax basis equals the total of the annuity payments actually made as of the date of sale. If the selling price is less than the basis for gain but greater than the basis for loss purposes neither a gain nor a loss is recognized on your sale of the Securities.

If the Securities are sold after the annuitant's death, your basis for determining either gain or loss is equal to the total of the annuity payments which were made under the annuity contract.

If the Securities are sold before the annuitant's death, you remain obligated to make annuity payments to the annuitant. If gain were recognized on the sale, then, because the actuarial value of the annuity was used by you in calculating your tax basis, you had, in essence, already taken into account the future annuity payments to be made under the annuity agreement using the actuarial values based on the anticipated life expectancy. Thus, the annuity payments made after the sale do not have a tax consequence to you until the total of such annuity payments exceeds the actuarial value that was used by you to calculate your gain, whereupon each annuity payment thereafter represents a deductible loss to you. However, if the annuitant dies before the after-sale payments equal the actuarial value of the annuity, then you will have taxable income in the year of the annuitant's death equal to the difference between the actuarial annuity value which was used by you in computing your taxable gain on the sale of the Securities and the total annuity payments made after the sale. (Thus, this "windfall" to you would not go untaxed.)

If you recognized a loss on the sale of the Securities, your tax basis would be merely the total of the annuity payments made prior to such sale, and you would not have been credited for any annuity payments you made after the sale. Consequently, each post-sale annuity payment made by you after such sale would generate a tax-deductible loss to you.

If you recognized neither a gain nor a loss on the sale of the Securities, then no loss would be recognized by you on further annuity payments until the total of all annuity payments made (both before and after the sale of the Securities) equals the amount realized by you from the sale. Thereafter, each annuity payment represents a tax-deductible loss to you.

After the annuitant's death, if the total of all annuity payments is less than the amount realized by you on the sale of the Securities, the difference is taxable income to you in the year of the death of the annuitant.

To circumvent this potentially large tax consequence, you might want to have another party assume your private annuity obligation in exchange for your payment of assets having an offsetting equivalent value. This will be discussed immediately below.

~~It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the federal taxation method set forth in Revenue Ruling 55-119 as described above will be applied on the transactions described in this section of our opinion.~~

B. Your anticipated tax treatment if you subsequently relinquish your obligation to pay the private annuity referred to in Paragraph 1 above, provided you relinquish such liability by paying the assuming party assets of a value worth the equivalent of the annuity liability being relinquished.

You have requested us to provide you with our views as to your anticipated federal income tax consequences relating to the situation in which you would enter into a contract with a foreign corporation which does not and will not engage in business in the United States, and does not and will not have an office in the United States or an agent in the United States, under which this foreign corporation would agree to assume the obligation to pay the private annuity to the annuitant in exchange for its receiving offsetting assets equivalent to the value of the annuity liability at the time of such transaction.

Under such circumstances and provided the value of the cash and/or other assets exchanged by you equals the value of the annuity obligation at the time of such transactions, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that there should be no federal income tax consequence to you as you have incurred no economic gain or loss.

Thereafter, the death of the annuitant would likely not produce a federal tax consequence to either yourself (as you no longer owed the annuity obligation) or to the foreign assumption corporation (as it would not be subject to U.S. taxation) under the circumstances set forth above.

However, this approach is rather novel and the tax consequences are not free from doubt. It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the assumption of the private annuity liability prior to the annuitant's death under the circumstances described above will be nontaxable to you as noted above.

C. The foreign corporation is not an insurer or reinsurer as those terms are properly defined and applied under Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372, and therefore will not be subject to an excise tax if thereafter it subsequently assumes the obligation to pay the private annuity in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the value of the annuity liability.

You have indicated it is possible that, in the future, a foreign corporation which does not engage in a trade or business in the United States will enter into a contract with you under which it will assume the obligation to pay the private annuity described above in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the then-present value of the annuity liability.

Under the circumstances herein set forth, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that such foreign corporation will not be subject to an excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372 for the foregoing reasons: (1) the foreign corporation is not an "insurer" or "reinsurer"; (2) the assumption of the payments of a private annuity in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability is not an assumption of a risk classifiable as a risk assumed by an "insurer" or "reinsurer" under the proper terminology and customary usage in the insurance industry and; (3) according to the legislative history of Internal Revenue Code Section 4371, the statute applies to foreign entities engaged in the trade or business of insuring against, or with respect to, hazards, risks, losses, or liabilities within the United States and the foreign corporation in this anticipated situation is not engaged in such a trade or business and does not intend to become engaged in such a trade or business. Therefore, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation is not an insurer or reinsurer and has not assumed a risk as an insurer or reinsurer for purposes of Internal Revenue Section 4371, and therefore will not be subject to an imposition of an excise tax under Internal Revenue Section 4371.

Internal Revenue Code Section 4371, in pertinent part, imposes a tax "on each policy of insurance, indemnity bond, annuity contract, or policy of reinsurance issued by any foreign insurer or reinsurer [emphasis added]..."

Internal Revenue Code Section 4372(a) defines a foreign insurer or reinsurer as "...an insurer or reinsurer who is a nonresident alien individual, or a foreign partnership, or a foreign corporation. The term includes a nonresident alien individual, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation which shall become bound by an obligation of the nature of an indemnity bond."

Therefore, for the excise tax to apply to an "annuity contract" or "policy of reissuance," it must be issued by a "foreign insurer or reinsurer."

Such is not the case here.

Neither the Internal Revenue Code nor the regulations thereunder nor the judicial taxation field decisions and Internal Revenue Service rulings clearly define the terms "foreign insurer or reinsurer." Consequently, we have looked to the leading treatises on insurance law and state court decisional law for assistance in defining such terms.

We have located no definitive case, ruling, or authoritative commentary that indicates that the excise tax imposed by Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 applies in the Private annuity context.

According to Black's Law Dictionary (5th Edition), ~~insurer is defined as "[T]he underwriter or insurance company with whom a contract of insurance is made. The one who assumes risk or underwrites a policy, or the underwriter or company with whom a contract of insurance is made."~~

Appleman on Insurance Law and Practice further defines the terms in Section 7001: "[A]n 'insurer' is one who assumes risk or underwrites a policy, or the underwriter or company with whom a contract of insurance is made."

It is thus our opinion that the proper and appropriate use of the term insurer is that it applies to an underwriter or an insurance company or one who assumes risk as that term is defined.

The foreign corporation is clearly not such an insurance company or underwriter. It will not be licensed or authorized to engage in the insurance business. Therefore, it will not meet the generally accepted definition of an insurer or reinsurer unless it is an entity which assumes a risk as an insurer.

An annuity is not a contract or an instrument of insurance risk. Furthermore, the foreign corporation is not issuing the annuity as it is merely assuming the obligation to pay the annuity.

Consequently, the foreign corporation should not be classified as an insurer under the generally accepted meaning of such term.

Thus, it is more likely than not that a foreign insurer or reinsurer referred to in Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372 pertains to an underwriter or insurance company with whom a contract of insurance is made, and the foreign corporation, under the circumstances presented to us, is not such a company or underwriter.

Thompson, on Reinsurance, 4th Edition, page 639, states: ".insurance is a protection against loss or liability.....He pays the insurance company a premium. He becomes insured with this insurance company which is called the direct-writing company. A policy is delivered to him which is his contract with his insurer. The person or company insured by the direct-writing company is referred to in discussions as the insured, the assured, the original insured or the primitive assured. The original or primary insurer is obligated directly to his insured or policyholder".

An entity which assumes a risk as an insurer is an entity which makes, issues, continues, or renews instruments in the nature of an insurance policy or in the nature of an indemnity bond. For example, Couch on Insurance 2d Section 1:2 pp. 6 states: "[T]he primary requisite essential to a contract of insurance is the assumption of a risk of loss ~~and the undertaking to indemnify the insured against such loss.~~" Therefore, it is likely that Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372 refer to foreign 'insurance' companies that are engaged in the business of assuming risks, issuing instruments in the nature of indemnity bonds, insurance policies and other instruments customarily issued by an insurer.

The foreign corporation is not such an entity and does not engage in foreign insurance transactions and does not issue instruments customarily issued by an insurer. As a consequence, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation is not assuming the risk of an insurer and thus will not be treated as an insurer when it assumes the obligation of the private annuity payments in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability.

Appleman on Insurance Law and Practice Section 81 states: "[A]n annuity is usually defined as being an obligation to pay a stated sum, usually monthly or annually, to a stated recipient, such payments to terminate upon the death of the designated beneficiary." Appleman citing Corporation Comm'n v. Equitable Life Insurance Society of U.S., 239 P.2d 360 (1952) in footnote 1 also states that "[I]nasmuch as annuity contracts do not insure against loss by reason of death of insured, but rather constitute investment of funds to be paid in installments during life of annuitant, annuity contracts are not a 'risk' based on contingency of loss. Since annuities are not policies or contracts of insurance (emphasis added), payments therefor are not generally regarded as premiums even though so called."

Couch on Insurance 2 in Section 1:20 in footnote 15 citing Prudential Insurance Co. v. Howell 29 NJ 116 (1959) finds that "[T]he risks assumed under life insurance policies and under annuity contracts are diametrically opposite inasmuch as life insurance involves the traditional elements of insurance, namely, shifting of risk of loss and distribution of risk of loss over a broad base whereas annuity contracts are basically investments."

Thus, it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation does not fit within the statutory definition of an insurer because it is neither an underwriter nor an insurance company engaged in the trade or business of assuming risks. It is also our opinion that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation is not assuming such a risk when it assumes the private annuity payment obligations in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the value of the annuity liability, and thus is not an insurer under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371.

The legislative history of Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 is consistent with this understanding.

The terms insurer and reinsurer referred to in the Committee Reports for Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 substantiate that our above analysis is consistent with the intended applicable meanings of such terms under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371.

The Committee Reports on Public Law 101-239 and Public Law 100-203 which amended Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372 refer to the term 'risk' in the context of foreign insurance companies effectively connected with the conduct of an insurance business in the United States or in the context of foreign insurance companies issuing policies or instruments in the nature of an indemnity bond.

The Committee Reports do not include other applications of the term insurer other than those applications in the insurance company context. There are several points in the conference agreement in which the Committee Report evidences their concerns regarding the application of the use of the forthcoming Internal Revenue Code Section. The conference agreement in the Conference Committee Report for the Committee Report on Public Law 100-203, states that the agreement shall "provide regulatory authority to address the treatment of foreign insurance company investments in U.S. subsidiaries...Under the conference agreement, foreign source income that is attributable to a U.S. trade or business of a foreign property and casualty insurance company is treated as effectively connected with that trade or business."

The conference agreement indicates the intent and purpose behind Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 was to apply an excise tax to foreign insurance companies engaged in a U.S. trade or business. "Several factors are cited by the Treasury Department in support of this view. First, the provision applies to life insurance companies and property and casualty insurance companies in a manner substantially similar to present law rules covering only life insurance companies...Second, the provision attributes to a foreign insurance company an amount of assets determined by reference to the assets of comparable domestic insurance companies, thus reasonably measuring the amount of assets that the U.S. trade or business of a foreign insurance company would be expected to have were it a separate company dealing independently with non-U.S. offices of the foreign insurance company...The conferees understand that the provision governing foreign insurance companies solves a statutory problem in the context of the broader issue: measuring the U.S. taxable income of a foreign corporation that is effectively connected with its U.S. trade or business."

Under the facts presented to us, the foreign corporation will not be engaging in business as a foreign insurance company and therefore will not be subject to the excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372. The foreign corporation is neither assuming a risk of loss as an insurer nor is it in the business of making, issuing, renewing, or continuing insurance policies or underwriting a policy with whom a contract of insurance is made as a reinsurer. Therefore, it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation does not meet the statutory definition of insurer and will thus not be subject to the excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371.

The involvement of the foreign corporation will be limited to its assumption of the private annuity agreement in exchange for its receiving assets worth the equivalent of the value of the annuity liability. The private annuity agreement will be issued by you, and you are not an insurer engaged in the business of customarily issuing insurance policies or annuities, and you are contractually barred from issuing additional annuities under Section XXIII of the Private Annuity Agreement.

Thus, under the foregoing analysis, the foreign corporation first, is not an insurer as that term has been properly defined and applied according to the statute's legislative history, and second, is not assuming a 'risk' as an insurer as that term is properly interpreted by authorities in the insurance field.

Under Internal Revenue Code Section 4372(a), a foreign insurer is also defined as a nonresident alien individual, a foreign partnership, or foreign corporation which shall become bound by an obligation of the nature of an indemnity bond.

The foreign corporation will not become contractually bound by an obligation in the nature of an indemnity bond.

Appleman on Insurance and Practice Section 7001 states: "[I]ndemnity has been considered an essential element of a contract of insurance, so that a contract which does not possess this element has been held not one of insurance." Appleman further states in Section 7003 that "[A] contract which requires an indemnitor to indemnify the indemnitee for losses with which the indemnitor had no connection and over which it had no control would be a 'contract of insurance'".

The foreign corporation will not be an indemnitor indemnifying you for losses with which it has no connection and over which it has no control. It is our understanding that the foreign corporation is merely assuming an obligation and will not secure you against loss or damage and will not restore to you, in whole or in part, by payment or replacement for any losses incurred.

Thus the foreign corporation will not be indemnifying you.

It is also our understanding that the foreign corporation will not be responsible for any reimbursement to you or will it be a party to the contract between you and the annuitant. Therefore, pursuant to the contract between you and the foreign corporation, the latter will be assuming the obligation of the private annuity payments in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the annuity liability, and will not be issuing assuming, continuing, or renewing an obligation in the nature of an indemnity bond.

Our examination of case law has disclosed a pair of cases which, when read together, clarify the judicial interpretation of the term "insurance."

These cases have led us to conclude that it would be unlikely that a court would find that the issuance of a private annuity by a corporation that is not engaged in the issuance of other annuities or insurance policies (and, thus does not actuarially allocate the risk relating to the private annuity agreement to other annuity or insurance contracts) is equivalent to the conduct of business as an "insurer," and that it would be equally unlikely that a court would find that the assumption of the private annuity agreement by a foreign corporation that does not issue other annuities or insurance policies is to be deemed a "reinsurer," as such terms should reasonably be construed under Internal Revenue Code Section 4372(a).

The first case is the case of Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance 387 So. 2d 548 (1st DCA 1980). In this case, the Florida Department of Insurance had issued a declaratory statement that a plan whereby optometrists agreed to furnish replacement lenses to their patients for an annual fee plus a fixed sum representing the costs of the lenses, was actually an insurance program.

The District Court of Appeal reversed the Florida Department of Insurance on the basis that the program did not involve any assumption of risk, distribution of loss, or payment of premium for assumption of risk. (387 So.2d 548, 550.)

Consequently, because in that case the District Court of Appeal found that the optometrists' plan "...did not involve any assumption of risk, distribution of loss or payment of premium for assumption of risk...", the plan was not subject to the Florida Insurance Statutes. (387 So.2d 548, 550.)

The District Court of Appeal thus held that Professional Lens Plan, Inc. was not providing insurance and was not subject to the Florida Statutes regulation insurance.

In its decision, the court in Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance cited the case of Guaranteed Warranty Corp. Inc. v. ex rel. Humphrey, 23 Ariz. App. 827, 583 P.2d 87 (1975). The Florida court explained that this Arizona case expanded upon the Florida statutory definition of the term "insurance" by indicating that normally there are five (5) elements that are present in an insurance contract.

These five (5) elements are:

- (1) no insurable interest;
- (2) a risk of loss;
- (3) an assumption of the risk by the insurer;
- (4) a general scheme to distribute the loss among the larger group of persons bearing similar risks; and
- (5) the payment of a premium for the assumption of the risk.

The court in Professional Lens Plan Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance stated that a patient may obviously have an "insurable interest" in his or her contact lenses, and there may be a "risk of loss" of such contact lenses; however, the remaining three (3) elements of an insurance contract were not present in that case, according to the court.

The court found that there was no contractual obligation or duty between Professional Lens Plan, Inc. and the patients. The court then stated: "This determination alone would, in our opinion, dispose of the contention that Professional is engaging in a business of 'insurance.'" (387 So.2d 548, 550)

The court held in Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance, 387 So. 2d 548 (1st DCA 1980) that the contract between the optometrist and the patient was not an indemnification contract, but rather was a contract that provided for the purchase of additional or replacement contact lenses.

In our situation neither you nor the foreign corporation are or will be engaged in the insurance business, and neither you nor the foreign corporation will issue or assume additional annuity contracts beyond the one which is the subject of this opinion letter.

Consequently, there is an absence of a "general scheme to distribute the loss among the larger group of persons bearing similar risks."

In our situation there is likewise the absence of "the payment of a premium for the assumption of risk."

Therefore, in our situation the presence of all of the "five (5) key elements that are present in an insurance contract" is lacking, and neither you (the issuer of the private annuity) nor the foreign corporation (the party that will possibly contractually assume the private annuity liability from you) will be engaged in issuing an insurance contract as that term is defined in the common law.

As the court in Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance, 387 So. 2d 548 (1st DCA 1980) held that the contract between the patient and the optometrist was not an indemnification of contact lenses agreement, but was merely a contract providing for the purchase of additional or replacement contact lenses, so ~~would it be likely for a court in our situation to find that the contract between you and the annuitant was not an indemnification agreement--it was a private annuity agreement, and it would be equally likely in our opinion that a court will find that~~ the contract between you and the foreign corporation is not an insurance agreement, or a reinsurance agreement, or an indemnification agreement--it will be an assumption of private annuity liability agreement without a premium feature being present.

Therefore, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation will not be classified as an insurer for federal excise tax purposes.

It is also our opinion that the foreign corporation is not a foreign reinsurer as that term is properly defined and applied under Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372(a), and therefore will not be subject to an excise tax as a foreign reinsurer under the aforementioned Internal Revenue Code sections.

Much confusion exists regarding the definition of the term reinsurance. The term has been used erroneously and applied indiscriminately in various situations.

According to Appleman on Insurance Law and Practice, Section 7681: "Reinsurance, to an insurance lawyer, means one thing only -- the ceding by one insurance company to another of all or a portion of its risks for a stipulated portion of the premium, in which the liability of the reinsurer is solely to the reinsured, and handles all matters prior to and subsequent to loss. The true reinsurer is merely an insurance company or underwriter which deals with other insurance companies as its policyholders.

Additionally, Couch on Insurance 2d Section 80:1 states that the reason "[M]uch confusion exists in the law as to the definition of reinsurance [is] because of the failure to distinguish three situations: (1) succession; (2) novation; and (3) additional security for the additional undertaking... The mere fact that there has been a transfer of assets to a successor corporation does not establish that there has been a reinsurance contract or an assumption of liability to the original insureds."

For example, it is our understanding that the foreign corporation will assume the obligation of payment of only one (1) private annuity transaction in exchange for receiving assets of an equivalent value and is not receiving an additional premium for such transaction. It is also our understanding that there will not be any sharing of risk between you and the foreign corporation as a reinsurer.

The foreign corporation is neither issuing the private annuity nor reinsuring the private annuity on your behalf and therefore is not engaging in transactions as an insurer or reinsurer.

~~According to Kenneth Thompson, Reinsurance 4th Edition, pp 6 a reinsurance transaction is defined as a "relationship established between two parties, which is based primarily on contract or understanding whereby one party, called the reinsurer, in consideration of a premium paid the reinsurer, agrees to indemnify under certain terms and conditions, another party, the reassured, against a risk previously assumed by the latter, the direct writer, in its primary insurance covering the original assured." You are issuing the private annuity in exchange for the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability, and will not receive a premium in consideration for assuming a 'risk' as that term has already been properly defined. The foreign corporation is likewise not receiving a premium in consideration for it assuming the obligation to make the annuity payments.~~

Further, no primary insurance exists in your situation.

Thus, the foreign corporation is neither an insurer nor a reinsurer as that term is properly used and referred to in the legislative history for Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372.

It is thus our opinion that it is more likely than not that the anticipated transaction between the foreign corporation and you is not a reinsurance transaction as that term has been defined.

It is our understanding that the foreign corporation will not assume your financial responsibilities to the Annuitant for your past conduct. It is our further understanding that the foreign corporation's agreement to assume your obligation to pay private annuity in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability will not be in the nature of a reserve for the annuity, or a premium in the nature of a reinsurance transaction. It is also our understanding that the foreign corporation will not indemnify you for any claims against you and will not assume a risk if you should become insolvent.

While we believe that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation will not be subject to a one (1) percent excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371, we wish to make you aware of Revenue Ruling 80-95 in which a foreign insurer was subject to the excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 under an arrangement between the foreign corporation and a U.S. corporation that was characterized as being similar to one of reinsurance.

The facts of this Revenue Ruling are as follows: A domestic corporation which maintained disability plans for its U.S. citizens or resident employees and former employees entered into a contract with a foreign insurer which was neither doing business nor authorized to do business in the U.S. In return for an actuarially computed annual payment, the insurer, which was not a party to the plans, indemnified the corporation for all required payment plans. The insurer incurred no liability to the employees and was neither responsible for plan performance failures nor for the application or disposition of money paid to the corporation under the contract. The insurer had the right to audit claims against the plans and to protest what it felt were improper payments. Under these facts, the foreign insurance company was determined by the Internal Revenue Service to be subject to the excise tax imposed on foreign insurance engaged on the reinsurance of United States risks.

Under the facts presented in Revenue Ruling 80-95, the foreign corporation was obliged to indemnify the domestic corporation for losses sustained by the domestic corporation under the disability plans; thus the risk assumed by the foreign corporation under the contract was the same as the risk borne by domestic corporation under the disability plans. The fact that the domestic corporation had passed its risk to the foreign corporation did not change the nature of the risk. The arrangement was similar to one of reinsurance in which the primary insurer transferred some or all of the risk it had assumed to a second insurance company.

It is our opinion that the facts in your situation are substantially different from the facts described in Revenue Ruling 80-95, and your transaction would thus not be recharacterized as reinsurance. In your situation, it is our understanding that there will be no sharing of risk, no payment of a premium in consideration for the assumption of the obligation for the payments of an annuity, and no element of control retained by the you with respect to premium payments, auditing claims, or indemnification guarantees. Thus, the proposed factual situation materially differs in your situation from the facts and circumstances set forth in Revenue ruling 80-95.

It is our understanding that the contract between the you and the foreign corporation is a transaction at arm's length under which the foreign corporation will agree to assume the obligation to pay the private annuity in exchange for the receipt of offsetting assets worth the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability.

As a transaction at arm's length in which a private annuity is exchanged for assets of an equivalent value of the annuity's estimated liability is not of the type of anticipated obligation of the nature of an indemnity bond or the type of transaction carried on by an insurer or reinsurer as contemplated under Internal Revenue Section 4371 and 4372. It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that if the foreign corporation is involved in an arm's length transaction with you to pay a private annuity in exchange for the receipt of assets of equivalent value to the annuity liability, and the foreign corporation is not engaging in insuring or ~~reinsuring property, and is not bound by any obligation to you in the nature of an indemnity bond then there will not be an excise imposed on such a transaction.~~

REPLY TO _____

East Baton Rouge Limited
One East First Street
Reno, Nevada 89501

Dear East Baton Rouge Limited:

You have requested the firm of Pratter, Tedder & Graves to provide you with our opinion with respect to the anticipated federal income tax treatment relating to the following matters:

1. Your anticipated federal income tax treatment to you, a Nevada corporation, relating to your acquisition and sale of Michaels Stores Inc., 200,000 Option (hereinafter referred to as Securities) in exchange for your issuing a private annuity to Sam Wily.
2. Your anticipated federal income tax treatment that would likely apply if you were to subsequently relinquish your obligation to pay the private annuity referred to in Paragraph 1 above, provided that you relinquish such liability by paying the assuming party assets of a value worth the equivalent of the annuity liability.
3. The anticipated federal excise tax treatment under Internal Revenue Code sections 4371 and following regarding a possible subsequent assumption of the obligation to pay the private annuity payments by a foreign corporation not engaged in a trade or business in the United States in exchange for its receiving cash or an asset worth the equivalent value of the annuity liability.

Before we provide you with our analysis of each of these issues we wish to make you aware that this opinion letter is merely an expression of our learned views with respect to these issues. Our opinion does not command any legal authority and may be rejected by a government official, agency, private party, or anyone else. Our opinion thus has no binding authority or official status of any kind, type, or character. We cannot assure you or anyone else that the opinions and conclusions contained in this opinion letter will be sustained by the Internal Revenue Service, any court of law, or anyone else. Our opinions represent our views on these issues, but they do not represent our guarantee that they will be followed or accepted by anyone else.

In addition, our opinions do not cover or address any issues not covered herein.

Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations
EXHIBIT #66 - FN 663

PSI-WYBR 00028

Our opinions are based on the status of the federal income tax law as of the date of this written opinion. The tax laws change rapidly, and should there be any change in the applicable law or the facts and circumstances relating to the events described herein, the opinions expressed herein necessarily require a reevaluation in the light of such changes.

There is no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service or anyone else will not raise issues that have not been addressed herein.

For the sake of brevity, our discussion of the applicable legal principles will omit certain cases and other authorities that may apply to the facts and circumstances of these matters. We will take them into account in issuing this opinion letter, however.

In the event any change impacts on the tax principles or laws applicable to our opinions herein, we specifically disclaim any undertaking or obligation to advise you or anyone else of any such changes which may hereafter occur.

Our opinions are based on the correctness of the facts and circumstances set forth herein.

The Internal Revenue Service and applicable courts possess the ability to challenge the legitimacy and reality of an entity or a transaction and can claim that an entity or a transaction are something other than what the parties intended them to be. Government authorities can recharacterize a transaction into something other than what the parties intended.

There are numerous instances when the Internal Revenue Service, courts or judges are in error. They are not infallible. They can thus misread or misapply the legal principles involved in the case, leading to a tax result that may be contrary to what the taxpayer anticipated, and leading to a tax result that may be wrong.

The Internal Revenue Service, and the courts generally examine the substance and business purpose and economic reality behind a transaction in a very careful manner to determine if the transaction is genuine and is to be granted recognition in the form presented for tax purposes.

Consequently, we need to caution you that the Internal Revenue Service, or a court might view the transactions that are the subject of this opinion letter in a manner differently than either you or I would view them. Nonetheless, it is our opinion that the anticipated and intended transactions and entities described herein are more likely than not to be given recognition as being treated in the manner expressed herein. This view will be enhanced by the proper operation of the entities and transactions to comply with their intended consequences.

You should be aware that the Internal Revenue Service can charge interest on tax deficiencies and can impose numerous penalties if it disagrees with the tax treatment of the reported transactions.

It is our view based on the information presented to us as expressed herein that it is more likely than not that the anticipated federal tax treatment relating to the matters discussed herein will be as we opine herein.

OPINION AND ANALYSIS OF THE FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES THAT ARE LIKELY TO APPLY TO THE TRANSACTIONS DESCRIBED BELOW:

A. The anticipated tax treatment relating to your acquisition and subsequent sale of Securities in exchange for your issuing a private annuity on the life of Sam Wylly.

Because there could be an unending list of possible factual circumstances regarding your purchase, ownership, and sale of the Securities in exchange for your issuing a private annuity, this opinion will only address your anticipated income tax basis with respect to such security interests.

Upon acquiring the Securities, you need to determine your income tax basis.

The income tax basis rules pertaining to the party contractually obligated to make the private annuity payments are discussed in depth in Warnick, 195-3rd T.M. Private Annuities at pages A-28 and A-29. These rules are predicated upon the principles set forth in Revenue Ruling 55-119.

Under this ruling, your unadjusted income tax basis equals the value of the annuity as of the date in which the annuity agreement is executed, assuming that there is no gift element involved.

It is our understanding that no gift element is involved in this transaction.

In the event the Securities are sold at a gain prior to the annuitant's death, your tax basis is equal to the total of the annuity payments made to the date of sale, plus the actuarial value of the annuity payments that are yet to be made under the annuity agreement. If the Securities are sold at a loss prior to the annuitant's death the tax basis equals the total of the annuity payments actually made as of the date of sale. If the selling price is less than the basis for gain but greater than the basis for loss purposes neither a gain nor a loss is recognized on your sale of the Securities.

If the Securities are sold after the annuitant's death, your basis for determining either gain or loss is equal to the total of the annuity payments which were made under the annuity contract.

If the Securities are sold before the annuitant's death, you remain obligated to make annuity payments to the annuitant. If gain were recognized on the sale, then, because the actuarial value of the annuity was used by you in calculating your tax basis, you had, in essence, already taken into account the future annuity payments to be made under the annuity agreement using the actuarial values based on the anticipated life expectancy. Thus, the annuity payments made after the sale do not have a tax consequence to you until the total of such annuity payments exceeds the actuarial value that was used by you to calculate your gain, whereupon each annuity payment thereafter represents a deductible loss to you. However, if the annuitant dies before the after-sale payments equal the actuarial value of the annuity, then you will have taxable income in the year of the annuitant's death equal to the difference between the actuarial annuity value which was used by you in computing your taxable gain on the sale of the Securities and the total annuity payments made after the sale. (Thus, this "windfall" to you would not go untaxed.)

If you recognized a loss on the sale of the Securities, your tax basis would be merely the total of the annuity payments made prior to such sale, and you would not have been credited for any annuity payments you made after the sale. Consequently, each post-sale annuity payment made by you after such sale would generate a tax-deductible loss to you.

If you recognized neither a gain nor a loss on the sale of the Securities, then no loss would be recognized by you on further annuity payments until the total of all annuity payments made (both before and after the sale of the Securities) equals the amount realized by you from the sale. Thereafter, each annuity payment represents a tax-deductible loss to you.

After the annuitant's death, if the total of all annuity payments is less than the amount realized by you on the sale of the Securities, the difference is taxable income to you in the year of the death of the annuitant.

To circumvent this potentially large tax consequence, you might want to have another party assume your private annuity obligation in exchange for your payment of assets having an offsetting equivalent value. This will be discussed immediately below.

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the federal taxation method set forth in Revenue Ruling 55-119 as described above will be applied on the transactions described in this section of our opinion.

~~B. Your anticipated tax treatment if you subsequently relinquish your obligation to pay the private annuity referred to in Paragraph 1 above, provided you relinquish such liability by paying the assuming party assets of a value worth the equivalent of the annuity liability being relinquished.~~

You have requested us to provide you with our views as to your anticipated federal income tax consequences relating to the situation in which you would enter into a contract with a foreign corporation which does not and will not engage in business in the United States, and does not and will not have an office in the United States or an agent in the United States, under which this foreign corporation would agree to assume the obligation to pay the private annuity to the annuitant in exchange for its receiving offsetting assets equivalent to the value of the annuity liability at the time of such transaction.

Under such circumstances and provided the value of the cash and/or other assets exchanged by you equals the value of the annuity obligation at the time of such transactions, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that there should be no federal income tax consequence to you as you have incurred no economic gain or loss.

Thereafter, the death of the annuitant would likely not produce a federal tax consequence to either yourself (as you no longer owed the annuity obligation) or to the foreign assumption corporation (as it would not be subject to U.S. taxation) under the circumstances set forth above.

However, this approach is rather novel and the tax consequences are not free from doubt. It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the assumption of the private annuity liability prior to the annuitant's death under the circumstances described above will be nontaxable to you as noted above.

C. The foreign corporation is not an insurer or reinsurer as those terms are properly defined and applied under Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372, and therefore will not be subject to an excise tax if thereafter it subsequently assumes the obligation to pay the private annuity in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the value of the annuity liability.

You have indicated it is possible that, in the future, a foreign corporation which does not engage in a trade or business in the United States will enter into a contract with you under which it will assume the obligation to pay the private annuity described above in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the then-present value of the annuity liability.

Under the circumstances herein set forth, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that such foreign corporation will not be subject to an excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372 for the foregoing reasons: (1) the foreign corporation is not an "insurer" or "reinsurer"; (2) the assumption of the payments of a private annuity in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability is not an assumption of a risk classifiable as a risk assumed by an "insurer" or

"reinsurer" under the proper terminology and customary usage in the insurance industry; and, (3) according to the legislative of Internal Revenue Code Section 4371, the statute applies to foreign entities engaged in the trade or business of insuring against, or with respect to, hazards, risks, losses, or liabilities within the United States and the foreign corporation in this anticipated situation is not engaged in such a trade or business and does not intend to become engaged in such a trade or business. Therefore, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation is not an insurer or reinsurer, and has not assumed a risk as an insurer or reinsurer for purposes of Internal Revenue Section 4371, and therefore will not be subject to an imposition of an excise tax under Internal Revenue Section 4371.

Internal Revenue Code Section 4371, in pertinent part, imposes a tax "on each policy of insurance, indemnity bond, annuity contract, or policy of reinsurance issued by any foreign insurer or reinsurer [emphasis added]..."

Internal Revenue Code Section 4372(a) defines a a foreign insurer or reinsurer as "...an insurer or reinsurer who is a nonresident alien individual, or a foreign partnership, or a foreign corporation. The term includes a nonresident alien individual, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation which shall become bound by an obligation of the nature of an indemnity bond."

Therefore, for the excise tax to apply to an "annuity contract" or "policy of reissuance," it must be issued by a "foreign insurer or reinsurer."

Such is not the case here.

Neither the Internal Revenue Code nor the regulations thereunder nor the judicial taxation field decisions and Internal Revenue Service rulings clearly define the terms "foreign insurer or reinsurer." Consequently, we have looked to the leading treatises on insurance law and state court decisional law for assistance in defining such terms.

We have located no definitive case, ruling, or authoritative commentary that indicates that the excise tax imposed by Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 applies in the Private annuity context.

According to Black's Law Dictionary (5th Edition), insurer is defined as "[T]he underwriter or insurance company with whom a contract of insurance is made. The one who assumes risk or underwrites a policy, or the underwriter or company with whom a contract of insurance is made."

Appleman on Insurance Law and Practice further defines the terms in Section 7001: "[A]n 'insurer' is one who assumes risk or underwrites a policy, or the underwriter or company with whom a contract of insurance is made."

It is thus our opinion that the proper and appropriate use of the term insurer is that it applies to an underwriter or an insurance company or one who assumes risk as that term is defined.

The foreign corporation is clearly not such an insurance company or underwriter. It will not be licensed or authorized to engage in the insurance business. Therefore, it will not meet the generally accepted definition of an insurer or reinsurer unless it is an entity which assumes a risk as an insurer.

An annuity is not a contract or an instrument of insurance risk. Furthermore, the foreign corporation is not issuing the annuity as it is merely assuming the obligation to pay the annuity.

Consequently, the foreign corporation should not be classified as an insurer under the generally accepted meaning of such term.

Thus, it is more likely than not that a foreign insurer or reinsurer referred to in Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372 pertains to an underwriter or insurance company with whom a contract of insurance is made, and the foreign corporation, under the circumstances presented to us, is not such a company or underwriter.

Thompson, on Reinsurance, 4th Edition, page 639, states: "... insurance is a protection against loss or liability.... He pays the insurance company a premium. He becomes insured with this insurance company which is called the direct-writing company. A policy is delivered to him which is his contract with his insurer. The person or company insured by the direct-writing company is referred to in discussions as the insured, the assured, the original insured or the primitive assured. The original or primary insurer is obligated directly to his insured or policyholder".

An entity which assumes a risk as an insurer is an entity which makes, issues, continues, or renews instruments in the nature of an insurance policy or in the nature of an indemnity bond. For example, Couch on Insurance 2d Section 1:2 pp. 6 states: "[T]he primary requisite essential to a contract of insurance is the assumption of a risk of loss and the undertaking to indemnify the insured against such loss." Therefore, it is likely that Internal Revenue Code Sections ~~4371~~ and ~~4372~~ refer to foreign 'insurance' companies that are engaged in the business of assuming risks, issuing instruments in the nature of indemnity bonds, insurance policies and other instruments customarily issued by an insurer.

The foreign corporation is not such an entity and does not engage in foreign insurance transactions and does not issue instruments customarily issued by an insurer. As a consequence, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation is not assuming the risk of an insurer and thus will not be treated as an insurer when it assumes the obligation of the private annuity payments in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability.

Appleman on Insurance Law and Practice Section 81 states: "[A]n annuity is usually defined as being an obligation to pay a stated sum, usually monthly or annually, to a stated recipient, such payments to terminate upon the death of the designated beneficiary." Appleman citing Corporation Comm'n v. Equitable Life Insurance Society of U.S., 239 P.2d 360 (1952) in footnote 1 also states that "[I]nasmuch as annuity contracts do not insure against loss by reason of death of insured, but rather constitute investment of funds to be paid in installments during life of annuitant, annuity contracts are not a 'risk' based on contingency of loss... Since annuities are not policies or contracts of insurance (emphasis added), payments therefor are not generally regarded as premiums even though so called."

Couch on Insurance 2 in Section 1:20 in footnote 15 citing Prudential Insurance Co. v. Howell 29 NJ 116 (1959) finds that "[T]he risks assumed under life insurance policies and under annuity contracts are diametrically opposite inasmuch as life insurance involves the traditional elements of insurance, namely, shifting of risk of loss and distribution of risk of loss over a broad base whereas annuity contracts are basically investments."

Thus, it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation does not fit within the statutory definition of an insurer because it is neither an underwriter nor an insurance company engaged in the trade or business of assuming risks. It is also our opinion that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation is not assuming such a risk when it assumes the private annuity payment obligations in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the value of the annuity liability, and thus is not an insurer under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371.

The legislative history of Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 is consistent with this understanding.

The terms insurer and reinsurer referred to in the Committee Reports for Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 substantiate that our above analysis is consistent with the intended applicable ~~meanings of such terms under Internal Revenue Section 4371.~~

The Committee Reports on Public Law 101-239 and Public Law 100-203 which amended Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372 refer to the term 'risk' in the context of foreign insurance companies effectively connected with the conduct of an insurance business in the United States or in the context of foreign insurance companies issuing policies or instruments in the nature of an indemnity bond.

The Committee Reports do not include other applications of the term insurer other than those applications in the insurance company context. There are several points in the conference agreement in which the Committee Report evidences their concerns regarding the application of the use of the forthcoming Internal Revenue Code Section. The conference agreement in the Conference Committee Report for the Committee Report on Public Law 100-203, states that the agreement shall "provide regulatory authority to address the treatment of foreign insurance company investments in U.S. subsidiaries...Under the conference agreement, foreign source income that is attributable to a U.S. trade or business of a foreign property and casualty insurance company is treated as effectively connected with that trade or business."

The conference agreement indicates the intent and purpose behind Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 was to apply an excise tax to foreign insurance companies engaged in a U.S. trade or business. "Several factors are cited by the Treasury Department in support of this view. First, the provision applies to life insurance companies and property and casualty insurance companies in a manner substantially similar to present law rules covering only life insurance companies...Second, the provision attributes to a foreign insurance company an amount of assets determined by reference to the assets of comparable domestic insurance companies, thus reasonably measuring the amount of assets that the U.S. trade or business of a foreign insurance company would be expected to have were it a separate company dealing independently with non-U.S. offices of the foreign insurance company...The conferees understand that the provision governing foreign insurance companies solves a statutory problem in the context of the broader issue: measuring the U.S. taxable income of a foreign corporation that is effectively connected with its U.S. trade or business."

Under the facts presented to us, the foreign corporation will not be engaging in business as a foreign insurance company and therefore will not be subject to the excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372. The foreign corporation is neither assuming a risk of loss as an insurer nor is it in the business of making, issuing, renewing, or continuing insurance policies or underwriting a policy with whom a contract of insurance is made as a reinsurer. Therefore, it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation does not meet the statutory definition of insurer and will thus not be subject to the excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371.

The involvement of the foreign corporation will be limited to its assumption of the private annuity agreement in exchange for its receiving assets worth the equivalent of the value of the annuity liability. The private annuity agreement will be issued by you, and you are not an insurer engaged in the business of customarily issuing insurance policies or annuities, and you are contractually barred from issuing additional annuities under Section XXIII of the Private Annuity Agreement.

Thus, under the foregoing analysis, the foreign corporation first, is not an insurer as that term has been properly defined and applied according to the statute's legislative history, and second, is not assuming a 'risk' as an insurer as that term is properly interpreted by authorities in the insurance field.

Under Internal Revenue Code Section 4372(a), a foreign insurer is also defined as a nonresident alien individual, a foreign partnership, or foreign corporation which shall become bound by an obligation of the nature of an indemnity bond.

The foreign corporation will not become contractually bound by an obligation in the nature of an indemnity bond.

Appleman on Insurance and Practice Section 7001 states: "[I]ndemnity has been considered an essential element of a contract of insurance, so that a contract which does not possess this element has been held not one of insurance." Appleman further states in Section 7003 that "[A] contract which requires an indemnitor to indemnify the indemnitee for losses with which the indemnitor had no connection and over which it had no control would be a 'contract of insurance'".

The foreign corporation will not be an indemnitor indemnifying you for losses with which it has no connection and over which it has no control. It is our understanding that the foreign corporation is merely assuming an obligation and will not secure you against loss or damage and will not restore to you, in whole or in part, by payment or replacement for any losses incurred.

Thus the foreign corporation will not be indemnifying you.

It is also our understanding that the foreign corporation will not be responsible for any reimbursement to you or will it be a party to the contract between you and the annuitant. Therefore, pursuant to the contract between you and the foreign corporation, the latter will be assuming the obligation of the private annuity payments in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the annuity liability, and will not be issuing assuming, continuing, or renewing an obligation in the nature of an indemnity bond.

Our examination of case law has disclosed a pair of cases which, when read together, clarify the judicial interpretation of the term

"insurance."

These cases have led us to conclude that it would be unlikely that a court would find that the issuance of a private annuity by a corporation that it is not engaged in the issuance of other annuities or insurance policies (and, thus does not actuarially allocate the risk relating to the private annuity agreement to other annuity or insurance contracts) is equivalent to the conduction of business as an "insurer," and that it would be equally unlikely that a court would find that the assumption of the private annuity agreement by a foreign corporation that does not issue other annuities or insurance policies is to be deemed a "reinsurer," as such terms should reasonably be construed under Internal Revenue Code Section 4372(a).

The first case is the case of Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance, 387 So. 2d 548 (1st DCA 1980). In this case, the Florida Department of Insurance had issued a declaratory statement that a plan whereby optometrists agreed to furnish replacement lenses to their patients for an annual fee plus a fixed sum representing the costs of the lenses, was actually an insurance program.

The District Court of Appeal reversed the Florida Department of Insurance on the basis that the program did not involve any assumption of risk, distribution of loss, or payment of premium for assumption of risk. (387 So.2d 548, 550.)

Consequently, because in that case the District Court of Appeal found that the optometrists' plan "...did not involve any assumption of risk, distribution of loss or payment of premium for assumption of risk...", the plan was not subject to the Florida Insurance Statutes, (387 So.2d 548, 550.)

The District Court of Appeal thus held that Professional Lens Plan, Inc. was not providing insurance and was not subject to the Florida Statutes regulation insurance.

In its decision, the court in Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance cited the case of Guaranteed Warranty Corp., Inc. v. ex rel. Humphrey, 23 Ariz. App. 827, 583 P.2d 87 (1975). The Florida court explained that this Arizona case expanded upon the Florida statutory definition of the term "insurance" by indicating that normally there are five (5) elements that are present in an insurance contract.

These five (5) elements are:

- (1) no insurable interest;
- (2) a risk of loss;

- (3) an assumption of the risk by the insurer;
- (4) a general scheme to distribute the loss among the larger group of persons bearing similar risks; and
- (5) the payment of a premium for the assumption of the risk.

The court in Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance stated that a patient may obviously have an "insurable interest" in his or her contact lenses, and there may be a "risk of loss" of such contact lenses; however, the remaining three (3) elements of an insurance contract were not present in that case, according to the court.

The court found that there was no contractual obligation or duty between Professional Lens Plan, Inc. and the patients. The court then stated: "This determination alone would, in our opinion, dispose of the contention that Professional is engaging in a business of 'insurance.'" (387 So.2d 548, 550)

The court held in Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance, 387 So. 2d 548 (1st DCA 1980) that the contract between the optometrist and the patient was not an indemnification contract, but rather was a contract that provided for the purchase of additional or replacement contact lenses.

In our situation neither you nor the foreign corporation are or will be engaged in the insurance business, and neither you nor the foreign corporation will issue or assume additional annuity contracts beyond the one which is the subject of this opinion letter.

Consequently, there is an absence of a "general scheme to distribute the loss among the larger group of persons bearing similar risks."

In our situation there is likewise the absence of "the payment of a premium for the assumption of risk."

Therefore, in our situation the presence of all of the "five (5) key elements that are present in an insurance contract" is lacking, and neither you (the issuer of the private annuity) nor the foreign corporation (the party that will possibly contractually assume the private annuity liability from you) will be engaged in issuing an insurance contract as that term is defined in the common law.

As the court in Professional Lens Plan, Inc. v. Dept. of Insurance, 387 So. 2d 548 (1st DCA 1980) held that the contract between the patient and the optometrist was not an indemnification of contact lenses agreement, but was merely a contract providing for the purchase of additional or replacement contact lenses, so would it be likely for a court in our situation to find that the contract between you and the annuitant was not an indemnification agreement--it was a private annuity agreement, and it would be equally likely in our opinion that a court will find that the contract between you and the foreign corporation is not an insurance agreement, or a reinsurance agreement, or an indemnification agreement--it will be an assumption of private annuity liability agreement without a premium feature being present.

Therefore, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation will not be classified as an insurer for federal excise tax purposes.

It is also our opinion that the foreign corporation is not a foreign reinsurer as that term is properly defined and applied under Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372(a), and therefore will not be subject to an excise tax as a foreign reinsurer under the aforementioned Internal Revenue Code sections.

Much confusion exists regarding the definition of the term reinsurance. The term has been used erroneously and applied indiscriminately in various situations.

According to Appelman on Insurance Law and Practice, Section 7681: "Reinsurance, to an insurance lawyer, means one thing only - the ceding by one insurance company to another of all or a portion of its risks for a stipulated portion of the premium, in which the liability of the reinsurer is solely to the reinsured, and handles all matters prior to and subsequent to loss. The true reinsurer is merely an insurance company or underwriter which deals with other insurance companies as its policyholders..... "

Additionally, Couch on Insurance 2d Section 80:1 states that the reason "[M]uch confusion exists in the law as to the definition of reinsurance [is] because of the failure to distinguish three situations: (1) succession; (2) novation; and (3) additional security for the additional undertaking... The mere fact that there has been a transfer of assets to a successor corporation does not establish that there has been a reinsurance contract or an assumption of liability to the original insureds. "

For example, it is our understanding that the foreign corporation will assume the obligation of payment of only one (1) private annuity transaction in exchange for receiving assets of an equivalent value and is not receiving an additional premium for such transaction. It is also our understanding that there will not be any sharing of risk between you and the foreign corporation as a reinsurer.

The foreign corporation is neither issuing the private annuity nor reinsuring the private annuity on your behalf and therefore is not engaging in transactions as an insurer or reinsurer.

According to Kenneth Thompson, Reinsurance 4th Edition, pp 6 a reinsurance transaction is defined as a "...relationship established between two parties, which is based primarily on contract or understanding whereby one party, called the reinsurer, in consideration of a premium paid the reinsurer, agrees to indemnify under certain terms and conditions, another party, the reassured, against a risk previously assumed by the latter, the direct writer, in its primary insurance covering the original assured." You are issuing the private annuity in exchange for the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability, and will not receive a premium in consideration for assuming a 'risk' as that term has already been properly defined. The foreign corporation is likewise not receiving a premium in consideration for it assuming the obligation to make the annuity payments. Further, no primary insurance exists in your situation.

Thus, the foreign corporation is neither an insurer nor a reinsurer as that term is properly used and referred to in the legislative history for Internal Revenue Code Sections 4371 and 4372.

It is thus our opinion that it is more likely than not that the anticipated transaction between the foreign corporation and you is not a reinsurance transaction as that term has been defined.

It is our understanding that the foreign corporation will not assume your financial responsibilities to the Annuitant for your past conduct. It is our further understanding that the foreign corporation's agreement to assume your obligation to pay private annuity in exchange for assets worth the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability will not be in the nature of a reserve for the annuity, or a premium in the nature of a reinsurance transaction. It is also our understanding that the foreign corporation will not indemnify you for any claims against you and will not assume a risk if you should become insolvent.

While we believe that it is more likely than not that the foreign corporation will not be subject to a one (1) percent excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371, we wish to make you aware of Revenue Ruling 80-95 in which a foreign insurer was subject to the excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 4371 under an arrangement between the foreign corporation and a U.S. corporation that was characterized as being similar to one of reinsurance.

The facts of this Revenue Ruling are as follows: A domestic corporation which maintained disability plans for its U.S. citizens or resident employees and former employees entered into a contract with a foreign insurer which was neither doing business nor authorized to do business in the U.S. In return for an actuarially computed annual payment, the insurer, which was not a party to the plans, indemnified the corporation for all required payment plans. The insurer incurred no liability to the employees and was neither responsible for plan performance failures nor for the application or disposition of money paid to the corporation under the contract. The insurer had the right to audit claims against the plans and to protest what it felt were improper payments. Under these facts, the foreign insurance company was determined by the Internal Revenue Service to be subject to the excise tax imposed on foreign insurance engaged on the reinsurance of United States risks.

Under the facts presented in Revenue Ruling 80-95, the foreign corporation was obliged to indemnify the domestic corporation for losses sustained by the domestic corporation under the disability plans; thus the risk assumed by the foreign corporation under the contract was the same as the risk borne by domestic corporation under the disability plans. The fact that the domestic corporation had passed its risk to the foreign corporation did not change the nature of the risk. The arrangement was similar to one of reinsurance in which the primary insurer transferred some or all of the risk it had assumed to a second insurance company.

It is our opinion that the facts in your situation are substantially different from the facts described in Revenue Ruling 80-95, and your transaction would thus not be recharacterized as reinsurance. In your situation, it is our understanding that there will be no sharing of risk, no payment of a premium in consideration for the assumption of the obligation for the payments of an annuity, and no element of control retained by the you with respect to premium payments, auditing claims, or indemnification guarantees. Thus, the proposed factual situation materially differs in your situation from the facts and circumstances set forth in Revenue ruling 80-95.

It is our understanding that the contract between the you and the foreign corporation is a transaction at arm's length under which the foreign corporation will agree to assume the obligation to pay the private annuity in exchange for the receipt of offsetting assets worth the equivalent of the present value of the annuity liability.

As a transaction at arm's length in which a private annuity is exchanged for assets of an equivalent value of the annuity's estimated liability is not of the type of anticipated obligation of the nature of an indemnity bond or the type of transaction carried on by an insurer or reinsurer as contemplated under Internal Revenue Section 4371 and 4372. It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that if the foreign corporation is involved in an arm's length transaction with you to pay a private annuity in exchange for the receipt of assets of equivalent value to the annuity liability, and the foreign corporation is not engaging in ~~insuring or reinsuring property, and is not bound by any obligation~~ to you in the nature of an indemnity bond then there will not be an excise imposed on such a transaction.

The date of such satisfaction and such adoption and approval by the stockholders is hereinafter called the "Effective Date."

2. Payment of Obligations. As promptly as is practicable after the Effective Date, the Corporation shall pay or make adequate provision for the payment of all known obligations of or claims against the Corporation, including, but not limited to, contingent, conditional or unmatured claims. In furtherance of the foregoing, the Corporation's officers are authorized, empowered, and directed to pay or provide for the payment of such obligations and claims and to establish a reserve in a reasonable amount to meet the Corporation's known liabilities, obligations, liquidating expenses, and, if the Corporation's officers deem advisable, estimated or contingent liabilities, obligations and expenses. Every distribution pursuant to this Section 3 shall be in full and complete cancellation of the recipient stockholder's shares of stock in the Corporation and shall be received by such stockholders subject to the Corporation's remaining liabilities.

4. Termination of Business. From and after the Effective Date, the Corporation shall not engage in any business activity except for operations and activities related to maintaining and preserving its assets pending the distribution of its assets to its stockholders, terminating and winding-up its affairs in an orderly manner, and withdrawing from the states or other

b. TAT agrees that in due course, not to exceed forty-five (45) days, TAT will procure the transfer of the legal registration and title in and to the portion of the Non-statutory options being sold and transferred hereunder to the Obligor on the books and records of the issuing corporation. The parties agree that in the interim the Non-statutory options being sold and transferred hereunder may remain registered in the name of TAT on the books and records of the issuing corporation provided that title and registration in and to such Non-statutory options shall be held for the exclusive benefit and use of the Obligor pursuant to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement.

SECTION II: Annuity Payments.

2.1 Agreement as to Value.

a. The parties hereto hereby stipulate and agree that as of the effective date of this Agreement the total fair market value of the Non-statutory options set forth in Schedule A, which Non-statutory options are being transferred hereunder in exchange for the issuance of a private Annuity, is FIVE MILLION FOUR HUNDRED FIFTY-ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED UNITED STATES DOLLARS (U.S. $5,451,900.00), and that the value of the Annuity being issued hereunder is specifically and expressly predicated and calculated upon such total value.

2.2 Birth Date of the Individual on whose Life the Annuity is based.

The parties hereby acknowledge and agree that the date of birth of Sam Wyly is October 4, 1934.

2.3 Calculation of Value of the Annuity.

The parties hereby mutually acknowledge that the valuation of the Annuity hereunder shall be calculated pursuant to the United States of America Internal Revenue Service valuation tables promulgated pursuant to United States Internal Revenue Code Section 7520 as set forth in Revenue Regulations Section 1.7520-1, specifically using the actuarial tables for measuring the interest and the mortality components of the life expectancy of the individual on whose life the Annuity is based in Alpha volume Tables H & S based on LIFE TABLE 80CNSMT applicable after April 30, 1989, using, compounded on an annual basis, an interest rate of SIX AND EIGHT TENTHS PERCENT (6.8%) pursuant to Revenue Ruling 96-14 (IRB 1996-6 Table 5), by using One Hundred Twenty percent (120%) of the Applicable Mid-Term Federal Rates for February, 1996, the calendar month of the effective date of this Agreement, which is equal to SIX AND SEVENTY-FIVE ONE HUNDREDTHS PERCENT (6.75%) pursuant to Revenue Ruling 96-14 (IRB 1996-6 Table 1), and then rounding such interest rate to the nearest Two-Tenths of One Percent (0.2%), which equals SIX AND EIGHT TENTHS percent (6.8%), which coincides with the applicable federal rate set forth in Revenue Ruling 96-14 (IRB 1996-6, Table 5), pertaining to the applicable federal rate for determining the present value of an Annuity. Consequently, the stipulated fair market value of the Non-statutory options shall be accumulated from the date of this agreement using the interest and mortality factors contained in Table H using an interest rate of SIX AND EIGHT TENTHS PERCENT (6.8%). Specifically, said Accumulated Value shall be equal to the Dx factor applicable to the age of the individual on whose life the Annuity is based on such individual's nearest birthday as of the effective date of this agreement divided by the Dx factor applicable to the age of such individual on such individual's nearest birthday as of the date the annuity is to commence and multiplied by the stipulated fair market value of the Non-statutory options. The Annuity amount, therefore, shall be calculated as the Accumulated Value divided by the Annuity factor contained in Table S using an interest rate of SIX AND EIGHT TENTHS PERCENT (6.8%), and the applicable age of the individual on whose life the Annuity is based on such individual's nearest birthday as of the date the annuity is to commence.

2.4 The Annuity is a Deferred Annuity.

a. The parties hereby mutually acknowledge and agree that the Annuity being issued hereunder is specifically intended to constitute a deferred Annuity to ensure that TAT is assured of the receipt of a fixed amount of funds in the future. Consequently, the parties hereto hereby agree to defer the commencement of the Annuity payments hereunder until October 4, 2002, being the sixty-eighth (68th) birthday of Sam Wyly, the individual on whose life the Annuity is based.

b. To provide TAT for TAT's benefit with the equivalent value of such deferral, the Obligor hereby specifically agrees to pay TAT for TAT's benefit an additional interest factor of SIX AND EIGHT TENTHS PERCENT (6.8%) per annum on any Annuity payments paid to TAT to compensate for the deferral period, with such additional interest factor period to commence as of the effective date of this Annuity Agreement, and to terminate as of the date on which the first Annuity payment is actually paid to TAT.

c. The parties hereby mutually acknowledge and agree that absolutely no gift is intended to be made hereunder, and that the value of the Annuity is intended to equal the value of the interest of TAT in the Non-statutory options being transferred in exchange therefor. The parties agree that the actual Annuity payment calculations shall be made to comply with this intent. In the event it becomes necessary to retain the services of a qualified actuarial consultant to prepare the computation and calculation of the Annuity payments consistent with this intent and the applicable United States tax law governing the valuation of annuities and Annuity payments that are being made for full value free from any gift or donative element, the parties hereby agree to do so.

2.5 Termination of the Annuity.

a. The Annuity payments payable hereunder to TAT are subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture to TAT in that such Annuity payments shall terminate and lapse with the last payment immediately preceding the death of SAM WYLY, the individual upon whose life the Annuity is based, or upon the death of SAM WYLY if no payments have been made as of the death of SAM WYLY; however, notwithstanding the foregoing, any Annuity payments that were not made prior to the death of SAM WYLY because of a breach of this Agreement by the Obligor shall be due and payable upon the death of SAM WYLY together with any applicable interest, late charges, or other payments due hereunder, and any such payments shall be made payable to TAT. There will be no proration of payments at the time of the death of SAM WYLY or at anytime thereafter.

b. Consequently, the Annuity payments payable hereunder shall be payable on an annual basis commencing on the sixty-eighth (68th) birthday of SAM WYLY, and terminating with the last payment immediately preceding the death of SAM WYLY, or upon the death of SAM WYLY if no payments have been made as of the death of the SAM WYLY.

2.6 No Survivorship Provisions.

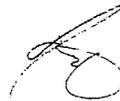

The parties hereby expressly agree that the Annuity payment obligations of the Obligor hereunder shall terminate and lapse as expressed in Section 2.5, above, and neither TAT nor any beneficiary of TAT, nor any successor-in-interest, assignee, or Trustee of TAT, nor any assignee of any beneficial interest in TAT, nor any heir, legatee, creditor of TAT, nor any heir, legatee, or creditor of any beneficiary of TAT, shall have any rights whatsoever under this Agreement except as is expressly expressed in Section 2.5, above. The parties hereby expressly agree that the Annuity provided for herein shall contain no survivorship provision whatsoever except as is expressly expressed in Section 2.5, above.

2.7 Penalties for Late Payment.

The parties hereby expressly agree that all payments due hereunder are to be promptly paid when and if such payments become due and payable. If any payment is made later than twenty (20) days after such payment is due and payable, it shall carry a penalty assessment of SIX AND EIGHT TENTHS PERCENT (6.8%) of the amount due that is in arrears.

2.8 Usury Laws.

The parties do not intend to violate any usury law or any other legal requirement. In the event that this Agreement is found to violate any applicable usury law, the parties agree that the interest charge shall be reduced to the maximum rate of interest permitted by the law that is applicable to this Agreement. In the event that a reduction in the applicable interest rate occurs pursuant to this provision, and such reduction produces an effective interest rate which imposes a gift element into the Annuity transaction, then in such case the parties shall thereupon be entitled to re-examine this Agreement and the transactions hereunder and may either rescind this Agreement and the transactions hereunder ab initio, or cancel this Agreement and the transactions hereunder, or continue this Agreement and the transactions hereunder under whatever terms and conditions the parties may agree between themselves.

SECTION III: Absence of Security, Guarantees, or Collateral.3.1 No Security Interest with respect to the Non-statutory options.

The parties hereby expressly agree that TAT shall not retain any lien, pledge, or security interest in or with respect to the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder. The parties hereby agree that there is and shall be no security or collateral for the payment of the Annuity hereunder. The parties further agree that the Obligor will not establish any security or any fund or other specific chargeable source for the payment of the purchase price (being the Annuity) hereunder. TAT is aware of the economic risks generated by this situation, and acknowledges that it has deliberately assumed this risk because of the unwillingness of the Obligor to offer any security, guarantees, or collateral hereunder.

SECTION IV: Surrender of Dominion and Control over the Non-statutory options.4.1 Surrender of Interest in the Non-statutory options by TAT.

Upon the execution of this Agreement, TAT hereby agrees to surrender any and all ownership incidents and property interests, rights and title in and to the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder together with the right to exercise dominion and control over such Non-statutory options. Additionally upon execution of this Agreement TAT agrees to surrender the right to exercise voting power with respect to the Non-statutory options being sold and transferred hereunder.

SECTION V: Commingling Permitted.

5.1 Commingling permitted.

The parties hereby acknowledge and agree that the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder may be commingled with any and all other Non-statutory options and other assets that are, or may in the future be owned by the Obligor. The parties further agree that the Obligor shall have the right to exercise full dominion and control over, and possess ownership incidents in and to the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder subject to any liabilities, obligations, duties, or other claims mentioned herein.

SECTION VI: Annuity Payments are Not Contingent upon Earnings from the Non-statutory options being transferred hereunder.

6.1 Annuity Payments Not Contingent upon Earnings.

The parties hereby acknowledge and agree that the Obligor shall be absolutely liable for the Annuity payments due hereunder, and that such Annuity payments are in no way or manner contingent upon the past, present or future profits, gains, or earnings of the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder, and are not chargeable to such Non-statutory options. The parties expressly acknowledge and agree that the amount of the Annuity payments has been determined as a result of the valuation of TAT's interest in the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder as of the effective date of this Agreement as expressed in greater detail in Sections 2.1 and 2.3.

7.1 Warranties.

TAT hereby warrants that the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder are not subject to any liabilities, claims, encumbrances, or liens to which the Obligor is responsible for the payment thereof. The parties hereby agree that the responsibility for the payment of any such liabilities, claims, encumbrances, or liens that pertain to the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder shall belong to TAT and the Obligor shall not be liable therefor. The parties further agree that after the effective date of this Agreement any future liabilities, claims, encumbrances, or liens that pertain to the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder shall be exclusively that of the Obligor and TAT shall not be responsible therefor.

SECTION VIII: Indemnification.8.1 Indemnities.

TAT hereby agrees to indemnify and hold the Obligor and the Non-statutory options being sold and transferred in exchange for the Annuity being issued hereunder harmless and free from any ~~liability arising because of the breach of any contract or other matter relating to the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder, provided such breach occurred or is alleged to have occurred prior to the effective date of this Agreement.~~

SECTION IX: Prorations.9.1 Prorations.

The parties hereby agree to prorate any and all income, expense, gain, loss, or other financial consequence or other obligation connected with the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder, with such proration to be effective as of the effective date of this Agreement.

SECTION X: Full and Adequate Consideration.10.1 Full Consideration.

In executing this Agreement, which consummates the transfer and sale of TAT's interest in the Non-statutory options having a stipulated value of FIVE MILLION FOUR HUNDRED FIFTY-ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED UNITED STATES DOLLARS (U.S. $5,451,900.00), the parties expressly do not intend that any gift be made by any party. The parties expressly agree that it is their joint and mutual intent that TAT receive the full fair market value of the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement. The parties hereby mutually agree that should the Internal Revenue Service or any other applicable taxing authority or a court of competent jurisdiction hold otherwise, the parties expressly reserve the right to either, upon their mutual agreement, rescind this Agreement ab initio or adjust the purchase price and the Annuity and thereby the Annuity payments hereunder to reflect the full fair market value of TAT's interest in the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder as such value is determined by the Internal Revenue Service or other applicable taxing authority or court, as the case may be. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the parties reserve the right to jointly or singly oppose such redetermination of the fair market value. If any adjustment to the Annuity payment for the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder shall occur, such adjustment shall require that the party having been overpaid, or conversely the party having made insufficient payments, shall pay an annual interest charge of SIX AND EIGHT TENTHS PERCENT (6.8%) on any such adjustment, as the case may be. The adjustment, together with the said interest charge, shall be paid within ninety (90) days from the due date of the next scheduled Annuity payment hereunder pursuant to the payment schedule dates calculated as set forth above. Should the parties hereunder choose or agree to rescind this Agreement under this Section:

a. Such rescission shall be based upon the mistake of fact or law with respect to the express intention of the parties as set forth herein; and

b. The parties hereby agree to restore each other, as much as it is reasonably practicable to do so, to their exact position as of the effective date of this Agreement.

The parties mutually acknowledge that this might involve the payment of interest to TAT by the Obligor to compensate TAT for the use by the Obligor of Annuitant's interest in the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder from the effective date of this Agreement to the date on which the rescission becomes effective. The parties further mutually acknowledge that this might involve a calculation and payment to TAT by the Obligor to compensate TAT for the receipt by the Obligor of earnings or privileges pertaining to the ownership of the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder, including but not limited to any stock rights, stock subscription rights, liquidating dividends, stock dividends, cash dividends, and subsequently issued securities. The parties further recognize that it might not be possible to exactly restore the parties to their original position should a rescission take place hereunder. Should this occur, the parties hereby agree that they will strive to agree to a fair, just, and reasonable approach to such restoration. Should the parties be unable to agree to such an approach, the parties hereby agree to submit the resolution of the matter to arbitration pursuant to the procedure set forth in Section XIII of this Agreement.

SECTION XI: The Physical and Mental Condition of Sam Wyly on whose life the Annuity is based.

11.1 Condition of Sam Wyly, the individual on whose life the Annuity is based.

TAT hereby warrants to the Obligor that Sam Wyly is of average or better physical and mental condition for individuals in the United States of America of the age and gender as Sam Wyly. The parties have taken this warranty into account in determining the possible consequences that might arise with respect to the anticipated actual life expectancy of Sam Wyly.

SECTION XII: Beneficial Owner of the Annuity.

12.1 TAT is a Grantor Trust for United States Income Tax Purposes.

TAT hereby warrants that it is presently a grantor trust for United States income tax purposes.

12.2 The Annuity is treated as being held by a natural person.

~~Because TAT is a grantor trust for United States income tax purposes under which Sam Wyly is treated as the grantor and owner of the corpus and income of the trust, and Sam Wyly is the individual on whose life the Annuity is based, the parties hereby expressly agree that the private annuity will be treated as being held by TAT as an agent for Sam Wyly, a natural person.~~

SECTION XIII: Notices.

a. The parties hereby mutually agree that any and all notices or other communications required or permitted by this Agreement or by law to be served on or given to either party hereto by the other party hereto shall be in writing and shall be deemed to be duly served and given when personally delivered to the party to whom it is directed, or in lieu of such personal service seven (7) days after it is duly mailed to the party to whom it is directed, addressed to the party at the address of such party.

Each Arbitrator so selected hereunder shall participate in the arbitration proceeding and shall have one (1) vote each. The parties hereby agree that judgment upon any award or determination by the arbitration proceeding may be entered in any court that has jurisdiction thereof.~~

The parties agree that should any arbitration or litigation be commenced between the parties hereto concerning this Agreement, the Non-statutory options being transferred and sold hereunder, or the rights and duties of the parties hereunder, the party who prevails in such arbitration or litigation, upon final determination thereof, shall be entitled, in addition to such other relief that may be granted, to a reasonable sum as and for attorney's fees, cost and disbursements. The amount of such attorney's fees, costs and disbursements shall, if permissible, be determined by the arbitration proceeding or the judicial proceeding, as the case may be; or if impermissible then the amount of such attorney's fees, costs and disbursements shall be determined in a separate judicial action that may be brought for the specific purpose of determining the amount of such attorney's fees, costs and disbursements that is reasonable and permissible hereunder.

17.1 Non-assignability.

The parties hereby agree that neither this Agreement nor any interest herein shall be either assignable or transferable or capable of being pledged or otherwise encumbered by TAT unless the prior written consent of the Obligor is first obtained. Such consent may be withheld for any reason, and such consent may be unreasonably withheld. The Obligor may freely invest, encumber, assign, sell, set over, and/or transfer its interest in the Non-statutory options being transferred hereunder, and/or the proceeds therefrom without obtaining the consent of TAT.

SECTION XVIII: Annuity Agreement.

18.1 Private Annuity Agreement.

The parties hereby agree that this Agreement is intended to constitute and does constitute a private annuity agreement, and the parties specifically do not intend that this Agreement constitutes a partnership agreement, joint venture agreement, or any other type of contractual arrangement other than a private annuity agreement.

SECTION XIX: Entire Agreement.

19.1 Entire Agreement.

Dear The Tallulah International Trust:

You have requested the law firm of Chatzky and Associates, A Law Corporation to review and comment on the proposed sale of compensatory "Nonqualified Options" herein defined and identified in Schedule A, in exchange for a private annuity, with such sale to occur during the 1996 taxable year for United States income tax purposes and United States income withholding tax purposes.

Before we provide you with our analysis of these issues we wish to make you aware that this memorandum is merely an expression of our learned views with respect to these issues. Our opinion does not command any legal authority and may be rejected by a government official, agency, private party, or anyone else. Thus, this memorandum has no binding authority or official status of any kind, type, or character. We cannot assure you or anyone else that the opinions and conclusions contained in this opinion letter will be sustained by the Internal Revenue Service, any court of law, or anyone else. Our opinions represent our views on these issues, but they do not represent our guarantee that they will be followed or accepted by anyone else, and we expressly disclaim any responsibility or liability in the event our views are not followed or accepted.

In addition, this memorandum does not cover or address any issues not expressly covered herein. This memorandum is strictly limited to our interpretation of the United States federal income tax consequences that are likely to arise as a result of the proposed transaction described hereinbelow.

CONFIDENTIAL

This memorandum is based on the status of the pertinent United States tax laws as of the date in which this memorandum is written. The tax law changes very rapidly, and should there be any change in the applicable law or the facts and circumstances relating to the events described herein, the opinions expressed herein would necessarily require a reevaluation in the light of such changes. Additionally, pending legislation presently exists that if enacted might impact the proposed transaction and the tax consequences pertaining thereto.

There is no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service or anyone else will not raise issues that have not been addressed herein.

For the sake of brevity, our discussion of the applicable legal principles will omit certain cases and other authorities that may apply to the facts and circumstances of these matters. We will take them into account in issuing this opinion, however.

In the event there is any change in the tax principles or laws applicable to our opinions herein, we specifically disclaim any undertaking or obligation to advise you or anyone else of any such changes that may hereafter occur.

Our opinions are based on the correctness of the facts and circumstances set forth herein, and our understanding that the factual scenario set forth hereinbelow is complete, accurate, true, and correct.

The Internal Revenue Service, other government agencies, and courts each possess the ability to challenge the legitimacy and reality of an entity or a transaction and can claim that an entity or a transaction are something other than what the parties intended them to be. Government authorities can recharacterize a transaction into something other than what the parties intended.

There are numerous instances when the Internal Revenue Service, judges or juries are in error. They are not infallible. They can thus misread or misapply the legal principles involved in the case, leading to a tax result or other legal consequence that may be contrary to what the taxpayer anticipated, and leading to a tax result or other legal consequence that may be wrong.

The Internal Revenue Service, other governmental agencies, and the courts generally examine the substance and business purpose and economic reality behind a transaction in a very careful manner to determine if the transaction is genuine and is to be granted recognition in the form presented for tax purposes.

Consequently, we need to caution you that the Internal Revenue Service, other governmental agencies, or a court might view the transactions that are the subject of this memorandum in a manner differently than either you or I would view them. Nonetheless, it is our opinion that the anticipated United States taxation consequences that are applicable to the anticipated transaction will be as indicated herein.

Our analysis does not address United States, state, municipal or foreign income taxes, inheritance taxes, gift taxes, estate taxes, property taxes, sales taxes, use taxes, bulk transfer tax, transfer tax, excise tax or any other taxes or duties of any kind, type, or character other than the United States federal income tax consequences and income withholding tax purposes described hereinbelow.

You should be aware that the Internal Revenue Service can charge interest on tax deficiencies and can impose numerous penalties if it disagrees with the tax treatment of the reported transactions.

It is our view based on the information presented to us as expressed herein that it is more likely than not that the anticipated federal United States tax treatment relating to the matters discussed herein will be as we opine herein.

Factual Foundation.

1. Sam Wyly is a United States citizen and resident who resides in the State of Texas.
2. Sam Wyly is a director of Michaels Stores, Inc., a Delaware corporation, and might also be considered to be an employee for legal and income tax purposes.
3. Pursuant to a Non-Statutory Stock Option Plan Michaels Stores, Inc. has provided Sam Wyly, other employees, and key advisors with a proprietary interest in its Company through the granting of "non-statutory stock options" which upon exercise permits the option holder to purchase shares of Company's authorized Common Stock.
4. Sam Wyly transferred these options to The Tallulah International Trust, a foreign situs grantor trust that is recognized as a "grantor trust" for United States income tax purposes.
5. You anticipate that The Tallulah International Trust will transfer the non-statutory options to an underlying foreign corporation that is wholly owned by a foreign situs non-grantor trust.
6. It is anticipated that the wholly owned underlying foreign corporation of a foreign non-grantor trust will issue a private annuity to The Tallulah International Trust in exchange for the receipt of non-statutory options of an equivalent value.

7. It is our understanding that it is the express intent of the parties to the transaction that the value of the non-statutory options will equal the value of the private annuity and that no gift or bargain sale or discounted sale price will arise as a result of the transaction. Further, it is our understanding that the private annuity is intended to be issued in an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the non-statutory options that are being sold in exchange for the private annuity. Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" are intended to be made by you with respect to this private annuity transaction.

8. It is anticipated that the private annuity payments will not be secured by, chargeable to, or dependent upon the non-statutory options sold in exchange for the annuity. The amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the non-statutory options at the time of the effective date of the Annuity Agreement.

9. We understand that the private annuity is intended to be unsecured. There are to be no security interests, guarantees, specific funds, or other forms of collateral or assurances that the private annuity payments will be made by the corporation other than the mere unsecured contractual promise of such corporation that it will make the annuity payments as they become due under the terms of the annuity agreement.

10. We further understand that the private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the non-statutory options transferred by The Tallulah International Trust in exchange for the annuity. Any income generated by the non-statutory options will belong to the foreign corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments.

11. We understand that the amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the non-statutory options being exchanged for the private annuity at the time of the effective date of the Annuity Agreement and will not be based on any income generated by the non-statutory options that are being transferred for the private annuity.

12. We also understand that upon the consummation of the Annuity Agreement the possession and/or enjoyment of the non-statutory options being exchanged for the private annuity will reside exclusively with the acquiring foreign corporation, and The Tallulah International Trust will not preserve or reserve any control of any kind or character over such non-statutory options or any income therefrom that would constitute a retained interest in the possession and/or enjoyment of the non-statutory options being exchanged for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that The Tallulah International Trust will irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the non-statutory options which are sold in exchange for the private annuity.

13. It is our understanding that the private annuity payments will contain an interest factor in the amount stipulated by the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling that applies for the month in which the annuity agreement is entered into.

14. We understand that the corporation issuing the private annuity is not in the business of issuing annuities from time to time, and it will not issue any additional annuities during the term of its private annuity agreement with The Tallulah International Trust.

15. We further understand that the corporation issuing the private annuity is not a life insurance company or a bank and is not authorized to conduct either the banking business or the life insurance company business and does not intend to obtain such authorization.

16. We have been advised that there are no outstanding encumbrances on the non-statutory options, and consequently we do not express any opinion that relates to this issue.

17. You have advised us that the non-statutory options, which are the subject matter of this letter, are not actively traded on an established market.

18. You have further informed us that the non-statutory stock options are compensatory in nature and were issued to Sam Wyly as part of a stock option plan to compensate key advisors of Michael Stores, Inc.

II. Opinion and analysis of the anticipated 1996 federal income tax consequences that are likely to apply to the proposed sale during the 1996 taxable year of non-statutory options to a foreign corporation in exchange for a private annuity under the circumstances described herein:

A. Pursuant to the general federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity the sale of non-statutory options to a foreign corporation in exchange for The Tallulah International Trust's receipt of a deferred private annuity of equivalent value is not a taxable event in the year 1996.

A private annuity transaction typically involves the transfer of appreciated property from an individual to a family member or a controlled corporation in exchange for a promise to pay a series of equal payments over the annuitant's lifetime.¹ The promise to pay by a family member or corporation that is not in the business of issuing annuities has no ascertainable value, so no gain is currently recognized on the transfer.² Gain is recognized over the lifetime of the taxpayer, which is the term of the annuity. Generally, a portion of each annuity payment represents tax-free recovery of the annuitant's investment contract, a portion represents gain on the transfer, and the balance is ordinary income.³

The general federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity is explained in Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-5256 as follows:

"The transfer of property in exchange for an unsecured private annuity is not a taxable transaction. Thus, a taxpayer who turns his property over to a member of his family or other private individual, or to his own corporation, which is not a life insurance company or a bank or an organization which issues annuities from time to time, in exchange for payments for life, has no immediate taxable gain... Although gain is not taxed immediately, the amount of gain must be reported ratably over the period of the annuitant's life expectancy, but only from that portion of the annual proceeds which is includible in income under the annuity rules."⁴ See paragraph J-5256, emphasis is in the original text.

"The actual transfer isn't taxable because the promise to make the lifetime payments is considered to have no determinable value. It makes no difference if the obligor under the private annuity arrangement (i.e., the transferee) is financially sound at the time of the transfer since that 'private' transferee is not in the business of granting annuities, his solvency is not subject to the supervision and restrictions of insurance companies and banks, and may change over the payment period."⁵

A foreign situs United States grantor trust (The Tallulah International Trust) will be transferring non-statutory options to a foreign corporation wholly owned by a foreign non-grantor trust in exchange for the underlying foreign corporation's issuance of a private annuity of an equivalent value. The foreign corporation is not in the business of issuing annuities from time to time, and will not issue any additional annuities during the term of its private annuity agreement with The Tallulah International Trust, and the private annuity will be unsecured. The foreign corporation issuing the private annuity is not a life insurance company or a bank and is not authorized to conduct either the banking business or the life insurance company business and does not intend to obtain such authorization. Under these circumstances, it is our opinion that the annuity will more likely than not be taxable as a private annuity in accordance with the aforescribed federal income tax consequences, as opposed to its being taxable as a commercial annuity or otherwise.

B. The private annuity is not intended to contain a gift or bargain sale element, and the exchange of non-statutory options for a private annuity of equivalent actuarial value is likely to be excluded from federal gift tax.

The private annuity is intended to be issued in an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the non-statutory options that are being sold in exchange for the private annuity. Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" are intended to be made by either you or the corporation with respect to this private annuity transaction.

Research Institute of America Estate Planning & Taxation Coordinator describes private annuity gift and estate taxation implications as follows at Paragraph 26,122:

"The transfer will not be subject to gift tax as long as the value of the annuity equals or exceeds the value of the property transferred. The entire value of the transferred property is excluded from the annuitant's gross estate. If the arrangement is properly structured, the value of the transferred property will not be brought back into the estate. In addition, the estate administration costs concerning the transferred property are eliminated. Also the annuitant will not be subject to transfer tax on any post-transfer appreciation in the value of the property. If the annuitant dies before his tabular life expectancy, the property will have been transferred to the obligor for less than its true value. While this may be a disadvantage in a deal with an unrelated party, the annuitant of a private annuity will presumably be pleased to have passed property to a loved one free of transfer tax and for low consideration."

Warnick, 805 T.M., Private Annuities, at page A-27 states:

"...[T]he proper method for deciding whether there is a gift is to compare the fair market value of the property with the present value of the annuity" under the estate and gift tax rules.⁶

The Tax Court firmly rejected the Internal Revenue Service's approach in favor of the taxpayer.

In response, the Internal Revenue Service issued regulations, and in Gift Tax Regulation §25.7520-3(b)(2) the Internal Revenue Service states that it will not allow the use of the standard §7520 tables if the fund from which an annuity is to be paid may be exhausted before the end of the defined period of the annuity (which, under the actuarial assumptions of the Internal Revenue Code §7520 tables is age 110 for a life interest).

We caution you that if the foreign corporation that issues the annuity hereunder were to comply with these regulations, there is a serious risk that the annuity might be determined to be "guaranteed" throughout the annuitant's extreme life expectancy, thereby making the annuity an immediately taxable annuity for United States income tax purposes! In furtherance of this position the Tax

It is our understanding that the fair market value of the non-statutory options will equal the present value of the private annuity, and that a qualified actuary will be retained to calculate and verify this.

Warnick, 805 T.M., Private Annuities, at page A-28 further states that "[t]he simple fact that the value of the property exceeds the value of the annuity should not automatically mean that there has been a taxable gift. Before a finding of a taxable gift, there must be some evidence of the transferor's intent to make a gift."⁷

Additionally, the annuity payments that the foreign grantor trust receives must contain an interest factor in the amount stipulated by the Internal Revenue Service Revenue Ruling that applies for the month in which the annuity agreement is effectuated.

This is very important because the Internal Revenue Service can take the position that the present value of the annuity is less than the present value of the non-statutory options sold in exchange for the annuity if the annuity does not contain an adequate interest rate factor to compensate for the time delay to The Tallulah International Trust in receiving its consideration for the sale and exchange of the non-statutory options.⁸ For example, see Warnick, 805 T.M., Private Annuities at page A-35 discussing the United States Tax Court decision in LaFargue v. Commissioner, 73 T.C. 40 (1979), which was affirmed in part and reversed in part by the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit in 689 F.2d 845 (9th Cir. 1982), in which the Tax Court found that the annuity transaction was not taxable as a private annuity for among other reasons:

"...(T)he transaction was not based on the actuarial tables and did not include an interest factor, and there was a large gap between the present value and the fair market value of the annuity. ..."

Court stated in Shapiro Est. v. Comm., T.C. Memo 1993-483, that "[t]he IRS argues that unless the annuity is "guaranteed" throughout an annuitant's extreme life expectancy...the computation of the annuity's present value must be made on a case by case basis using a special actuarial factor supplied by the Internal Revenue Service." This income tax issue has not yet been litigated. Thus, the avoidance of a gift tax through a complete compliance with the regulations might generate an immediate income tax. Conversely, the avoidance of the income tax issue by "underfunding" the corporation to avoid deeming the annuity to be effectively "guaranteed" throughout the annuitant's extreme life expectancy of the human life span of 110 years might generate a gift tax if the new Gift Tax Regulation is upheld. Furthermore, Income Tax Regulation §1.7520-3(b)(2)(i) similarly prohibits the use of a standard 7520 annuity factor if the annuity is expected to exhaust the fund before the last possible annuity payment is made in full assuming that the annuitant (Sam Wyly) will survive until the age of 110 years. The Internal Revenue Service has also promulgated new Estate Tax Regulations which are consistent with the Gift Tax Regulations and Income Tax Regulations cited above. (For example, Estate Tax Regulation §20.7520-3(b)(2)(i) requires the fund to be able to pay all annuity payments in full under the assumption that Sam Wyly, the annuitant, will survive until the age of 110 years. It is at least arguable that these new Income Tax Regulations, Gift Tax Regulations, and/or Estate Tax Regulations will be held to be invalid in accord with the reasoning of the United States Tax Court in Shapiro Est. v. Comm., T.C. Memo 1993-483. Because the The Tallulah International Trust will not retain any mortgage, lien, pledge, or security interest in or with respect to the non-statutory options designated in Schedule "A", and there is and shall be no security or collateral for the payment of the Annuity hereunder, and the Obligor corporation will not establish any security or any fund or other specific chargeable source for the payment of the purchase price (being the Annuity) hereunder it is questionable whether that the Internal Revenue Service would be successful in an attack that the Annuity is a "guaranteed" Annuity.

⁷ In Beattie v. Comm., 159 F.2d 788 (6th Cir. 1947) the court held there was no gift, despite evidence that the annuity was worth only 30% of the value of the property, because there was no evidence of the transferor's intent to make a gift. (However, in Beattie the transferee was an educational institution, not a member of the transferor's family.) As a practical matter it would be difficult to show the absence of donative intent when the transferee is "related to" the transferor.

Although the United States Court of Appeals for the 9th Circuit reversed the Tax Court's holding that the transaction did not involve a private annuity, it is important that the annuity contain an adequate interest factor to account for the time value of money.

In your situation it is clearly the intent of the parties that the price of the annuity is to be equal to the value of the non-statutory options being exchanged for the annuity, and no gift or other valuation benefit in excess of such value is intended to be received by either party to the agreement. It is thus our opinion that it is more likely than not that no gift tax will be imposed on your disposition of the non-statutory options in exchange for the grantor trust's receipt of a private annuity of an equivalent value, provided the actuarial value of the non-statutory options being transferred in exchange for the receipt of the private annuity are of an equivalent actuarial value.

You have further advised us that the foreign corporation that is issuing the private annuity will be adequately capitalized to fully comply with Gift Tax Regulation §25.7520-3(b)(2), Estate Tax Regulation §20.7520-3(b)(2), and Income Tax Regulation §1.7520-3(b)(2)(i), which should enable the corporation to fund the annuity through Sam Wyly's human life span as defined in such regulations, thus avoiding a gift tax assessment that otherwise might be asserted had these regulations been violated.

C. The annuity payments must be unsecured to avoid immediate taxation of The Tallulah International Trust in 1996 with respect to the disposition of the non-statutory options in exchange for an annuity of an equivalent value.

The United States Tax Court has held that the private annuity income tax rules apply only to private annuities that are unsecured. If the annuity payments are secured the annuity will be taxable as if it were a commercial annuity rather than a private annuity. (See Estate of Lloyd Bell, (1973) 60 TC 469 and 212 Corp., (1978) 70 TC 788.)

For example, the Tax Court in Bell held that the property transferred in exchange for the private annuity was secured because such property was placed in escrow as security for the annuity payments, and the annuity agreement also provided for a "cognovit" judgment against the parties issuing the annuity in the event they defaulted in making their annuity payments. Consequently, the Tax Court applied the rules pertaining to commercial annuities to the transaction and held that the taxpayers had an immediately taxable gain when they exchanged their appreciated stock in exchange for the secured private annuity.

It is our understanding that the private annuity being issued to The Tallulah International Trust is intended to be unsecured. There are to be no security interests, guarantees, specific funds, or other forms of collateral or assurances that the private annuity payments will be made by the corporation other than the mere unsecured contractual promise of such corporation that it will make the annuity payments as they become due and payable under the terms of the annuity agreement.

In addition, the private annuity payments will not be chargeable to or dependent upon the non-statutory options transferred by you in exchange for the annuity. The options and any proceeds and/or income generated by the options will belong to the corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments. The amount of the annuity payments will be based on the fair market value of the non-statutory options being exchanged for the annuity as of the date of the Annuity Agreement, and will not be based on the income generated by the non-statutory options being exchanged for the annuity.

Furthermore, the possession and/or enjoyment of the non-statutory options being sold in exchange for the private annuity will reside exclusively with the corporation, and you will not preserve or reserve any control of any kind or character over such non-statutory options and the income therefrom that would constitute a retained interest in the possession or enjoyment of the non-statutory options being sold in exchange for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that you will irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the non-statutory options which are being sold in exchange for the private annuity.

Consequently, provided that the private annuity payments will be unsecured and will always remain unsecured it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the private annuity will not be taxable as a secured annuity which is taxable as a commercial annuity.⁹

D. It is more likely than not that the original issue discount tax treatment of debt instruments (that could impose a tax on the annuity prior to the receipt of the annuity payments) will not apply to the contemplated annuity transaction.

In early April, 1995, the Internal Revenue Service issued proposed regulations regarding the applicability of the original issue discount rules to deferred private annuities, among other types of transactions.

The proposed regulations seek to treat certain annuity contracts as debt instruments for federal income tax purposes. This means that, under certain circumstances, the income flowing from assets transferred in exchange for an annuity would be taxable to the annuitant in the year earned, regardless of the year in which the annuity payments were received. The proposed regulations provide that this adverse tax treatment may be avoided as long as the annuity payments under the contract are periodic payments made at least annually for the life or lives of one or more individuals, the payments do not increase during the term of the contract, and the payments begin within one year of the date of the annuitant's initial investment in the contract. (See Proposed Income Tax Regulation §1.1275-1 (d)(2).)

However, the Preamble to the Proposed Regulations indicates that the proposed regulations, "only apply to annuity contracts that are also debt instruments under general principles of federal income tax law... For example, an annuity contract under which payments are wholly contingent on the continued life of an individual generally is not a debt instrument for federal income tax purposes. As a result, such a contract will continue to be taxed as an annuity contract under Internal Revenue Code §72."

The explanation to the proposed regulations thus suggests that annuity contracts under which payments are wholly contingent on the life of an individual "generally" will not be recharacterized as debt instruments and will not be taxed as such – even when such contingent payments are deferred under the contract. However, the explanation does not entirely eliminate the possibility that the IRS might proceed with such a recharacterization in certain cases and impose tax accordingly.

This issue is discussed in Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-4057 as follows:

"The proposed rules would only apply to annuity contracts that were also debt instruments under general principles of federal income tax law. An annuity contract that was not such a debt instrument would not be subject to the OID rules, and it would be unnecessary to determine if it was covered by the exception. Thus, for example, an annuity contract whose payments were wholly contingent on the continued life of an individual wouldn't be a debt instrument for federal income tax purposes and would continue to be taxed as an annuity contract under Code Sec. 72."

This appears to be consistent with the Internal Revenue Code statute being construed, §1275(a)(1)(B)(i) which in pertinent part states that the "term 'debt instrument' shall not include any annuity contract to which section 72 applies and which - depends (in whole or in substantial part) on the life expectancy of 1 or more individuals..."

Thus, it is our view that it is more likely than not that the original issue discount tax treatment of debt instruments (that could impose a tax on the annuity prior to the receipt of the annuity payments) will not apply to the contemplated annuity transaction.

E. The disposition of compensatory non-statutory options by The Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, in an arm's length transaction under which non-statutory options¹⁰ are transferred in exchange for the receipt by The Tallulah International Trust of a substantially nonvested private annuity of an equivalent value issued by the obligor corporation is not a taxable event in the year 1996.

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that an exchange of non-statutory stock options for a private annuity by The Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, will not be subject to an immediately taxable event because the private annuity is "substituted for" the non-statutory stock options under Income Tax Regulation §1.83-7(a) and such annuity payments are more likely than not taxable as ordinary income upon receipt.¹¹

The federal income tax treatment of the foreign grantor trust's non-statutory stock options which are not traded on an established market is generally covered in Internal Revenue Code §83 and Income Tax Regulation §1.83-7.¹²

Internal Revenue Code §83 does not initially apply to the taxation of non-qualified non-statutory stock options because the options are not actively traded on an established market.¹³

¹¹ Although we have not been asked to opine on whether the transfer of non-transferable non-statutory stock options to a grantor trust is an immediate taxable event, our research indicates that such transfer should not trigger a taxable event. In Private Letter Ruling 9349004, the Internal Revenue Service ruled that non-statutory stock options issued to a taxpayer and transferred to a trust created for the benefit of the taxpayer's descendant's will not cause the receipt of income or gain to the taxpayer. The Internal Revenue Service concluded that the transfer to the trust did not constitute a disposition under Income Tax Regulation §1.83-7(a) because the transfer was not pursuant to an arm's length transaction, and a non-arm's length disposition of an option not taxed at grant should not cause compensation income to be recognized. However, if the trustee of the trust exercises the options, the taxpayer (or the taxpayer's estate) would be in receipt of taxable income under Internal Revenue Code §83(a) and the corporation issuing the options would be entitled to an Internal Revenue Code §83(h) deduction.

¹² Internal Revenue Code §83(a) provides that if property is transferred in connection with the performance of services to any person other than the person for whom the services are performed, the excess of (1) the fair market value of the property (determined without regard to any restrictions other than a restriction which by its terms will never lapse) at the first time the rights of the person having a beneficial interest in the property are transferable or are not subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture, whichever occur earlier, over (2) the amount, if any, paid for the property, will be included in the gross income of the person who performs the services in the first taxable year in which the rights of the person having the beneficial interest in the property are transferable or are not subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture, whichever is applicable. However, Internal Revenue Code §83(e)(3) provides in pertinent part that "[t]his section shall not apply to the transfer of an option without a readily ascertainable fair market value." Thus, Internal Revenue Code §83 should not apply to the The Tallulah International Trust's non-statutory options because the non-statutory options are not traded on an established market, and thus as a practical matter do not have a readily ascertainable value. (See CCH Federal Tax Service §B 6.221.)

¹³ Income Tax Regulation §1.83-7(b)(1) states in pertinent part that "...[o]ptions have a value at the time they are granted, but that value is ordinarily not readily ascertainable unless the option is actively traded on an established market. If an option is actively traded on an established market, the fair market value of such option is readily ascertainable for purposes of this section." [Emphasis added.] It is our understanding that the non-statutory options which are the subject matter of this opinion letter are not actively traded on an established market, and thus the non-statutory options do not have a readily ascertainable value making Internal Revenue Code §83 inapplicable pursuant to Internal Revenue Code §83(e)(3).

Thus, because the non-statutory options currently held by the The Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, are not traded on an established market and do not meet the conditions imposed under Income Tax Regulation §1.83-7(b), they will not likely have a readily ascertainable fair market value, and will not be governed under Internal Revenue Code §83. As a practical matter no option will be considered to have a readily ascertainable value unless it is actively traded on an established market. (See CCH Federal Tax Service §B 6 221.)

Billman, 383 T.M., Nonstatutory Stock Options, at pages A-5 and A-6 states:

"...[O]ptions that are not actively traded on an established market do not have a readily ascertainable fair market value...Moreover, the regulations create an irrebuttable presumption that an untraded option does not have a readily ascertainable fair market value unless four conditions are met:

- (1) the option is transferable by the optionee;
- (2) the option is exercisable immediately in full by the optionee;
- (3) neither the option, nor the underlying property is subject to any restrictions ~~that have a significant effect on the option's value;~~ and
- (4) the fair market value of the "option privilege" is readily ascertainable.

In general, the effect of this rigorous approach to valuation of untraded options is to deny readily ascertainable fair market value status at option grant, forcing taxation at option exercise."

However, if an option without a readily ascertainable value is sold or otherwise disposed of before it is exercised (e.g. in exchange for a private annuity of an equivalent value), the restricted property rules will apply to the transfer of money or other property received in the same manner as they would have applied had the property been transferred¹⁴ pursuant to the exercise of the option.¹⁵

Thus, in the event that the non-statutory options are exchanged for a private annuity, the taxation of the transaction would be analyzed as if the option were exercised, and the amount [the private annuity] to be included as gross income would be determined under Internal Revenue Code §83(a) and §83(b).¹⁶

"If an untraded option is not taxed at grant, §83(e)(3) provides that §83 will apply to the exercise of the option. If the property received upon option exercise is restricted, §83 will apply to that receipt of property in the same manner as it applies to a direct transfer of restricted property in a nonoption context." [Emphasis added].

¹⁴ Income Tax Regulation §1.83-7(a) states in pertinent part that "...[I]f section 83(a) does not apply to the grant of such an option because the option does not have a readily ascertainable fair market value at the time of the grant, sections 83(a) and 83(b) shall apply at the time the option is exercised or otherwise disposed of, even though the fair market value of such option may have been become readily ascertainable before such time. If the option is exercised, sections 83(a) and 83(b) apply to the transfer of property pursuant to such exercise, and the employee or independent contractor realizes compensation upon such transfer at the time and in the amount determined under section 83(a) and 83(b). If the option is sold or otherwise disposed of in an arm's length transaction, sections 83(a) and 83(b) apply to the transfer of money or other property received in the same manner as sections 83(a) and 83(b) would have applied to the transfer of property pursuant to an exercise of the option." [Emphasis added].

¹⁶ Income Tax Regulation §1.83-7(a) states in pertinent part that "[I]f the option is exercised, sections 83(a) and 83(b) apply to the transfer of property pursuant to such exercise, and the employee or independent contractor realizes compensation upon such transfer at the time and in the amount determined under section 83(a) and 83(b)." [Emphasis added].

Thus, Internal Revenue Code §83 should apply to the receipt of the private annuity as if the private annuity were "substituted" for the non-statutory options.

According to Billman, 384 T.M., Restricted Property-Section 83, at page A-3:

"...[T]he receipt of an unfunded and unsecured promise to pay money in the future...is not a transfer of "property" and thus is not a taxable event under §83. Rather, the questions of whether the receipt of an unfunded and unsecured promise to pay money in the future produces gross income, and, if so, when and in what amount, are to be determined under well-established principles of actual and constructive receipt of income..."
 [Emphasis added].

In Richard A. Childs et. al. v. Commissioner, 103 T.C. No.36 (Nov.14 1994), United States Tax Court Judge Scott held that an annuity issued to an individual was an unsecured promise to pay money in the future, and thus was not "property" as that term is defined under Internal Revenue Code §83.

Thus, it is likely that Internal Revenue Code §83 is inapplicable to The Tallulah International Trust's receipt of a private annuity in exchange for the transfer of non-statutory options of an equivalent value, because a private annuity does not meet the definition of transfer of "property" within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code §83.

Consequently, if Income Tax Regulation §1.83-3(e) directs that Internal Revenue Code §83 and the regulations promulgated thereunder shall not apply to an unsecured promise to pay money in the future, no other Internal Revenue Code Section including Internal Revenue Code §61, should apply to the transaction.¹⁷

Thus, Internal Revenue Code §83 will likely be inapplicable to the contemplated transaction, and the private annuity income taxation rules (e.g., Revenue Ruling 69-74) will govern the taxation consequences relating to the transfer.¹⁸

The Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph J-5256 explains the federal income tax treatment of property exchanged for a private annuity as follows:

"The transfer of property in exchange for a private annuity is not a taxable transaction. Thus, a taxpayer who turns his property over to a member of his family or other private individual, or to his own corporation or other corporation, which is not a life insurance company or a bank or an organization which issues annuities from time to time, in exchange for payments for life, has no immediate taxable gain. (Emphasis is included in the text)

¹⁸ Private Letter Ruling 9349004 states that if Internal Revenue Code §83(a) does not apply to the grant of the option because it does not have a readily ascertainable value at the time of grant, §83 will apply at the time of the exercise or disposition of the option, and income is realized. Private Letter Rulings may not be cited as Precedent (See Internal Revenue Code §6110(j)(3)) but they reflect the position of the Internal Revenue Service and are thus useful in that regard.

However, the payments under the arrangement are taxable when received, see Paragraph J-5256. The actual transfer isn't taxable because the promise to make the lifetime payments is considered to have no determinable value. It makes no difference if the obligor under the 'private' transferee is not in the business of granting annuities, his solvency is not subject to the supervision and restrictions of insurance companies and banks, and may change over the payment period. (Citations omitted.)"

Because it is unlikely that either the non-statutory options or the private annuity received in exchange therefor is subject to Internal Revenue Code §83 coverage, it is our opinion that it is more likely than not that the non-statutory options transferred in exchange for the private annuity will be taxable as property transferred in exchange for a private annuity in accordance with the ~~more likely than not that the non-statutory options transferred in exchange for the private annuity will be taxable as property transferred in exchange for a private annuity in accordance with the~~ aforedescribed federal income tax consequences.

F. The subsequent exercise of the non-statutory options by the obligor will not likely generate a taxable event to The Tallulah International Trust because the compensation element will remain opened until the year The Tallulah International Trust receives its annuity payments.

It is our understanding that it is the intention of the parties that the disposition of the non-statutory options will occur in an arm's length transaction at fair market value.

The private annuity rules provide that no taxable event will occur to The Tallulah International Trust until the annuity vests (when the annuity payments are received by The Tallulah International Trust). Consequently, the exercise of the options after the transfer of the options to the obligor foreign corporation is not likely to be a taxable event to The Tallulah International Trust.

It is our understanding that non-statutory options being transferred by The Tallulah International Trust do not have a readily ascertainable value, and therefore their treatment is not governed by Internal Revenue Code §83. Income Tax Regulation §1.83-7 provides guidance with respect to the taxation of nonqualified stock options without a readily ascertainable value,¹⁹ and Internal Revenue Code §83(h)²⁰ generally governs the allowability, the amount, and the timing of a deduction to an employer with respect to the transfer of property in connection with the performance of services to which Internal Revenue Code §83 applies.

¹⁹We believe that there is an inherent inconsistency between the Statute and the Regulations, because the Statute clearly states that this Statute shall not apply to the transfer of an option without a readily ascertainable value (see Internal Revenue Code §83(e)(3)), yet the Regulations determine the taxation consequences of an option to which the Statute does not apply.

However, Internal Revenue Code §83(h) provides in pertinent part that "[i]n the case of a transfer of property to which this section applies...", thereby excepting property transferred in connection with the performance of services to which Internal Revenue Code §83 does not apply, (e.g. a non-statutory option without a readily ascertainable value).

According to Billman 384 T.M., Restricted Property-Section 83, at page A-16 states:

"As to the amount of the deduction, the employer is entitled to a deduction equal to the amount in the income of the employee."

Internal Revenue Code §§3121(a) and 3306(b) define the term "wages" as all remuneration for employment, and Internal Revenue Code §3401(a) provides a similar definition with respect to an employer's obligation for the withholding of income tax.

Income Tax Regulation §§31.3121(a)-1(e), 31.3306(b)-1(c), and 31.3401(a)-1(a)⁴ generally provide that the medium in which the remuneration is paid is immaterial and the remuneration may be in cash or something other than cash. Under Income Tax Regulation §§31.3121(a)-1(e) and 31.3306(b)-1(e) remuneration paid in items other than cash shall be computed on the basis of the fair value of such items at the time of payment. Income Tax Regulation §31.3121(a)-2 provides that wages are paid by an employer at the time they are actually or constructively paid.

Because the non-statutory options are transferred in an arms length transaction for the exchange of a private annuity of an equivalent value, The Tallulah International Trust has not constructively or actually received "income" until such time as the first annuity payment is issued to and received by The Tallulah International Trust.

Income Tax Regulation §31.3402(a)-1(b) provides that the employer is required to collect the tax by deducting and withholding the amount thereof from the employee's wages as and when paid, either actually or constructively. To constitute constructive payment the wages must be credited to or set apart for the employee without any substantial limitation or restriction as to the time or manner of payment or condition upon which payment is to be made, and must be made available to him so that they may be drawn upon at any time, and their payment brought within his own control and disposition.

Thus, the restrictions and condition of receipt of payment relating to the annuity payment will lapse upon the actual receipt of such annuity payment by The Tallulah International Trust.

Consequently, each annuity payment is more likely than not wholly taxable to The Tallulah International Trust as ordinary income, and upon the receipt of each such annuity payment Michaels Stores, Inc., the corporation which issued the non-statutory options, would be entitled to claim a corresponding income tax deduction.

With respect to the withholding tax requirements, liability will be incurred by Michaels Stores, Inc., the corporation which issued the non-statutory options, with respect to the withholding of income tax under Internal Revenue Code §3402(a) with respect to the annuity payments received as "substituted compensation" by The Tallulah International Trust.²¹

It is our opinion that it is more likely than not that no taxable event will occur until the annuity vests (when the annuity payments are received by The Tallulah International Trust), and the exercise of the options after the transfer of the non-statutory options the Obligor corporation pursuant to the annuity transaction is not likely to be a taxable event to Michaels Stores, Inc.

G. The private annuity contract is likely to be treated as being held by a natural person.

The foreign corporation intends to acquire the stock options by issuing a deferred private annuity to The Tallulah International Trust on the life of Sam Wyly. The Tallulah International Trust is a grantor trust for United States income tax purposes because its settlor is Sam Wyly who is a United States person and the trust has United States persons among its beneficiaries, namely Sam Wyly, the spouse of Sam Wyly, and the issue of Sam Wyly. (See the Third Schedule to the Amended and Restated Deed of Settlement.)

The annuity is intended to be classified as a deferred annuity because the commencement of the annuity payments is anticipated to occur more than one (1) year from the date of the annuity agreement.

An annuity which is not classified as a deferred annuity is classified as an immediate annuity. Internal Revenue Code §72(u)(4) defines an "immediate annuity" as an annuity which is purchased with a single premium or annuity consideration, with the annuity to have an annuity starting date which commences no later than one (1) year from the date of purchase of the annuity, and which provides for a series of substantially equal payments to be made not less frequently than annually during the annuity period.

Internal Revenue Code §72(u) in pertinent part indicates that if a deferred annuity contract (which is not an immediate annuity) is held by a person who is not a natural person then such contract shall not be treated as an annuity contract for federal income tax purposes and is to be taxed in accordance with the statutory formula set forth in Internal Revenue Code §72(u) unless an exception therein applies.

However, Internal Revenue Code §72(u) further states that:

²¹ Revenue Ruling 87-257 and Revenue Ruling 87-368 stated that amounts received from an employer by an employee upon the cancellation of a non-statutory stock option are wages for wage withholding purposes. Revenue Ruling 78-305 further provided that the employment tax and wage withholding obligations arise only when there is income under §83(a) to the employee.

"For purposes of this paragraph, holding by a trust or other entity as an agent for a natural person shall not be taken into account."

The legislative history to this statutory provision indicates that:

"Under the Act (Tax Reform Act of 1986), if any annuity contract is held by a person who is not a natural person (such as a corporation or trust), then the contract is not treated as an annuity contract for Federal income tax purposes and the income on the contract for any taxable year is treated as ordinary income received or accrued by the owner of the contract during the taxable year. In the case of a contract the nominal owner of which is a person who is not a natural person, but the beneficial owner of which is a natural person, the contract is treated as held by a natural person." (See the Conference Committee Report on Public Law 100-647, reported in Commerce Clearing House of America Standard Federal Tax Reports (1989), at page 13, 189-8.)

This provision is briefly discussed and explained in Knickerbocker, 134-5th T.M., Annuities at page A-25 as follows:

"Section 72(u) does not apply if a trust or other entity holds the contract as agent for a natural person who is its beneficial owner."

Internal Revenue Code §679(a)(1) states in pertinent part that: "A United States person who directly or indirectly transfers property to a foreign trust ... shall be treated as the owner for his taxable year of the portion of such trust attributable to such property if for such year there is a United States beneficiary of any portion of such trust."

As we indicated above, Sam Wyly, a United States person, transferred property to The Tallulah International Trust, a foreign trust having its situs in the Isle of Man, with the trust having United States beneficiaries, namely Sam Wyly, the spouse of Sam Wyly, and the issue of Sam Wyly.

Consequently, Sam Wyly, the grantor-settlor of The Tallulah International Trust, is likely to be treated as the owner of such trust for his taxable year of the portion of such trust attributable to such property. To our knowledge, Sam Wyly is the sole and exclusive settlor of such trust. If so, he is likely to be treated as the owner of the entire trust estate of such trust for his taxable year.

Internal Revenue Code §671 states in pertinent part that: "When it is specified in this subpart that the grantor ... shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust, there shall then be included in computing the taxable income and credits of the grantor ... those items of income, deductions, and credits against tax of the trust to the extent that such items would be taken into account under this chapter in computing taxable income or credits against the tax of an individual."

Internal Revenue Code §679 is included in subpart E which is expressly governed by Internal Revenue Code §671.

Income Tax Regulation §1.671-1(a) in pertinent part states that: "Subpart E (section 671 and following), Part I, Subchapter J, Chapter 1 of the Code, contains provisions taxing income of a trust to the grantor ... under certain circumstances even though he is not treated as a beneficiary under Subparts A through D (section 641 and following) of such Part I."

Income Tax Regulation §1.671-3(a)(1) in pertinent part states that: "When a grantor ... is treated under Subpart E (section 671 and following) as the owner of any portion of a trust, there are included in computing his tax liability those items of income, deduction, and credit against tax attributable to or included in that portion. For example:

"...If a grantor ... is treated as the owner of an entire trust (corpus as well as ordinary income), he takes into account in computing his income tax liability all items of income, deduction, and credit (including capital gains and losses) to which he would have been entitled had the trust not been in existence during the period he is treated as owner."

Consequently, in light of the rigid tax requirements that require Sam Wyly, a natural person who is the settlor-grantor of The Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, to take into account in computing his income tax liability all items of income, deduction, and credit (including capital gains and losses) that pertain to The Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, to which he would have been entitled had the trust not been in existence during the period he is treated as owner, we believe that it is more likely than not that the Internal Revenue Service and an applicable court of law will hold that the acquisition and holding of a private annuity contract by The Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, will be treated as if the annuity contract were held by Sam Wyly, a natural person who is the settlor-grantor of The Tallulah International Trust.

We thus believe that it is more likely than not that Internal Revenue Code §72(u) will not apply to the annuity transaction and that the annuity will be treated as being held by The Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, as an agent acting on behalf of its principal, Sam Wyly, a natural person who is the settlor-grantor of the trust.

Dear Trustee of The Tallulah International Trust:

In August, 1996 the Small Business Job Protection Act, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, and the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act were enacted as legislation. We will refer to these acts collectively as the 1996 Tax Act. The 1996 Tax Act retroactively modified various provisions of Internal Revenue Code Section 679. You have requested us to opine on the impact that revised Internal Revenue Code Section 679 has on the transfer of appreciated assets from a foreign situs asset protection trust to a foreign corporation which is wholly owned by a foreign-settled grantor trust. You have also requested us to opine on whether the transfer of appreciated assets by a United States citizen and resident to an asset protection trust is subject to the imposition of an excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 1491, and whether a subsequent transfer of such appreciated assets by the asset protection trust to a foreign corporation is subject to an excise tax.

Before we provide you with our analysis of these issues we wish to make you aware that this opinion is merely an expression of our learned views with respect to these issues. Our opinion does not command any legal authority and may be rejected by a government official, agency, private party, or anyone else. Thus, this opinion has no binding authority or official status of any kind, type, or character. We cannot assure you or anyone else that the opinions and conclusions contained in this opinion letter will be sustained by the Internal Revenue Service, any court of law, or anyone else.

CONFIDENTIAL

Our opinions represent our views on these issues, but they do not represent our guarantee that they will be followed or accepted by anyone else, and we expressly disclaim any responsibility or liability in the event our views are not followed or accepted.

In addition, this opinion does not cover or address any issues not expressly covered herein. This opinion is strictly limited to our interpretation of the United States federal income tax consequences that are likely to arise as a result of the transaction described hereinbelow.

This opinion is based on the status of the pertinent United States tax laws as of the date in which this opinion is written. The tax law changes very rapidly, and should there be any change in the applicable law or the facts and circumstances relating to the events described herein, the opinions expressed herein would necessarily require a reevaluation in light of such changes.

There is no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service or anyone else will not raise issues that have not been addressed herein.

For the sake of brevity, our discussion of the applicable legal principles will omit certain cases and other authorities that may apply to the facts and circumstances of these matters. We will take them into account in issuing this opinion, however.

In the event there is any change in the tax principles or laws applicable to our opinions herein, we specifically disclaim any undertaking or obligation to advise you or anyone else of any such changes that may hereafter occur.

Our opinions are based on the correctness of the facts and circumstances set forth herein, and our understanding that the factual scenario set forth hereinbelow is complete, accurate, true, and correct.

The Internal Revenue Service, other government agencies, and courts each possess the ability to challenge the legitimacy and reality of an entity or a transaction and can claim that an entity or a transaction are something other than what the parties intended them to be. Government authorities can recharacterize a transaction into something other than what the parties intended.

There are numerous instances when the Internal Revenue Service, judges or juries are in error. They are not infallible. They can thus misread or misapply the legal principles involved in the case, leading to a tax result or other legal consequence that may be contrary to what the taxpayer anticipated, and leading to a tax result or other legal consequence that may be wrong.

The Internal Revenue Service, other governmental agencies, and the courts generally examine the substance and business purpose and economic reality behind a transaction in a very careful manner to determine if the transaction is genuine and is to be granted recognition in the form presented for tax purposes.

Consequently, we need to caution you that the Internal Revenue Service, other governmental agencies, or a court might view the transactions that are the subject of this opinion in a manner differently than either you or I would view them. Nonetheless, it is our opinion that the anticipated United States taxation consequences that are applicable to the transaction will be as indicated herein.

Our analysis does not address United States, state, municipal, or foreign income taxes, inheritance taxes, gift taxes, estate taxes, property taxes, sales taxes, use taxes, bulk transfer tax, transfer tax or any other taxes or duties of any kind, type, or character other than the United States federal income tax consequences, income withholding tax purposes, and excise taxes described hereinbelow.

You should be aware that the Internal Revenue Service can charge interest on tax deficiencies and can impose numerous penalties if it disagrees with the tax treatment of the reported transactions.

It is our view based on the information presented to us as expressed herein that it is more likely than not that the anticipated federal United States tax treatment relating to the matters discussed herein will be as we opine herein.

Factual Foundation.

1. Sam Wyly is a United States citizen and resident who resides in the State of Texas.
2. Sam Wyly transferred non-statutory stock options to The Tallulah International Trust, a foreign situs grantor trust that is recognized as a "grantor trust" for United States income tax purposes.

3. The Tallulah International Trust transferred the non-statutory stock options to Yurta Faf Limited, a Manx resident private corporation of which the sole shareholder is a foreign-settled Manx situs trust which was a grantor trust for United States income tax purposes as of the date of the transfer, February 22, 1996.¹

¹ Because the trustee of The Bessie Trust, Lorne House Limited, retains certain powers over the Bessie Trust, it is likely that Lorne House Limited will be treated as a nonadverse party for purposes of the grantor trust rules, and The Bessie Trust will therefore be held to be a grantor trust for United States income tax purposes.

Generally, under the "grantor trust" rules (Internal Revenue Code Sections 671-679), a grantor or nonadverse party who retains certain rights or powers for the benefit of the grantor is treated as the owner of the trust's assets without regard to whether the grantor is a domestic or foreign person. The sole shareholder of Yurta Faf Limited is a foreign-settled Manx situs trust, The Bessie Trust. It is likely that The Bessie Trust is a grantor trust for United States income tax purposes because The Bessie Trust Agreement confers two powers, among others, to the Trustee including the power to: (i) distribute trust income to the grantor which is a grantor trust power under Internal Revenue Code Section 677(a)(1) (see Section 5, paragraph 2, page 13-14 of The Bessie Trust); and (ii) apply trust income to the payment of premiums on policies of insurance on the life of the grantor which is a grantor trust power under Internal Revenue Code Section 677(a)(3) (see Section 8, paragraph 1)(c), page 17 of The Bessie Trust).

Internal Revenue Code Section 677(a)(1) provides in pertinent part that "[T]he grantor shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust...whose income...in the discretion of...a nonadverse party...may be...distributed to the grantor..." [Emphasis added.]

Internal Revenue Code Section 674(a)(3) provides in pertinent part that "[T]he grantor shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust...whose income...in the discretion of...a nonadverse party...may be...applied to the payment of premiums on policies of insurance on the life of the grantor..."

Consequently if a nonadverse party has retained the power to distribute trust income to the grantor, and to apply trust income to the payment of premiums on policies of insurance on the life of the grantor, The Bessie Trust will be held to be a grantor trust for United States income tax purposes.

It is likely that Lorne House Limited as trustee of The Bessie Trust is a nonadverse party for purposes of the "grantor trust" rules (Internal Revenue Code Sections 671-679).

Under Internal Revenue Code Section 672(a), an adverse party "...means any person having a substantial beneficial interest in a trust which would be adversely affected by the exercise or nonexercise of the power which he possesses respecting the trust." [Emphasis added.]

Under Internal Revenue Code Section 672(b) a nonadverse party "...means any person who is not an adverse party."

Income Tax Regulation Section 1.672(a)-1 provides in pertinent part that "...an adverse party is defined as any person having a substantial beneficial interest in a trust...A trustee is not an adverse party merely because of his interest as trustee..." [Emphasis added.]

Lorne House Limited is an independent Manx trust company that professionally administers trust assets (see factual recital).

Lorne House Limited is not a beneficiary of The Bessie Trust, and does not have a substantial beneficial interest in the trust (see The Bessie Trust). Lorne House Limited holds a power of disposition over the beneficial enjoyment of income and corpus, and retains the power of application of trust income for the payment of premiums on life insurance policies on the life of the grantor.

Private Letter Ruling 9508007 states "~~...[a] trustee, an individual without a substantial beneficial interest in the trust, hold[ing] a power of disposition over the beneficial enjoyment of income and corpus...is a nonadverse party ...~~" (While a private letter ruling may not be used or cited as precedent it provides us with an indication of how the Internal Revenue Service may rule, see Internal Revenue Code Section 6110(f).)

Thus, Lorne House Limited, an independent Manx corporation, which administers the assets of The Bessie Trust, retains a power of disposition over the beneficial enjoyment of trust income and corpus, and retains a power of application of trust income for the payment of premiums on policies of insurance on the life of the grantor, and thus should similarly be treated as a nonadverse party.

While The Bessie Trust does not expressly prohibit the trustee of The Bessie Trust, Lorne House Limited, from appointing assets to itself for its own benefit, such power would be subject to the prior written approval of the Protectors as provided under section 3, paragraph 2, page 9 of The Bessie Trust Agreement. Furthermore, The Trustee of the Bessie Trust is not a beneficiary of The Bessie Trust. Thus, the trustee's hypothetical ability to appoint trust assets to itself is unlikely to constitute a "substantial beneficial interest" for purposes of Internal Revenue Code Section 672(a), and the trustee is unlikely to be deemed an adverse party thereunder.

The Tax Court in Clair Savage v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 4 T.C. 286 (1944), held that the grantor's spouse as the trustee of multiple trusts was a nonadverse party because "...in order for her to benefit from either of these trusts she would have to outlive the survivor of the two minor children and their issue, if any. To hold [that] such a remote possibility of receiving benefit constitutes a 'substantial adverse interest' would do violence to the meaning of the word 'substantial' and to the intent of Congress, when, in enacting the Revenue Act of 1932, it added the requirement that the so-called adverse party must be more than a mere beneficiary 'having a very minor interest' and that the interest must be substantial." Internal Revenue Code Section 167 of the 1938 Act, Income for Benefit of Grantor (which was the relevant section for this case), provided in pertinent part that "[W]here any part of the income of a trust ...in the discretion...of any person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such part of the income, may be held or accumulated for future distribution to the grantor...the [sic] such part of the income of the trust shall be included in computing the net income of the grantor." Current Internal Revenue Code Section 677(a)(2), Income for Benefit of Grantor, provides comparable language stating in pertinent part that "[T]he grantor shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust...whose income...in the discretion of...a nonadverse party...may be...held or accumulated for future distribution to the grantor..." Thus, the legislature's intent under both statutes is similar, as the words "...any person not having a substantial adverse interest..." are directly substituted by the words "...in the discretion of...a nonadverse party..." Consequently, the Court's holding in Savage, i.e. that a trustee's remote possibility of receiving a benefit from the trust does not constitute a substantial adverse interest, leads us to conclude that such trustee would likely be a nonadverse party with respect to such trust.

4. It has come to our attention that the factual recitals in our opinion letter of February 22, 1996 inaccurately stated on page three (3) that "The Tallulah International Trust will transfer the non-statutory options to an underlying foreign corporation that is wholly owned by a foreign situs non-grantor trust." (Emphasis added.)² Instead, the February 22nd opinion letter should have stated that the non-statutory options were transferred by The Tallulah International Trust to a foreign corporation wholly owned by a foreign situs grantor trust settled by a foreigner. We have been requested not to revise our analysis of our February 22nd opinion letter in light of this misstatement of fact, and consequently we do not express any opinion that relates to this issue.

Before Lorne House Trust Limited could benefit from The Bessie Trust it would have to seek the approval of the U.S. Protectors to the trust. Under the Tax Court's holding and rationale in Savage it is unlikely that the trustee, Lorne House Trust Limited, holding such a remote interest in the trust, would be held to be an adverse party having a "substantial beneficial interest" in the trust under Internal Revenue Code Section 672(a) and Income Tax Regulation Section 1.672(a)-1.

Furthermore, there is well-established case law affirming the trustee's duty as a fiduciary not to engage in self-dealing. The Supreme Court of Oklahoma held in First National Bank of Wichita Falls v. W.F. Stricklin, 347 P.2d 652 (1959), that "[A] trustee is a fiduciary of the highest order, who is required meticulously to observe the fiduciary relationship and to perform the obligations of a trustee to the cestui que trust, and he is held to a high standard of conduct with respect to administration of the trust. A trustee not only has the right, but it is his duty, whenever necessary to proper administration, preservation, and execution of trust..." In Graves v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 92 T.C. 1294, (1989) the Tax Court held that "...[a] trustee ...[must]...act in good faith, in accordance with her fiduciary responsibility, and safeguard and conserve the trust principal." If Lorne House Limited attempted to appoint assets to itself for its own benefit it would be acting in contravention of its fiduciary responsibilities. As a final note, if Lorne House Limited failed to exercise its fiduciary responsibilities, the beneficiaries could enforce their rights in a court of equity (see Estate of King v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Service, 37 T.C. 973 (1962)).

Because of the remote and unlikely possibility that Lorne House Limited would benefit from The Bessie Trust, and because Lorne House Limited, as a trustee of The Bessie Trust, bears a fiduciary responsibility to conserve and preserve trust assets, it is likely that Lorne House Limited would be treated as a nonadverse party for purposes of Internal Revenue Code Section 672 and Internal Revenue Code Section 677.

² We have not been asked to redraft our opinion letter in light of this misstatement of fact. While we presently believe this misstatement of fact is not egregious and should not impact the overall statements expressed in our February 22nd opinion letter, we have not been requested to expound on the impact that this misstatement of fact may have had on our analysis.

5. We have been advised that the sole shareholder of Yurta Faf Limited, a Manx corporation, is a foreign situs grantor trust, The Bessie Trust.
6. We have been advised that the grantor of The Bessie Trust, Mr. Keith King, is a British subject and resident of the Isle of Man. Mr. Keith King is a nonresident alien for United States income tax purposes.
7. We have been advised that Mr. Keith King, the grantor of The Bessie Trust, is not an officer, manager, or agent of Yurta Faf Limited.

8. We have been advised that Mr. Keith King, the grantor of The Bessie Trust, is unrelated to The Tallulah International Trust or the grantor of The Tallulah International Trust.
9. We have been advised that The Bessie Trust has two U.S. trust protectors, and neither one of the trust protectors is related to the grantor of The Bessie Trust, or the Tallulah International Trust or the grantor of The Tallulah International Trust.
10. Yurta Faf Limited, a Manx corporation, issued a private annuity to The Tallulah International Trust in exchange for the receipt of non-statutory stock options of an equivalent value. Neither any gift element nor any "bargain sale element" was intended to be made by The Tallulah International Trust with respect to this private annuity transaction.
11. The transfer of the non-statutory options by The Tallulah International Trust to Yurta Faf Limited is not and is not intended to be, a payment of paid-in capital or a contribution of capital to the foreign corporation, Yurta Faf Limited.
12. The Tallulah International Trust does not have any retained interest in the property transferred in exchange for the private annuity.
13. We further understand that the private annuity payments are not chargeable to or dependent upon the non-statutory stock options transferred by The Tallulah International Trust in exchange for the annuity. Any income generated by the non-statutory stock options will belong to the foreign corporation outright, and will not be chargeable to the annuity payments.
14. We understand that the amount of the annuity payments is based on the fair market value of the non-statutory stock options exchanged for the private annuity at the time of the effective date of the Annuity Agreement and is not based on any income generated by the non-statutory stock options transferred for the private annuity.

15. We also understand that upon the consummation of the Annuity Agreement the possession and/or enjoyment of the non-statutory stock options exchanged for the private annuity resides exclusively with Yurta Faf Limited, the acquiring foreign corporation, and The Tallulah International Trust has not preserved or reserved control of any kind or character over such non-statutory stock options or any income therefrom that would constitute a retained interest in the possession and/or enjoyment of the non-statutory options being exchanged for the private annuity. It is thus expressly intended that The Tallulah International Trust irrevocably surrender the enjoyment, control, ownership, and all economic benefits attributable to the ownership of the non-statutory stock options sold in exchange for the private annuity.
16. It is our understanding that Yurta Faf Limited has not at any time transferred property or income generated from the property it received in exchange for the private annuity to its parent, a foreign situs grantor trust, The Bessie Trust.
17. It is our understanding that neither The Tallulah International Trust nor the grantor of The Tallulah International Trust is a shareholder, officer, director, or agent of Yurta Faf Limited.
18. It is our understanding that Yurta Faf Limited has retained and intends to continue to retain the property transferred by The Tallulah International Trust in exchange for the private annuity issued by Yurta Faf Limited.
19. We have been advised that there were no outstanding encumbrances on the non-statutory stock options, and consequently we do not express any opinion that relates to this issue.
20. It is our understanding that the officers and directors of Yurta Faf Limited are independent parties, and are not related to the grantor or beneficiaries of The Tallulah International Trust.
21. We have been advised that Yurta Faf Limited is a private resident Manx corporation with active investment activity.
22. We have been advised that neither The Tallulah International Trust nor Yurta Faf Limited are tax exempt companies under Internal Revenue Code Section 501.

23. The trustee of The Tallulah International Trust is Lorne House Trust Limited, a company incorporated and existing in the Isle of Man and having its registered office at Lorne House, Castletown, Isle of Man, British Isles.

II. An analysis of the anticipated federal income tax consequences, under Internal Revenue Code Section 679 as amended by the 1996 Tax Act, that are likely to apply to the sale of non-statutory stock options to a foreign corporation sale that occurred during the 1996 taxable year in exchange for the issuance of a private annuity of an equivalent value under the circumstances described herein.

To determine whether revised Internal Revenue Code Section 679 applies to the transfer of non-statutory stock options from The Tallulah International Trust to the foreign corporation we must analyze each party to the transaction under the revised statute to determine whether and how the statute applies to the transaction.

A. The Tallulah International Trust was more likely than not a U.S. transferor of property when it transferred the non-statutory stock options to Yurta Faf Limited, a Manx corporation, in exchange for a private annuity of an equivalent value pursuant to Internal Revenue Code Section 679.

Internal Revenue Code Section 679(a)(1) states in pertinent part that "[A] United States person who directly or indirectly transfers property to a foreign trust...shall be treated as the owner for his taxable year of the portion of such trust attributable to such property if for such year there is a United States beneficiary of any portion of such trust."

Internal Revenue Code Section 679 causes a trust to be classified as a grantor trust for U.S. income tax purposes if four (4) requirements are met: (1) the transferor must be a U.S. person; and (2) there must be a direct or indirect transfer to a trust; and (3) the trust must be a foreign trust; and (4) the trust must have one or more current U.S. beneficiaries.³ Consequently, each of the four requirements under Internal Revenue

³See discussion in Lane and Zaritsky, "Federal Income Taxation of Estates and Trusts," paragraph 13.03 (1988). (The four requirements of Internal Revenue Code Section 679 with respect to grantor trust status, as recited and discussed in Lane and Zaritsky, are still applicable in light of the '96 Act.) Lane and Zaritsky state in footnote 4 of paragraph 13.02 that "[T]he breadth of Section 679 raises

Code Section 679 must apply to the transfer before the transaction will be subject to Internal Revenue Code 679 for United States income tax purposes.⁴

The first requirement is that the transferor must be a United States person at the time of the transfer.⁵ Mr. Sam Wyly is a U.S. citizen and resident.

The second requirement is that there must be a direct or indirect transfer of property to a trust.⁶ Mr. Sam Wyly directly transferred non-statutory stock options to The Tallulah International Trust.⁷

The third requirement is that the trust must be foreign.⁸ The Tallulah International Trust is administered by a Manx trust company under the laws of the Isle of Man.⁹

The fourth requirement is that the foreign trust must have current United States beneficiaries.¹⁰ The beneficiaries of The Tallulah International Trust include Mr. Sam possible constitutional questions. In Section 679, Congress has singled out certain foreign trusts for treatment dissimilar from other foreign taxpayers and from similarly situated U.S. trusts. It has drawn this distinction without regard to whether the grantor or any third person has retained any particular power or interest over the trust. Thus, Congress has drawn a distinction between domestic and foreign entities, based solely on the nationality of the entity. Tax Reform Act of 1976, Pub. L. No. 94-455, 94th Cong., 2d Sess. (1976). Wyly, the spouse of Mr. Sam Wyly, and the issue of Mr. Sam Wyly, all of whom reside in the United States.¹¹

Consequently, because the transfer of non-statutory stock options by Mr. Sam Wyly to The Tallulah International Trust meets all four requirements, it is our opinion that under Internal Revenue Code Section 679 it is likely that The Tallulah International Trust is a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes and that, the grantor, Mr. Sam Wyly, will be treated as the owner of the assets transferred to the trust.¹²

It is our opinion that if Mr. Sam Wyly, a United States citizen, is treated as the owner of assets of The Tallulah International Trust for his taxable year under Internal Revenue Code Section 679, it is likely that The Tallulah International Trust will similarly be held to be a U.S. transferor under Internal Revenue Code Section 679.

B. For Internal Revenue Code Section 679 to apply to the transfer of non-statutory stock options by The Tallulah International Trust, as a U.S. transferor, to Yurta Faf Limited in exchange for a private annuity of an equivalent value, The Tallulah International Trust must be held to have directly or indirectly transferred property to a foreign trust. It is our opinion that it is unlikely that The Tallulah International Trust will be held to have directly or indirectly transferred property to a foreign trust pursuant to Internal Revenue Code Section 679(a)(1).

The grantor trust rules of Internal Revenue Code Section 679 apply to transfers of property by U.S. persons to a foreign trust whether such transfers are direct or indirect.¹³

The Tallulah International Trust transferred non-statutory stock options to a Manx corporation, Yurta Faf Limited, which is wholly owned by a foreign situs grantor trust settled by a foreigner. In exchange, the foreign corporation issued The Tallulah International Trust a private annuity of an equivalent value. Because The Tallulah International Trust transferred property directly to a foreign corporation,¹⁴ there was not a direct transfer by a U.S. transferor to a foreign trust that would trigger the application of Internal Revenue Code Section 679.

However, Internal Revenue Code Section 679(a)(1) provides that an indirect transfer of property to a foreign trust will also result in the application of Internal Revenue Code Section 679 for income tax purposes.

~~We have not come across any case law, revenue rulings, private letter rulings, technical advice memoranda, or general counsel memoranda that defines what is an "indirect transfer" to a foreign trust. The only authoritative reference to an "indirect transfer" that we have found is located in the legislative history of Internal Revenue Code Section 679. The pertinent examples provided in the legislative history contemplate the following methods of indirect transfer:~~

1. A transfer of property by a U.S. person to an entity that subsequently transfers the same or equivalent property to a foreign trust;¹⁵ and
2. A transfer of property to an entity over which the U.S. person has sufficient control to direct the transfer of the property by the entity to the foreign trust.¹⁶

Specifically, the legislative history to Internal Revenue Code Section 679 provides the following description of an indirect transfer:

"A transfer by a domestic or foreign entity in which a U.S. person has an interest may be regarded as an indirect transfer to the foreign trust by the U.S. person if the entity merely serves as a conduit for the transfer by the U.S. person or if the U.S. person has sufficient control over the entity to direct the transfer by the entity rather than himself."¹⁷ [Emphasis added.]

¹⁷ H.R. Rep. No. 658 at 209; S. Rep. No. 938 at 219; 1976 General Explanation at 221.

The example provided in the General Explanation of the Tax Reform Act of 1976 states that "if a U.S. person transfers property to a foreign person or entity and if that person transfers that property (or its equivalent) to a foreign trust that has U.S. beneficiaries, the U.S. person transferring the property to the foreign person or entity is treated as having made a transfer to a foreign trust unless it can be shown that the transfer of property to the trust was unrelated to the U.S. person's transfer of property to the foreign person or entity. A similar rule applies to transfers (including certain deferred sales) through domestic entities or persons. For example, if a U.S. person transfers property to a domestic trust or corporation and that entity subsequently transfers the same or equivalent property to a foreign trust, the U.S. person may be treated as having made a transfer of property indirectly to a foreign trust. Moreover, transfers to a domestic trust which subsequently becomes a foreign trust may be regarded as indirect transfers to a foreign trust."¹⁸

Generally, the intent of the legislative history is to apply the grantor trust rules of Internal Revenue Code Section 679 to transfers that use a "straw person" or other intermediary entity to effect the transfer.¹⁹ The legislative history describes the traditional step-transaction doctrine, under which steps that are part of an integrated plan are ignored and the plan's final result is considered the direct result of the initial step.²⁰

With respect to the transfer of property by a U.S. person to a foreign entity (trusts, estates, corporations, or partnerships) the legislative history does not specify the degree or type of control that should be required to treat a series of transfers as an indirect transfer to a foreign trust.

CCH Federal Tax Service at paragraph D:13.121 states that a transfer to an intermediate entity may be regarded as an indirect transfer to a foreign trust by a U.S. person "if the U.S. person has sufficient control over the entity to direct the transfer by the entity."

Because no control standard is provided in either the statute or the legislative history, we have relied on commentaries for guidance. The commentaries have suggested two types of control exhibited by a U.S. transferor that would be sufficient to compel the classification of a transfer of property to an intermediate entity as an indirect transfer to a foreign trust:

The U.S. transferor must have fundamental voting power over the intermediate entity, and/or maintain a position of authority within the intermediate entity to compel the intermediary entity to make the ultimate transfer to the foreign trust;²¹ or

[T]he U.S. transferor and the intermediate entity are related parties drawing on the related entity standards of Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b), Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(d), Internal Revenue Code Section 1551(b), or Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f).²²

According to Lane and Zaritsky,²³ sufficient control over an entity to direct the transfer of the property to the foreign trust exists if the U.S. person has such "...clear control as majority stock ownership, or status as the sole partner in a partnership, or the sole trustee of a trust, or the sole executor of an estate, then the U.S. transferor might be deemed to have acted through such entities in making any transfers to a foreign trust."²⁴

Zaritsky²⁵ additionally proposes that "...the degree of control required for an entity to be included in an indirect transfer [might be] dependent upon the method by which the transfer from the entity to the foreign trust is made. Thus, the requisite control for purposes of Section 679 would be that degree of control, whether by fundamental voting power or otherwise, sufficient to compel the intermediary entity to make the ultimate transfer, considering the absence of a sound independent business purpose for the transfer."

Neither The Tallulah International Trust nor the grantor of The Tallulah International Trust is an officer, director, manager, agent, or shareholder of Yurta Faf Limited.²⁶

Thus, neither The Tallulah International Trust nor the grantor of The Tallulah International Trust have legal authority to vote shares of Yurta Faf Limited.²⁷

~~Consequently, it is factually impossible for the The Tallulah International Trust to have de jure control over Yurta Faf Limited to compel a transfer of property to a foreign trust.~~

It is our opinion that based on the aforementioned facts it is unlikely that The Tallulah International Trust will be held to have fundamental voting power over Yurta Faf Limited, or be held to maintain a position of authority within Yurta Faf Limited sufficient to compel Yurta Faf Limited to transfer property to The Bessie Trust.

The second type of control that the Commentaries have suggested results in an "indirect transfer" by a U.S. transferor arises if the U.S. transferor and the intermediate entity are related parties according to the related entity standards of Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b), Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(d), Internal Revenue Code Section 1551(b), and Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f).²⁸

The related parties standard identified under Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b)²⁹ contemplates relationships between controlled partnerships, i.e. a partnership and a person or two partnerships, wherein the same persons own directly or indirectly more than 50 percent of the capital interest, or profits interest, in such partnership.

²⁶ The Register of Directors & Secretaries for Yurta Faf Limited provides for two nonresident alien directors of Yurta Faf Limited.

²⁹ Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b) Certain sales or exchanges of property with respect to controlled partnerships. [Emphasis added.]

Neither The Tallulah International Trust nor Yurta Faf Limited is a partnership.³⁰

Thus, for purposes of Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b), The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited are not related parties.³¹

Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(d) provides a definition of related persons incorporating in its definition any person specified within any one of the paragraphs of Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b) or persons described in Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b).³²

We have already analyzed the related party standards of Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b), and determined that there is no partnership relationship or common partnership ownership between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited as contemplated under Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b).

Thus, we will analyze the related party standard under Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)³³ for purposes of its incorporation by reference into Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(d).³⁴

³² Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(d) provides that Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(a) shall not apply to any transfer between persons specified within any of the paragraphs of section 267(b) or persons described in 707(b). However, for purposes of applying Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(a): (1) the phrase "25 percent or more" shall be substituted for the phrase "more than 50 percent" each place it appears in section 267(b) or 707(b), and (2) paragraph 4 of section 267(c) shall be treated as providing that the family of an individual shall include only his spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants.

³³ Internal Revenue Code Section 267 states that the following relationships are considered related parties for purposes of Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b):

1. Members of a family, including only brothers or sisters (whether by whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants; and

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(1) provides for a related party standard between members of the same family, spouses, ancestors, or lineal descendants.

The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited³⁵ are not members of the same family, spouses, ancestors, or lineal descendants. Thus, Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(1) is inapplicable to the transaction.

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(2) states that an individual and a corporation are related if more than 50 percent owned in value of the outstanding stock is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for such individual.

2. An individual and a corporation more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for such individual;
 3. Two corporations which are members of the same of the same controlled group(as defined in Internal Revenue Code Section 267(f));
 4. A grantor and a fiduciary of any trust;
 5. A fiduciary of a trust and a fiduciary of another trust, if the same person is the grantor of both trusts;
 6. A fiduciary of a trust and a beneficiary of such trust;
 7. A fiduciary of a trust and a beneficiary of another trust, if the same person is the grantor of both trusts;
 8. A fiduciary of a trust and a corporation more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for the trust or by or for a person who is a grantor of the trust;
 9. A person and an organization to which section 501 (relating to certain educational and charitable organizations which are exempt from tax) applies and which is controlled directly or indirectly by such person or (if such person is an individual) by members of the family of such individual;
 10. A corporation and a partnership if the same persons own-
 - (a) more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of the corporation, and
 - (b) more than 50 percent of the capital interest, or the profits interest, in the partnership;
 11. An S corporation and another S corporation if the same persons own more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of each corporation;
An S corporation and a C corporation, if the same person owns more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of each corporation.

³⁴ Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b).

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(2) is inapplicable because neither The Tallulah International Trust nor the grantor of The Tallulah International Trust, Mr. Sam Wyly, has an ownership interest in Yurta Faf Limited.³⁶

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(3) only applies to a relationship between two corporations and is consequently inapplicable to the relationship between the Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited because The Tallulah International Trust is a trust and not a corporation.³⁷

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(4), Internal Revenue Code Section 267(5), Internal Revenue Code Section 267(6), and Internal Revenue Code Section 267(7) define the relationships between two parties to a trust, and Yurta Faf Limited is a corporation and not a trust.³⁸ Thus, those statutory provisions are inapplicable to the transaction.

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(8) applies to the relationship between a fiduciary of a trust and a corporation of which more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for the trust or by or for a person who is a grantor of the trust.

Consequently, Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(8) contemplates a relationship between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited in which The Tallulah International Trust has sufficient voting power over Yurta Faf Limited to compel an "indirect transfer" from Yurta Faf Limited to another entity.

The Tallulah International Trust is a grantor trust, and Mr. Sam Wyly is the grantor of the Trust. Neither The Tallulah International Trust nor Mr. Sam Wyly is a shareholder of Yurta Faf Limited.³⁹ Yurta Faf Limited is a Manx corporation wholly owned by The Bessie Trust.⁴⁰ Thus, The Bessie Trust is the direct owner of the voting shares of Yurta Faf Limited.

Furthermore, the constructive ownership of the shares of Yurta Faf Limited is determined by the grantor trust rules attributing ownership to the grantor rather than the beneficiaries.⁴¹ Thus, Keith King, the grantor, of The Bessie Trust would be accorded constructive ownership status of the shares of stock in Yurta Faf Limited. Keith King is a nonresident alien individual having no relationship⁴² to The Tallulah International Trust or Mr. Sam Wyly, or to Lorne House Trust Limited, the trustee of The Tallulah International Trust.⁴³

Thus, we believe that Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(8) is inapplicable to the relationship between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited because neither the constructive ownership nor the direct ownership of the shares of Yurta Faf Limited is owned by The Tallulah International Trust or its grantor, Mr. Sam Wyly, or its trustee, Lorne House Trust Limited.

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(9) refers to the relationship between a person and an organization to which Internal Revenue Code Section 501 applies. It is our understanding that Internal Revenue Code Section 501⁴⁴ does not apply to either The Tallulah International Trust or Yurta Faf Limited,⁴⁵ and thus Internal Revenue Code

⁴³ See Factual Recital; See The Tallulah International Trust Deed dated March 11, 1992.

⁴⁴ Internal Revenue Code Section 501 provides for exemption from tax on corporations, certain trusts, etc.

⁴⁵ Factual Recital.

Section 267(b)(9) is inapplicable to the relationship between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited.

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(10) applies to a relationship between a corporation and a partnership, and we have been advised that The Tallulah International Trust is a trust and Yurta Faf Limited is a Manx corporation.⁴⁶ Consequently, Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(10) is inapplicable to the relationship between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited.

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(11) refers to the relationship between ~~two S~~ corporations. The Tallulah International Trust is a trust and Yurta Faf Limited is a Manx corporation.⁴⁷ Consequently, Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(11) is inapplicable to the relationship between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited.

Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(12) refers to the relationship between an S corporation and a C corporation. The Tallulah International Trust is a trust and Yurta Faf Limited is a Manx corporation.⁴⁸ Consequently, Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b)(11) is inapplicable to the relationship between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited.

Thus, the related party rules of Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b), and Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(d) incorporating Internal Revenue Code Section 267(b) are inapplicable to the relationship between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited as analyzed hereinabove.

The Commentaries have also referred to the related party standards referred to under Internal Revenue Code Section 1551(b)⁴⁹ which defines related parties based on a percentage ownership of a transferee corporation by a transferor corporation.

⁴⁶ Factual Recital, and Memorandum of Association of Yurta Faf Limited.

⁴⁸ Id.

⁴⁹ Internal Revenue Code Section 1551 provides for the disallowance of the benefits of the graduated corporate rates and accumulated earnings credit for affiliated corporations. Internal Revenue Code Section 1551(b) defines the term control for purposes of Internal Revenue Code Section 1551(a).

As we have stated previously, The Tallulah International Trust is a trust and not a corporation, and we have been advised that neither The Tallulah International Trust nor its grantor is a shareholder, officer, or director of Yurta Faf Limited.⁵⁰

Consequently, the related party standards of Internal Revenue Code Section 707(b), Internal Revenue Code Section 1235(b) incorporating 267(b), and 1551(b) are inapplicable to the relationship between The Tallulah International Trust and Yurta Faf Limited.

The final related party standard that the commentaries suggest may result in the application of an "indirect transfer" is set forth in Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f). Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(5) limited the situations where a foreigner would be treated as the grantor of a foreign grantor trust. It provides a special rule where the grantor is a foreign person and states that:

"[I]f

- (A) but for this subsection, a foreign person would be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust, and
- (B) such trust has a beneficiary who is a United States person, such beneficiary shall be treated as the grantor of such portion to the extent such beneficiary has made (directly or indirectly) transfers of property (other than in a sale for full and adequate consideration) to such foreign person."⁵¹

The indirect transfer rules of Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(5) contemplate a transfer from a beneficiary of a trust to the foreign grantor, in which case the beneficiary would be treated as the grantor of the trust with respect to the assets transferred.⁵²

The transaction we are analyzing involves the transfer of non-statutory stock options from The Tallulah International Trust to Yurta Faf Limited, a corporation, and thus

⁵¹ Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(5).

⁵² Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(5) however does not take any gift into consideration to the extent such gift would be excluded from taxable gifts under Internal Revenue Code Section 2503(b).

does not involve the transfer by a beneficiary to a foreign grantor under Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(5).⁵³

The relationships contemplated under the "indirect transfer" rules are inapplicable to the relationship between Yurta Faf Limited⁵⁴ and The Tallulah International Trust.

Based on the foregoing analysis including the legislative history of Internal Revenue Code Section 679 and commentaries which have interpreted the application of the term "indirect transfer" ~~it is our opinion that it is unlikely that The Tallulah International Trust made an indirect transfer to a foreign trust.~~

C. For purposes of Internal Revenue Code Section 679(a)(1) if Yurta Faf Limited is a corporation having a valid business purpose and activity, it is unlikely that Yurta Faf Limited will be disregarded, and thus a transfer by The Tallulah International Trust to Yurta Faf Limited should not be treated as an indirect transfer from The Tallulah International Trust to the shareholder(s) of Yurta Faf Limited.

Courts have generally upheld the corporate entity form so long as the corporation is engaged in some purposeful business activity.⁵⁵

*Thus, the law is well settled that if a corporation exists for a valid business purpose that corporation will not be disregarded.*⁵⁶

United States*, 364 U.S. 361 (1960); Milbren v. Commissioner, 710 F.2d 1302 (7th cir. 1983). See U.S.I. Properties Corp. v. M.D. Construction Company, Inc., 860 F.2d 1 (1988) at pp. 7 (recognizing separate corporate identity of subsidiary despite evidence that subsidiary was wholly-owned by "grandparent" corporation, shared all its officers and directors with grandparent, was grossly undercapitalized, and did not prepare its own budget, construction requirements, or policies and procedures); Rodriguez v. SK & F Co., 833 F.2d 8 (1st Cir. 1987) at pp. 9 (recognizing separate corporate identity of subsidiary where evidence showed that it operated independently from its parent); Tapp v. CompAir Inc., 814 F.2d 830 (1st Cir. 1987) at pp. 833 (recognizing separate corporate identity of subsidiary holding company despite evidence that it could not act without the express permission of its parent, and that its sole function was to serve as financial conduit for parent); Lugo-Vina v. Pueblo International, Inc., 574 F.2d 41 (1st Cir. 1978) pp.43 (recognizing separate corporate identity of parent where evidence showed it operated independently of wholly-owned subsidiary); Candida Marino de Walker, et. al. v. Pueblo International, Inc. 569 F.2d 1169 (1st Cir. 1978) pp. 1170-1173 (recognizing separate corporate identity of parent despite evidence that parent consolidated its profits and losses with that of its wholly-owned subsidiary in presenting parent's financial reports to shareholders, that subsidiary was considered a "division" of parent, and that subsidiary accounted for 60% of parent's and subsidiary's combined operations). The critical factual question in de Walker, as in Tapp, was not the degree of control the parent exercised over the subsidiary, but whether the two businesses preserved their separate corporate identities: "[W]hile the documents...indicate that [the parent] was ultimately the sole beneficiary and director of [the subsidiary's] corporate activities, there is nothing in the record to undermine [the parent's] claim that the two corporations were separately incorporated, had separate boards of directors, kept separate accounting and tax records, and had separate facilities and operational personnel." The Court further

*Moline*⁵⁷ and its extensive progeny make clear that an individual may choose how to conduct his business affairs, and the individual may choose to conduct business through a wholly owned corporation so long as that corporation actually transacts some business or serves some legitimate business purpose.⁵⁸

After the Supreme Court decided Moline, the factual question that many federal courts repeatedly analyzed was the degree of business purpose and activity necessary for recognition of a corporation as a separate entity. These courts have consistently applied a standard of "minimal" business purpose and activity.

*Commissioner of Internal Revenue v. State-Adams Corp.*⁵⁹ demonstrates that a corporation's business activity may be minor and passive and still meet the requisite standard of minimal business activity.

reasoned that the close interrelationship of the corporations was incidental to the parent's ownership of 100% of the subsidiary's stock and did "not justify ignoring the otherwise separate character of the two corporations."

⁵⁷ Moline Properties v. Commissioner, 319 U.S. 436 (1943)

⁵⁸ Proper observance of procedural formalities may evidence a corporation's legitimate business purpose even when the corporation's sole business activity is investment and loan transactions. See, for instance Republic Petroleum Corporation v. United States of America, 397 F. Supp. 900 (1975) at pp. 910. Although the decision was affirmed in part and reversed in part, 613 F.2d 518 (1980), the authority for which this case is cited was not affected. In Republic Petroleum Corporation the Internal Revenue Service attempted to disregard three corporations as separate taxable entities because, they argued, the three corporations served no useful business purposes. The three corporations were entirely owned and directed by the taxpayer. They had no separate offices or telephones. Instead, they used the taxpayer's offices and telephones. The three corporations had no employees and paid no wages. The principal business activity of the three corporations was the management of a variety of investments. Each owned real estate, stocks, and other assets and had accounts receivable and accounts payable. Their income consisted mainly of dividends, interest, income from investments and gains on the sales of capital assets. Each corporation used its own funds to purchase assets and satisfy debts. Separate books and records were kept and separate board meetings were held.

The court held that the three corporations conducted the requisite amount of business activity and stated, "...each corporation earned income from a variety of investments, bought and sold assets and loaned and borrowed money. The proper corporate form was followed for all transactions. In both quantum and quality, this consistent corporate activity, despite the lack of telephones or employees, far exceeds that which the Supreme Court and many lower courts have recognized as sufficient to satisfy the Moline and National Carbide standards."

In State-Adams Corp. title to property was transferred to a corporation newly formed for that purpose in exchange for its capital stock. At the same time, the long term lease was assigned to the corporation in return for its promissory note payable to the life tenant, the interest on the note being equivalent to the amount of rent received from the leased property. At no time did the corporation have a bank account or maintain an office other than the required statutory one. Its only expense consisted of bank service fees, legal fees and franchise taxes. Since the interest payments were ~~intended to exhaust the rental income, the corporation took appropriate steps to~~ refund the debt by notes at a higher interest rate when the rental income increased pursuant to the terms of the lease. The corporation's only activities were the holding of the lease and title to the property and the taking of steps necessary to continue its corporate existence. The corporation did not engage in any activity not connected with the leased property. The court held that a corporation formed to facilitate the devolution of property, which merely holds title, collects rents from lessees and distributes the income has engaged in business and will be taxed as a separate entity.

Later cases have explicitly articulated a "minimal" standard of business activity and purpose. The Fifth Circuit stated in *Britt v United States*⁶⁰ that "[b]usiness activity is required for recognition of the corporation as a separate taxable entity; [and] the activity may be minimal."⁶¹

Similarly a District Court stated in *Lane v. United States*⁶² that the "degree of corporate purpose and activity requiring recognition of the corporation as a separate entity is extremely low, and business activity may be minimal to be considered as having a business purpose."⁶³

The court in *Lane v. United States*⁶⁴ applying this standard and citing *Strong v. Commissioner*⁶⁵ held that "a corporation has a sufficient business purpose, for purposes of federal taxes, if the only reason for forming the corporation is to obtain financing, when the usury laws of a state would otherwise deny a stockholder similar financing in his own name."⁶⁶

If a corporation has the requisite business purpose and activity, the Fifth Circuit went so far as to hold in *Spector v. Commissioner*⁶⁷ that not only must the corporate form be respected but a taxpayer is bound by the form in which he casts a transaction, whether it be a corporation, partnership, or sole proprietorship, absent fraud, undue influence, or mistake.⁶⁸

Consistent with this reasoning, the Fifth Circuit recently stated in *Bramblett v. Commissioner*⁶⁹ that the "business of a corporation is not ordinarily attributable to its shareholders," emphasizing that the corporate entity will be upheld so long as there is "... at least one major independent business reason to form [a] corporation...[such as]...to insulate the partnership and the partners from unlimited liability from a multitude of sources."⁷⁰ [Emphasis added.]

The Tax Court also respects a corporation's separate existence when minimal business activities are transacted. In Rogers,⁷¹ the second corporation had no office (other than that of its registered agent, as required by state law), had no salaried officers or employees, and maintained no books or records. The Court concluded in Rogers that "...its business activities, while admittedly minimal, were sufficient to enable it to carry out the purpose for which it was created."

Thus, courts have consistently held that if a corporation has a business purpose it will not be disregarded.

Similarly if Yurta Faf Limited has a business purpose it is unlikely that Yurta Faf Limited will be disregarded.

Since the establishment of Yurta Faf Limited by its shareholders it has conducted the following activities: issued a private annuity,⁷² acquired assets,⁷³ administered the assets,⁷⁴ paid administration fees,⁷⁵ issued a loan,⁷⁶ researched various investment opportunities,⁷⁷ and insulated its shareholders from unlimited liability.⁷⁸

It is more likely than not, under the line of cases cited herein, that these activities will be sufficient for Yurta Faf Limited to be respected as a corporate entity with an existence separate from its shareholders.

⁷² Private Annuity Agreement dated to be effective February 22, 1996.

⁷³ Yurta Faf Limited acquired non-statutory stock options in exchange for issuing a private annuity. Yurta Faf Limited has to market and sell all or some of these non-statutory stock options and invest the proceeds to permit it to have liquid funds to pay the deferred annuity payments.

Additionally, the Memorandum of Association of Yurta Faf Limited and the Isle of Man Companies Act of 1986, specifically permit Yurta Faf Limited to develop its business activities further.⁷⁹

As discussed above courts have recognized legitimate business purpose and activity where a corporation's only activities were the mere holding of a lease and title to property and the taking of steps necessary to continue its corporate existence,⁸⁰ and where a taxpayer organized a second corporation to loan and finance the taxpayer's first corporation,⁸¹ and where the only reason for forming a corporation was to obtain financing because the usury laws of a state would otherwise deny a stockholder similar financing in his own name.⁸²

Thus, it is our opinion that Yurta Faf Limited, which has kept separate bank accounts,⁸³ separate corporate records,⁸⁴ issued stock,⁸⁵ elected directors and officers,⁸⁶

D. The sole shareholder of Yurta Faf Limited is The Bessie Trust, a foreign settled grantor trust. The Bessie Trust is a grantor trust settled by a nonresident alien, thus Yurta Faf Limited should not be subject to U.S. income taxation under the foreign personal holding company (FPHC) rules, personal holding company (PHC) rules, or Passive Foreign Investment Company (PFIC) rules, because constructive ownership of the shares of Yurta Faf Limited likely resides with the grantor of The Bessie Trust, a nonresident alien, and not with its beneficiaries.

It is our opinion that because of the broad scope of the grantor trust rules, Revenue Rulings involving stock attribution rules for foreign personal holding companies (FPHC's), personal holding companies (PHC's) and general counsel memorandums, constructive ownership of the shares of Yurta Faf Limited likely resides with the grantor of The Bessie Trust and not with its beneficiaries.

The grantor trust rules of Internal Revenue Code Section 671 through Internal Revenue Code Section 679 provide that grantors and not beneficiaries of grantor trusts are taxable as the owners of all items of trust income, deductions, and credits. These grantor trust rules have a sweeping scope, covering all trusts and providing no exceptions.⁹¹ Internal Revenue Code Section 671(a) specifically states:

⁹¹ The 1996 Tax Act revised Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f). The revised Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f) (1) provides "[N]otwithstanding any other provision of this subpart, this subparagraph shall apply only to the extent such application results in an amount (if any) being currently taken into account (directly or through 1 or more entities) under this chapter in computing the income of a citizen or resident of the United States or a domestic corporation." Currently there are no regulations to interpret this statute.

Under the pre-1996 Tax Act grantor trust rules (Internal Revenue Code Sections 671-679), a grantor that retains certain rights or powers was treated as the taxable owner of the trust's assets without regard to whether the grantor is a domestic or foreign person. However, under the newly enacted Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(1) notwithstanding a foreign grantor's retention of any grantor powers (other than certain limited powers such as the power to revoke the foreign trust or to have the trust's income distributable to the grantor (or grantor's spouse) during grantor's lifetime), if the foreign trust makes a distribution of income to a U.S. beneficiary the U.S. beneficiary will have taxable income. While this taxation of a U.S. beneficiary of a foreign grantor trust is in contravention of the pre-1996 Tax Act grantor trust regime, it appears that the statute only applies with respect to the taxation of current distributions of income to U.S. beneficiaries. This provision does not appear to disturb the well-established grantor trust rules with respect to constructive ownership of trust assets: Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(3)(B) provides that "paragraph (1) shall not apply for purposes of applying section 1296." Internal Revenue Code Section 1296 deals with Passive Foreign Investment Companies. The 1996 Tax Act did not modify the PFIC statute other than to exclude foreign trade income of a foreign sales corporation and export trade income of an export trade corporation from the

"Where it is specified in this subpart that the grantor or another person shall be treated as the owner of any portion of a trust, there shall then be included in computing the taxable income and credits of the grantor or the other person those items of income, deductions, and credits against the tax of an individual."

Corresponding regulations explain that since the grantor of a grantor trust has "substantial dominion and control over the trust," the grantor is subject to the tax consequences of the grantor trust *as if the trust did not exist.*⁹² Income Tax Regulation definition of a PFIC for purposes of the PFIC definition. Consequently, it appears that Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(1) does not attribute constructive ownership of an underlying foreign corporation to the U.S. beneficiaries of a foreign trust, and thus PFIC tax consequences should not apply to such U.S. beneficiaries.

Thus, Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(3)(b) appears to specifically provide that constructive ownership should be attributed to the foreign grantor of a foreign trust and not its U.S. beneficiaries. In support of this position is the legislative explanation of PFIC stock attribution rules which has not been modified by the 1996 Tax Act. The General Explanation of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, commonly referred to as the Blue Book, was prepared by the staff of the Joint Committee on Taxation and released on May 7, 1987. This publication indicates that, in the cases of a grantor trust, the grantor trust rules should determine the attribution of PFIC stock from a trust:

"In determining stock ownership, a U.S. person is considered to own his or her proportionate share of the stock of a PFIC owned by any partnership, trust, or estate of which the person is a partner or beneficiary (or, in certain cases, grantor) In attributing stock owned by a trust, it is intended that the general rules of subchapter J apply. That is, in the case of a grantor trust, any stock owned by the trust generally shall be attributed to the grantor of the trust, and any stock owned by a trust which is not a grantor trust shall be attributed to the beneficiaries of the trust." [Emphasis added.]

Thus, it appears that the attribution of PFIC stock as explained in the Blue Book coincides with Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(3)(B), and that constructive ownership of foreign grantor trust assets will continue to be attributed to the grantor, although income distributions distributed by a foreign grantor trust to a U.S. beneficiary will be taxable to the U.S. beneficiary.

Alternatively, absent clarifying Income Tax Regulations promulgated under Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(3)(B), it is possible that Internal Revenue Code Section 672(f)(3)(B) was intended not to affect attribution of the shares of a foreign corporation underlying a foreign grantor trust, but to insure that PFIC grantors would be treated as taxable grantors.

Section 1.671-2(b) states that "...the principle underlying Subpart E (Section 671 and following), Part I, Subchapter J, Chapter 1 of the Code, is in general that income of a trust over which the grantor or another person has retained substantial dominion or control should be taxed to the grantor or other person rather than to the trust which receives the income or to the beneficiary to whom the income may be distributed..." Thus, the underlying principle of the grantor trust rules and taxation of the grantor is that a grantor retaining "substantial dominion and control" over the trust should bear the trust's tax consequences rather than the beneficiary or the trust itself.

General Counsel Memoranda 37228, while not to be relied upon or otherwise cited as precedent by a taxpayer,⁹³ indicates that in the case of a grantor trust the Internal Revenue Service will apply the grantor trust rules to determine the attribution of stock owned by a trust:⁹⁴

" We believe that a grantor who is the owner of a trust under Code Section 671 et seq. must necessarily be considered the owner for Federal income tax purposes of the underlying trust property⁹⁵....[W]e now believe that the conclusion in G.C.M. 34389 that the trust is the owner of the stock, rather than the grantor, is incorrect⁹⁶. . . Thus, in cases when the grantor is found to have the requisite power over all 'income' of a trust, the grantor is held to be the owner of the entire trust and, inter alia, is taxed individually on all such income."⁹⁷[Emphasis added.]

General Counsel Memorandum 37228 explains that by stating in the grantor trust rules that the grantor is considered the "owner" of the trust assets "Congress must have meant something more than just being the 'owner' of the 'items of income, income tax liability all items of income, deduction, and credit (including capital gains and losses to which he would have been entitled had the trust not been in existence during the period he is treated as owner." [Emphasis added.]

deductions, and credits' attributable to such portion. Otherwise, Congress would have enacted language to the effect that the grantor would be treated as 'the taxpayer' with respect to the items of income, deductions, and credits attributable to the appropriate portion of the trust. However, the fact that "owner" is used in the statute, with all its significance for tax purposes, implies that ownership of the trust and its underlying assets is intended by Congress.⁹⁸

When the power causing the trust to be taxed as a grantor trust is later terminated, the trust will become the tax owner and the grantor will be viewed as transferring the interest to the trust.⁹⁹

Thus, it is more likely than not that the grantor will be attributed constructive ownership of the trust assets including constructive ownership of the stock of Yurta Faf Limited.¹⁰⁰

The Internal Revenue Service has applied the grantor trust rules to stock attribution rules for Foreign Personal Holding Companies (FPHC's) and Personal Holding Companies (PHC's).

The grantor of The Bessie Trust, is attributed grantor trust status because a nonadverse party has retained at least two grantor trust powers over the trust:¹⁰¹ (1) the power to cause the trust income to be distributed to the grantor without the approval of an adverse party; and (2) the power to cause trust income or principal to be applied to insurance policies on the grantor's life, as well as other lives.¹⁰² Because a nonadverse

¹⁰⁰ Other instances in which the Internal Revenue Service held that the grantor was the owner of assets in a grantor trust include General Counsel Memorandum 34347 published as Revenue Ruling 70-544, and Revenue Ruling 70-545. In these rulings, pools of mortgages (guaranteed by a mortgage company) were found to be grantor trusts, holders of participation certificates were treated as owners of their proportionate shares of the assets of the trusts, i.e., the mortgages. In O.M. 17909, stock held by a grantor trust was treated as owned by the grantor under Internal Revenue Code Section 368(c). In Revenue Ruling 77-402 the grantor was considered the owner of all the trust property for federal income tax purposes, including the partnership interest held by the trust, and the grantor rather than the trust was considered to be the partner during the time the trust was a "grantor trust."

¹⁰¹ See Footnote 137.

¹⁰² See Footnote 137.

party has retained these requisite grantor trust powers over The Bessie Trust, the grantor, should be attributed grantor trust status and be held to be the owner of the entire trust. Because the grantor is a nonresident alien who is not subject to taxation in the United States, it is unlikely that Yurta Faf Limited will be held to be a Foreign Personal Holding Company (FPHC), Personal Holding Company (PHC), or Passive Foreign Investment Company (PFIC) for United States income tax purposes.

~~E. It is unlikely that the non-statutory stock options transferred by Mr. Sam Wyly to The Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, will be subject to an excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 1491; it is similarly unlikely that a subsequent transfer of such non-statutory stock options by The Tallulah International Trust to Yurta Faf Limited in exchange for a private annuity of an equivalent value will be subject to an excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 1491.~~

An excise tax is imposed on certain transfers of appreciated property by a domestic entity or individual to a foreign corporation when such transfers constitute paid-in surplus or a capital contribution to the foreign corporation; an excise tax is similarly imposed on transfers of appreciated property by a domestic entity or individual to a foreign trust, foreign estate, or foreign partnership.¹⁰³

It is our understanding that Mr. Sam Wyly, a United States citizen and resident, is the grantor of the Tallulah International Trust, a grantor trust, and that he transferred appreciated assets to this trust. The federal income tax treatment of appreciated property transferred by an individual to a foreign trust that is a grantor trust is explained in Research Institute of America Federal Tax Coordinator 2d at Paragraph O-3701 as follows:

"The [excise] tax does not apply to the transfer of appreciated property to a foreign trust if the grantor is treated as the owner of the trust under the grantor trust rules. This is because the grantor, being treated as the owner of the trust, continues to be the owner of the property transferred to the trust. The tax is imposed only at the time the grantor ceases to be the owner of the trust, i.e., when he relinquishes or loses the right or power that caused the grantor trust rules to apply."¹⁰⁴

¹⁰³ Internal Revenue Code Section 1491.

Consistent with this reasoning, the Internal Revenue Service in Revenue Ruling 87-61 ruled that "[T]he transfer...of appreciated property to a foreign trust is not a transfer subject to the tax imposed by section 1491 of the Code because [the grantor] is treated as the owner of the entire trust within the meaning of section 671."¹⁰⁵

As noted above, Mr. Sam Wyly, a United States citizen and resident, transferred appreciated non-statutory stock options to a foreign situs grantor trust, The Tallulah International Trust, of which he is the grantor.¹⁰⁶ The Tallulah International Trust is recognized as a grantor trust under the grantor trust rules of Internal Revenue Code Section 671 through Internal Revenue Code Section 679, and the transferor of the appreciated assets to The Tallulah International Trust is the grantor of The Tallulah International Trust.¹⁰⁷ Thus, Mr. Sam Wyly, who is treated as the owner of the Tallulah International Trust, continues to be the owner of the assets transferred to the trust. Under these circumstances and based on the foregoing, it is our opinion that it is unlikely that the grantor's transfer of appreciated assets to The Tallulah International Trust will be subject to excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 1491.

It is our further understanding that The Tallulah International Trust subsequently transferred such non-statutory stock options to Yurta Faf Limited, a foreign corporation, in exchange for a private annuity of an equivalent value. Because this transfer is not paid-in capital or a contribution to capital to Yurta Faf Limited, it is unlikely to be subject to the excise tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 1491.

General Counsel Memoranda 37329 states in pertinent part "[B]y its terms, Code Section 1491 is inapplicable to a foreign corporation [unless] appreciated stocks or securities are transferred as paid-in surplus or as contributions to capital."¹⁰⁸ [Emphasis sounds good. do you have to give him the details of the owners of the companies? why would you have necessarily known who the shareholders were; when entering into the transaction. I think the directors would have signed off on the paperwork, so couldn't you say that based on the documentation provided in the transaction, you have no information indicating who the shareholders are? I think we'll need to check out what was said, signed and represented at the time, but this might be an option.

Will need addresses for both. Also SS# on Charles.

Also, I still don't understand the event where Charles is CONTRIBUTING his options to Stargate on June 15, 1999. Why was there no taxable event ??

I'll fax you the w/h statements.

We can always take care of this next week but if you want to call me I'll be around Tues and Wed.

Keeley,

For the stock option certificates I need to get the addresses of the Isle of Mann companies. Do you want us to send the certificates straight to you or send to the Isle of Mann ?? Also, I need to get from you the incorporation papers on the companies with the officers and directors.

I'm waiting to hear from the EY people on whether the value of the options are OK. Once I hear I'll get the withholding tax amounts.

And I'm working on changing the letter.

Steve - Well, that was a fun evening. I have the values of the options and would like to fax them to you but need a fax number (not sure if you are in NY). The only difference you will notice between this value and the 99 values is there is no discount off the price of the stock since there are no restrictions on the stock. It is a straight black sholes value based on yesterday's closing price. Please let me know and I will send to you and we can discuss.

STERLING COMMERCE, INC.
1996 STOCK OPTION PLAN

Stock Option Agreement

This Stock Option Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into by and between Sterling Commerce, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and Sam Wyly (the "Participant"). The Company and the Participant agree as follows:

1. Grant of Stock Option. Pursuant to a duly adopted resolution of the Special Stock Option Committee on February 12, 1996 (the "Date of Grant"), the Company hereby grants to the Participant, upon the terms and conditions set forth below and subject to the terms and conditions of the Company's 1996 Stock Option Plan (the "Plan"), an option (the "Stock Option") to purchase from the Company a total of 3,000,000 shares of the Company's common stock, par value $0.01 per share ("Common Stock"), at an exercise price per share (the "Option Price") equal to the price per share to the public of the shares of Common Stock offered and sold by the Company in the underwritten initial offering of the Common Stock ("IPO"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Stock Option will be effective on the date on which the purchase and sale of the Common Stock pursuant to the IPO first occurs and may not be exercised prior to such date. Any terms, when used in this Agreement with initial capital letters but not defined herein, have the same meanings as in the Plan, the provisions of which are incorporated into this Agreement by reference. The Participant acknowledges receipt of a copy of the Plan.

2. Time of Exercise. The Stock Option may be exercised, in whole or in part, at any time on or after the date on which this Stock Option becomes effective, as provided in Section 1, without regard to whether the Participant is an employee of the Company or any Subsidiary at the time of exercise. In no event may the Stock Option be exercised in whole or in part, however, after the expiration of the term described in Section 3 below.

3. Term. The Stock Option will expire and all rights under this Agreement will terminate on the tenth anniversary of the Date of Grant.

4. Restrictions on Exercise. The Stock Option:

(a) may be exercised only with respect to full shares and no fractional shares of Common Stock will be issued upon exercise of the Stock Option; and will be delivered if any requisite registration with, clearance by, or consent, approval or authorization of, any governmental authority of any kind having jurisdiction over the exercise of the Stock Option, or issuance of securities upon such exercise, has not been obtained or secured.

5. Manner of Exercise. The Stock Option may be exercised by written notice to the Company of the number of shares being purchased and the Option Price to be paid, accompanied by full payment of the Option Price (a) in cash or by check acceptable to the Company, (b) by the transfer to the Company of shares of Common Stock owned by the Participant for at least six months and having an aggregate fair market value per share at the date of exercise equal to the aggregate Option Price (provided that the payment method described in this clause (b) will not be available at any time that the Company is prohibited from purchasing or acquiring such shares of Common Stock), or (c) by a combination of any of the foregoing, provided that payment of the Option Price may also be made by deferred payment from the proceeds of sale through a bank or broker of some or all of the shares to which the exercise relates. Any federal, state or local taxes required to be paid or withheld at the time of exercise will be paid or withheld in full prior to any delivery of shares upon exercise.

6. Transferability of Stock Options. This Stock Option may be transferred by the Participant on five days prior written notice to the Company.

7. Rights as Stockholder. Neither the Participant nor any of the Participant's beneficiaries will be deemed to have any rights as a stockholder with respect to any shares covered by the Stock Option until the issuance of a certificate to the Participant for such shares.

8. Adjustments. The number of shares of Common Stock covered by the Stock Option evidenced by this Agreement, and the Option Price thereof, will be subject to adjustment as provided in the Plan. No adjustment will be made for dividends or other rights for which the record date is prior to the issuance of the certificate of certificates representing shares issued pursuant to the Stock Option.

9. Rights in Event of Death of Participant. In the event of the death of the Participant, the Stock Option may be exercised by the Participant's estate or a person who acquired the right to exercise the Stock Option by bequest or inheritance or by reason of the death of the Participant. In no event may the Stock Option be exercised after the expiration date set forth in Section 3.

10. Stock Purchased for Investment. Unless the shares are covered by a then current and effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as then in effect, the Participant, by accepting the Stock Option, represents, warrants, covenants and agrees on behalf of the Participant and the Participant's transferees that all shares of Common Stock purchased upon the exercise of the Stock Option will be acquired for investment and not for resale or distribution, and that upon ~~each exercise of any portion of the Stock Option, the person~~ entitled to exercise the same will furnish evidence satisfactory to the Company (including a written and signed representation) to the effect that the shares are being acquired in good faith for investment and not for resale or distribution. The Participant agrees to furnish or execute such documents as the Company in its discretion deems necessary to (a) evidence such exercise of the Stock Option, (b) determine whether registration is then required under the Securities Act of 1933, as then in effect, and (c) comply with or satisfy the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, or any other federal, state or local law, as then in effect.

11. Notices. Each notice relating to this Agreement will be in writing and delivered in person or by certified mail to the proper address. Each notice will be deemed to have been given on the date it is received. Each notice to the Company will be addressed to it at its principal office, now 8080 North Central Expressway, Suite 1100, Dallas, Texas 75206, attention of the Secretary. Each notice to the Participant or other person or persons then entitled to exercise the Stock Option will be addressed to the Participant or such other person or persons at the Participant's address specified below. Anyone to whom a notice may be given under this Agreement may designate a new address by notice to that effect.

12. Employment. This Agreement does not confer upon the Participant any right to be employed or to continue in the employ of the Company or any Subsidiary, nor does it in any way interfere with the right of the Company or any Subsidiary to terminate the employment of the Participant at any time.

13. No Obligation to Exercise Stock Option. This Agreement does not impose any obligation upon the Participant to exercise the Stock Option.

14. Amendments. The Special Stock Option Committee may, without the consent of the Participant, amend this Agreement, or otherwise take action, to accelerate the time or times at which the Stock Option may be exercised, to extend the term described in Section 3 above, to waive any other condition or restriction applicable to the Stock Option or to the exercise of the Stock Option, to reduce the Option Price and to make any other change permitted to be made under the Plan without the consent of the Participant; and may amend the Agreement in any other respect with the consent of the Participant.

15. Governing Law. This Agreement is intended to be performed in the State of Texas and will be construed and enforced in accordance with and governed by the laws of such State, except as to matters of corporate law, which will be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Company and the Participant have executed this Agreement as of the 12th day of February, 1996.

Would you run me a purchase sale history in total return on all the entities that own SE Options and fax it to me. Didn't Ramona own and exercise some SE options? I'm wondering if that is the elusive 188,333 shares. I almost think I remember Elegance maybe exercising and selling some shares too.

January 11, 2001

Mr. Sam Wyly
300 Crescent Court, Suite 1000
Dallas, Texas 75201-7852

Dear Mr. Wyly:

As part of SBC Communications Inc.'s ("SBC") acquisition of the stock of Sterling Commerce ("Sterling") in March, 2000, all outstanding options to purchase shares of Sterling were canceled. All option holders received cash from SBC/Sterling based on the excess of the stock purchase price over the option exercise price. A grantor trust that held Sterling options previously granted to you received cash proceeds from SBC/Sterling for the exercise of options.

Typically, the exercise of nonqualified stock options, such as those issued by Sterling, require the option holder to recognize taxable income in the year the options are exercised. The company issuing the options receives a tax deduction to the extent income is recognized by the option holder. The company has a legal obligation to report the amount of income recognized by an option holder to the Internal Revenue Service.

Because of this reporting obligation, SBC is preparing to issue a Form 1099 to you/your trust showing taxable income of $ 46,575,000.00. If you are aware of any reason that this Form 1099 should not be issued, please contact either Larry Ruzicka at (210) [REDACTED] or me at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

CC: Al Hoover

Dear Mr. Wylly:

As part of SBC Communications Inc.'s ("SBC") acquisition of the stock of Sterling Commerce ("Sterling") in March, 2000, all outstanding options to purchase shares of Sterling were canceled. All option holders received cash from SBC/Sterling based on the excess of the stock purchase price over the option exercise price. A grantor trust that held Sterling options previously granted to you received cash proceeds from SBC/Sterling for the exercise of options.

Typically, the exercise of nonqualified stock options, such as those issued by Sterling, require the option holder to recognize taxable income in the year the options are exercised. The company issuing the options receives a tax deduction to the extent income is recognized by the option holder. The company has a legal obligation to report the amount of income recognized by an option holder to the Internal Revenue Service.

Because of this reporting obligation, SBC is preparing to issue a Form 1099 to you/your trust showing taxable income of $ 27,337,500.00. If you are aware of any reason that this Form 1099 should not be issued, please contact either Larry Ruzicka at (210) [REDACTED] or me at your earliest convenience.

Al Hoover is sending over some info from SAC's tax department on '099's. They are saying there is nothing in their file to show why the offshore trusts should not be issued a 1099 and they plan to do so at 1/31 unless they receive documentation from us. The amounts are $27.3M CJW, $46.6M SW and $4.1 M Evan. I don't have offshore financials for this period so I am not sure exactly which trusts we are talking about. Evan wants me to call Rodney which I will do once I receive this letter, but thought I might check to see if the issue has ever come up before?

Subject: Option info

Here is what I have been able to gather:

The option income SBC is concerned with are those that were sold in 96 in exchange for private annuities. The trusts involved are:

Charles Wyly - Tyler Trust (Elysium)
Sam Wyly - Bulldog Trust (Moberly)
Evan Wyly - Bessie Trust (Atlantis)

All three of these transactions took place as follows:
3/7/96 Options issued from Sterling COmmerce to individual
3/7/96 Each individual settled the options to a IOM grantor trust
3/7/96 The IOM trust sold to the above subsidiaries for private annuity
12/31/96 Each IOM grantor trust distributed the private annuities to the individual

Michelle seems to remember that forms were filed when the private annuities were distributed in Dec 96, but she can't remember for sure.

They do not seem to be concerned with the options that were sold offshore in 11/99, only the 96 transaction.

Let me know what else you need. Thanks

Re: Purchase of Sterling Commerce Option from Elysium Limited.

Dear Mr. Stephens:

SBC purchased stock options in Sterling Commerce from Elysium Limited as a part of SBC's acquisition of Sterling Commerce in March of 2000. You have inquired as to whether SBC must file a Form 1099 with the Internal Revenue Service regarding the sales transaction. Although we did not represent Elysium Limited with respect to such sale, we serve as U.S. counsel for Elysium Limited and have been authorized by its representatives to respond to your inquiry. Elysium Limited is a foreign corporation organized and residing in the Isle of Man. Accordingly, it is not appropriate for SBC to file a Form 1099, or any other reporting papers regarding this transaction, because Elysium Limited is a foreign corporation and the income from the purchase of the stock options is not subject to U.S. taxation.

A payment to a corporation is only reported based upon the limited situations described in the Instructions to Form 1099, none of which apply here. [See, General Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G at p. Gen-10, 11; Treas. Reg. § 1.6041-3(c)(1990); Treas. Reg. § 1.6041-3(q)(Jan. 1, 2001)]. In addition, of course, a Form 1099 should not be filed for this transaction because it involves a foreign payee. [See, Treas. Reg. §§ 1.6041-2(c)(1), -3, -4 (Jan. 1, 2001)].

MEMORANDUM

FROM: MIKE FRENCH
DATE: 02/09/01
RE: SE OPTIONS

The SE options issued to SW, CJW and EW in 1996 were initially transferred by them to grantor trusts of which they continued to be treated as owners for U.S. income tax purposes. A representative assignment agreement is attached as Exhibit "A". Also in March 1996 the options were further transferred by the grantor trusts to entities owned by irrevocable foreign trusts of which SW, CJW and EW are not treated as grantors or owners for U.S. income tax purposes (the "Second Transfers"). A representative second assignment agreement is attached as Exhibit "B".

The Second Transfers were completed sales of the options to independent trusts administered by independent trustees. The SE options were valued in the Second Transfers at their Black-Scholes values. The assignments were acknowledged and agreed to by SE.

Had the Second Transfers been for cash, there would have been a taxable event at that time, triggering an income tax liability on the part of SW, CJW and EW and a corresponding tax deduction on the part of SE.

However, in exchange for such options, SW, CJW and EW received private annuity agreements issued by entities owned by the foreign trusts (Exhibit "C"). The private annuity agreements (the "Annuities") provided for life annuities to each of SW, CJW and EW, with annual payments commencing after a period of deferral. The annuity agreements set forth the Black-Scholes values of the options. As of this date, payments have not yet commenced.

Following the Second Transfers, the intervening grantor trusts were liquidated and the private annuities were distributed to SW, CJW and EW.

In connection with the option transfers, the Annuity recipients received legal opinions from Chatzky and Associates (Exhibit "D") to the effect that the transfer of the SE options in exchange for the Annuities created no immediate taxable gain, and therefore were not taxable in 1996. The opinions further state that the payments under the Annuities would be taxable as and when received.

wanted to let everyone know that I heard a final answer from SBC today that they will not be issuing any 1099's to Sam, Charles or Ewan for the option exercises. They are sending a letter to me with what information they need. The good news is that I do not think they are going to require anything from the trustees or directors directly. They seem to be most ~~focused on the annuity payout schedules and getting yearly updates on these. We also will not need to do any indemnity agreement with regard to penalties.~~

The only issue they are looking into is whether they have any reporting requirements with regard to payments to foreign corporations. I have a call into Rodney to check this out (they do not sound too concerned about it). They also said there is a very slim chance they may find a strong enough position to take a deduction on their return this year. If they do and are audited the private annuity agreement could be challenged. Again, they did not think this was a high likelihood and we will likely have this risk whenever they take the deduction.

I will keep everyone informed when I get their letter, but looks like we do not have to worry about any 1099's surfacing.

Thanks
Keeley

Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations
EXHIBIT #66 - FN 720

Memo to File

Re: Sale of Sterling Commerce Options to SBC

Under §881, foreign corporations are taxed on various income items even though they are not effectively connected to a United States trade or business. ~~Income items taxed under §881 are United States source items which are "fixed and determinable annual or periodic" gains, profits and income ('FDAP'), including, but not limited to interest, dividends, rents, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations and emoluments (§881(a)). If income is deemed to be taxable under §881, withholding requirements exist under §1442 unless the payor has received proper documentation of exemption from withholding from the payee.~~

The sale of an option could be FDAP from the language of the statute because it produced a gain. However, the Regulations clarify that a sale of property is not FDAP, presumably because it is not periodic. The regulations effective until January 1, 2001 state that "Income derived from the sale in the United States of property, whether real or personal, is not fixed or determinable annual or periodic income." (Treas. Reg. §1441-2(a)(3) effective before 1/1/2001) The new regulations continue this rule by excepting "gains derived from the sale of property (including market discount and options premiums)..." from the definition of FDAP. (Treas. Reg. §1441-2(b)(2)(i) effective after 12/31/2000). This rule was further explained in the preamble to the new regulation which state that "the IRS and Treasury believe that the statute contemplates very few exceptions to the concept of FDAP and the only clear exception is for gain from the disposition of property."

As the gain from the sale of the option should not be considered FDAP, it is not income to the seller under Section 881. Similarly, the Buyer should not have any withholding requirements with regard to the payment under Section 1442.

The second question involves reporting requirements. Generally, no 1099 informational reporting is required for payments to a corporation. The new regulations under §6041 address when a payor may treat the payee as a corporation exempt from 1099 reporting. These include:

- 1) The name of the payee contains an unambiguous expression of corporate status such as Inc., Corp., etc.
- 2) The payor has on file a corporate resolution or similar documents clearly indicating corporate status.
- 3) The payor has received a Form W-9 which includes an EIN and a statement from the payee that it is a domestic corporation.

- 4) The payor has received a withholding certificate described in §1441-1(c)(2)(i) that includes a certification that the person whose name is on the certificate is a foreign corporation.

To accomplish this certification, the Sellers could provide the Buyer with a Form W-8BEN, in which the Seller certifies that they are a foreign corporation. For this purpose, the form merely asks the name of the organization, the type of organization and the company's address. Additionally, the Seller could provide the Buyer with a corporate resolution under (2) above.

A requirement could also exist to file Form 1042-S. However, under new Regulations applicable to payments after 12/31/2000 "amounts subject to reporting on Form 1042-S are amounts paid to a foreign payee that are amounts subject to withholding as defined in §1.1441-2(a)." Since no withholding requirement exists under §1441 (see above), no 1042-S filing requirement exists.

In summary, no withholding or information reporting is required. The sale of property falls under the exception in the definition of FDAP for sales of property. Under the information reporting regulations, because withholding does not apply, the payments need not be reported on Form 1099 or Form 1042-S. However, the Seller should provide the Buyer proof of corporate status under one of the methods described above to be kept in their files.

Keeley.

To follow up on this, our legal group has determined the following:

I reviewed IRC §1442, which governs withholding and reporting on payments to foreign corporations, and offer the following for further discussion:

If SBC/Sterling were deemed to be a payer (and withholding agent) of fixed or determinable annual or periodical income from sources within the United States to a foreign corporation, then U.S. withholding at the rate of 30% would have applied. However, if the payee had provided SBC/Sterling with a Form W-8ECI, Certificate of Foreign Person's Claim for Exemption from Withholding on Income Effectively Connected With the Conduct of a Trade or Business in the United States, prior to the payment, then SBC/Sterling could have relied on the Form W-8ECI and not withheld U.S. tax on the payment.

Regardless of whether tax was withheld, if the payments were fixed or determinable annual or periodical income from sources within the United States to a foreign corporation, then SBC/Sterling should have filed Form 1042-S, Foreign Person's U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding, with the payee and the Internal Revenue Service by March 15, 2001.

Form W-8ECI would not be filed with the IRS. The withholding agent, Sterling Commerce, would hold the properly completed Form W-8ECI in its files and may rely on the Form to treat the payments as exempt from withholding. However, the Form 1042-S would be filed with the IRS Service Center in Philadelphia.

Please let me know if you have a Form W-8ECI on file.

Thanks,
Larry

Michelle –

Enclosed are the revised letters which reflect your changes. Please note we have added our standard disclaimer at the end of each of the letters.

For the letter which will apply to the contracts currently in pay status, we have added an exhibit which details the calculation of the interest portion on the supplemental payment; hopefully, this meets your needs. If not, please let me know how we can improve the information.

I have a busy week next week and will be out of the office Thursday and Friday at a client meeting. If possible, I would like to finalize these letters by Tuesday in order to meet your July 31st deadline.

Thanks Michelle. You can reach me at either (214)  or (214)

Re: Modifications to the Private Annuity between Little Woody Limited and Charles J. Wyle, Jr. dated April 15, 1992 (the "Contract")

Dear Mr. Webb:

Upon review of the circumstances involving the 1998 amendment to defer the commencement date of the Contract by five years, I am recommending a change to the calculation of the delayed annuity payment amount. This change results in an increase in the annual annuity payment from $1,363,889 to $1,459,871, an increase of approximately 7.04%.

When the original deferral calculations were completed several years ago, the discount rate used was the rate (based upon 120% of the Applicable Federal Mid-term Rate) in effect at the end of the year that the contract was modified (1998). Thus, the discount rate used was the December, 1998 Federal Mid-term Rate of 5.4%. However, the Contract amendment was effective eleven months earlier in January of 1998. Furthermore, this eleven month period experienced a significant change in the Federal Mid-term Rate, as the January 1998 rate was 7.2%.

The discount rate basis of 120% of the Federal Mid-term Rate was used since it was consistent with the terms of the contract and the valuation principles outlined in Internal Revenue Code Section 7520 and related regulations. In effect since May 1, 1989, IRC Section 7520 specifies the basis and actuarial factors for certain types of annuity valuations. The discount rates under IRC 7520 are variable to reflect current market conditions; the applicable discount rates are updated monthly.

Given this degree of change in the applicable discount rate between January and December of 1998, coupled with the valuation principle that an amendment to the terms of the Contract that affects the timing of the receipt of the annuity payments should be accomplished based upon a current market discount rate, the new payment amount of $1,459,871 is the more appropriate payment value for the Contract amendment which was effective in January, 1998.

Summarized below is a history of the calculated annuity payments for the Contract:

	Annual Payment
• Annuity payment under the original terms of the Contract, based upon an age 65 benefit commencement date	$ 909,050
• Original calculation related to the 1998 amendment to delay commencement of the annuity to age 70, using the December, 1998 discount rate of 5.4%	$ 1,363,889
• Revised calculation related to the 1998 amendment to delay commencement of the annuity to age 70, using the January, 1998 discount rate of 7.2%	$ 1,459,871

This revision, which reflects the current market discount rate in effect at the time of the Contract modification, is consistent with the calculation methodology found in the commercial annuity marketplace.

Since the first payment under the Contract was made to Charles J. Wyly, Jr. on November 1, 2003 in the amount of $1,363,889, a supplemental payment should be made to him to reflect the revised higher annual payment amount under the contract. We have calculated the supplemental payment amount to be $99,051, which is the difference between the revised and the previous annual payments ($1,459,871 - $1,363,889), accumulated with monthly interest to July 31, 2004. The monthly interest rate credited was equal to the published 120% Applicable Federal Mid-term Rate for the months of November, 2003 through July, 2004. Attached is an exhibit detailing the calculation of the interest accumulation on the supplement payment from November 1, 2003 to July 31, 2004.

Retirement Horizons' role with respect to the private annuity contracts is strictly confined to providing actuarial calculations of the contract values using mortality and discount rate assumptions consistent with the calculation terms specified in the language of the annuity contracts. Retirement Horizons is not offering an opinion as to either the legal or tax status of these private annuity contracts.

Please call me at (214) 572-9000 if you have any questions regarding this information.

Sincerely,

Eric Ammann, FSA

COMMENTS

Michelle -

Enclosed are two exhibits showing the updated annuity valuations as of December 31, 1998 which reflect the amended annuity commencement dates for most of the annuity contracts. With the annuity commencement dates deferred five years, the current valuation of these contracts decreased significantly.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Subject: annuity valuations

05/16/2000 01:55 PM

I spoke with Eric Ammann today. I think they should recalculate the annuity payments as follows:

Extension occurred Jan 1/98
Leave payments and valuations as is through 12/31/97.
Take 12/31/97 valuation and project new payments forward using new effective/1/98 discount rate.
Re-value 12/31/98, 10/15/99 and 10/31/99 using new annual payments with applicable discount rates.

I think this is a better approach than going back to the origination date and projecting out to the new payment commencement dates, for the following

- one, I think it should give it gives a lower valuation as the discount rate has dropped.
- secondly, it is consistent with the timing of the decision being made to extend the payment start date

Eric Ammann doesn't fully understand the annuities, and is not happy to tell us which way to go. Since it could be a tax issue - I think we should as attorney's or accountants - I'm happy to run it by Rodney, but maybe Keeley should consider it too, or even think about asking EX. Let me know - I wanted your thoughts before approaching Rodney/Keeley.

I also gave Eric Ammann a heads up on a possible sale or surrender of the annuity - to get him thinking about who we should talk to within M&R - if we choose to. Eric indicated that it might be sensible to have CW/SW's health status evaluated to determine where they would fit on the general population mortality tables - and that may justify an 'adjustment' to the standard valuation.

Re: December 31, 2003 Valuation of Private Annuity Contracts

Dear Michelle:

I have updated the valuation of the private annuity contracts that were issued in April of 1992 to Charles Jr., Caroline and Sam Wyly and the 14 additional contracts that were issued in February and March of 1996 to various individuals. These valuations reflect the changes to the commencement dates and payment amounts that were made by the January 1998 amendments.

The attached Exhibit A shows the valuation results of the 1992 annuity contracts, while Exhibit B shows the values of the 1996 annuity contracts. The present values of these contracts were determined as of December 31, 2003.

Consistent with past practice, the contracts have been valued using a discount rate equal to 120% of the Federal Mid-Term Rate. This rate for December 2003 was 4.26%, and when rounded to the near .2%, resulted in the valuation discount rate of 4.2%.

The contract values as of December 31, 2003 have increased since a year ago due to the discount period being a year shorter.

Retirement Horizons' role with respect to the private annuity contracts is strictly confined to providing an updated calculation of the contract values using mortality and discount rate assumptions consistent with the calculation terms specified in the language of the annuity contracts. Retirement Horizons is not offering an opinion as to either the legal or tax status of these private annuity contracts.

Re: *Modifications to the Private Annuity between Elegance Limited and The Lincoln Creek Trust dated February 22, 1996 (the "Contract")

Dear Mr. Lewin:

Upon review of the circumstances involving the 1998 amendment to defer the commencement date of the Contract by five years, I am recommending a change to the calculation of the delayed annuity payment amount. This change results in an increase in the annual annuity payment from $2,461,209 to $2,634,138, an increase of approximately 7.03%.

When the original deferral calculations were completed several years ago, the discount rate used was the rate (based upon 120% of the Applicable Federal Mid-term Rate) in effect at the end of the year that the Contract was modified (1998). Thus, the discount rate used was the December, 1998 Federal Mid-term Rate of 5.4%. However, the Contract amendment was effective eleven months earlier in January of 1998. Furthermore, this eleven month period experienced a significant change in the Federal Mid-term Rate, as the January 1998 rate was 7.2%.

The discount rate basis of 120% of the Federal Mid-term Rate was used since it was consistent with the terms of the Contract and the valuation principles outlined in Internal Revenue Code Section 7520 and related regulations. In effect since May 1, 1989, IRC Section 7520 specifies the basis and actuarial factors for certain types of annuity valuations. The discount rates under IRC 7520 are variable to reflect current market conditions; the applicable discount rates are updated monthly.

Given this degree of change in the applicable discount rate between January and December of 1998, coupled with the valuation principle that an amendment to the terms of the Contract that affects the timing of the receipt of the annuity payments should be accomplished based upon a current market discount rate, the new payment amount of $2,634,138 is the more appropriate payment value for the Contract amendment which was effective in January, 1998.

Summarized below is a history of the calculated annuity payments for the Contract:

	Annual Payment
• Annuity payment under the original terms of the Contract, based upon an age 68 benefit commencement date	$ 1,380,999
• Original calculation related to the 1998 amendment to delay commencement of the annuity to age 73, using the December, 1998 discount rate of 5.4%	$ 2,461,209
• Revised calculation related to the 1998 amendment to delay commencement of the annuity to age 73, using the January, 1998 discount rate of 7.2%	$ 2,634,138

This revision, which reflects the current market discount rate in effect at the time of the Contract modification, is consistent with the calculation methodology found in the commercial annuity marketplace.

Retirement Horizons' role with respect to the private annuity contracts is strictly confined to providing actuarial calculations of the contract values using mortality and discount rate assumptions consistent with the calculation terms specified in the language of the annuity contracts. Retirement Horizons is not offering an opinion as to either the legal or tax status of these private annuity contracts.

Re: Modifications to the Private Annuity for East Carroll

Dear Ms. Benbatoul:

Upon review of the circumstances involving the 1998 amendment to defer the commencement date of the East Carroll private annuity contract by five years, I am recommending a change to the calculation of the delayed annuity payment amount. This change results in an increase in the annual annuity payment from $2,934,956 to $3,142,095, an increase of approximately 7.06%.

When the original deferment calculations were completed several years ago, the discount rate used was the rate (based upon 120% of the Applicable Federal Mid-term Rate) in effect at the end of the year that the contract was modified (1998). Thus, the discount rate used was the December, 1998 Federal Mid-term Rate of 5.4%. However, the contract amendment was actually executed eleven months earlier in January of 1998. Furthermore, this eleven month period experienced a significant change in the Federal Mid-term Rate, as the January 1998 rate was 7.2%.

The discount rate basis of 120% of the Federal Mid-term Rate was used since it was consistent with the terms of the contract and the valuation principles outlined in Internal Revenue Code Section 7520 and related regulations. In effect since May 1, 1989, IRC Section 7520 specifies the basis and actuarial factors for certain types of annuity valuations. The discount rates under IRC 7520 are variable to reflect current market conditions; the applicable discount rates are updated monthly.

Given this degree of change in the applicable discount rate between January and December of 1998, coupled with the valuation principle that a restructuring of the terms of the contract that affects the timing of the receipt of the annuity payments should be accomplished based upon a current market discount rate, the new payment amount of $3,142,095 is the more appropriate payment value for the contract amendment which was signed in January, 1998.

Re: Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust

Dear Ronnie:

Pursuant to Section 8 of the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust Agreement dated March 23, 1992 the Committee of Trust Protectors wishes to make the following recommendations to the Trustee.

*Opinion
Trust Protectors*

To exercise 100,000 Michaels Stores Options held in Roaring Creek, Limited which is owned by the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust using a cashless exercise thru First Boston Corporation, 3100 Texas Commerce Tower, 2200 Ross Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75201, Mr. Lou Schaufele, phone # (214) [Redacted]. The committee recommends selling all of the stock at a price to exceed at least $20.00 per share. The exercise price of the stock is $3.00 a share, requiring $300,000 to exercise the stock with Michaels Stores, Inc. Cash in excess of exercise price should exceed $1,700,000. The committee recommends a loan at 6% interest rate, to mature in one year of $1,040,625 to Little Woody Limited which is owned by the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust. The committee recommends that cash in excess of the loan be invested in short term, cash-like securities, with some currency risk that you as Trustee feels competes with U.S. certificates of deposits yielding around 4 %.

To exercise 166,500 Sterling Software, Inc. Options held by Little Woody Limited which is wholly owned by the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust using the cash loaned by Roaring Creek Limited to exercise the stock. The exercise price is $6.25 per share for a total exercise price of $1,040,625. The committee recommends that Little Woody Limited hold the Sterling Software, Inc. stock.

To exercise 100,000 Michaels Stores Options held in Maroon Limited which is owned by the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust using a cashless exercise thru First Boston Corporation, 3100 Texas Commerce Tower, 2200 Ross Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75201, Mr. Lou Schaufele, phone # (214) [Redacted]. The committee recommends selling all of the stock at a price to a least exceed $20.00 per share. The exercise price of the stock is $3.00 a share, requiring $300,000 to exercise the stock with Michaels Stores, Inc. Cash in excess of exercise price should exceed $1,700,000. The committee recommends a loan at 6% interest rate, to mature in one year of $1,040,625 to Roaring Park Limited which is owned by the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust. in short term, cash-like securities, with some currency risk that you as Trustee feels competes with U.S. certificates of deposits yielding around 4 %.

To exercise 166,500 Sterling Software, Inc. Options held by Roaring Fork Limited which is wholly owned by the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust using the cash loaned by Maroon Limited to exercise the stock. The exercise price is $6.25 per share for a total exercise price of $1,040,625. The committee recommends that Roaring Fork Limited hold the Sterling Software, Inc. stock.

 Could you tell Michele or me whom the owners of 1st Dallas, I assume that it is IOM corps. I understand that you are working on some type of document regarding this. If in the interim I knew this it would allow us to book a hot deal in the account. This is not critical but I thought I would ask (we can wait on Boucher but if it isn't hard to know the IOM corps. then I can answer our folks.) thanks

I had this discussion with Lou last week and he wrote a memo to Sam and Charles addressing this issue and that there is no sharing of information between the bank side and the broker side. He actually thinks this will be better at Bof A because they have never dealt with Michelle's accounts whereas Lehman was beginning to view all as 'one' big entity (as evidenced by the problems we had on the MIKE swap we worked on earlier in the year). I guess only time will tell if it is going to be a problem, but Lou is very aware of the potential for problem and has promised to keep separation.

Re.: Increased loans to "Devotion" and "Elegance"

I intend to ask credit for permission to increase loan amounts to Devotion and Elegance. On 13 November 1995, these two Isle of Man counterparties bought two year calls on 500,000 shares of Sterling Software at a strike price of $41 per share to raise $10 per share. We agreed to lend them 50% of the cost of these calls and obtained from them the right to call for collateral should the value of the outstanding loan ever exceed 55% of the mark to market value of their position.

Sterling Software is now trading above $55 per share and the options' market value exceeds $11 million. the outstanding loan value is $2.3 million.

As long as the value of the loan exceeds 55% of the mark to market value of their position, we would like to roll all interest payments into the principal amount of the loan.

Attached please find a statement of all outstanding option and loan situations with counterparties which have connections -- however remote -- with Sam Wyly.

----- Message Contents -----

Numbers have changed again. Please make a note of the new numbers.

TOTAL LOAN TO BE PAID OFF FOR GREENBRIAR: $9,777,108.54

TD 6/18 SD 6/23

Sales remain the same at 15,800 SSW and 50,000 SE. However, instead of paying off only the uncollared portion of the loan, we will use all proceeds to pay off the loan until the loan is paid. Therefore, we will pay:

Principal: 1,447,981.68
Interest: 5,923.40
Total: 1,453,905.08

This should pay off the total amount we need to pay down for Greenbriar. This should also release the total amount of shares back to them (250,000 total SSW and 398,150 total SE). I show that we have received 67,500 SSW and 291,825 through Thursday and after Friday's journal we will have received 120,800 SSW and 346,625 SE. Therefore, you will owe me 129,200 SSW and 51,525 SE. Please send as soon as possible after you receive your wire on Monday.

This should close out Greenbriar, so disregard previous cc:mails regarding trades settling on the 24th.

Now for Sarnia:

TOTAL LOAN TO BE PAID OFF FOR SARNIA: 2,776,704.87

TD 6/19 SD 6/24

Sold 40,075 SE. I will use all proceeds available to pay down the loan, therefore, I will pay you $1,324,759.06. Please let me know interest corresponding to this payoff.

TD 6/20 SD 6/25

Sold 73,000 SE. I will payoff remaining loan of $1,451,945.81 on Wednesday, and the loan will be paid off. You will then be able to journal me all shares corresponding to Sarnia: 71,000 SSW and 113,073 SE. Again, I will need to know interest figure for this paydown.

This should take you guys out of the loop and we won't need to notify you of remaining sales.

Re: SSW for Bulldog and Pitkin

The following represents revised prices on your collar adjustment. We were able to get our hedge off slightly better than expected, thus the revised prices.

Current Position of Put:	Long $36 Strike Put
Roll to:	Long $40.176 Strike Put
Cost to Roll:	$2.25/share
Borrowing Availability:	$4.176/share

Current Position of Call:	Short $52.3196 Strike Call
Recommend selling:	Short $70 Strike Call
Cost to Roll:	$5.44

Documents reflecting these changes will be forthcoming today by fax.

After the documents are signed and returned, we will be wiring the $4.176 borrow amount, after which we will expect to receive the $7.69 in cost. Cindy Murdock will be calling you to confirm where this wire/wires should be sent.

If in the interim you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call me or Cindy.

Re: SSW Collar

I hope that the following information will prove helpful:

Collar on 900,000 SSW

4-5-95	Put Strike:	$31.816	Cost:	$3.57
	Call Strike:	$52.3196	Cost:	$3.57 $0.00
7-14-95	Moved Put Strike to:	$36	Cost to roll:	$1.6422
9-5-95	Moved Put Strike to:	$40.176	Cost to roll:	$2.25
	Moved Call Strike to:	$70	Cost to roll:	$5.44 $7.69

FYI, each entity is able to borrow an amount equal to the value of 100% of the put strike. For example, East Carroll has a collar on for 200,000 shares. Their original loan was for $6,363,200.00. Then when they moved up the strike of the put to $36, they were able to increase their loan by $836,800.00 for a total loan of $7,200,000.00. Then again, when the put strike was increased to $40.176, they were able to borrow an additional $835,200.00 for a total loan of $8,035,200.00.

An evaluation price on the collar as of the end of October is as follows:

Put at $40.176 set to expire 3/31/98	$3.44
Call at $70.00 set to expire 3/31/98	($4.28)

I have expressed the puts as a positive number because you own them, and this is what you could sell them for. Likewise, I have expressed the calls as a negative number because you are short the calls, and this is what it would cost to buy them back.

Please call me or Suzanne Snavelly if you require any additional information.

Re: SSW Collars

~~It is my understanding that with the price increase in SSW, the offshore entities would like to~~ step up the "insurance" and perhaps liquidate some stock in the near term. Currently in the Bulldog/Pitkin entities (inclusive of Maverick Entrepreneurs), there is 1.2MM shares collared at approximately $40.17/70 expiring 03/31/98. As a starting point, we would propose:

1.	500,000 shares
	New Put Strike	$50
	New Call Strike	$76
	New Expiration	9/96 ← ? 12/96

Put price stays same, BUT call price adjusts down if stock falls below 55 (e.g., call price adjusts to $73 if stock falls to $52 ($55-$3). Call price cannot go below $55 even if stock fell below $35).

2.	700,000 shares
	New Put Strike	$55
	New Call Strike	$76 ← ? 78
	Same Expiration	3/98

The call would adjust like option No. 1.

CONCLUSION:

What this strategy does is gives you the flexibility (because of the shortened maturity) to liquidate some of your holdings in the near future. We have also increased the put to 50/55 which if the market declines, gives you added protection. We have added the adjustment feature on the calls which is what allows us to step up the price of the put substantially.

This is only a starting level and what I've done is try to come up with a plan that gives you flexibility and added protection. Please let me know your thoughts.

Recently, I asked New York to price for me what it would cost to repurchase the Michaels Stores calls that you are short. Because of our hedging, we would let you do this if we could change the puts you are long from American to European style (this is worth a lot of money to you).

ANALYSIS

Repurchase calls	($485,000)
Conversion Amer to Euro	$1,075,000
Net Credit	$ 590,000

I actually think that the repurchase of the calls and the conversion of the put to European style should be viewed positively in the marketplace.

On another topic, Sterling Software. With the distribution of Sterling Commerce approaching, we have been doing some work on how you could restructure to have a more bullish view on Sterling Software POST distribution. Please give me a call to discuss.

I intend to ask credit for permission to increase loan amounts to Devotion and Elegance. On 13 November 1995, these two Isle of Man counterparties bought two year calls on 500,000 shares of Sterling Software at a strike price of $4.1 per share to raise $10 per share. We agreed to lend them 50% of the cost of these calls and obtained from them the right to call for collateral should the value of the outstanding loan ever exceed 55% of the mark to market value of their position.

Sterling Software is now trading above $55 per share and the options' market value exceeds $11 million. the outstanding loan value is $2.3 million.

As long as the value of the loan exceeds 55% of the mark to market value of their position, we would like to roll all interest payments into the principal amount of the loan.

Attached please find a statement of all outstanding option and loan situations with counterparties which have connections -- however remote -- with Sam Wylie.

We are buying $2.5M worth of $35 CA calls that expire on August 17th. Paying a premium of approx 7.29% which at the current trading price of $32.50 is $2.37 per call. Memo

Date: July 22, 1999

To: Shari Robertson

From: Lou Schaufele LS

I wanted to go over a thought that I had regarding the option exercise for some of the offshore entities and the announced share repurchase by the company. I understand that the company really doesn't want to commence with the repurchase until 4Q or later, but that opens the company up to risk if the stock were to rise over the next few months. Given that the offshore entities would like to sell stock over the next few months at current market levels and the company has a risk if the stock rises between now and the 4Q, perhaps there is a way that we could help both concerns. The company could enter into a swap with Lehman Brothers to be done over time. The offshore entity would be a seller and the buyer would be Lehman. As Lehman bought stock, they in turn would enter into a swap arrangement with the company at the current price. This would offer the protection from upward price movement. The offshore entity could sell stock without pressuring the market.

Trade Description - The Stock Options

It is Lehman Brothers' understanding that the Option Holder wishes to monetize a significant amount of employee stock options.

Proposal:

Lehman Brothers will purchase from the option holder the stock options for their intrinsic value. The option holder will net an amount equivalent to the amount raised had they entered into a cashless stock option exercise program.

Lehman Brothers will continue to hold options. No stock will be issued at this time.

Trade Description - The Forward Contract

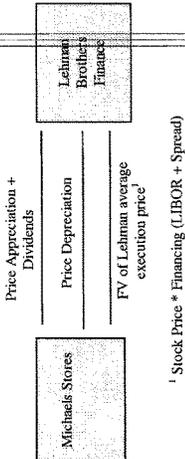

Problem:

Michaels Stores wants to buy shares to offset any potential dilution from option exercise. The company does not want to lay out cash today

Proposal:

Lehman Brothers will enter into a forward contract with Michaels Stores. This contract will be entered into simultaneously as the purchase of options from the option holder and will serve as Lehman Brother's hedge for the forward contract. The contract will allow the company to lock in today's stock price while not paying for the shares until maturity, (presumably after the Christmas season when the company will have more cash). The company will owe Lehman a financing spread and any depreciation in the shares.

At Maturity:

LEHMAN BROTHERS

Settlement Alternatives for Forward

Physical Settlement

- At the termination of the trade, the company delivers cash to Lehman Brothers equal to the number of shares underlying the forward multiplied by the forward price. In return, Lehman Brothers delivers to the company the shares underlying the forward.
- In order to avoid any negative accounting from the concurrent option purchase by Lehman Brothers, physical settlement should be avoided. If the company wishes to repurchase the shares, a separate share repurchase program should be implemented.

Cash Settlement

- At the termination of the trade, if the closing price of the shares is above the forward price, Lehman Brothers delivers cash to the company equal to the difference between the closing price and the forward price multiplied by the number of shares underlying the forward. If the closing price is below the forward price, the company will deliver the difference multiplied by the shares to Lehman Brothers.
- Cash settlement, if it is the only settlement method available, would result in mark-to-market treatment. For this reason, cash settlement is usually incorporated in conjunction with net share or physical settlement.

Net Share Settlement

- Similar to cash settlement, the cash amount to be delivered by one counterparty to the other is delivered in the form of registered shares of the company's stock of equivalent value.
- Net share settlement alternative at the company's option may be incorporated into the contract in order for the forward to be treated as an off-balance sheet instrument.

Total Return Equity Swap

Description

- A Total Return Equity Swap is a contract whereby XYZ Corporation ("XYZ") pays a fixed or floating payment to the swap counterparty in exchange for the total return of its common stock. The swap is typically for a term of one to three years and contains the following features:
 - Swap resets periodically (if applicable), allows settlement of in-the-money value to either counterparty.
 - XYZ receives price appreciation and dividend paid during period
 - XYZ pays price depreciation and LIBOR based payment during period
 - XYZ has right upon each reset date to elect settlement in one of the following manners:
 - Cash settlement
 - Net share settlement
 - Letter of Credit
 - XYZ has right to terminate early on any Reset Date
 - Upon maturity, or early termination, XYZ may elect to purchase shares at an effective price equal to the stock price at the inception of the swap or to make or receive a final settlement payment.

Total Return Equity Swap (cont'd)

Benefits

- Corporations often face conflicting goals when managing the balance between debt and equity capitalization. Typical circumstances include:
 - High current leverage, low current rating, yet company has strong projected cash flow or is anticipating significant asset monetization proceeds
 - Company may want to return a portion of cash flow to equity investors and feel that the current stock price is undervalued, yet is unable or unwilling to currently buyback shares due to balance sheet concerns.
 - Dilution from unexercised employee options growing rapidly and affecting EPS yet balance sheet concerns do not allow for repurchase of stock in excess of current employee exercises.
- A Total Return Equity Swap can address these issues due to the following features:
 - Off balance-sheet treatment
 - Favorable rating agency view relative to share repurchase
 - Flexibility to denominate all payments in shares of common stock
 - A Total Return Equity Swap would allow XYZ to lock in its current common stock price in anticipation of ultimately repurchasing shares as cash flow permits.
 - Tele-Communications, Inc. ("TCI") entered into a Total Return Equity Swap with Lehman Brothers in 1997 in anticipation of repurchasing stock. Upon termination of the transaction, TCI's stock had more than quadrupled, with a realized gain of approximately $500 million in the favor of TCI while avoiding incurrence of debt and maintaining its credit rating.

Rating Agency / Creditor Viewpoint Issues

- Total Return Equity Swap is viewed favorably versus direct repurchase of shares
 - No cash used nor funded indebtedness created upfront
 - Shares remain outstanding
 - Although swap counterparty may hold XYZ shares as a hedge, those shares remain outstanding and can be sold into the stock market without the need to file a registration statement
 - Financial risk on swap limited to depreciation in stock price, not the full purchase price as in a share repurchase
 - If stock appreciates, swap becomes an asset to XYZ
 - Company has right to net share settle swap eliminating any cash requirements

Accounting Issues

- Net share settlement feature allows swap to be treated as an equity instrument thus keeping the swap off-balance sheet and avoiding mark-to-market treatment.
- LIBOR payments not included in interest expense (may need to provide for LIBOR payments to be payable in shares, depending on XYZ's accountant's viewpoint)
- Depreciation may result in reduced fully-diluted EPS.
- Appreciation results in either periodic receipt of shares by XYZ or the building up of a "hidden asset" via the ability to purchase stock below the current market price.

Total Return Equity Swap (cont'd)

Tax Issues

- Depending on XYZ's tax attorney's analysis, the Total Return Equity Swap may be treated as a Section 1032 contract.
 - Under this view, all payments under the Total Return Equity Swap are exempt from tax.
- If XYZ's tax attorney is uncomfortable with characterizing the Total Return Equity Swap as a Section 1032 contract, the transaction can be restructured as a resetting forward contract.
 - In a resetting forward the carrying cost (LIBOR based payment net of dividends) is paid in shares. This cost is small compared to the price appreciation potential and would be reduced if XYZ increases its dividend.

Regulatory Issues

- In order to maintain off-balance sheet treatment, swap counterparty must be viewed as having beneficial ownership of shares underlying swap at all times.

Re.: Increased loans to "Devotion" and "Elegance"
Date: 18 December 1995

I intend to ask credit for permission to increase loan amounts to Devotion and Elegance. On 13 November 1995, these two Isle of Man counterparties bought two year calls on 500,000 shares of Sterling Software at a strike price of $41 per share to raise $10 per share. We agreed to lend them 50% of the cost of these calls and obtained from them the right to call for collateral should the value of the outstanding loan ever exceed 55% of the mark to market value of their position.

Sterling Software is now trading above $55 per share and the options' market value exceeds $11 million. the outstanding loan value is $2.3 million.

As long as the value of the loan exceeds 55% of the mark to market value of their position, we would like to roll all interest payments into the principal amount of the loan.

Attached please find a statement of all outstanding option and loan situations with counterparties which have connections -- however remote -- with Sam Wyy.

Re: Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust

Dear Ronnie:

Pursuant to Section 8 of the Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust Agreement dated March 11, 1992 the Committee of Trust Protectors wishes to make the following recommendations to the Trustee.

To exercise 210,000 Michaels Stores Options held in Tensas Limited, which is owned by the Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust using a cashless exercise thru First Boston Corporation, 3100 Texas Commerce Tower, 2200 Ross Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75201, Mr. Lou Schaufele, phone # (214) [REDACTED]. The committee recommends selling all of the stock at a price to a least exceed $20.00 per share. The exercise price of the stock is $3.00 a share, requiring $610,000 to exercise the stock with Michaels Stores, Inc. Cash in excess of exercise price should exceed $3,570,000. The committee recommends a loan at 6% interest rate, to mature in one year, of $3,500,000 to East Carroll Limited which is owned by the Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust. The committee recommends that cash in excess of the loan be invested in short term, cash-like securities, with some currency risk that you as Trustee feels competes with U.S. certificates of deposits yielding around 4 %.

To exercise 200,000 Michaels Stores Options held in East Baton Rouge Limited which is owned by the Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust using a cashless exercise thru First Boston Corporation, 3100 Texas Commerce Tower, 2200 Ross Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75201, Mr. Lou Schaufele, phone # (214) 740-5221. The committee recommends selling all of the stock at a price to a least exceed $20.00 per share. The exercise price of the stock is $3.00 a share, requiring $600,000 to exercise the stock with Michaels Stores, Inc. Cash in excess of exercise price should exceed $3,400,000. The committee recommends a loan at 6% interest rate, to mature in one year of $668,750 to East Carroll Limited which is owned by the Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust. The committee recommends that cash in excess of the loan be invested in short term, cash-like securities, with some currency risk that you as Trustee feels competes with U.S. certificates of deposits yielding around 4 %.

To exercise 667,000 Sterling Software, Inc. Options held by East Carroll Limited which is wholly owned by the Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust using the cash loaned by Tensas Limited and East Baton Rouge Limited to exercise the stock.

COMMENTS:

On Ronnie's last visit here he discussed with Shari a possible transaction with Lehman Brothers (Lou Schaufele) involving a lending arrangement and a cost free collar on the SSW shares.

It is my understanding that Lehman will shortly be forwarding documents to you regarding this proposed transaction, and that in general there will be created a derivative "put" on the stock at 90% of market and a derivative "call" on the stock and 148% of market, and that Lehman will extend credit against the put in an amount equal to 100% of the put price.

Our further understanding is that the transaction will involve the following entities and shares:

West Carroll	100,000
Moorehouse	100,000
Richland	400,000 200,000
Little Woody	150,000

Dear Ken,

Re: Moberly Limited

Further to my fax of January 17th, 1999, I now confirm that the protectorate committee recommends the exercise of 400,000 Sterling Commerce Options and the sale of 300,000 shares to Greenbriar Limited, and the sale of 100,000 shares to Sarnia Limited, as described in the January 17th, 1999 fax.

It is my understanding that Sterling Commerce's legal counsel has approved the exercise of the initial 300,000 options, and it is recommended that you proceed immediately with the exercise of these options and the sale to Greenbriar.

Approval for the remaining 100,000 option should follow tomorrow or Thursday, so it is recommended that you initiate the process for this additional exercise and sale to Sarnia at your earliest convenience.

The legal contact at Sterling Commerce is Al Hoover 614- or his colleague, Dennis Byrnes 614-

Provided you intend to proceed with this recommendation, I suggest that you contact Lou Schaufele at Lehman Brothers in the morning, if you require any additional information from me, please do not hesitate to call.

Thanks and kind regards,

Michelle Boucher

I did confirm with the trustees this morning, and they are proceeding on the offshore options, selling at $40 or better.

Offshore we have the following:
Yurta Faf
292,800 options with August expiration
Dortmund
57,200 options with August expiration

There are a lot of options held domestically with July expiration. These are the quantities based on February financials, I don't think there has been any changes, but will check with Elaine if you so need this info. I had spoken with Elaine earlier, and I understand that she has asked if you want to exercise and sell any domestic options, but has not heard back from you. Apparently Charles is currently working on some of his domestic options, but not offshore.

July 2000 expiration:
SW 1,125,000
Cheryl 75,000
Kelly 150,000
Marmalade 150,000

Yes, I spoke with Sam, who has spoken with Charles.
We do not recommend re-booking the 10,000 shares, but we do recommend canceling further sales by the Trustees.

~~Please proceed with sales domestically at 40 or better.~~

As you described, the order should be Evan, Kelly, Cheryl, Sam, Charles.

- Charles' fax also had some notes indicating that we are to sell domestic first and he has an order of:
Evan, Kelly, Cheryl, Sam, Charles. There was a note that Donnie was finished selling domestically. Please confirm if this is how we should proceed?
- I also just spoke with Lehman's, and they can rebook the 10,000
Michaels that we did today for another account (in the domestic system) if we want. I need to let them know in the morning.

Evan & Shari - the fax I'm referring to was copied to you too.

I spoke to Sam today, he wants us to proceed with selling 200,000 Michaels Stores shares from offshore to aid in raising funds for Ranger/Precept projects.

I would like to recommend selling 175,000 held by East Carroll, and 25,000 of the shares held by East Baton Rouge

I confirmed with him that there is nothing going on with the company that should preclude us from being in the market at this time. He wants Lou to slowly acquire without impacting the market.

Please confirm you are comfortable with me going forward to the Trustees.

would like to liquidate these today.

He is afraid that if we wait until next week, we may (less than 10% chance) not be able to sell them as they are so close to maturity. If we do liquidate, the funds will sit on the money market account and will still earn something.

When I spoke to Shari this morning, she thought that you and Sam were looking at an exercise and hold scenario for the Michaels options, and that I should start looking for cash flow to fund the exercise of the offshore piece (likely redemptions from offshore fund investments - Maverick, Edin, Deerfield..). She also mentioned that because of domestic liquidity issues, that you might want to look at having offshore acquire the domestic options, and exercise and hold the stock offshore. I am swamped getting year end financial information together for both Maverick and the Trusts, but was going to mention this to you with the intention that I'd put something together next week and we could discuss it while I'm in Dallas. There is also a possibility of margining some of the offshore piece instead of using all the cash. I can explore this with Lehman's if you think it's worthwhile.

With the company's announced repurchase and renewed interest in the stock (e.g. traded 500,000+ shares on Tuesday), Lehman should be able to get their hedge off with little market disruption.

Currently, we are advancing you 40% of market value. By the use of a collar, you can increase the advance rate and still have significant upside.

 - 45 ← d. Long: 850,000 shares - options exercisable @ approx 45 (sold 150,000 shares @ approx. 74 1/2)

Dilemma:

Obviously you could sell 1,821,000 shares (b, c, & d) which if sold at current levels would produce approximately $77,500,000 (net of option exercise). If this path is taken, then the result would be long 1,671,000 shares with a collar of 40/70. You will have lowered exposure and raised cash but still have large market exposure on 1,671,000 shares. An alternative could be to collar the 1,821,000 shares and use the proceeds from that to raise the insurance on the 1,671,000 shares. Assuming the stock is at $75, you could collar 1,821,000 shares at 60/90 and raise the protection on 1,671,000 from 40 to 65 and receive $5,000,000 from Lehman. The result would be:

By collaring the 1,821,000 shares, you have picked up $40,000,000 of protection on the 1,671,000 shares and received $5,000,000 in premium. I believe that this solves the dilemma of price protection on SSW and related market risk.

From: Lou Schaufele

Date: January 16, 1997

~~We are of the opinion that the window may close soon on some methods of monetization for large shareholders of common stock. We think there is a likelihood that the areas affected would be the short vs. box tactic and equity swaps. Since you all are insiders, you must consider the swap alternative.~~

One of the things we would need is the amendment of the registration statement to allow for hedging.

OUTLINE

1. Lehman borrows stock in the open market (plenty available)
2. Lehman shorts stock in the open market to establish hedge
3. Lehman would loan 95% of notional amount
4. Client would pay to Lehman some small spread over LIBOR (around 150 B.P.) on regular basis
5. Obviously at some point we will need clients stock as collateral

Swap can remain in tact for long periods of time thereby avoiding the tax impact.

SUMMARY:

Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations
EXHIBIT #66 - FN 767

CC 038779

Given what we think could happen with the current budget from Congress (i.e. elimination of tax advantage of short vs. box and swaps) I think that it makes sense to have some of this in place in case. Basically the main difference in the swap vs. out right sale is:

Swap	Sale
95% of proceeds	100% of proceeds with a cost of funds of approximately 1.5%	but tax impact tax deferred until closed out

Re: SSW Collars

~~It is my understanding that with the price increase in SSW, the offshore entities would like to~~
step up the "insurance" and perhaps liquidate some stock in the near term. Currently in the Bulldog/Pitkin entities (inclusive of Maverick Entrepreneurs), there is 1.2MM shares collared at approximately $40.17/70 expiring 03/31/98. As a starting point, we would propose:

1. 500,000 shares
New Put Strike $50
New Call Strike $76
New Expiration 9/96 ← ? 12/96

Put price stays same, BUT call price adjusts down if stock falls below 55 (e.g., call price adjusts to $73 if stock falls to $52 ($55-$3). Call price cannot go below $55 even if stock fell below $35).

2. 700,000 shares
New Put Strike $55
New Call Strike $76 ← ? 78
Same Expiration 3/98

The call would adjust like option No. 1.

CONCLUSION:

What this strategy does is gives you the flexibility (because of the shortened maturity) to liquidate some of your holdings in the near future. We have also increased the put to 50/55 which if the market declines, gives you added protection. We have added the adjustment feature on the calls which is what allows us to step up the price of the put substantially.

This is only a starting level and what I've done is try to come up with a plan that gives you flexibility and added protection. Please let me know your thoughts.

Recently, I asked New York to price for me what it would cost to repurchase the Michaels Stores calls that you are short. Because of our hedging, we would let you do this if we could change the puts you are long from American to European style (this is worth a lot of money to you).

Repurchase calls	($485,000)
Conversion Amer to Euro	$1,075,000
Net Credit	$ 590,000

I actually think that the repurchase of the calls and the conversion of the put to European style should be viewed positively in the marketplace.

On another topic, Sterling Software. With the distribution of Sterling Commerce approaching, we have been doing some work on how you could restructure to have a more bullish view on Sterling Software POST distribution. Please give me a call to discuss.

I have begun discussions with Lou to collapse the SSW/SE collars. As I recall Greenbriar and Samia (I don't know the breakdown) sold 100,000 SE at $38, $40, & $42 for a total of 300,000 shares. These entities are now short the delivery of these shares for the collapse of the collar.

Moberly needs to exercise 300,000 shares of SE and sell the shares to Greenbriar/Samia prior to 2/9/98.
~~I have put a call into Al Hoover at SE to get clearance on this transaction~~

Lou assures me that Lehman's is short all of the stock within the collars and as long as will collapse the collar at least one day prior to 2/9 we can come to terms on what the sale price of the stock is and there will be no trading in the marketplace.

You mutual fund license only allows for 15 entities - correct? Think you need to figure out how to increase that pretty quickly. If Sam adds 2 and Charles adds 1 and Maverick's going to start a master/feeder commodities fund you could very shortly have five more funds. Let me know how big an issue this is. Everyone,
Please see attached communication from Lou Schaufele. I suggest that we proceed on the timetable Lou has outlined, he appears very comfortable that they can get the exercises done on this schedule without any problems. Please let me know asap, if anyone disagrees!

Subject: SCOT shares - tradeable stock

On Friday May 18th, Lehmans confirmed a closing price on SCOT of $15.13 and booked the sale of 270,000 shares between IFG and Trident entities. The trustees at Trident are now able to sell these shares in the market.

The stock has been selling between $14.75 and $15.75 for the past two weeks. The protectors are prepared to recommend that the trustees use Lou Schaufele to move the stock out in the market, at his discretion but at no less than $15 per share. The trustees will also ask Lou to keep an eye out for any opportunities for large block trades. The protector recommendation will go out overnight and trading should commence tomorrow.

I'll keep you updated on trading volume and pricing.

I spoke with the family last night, they do understand that we will be collaring 20% more stock than Devotion would be purchasing. I talked thru the risk of not doing this simultaneously. Here, is a negative which they did not bring up but I bet Sam picks up on it. If Sam sells into the open market he must comply with rules of an insider on selling versus he can cross it to Devotion. It means not as liquid and perhaps multiple filing. I also understand more why Sam won't do the forward, when we did the original collar on MIKE there was a lot of negative press (front page NY times), what would be the best is if we could effect our hedge into the open market then cross stock to Devotion as we get stock off on the US side or elsewhere (meaning if it could happen in London that is ok). Where are we on paperwork? What I am worried about is that if we make this to complicated then Sam is just going to sell. From a credit perspective I think that we could get Devotion to agree that if they do not get the forward done in X days we will raise the margin maintenance to 75%. I think Sam is going to want to get started selling his 569k today.

Also, as discussed with Shari today. We confirmed the total number of options remaining that we would like to go ahead with in 200,000 blocks. Since there were only 440K remaining to advise them of. This will allow them to streamline paperwork with Mark Beasley.

Evan & Sam - I discussed the transactions with Elaine today and advised her that once we are finished, you may be interested in starting on some domestic options, or alternatively exploring the sale of them to offshore. I expect she will contact you on this shortly.

Subject: fyi, transaction we are doing in the trusts re:CA

We are only doing this from offshore, but you should be aware. I've advised Shari as protector and she is on board. I've also cleared it through McCafferty to ensure we ~~weren't doing anything to close to the date of Sam's planned activities. He is okay with it.~~

We are buying $2.5M worth of $35 CA calls that expire on August 17th. Paying a premium of approx 7.29% which at the current trading price of $32.50 is $2.37 per call. This is all being done through Lou. I've picked Sarnia for the transaction and sent everything to IFG. It should get put together Monday am, everyone has my numbers to reach me if they need to.

I need to check the specifics on a recent Michaels Stores Proxy for a vote scheduled June 6th.

The Wyls accounts have appx. 2mm shares collared and I believe these shares are held in street name with Lehman Brothers Finance (verified with Rich Ladd in derivatives).

Amy Browning at the Wyls called in a panic about who was supposed to vote those shares - Lehman or them themselves. They have not gotten any proxy card on any of the accounts that own them and they are very concerned about voting their shares.

I talked to the proxy dept., but since the shares are not in TMS, they have no records.

Rich Ladd is investigating, but since the Wyls are a little nervous, I thought I better get you involved.

Thanks.

MEMORANDUM
 To: From: Chris Wiley Executive Officers and Directors of Michaels Stores, Inc.
 From: To Mark Beasley Well written!!
 Re: Reporting Obligations and Liabilities Under Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934
 Date: October 4, 1996 (Smiley face) 11/8/96

The purpose of this Memorandum is to briefly review with the executive officers and directors of the Company their individual Section 16 responsibilities. It is the current intention of the Company to implement a compliance program to better assist its executive officers and directors with their Section 16 reporting obligations. Nonetheless, it is extremely important for each insider to understand the Section 16 rules since the ultimate responsibility and liability in this area is on the reporting insider, not the Company.

Section 16 applies to directors and executive officers of the Company and to any person owning more than ten percent of any registered class of the Company's equity securities. Section 16 is intended to deter such "insiders" from misusing inside information about their companies for personal trading gain. The general effect of Section 16 is to restrict the trading activities of insiders with respect to the securities of their companies by requiring public disclosure under Section 16(a) of their trades, permitting the recovery under Section 16(b) of any profits realized by them on certain transactions, and prohibiting them under Section 16(c) from engaging in short sales. The methods employed by Section 16(a) and (b) are separately discussed below.

A. Section 16(a)

1. Who must file. All insiders of an issuer that has a class of equity securities registered under Section 12 of the Act, and all beneficial owners of more than 10% of a class of equity securities so registered, must report the extent of and any changes in their ownership of the issuer's equity securities (including those of certain family members and affiliated business entities). All holdings of equity securities of such an issuer must be reported. Debt securities need not be reported unless they are convertible into equity.
2. Reporting forms.
 - a. Form 3. An Initial Statement of Beneficial Ownership must be filed by all executive officers, directors and 10% beneficial owners within 10 days after becoming a reporting person. Insiders must timely file a Form 3 even if they do not own any of the issuer's equity securities.
 - b. Form 4. A Statement of Changes in Beneficial Ownership must be filed by all reporting persons within 10 days after the end of each calendar month in which there has been a change in beneficial ownership. Hereafter, you will be sent a monthly Section 16 Transaction Reporting Sheet near the end of every month to assist you in keeping track of your transactions in an effort to avoid the misreporting or non-reporting of transactions.
 - c. Form 5. Anyone who was a reporting person at any time during the issuer's previous fiscal year must file an Annual Statement of Beneficial Ownership within 45 days after the end of that fiscal year. Form 5 discloses any transactions exempt from Section 16(b) short-swing profit recovery and any transactions that were required to be reported during the preceding year but were not reported. No Form 5 need be filed, however, if the reporting person is current on all previously required Section 16 reports. You will receive a letter after the fiscal year end listing all reported transactions during the past fiscal year to review to ensure that you have complied with all Section 16 reporting requirements.

3. Where to file. Each of the above reports must be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission at its headquarters in Washington, D.C., with any national securities exchange on which any equity security of the issuer is listed and with the issuer.

4. Timely filing of Section 16 reports. The SEC is increasing its emphasis on timely compliance with Section 16's reporting requirements. Issuers are required to monitor filings and must disclose the names of all late reporting persons, as well as the number of late filings by such persons, in their annual proxy statement and Form 10-K. The Company hopes to avoid these embarrassing and unnecessary disclosures.

5. Transactions occurring before becoming a reporting person or after loss of reporting person status.

a. Officers and directors.

- i. Generally, transactions occurring prior to a person becoming an officer or director are not subject to either Section 16(a) reporting requirements or Section 16(b) short-swing profit recovery.
- ii. Transactions after a person ceases to be an officer or director remain subject to Section 16 only if they occur within six months of a reportable transaction that occurred while the person was an officer or director.

b. Ten percent beneficial owners. Section 16 applies only to those transactions occurring while a person is the beneficial owner of more than ten percent of a class of equity securities registered under Section 12 of the Act.

6. Special Section 16(a) Reporting Concerns

a. Stock Options and Derivative Securities

- i. Functional equivalence to underlying securities. For Section 16 purposes, the acquisition of a derivative security, such as a stock option, warrant or a convertible debt instrument, is treated as the indirect acquisition of the underlying equity security, which triggers Section 16 obligations. The subsequent acquisition of the underlying security by converting or exercising the derivative security is regarded as merely a change in the form of ownership of the underlying security (from indirect to direct ownership) and not as a separate transaction. However, there are special rules beyond the scope of this memorandum which may exempt -- or treat as non-exempt -- the grant, extension, or repricing of options.

b. Reporting Requirements.

- i. Acquisition of the derivative security, not its exercise, triggers Section 16 obligations. Generally, derivative securities are to be reported on Form 4 upon their grant or acquisition, regardless of when they are exercisable. Form 4 contains a separate section on the backside thereof in which information on derivative securities is to be reported. Reporting of exempt option grants can be deferred until the Form 5 filing; however, voluntary early reporting of such grants is strongly advised.
- ii. Exercise or conversion must be reported. The exercise or conversion of derivative securities must be reported on the next Form 4 or Form 5 filing required even though the exercise or conversion does not trigger Section 16(b) short-swing profit recovery. Similarly, all dispositions of derivative securities (e.g., sales, cancellations or expirations) must be reported.

- c. Acquisitions in recapitalizations, mergers, etc. In extraordinary transactions, such as tender offers and mergers, or in recapitalizations or other similar transactions, such as stock splits, Section 16 reporting of the acquired or disposed of shares is generally required.

B. Section 16(b)

1. ~~Liability. Any "profit" realized by a reporting person from a "purchase" and subsequent "sale" (or "sale" and subsequent "purchase") within any six-month period of an equity security is recoverable by the issuer or, after demand to the issuer, by any stockholder of the issuer on behalf of the issuer. Transactions are paired to match the lowest purchase price and the highest sale price within a six-month period to calculate the maximum recoverable profit. The same shares or securities need not be involved in the purchase and the sale, and losses cannot be offset against gains. Because the acquisition of a derivative security is treated for Section 16 purposes as the acquisition of the underlying security, the acquisition of a derivative security can be matched against either a disposition of the derivative security or of the underlying security.~~
2. Objective standard of liability. Recovery of short-swing profits may be made regardless of any intent by the reporting person to hold the securities for more than six months or to use inside information.
3. Special concerns. The terms "purchase" and "sale" are construed under Section 16(b) to cover a broad range of transactions, including acquisitions and dispositions in tender offers and certain corporate reorganizations. Moreover, purchases and sales by an insider may be matched with transactions by any person (such as certain family members) whose securities are deemed to be beneficially owned by the insider. Since purchases and sales are generally required to be reported on a monthly basis on a Form 4, the detection of short-swing trading violations is relatively easy.

As this memorandum illustrates, Section 16 is a highly complex, technical area, the violations of which can have serious consequences to both the insider and the Company. Because of this, any transaction in Company securities should be pre-cleared with me. Additionally, it is advisable to always use a knowledgeable broker (who should be aware of Section 16 issues and liabilities) when effecting transactions in Company stock. Finally, please promptly respond to all reminders and other materials periodically distributed to insiders as part of the Company's Section 16 compliance program, and do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions regarding Section 16.

counsel for the Company; an unconfirmed fax, voice mail message or e-mail message will not result in pre-clearance of the transaction. In addition, you or your broker must immediately notify Gabe Vazquez, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company of the execution of such pre-cleared transactions; again, an unconfirmed fax, voice mail message or e-mail message is not sufficient confirmation.

- Your sales must be (i) pursuant to the delivery of a Prospectus and a Prospectus Supplement or (ii) exempt from Securities Act registration requirements.

~~The Company will file your reports required under Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act with the SEC and with the NYSE. Because of the two business day deadline for most filings, you must keep an active power of attorney on file with the Company.~~

Stock Options

- You can exercise an option at any time (except during a pension fund blackout period); however, the sale of the underlying shares (even in a "cashless exercise") is a separate transaction subject to restrictions as set forth above and must be pre-cleared two days in advance of execution with Gabe Vazquez, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company.
- To exercise an option, contact Derek Strain (972-409-7473).

401(k) Plan

- You can participate in the Michaels stock fund; however, sales of shares acquired under the 401(k) Plan are subject to restrictions as set forth above and must be pre-cleared two days in advance of the transaction with Gabe Vazquez, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company.
- Without pre-clearance from Gabe Vazquez, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company, you cannot:
 - transfer an existing account balance into or out of the Michaels stock fund;
 - receive a loan against your account balance; or
 - withdraw funds while you remain an employee.

Employees Stock Purchase Plan

You can purchase Michaels stock through the Employees Stock Purchase Plan (including by means of lump sum cash purchases as permitted by the plan if you then hold the shares so acquired for at least six months); however, sales of shares acquired under the plan are subject to restrictions as set forth above and must be pre-cleared two days in advance of the transaction with Gabe Vazquez, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company.

Dividend Reinvestment and Stock Purchase Plan

You can purchase Michaels stock and reinvest cash dividends through the Dividend Reinvestment and Stock Purchase Plan; however, optional cash purchases under the plan and sales of shares acquired under the plan are subject to restrictions as set forth above and must be pre-cleared two days in advance of the transaction with Gabe Vazquez, Mark Deasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company.

RE: Federal Securities Law Considerations for Executive Officers of Michaels Stores, Inc.

The following is a general overview of certain federal securities law issues relating to the purchase and sale of Michaels equity securities and other compliance matters. Federal legislation gives the SEC and courts very substantial powers in sanctioning and imposing penalties for violations of the federal securities laws.

In light of the importance of preserving the Company's reputation for maintaining the highest legal and ethical standards as well as the detrimental impact on you of any failures to comply with applicable law, it is imperative that all executive officers fully understand their responsibilities for complying with the relevant federal securities laws.

I. SECTION 16 ISSUES.

A. General.

Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "1934 Act") applies to directors and executive officers of the Company and to any person owning more than 10% of any registered class of Michaels equity securities such as our common stock ("Insiders"). Section 16 is intended to deter Insiders from misusing inside information about their companies for personal trading gain. The general effect of Section 16 is to restrict the trading activities of Insiders with respect to the securities of their companies by requiring public disclosure under Section 16(a) of their trades, permitting the recovery under Section 16(b) of any profits realized by them on certain transactions, and prohibiting them under Section 16(c) from engaging in short sales.

B. Section 16(a): Filing Reports.

1. Who must file. All Insiders must report the extent of, and most changes in, their ownership of Michaels equity securities (including those of certain family members and affiliated entities). All holdings of equity securities of the Company, including stock options and other "derivative securities," must be reported. Debt securities need not be reported unless they are convertible into equity securities.

2. Reporting forms.

- a. Form 3. An Initial Statement of Beneficial Ownership must be filed by all Insiders within 10 days after becoming a reporting person. Insiders must timely file a Form 3 even if they do not own any Michaels equity securities.
 - b. Form 4. A Statement of Changes in Beneficial Ownership must be filed by all reporting persons within two business days after there has been a change in beneficial ownership (with certain minor exceptions). This two business day deadline for filing a Form 4 applies even if the Insider has not yet filed a Form 3.
 - c. Form 5. Anyone who was an Insider at any time during the Company's previous fiscal year must file an Annual Statement of Beneficial Ownership within 45 days after the end of that fiscal year. Form 5 discloses any transactions that occurred during the previous fiscal year and were not previously reported either because they were exempt from Section 16(b) short-swing profit recovery (discussed in Paragraph I.C below) or because they simply were not reported even though they should have been. No Form 5 need be filed, however, if you are current in your reporting of all previous transactions or if the unreported transactions consisted solely of routine acquisitions under the Company's 401(k) Plan or Employees Stock Purchase Plan or reinvestment of dividends under the Company's Dividend Reinvestment and Stock Purchase Plan (see Paragraphs I.B.6.c.i, I.B.6.c.ii and I.B.6.c.iii below). You will receive a letter after the fiscal year-end listing all reported transactions during the past fiscal year to review to ensure that you have complied with all Section 16 reporting requirements.
3. Preparation and filing of forms. Although the ultimate responsibility to file Forms 3, 4 and 5 rests with the Insiders, I will assist you by filing them on your behalf. In order to meet the filing deadlines, the SEC requires that each form be filed via EDGAR, the SEC's electronic reporting system. I will retain one original manually signed copy (signed by someone to whom you have given a power of attorney) of each form filed on your behalf in the Company's records for five years after the filing of the form with the SEC.
 4. Timely filing of Section 16 reports. The SEC places a great deal of emphasis on timely compliance with Section 16's reporting requirements. ~~Issuers are required to monitor filings and must disclose the names of all late reporting persons, as well as the number of late filings, by each person, in their annual proxy statements and/or annual reports on Form~~

N:\cgm\VAZQUEZ\SEC\Company Stock Fields\Section 16 Officers\3-05\Fed Sec Law Memo.doc

10-K The Company hopes to avoid these embarrassing and unnecessary disclosures.

5. Transactions occurring before becoming an Insider or after loss of Insider status.

a. Executive officers and directors.

- i. Generally, transactions occurring prior to a person becoming an executive officer or director are not subject to either Section 16(a) reporting requirements or Section 16(b) short-swing profit recovery.
- ii. Transactions after a person ceases to be an executive officer or director remain subject to Section 16 only if they occur within six months after an "opposite way" transaction that occurred while the person was an executive officer or director.

b. Ten percent beneficial owners. Section 16 applies only to those transactions occurring while a person is the beneficial owner of more than ten percent of a class of equity securities registered under Section 12 of the 1934 Act.

6. Special Section 16(a) reporting concerns.

- i. Functional equivalence to underlying stock. For Section 16 purposes, the grant or acquisition of a stock option is treated as the indirect acquisition of the underlying stock, which triggers Section 16 obligations. The subsequent acquisition of the underlying stock by exercising the stock option (as distinguished from sale of the stock upon exercise) is regarded as merely a change in the form of ownership of the underlying stock (from indirect to direct ownership) and not as a separate transaction.
- ii. Grant of stock option triggers Section 16 obligations. Although grants under the Company's current stock option plans are intended to be structured so as to be exempt from Section 16(b) short-swing profit liability, stock options must be reported on Form 4 within two business days after their grant (regardless of when they are exercisable).

- iii. Exercise is exempt but must be reported. The exercise of stock options does not trigger Section 16(b) short-swing profit liability. However, since option exercise information is of interest to the investing public, the rules require that the exercise of a stock option must be currently reported on Form 4. Most dispositions of stock options (e.g., transfers) must be reported, as well.

- iv. Sale of shares is not exempt. The sale of shares acquired upon the exercise of an option is not exempt from Section 16(b) liability and must be reported on Form 4, even if the grant of the option was exempt and even if the sale is part of an exercise transaction structured as a "cashless exercise."
- v. Change in terms. A change in the terms of an outstanding option (such as a repricing or extension of the term) will be deemed the cancellation of the old option and the grant of a new option, unless the change does not affect any material term of the option (generally, acceleration of vesting or the removal of restrictions on transferability is not considered a material change for these purposes). Thus, a change in terms may create a reporting obligation under Section 16(a) and may have serious liability implications under Section 16(b) (there is also a disconcerting lack of guidance from the SEC as to how any such liability is to be measured).
- b. Other derivative securities. The Section 16 reporting and liability provisions applicable to stock options are likewise applicable to other derivative securities such as "market options" arrangements, convertible debt instruments (e.g., convertible subordinated notes) or warrants.
- c. Acquisitions under other Company plans.
 - i. 401(k) Plan. Acquisitions of interests in Michaels equity securities arising from routine contributions to the Company's 401(k) Plan are exempt from the liability provisions of Section 16(b) and exempt from reporting obligations (except that the number should be included in the "end of period holdings" column of the next otherwise required Form 4 or Form 5). However, transfers of existing accounts (i.e., "old money") either into or away from the Michaels stock fund, or loans or in-service withdrawals, may constitute Section 16 "events" which must be reported on Form 4 and may be matched with other transactions for purposes of Section 16(b) liability (this does not affect prospective elections to cause future contributions, or a rollover contribution, to be invested in the Michaels stock fund). In addition, transfers of existing account balances into or away from the Michaels stock fund are subject to the restrictions on insider trading described in Paragraph III below. A distribution of cash or stock from the plan in connection with your death, disability, retirement or termination of employment is exempt from the liability provisions of Section 16(b) and need not be reported under Section 16(a). However, the sale of shares acquired under the plan is not exempt from Section 16(b) liability and must be reported within two business days on Form 4.

- ii. Employees Stock Purchase Plan. Routine acquisitions under the Company's Employees Stock Purchase Plan are exempt from the liability provisions of Section 16(b) and exempt from reporting obligations (except that the number should be included in the "end of period holdings" column of the next otherwise required Form 4 or Form 5). Lump sum cash purchases under the plan must be reported within two business days on Form 4, and, unless the shares so acquired are then held for at least six months, such purchases may constitute Section 16 "events" which may be matched with other transactions for purposes of Section 16(b) liability. (To prove that you have held shares acquired in a lump sum cash purchase for at least six months, it is strongly recommended that you obtain a stock certificate representing such shares, rather than holding them in "street" name.) The sale of shares acquired under the plan is not exempt from Section 16(b) liability and must be reported on Form 4.
- iii. Dividend Reinvestment and Stock Purchase Plan. Reinvestment of dividends under the Company's Dividend Reinvestment and Stock Purchase Plan is exempt from the liability provisions of Section 16(b) and exempt from reporting obligations (except that the number of shares so acquired should be included in the "end of period holdings" column of the next otherwise required Form 4 or Form 5). All optional cash purchases under the Dividend Reinvestment and Stock Purchase Plan and sales of such shares so acquired must be reported within two business days on Form 4. An optional cash purchase or sale of such shares may be subject to Section 16(b) liability if such purchase or sale is matchable against a prior or subsequent sale or purchase as described below.

C. Section 16(b); Disgorgement of Profits.

1. Liability. Any "profit" realized by a reporting person from a "purchase" and subsequent "sale" (or "sale" and subsequent "purchase") of an equity security within any six-month period is recoverable by the Company or, after demand to the Company, by any stockholder on behalf of the Company. This liability cannot be waived by the Company. Transactions are paired to match the lowest purchase price and the highest sale price within a six-month period to calculate the maximum recoverable profit. The same shares need not be involved in the purchase and the sale, and losses cannot be offset against gains. Because the acquisition of a stock option is treated for Section 16 purposes as the acquisition of the underlying stock, the acquisition of a stock option (except in an exempt transaction) can be matched against either a disposition of the option itself or of the underlying stock or the disposition of other stock.
2. Objective standard of liability. Recovery of short-swing profits may be made regardless of any intent by the reporting person to hold the securities for more than six months or any lack of intent to use inside information.
3. Special concerns. The terms "purchase" and "sale" are construed under Section 16(b) to cover a broad range of transactions, including acquisitions and dispositions in tender offers and certain corporate reorganizations. Moreover, purchases and sales by an Insider may be matched with transactions by any person (such as, but not limited to, certain family members or family trusts or partnerships) whose securities are deemed to be beneficially owned by the Insider. Since purchases and sales are generally required to be reported within two business days after a transaction on Form 4, the detection of short-swing trading violations is relatively easy, and certain plaintiffs' firms monitor such filings closely.
4. Interplay with Section 16(a). Many Section 16(b) liability issues (e.g., issues relating to certain of our benefit plans) are addressed in the discussion of the Section 16(a) reporting requirements in Paragraph 1.B above.

D. Section 16(c); Prohibition of Short Sales.

Section 16(c) prohibits any short sale or short sale "against the box" of Michaels equity securities by any Insider (including any former Insider if such short sale occurs within six months after a non-exempt acquisition made while the person was an Insider). A short sale is the sale of a security not owned by the seller, or if owned, not delivered (the so-called short sale "against the box"), which involves the borrowing of shares by the seller's broker for the account of the seller and delivery of the borrowed shares to the buying broker. ~~At some point in the future, the short seller must purchase the securities to cover the short position. Because the short seller hopes that he or she will be able to~~ purchase at a price lower than the price at which the short sale was made, a short seller expects a security to decline in market value after the short sale. Since short sales are illegal for Insiders and can depress the price of securities, the Company expects that none of its Insiders would contemplate making a short sale of Michaels equity securities.

II. 1933 ACT ISSUES.

A. General.

Under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "1933 Act"), an "affiliate" of the Company (see below) may not sell securities of the Company unless such sale is covered by a 1933 Act registration statement or such sale is made pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements. It is not relevant that the affiliate may have received the securities in a registered offering or purchased them in the open market, nor does it make any difference whether the securities bear a restrictive legend. The term "affiliate" is generally construed to include all directors, and those officers who are considered to "control" the Company directly or indirectly (if you are a non-director officer included in the distribution of this memorandum, you should probably assume that the SEC would consider you to be in this category, given your position with the Company).

B. Resale of Shares Acquired Under Stock Option Plans.

The shares issuable under our stock option plans in which executive officers and directors may participate have been registered under the 1933 Act for resale by our affiliates, so those shares may be sold pursuant to the delivery of a prospectus and a prospectus supplement which I will supply to your broker. It is important that you broker be informed that the securities must be sold pursuant to the delivery of a prospectus and a prospectus supplement. (Please give me as much advance notice as you can so the prospectus supplement can be prepared.) If you received options under the 2001 Employee Stock Option Plan prior to becoming an executive officer or director, please note that shares received upon exercise of those options have not been registered for resale under the 1933 Act, and therefore you must sell those shares pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements (see Paragraph II.C below).

C. Non-Prospectus Sales.

1. Rule 144 in general If you wish to sell Michaels equity securities other than in connection with the delivery of a prospectus and a prospectus supplement (e.g., shares which you acquired in the open market, under the Employee Stock Purchase Plan or under the 2001 Employee Stock Option Plan and therefore are not registered for resale), you must sell pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act. The usual exemption relied on by affiliates is Rule 144 under the 1933 Act which, among other conditions noted below, generally requires that any sale be made through a broker-dealer and, if the shares were acquired from the Company in a private transaction outside of our current stock option, stock purchase and 401(k) plans, or were acquired in a private transaction from another affiliate, that the securities have been held for at least one year. It is important that your broker be informed that the securities must be sold pursuant to Rule 144. I am available to advise and provide assistance to you and your broker in connection with any such transactions.

2. Volume limitations under Rule 144. Rule 144 restricts an affiliate of the Company from selling during any three-month period an amount of Michaels equity securities exceeding the greater of:
 - a. one percent of the outstanding securities of that class; or
 - b. the average weekly trading volume of that class of securities during the four calendar weeks preceding the date a broker is directed to execute the transaction.
3. Notice requirement under Rule 144. If the sale involves over 500 shares or other units or a sales price exceeding $10,000, a Form 144 must be filed, at the time the sale order is placed, with the SEC and the NYSE.
4. Other requirements. There are a number of technical requirements under Rule 144, all of which must be complied with. Most brokers are familiar with these requirements and have Rule 144 compliance checklists and forms. Again, I am available to assist you in such sales.

III. INSIDER TRADING RESTRICTIONS.

A. General.

Under Rule 10b-5 under the 1934 Act, you may not buy or sell Michaels stock or other securities at any time while you possess material non-public (or "inside") information concerning the Company. In addition, you may not communicate material non-public information to another person who may trade or advise others to trade on the basis of such information, nor may you advise another person to trade while in possession of material non-public information even if you do not communicate that information to such person.

B. Material Non-Public Information.

- 1 Definition. "Material non-public information" is information that is not available to the public at large which could affect the price of the security and to which a reasonable investor would attach importance in deciding whether to buy, sell or retain the security.

N:\Lrg\FVAZQUEZ\SROC\emp\my Stock Cvd\lines\Section 16 Officers\5-01\Fed Sec Law Memo.doc

2. Materiality. Examples of non-public information that might be deemed material include:

- quarterly or annual results;
- internal earnings estimates, especially if significantly different from "street" estimates;
- sales information;
- financial liquidity problems or management changes;
- stock or debt offerings;
- negotiations concerning significant mergers, acquisitions or divestitures;
- dividend recommendations, stock splits, stock repurchase programs, tender offers or exchange offers; and
- significant litigation or labor disputes.

It should be noted that either positive or adverse information may be material and that material undisclosed developments in matters previously disclosed may also constitute material non-public information. Also, as the magnitude of a potential event or transaction increases, and the greater the chance it will actually occur, the more likely it is that information regarding that event or transaction may be deemed material.

3. Non-public versus public information. Information is considered to be available to the public only when it has been released to the public through appropriate channels (e.g., by means of a press release) and enough time has elapsed to permit the market to absorb and evaluate the information. Once public release has occurred, information will normally be regarded as absorbed and evaluated within two or three business days thereafter.

4. Trading windows policy. There are certain periods throughout the year when the Company's normal business cycle and reporting schedule suggest that varying degrees of caution should be exercised. As we get closer to the end of each fiscal quarter and the announcement of earnings (especially year-end earnings), and as we get closer to the periodic release of sales information (especially during the Christmas selling season), it becomes increasingly likely that internal financial data may be deemed material. (Note: Since allegations of insider trading are always judged with "20-20 hindsight," you may place yourself at risk even if you genuinely do not anticipate a move in market price.) Accordingly, for your planning purposes, attached is a calendar on which tentative trading windows (based on our anticipated financial disclosure schedule) are highlighted. Please note that these windows are subject to revision from time to time, for instance, in the event of a change in our financial reporting schedule or as a result of developments in our business or the execution of Company stock repurchase programs; if this occurs, you will be notified. You must confine your market activity in Michaels stock to the trading windows. Keep in mind, however, that trading windows are not "safe harbors." Even when you are in a trading window, you may not trade in Michaels stock — including engaging in cashless option exercises — if you are then in possession of material non-public information. This trading windows policy does not apply to purchases under the Employees Stock Purchase Plan (including lump sum cash purchases as permitted by the plan; however, as noted elsewhere, you must then hold the shares so acquired for at least six months, or else those purchases may constitute Section 16 "events" which may be matched with other transactions for purposes of Section 16(b) liability — see Paragraph 1.B.6.c.ii above). Other exceptions to this policy must be approved expressly in advance two days prior to the transaction by me, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company.

C. Certain Recurring Issues.

You may, at any time, exercise a stock option (except during a pension fund blackout period) or participate in the Michaels stock fund under the 401(k) Plan or the Employees Stock Purchase Plan (including by means of lump sum cash purchases as permitted by the plan; however, as described elsewhere, you must then hold the shares acquired by lump sum purchase for at least six months, or else those purchases may constitute Section 16 "events" which may be matched with other transactions for purposes of Section 16(b) liability — see Paragraph 1.B.6.c.ii above). However, sales of any shares so acquired (e.g., in a cashless exercise of a stock option) are subject to all of the restrictions on insider trading set forth above. In addition, transfers of existing 401(k) Plan account balances (i.e., "old money") into or away from the Michaels stock fund and increases in your allocations from routine contributions into the Michaels stock fund are likewise subject to the same prohibitions. Furthermore, you may not allow a trade in Michaels stock to be executed pursuant to a standing limit order during any period in which you are precluded from trading, even if that limit order was previously placed at a time when you were not prohibited from trading.

D. Penalties.

Potential penalties for violations of Rule 10b-5 include prison time and significant criminal and civil fines which may be imposed upon both the violator and the Company.

E. Company Policy.

As long as any officer, director or employee has material non-public information relating to the Company, it is the Company's policy that such person may not buy or sell the securities of the Company. Equally important, the information may not be passed along (or "tipped") to others. After the information has been publicly disclosed through appropriate channels, a reasonable time should be allowed to elapse (usually at least two or three business days) before trading in the security to allow for public dissemination and evaluation of the information. Since it is often difficult to determine whether the standards specified above have been satisfied, it is the Company's policy that executive officers and directors must not purchase or sell securities of the Company unless clearance two days in advance of the transaction is first received from me, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company. You must communicate directly with me, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company in this regard; an unconfirmed fax, voice mail message or e-mail message is not sufficient to pre-clear a transaction.

IV. SARBANES-OXLEY ACT MATTERS.

A. Cashless Option Exercises.

The Sarbanes-Oxley Act prohibits public companies from making or arranging for loans to any of their directors or executive officers. There is a consensus among major law firms that this provision of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act may limit the methods by which directors and executive officers can accomplish cashless exercises. As a result, unless and until statutory, regulatory or interpretive relief is granted, directors and executive officers will not be permitted to participate in cashless exercise programs arranged by the Company. You may individually enter into your own arrangements with your broker for cashless exercises, but the Company cannot be involved in those arrangements except to deliver the shares upon exercise of your option, as you direct (including to your broker), after receipt from you or your broker of payment of the exercise price. Should you execute any option exercise with the assistance of your broker, the Company will only respond to factual inquiries from your broker (for example, the Company will confirm that vested options exist, that the Company will deliver the shares covered by the option upon receipt of the exercise price and other relevant factual information). To engage in a cashless exercise, you must complete the Company's broker and participant forms, which you may obtain from me, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company.

B. Prohibition on Trades During Pension Fund Blackout Periods.

In accordance with certain provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, you may be prohibited (as may certain of your family members and entities that you or certain of your family members may control or have an interest in) from buying, selling or otherwise acquiring or transferring (including through the exercise of derivative securities such as stock options), during a pension fund blackout period in the 401(k) Plan, any Michaels equity securities that you acquired in connection with your service or employment as a director or executive officer of Michaels. The new SEC regulation treats any equity security sold or otherwise transferred during a pension fund blackout period as having been "acquired in connection with service or employment as a director or executive officer" unless you can establish that the equity security was not so acquired.

A pension fund blackout period occurs when at least 50% of the participants in the 401(k) Plan are temporarily suspended from purchasing or selling Michaels equity securities in the 401(k) Plan for more than three consecutive business days. In the event you become subject to a pension fund blackout period, the Company currently anticipates that it will notify you at least 15 days before the pension fund blackout period begins; however, circumstances could make it impracticable for the Company to provide such advance notice.

Potential penalties for violations of this regulation include civil and criminal fines, and, under appropriate circumstances, other criminal action. This may be true even if the Company failed to notify you of the pension fund blackout period. In addition, if you violate these trading restrictions, regardless of your motive or intention, any "profit" you realized from such a transaction is recoverable by the Company or, after demand to the Company, by a stockholder on behalf of the Company.

V. CONCLUSION.

As this memorandum illustrates, federal securities law is a highly complex, technical area, and violations can have serious consequences both to you and to the Company. Because of this, your transactions in Company securities must be pre-cleared two days in advance of the transaction with me, Mark Beasley or other designated legal counsel for the Company. Additionally, it is advisable always to use a knowledgeable broker (who should be aware of federal securities issues and liabilities) when effecting transactions in Michaels equity securities. Finally, please promptly respond to all reminders and other materials periodically distributed to Insiders as part of the Company's Section 16 compliance program, and do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions regarding any of these matters.

On April 15, 1992, the Bulldog Trust acquired in privately negotiated transactions indirect beneficial ownership of currently exercisable options and warrants to purchase an aggregate of 1,311,725 shares of the Company's Common Stock by virtue of the purchase of such options and warrants by corporations owned directly or indirectly by the Bulldog Trust. The options and warrants so purchased have an exercise price of $6.25 per share, and were valued for the purpose of such purchase at the difference between such exercise price and $18.875, being the closing sale price of the Common Stock of the Company on the New York Stock Exchange on the date of the purchase, and the consideration so determined is to be paid to the seller of the options and warrants pursuant to private annuity agreements entered into with such corporations. The annuity agreements will be funded with the working capital of such corporations.

On April 15, 1992, the Pitkin Trust acquired indirect beneficial ownership of currently exercisable options and warrants to purchase an aggregate of 671,863 shares of the Company's Common Stock by virtue of the purchase of such options and warrants by corporations owned directly or indirectly by the Pitkin Trust. The options and warrants so purchased have an exercise price of $6.25 per share, and were valued for the purpose of such purchase at the difference between such exercise price and $18.875, being the closing sale price of the Common Stock of the Company on the New York Stock Exchange on the date of the purchase, and the consideration so determined is to be paid to the seller of the options and warrants pursuant to private annuity agreements entered into with such corporations. Item 4. Purpose of Transaction.

The options and warrants acquired by the Bulldog Trust and the Pitkin Trust through the corporations owned directly or indirectly by them were acquired for investment. Depending on market conditions and other factors they may deem material to an investment decision, any Reporting Person may purchase additional shares of the Common Stock or may dispose of all or a portion of the shares of Common Stock they now beneficially own or may hereafter acquire. Item 5. Interest in Securities of the Issuer.

The Bulldog Trust beneficially owns 1,311,725 shares, or 12.7%, of the Common Stock of the Company. The Bulldog Trust owns all of such shares indirectly by virtue of the ownership of such shares by corporations owned directly or indirectly by the Bulldog Trust (through beneficial ownership by such corporations of 667,000 shares as a result of the corporations' ownership of options, 404,725 shares as a result of the corporations' ownership of Series B Warrants and 240,000 shares as a result of the corporations' ownership of Series E Warrants).

The Reporting Persons have no voting power with respect to shares of Common Stock beneficially owned by virtue of the ownership of the options, the Series B Warrants, the Series E Warrants and the Series F Warrants because the Series B Warrants, Series E Warrants and Series F Warrants have not been exercised to purchase such shares.~~

Item 1. Security and Issuer.

This statement relates to the Common Stock, par value, $0.10 per share (the "Common Stock"), of Michaels Stores, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"). The address of the principal executive offices of the Company is 5931 Campus Circle Drive, Irving, Texas 75063, P.O. Box 619566, DFW, Texas 75261-9566.

Item 2. Identity and Background

This statement is being filed by Lorne House Trust Limited, a corporation organized in the Isle of Man, British Isles ("Lorne House"). Lorne House is principally engaged in the business of portfolio, trust and company management services and has its principal business and executive offices at Lorne House, Castletown, Isle of Man, British Isles.

Lorne House has not, during the last five years, been convicted in a criminal proceeding or been a party to a civil proceeding of a judicial or administrative body resulting in subjection to a judgment, decree or final order enjoining future violations of, or prohibiting or mandating activities subject to, federal or state securities laws or finding any violation with respect to such laws.

Item 3. Source and Amount of Funds or Other Consideration.

On April 13, 1992, Lorne House acquired indirect beneficial ownership of currently exercisable options and warrants to purchase an aggregate of 960,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock because of the following acquisitions of such shares by the Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust (the "Bulldog Trust") and the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust (the "Pitkin Trust"), both of which are trusts of which Lorne House is sole trustee:

On April 13, 1992, the Bulldog Trust acquired indirect beneficial ownership of currently exercisable options and warrants to purchase an aggregate of 635,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock by virtue of the purchase of such options and warrants by corporations owned directly or indirectly by the Bulldog Trust (the "Bulldog Corporations"). The options and warrants so purchased have an exercise price of $3.00 per share, and were valued for the purpose of such purchase at the difference between such exercise price and $20.625, being the closing sale price of the Common Stock of the Company on the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation National Market System ("NASDAQ/NMS") on the date of the purchase, and the consideration so determined is to be paid to the seller of such options and warrants pursuant to private annuity agreements entered into with such corporations. The annuity agreements will be funded with the working capital of such corporations.

PSI00127006

On April 13, 1992, the Pitkin Trust acquired indirect beneficial ownership of currently exercisable options to purchase an aggregate of 325,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock by virtue of the purchase of such options by corporations owned directly or indirectly by the Pitkin Trust (the "Pitkin Corporations"). The options so purchased have an exercise price of $3.00 per share, and were valued for the purpose of such purchase at the difference between such exercise price and $20.625, being the closing sale price of the Common Stock of the Company on the NASDAQ/NMS on the date of the purchase, and the consideration so determined is to be paid to the seller of such options pursuant to private annuity agreements entered into with such corporations. The annuity agreements will be funded with the working capital of such corporations.

Item 4. Purpose of Transaction.

The options and warrants acquired by Lorne House through the corporations owned directly or indirectly by the Bulldog Trust and the Pitkin Trust were acquired for investment. Depending on market conditions and other factors they may deem material to an investment decision, any Reporting Person may purchase additional shares of the Common Stock or may dispose of all or a portion of the shares of Common Stock they now beneficially own or may hereafter acquire. Except as set forth in this Item 4, none of the Reporting Persons has any present plans or proposals that relate to or would result in any of the actions specified in clauses (a) through (j) of Item 4 of Schedule 13D.

Item 5. Interest in Securities of the Issuer.

Lorne House beneficially owns 960,000 shares, or 5.8%, of the Common Stock of the Company. Lorne House owns all of such shares indirectly as trustee of the Bulldog Trust and the Pitkin Trust (through indirect beneficial ownership by such trusts of 150,000 shares as a result of the Bulldog Corporations' ownership of warrants, 485,000 shares as a result of the Bulldog Corporations' ownership of options, and 325,000 shares as a result of the Pitkin Corporations' ownership of options).

Lorne House has sole dispositive power with respect to the shares it beneficially owns. Lorne House has no voting power with respect to shares of Common Stock beneficially owned by virtue of the ownership of the options and warrants because the options and warrants have not been exercised to purchase such shares.

Except as described in Item 3 herein, no transactions in the Common Stock were effected by Lorne House during the past 60 days or since the most recent filing on Schedule 13D, whichever is less.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Lorne House Trust Limited/Ronnie Buchanan

FROM: Jackson & Walker, L.L.P.

DATE: April 22, 1992

~~RE: The Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust and The Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust; Filing Requirements under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934~~

Lorne House Trust Limited ("Lorne House"), the Bulldog Non-Grantor Trust ("Bulldog") and the Pitkin Non-Grantor Trust ("Pitkin") will be required to make certain filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") related to the holdings of Bulldog and Pitkin of securities of Sterling Software, Inc. ("Sterling") and Michaels Stores, Inc. ("Michaels").

Set forth below is a summary of some of the circumstances under which these filings will be made. These legal requirements can be very complex. Please feel free to call us with any questions you may have from time to time.

1. Form 4. For so long as Bulldog owns securities representing in excess of 10% of the outstanding shares of Sterling common stock, Bulldog will be required to file with the SEC Form 4's reporting purchases and sales by Bulldog of Sterling's Common Stock. These reports must be filed with the SEC on or before the 10th day of the month following the month in which the reported transactions took place. Under certain circumstances, profits from a "purchase" and "sale" made within six months of one another must be disgorged. You should consult with Sharyl Robertson or us prior to effecting transactions in Sterling's securities to ensure compliance with Securities Exchange Act rules.

2. Schedule 13D's.

a. Sterling. Lorne House, Bulldog and Pitkin must file an amendment to Schedule 13D when the aggregate holdings of Bulldog and Pitkin in Sterling's securities fluctuate by more than 1% of Sterling's outstanding common stock (currently approximately 90,000 shares). This filing must be made promptly after the transaction occurs.

b. Michaels. Lorne House must file an amendment to Schedule 13D when the aggregate holdings of Bulldog and Pitkin in Michaels securities fluctuate by more than 1% of Michael's outstanding common stock (currently approximately 120,000 shares). This filing must be made promptly after the transaction occurs.

Thank you for your fax dated March 3rd.

We intend to transfer East Carroll Limited and East Baton Rouge Limited from Bulldog to Plaquemines, this would mean that Plaquemines would hold 350,000 shares and Bulldog would hold 644,725 shares of Sterling Software.

Bulldog will settle Plaquemines, in the words which you suggested.

Since the purpose of the exercise, as I understand it, is to divide the ownership of Sterling Software we need to split ownership of the underlying companies which own SS between the two trusts. That was the purpose of Barbara's fax of yesterday.

To: Distribution

From: Craig Schiffer

Date: March 13, 1995

Re: Michaels Stores/Sterling Software Transaction

Floyd Norris' representation of the Michaels Stores and Sterling Software transactions in the Sunday N.Y. Times (Business Section, Market Watch Column) was not completely representative of the facts, and in our view led, readers to erroneous conclusions about the propriety of the Wyly's activities. Let me outline the exact details:

1. The transaction was a structured financing which allowed the Wyly's to accomplish two primary objectives:
 - Gain cost effective liquidity
 - Retain significant upside in the stock

One alternative, which is to sell stock outright, accomplishes neither of these goals.
2. Sam Wyly, his brother Charles and certain family trusts (Wyly Group) collectively borrowed an amount of money (not specified in the 13D but substantially less than the $100 million noted in the article) at an attractive level.
3. In addition, the Wyly group executed "collar" transactions on 1.77 million shares of Michaels Stores, Inc. and 300,000 shares of Sterling Software, Inc. with Lehman Brothers.
4. This transaction relates to approximately one third of the Wyly group's holdings of Michaels Stores and a smaller proportion of their holdings of Sterling Software.

The Wyly Group collars were structured as follows:

Michaels Stores, Wyly Group:

- Bought American Put - right to receive from LB the difference between 28.56 and the stock price at any time over the life of the transaction.
- Sold European Call - LB has the right to receive from Wyly at expiration the difference between the stock price and $48.23.

MSNY 008885

Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations

I B 0000301

EXHIBIT #66 - FN 815

Sterling Software, Wyly Group-

- Bought American Put - right to receive from LB the difference between $32.5 and the stock price at any time over the life of the transaction.
- Sold European Call - LB has a right to receive from Wyly at expiration the difference between the stock price and $31.56.

The Collar (options) are cash settled and expire in February, 1998.

What these transactions accomplish for Wyly entities.

1. The transaction allows the Wyly entities to borrow more money at better terms than would have been possible through alternative financings.
2. The Wyly entities retain significant upside exposure to both Sterling Software and to Michaels Stores stock.
3. They remain long term shareholders.

Points regarding the Norris article.

1. "top officer stands to make millions if the company's share price plummeted ..." No, the Wyly group's overall position is more relevant. Since their positions represent less than 1/3 of their total holdings the value of the overall position would fall dramatically if the price were to decline.
2. "memories of Albert H. Wiggins, the president of the Chase National Bank ... (who) made good money shoring Chase stock during the crash." The Wyly group did not short stock. They entered into a structured financing that provided downside protection for a limited part of holdings. The transaction does not obligate the Wytys to sell stock.
3. "the law would not appear to cover what Mr. Wyly has now done." i.e. a hedging transaction. It does. The Wyly group filed under SEC Rule 13D which specifically requires 5% stake holders to report transactions which hedge their underlying positions with derivative instruments.
4. Mr. Norris also comments on Mr. Wyly's incentive to manipulate the price of Michaels Stores common stock in 1998. As a corporate insider and a 13D filer, all transactions would be subject to SEC disclosure. It is unreasonable to infer that Mr. Wyly would knowingly break U.S. securities law in light of the public nature of the transaction.

Dear Ronnie:

Please dispose of this fax after reading, as there will be ample documentation as needed.

It is expected that a recommendation will be made to Wychwood that the Plaquermines Trust, and another trust settled with Wychwood by Pitkin, should contact Lehman regarding acquiring call options on SSW, probably for about two years at the market. Wychwood would finance the transaction through loans, from Lorne House entities. It is likely that a portion of the price could be financed through Lehman.

It may be that, as an alternative, there will be two new trusts at Wychwood established by Keith that will mirror the Bessie and Tyler trusts. This would require Keith to contribute some funds to the trust, but presumably there is a source for that. If this structure is used, the same financing structure for the calls would be utilized.

Wychwood would, in either case, be limited to approximately 600,000 to 700,000 calls, in order to stay under 5% of the outstanding shares and avoid SEC reporting.

I am also sending a copy of this fax to Shaun Cairns, with the same request that he read it and then dispose of it. I will be back on this soon, perhaps tonight.

Dear Shaun:

I recommend that you immediately contact Lehman Brothers (Lou Schaufele 214 720 9471) regarding the acquisition of two year call options to purchase Sterling Software at the market. These would be acquired by the Plaquemines Trust and another trust established by a Trust at Lorne House, or, if Keith is willing to establish two new trusts that parallel the Bessie and Tyler trusts he set up last year with Lorne House, those new trusts could be the acquirer.

In either case, the actual transaction would be done through a corporate subsidiary of the trusts. Lorne House will assist in arranging the financing.

This transaction, if you as trustee believe it is beneficial, would need to be effected very quickly. I will call you when I reach the office in the morning. As with my other fax, I suggest that you dispose of this one as there will be adequate subsequent documentation of any transactions.

Please show a copy of this to Keith.

Also, I am looking forward to receiving your proposals regarding the Nevis bank.

16th August, 1995.

From: RB

Plaquemines, Delhi, Assumption & Pueblo Trusts

Shari Roberston, who administers the Wylly Brothers' affairs from Dallas, rang yesterday afternoon BST to say that Mike French - presumably on Sam's prompting - does not wish to await John Willis's return to set up the Assumption and Pueblo Trusts or AJB's arrangement of a new credit line with which to buy options on Sterling Software. They will, instead, use the existing facilities with Lehman Brothers in Dallas and Wychwood as trustee.

We have available Elysium Limited to be owned by the Assumption Trust (where Sam will nominate the initial beneficiaries) and Atlantis Limited to be owned by the Pueblo Trust (ditto Charles). FKVC is asked to alter the draft trust documents to reflect the change of trustee to Wychwood and SFC is asked to accept trusteeship.

Wychwood must not be trustee of two sets of trusts which are buying options simultaneously since the amount involved would trigger a reporting requirement. We have been asked, therefore, to transfer the trusteeship of the Plaquemines and Delhi Trusts from Wychwood to a temporary trustee and from the temp. to John Willis once he has returned. I offered to be the temporary trustee in a personal capacity but Mike French thought that I was unsuitable in that I control the corporate trustee of the Bulldog and Pitkin Trusts. He asked if JKB would be willing to serve.

FKVC is asked to prepare deeds of resignation and appointment of trustees from Wychwood to JKB for the Plaquemines and Delhi Trusts and JKB is asked to accept temporary trusteeship.

The Wyllys would still like to arrange financing similar to that which has been arranged with Lehman Brothers but from another bank.

Sam and I wish to arrange a bank borrowing to finance the purchase of a large number of call options on Sterling Software shares. I would be grateful if you could find a bank in London which would be interested in the business (keeping careful note of your time spent and expenses incurred). The pattern will be exactly the same as for the same exercise which we recently completed with Lehmann Brothers in Dallas. The new purchase will be in the name of two new trusts which we are establishing and which will have separate trustees. The Wyllys, who are officers of and shareholders in SS, have been advised that, in consequence, there is no reporting requirement under SEC regulations, such as there would have been had all their potential interests been aggregated.

I will leave this note to ask Barbara to check with you where she should send the documentation for the last loan/option package, always supposing that you will be in London next week. She can also tell you which bank Mike French thinks you might approach first: I think it was Credit Suisse First Boston, but cannot verify that on this Saturday morning. I shall be in Ireland until Monday evening.

We have all much enjoyed reading your account of your march in Holland, as great a literary feat as it had earlier been a physical one.

Subject: RE: Account Inquiry - Various

Margo,

I do have more questions. If all of the accounts were funded by the same "grantor", then they are all related in that aspect. I guess I would want to know the following:

- 1) Where did the original stock options come from?
- 2) Who/what acted as the "grantor" of the stock options? If an entity deposited the shares, who was the owner of the entity?
- 3) Who are the beneficial owners of all of the grantor trusts?
- 4) Copies of the account applications, W8-IMY information for the grantor trusts, and if information is being held on the grantor trusts themselves, I want to see that information to determine which US individuals are the owners of these accounts.

My concern is that I do not believe that this company is reporting the ownership of the shares adequately. The fact that they are all being treated as separate companies does not impact the matter because they clearly have a link due to the original deposit. In addition, some of the accounts also maintain a control relationship even as independent accounts. Therefore, an account like P86017043 (Quayle LTD), which made a sale of 100,000 shares of Michael's on 09/02/03 should have filed a form 144 with the SEC because of their control relationship before the sale. Do we have a copy of that form on file? This is an important issue that I do not believe can be explained in a paragraph and without documentation. I know that this issue will take a lot of time to resolve, but I do not believe that we understand their business, and I want to make sure they are in compliance with SEC regulations. Thank you for the preliminary information.

Dear Mr. Collister,

I had a short discussion with Ronnie Friday regarding your transmittal of April 24. I wanted to make sure you were clear on the reporting/volume selling requirements of these securities. The securities owned by Little Woody Limited (166,500 options), Roaring Fork Limited (166,500 options) and East Carroll Limited (667,000 options) will be registered securities of Sterling Software when exercised. Michael French's firm can provide Lorne House and the banks with which you are having discussions, a legal opinion stating that these securities are not subject to any Securities and Exchange Commission Form 144 volume Rules and that the securities in no way need to be aggregated with the Settlers of the Trusts - Charles and Sam Wyly.

From my discussion with Ronnie I gather the banks are showing concern that the eventual beneficiaries - the children of Charles Wyly and Sam Wyly are shareholders (they are not directors or officers at this time). Again, these shares would not be aggregated for volume rule selling purposes with the other shares owned by the children. The only requirement for reporting to the Security Exchange Commission is to file Form 13D which just states that Lorne House beneficially controls votes more than 5% of the outstanding stock of Sterling Software.

Let me know if you require any further information regarding these securities. I have a contact with Credit Suisse I will pursue. If it looks good I will get back to you and make an introduction.

I received the instructions from Keely on the MIKE sale. Obviously I am going to proceed, I need to cover some details with Keely first. Not to beat a dead horse but with the stock down what if I could give you 88% of the effective sales proceeds (approximately $18.3mm) and you would have upside in the stock to 42 over the next two years (assuming the stock @ 35). In doing this you do not have a taxable event till 2003.

Bill, Matt and Chris,

Michael Cohen will be coming to talk to you about a trade that the above referenced account wants to do.

They currently own 762,000 shs. of Michaels Stores, they are not an affiliate

They want to purchase 589,000+ shs of Michaels on margin for a short period of time.

Devolon is doing a forward sale through derivatives to come up with the cash for the purchase but it will take about a week or so before the proceeds are available.

Can we do the trade, and can we do it sooner versus later?

Thanks,
T

In looking at a sale by an affiliate of MIKE and a purchase by a non-affiliate along with a forward sale by the same non-affiliate here are some observations.

1) If these could be done somewhat simultaneous then there would not be as much chance of risk to the non-affiliate. The risk to the non-affiliate is that if they purchase the stock at a higher price than they do the forward sale then they have risk. If the purchase was made at 42 and the forward sale was effected at 35 this probably would be a problem. In the forward sale Lehman is going to want to hedge (i.e. sell stock) themselves. This sale will become the reference price for the forward sale.

We think we may have a solution to this: the affiliate would sell their stock into the open market over the course of the day. After the close Lehman Bros. who need to sell stock would then cross the same amount sold by the affiliate to the non affiliate in London.

For example:
Lehman sells 200,000 shares in the open market @ 42
Lehman sells 200,000 shares in London to the non-affiliate @ 42

we can talk further about this in the morning.

I spoke with the family last night, they do understand that we will be collaring 20% more stock than Devotion would be purchasing. I talked thru the risk of not doing this simultaneously. Here, is a negative which they did not bring up but I bet Sam picks up on it. If Sam sells into the open market, he must comply with rules of an insider on selling versus he can cross it to Devotion. It means not es liquid and perhaps multiple filing. I also understand more why Sam won't do this forward, when we did the original collar on MIKE there was a lot of negative press (from page NY times), what would be the best is if we could effect our hedge into the open market then cross stock to Devotion as we get stock off on the US side or elsewhere (meaning if it could happen in London that is OK). Where are we on paperwork? What I am worried about is that if we make this to complicated then Sam is just going to sell. From a credit perspective I think that we could get Devotion to agree that if they do not get the forward done in X days we will raise the margin maintenance to 75%. I think Sam is going to want to get started selling his 588k today.

When we did the first Michaels Stores collar, to my recollection all of the parties were on shore entities. It was on the Sterling Software collar and options that we did derivative trades with the offshore entities (of which Devotion was one). Sam Wyl is a director of Sterling Software Ltd like he is in Michaels Stores. We have also done some arbitrage with these stocks in these entities with the local intervention in 1998 we sold over 666,000 shares of SSW and in 1997 we sold over 400,000 shares of Michaels Stores. I am not sure if we have done any more arbitrage with these entities. I have talked with the Michaels Stores outside company counsel and that they do not consider Devotion Ltd. an affiliate. Here we want to purchase stock and enter into a forward sale, I am assuming that this is a very profitable trade for the firm and really wonder what is going on here.

Dave - Below are the facts to date on the devotion trade.

~~Devotion Ltd. wants to enter into a three year Pre-Paid Forward on Michael Stores. Devotion is an Isle of Man corp. that is owned by a trust whose beneficiary's are either children or grandchildren of Sam Wyly. The trust is run by independent trustees. Lehman has done multiple trades - although not on MIKE - over the years with various similar entities set up by the Wyly's, (i.e., Samia, Greenbrier, Quayle, Roaring-Fork, Moberly and Devotion). This is the first time I have heard of Devotion, but we had a ISDA in place from earlier trades on Sterling Software done while Sam was an affiliate of that company.~~

As with all trades we do where we are borrowing the client's shares and desire to have a physical settlement option, we need to be satisfied that the client is not an affiliate of the issuer. The client is willing to represent to us that it is not an affiliate and Michael Stores counsel, Bob Eastep of Jones Day, has spoken to Gordon on the issue. Bob told Gordon that Devotion is not considered an affiliate by Michael Stores. However, he also indicated that he did not necessarily agree with that determination. Gordon rightly requested more comfort on the issue. It was hoped comfort would come in the form of an opinion.

This afternoon we spoke with the Bob Eastep and a colleague who has a securities background, John McCaferty, and Rodney Owen who is counsel for Devotion. They all reiterated that the client was not an affiliate of MIKE.

REDACTED

Since none of these attorney's have been asked to ever investigate those details, they could not render the opinion we have asked for.

I believe Lou Schaufele, the broker in Dallas who works with both Sam and Devotion, is in the best position internally to talk about the clients past action to see if they act in concert.

Additionally, Lehman has a history on Michael Stores where "on shore" affiliates entered into collar transactions. While these trades happened prior to my joining the firm, I understand that the company reported negative news and the stock fell sharply. Since that time I have spoken to Mark Sanborn on every trade we have done with entities related to the Wyly's in order to make sure Lehman is comfortable trading. In every case we have been comfortable.

Siggi has spoken with Mark Sanborn about this trade and Mark has said that he was comfortable doing the trade if we make certain that the documentation is right and that the client is not an affiliate. (Siggi can probably expand on this if necessary).

One other fact has come to light this afternoon. Lou has in his files copies of 144 paperwork from Devotion in 1998 when they sold shares of MIKE. These papers indicate that the stock was being sold under rule 144 because the shares had been acquired in a private transaction from an affiliate and were thus restricted by the rule. Under the question on the form 144 Relationship to Issuer, the client wrote, "NA". They also have 144k paperwork requesting the legends being removed at some later date as they were not considered affiliates and had held stock for the required time period. I assume an opinion was written at this time by company counsel for MIKE in order to instruct the transfer agent to remove the legends. This could probably put into the category of interesting but not particularly relevant.

I just wanted to give you a heads up on a situation: We have an offshore entity Devotion Ltd. (they are and offshore corporation that is owned by a trust whose beneficiaries are some members of the Wylly family) who wants to do a forward sale on 600k of Michaels Stores. Sam Wylly is a director/insider at Michaels Stores. Lehman's counsel is of the opinion that Devotion is therefore an affiliate. Now we have had a conference call with Gordon Kiesling (LB), Russ Hackmann (LB), Michael Cohen (LB), John McCaferly (Michaels Stores outside counsel), Bob Eastep (Michaels Stores outside counsel), Rodney Owens (tax counsel for Devotion and the Wylly's) and myself. Basically (this is my read on the situation) the company counsel and Devotion Ltd. counsel said that they are not an affiliate but that getting an opinion would probably be time consuming and expensive. As a little history, we have done derivative trades for this entity and other offshore entities in the past in companies that the Wylly's control. Also in the current Michaels Stores proxy Devotion is not listed as an affiliate and on sales that we have done in the past where Devotion filed 144 forms they have stated they are not an affiliate. I don't want to jeopardize the firm but I do believe that we are getting a little "over lawyered" and in not doing this trade I believe would cause some serious problems in Lehman's relationship. I can tell you that in my dealings with these entities for the past 5+ years you do not talk offshore business with the family and all dealings/orders come via phone and fax from the offshore directors and to me everything appears in order.

I spoke with the family last night, they do understand that we will be collaring 20% more stock than Devotion would be purchasing. I talked thru the risk of not doing this simultaneously. Here, is a negative which they did not bring up but I bet Sam picks up on it. If Sam sells into the open market he must comply with rules of an insider on selling versus he can cross it to Devotion. It means not as liquid and perhaps multiple filing. I also understand more why Sam won't do the forward, when we did the original collar on MIKE there was a lot of negative press (front page NY times). what would be the best is if we could effect our hedge into the open market then cross stock to Devotion as we get stock off on the US side or elsewhere (meaning if it could happen in London that is ok). Where are we on paperwork? What I am worried about is that if we make this to complicated then Sam is just going to sell. From a credit perspective I think that we could get Devotion to agree that if they do not get the forward done in X days we will raise the margin maintenance to 75%. I think Sam is going to want to get started selling his 589k today.

Well, Evan just called and said Sam has decided to not go forward with the forward sale or the call spread. He said he was sorry for wasting everyone's time, but had just thought more about the transaction and was happy with what was done last week and just wanted to leave it at that. Give me a call if you want to discuss

MICHAEL,
 I need to get the details on the atly's opinion as it relates to the offshore entity being an affiliate. It seems like we have done trades in the past without issues. The Wyly groups internal counsel does not consider them an affiliate. This relationship has been exclusive to Lehman in the past. Mr. Wyly is not going to bitch and moan, if we make it difficult to do business here, without emotion he will take his business across the street. We do not want that!! Lou said it felt like we got over lawyered on the last enquiry.
 They could possibly come in next week and want to do something in this account. I would like to be proactive and get the issue put to bed so Lou could go back to them next week and tell him that the affiliate issue will no longer be a problem. Getting that done may require us to get Ed or Charlie involved to make a business decision. This is very important to me and to the team, we may have to jerk some chains but we need to get this resolved. Come back to me with some suggestions as to what you and Dave think we should do next. I do not want to wait for WYLY to come back to us until we have the problem solved.
 I will be at a conference on 10/29 and 10/30. You can reach me on my cell phone # 214 [REDACTED]

Thanks Kurt

I just wanted to give you a heads up on a situation: We have an offshore entity Devolcon Ltd. (they are and offshore corporation that is owned by a trust whose beneficiaries are some members of the Wyly family) who wants to do a forward sale on 00K of Michaels Stores. Sam Wyly is a director/insider at Michaels Stores.
REDACTED
 Now we have had a conference call with Gordon Klesling (LB), Russ Hackmann (LB), Michael Cohen (LB), John McCatery (Michaels Stores outside counsel), Bob Eastep (Michaels Stores outside counsel), Rodney Owens (tax counsel for Devolcon and the Wylys) and myself. Basically (this is my read on the situation) the company counsel and Devolcon Ltd. counsel said that they are not an affiliate but that getting an opinion would probably be time consuming and expensive. As a little history, we have done derivative trades for this entity and other offshore entities in the past in companies that the Wylys control. Also in the current Michaels Stores proxy Devolcon is not listed as an affiliate and on sales that we have done in the past where Devolcon filed 144 forms they have stated they are not an affiliate. I don't want to jeopardize the firm but I do believe that we are getting a little "over lawyered" and in not doing this trade I believe would cause some serious problems in Lehman's relationship. I can tell you that in my dealings with these entities for the past 5+ years you do not talk offshore business with the family and all dealings/orders come via phone and fax from the offshore directors and to me everything appears in order.

I think that we have made the decision. So we need to talk some logistics. I know that you need our "leaves statements", w-2 and check stub [REDACTED] and I talked and given that the market stinks but probably more importantly we really haven't tried to do anything since we started talking seriously with you, so if it is ok I am going to give you our check stub as of 6/30. We did do business in July and August I just don't think it is representative). The other things that I can think about is: staff- currently we have 3 sales assistants, 1 clerical person (travel, insurance gets lunch...) and 2 analyst for our core product [REDACTED] one of the analyst just got his CFA and the firm pays him [REDACTED] and we are paying him [REDACTED], the other is the computer whiz and does a great job. We would like to bring everyone but there are a couple of issues, most importantly we don't want to do anything that would cause [REDACTED] to rescind the stock that we have already vested (I want your legal people to look at this and we are having our attorneys look at it as well, [REDACTED] took [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and it did not seem to be a problem) Alos the CFA analyst is now probably over qualified for what we need and although we still will have the core it isn't going to be a focus. The problem is I just don't think that we could leave him behind, I doubt [REDACTED] want him or any of our team but I really don't know what to do there. So you need to think of something in that regard. [REDACTED] and I talked about seeing if [REDACTED] could come over to BAC on a part time basis and help get things together for our clients, she could also learn your systems so that she could help our staff (I assume you remember her @ FEC) we don't know if she could do it but just a thought. From a timing perspective I don't think we could get everything together for ??30 days. I know we don't want to rush this. I am having my secretary [REDACTED] (she is the only one who knows what is going on, so if you need anything you can talk to her) get together documents and place them in my briefcase and then I need to get them copied (does [REDACTED] have someone who could do this for us) and I could bring back next day, pretty 007ish but I don't want to jepordize any of the staff. I assume that whatever our staffs base salary is that it won't be a problem (my problem is going to be to get those numbers). Obviously we will have to talk to our accounts but again that can be over the next few weeks. I will have to go to Isle of Man after we arrive, I have several offshore accounts (some Wyly related). One thing that you mentioned when [REDACTED] left was Maverick, what were you thinking there, I know [REDACTED] would want your best and brightest but I do think I can help there (maybe a quarterback role??) I think that [REDACTED] is great but on any issues that we have I want to discuss that with you if I have a problem. We probably need to give [REDACTED] another alias, just tell him to call as [REDACTED] and don't give a last name. I will alert [REDACTED]. I am really excited about this and look forward to working at BAC but I know that the next 30-60 days are going to suck. We are going to need to talk, if it is at all possible can you get to dallas in the near term, maybe for dinner ([REDACTED] you and I)? my palm is broken

i wanted your numbers about is i may have a trade for you guys. a forward sale in MIKE. For kicks you might just price 3yr fwd with 40% upside. you can use my stock to borrow, clean and non affiliate. this is for an offshore corporation (Isle of Man). The OC is owned by a trust whom the beneficiaries are Wyly family children/grandchildren. MIKE's counsel has said that they do not consider it an affiliate, they are not listed in the proxy but our legal eagles want something more which is ridiculous. I still may get it to happen but... I think that this gives me a great reason to talk with Sam. On another note I think that it will be a tough but great game. talk with you next week. on the mike, make ken wallace aware of the request and if i need anything on it i will call ken.

I wanted to show you what I have sent to Charles and Sam:
Memo to: Charles and Sam Wyly
From: Lou Schaufele

I spoke with Keely yesterday and I would like to thank you for your support. One of the things that Keely brought up was the confidentiality issue between accounts and the bank. That is something that I am very aware of. There is a "Chinese wall" between the security side and bank side. In coming to a new organization we do not have the history that we had at Lehman (which is a good thing). Each entity is going to be a totally separate entity without any linkage. While we were at Lehman it evolved to the point that Lehman viewed some of the accounts (off and on) as linked. They went as far as getting the counsel for Michaels on the phone to see if they viewed the offshore accounts as affiliates. Even though the counsel did not view the offshore as affiliates, Lehman chose to treat them as affiliates. Should the offshore accounts come here they would come as independent new entities, which I would work to maintain. Again I just wanted to let you know that I am very aware of the situation and will work accordingly. Again thanks for your confidence.

I had this discussion with Lou last week and he wrote a memo to Sam and Charles addressing ~~this issue and that there is no sharing of information between the bank side and the broker side.~~ He actually thinks this will be better at BoF A because they have never dealt with Michelle's accounts whereas Lehman was beginning to view all as one big entity (as evidenced by the problems we had on the MIKE swap we worked on earlier in the year). I guess only time will tell if it is going to be a problem, but Lou is very aware of the potential for problem and has promised to keep separation.

Marginability of SSW Calls

I have gotten our credit department to agree to margin the SSW calls. Their terms call for an initial equity requirement of 50%; however, they want a 50% maintenance*, as well. I would suggest that you over-collateralize the position so that we don't have a small amount of dollars flowing through the account back and forth.

We are almost through completing our hedge, so you should expect paperwork shortly. The paperwork will outline the specifics of the transaction. I will give you prices and amounts so you can arrange for payment.

Please call me if you have any questions. Thank you.

Re: SSW calls

We are approximately 85% complete on the purchase of 500,000 shares of call options on ~~Sterling Software~~. We ultimately will need to know the breakdown of ownership of such calls for Elegance, Ltd. and Devotion, Ltd. Once we have completed our hedge, we will then ticket the transaction and can discuss payment at that time.

We opened TMS accts & then I realized this was to be billed to Geneva Co. I said he wanted to ledger the TMS accts opened. (Warne will see docs). Whenever the trade gets billed, they will send payment to Geneva Co follows.

RE: OTC options on Sterling Software (SSW)

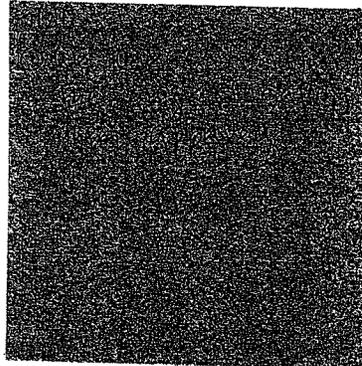

Per our conversation, the following transactions are pending:

1. I have received an order to purchase call options on 500,000 shares of SSW. The description is 2 year at-the-money calls. To date we have purchased calls on 210,000 shares. The cost is approximately $10/contract. The client is an offshore entity domiciled in the Isle of Man. (The two specific names are Elegance Ltd. and Devotion Ltd.) The client would like to margin the calls at a 50% advance rate. The client is happy to have a daily mark to the market. I would suggest that we set some minimum maintenance so that we are not constantly moving money back and forth.

~~Please determine what sales credit is in this trade.~~

2. "Ratcheting" up of put strike on SSW collar - We stepped put up to $36 from $31.82. The cost to do this was $1.6422 which includes a .02 mark-up by me. ~~Please also determine what type of sales credit is in this trade.~~

Re.: Increased loans to "Devotion" and "Elegance"
Date: 18 December 1995

John Mosler

I intend to ask credit for permission to increase loan amounts to Devotion and Elegance. On 13 November 1995, these two Isle of Man counterparties bought two year calls on 500,000 shares of Sterling Software at a strike price of $41 per share to raise $10 per share. We agreed to lend them 50% of the cost of these calls and obtained from them the right to call for collateral should the value of the outstanding loan ever exceed 55% of the mark to market value of their position.

Sterling Software is now trading above $55 per share and the options' market value exceeds $11 million. the outstanding loan value is $2.3 million.

As long as the value of the loan exceeds 55% of the mark to market value of their position, we would like to roll all interest payments into the principal amount of the loan.

Attached please find a statement of all outstanding option and loan situations with counterparties which have connections -- however remote -- with Sam Wylie.

Sorry I've been so slow to respond. We've been swamped getting ready for the Maverick Annual meeting tomorrow.

I think Lehman is doing a great job of buying a high% of the trading volume near the VWAP without moving the stock price. (Although this is easier to do in the down market of the last few days).

We do think it would be good to continue the progress of the last two days in filling the remainder of the order, but I don't have any specific guidance on price that does not also relate to the quantity of stock and how the overall market is doing. However, it would be reasonable to pay a small premium to get a big block of stock.

Now that we are almost completed on the 1.5mm share swap, I wanted to let you know what some of the options were if you wanted to additional exposure. Recall that we kept the size at 1.5mm shares as on additional the credit department wanted to increase the terms. I have tried to list what your choices are:

- 1) enter into a swap on an additional 500k shares (2mm shares is the maximum exposure Lehman wants). The credit on the additional 500k shares would be 40%. The firm just doesn't want that much exposure to one name.
- 2) obtain some sort of Letter of Credit from a financial institution (that we could be comfortable with) and the size and amount of collateral would change favorably.
- 3) purchase an option on SSW, a three call at the money would cost approximately 39-40%. This maybe a viable choice now, given that you have downside on 1.5mm shares in the swap.

Let me know how I can help.

Subject: redemption - August 1st - Tilly

[REDACTED] = Redacted by the Permanent
Subcommittee on Investigations

Hi Shari & Welcome Back!
I'm just looking at the redemption sheet and see the approx $30K withdrawal for Tilly. This is for Blair Gauld, he is one of the directors at Queensgate and has been there for about 5 yrs - previously PW, where he and I worked together briefly. He is a signatory on all our bank accounts and does the work on Security Capital. He's pulling the money out to put against his mortgage. As you probably suspect, I'm making a pitch :-). I was hoping we'd be able to waive the redemption fee for him because of the relationship and since it is such a small amount (<$900) - he's under the 3yr, 3% regime - payable to the Fund.
Let me know - thanks!
Michelle

Effective June 4, 2002

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, the undersigned ("Maker") promises to pay to the order of SECURITY CAPITAL, LTD., a Cayman Islands Exempted Company ("Payee"), the principal sum of FIVE MILLION and NO/100 DOLLARS ($5,000,000.00), together with interest on the unpaid principal sum from time to time outstanding at the rate of FOUR AND THREE-FOURTHS PERCENT (4.75%) per annum from the date hereof until paid. All principal and interest payable hereunder shall be due and payable in lawful money of the United States of America.

Interest on this Note shall be payable in FIVE (5) annual installments, commencing one year from the date hereof, and payable each succeeding year thereafter. Each interest installment shall be in the amount of $237,500. All remaining unpaid principal, together with any accrued, but unpaid interest, shall be payable in full on June 3, 2007.

The entire unpaid principal balance of, and all accrued interest on, this Note shall immediately become due and payable at the option of the Payee upon the occurrence of the following events of default (the "Event of Default"): Failure by Maker to pay the principal and/or interest hereon as and when the same becomes due and payable in accordance with the terms hereof and the continuation of said failure for a period of ten (10) days after Payee has provided Maker with written notice of such failure.

A security interest is created and granted in that certain Pledge Agreement entered into by and between Maker (the pledgor) and Payee (the secured party), effective as of June 4, 2002 (the "Pledge Agreement"). The collateral for such security interest shall be the painting Rosie the Riviter by Norman Rockwell (the "Collateral"). Such Collateral is to be purchased with the proceeds of this Note. Reference is hereby made to the nonrecourse, exculpatory provisions more fully set out in Section 4 of the Pledge Agreement. Such provisions are hereby incorporated in this Note by reference as if the same were fully set forth herein.

In the event the Event of Default specified hereinabove shall occur, Payee may proceed to protect and enforce its rights either by suit in equity and/or by action at law, or by other appropriate proceedings, including those specified in the Pledge Agreement referenced above. No delay on the part of the holder of this Note in the exercise of any power or right under this Note or under any other instrument executed pursuant thereto shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall a single or partial exercise of any other power or right preclude further exercise thereof.

Except as expressly otherwise provided herein, Maker waives demand, presentment, protest, notice of nonpayment, notice of protest, notice of intent to accelerate, notice of acceleration, and any and all lack of diligence or delay in collection or the filing of suit hereon which may occur.

Interest Calc

Hi Keeley,

I've attached my spreadsheet for calculating the interest payment on the $25M. I can get your spreadsheet to match mine by tinkering with the 'days' column (but I can't seem to get the dates themselves to match up with the Security Capital bank statement in order to get back to the correct number of days). Our figure matches the one Francis gave me (well it's out by $65 dollars).

I will advise Security Capital to expect an interest payment of $887,539.73 from CW. Let me know if you have any questions/issues with the attached calc.

PROMISSORY NOTE

$10,000,000.00

Effective July 15, 2003

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, the undersigned ("Maker") promises to pay to the order of SECURITY CAPITAL, LTD., a Cayman Islands Exempted Company ("Payee"), the principal sum of TEN MILLION and NO/100 DOLLARS ($10,000,000.00), together with interest on the unpaid principal sum from time to time outstanding at the rate of FOUR AND SEVENTEEN HUNDRETHS PERCENT (4.17%) per annum from the date hereof until paid. All principal and interest payable hereunder shall be due and payable in lawful money of the United States of America.

The Payee may disburse the principal of this note to the Maker hereof in ONE (1) or more advances from time to time. The Maker hereof shall be entitled to prepay the principal or interest of this note from time to time and at any time, in whole or in part, without premium or penalty, and thereafter, prior to the maturity of this note request the Payee to make additional advances of principal hereunder. At no time may the principal balance outstanding exceed the principal sum first mentioned, and at no time, except as Payee may otherwise agree, may the aggregate principal amount disbursed pursuant to this note exceed TEN MILLION and NO/100 DOLLARS ($10,000,000). All prepayments shall be applied first to accrued but unpaid interest and then to principal, and this note shall not be deemed to be terminated or canceled even though the entire outstanding principal balance hereof may from time to time be paid in full prior to maturity. Notation by Payee on its records shall constitute evidence of the amount and date of any payment or advance hereunder.

Interest on this Note shall be payable in annual installments calculated on the unpaid principal sum outstanding from time to time, commencing one year from the date hereof, and payable each succeeding year thereafter. Interest shall begin to accrue from the date of each advance from Payee to Maker. All remaining unpaid principal, together with any accrued, but unpaid interest, shall be payable in full on July 14, 2018.

The entire unpaid principal balance of, and all accrued interest on, this Note shall immediately become due and payable at the option of the Payee upon the occurrence of the following events of default (the "Event of Default"): Failure by Maker to pay the principal and/or interest hereon as and when the same becomes due and payable in accordance with the terms hereof and the continuation of said failure for a period of ten (10) days after Payee has provided Maker with written notice of such failure; or

In the event the Event of Default specified hereinabove shall occur, Payee may proceed to protect and enforce its rights either by suit in equity and/or by action at law, or by other appropriate proceedings. No delay on the part of the holder of this Note in the exercise of any power or right under this Note or under any other instrument executed pursuant thereto shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall a single or partial exercise of any other power or right preclude further exercise thereof.

Except as expressly otherwise provided herein, Maker waives demand, presentment, protest, notice of nonpayment, notice of protest, notice of intent to accelerate, notice of acceleration, and any and all lack of diligence or delay in collection or the filing of suit hereon which may occur.

If this Note is not paid at maturity, howsoever such maturity may be brought about, and the same is placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, or if this Note is collected by suit or through bankruptcy, probate, or other legal proceedings, Maker agrees to pay the costs of collection and attorneys' fees, in addition to the principal and interest.

This Note may be delivered by telefacsimile or similar facsimile transmission and, in such case, shall be deemed delivered upon Payee's receipt of such facsimile transmission.

All notices or demands required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing and delivered to the person to whom the notice is directed, either in person, by facsimile transmission, or by United States Mail, as a registered or certified item, return receipt requested. Notices delivered by mail shall be deemed given three (3) days after deposit of same in a regularly maintained receptacle for the United States Mail, with proper postage prepaid, and addressed as follows:

If to Maker: Sam Wyly
300 Crescent Court, Suite 1000
Dallas, Texas 75201

If to Payee: Security Capital, Ltd.
P. O. Box 30868 SMB
Ugland House
Georgetown, Grand Cayman

This Note has been executed and delivered, and is to be performed, in the State of Texas, and the laws of such state shall govern the validity, construction, enforcement, and interpretation of this Note.

All agreements between Maker and Payee are expressly limited so that in no contingency or event whatsoever, whether by reason of advancement of the payment hereof, acceleration of maturity of the unpaid principal balance hereof, or otherwise, shall the amount paid or agreed to be paid to the holder hereof for the use, forbearance, or detention of the money to be advanced hereunder exceed the highest rate permissible under the laws of the State of Texas. If, from any circumstance whatsoever, fulfillment of any provision hereof or any other agreement referred to herein shall, at the time fulfillment of such provision be due, involve transcending the limit of validity prescribed by law which a court of competent jurisdiction may deem applicable hereto, then ipso facto, the obligation to be fulfilled shall be reduced to the limit of such validity, and if from any circumstance the holder hereof shall ever receive as interest an amount which would be excessive, such amount shall (i) be applied to the reduction of the unpaid principal balance due hereunder or (ii) be refunded to Maker and not applied to the payment of interest. This provision shall control every other provision of all agreements between Maker and the holder hereof.

Maker shall have the right to prepay the indebtedness evidenced by this Note, in whole or in part, at any time, without premium or penalty of any kind whatsoever, and interest shall immediately cease to accrue on any part of this Note so prepaid.

This Note is an unregistered debt instrument issued by a foreign lender to a United States of America obligor.

This Note cannot be offered or sold (or resold in connection with its original issuance) to any individual or entity who is a "United States Person" as that term is defined and interpreted under the laws of taxation of the United States of America. With respect to any assignee who is not a "United States Person," Payee may assign the Note without the consent of Maker and any such assignment shall not relieve the Maker of its obligations hereunder, except that Maker shall make all payments to and give any notices at the address of such assignee as provided to Maker by Payee.

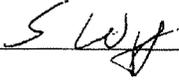

This Note is intended to constitute and qualify as "portfolio debt investment" as that term is defined and interpreted under the taxation laws of the United States of America. The parties to this Note specifically intend that the interest payable hereunder shall not be subject to income or excise taxation, including the imposition of any withholding taxes thereon, under the laws of the United States of America or any state or municipality thereof.

The principal and interest payable per the terms and condition of this Note shall be payable only outside the United States of America and its possessions.

It is specifically understood and intended that no "United States Person" (as that term is defined and interpreted under the taxation laws of the United States of America) shall ever be an owner or holder of this Note; however, should any "United States Person" (as that term is defined and interpreted under the taxation laws of the United States of America) ever become a holder or owners of this Note, such "United States Person" will be subject to limitation under the income tax laws of the United States of America. Any "United States Person" who holds this Note will be subject to limitation under the United States income tax laws, including the limitation provided in Sections 165(j) and 1287(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The owner of this Note must certify to the Maker (or any distributor) of this Note that the owner is not a "United States Person" (as that term is defined and interpreted under the taxation laws of the United States of America.)

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned has executed this Note effective as of the date and year first above written.

AGREED:

The undersigned acknowledges and agrees to all terms and conditions of this Note. The undersigned certifies to the Maker that the undersigned is not a "United States Person" (as that term is defined under the taxation laws of the United States of America).

This should be booked as an addition to the Security Capital loan already on the books (I am hoping there are not two) - you might get Jana to help you

The $1M should be paid back to Wrangler as soon as this money hits

Thanks

I checked the funds movement and updated the attached schedule. I think in order to make this work, you will need to adjust your records to show the interest accruing over fewer days since the initial funds weren't advanced until July 23rd (rather than July 15th), but this will work itself out next year. I've assumed in my schedule that the Sept & October advances as being received domestically on the date they were transferred out of Security Capital (but I'm not sure what date was used on your end).

Let me know if you have any questions.

15th. Our note is July 20th. I will check with Security Capital to confirm the dates the funds moved. It doesn't make sense to me that we advanced funds after July 20th and the SW/SecCap note is dated July 15th. We will need to ensure the interest calcs match up with the funds flow - I'll get back to you when I receive the information from Security Capital - which should be shortly.

Margot,

Some of the differences are the dates as you said, but the biggest difference is that my Note shows the interest to be payable annually on 7/15. And expiring on 7/14, 2018. Maybe I need a copy of your note for my records. My note is signed by Sam but isn't signed by Security Capital. I'll recalculate with your dates, but I'm really concerned about the actual due date.

Thanks, Rena

RE: Interest on 10Million due 7/15

Hi Rena,

I calculate a different figure using your interest rate of 4.17% and the number of days o/s per our system. I've attached the summary so that you can tell me where we are different. The $10M was advanced on different dates, so I'm wondering if that's where the difference comes up - since there are generally lags as to when the money leaves Dallas and gets to Security Capital.

Also the promissory note indicates that interest is due July 20th so my calculations are effective as of this date.

I'm showing Sam has an interest payment, due 7/15, on his 10 Million credit line with Security Capital . I have calculated the interest to be $391,719.38. Is this anywhere near what you are showing?

Thanks,

July 15,2003

Dear Sirs:

This letter is in reference to your consideration of providing me with a $10 million unsecured revolving line of credit. I am entitled to payments under a private annuity agreement between myself and East Carroll Limited, an Isle of Mann Company. These payments are to commence on November 1,2004 and be payable on an annual basis in the amount of $2,934,856. Although my interest in this agreement is assignable, to do so may result in unfavorable tax consequences. As such, there is no intention to assign these agreements. However, if a need arises for an assignment, you will receive prior notification and if it is deemed necessary at that time and amounts remain outstanding on the Promissory Note, East Carroll Limited may be directed to make such payments directly to Security Capital until the balance of the Promissory Note is paid in full.

Sincerely,

Sam Wylly

I did not fully appreciate all you had to go through until I saw all this. I have walked through it, but would not say I fully understand everything. If you get a minute and want to walk me back through it, that would be great. I will be in until about 1:00 today and then I have to go out to Tango and ChaCha to help with an insurance issue. Maybe we can talk Tuesday

Maverick Overview

Maverick Fund and Maverick Fund USA

SUMMARY

Maverick Fund and Maverick Fund USA aggressively invest for high current income and substantial capital growth. The investment manager of the Funds is Maverick Capital, Ltd., founded by Dallas entrepreneurs and investors Sam Wyly and Charles Wyly in April, 1990. Maverick Capital was originally established to manage Wyly family investments.

Maverick Capital has assembled a highly skilled and motivated management team to execute the investment philosophy that has achieved annualized gross returns of 40% over four years. A $1 million investment with Maverick at its inception on April 1, 1990 would have grown to more than $2.9 million at March 31, 1994, net of 1% management and 20% performance fees.

For the three year period ending December 31, 1993, the Frank Russell Company, which is one of the largest institutional money advisors in America, has ranked Maverick Fund number one in performance of the 203 private investment partnerships they track.

Through these funds, investors have the opportunity to invest alongside Wyly family partnerships and trusts, which have more than $50 million invested in Maverick Fund and Maverick Fund USA. Joining Sam Wyly in the management of Maverick Fund and Maverick Fund USA is Lee S. Ainslie III. Prior to joining Maverick, Mr. Ainslie was a Managing Director of Tiger Management Corporation in New York.

Maverick Fund USA, a Texas limited partnership, is available privately to accredited U.S. investors and invests in substantially the same securities as Maverick Fund. Maverick Fund USA is limited to 99 limited partners. Shares of Maverick Fund, a Cayman Islands corporation, are available to accredited non-U.S. investors and to tax-exempt U.S. institutions and foundations. The minimum investment in each fund is $1 million for individuals and $5 million for institutions. Currently, more than $100 million is invested in Maverick Fund and Maverick Fund USA, and Maverick Capital manages over $200 million.

STRATEGY

Maverick seeks equity and income investments that provide the potential for high total returns, whether through income or capital appreciation or both. Maverick pursues such opportunities in both domestic and international markets.

Since early 1992, Maverick has earned substantial returns from European and Asian equities and Emerging Country and European debt. In earlier years, significant returns were earned in USA debt and equity securities. Future asset allocations will depend upon Maverick's assessment of global market opportunities. At March 31, 1994, roughly 50% of the managed assets were invested in USA securities and 50% in other markets. These assets consisted of approximately 50% equities, 45% debt securities and 5% stock and bond derivatives. The portfolio was partially hedged with short sales and derivatives.

Maverick seeks investments that provide significant returns, but an equally important goal is to avoid losses. In this regard, we place as much emphasis on the quality of management, as we do on the quality of financial statements, and believe that our extensive network of contacts helps us to make such critical judgments. Furthermore, our size allows us to be relatively agile in recovering from mistakes or in taking advantage of investment opportunities.

Maverick utilizes leverage, believing the additional risk incurred is justified by the potential returns of our investments. This risk is actively managed through a disciplined approach of diversification and hedging. The Fund has the capability to sell short, allowing us to profit from overvalued or fundamentally unsound securities, and to reduce overall exposure to market fluctuations. We diversify by spreading risks among high-potential asset classes, and by making several investments in these specific classes. This strategy allows us to take advantage of many attractive opportunities, while minimizing the impact of one poor investment.

Investments are made on a long-term fundamental basis, in the belief that proper valuations will be realized and reflected in the market, and that short-term price swings are of less importance. Although this philosophy has resulted in annualized gross returns of 40% since April 1990, it can result in short-term volatility and uneven quarterly returns.

1. INTRODUCTION

Maverick Income Fund, L.D.C., a Cayman Islands limited duration company (the "Fund"), is an investment company organized to make aggressive investments in any type or quality of debt securities or other assets that Maverick Capital, Ltd., the Investment Manager, believes have the potential for substantially above average income and/or growth. Pursuant to this Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (the "Memorandum"), the Fund is soliciting subscriptions for additional Shares at an Offering Price based on the net asset value of the Shares from time to time.

Sam Wyly, the President of the Investment Manager, and his brother, Charles Wyly, the Chairman, have been engaged in managing substantial entrepreneurial investments and securities investments for the Wyly family since 1963. The Fund is co-managed by Sam Wyly and Evm A. Wyly, who from 1992 to 1993, served as Vice President, Mergers and Investments of Michaels Stores, Inc., managing an $80 million investment portfolio.

In addition to their investment management activities, Sam Wyly and Charles Wyly have a long record of investing in and building companies in industries as diverse as computer software, telecommunications, silver and gold mining, oil refining, restaurant franchising, and arts and crafts superstores.

2. SUMMARY OF THE FUND AND THE OFFERING

The following is a summary only and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Fund's Articles of Association, and other documents referred to herein, copies of which will be provided to each prospective investor upon request.

Securities Offered	Non-voting Ordinary Shares of Maverick Income Fund, L.D.C., a Cayman Islands corporation (the "Fund").
Type of Offering	Private placement offered solely outside of the United States to persons who are not U.S. Persons. At the discretion of the Fund, certain "accredited investors" may be included as investors.
Domestic Fund	The Fund, to the extent feasible, invests together with a separate fund for U.S. investors that is advised by the Investment Manager.
Investment Objective	The Fund's objective is to achieve a high level of income and capital growth on both a short-term and long-term basis, through aggressive investments in any type or quality of debt securities or other assets that the Investment Manager believes have the potential for substantially above average income and/or growth. The Fund may make investments for the purpose of exercising or influencing control over the issuer. The Fund may also sell securities short and take hedged positions consistent with the overall objectives of the Fund.
Leverage	The Fund is authorized to borrow in order to enhance its investment leverage. There are no restrictions on the Fund's ability to borrow other than those that may be imposed by lenders or any applicable credit regulations affecting lenders. Margin loans generally will be obtained from brokers, although other financial institutions may also be used. To the extent that the Fund may engage in short sales, it may also borrow securities that it has sold short.
Investment Manager	Maverick Capital, Ltd., Dallas, Texas.
Minimum Investment	$2 million. The Fund may in its sole discretion waive the minimum size.
Share Purchases	Share purchases may take place at the beginning of each calendar quarter. All Share purchases must be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds and will be made at the then net asset value per share. The Fund, in its sole discretion, may accept subscriptions for Shares as of the end of any calendar month.

Fees and Expenses

The Investment Manager will receive a quarterly management fee payable in advance equal to .25% of the net assets of the Fund.

The Investment Manager will also receive an aggregate annual performance fee equal to 20% of the Fund's net economic gain (including realized and unrealized gain and net investment income) for each year, payable at the close of each year. Net economic losses in any year are carried forward for purposes of determining performance fees for subsequent years in which there are economic gains. The Investment Manager is responsible for the costs of providing its services to the Fund, including overhead, and office expenses. The Fund bears all other costs of its investment program (including administration, brokerage and custody charges, interest and taxes) as well as professional fees of its auditors and attorneys. Offering and organizational costs will be borne by the Fund.

Redemptions

Redemptions may be made as of the last business day of each calendar month with at least 30 days prior written notice (wivable in the sole discretion of the Fund), at the net asset value per Share as of the redemption date, less any applicable redemption charges and accrued management and performance fees. Settlements will normally take place within 60 days after the redemption.

The Fund may require a shareholder to surrender all or any portion of its Shares for redemption at any time and for any reason.

A redemption charge of up to 1% may be imposed, at the discretion of the Fund, to cover costs associated with redemptions of Shares within 12 months of the date of an investor's initial purchase of Shares.

Reports

Shareholders will receive audited annual reports and unaudited quarterly reports.

Administrator

Messieron (Cayman) Limited, a Cayman Islands company in George Town, Cayman Islands (the "Administrator").

Dividends

The Fund does not anticipate that any dividends or other distributions will be paid to shareholders out of the Fund's current earnings and profits, but rather that such income will be reinvested.

Tax Status

The Fund should not be subject to any United States income taxes (other than U.S. withholding taxes on dividends and certain interest income derived from U.S. sources which are not in either case expected to be material). Shareholders of the Fund who are not otherwise subject to Cayman Islands or United States taxation by reason of their residence, nationality or other particular circumstances should not become subject to any such taxation by reason of the ownership or redemption of Shares. The Fund will not be subject to any Cayman Islands taxation on the basis of the current legislation of the Cayman Islands. The Fund has been incorporated as an exempted company, and has applied for and expects to obtain a tax undertaking certificate from the Cayman Islands government indicating that should the current legislation change, no taxes will be imposed upon its profits for at least a 20 year period.

Functional Currency

The Fund reports its results and transacts contributions and distributions in U.S. dollars.

3. INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

Objective

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve high total returns through aggressive investments in any type of assets that the Investment Manager believes have the potential for significant yield, capital appreciation or both. Investments may be located in the United States or in other countries and may be denominated in U.S. Dollars or other currencies. The Fund may make any type or quality of debt or equity investment that the Investment Manager believes offers the potential for substantially above average income and/or capital growth, including investments in which the Fund seeks to exercise or influence control over the issuer. The functional currency of the Fund is U.S. Dollars, and the Fund may or may not hedge against currency risks.

Policies

The Fund has no fixed policy as to the allocation of its assets between debt and equity investments, or between investments in United States and other world markets. The Fund may also invest in debt securities that are not paying current income or are involved in bankruptcy proceedings or voluntary recapitalizations. The Fund is not restricted to any particular maturity.

Income and equity securities in which the Fund may invest may be subject to high risk. Income securities will not be required to meet a minimum rating standard and may not be rated by any internationally recognized credit rating organization. To the extent they are rated, the Fund's investments are expected to be rated in the lower rating categories. These types of securities generally involve a greater risk of default and are generally more volatile in price than securities in higher rating categories.

The Fund also maintains a significant portion of its portfolio in investments in common equities of companies believed to have superior potential for capital appreciation and growth in earnings and profitability relative to the broad-market averages. These investments may include investments in emerging markets outside the U.S. The Fund has the capability to sell short, allowing it to profit from overvalued or fundamentally unsound securities and to reduce overall exposure to market fluctuations.

The Fund does not limit itself to a particular investment "style" and may engage in various combinations of "value", "growth", "turn-around" or "cyclical recovery" investments. The Fund may invest in securities of any type of issuer, including investment companies, governments and governmental entities, as well as corporations and other business organizations. A portion of the Fund's portfolio may also consist of illiquid investments, including defaulted bonds, loans or other direct debt interests acquired by the Fund from third parties, interests in or related to companies in liquidation, and restricted securities of U.S. issuers that cannot be publicly sold in the U.S. without registration under the Securities Act of 1933. The Fund may also make investments for the purpose of obtaining or influencing control of the issuer.

Investment Program

The Fund's investment philosophy will be weighted toward the longer term, and while there may be periods of high portfolio turnover to seek to take advantage of short term trends, the Fund will seek primarily to obtain high returns from longer term investments.

The Fund is permitted to invest in any type or quality of securities issued in the United States or in other countries. As market conditions change, the types and mix of securities held in the Fund's portfolio may vary significantly from those in which the Fund currently invests. The Investment Manager may, in its sole discretion, modify the primary investment emphasis of the Fund at any time if it determines that such an approach might better achieve the investment objectives of the Fund.

Leverage

The Fund is authorized to borrow in order to enhance its investment leverage. There are no restrictions on the Fund's ability to borrow other than those that may be imposed by lenders or any applicable credit regulations affecting lenders. Margin loans generally will be obtained from brokers, although other financial institutions may also be used. To the extent that the Fund may engage in short sales, it may also borrow securities that it has sold short.

International Investments

The Investment Manager believes that opportunities for attractive returns may be found in securities issued by non-U.S. corporations and governments, particularly in the developing nations of the world that are generally regarded as "Emerging Countries". These investments entail additional risks to investments in U.S. and other developed country markets. See "Risks and Conflicts of Interest-Risks-International Investments".

Unregistered Securities

The Investment Manager may purchase securities that have not been registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933 or the securities laws of any U.S. State or any foreign country, or for which there is no active trading market. These securities may include closely-held debt securities, bank loans or participations, and venture capital investments in small, unseasoned companies. As a result of the absence of a public trading market, these securities may be less liquid and more difficult to value than publicly traded securities.

Loan Participations and Assignments

The Fund may invest in loans ("Loans"), including restructured Loans, arranged through private negotiations between an issuer and one or more financial institutions. The Fund's investments in Loans are expected in most instances to be in the form of participations in Loans and assignments of portions of Loans from third parties. Participations typically will result in the Fund having a contractual relationship only with the lender and not with the borrower.

Recapitalizations and Liquidations

The Fund may invest in securities (including Loans) of companies or countries that are in default or financial distress and are in the process of recapitalizing their obligations through an exchange of securities. Company recapitalizations may be voluntary or through formal bankruptcy proceedings. Country recapitalizations may take the form of a Brady Plan exchange or some other exchange of securities with no collateral or different types of collateral.

The Fund may also invest in bankruptcy or other liquidation proceedings, in which the assets of the company in liquidation are acquired at a specified price or the company is guaranteed a specified amount of liquidation proceeds, and the assets are then sold through the services of a professional liquidation firm. Any such investments by the Fund will generally take the form of a loan to, or participation interest from, such a professional liquidation firm.

Control Investments

Under such circumstances as the Investment Manager deems appropriate, the Fund may seek to exercise control or influence control over the business or operations of any issuer in which it invests, and may make investments for the purpose of seeking such control or influence. Such investments could subject the Fund to certain reporting and disclosure obligations under the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Short Sales

The Fund may from time to time sell securities short without limitation. A short sale is a transaction in which the Fund sells securities it does not own (but has borrowed) in anticipation of a decline in market price. ~~To deliver the securities to the buyer, the Fund will need to arrange through a broker to borrow the securities and, in so doing,~~ the Fund will become obligated to replace the securities borrowed at their market price at the time of replacement, whatever that price may be. The Fund may have to pay a premium to borrow the securities and must pay any dividends or interest payable on the securities until they are replaced.

Lending of Portfolio Securities

The Fund may, in seeking to increase its income, lend securities in its portfolio to securities firms and financial institutions deemed creditworthy by the Investment Manager. The loans will be terminable at any time, and the Fund will receive any interest or dividends paid on the loaned securities.

Strategic Transactions

The Fund may purchase and sell exchange listed and over-the-counter put and call options on securities, financial futures and fixed income indices and other financial instruments, enter into financial future contracts, enter into interest rate transactions, and enter into currency transactions (collectively, these transactions are referred to in this Memorandum as "Strategic Transactions"). The Fund's interest rate transactions may take the form of swaps, caps, floors and collars, and the Fund's currency transactions will take the form of currency forward contracts, currency futures contracts, currency swaps and options on currency or currency futures. Strategic Transactions may be used to attempt to protect against possible changes in the market value of securities held in the Fund's portfolio resulting from securities markets or currency exchange rate fluctuations, to protect the Fund's unrealized gains in the value of its portfolio securities, to facilitate the sale of those securities for investment purposes, to manage the effective maturity or duration of the Fund's portfolio, or to establish a position in the derivatives markets as a temporary substitute for purchasing or selling particular securities.

Brokerage

The Fund will select brokers for its securities transactions based on a number of factors, including commission rates, research services, margin facilities and other services. In addition, the Fund may utilize brokers who have referred investors to the Fund. Accordingly, the Fund may not necessarily obtain the lowest negotiated brokerage commissions. The Fund may also utilize a broker affiliated with the Investment Manager, provided that any such transactions will be conducted at commission rates that do not exceed those charged to non-affiliates in comparable transactions. In addition, the Fund may utilize brokers that furnish services to the Fund Manager, such as research, telephone lines, news and quotation equipment, office equipment, account record keeping and clerical services, financial publications, economic consulting services or office facilities.

5. ADMINISTRATION

Investment Advisory Agreement

The Investment Manager performs its services pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement (the "Advisory Agreement") with the Fund. Pursuant to the Advisory Agreement, the Investment Manager is empowered to exercise full discretion in the management of the Fund's trading and investment transactions, subject only to any investment and borrowing restrictions which may from time to time be adopted by the Fund's Board of Directors.

The Advisory Agreement requires that the Investment Manager act in a manner which it considers fair and equitable in allocating investment opportunities to the Fund, but does not otherwise impose any specific obligations or requirements concerning the allocation of time, effort or investment opportunities to the Fund or any restrictions on the nature or timing of investments for the account of the Fund and for the Investment Manager's own account or other accounts which it may manage. The Investment Manager may manage a number of accounts utilizing an investment approach similar to that being carried out for the Fund.

The Administrator

The Fund's Administrator is MeesPierson (Cayman) Limited (the "Administrator"), a Cayman Islands company based in George Town, Cayman Islands. Pursuant to an Administration Agreement entered into with the Fund, the Administrator is responsible, under the ultimate supervision of the Fund's Board of Directors, for all matters pertaining to the administration of the Fund. The Administration Agreement may be terminated without penalty at the end of any calendar month by either party upon not less than 30 days prior written notice.

Board of Directors

The Fund has two directors, MeesPierson Nominees (Cayman) Limited and MeesPierson Management (Cayman) Limited. It is anticipated that the Board of Directors will meet at least once a year to review the investment and administrative affairs of the Fund. Employees of the Investment Manager will not serve on the Fund's Board of Directors. The Fund's Articles of Association provide that the Directors shall not be liable to the Fund for any acts or omissions in the performance of their duties in the absence of willful misconduct or as otherwise required by law, and contain provisions for the indemnification of the Directors by the Fund, to the extent permitted by law, against liabilities to third parties arising in connection with the performance of their services.

Fees and Expenses

Under the terms of the Advisory Agreement, the Fund pays to the Investment Manager for its services as investment advisor a "Fixed Fee" and a "Performance Fee" as described below. The Fixed Fee for any fiscal quarter is an amount payable in advance equal to .25 of 1% of the net assets of the Fund on the first day of such quarter. The Fund pays the Fixed Fee in U.S. dollars within ten days after the first day of such quarter. The Fixed Fee is deducted in computing the net profit or net loss of the Fund. In the event that the Investment Manager is not acting as such for the entire fiscal quarter, the Fixed Fee payable by the Fund for such fiscal quarter will be prorated to reflect the portion of such fiscal quarter in which the Advisor is acting as such under the Advisory Agreement.

The Performance Fee is an amount allocated annually equal to twenty percent (20%) of the net economic gain (including net unrealized gains), if any, during such fiscal year. For purposes of calculating performance fees, the annual net economic gain of the Fund from operations is determined before deduction or accrual of the performance fee, but after deduction or accrual of all other expenses and liabilities including the Fixed Fees and administration fees. Since the Fund's portfolio assets are recorded in the Fund's annual financial accounts at their market value, the annual performance fees reflect any net changes in unrealized appreciation or depreciation in the value of the Fund's portfolio as of the close of each year as well as gains and losses realized during the year and net investment income. The method of allocation and payment of the Performance Fee with respect to newly issued shares is described under Section 8, "The Offering and Other Matters".

Net economic losses (including unrealized losses) in any year are carried forward for purposes of determining the Performance Fees payable for any other year in which the Fund's Shares experience an increase in net asset value. The Investment Manager may elect to defer payment of all or part of its Performance Fee. If the Investment Manager elects to defer payment of all or part of the Performance Fee for up to ten years, any such deferred amounts payable to the Investment Manager shall be treated, and the amounts eventually payable at the end of such deferred periods shall be determined, as if such deferred amounts had been invested in Ordinary Shares on the first day of the fiscal year following the year the deferred fee was earned and redeemed as of the last day of the deferred period. The deferred Performance Fee and amounts of net profits, if any, allocated to such deferred Performance Fee shall be paid promptly after the end of the deferred period. If any cash dividends are paid with respect to the Ordinary Shares during any of such deferred periods, there shall be paid to the Investment Manager, at the time of payment of such dividends, an amount equal to the dividends that would have been paid to the Investment Manager if the deferred amounts had been invested in Ordinary Shares.

The Investment Manager renders its services to the Fund at its own expense, including the salaries of employees necessary to render such services, all general overhead expenses attributable to its employees and other expenses incident to the rendering of such services. Certain services, equipment and supplies may be furnished by brokers used by the Fund. The Fund pays its own expenses including the fees paid to the Investment Manager and the Administrator, accounting and legal expenses, organizational and offering expenses and all investment expenses (including brokerage commissions, custodial fees, interest on margin accounts, borrowing charges for securities sold short and short sale dividends). The organizational and offering expenses of the Fund will be amortized over a term of 60 months.

The Investment Manager may assign its right to receive a portion of the Fixed Fee or Performance Fee to any person or entity that acts as a distributor for Fund Shares or otherwise provides advice and assistance that may be of benefit to the Fund such as advice regarding the structure of the Fund or other factors to be considered in order to enhance the marketability of the Fund Shares, investor relations, identification and evaluation of candidates to serve on the Fund's Board of Directors, or general economic and financial developments in international securities and capital markets.

6. RISKS AND POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

A. Risks

Investment in the Fund entails a high degree of risk and is suitable only for sophisticated individuals and institutions for whom an investment in the Fund does not represent a complete investment program and who fully understand and are capable of bearing the risks of an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should carefully consider the following risk factors. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to achieve its investment objective, and investment results may vary substantially on an annual basis.

Speculative Investments. In order to achieve the Fund's performance objectives, the Fund will make investments that may be considered speculative and may involve substantial risk of loss.

Liquidity of Investments. The Fund's portfolio can be expected to include securities that are not actively or widely traded. The markets for these securities can be expected to involve wider price spreads and more sensitivity to buying and selling pressures than is found in more active markets, which could adversely affect the ability of the Fund to acquire or dispose of substantial positions of securities.

Effects of Leverage. Borrowing by the Fund will create an opportunity for increased net income but, at the same time, will involve special risk considerations. Leveraging resulting from borrowing will magnify declines as well as increases in the value of the Fund's portfolio. Although the principal of the Fund's borrowings will be fixed, the Fund's assets may change in value during the time a borrowing is outstanding, thus increasing exposure to capital risk. To the extent the income derived from the assets obtained with borrowed funds exceeds the interest and other expenses that the Fund will have to pay, the Fund's net income will be greater than if borrowing were not used. Conversely, however, if the income from the assets obtained with borrowed funds is not sufficient to cover the cost of borrowing, the net income of the Fund will be less than if borrowings were not used, and therefore the amounts available for distribution to the Fund's partners will be reduced.

Unspecified Investments. Fund investments will vary, and particular investments cannot be predicted. Accordingly, an investor in the Fund must rely upon the ability of the Investment Manager to make successful investments consistent with the Fund's investment objectives. Investors will not have the opportunity to evaluate personally the relevant economic, financial and other information utilized in the selection and monitoring of investments. The Fund may invest a significant part of its assets in one company's securities, which would cause the Fund's success to depend in particular upon the success of that investment.

Diversification. To the extent the Investment Manager concentrates the Fund's investments in a particular issuer, the Fund's portfolio will become more susceptible to fluctuations in value resulting from adverse economic or business conditions affecting that particular issuer.

International Investments. Investments in securities of issuers outside the United States may involve greater risks than U.S. investments. There is generally less information publicly available about such issuers and there may be less regulation of the exchanges and brokers dealing in the securities of such issuers. Some non-U.S. markets may be more volatile and may offer less securities trading protection than U.S. markets, and may involve higher transaction costs. In addition, in some countries there may be risks associated with political or social instability, or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries.

Strategic Transactions. Strategic Transactions have special risks associated with them, including possible default by the other party to the transaction, illiquidity and, to the extent the Investment Manager's view as to certain market movements is incorrect, the risk that the use of the Strategic Transactions could result in losses greater than if they had not been used.

Interest Rate Risks. The Fund expects to invest in a significant amount of debt securities. In the event of increases in prevailing interest rates, the market prices of such debt securities can be expected to decline resulting in possible capital depreciation.

Marketability of Portfolio Investments. The marketability and liquidity of the Fund's investments cannot be assured. The Fund's ability to acquire and dispose of investments in distressed securities may be dependent on factors outside the Investment Manager's control, including the financial condition of a security's issuer as well as general economic conditions.

Reliance on Investment Manager. The Investment Manager has full discretionary authority to identify, structure, execute, administer, monitor and liquidate Fund investments. Accordingly, no person should invest in the Fund unless such person is willing to entrust all aspects of the management and investment decisions of the Fund to the Investment Manager.

Incentive Payments. The existence of the Investment Manager's 20% Performance Fee may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to make investments that are more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such a performance-based payment.

Valuation of Portfolio Investments. While pricing information is generally available for securities in which the Fund may invest, there is currently no centralized source for pricing information for many of such securities and many of such securities and reliable pricing information may at times not be available from any source. Prices quoted by different sources are subject to material variation. For purposes of calculating the Fund's net capital appreciation and net capital depreciation and valuing investments, valuations of investments for which pricing information cannot be obtained will be made by the Administrator based upon such information as is available, including the advice of the Investment Manager.

Lack of Liquidity for Shares. There is no market for the Shares and none is expected to develop. Except in the circumstances described herein, Shares are not redeemable at the option of the holder.

Low Rated and Unrated Investments. At any one time, a substantial percentage of the Fund's assets may be invested in high risk instruments that are low rated or unrated (that is, rated B1 or lower by Moody's or BB+ or lower by S&P). These ratings are defined by these agencies to mean that these securities are predominantly speculative with respect to the issuer's capacity to pay interest and repay principal and involve major risk exposure to adverse conditions.

Low rated and unrated debt instruments generally offer higher current yields than are available from higher grade issues, but typically involve a greater risk. Low rated and unrated securities are especially subject to adverse changes in general economic conditions and to changes in the financial condition of their issuers, in addition to price fluctuations in response to changes in interest rates. During periods of economic downturn, issuers of low rated and unrated instruments may experience financial distress that could adversely affect their ability to make payments of principal and interest. Adverse publicity and investors' perceptions, whether or not based on fundamental analysis, may also decrease the values and liquidity of low rated and unrated securities.

General Economic Conditions. General economic and business conditions may affect the Fund's activities. Interest rates, the prices of securities and participation by other investors in the financial markets may affect the value of securities purchased by the Fund.

Short Sales. The Fund may sell securities short. Selling securities short runs the risk of losing an amount greater than the amount invested, since there is no limit on how much the price of a security may appreciate before the short position is closed out.

B. Potential Conflicts of Interest

The Investment Manager is required to devote such time as may reasonably be required to further the business affairs and activities of the Fund. The Investment Manager may act as investment adviser, sponsor or general partner for other customers, accounts and pooled investment vehicles and may give advice, and take action, with respect to any of those customers, accounts and pooled investment vehicles which may differ from the advice given, or the timing or nature of action taken, with respect to the Fund. Where there is a limited supply of a security, the Investment Manager will use its best efforts to allocate or rotate investment opportunities in a manner deemed equitable, but the Investment Manager cannot assure, and assumes no responsibility for, equality among all accounts and customers. The Investment Manager, its affiliates and officers, directors and employees of the Investment Manager and its affiliates may engage in transactions or investments or cause or advise other customers to engage in transactions or investments which may differ from or be identical to the transactions or investments engaged in by the Investment Manager for the Fund's account. The Investment Manager shall not have any obligation to engage in any transaction or investment for the Fund's account or to recommend any transaction to the Fund which any of the Investment Manager, its affiliates or any of the officers, directors or employees of the Investment Manager or its affiliates may engage in for their own account or the account of any other customer except as otherwise required by applicable law. To the extent permitted by law, the Investment Manager will be permitted to bunch or aggregate orders for the Fund's account with orders for other accounts.

7. REGULATORY AND TAX CONSIDERATIONS

A. Certain Regulatory Matters

United States Securities Act of 1933

The offer and sale of the Shares will not be registered under the Securities Act in reliance upon the exemption from registration provided by Regulation S promulgated thereunder. Accordingly, Shares may not be offered or sold in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. Persons (as defined in Regulation S). Each purchaser will be required to represent, among other customary private placement representations, that it is acquiring its Shares in the Fund for investment purposes only and not with a view to resale or distribution.

B. Certain United States Tax Considerations

The following is a summary of certain material U.S. income tax considerations relevant to a non-U.S. investor in connection with the purchase and ownership of Shares in the Fund. This discussion is based on provisions of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), on the regulations promulgated thereunder and on published administrative rulings and judicial decisions, all as of the date hereof. No assurance can be given that future legislation, administrative rulings or court decisions will not modify the conclusions set forth in this summary. This discussion is necessarily general, and the actual tax and financial consequences of the purchase and ownership of interests in the Fund will vary depending upon the investor's circumstances. This discussion does not constitute tax advice, and is not intended to substitute for tax planning. Further, this discussion does not take into account the particular circumstances of each prospective investor or to investors that are individuals or "closely-held" corporations. In view of the number of different jurisdictions where non-U.S. laws may apply to investors in the Fund, the discussion below does not address these tax consequences to potential investors of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares, but is limited solely to U.S. federal tax consequences.

PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS ARE URGED TO CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS IN DETERMINING THE POSSIBLE TAX, EXCHANGE CONTROL OR OTHER CONSEQUENCES TO THEM UNDER THE LAWS OF THE JURISDICTIONS OF WHICH THEY ARE CITIZENS, RESIDENTS OR DOMICILIARIES AND IN WHICH THEY CONDUCT BUSINESS, OF THE PURCHASE AND OWNERSHIP OF SHARES IN THE FUND.

Taxation of Foreign Persons Not Engaged in U.S. Trade or Business

The Fund intends generally to conduct its affairs such that no income realized by it will be effectively connected with the conduct of a U.S. trade or business for U.S. income tax purposes or otherwise subject to regular U.S. federal income taxation on a net basis. Thus, it is intended that non-U.S. Shareholders who are not currently subject to regular U.S. federal income taxation will not become subject to regular federal income taxation solely by reason of investment in the Fund.

Assuming the Fund is not engaged in a U.S. trade or business, U.S.-source dividends received by it will generally be subject to a 30% U.S. withholding tax. U.S. source interest received by the Fund will also be subject to 30% withholding unless such interest qualifies as portfolio interest. Portfolio interest is generally defined (with certain exceptions, including one for contingent interest income) as (a) interest paid on certain bearer obligations generally designed to be sold only to persons who are not United States Persons, or (b) interest paid on registered obligations with respect to which the person who is otherwise required to withhold tax has received a statement that the beneficial owner of the obligation is not a United States Person; in both cases with respect to debt obligations issued after July 18, 1984 by a United States Person or the United States government. The exemption from withholding of portfolio interest is subject to certain related party ownership rules and other limitations. The Fund may or may not invest in obligations which will qualify for the portfolio debt exception.

In general, assuming the Fund is not engaged in a U.S. trade or business, the Fund will not be subject to any U.S. tax with respect to gains (other than original issue discount in the case of a debt security) from the sale of stock or debt securities held for investment. In addition, a non-U.S. Shareholder who is not engaged in a U.S. trade or business will not presently be subject to any U.S. tax with respect to gains from the sale or redemption of the Shares. However, very generally, a foreign person present in the United States for 183 or more days in the taxable year of the sale would be taxed by the United States on any such gain if either (a) such individual's tax home for U.S. federal income tax purposes is in the United States or (b) the gain is attributable to an office or other fixed place of business maintained in the United States by such individual. In addition to U.S. tax on such gain, a foreign individual who is in the status of either (a) or (b) above may have his stock classified as an investment in a passive foreign investment company and not only be subject to U.S. tax on the disposition of the stock, but also be subject to an interest charge on that tax. Moreover, if the Fund were to acquire stock in a United States real property holding corporation and either (i) such stock is not regularly traded on an established securities market within the meaning of the Code or (ii) the Fund owns more than 5% (by value) of such stock, then gain on the sale of such stock would be treated as income effectively connected with the conduct of a U.S. trade or business and would be subject to regular U.S. federal income tax. A United States real property holding company is generally a corporation 50% or more of the assets of which consist of United States real property (which includes mineral rights).

Other special rules may apply in the case of non-U.S. investors (i) who are present in the United States for 183 days or more, (ii) that have an office or fixed place of business in the United States or (iii) that are former citizens of the United States, controlled foreign corporations as to the United States, foreign insurance companies that hold shares in the Fund in connection with their U.S. business, foreign personal holding companies and corporations which accumulate earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax. Such persons are urged to consult their U.S. tax advisors before investing in the Fund.

The foregoing general description of the U.S. tax aspects of this investment assumes that the Fund will not be deemed to be engaged in the conduct of a trade or business in the U.S. as a result of its activities or the activities of the Investment Manager. The determination of whether the Fund is engaged in the conduct of a trade or business in the U.S. is essentially a question of fact dependent largely on the analysis of ten separate factors. The Fund will take all reasonable measures to comply with these factors so that the Fund will not be deemed to be engaged in the conduct of a trade or business in the U.S. There can be no assurance, however, that the Internal Revenue Service will not challenge that determination.

C. Cayman Islands Taxation

There is, at present, no direct taxation in the Cayman Islands and interest, dividends and gains payable to the Fund and all distributions by the Fund to Partners will be received free of all Cayman Islands income and withholding taxes. The Fund is registered as an exempted company under Cayman Islands law and has applied for and expects to obtain a tax undertaking certificate from the Governor-in-Council of the Cayman Islands to the effect that, for a period of at least 20 years, no law that is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax or duty to be levied on income or on capital assets, gains or appreciation or any tax in the nature of estate, duty or inheritance tax will apply to any property comprised in, or any income arising under, the Fund or to the Shareholders in respect of any such property or income.

D. Other Taxation

Income and gains from investments held by the Fund may be subject to withholding taxes or other taxes in jurisdictions other than the United States, subject to the possibility of reduction under applicable tax treaties. In addition, the Fund shall "gross-up" any payment of the Management Fee to the Investment Manager by the Fund to the extent that such payment is subject to withholding taxes or other taxes in jurisdictions other than the United States so that the amount received by the Investment Manager after such withholding or other tax (net of any federal income tax benefit because of foreign tax credits available to the Fund manager with respect thereto), is equal to the amount of the payment had no such withholding or other tax been imposed.

8. THE OFFERING AND OTHER MATTERS

Private Placement

The Fund is making a private offering of Shares to qualified non U.S. investors. The Fund reserves the right in its sole discretion to revise or withdraw the offering. The minimum initial subscription is $2 million, which may be waived at the Fund's discretion.

Each investor will be required to enter into a Subscription Agreement covering its investment in the Fund. In the Subscription Agreement, the investor will make certain customary representations and warranties in connection with the private offering of interests in the Fund and certain other matters.

Offering Price

When Shares are subscribed for during the course of a fiscal year ("Interim Purchases") or at the beginning of the fiscal year when there is a loss carryover, certain adjustments to the amount of money paid for the purchase of Shares are necessary. This is done so that (i) the Performance Fee paid to the Investment Manager is charged only to those Shares which have appreciated in value since their acquisition, (ii) all shareholders will have the same amount per share at risk and (iii) all shares will have the same net asset value.

The number of shares to be purchased will be based on the offering price per share (the "Offering Price") as defined below. The Offering Price for each share is calculated in the following manner:

- (1) For shares purchased at the beginning of the fiscal year ("Year Beginning"), the Offering Price is the Year Beginning net asset value ("Beginning Value") plus a Depreciation Deposit equal to 20% of the amount of any loss carryover per share² at Year Beginning. The Depreciation Deposit is invested and paid out as described in Section 2(a) below.

²The loss carryover per share at the beginning of any year shall be the loss carryover per share at the beginning of the preceding year decreased by the decrease in net asset value per share during the preceding year or decreased (not below zero) by the increase in net asset value during the preceding year.

(2) For Interim Purchases:

(a) When the net asset value per share is less than the sum of (i) Beginning Value and (ii) the loss carryover per share at Year Beginning, the Offering Price is the sum of the net asset value per share and the "Depreciation Deposit". The Depreciation Deposit is 20% of the amount by which the sum of (i) and (ii) above exceeds the net asset value per share at the date of purchase. The Depreciation Deposit is segregated and separately invested in U.S. Treasury bills or other high quality short term debt securities or certificates of deposit and is not at risk with the Fund. It may, in certain circumstances, be returned to the shareholder at the time of redemption of the shares. It is included in the Offering Price to permit the shares purchased on the date of purchase to be charged the Performance Fee with respect to an increase in net asset value and with respect to any benefit received by reason of the existence of a loss carryover. If at the end of any fiscal year (or at any time during the fiscal year when the shares of a shareholder are redeemed), the losses which gave rise to the Depreciation Deposit are recouped then, to the extent that the losses which gave rise to all or a portion of the Depreciation Deposit are recouped, the Depreciation Deposit will be paid to the Investment Manager as a part of the Performance Fee. Any portion of the Depreciation Deposit not paid to the Investment Manager will be paid to the shareholder when it becomes no longer necessary to accomplish the objectives described above or upon redemption. Promptly after the end of each fiscal year in which a Depreciation Deposit is held, the interest (net of any income taxes payable thereon) earned thereon will be paid to the shareholder who made such Depreciation Deposit.

(b) When the net asset value per share is more than the greater of (i) Beginning Value or (ii) the sum of Beginning Value and the loss carryover per share at Year Beginning, the Offering Price is the sum of the net asset value per share and the "Equalization Factor" as defined below. The Equalization Factor is an amount which the shares outstanding since Year Beginning should be charged (i.e. 20% of the increase in net asset value since Year Beginning in excess of the greater of (i) and (ii) above, and which the shares subscribed for at the date of the Interim Purchase ("Interim Purchase Date") should not be charged. To the extent that the increase in value of the shares that cause the payment of the Equalization Factor is not lost in the current year, all or a portion of the Equalization Factor, attributable to such increase becomes payable to the shareholder at the end of the current year. To the extent that the increase in value of the shares that cause the payment of the Equalization Factor is lost in the year the shares are purchased, but is recovered in a subsequent year, the Equalization Factor attributable to such recovery will become payable to the shareholder at the end of the year in which the recovery occurs. Upon redemption by a shareholder of his shares, the same amount of the Equalization Factor will be paid to him as if the date of redemption were the last day of the fiscal year in which the shares are redeemed. All or a portion of any Equalization Factor which is due to a shareholder not redeeming his shares will be used to purchase additional shares on behalf of such shareholder as of the first day of the next succeeding fiscal year.

The following tables have been provided to illustrate the manner in which the adjustments operate.

Table I illustrates the manner in which the adjustments described above operate with respect to shares subscribed for at the beginning of and during a hypothetical fiscal year where there is no loss carryover at the beginning of the year. Table II illustrates the manner in which the adjustments described above operate with respect to shares subscribed for, prior to, at the beginning and during a hypothetical fiscal year where there is a loss carryover of $20 per share at the end of the first year.

Shareholder B in Table I, purchasing shares on an Interim Purchase Date when the net asset value has decreased since Year Beginning, pays an Offering Price of $84 per share (which includes a Depreciation Deposit of $4, since the Performance Fee which would accrue to his shares would be $4 more than the Performance Fee which would accrue for shares purchased by Shareholder A at Year Beginning).

Shareholder C in Table I, purchasing shares on an Interim Purchase Date when the net asset value has increased since Year Beginning, pays an Offering Price of $126 per share. The Equalization Factor is returned to him at Year End in the form of additional shares since the Performance Fee that would accrue to his shares would be $4 less than the Performance Fee that would accrue to the shares purchased by Shareholder A.

Shareholder B in Table II, purchasing shares at the beginning of Year 2 when the net asset value has decreased since the beginning of Year 1, pays an offering price of $84 per share (which includes a Depreciation Deposit of $4 since the Performance Fee which would accrue to his shares would be $4 more than the Performance Fee which would accrue for shares purchased by Shareholder A at Year 1. The Depreciation Deposit is paid to the Investment Manager at the end of Year 2 when the net asset value for Shareholder B's shares has increased by more than the loss carryover.

Shareholder C in Table II, purchasing shares on an Interim Purchase Date during Year 2 when the net asset value has increased since the beginning of Year 1, pays an Offering Price of $110 per share (which includes an Equalization Factor of $2 since the amount of funds he would otherwise have at risk would be $2 less than the amount of funds at risk of Shareholder A. The Equalization Factor is returned to him in the form of additional shares at the end of Year 2 since the Performance Fee which would accrue to his shares would be $2 less than the Performance Fee which accrues to Shareholder A.

Indemnification and Limitation on Investment Manager's Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Investment Manager and its affiliates, and their respective partners, officers, directors, employees, shareholders and agents, in each case other than in a capacity as a Shareholder, will be indemnified by the Fund against all liabilities, costs and expenses (including legal expenses) arising out of or in connection with the business of the Fund or the performance by the indemnitee of any of the Investment Manager's responsibilities, so long as such person acted in good faith and in a manner the indemnitee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Fund and such indemnitee's conduct did not constitute willful misconduct, gross negligence, a violation of federal or state securities laws or criminal wrongdoing.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, none of the Investment Manager, its affiliates or their respective partners, officers, directors, employees, shareholders and agents will be liable to any Shareholder or to the Fund for any losses due to any act or omission taken or suffered by the Investment Manager in connection with the conduct of the business of the Fund that is determined by the Investment Manager in good faith to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Fund, unless such act or omission resulted from willful misconduct or gross negligence, a violation of federal or state securities laws or criminal wrongdoing, and such persons will also not be liable to any Shareholder or to the Fund for any losses due to any act or omission taken or suffered by any other partner or for the mistakes, negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of any broker or other agent of the Fund selected by the Investment Manager with reasonable care.

Fund Capital

The authorized capital of the Fund consists of 5,000,000 Ordinary Shares having a par value of $0.01 (U.S.) per share consisting of 2,500,000 voting shares and 2,500,000 non-voting shares. Each share has equal dividend, distribution, and liquidation rights. The Fund does not anticipate paying any dividends on its Ordinary Shares.

Subject to the exceptions set forth below, all decisions of the shareholders will be made by the holders of a majority of outstanding voting shares represented at a meeting, provided that a quorum of the holders of one-third of the outstanding voting shares is present. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any investment advisory or management contract entered into by the Fund (e.g., the Advisory Agreement between the Fund and Investment Manager) may not be terminated by the Fund unless such termination is approved by a 90% vote of all outstanding voting Ordinary Shares cast at a meeting called for the purpose of terminating the agreement. Any matter referred to herein may also be adopted by resolution in writing of all the shareholders. There are no conversion or preemptive rights in connection with any Ordinary Shares of the Fund. All Ordinary Shares of the Fund, when they become due for redemption, shall be redeemed at the net asset value.

The Fund's Ordinary Shares have noncumulative voting rights, which means that the holders of more than 50% of the shares voting for the election of Directors can elect all of the Directors if they choose to do so, and in such event the holders of the remaining shares representing less than 50% of the shares voting for such election of Directors will not be able to elect any person as a Director.

A shareholder may elect to receive a certificate representing the Fund's Ordinary Shares.

Redemptions

Any holder of Shares has the right, in accordance with and subject to the applicable provisions of the Articles of Association of the Fund and the laws of the Cayman Islands, to have all or a portion of his shares redeemed on the last day of each month. Shares will be redeemed at their net asset value as of the close of business on such redemption date (as determined in accordance with the applicable redemption provisions set forth in the Articles of Association). The redemption price is computed after deduction of the accrued Fixed Fee and Performance Fee payable to the Investment Manager attributable to the shares redeemed. The shareholder must request such redemption at least thirty days prior to the redemption date. At the discretion of the Fund and the Investment Manager, redemptions may be permitted on additional dates.

At redemption, shareholders will be paid (1) the net asset value of the shares on the date of redemption, (2) all or a portion of the Depreciation Deposit to the extent it is not paid to the Investment Manager as an Incentive Fee and (3) all or a portion of the Equalization Factor to the extent that the increase in value of the shares that caused the payment of the Equalization Factor has not been lost or has not been paid previously to the redeeming shareholder, all as more fully set forth above.

In addition, the Fund shall be entitled to require the redemption of all or any part of a shareholder's Shares, with or without cause at any time. Payment shall be made in accordance with the procedure applicable to shares which are redeemed at the request of the holder.

The Board of Directors may suspend the right of the holders of Shares to require the Fund to redeem shares during any period when:

- (i) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of the securities owned by the Fund are traded is closed, otherwise than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended;
- (ii) there exists any state of affairs which constitutes a state of emergency as a result of which (1) disposal of a substantial part of the investments of the Fund would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the shareholders of the Fund or (2) it is not reasonably practicable for the Fund fairly to determine the value of its net assets;
- (iii) none of the requests for redemption which have been made may be lawfully satisfied by the Fund in U.S. dollars; or
- (iv) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the investments of the Fund.

In connection with the determination of the net asset value of shares, the Board of Directors may consult:

Dear Barbara,

Little Woody/ Roaring Fork

The protectorate committee recommends that Little Woody Limited and Roaring Fork Limited redeem all of their holdings in Maverick Income Fund LDC, and invest the proceeds directly into Maverick Fund Ltd.

If the trustees agree to proceed with this recommendation, kindly arrange for the appropriate redemption request and subscription documents to be completed.

Have a great Holiday Season!

Kind regards,

Michelle Boucher

re: Investment in Maverick Fund

It is expected that a recommendation will follow later this month for Little Woody Limited to acquire part of Moberly's investment in Precept Fund as at November 1st, 2000.

In order to provide liquidity for this purchase, it is recommended that $10Million be redeemed from Maverick Fund. If the Precept investment falls through, this redemption request can be rescinded. Provided that the trustees agree to proceed with this recommendation, kindly give notice to Maverick Fund of the intended redemption within their 30 day notice requirement.

If you have any questions, please call.

Please respond to
"mboucher@redacted"

I've attached a spreadsheet that summarizes the options and one that summarizes the SW approximate cash balances. Yurta Faf, and the Bessie trust have virtually no cash at all - their exercise would cost $11,250,000.

Evan - you are aware of the liquidity in Dortmund, based on our Brazos discussion - approx $5.8M is in Maverick, but less than $70K is accessible at Lehman's. Dortmund's exercise would cost $1,750,000

As you recall, due to tight cash constraints we are liquidating Maverick Fund shares at 1/1/00 to fund Greenmountain cash requirements.

What is the timing of wanting to exercise the MIKE options - can we try for additional redemption from Maverick. Bessie Trust (Yurta Faf) only holds collectibles and options so we would need to raise cash in one of the other companies and have them loan funds to Bessie to exercise the Michaels options.

CW entities - there are agencies available in Quayle, and since Stargate repaid the loan to Gorsemoor, there is cash in Tyler trust that could be transferred over to Soulieana to pay for the options.

Subject: URGENT email for Sam, we need a quick reply on this - thanks!

08/31/2001 11:36 AM

Sam,

Keeley and I need to touch base with you on a couple of things relating to the foreign trust system:

1. Withdrawal from Maverick Fund offshore to raise cash for other investments.

I received an email from Lee and Shari last night indicating that you thought the withdrawal of Maverick this month was going to be reinvested. This is not the case. As per the cash flow information we discussed on August 3rd, the Trustees have requested a withdrawal of $30Million from the Scottish Annuity Policy. The withdrawal is being made in two stages - $20Million at September 1st and $10Million at October 1st. The Scottish Annuity policy will redeem their Maverick investment to raise cash. The cash will then be withdrawn from the Scottish Annuity Policy and transferred back to the trust. The trust will use this cash for various other purposes, such as acquiring Beverly Drive, investing in Ranger, Greenmountain and funding commitments to Red River and Winston Thayer and funding construction at Two Mile Ranch. As you are aware the cash reserves in the trusts have been considerably diminished, raising this cash will also replenish the 'working' cash balances for other unforeseen investments that may arise over the near term.

FYI, there has been no action to sell Michaels Stores shares from the offshore trust yet. A decision on whether to liquidate some of these holdings has been deferred at this time, but will be revisited when cash needs arise again.

2. Withdrawal from the Scottish Annuity Policy.

As indicated above, a decision was made to withdraw the Maverick Fund holdings that reside in the Scottish Annuity Policy and withdraw part of the policy. As discussed with you, this was arrived at for the following reasons:

- the Maverick investments held directly by the trusts (not in a Scottish Policy) are lower in dollar value and would easily be transferred as a block to Ranger when the need for additional Maverick holdings to keep Ranger's investment ratios in line is needed.
- advice was obtained from Rodney Owens last year indicating that he didn't feel the annuity gave the trust much additional tax advantage, and in the event that the trust was challenged having the annuity in place would be insignificant to the overall picture.
- the annuity policy was originally acquired, in part, to provide seed capital to Scottish's book of business which was no longer necessary
- cost of continuing to hold the annuity (although this is less of a concern now as fees were significantly reduced effective January 2001 to 10 basis points, which is approximately $50K per year at this time)

The Trustees submitted the withdrawal request and initially Scottish Annuity agreed to the withdrawals. I had a couple of conversations with Scottish about this, but there was no real fuss made about it. However, this week, I received an email from Mike French which I found very offensive. Apparently he had gone back to Rodney Owens to find out if he had been consulted on the withdrawal. Rodney allegedly denied being consulted, despite the advice he had given us last year (as you may recall the trustees requested full withdrawals of the policies for December 31st, 2000, which were subsequently withdrawn when Scottish agreed to lower their fees). Mike then contacted the trustees and indicated that he was aware that Rodney had not been consulted and that this decision was being made without proper legal advice and as far as he was concerned the withdrawal was a grave mistake. I have attached Mike's email to me, and to the trustees below. I have also included my response to Mike as an attachment to this email.

I feel that it was wholly inappropriate for Mike to initiate discussion on these matters with Rodney Owens, without consent of the family or the trustees, and I find it disturbing that Rodney has denied being consulted on this matter. I don't know in what capacity Mike felt he was communicating with the trustees, as he is no longer a protector and I am personally insulted at his implications that we/I would undertake any activities without receiving appropriate advice and proper consultation with the family members and trustees. I did respond to Mike, and have attached my email to him,

Now that I have finished ranting :-). . . . in order to be certain that you are aware of the implications of surrendering the Scottish policy, I have outlined the issues again for you below. Keeley, Shari and I discussed this yesterday, and contacted Rodney Owens, who confirmed that the following is an accurate description of the issues. Please also review Mike's discussion as per his email which follows mine.

- The policy is owned by a 1992 trust, which is a Foreign Non-Grantor Trust. The trust income is currently not subject to US taxation, however, the trust converts to a taxable trust 2 yrs after your death.

- The annuity is providing value if this status is successfully challenged. If the trust is successfully challenged, taxes, interest and penalties could be levied on income earned by the trust within the statute period, which we can assume is 6 yrs.

- The annuity defers income, and assuming the annuity transaction is upheld, the annuity provides us with deferral of taxes, interest and penalties on income equal to the value of the policy at it's ultimate surrender date.

- This trust has over $300M in assets, $50M of which are in the annuity. It is only the $50M in the annuity that we have the potential to defer tax, interest and penalties on. Income earned on the balance of assets in the trust, during the statute period, would be subject to tax, interest and penalties if the trust were successfully challenged.

- If we withdraw from the policy now, we are eliminating the potential deferral of taxes, interest and penalties on further income earned by these assets. We are also running the risk that if the trust is successfully challenged within the next 6yrs, the withdrawal amount could be assessed tax at ordinary income tax rates, interest and penalties. However, we do start the clock on running on the 6 yr statute for this lump sum being recognized as ordinary income. Note that this lump sum will roll into the overall assets of the trust which will earn future income that could be assessed if the trust were challenged down the road (as is the case with the existing trust assets that are not wrapped).

We need to withdraw money from Maverick to fund other activities. However, we could avoid actually withdrawing value from the annuity by swapping in Ranger investments to replace the cashed out Maverick. ie. the annuity redeems Maverick for cash, then the annuity uses the cash to buy Ranger investments from other trust entities. The trust ends up with cash out of the annuity but the value in the annuity is maintained - the only change to the annuity is that it now holds Maverick and Ranger rather than just Maverick.

FYI, Shari indicated that unless you want to cash in the annuity to more fully sever the relationship with Mike, she would recommend you keep the annuity in place. Keeley and I have mixed feelings on it. The annuity is a relatively small element of the total trust, and it has no value if the trust is never challenged. If the trust is challenged the value depends on the timing of the challenge and the value of the withdrawal now vs the value at it's ultimate surrender date and the return earned on it during that period. Last year Rodney was happy with us making the withdrawal and indicated the cost didn't warrant any potential benefit the annuity gave us. During our call yesterday, he was not as positive, but he did not tell us this was a bad idea, as is indicated in Mike's emails, Rodney was non-committal and felt like we understood the issues and once explained, this was a decision for the family to make.

Please call either Keeley or I to discuss. I can be reached on 345- [REDACTED] or 345- [REDACTED] over the weekend and through Monday. I need to go back to the trustees on this on no later than Tuesday morning.

The following copies of emails are:

Attach: att1.htm

The trustees have not had satisfactory response from Scottish with trying to give effect to this transaction. I understand that the documentation has been forwarded to MCF and he is looking at it. I expect you and/or Sam, and maybe even Charles may hear from him.

Mike may try to cause difficulties that the action is being taken without his consent as a protector - however his authority as protector on the 1992 trusts is limited to the ability to hire/fire trustees. Protectors cannot block transactions and Rodney has represented to us that he is comfortable with us proceeding with the withdrawal.

I think that Scottish will want to negotiate to keep the policies in place through 12/31 for year end numbers. I think it is reasonable for the trustees to agree to this, provided SAC agrees to do a like-kind distribution and transfer the share of Maverick as opposed to having to redeem funds from Maverick & reinvest. I understand that the size involved will likely cause Maverick to have to liquidate positions and then they'll lose the money for 2-3 days while it round trips back into the fund, so it is in all three parties interest to effect a like kind distribution.

I expect to hear from SAC later today, but wanted to let you know that you may hear from Mike.

2. Identify the amount of Maverick's assets under management that come from domestic clients and the amount that comes from offshore clients.

MAVERICK RESPONSE: Of approximately $11 billion under management by Maverick as of January 1, 2006 (including the proceeds of leverage facility borrowings and internal capital), approximately $7.9 billion (72%) is attributable to domestic United States sources and the balance is attributable to foreign sources. A precise determination of the ultimate investment sources is difficult, however, because financial intermediaries (e.g., funds of funds) may derive their investment capital from foreign and domestic sources in proportions that are unknown to Maverick and may vary over time.

3. Identify the maximum amount of assets the Scottish Holdings entities had with Maverick, and when that occurred.

MAVERICK RESPONSE: Investments in Maverick funds by affiliates of Scottish Re, Ltd. (formerly known as Scottish Annuity and Life Holdings, Ltd. and hereafter referred to as "Scottish"), including Scottish Annuity Company, Ltd., aggregated approximately $212.4 million as of August 31, 2001.

4. Identify any loans, investments or any other transactions that Maverick had with any Scottish Holdings entities, the amount, and when they took place.

MAVERICK RESPONSE: On November 24, 1998, funds managed by Maverick acquired from Scottish 709,220 Scottish shares and warrants for the purchase of 200,000 additional Scottish shares (at $15 per share) for an aggregate purchase price of $10,000,000. During the period November 30, 1998 through February 17, 1999, those funds acquired 979,000 additional Scottish shares in public, open market transactions for an aggregate purchase price of $11,213,054. During the period March 26, 1999 through June 7, 2001, those funds sold 1,688,220 Scottish shares in public, open market transactions for an aggregate sale price of $20,991,496.

During the period May 16, 2003 through May 22, 2003, the same funds managed by Maverick exercised the above described Scottish stock purchase warrants at an aggregate exercise price of $3,000,000 and sold the Scottish shares so acquired for an aggregate sale price of $3,770,895.

5. Describe Ranger's relationship with Maverick, including the entities involved, amounts invested, and the time period over which the investments took place.

MAVERICK RESPONSE: Information concerning investments in Maverick funds by Ranger affiliated entities is included in the investor information provided to you under cover of my letter dated November 17, 2005. (The attachment to your email dated February 9, 2006 indicates that it is not necessary to restate such information here.) Maverick maintains an arm's-length relationship with Ranger and its affiliates.

6. For the each of the following entities, describe any relationship or transactions it had with Maverick, the amount of funds involved, the time period over which it took place, the Maverick entity involved and, if known, the ownership and business purpose of the entity:

ABL Strategies

MAVERICK RESPONSE: ABL Strategies is an investor in Maverick Levered Fund, Ltd. Information concerning ABL Strategies' account was provided to you under cover of my letter dated November 17, 2005 and related account documentation received from The Irish Trust Company (Cayman), Ltd. was provided to you under cover of my letter dated February 10, 2006.

Edinburgh Fund (aka Edinburgh Advisors, Edinburgh Advisors General LLC)

MAVERICK RESPONSE: The Cayman Islands law firm of Maples and Calder, which serves as Cayman Islands counsel to Maverick and the Maverick funds, has informed Maverick that a Cayman Islands company named Maverick Growth and Income Fund, L.D.C. was organized at the request of Maverick personnel in 1995. That company appears never to have undertaken any role related to the Maverick business. Maverick understands that after a change of name to Edinburgh Fund in 1997 it was operated as an investment fund by or for Wyly family members or entities associated with such persons.

Highland Fund Ltd.

MAVERICK RESPONSE: As stated above in response to Question 1, Highland Fund, Ltd. is a Wyly family entity which holds a limited partnership interest in Maverick.

Maverick Entrepreneurs Fund

MAVERICK RESPONSE: Maverick understands that Maverick Entrepreneurs Fund, Ltd. was an investment fund operated by or for Wyly family members or entities associated with such persons. Information concerning investment by that entity in the Maverick funds is included in the spreadsheet provided under cover of my letter dated November 17, 2005. Maverick understands that Maverick Entrepreneurs Fund, Ltd. was dissolved in the late 1990's.

Precept Capital

MAVERICK RESPONSE: In January and March 1998, the Maverick funds made investments in funds managed by Precept Capital and acquired small interests in Precept Capital itself. Maverick Fund, L.D.C. (offshore) made an investment of approximately $10 million in an offshore Precept fund and Maverick Fund USA, Ltd. made an investment of approximately $5 million in a domestic Precept fund. Income earned with respect to interests in the management company effectively reduced the management and performance fees borne by the Maverick funds. The investments and earnings thereon (approximately $17.8 million offshore and $8.2 million onshore, including in each case the original invested capital) were liquidated in 2002.

Security Capital

MAVERICK RESPONSE: At the present time, Maverick does not believe that it has had a direct relationship (or entered into transactions directly) with an entity of this name. Securities and Exchange Commission filings by Green Mountain Energy Company (together with its predecessors, "Green Mountain") and other documents indicate that a Security Capital, Ltd. provided certain financing to Green Mountain and associated persons or entities in the late 1990's.

7. Please describe Maverick's relationship and involvement with any of the Green Mountain Energy entities:

a. The amount of funds invested over time - when, how much, the type of investment (loan, capital investment, etc.) and which entities involved;

MAVERICK RESPONSE: The following summarizes investments in Green Mountain by the Maverick funds:

b. The percentage ownership that Maverick entities had in the Green Mountain Energy entities;

MAVERICK RESPONSE: The aggregate direct and indirect percentage interest of the Maverick funds in Green Mountain has varied over time as the result of the issuance and redemption of equity securities to or from the funds and others, and it is difficult for Maverick to determine fluctuations in that interest precisely without reviewing Green Mountain's internal records. In general, however, Maverick believes that the aggregate direct and indirect interest of the Maverick funds did not exceed 20% at any time after their initial investment on August 6, 1997. Securities and Exchange Commission filings by Green Mountain indicate that the Maverick funds held a 16.4% interest in June 1999. Such interest has declined to approximately 12.5% (based on stock ownership) at the current time, taking into account a recent recapitalization and substantial investments by BP and Nuon.

c. When did Maverick stop investing in Green Funding I and start investing in Green Mountain Energy, and why did this take place?

MAVERICK RESPONSE: The following summarizes Maverick's understanding of the Green Mountain investment structure. Green Mountain was initially organized as a limited liability company by a subsidiary of Green Mountain Power Corp. and a group of cash investors including the Maverick funds and certain other investors associated with Sam Wyly. For tax reasons, the interests of the Maverick funds in Green Mountain were initially held by wholly owned subsidiaries of each fund. In order to simplify the Green Mountain governance structure, the interests of the cash investors were pooled in a second limited liability company, Green Funding I, LLC. The subsequent redemption of Green Mountain Power's interest obviated the need for such a bilateral governance structure, and in February 1999 the Maverick funds participated in a direct private placement by Green Mountain (i.e., the Maverick funds purchased additional securities directly from Green Mountain and did not invest through Green Funding I).

In anticipation of an initial public offering in June 1999, Green Mountain was converted from a limited liability company to a corporation. At approximately the same time, Green Funding I distributed to the Maverick funds their pro rata share of the assets of Green Funding I (i.e., Green Mountain shares) so that the funds could own those shares directly. Although Green Funding I was not liquidated at the time and the Maverick funds did not formally withdraw from Green Funding I until June 2000, Green Funding I was inactive during the interim period and held no material assets.

d. When Moberly replaced Maverick and others as partners in Green Funding I, what happened to Maverick's interests and investments in Green Funding I, and what was the amount involved?

MAVERICK RESPONSE: In June 2000, Moberly was admitted as a member of Green Funding I and the Maverick funds withdrew as members. Prior to that time, the economic interests of the Maverick funds in Green Funding I and its assets had been fully distributed to the Maverick funds as a result of the June 1999 distribution of Green Mountain shares.

8. What is the name of the entity that places the purchase and sale orders and is recorded as the owner of the securities that are purchased and subsequently parceled out among the various Maverick funds?

MAVERICK RESPONSE: Maverick Capital, Ltd., as investment manager, places aggregate orders with brokers for execution on its clients' behalf. Executed orders are settled by the executing brokers with the clients' prime brokers, who allocate the trades among the clients' prime brokerage accounts.

9. What is the name of the entity that is considered to be the "Master Partnership" in the Maverick structure?

MAVERICK RESPONSE: There is no entity that would be considered to be a "Master Partnership" in the Maverick structure." As illustrated in the Maverick Funds organizational chart (a copy of which we provided to you at our meeting), each of Maverick Fund II, Ltd., Maverick Long Fund, Ltd., Maverick Long Enhanced Fund, Ltd., Maverick Neutral Fund, Ltd. and Maverick Neutral Levered Fund, Ltd. is considered to be a "master fund" with regard to its related "feeder funds," and each is considered to be a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Very truly yours,

Stephen Fishbein

SAC 98 PLAN
November 7, 1997

Ownership

Revise ownership to provide for 50/50 as between SMT (MCF) and Bessie/Tyler. Remaining current ownership is 1% each for Ainslie, Roberston and Boucher. Proposed ownership is SMT-45%, Bessie/Tyler-45%, Boucher 5%, Ainslie and Robertson 1% each, with a 3% reserve.

Capitalization

Current equity capital in Scottish Holdings is about $1.8 million. However, Holdings has borrowed shares of Maverick Fund having a current value of about $3.5 million from Bessie/Tyler or related trusts. The Fund shares have been contributed to SAC as additional equity capital, so that the audited SAC balance sheet shows equity of about $5.3 million. Since SAC is wholly owned by Holdings, the Fund shares can be withdrawn at any time and returned to the lenders, without documenting any obligation on SAC's books. At the Holdings level the Fund shares are netted out against the loan obligation, which is a demand obligation.

It is proposed that another $20 million of Fund shares be loaned to Holdings and contributed downstream to SAC to boost SAC equity to $25 million. Since SAC engages only in the variable annuity business, there is no need for any of this capital from an operating standpoint. However, a balance sheet with $25 million of equity will provide a significant competitive advantage over anyone else engaged in this type of business offshore, and possibly onshore.

The initial commitment was for a total of $2.5 million of real equity capital to be contributed, of which approximately $1.8 has been contributed. Given the current and expected levels of operations, this can probably be capped at $2 million.

Marketing

Asset growth in 1997 will be about $60 million, with projected year end investor assets of approximately $150 million. We have made significant expenditures for compensation and support of a new marketing person that has not paid off. Most asset growth has come from contacts with MCF or Michelle. A different structure needs to be set up with the marketing person or he needs to be let go.

SAC is already the largest single investor in Maverick Fund. These investments, with the exception of the loaned Fund shares referred to above, represent annuity contracts with investors, but SAC owns the actual Fund investment. The addition of an additional $20 million of Fund shares to SAC's equity, will make total SAC ownership of Maverick Fund shares equal about $75 million to $80 million, of which $23+ million will be directly owned by SAC as its own capital.

As an actual investor in Maverick Fund, SAC should be able to suggest to Maverick Fund and its advisor that some reasonable level of Maverick Fund trading commissions be directed to certain brokers who refer business to SAC. Through early November 1997, total Maverick Fund commissions are about $26 million, meaning total annual commissions for 1997 will be around $30 million. Given the size of the SAC investment in Maverick Fund, it is not unreasonable to request that some of the commissions attributable to SAC's interest (at least its capital interest) be directed to favored brokers of SAC, subject to best execution.

If SAC has informal arrangements with brokers to provide trading commissions of 0.5% to 0.75% of funds referred to SAC for a period of 4 years, and has the ability to direct $500,000 to $1 million of commissions each year, then SAC can provide compensation to brokers to pull in another $100 to $200 million.

Investment in Domestic Hedge Funds

To date, SAC has not been able to invest in domestic hedge fund partnerships, because it would be subject to withholding on partnership profits. This has changed beginning January 1, 1998, as a result of changes made in the Taxpayer Relief Act passed in August.

SAC will now be able to go to domestic investors in hedge funds and offer them a simple way to roll their investment into a tax-deferred annuity, even if there is no properly structured offshore clone of the hedge fund. Updated legal opinions on this issue are being prepared. This will provide a huge addition to the universe of potential SAC investors.

Timing

To really be effective, the new capital in the form of loaned Maverick Fund shares should be added before the end of December in order to be reflected on the year end audit.

Some understanding also needs to be reached with Ainslie on the directed commissions very soon.

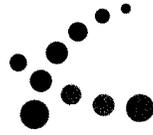

Projections

Attached are projections for future years with differing assumptions as to asset additions and investment returns. A 7% escalation in expenses is assumed, although this is probably too high.

Existing ownership of Maverick is 66.88% Sam's Family and 33.12% Charles' Family. Charles' Family will reduce to 5% ownership.

The current shareholders have performance fees of [REDACTED] deferred. Those fees should be moved from capital to a deferred performance payable to the existing partners. Sam's Family would retain [REDACTED] and Charles' Family [REDACTED] and payment would be made when the 10 years elapse. This minimizes taxes for Charles' Family and minimizes cash flow requirements for Sam's Family.

Charles currently owns deferred compensation of $330,691. If he remains an owner, it will not be distributed or taxable at this time.

Capital accounts would be as follows at 4/30/96:

Capital Account	[REDACTED]
Reduce by Deferred Performance	[REDACTED]
Reduce by Ainslie Fee	[REDACTED]
Reduce by E. Wyly Fee	[REDACTED]
Employee Bonuses (Estimated - 10% of profits)	[REDACTED]
Maverick Capital Account @ 4/30/96	[REDACTED]
Sam Family Capital Account	[REDACTED]
Charles Family Capital Account	[REDACTED]

In exchange for retaining 5% of Maverick a minimum balance of $40 mm will be retained in the Hedge funds. Income may be distributed and losses do not need to be made up. Additionally, Charles' Family agrees to not pull out funds in excess of $1,000,000 per quarter without a six month notice. Approximate balances at 5/31/96 are:

Re: Scottish

Evan - as we discussed last week this is a little sticky. I think we could re-structure so Sam does not own Ranger (I also think there are other issues involved in doing this) - my concern is that if whoever owns it or the Ranger employees will be looking to Sam to make decisions on Ranger operations I think there is a substance over form type issue. I also think Ranger may have a hard time not being able to use Sam's name as being behind Ranger because I think they rely on this heavily in marketing. So, I guess my answer is yes we could restructure but would need to make sure that there is no control by Sam over the Ranger operation. I also hate to have him transfer the Ranger interest in order to be able to place this money with Ranger if we will need to liquidate at some point in the near future - also, would want to make sure Ranger is on board with the idea of not having the additional $ under management for the long term. Sorry - I am rambling, let me know if Sam would like to pursue further.

Michelle:

I'm glad to hear that the Bouchers will be attending the Maverick annual meeting in October in NY. Chrystal and I plan to attend.

Included below is a question asked by Scott Canon about whether certain of the offshore Scottish policies that I understand are currently invested with Mav could be invested with Ranger Multi Strategy without breaching the investor control issues currently in place. While I'm guessing that you will cringe at this being asked with any language suggesting a link between certain policies and, say, any individuals, I'm still interested in your answer. Therefore, I'm forwarding this to you but stripped out all references to any individual so as to keep you and Keeley calm.

"Given the language, I would think that [xxx] and certainly [xxxxxxx] would be able to invest in Robert's product (he means Ranger Multi Strategy or even the Enhanced/levered product). The Focus Fund (he means a fund that will be concentrated in Mav and a few of the Ranger fund offerings as requested by Evan) has issues as relates to this language. Has Michelle commented on [xxx's] ability to invest in Advisors with [the] existing policy?"

I'm interested to know your thoughts. If this needs to be discussed by phone, shoot me a

As an aside, we're moving forward with the enhanced product and hope to have it online 10/1. Its going to be a push with all of us busting it to get it done. Keeley and I have discussed my intent to hold investments slated for 10/1 until we know the facility is in place. If it falls through, I'll have some liquidity for 10/1 (9M) and more 11/1.

East Carroll should go to Ranger Fund LLC.
Locke's money should go to Ranger Fund, Ltd (note the difference between these two entities - one is Ranger Fund LLC, one is Ranger Fund Ltd.) Wire instructions as per the subscription documents are as follows. Lehman's should wire money directly from Lehman Brothers to the Ranger entities TODAY and not go via Bank of Bermuda because the money needs to be here to make investments for value tomorrow - if it goes to BOB first we won't see it until Monday at the earliest. Please contact Lehman asap to ensure the money is going to the right accounts.

Sam,

Further to my email last week regarding Ranger funding, it looks like Robert is requesting an additional commitment of $2.5M from the offshore trusts. This would provide Ranger with enough capital offshore to fund investments $8.6M into HBK and $8.6M into Quantlab. Please confirm this is consistent with your understanding of his May 1st proposal.

I need to go out to the trustees tonight to request the additional $2.5M investment in Ranger tonight.

Ready to start a fund in the Cayman Islands. Wants to seed with $5 million and call the fund First Dallas Fund, Ltd. First Dallas LLC will be the investment manager (he thinks Elaine has this formed) and you will need to have an investment management agreement drawn up. He may want to purchase something in the next few days. If so, we'll purchase in an IOM corp if FDL is not formed and contribute the assets. FDL only needs a brokerage account at Lehman's, it apparently will only be making private investments.

He's thinking about acquiring $ 10 million of GMER debt convertible to common within the next 30 days.

He's realized that you priced SE at SSW price. Would you e-mail him a new financial.

He's not ready to decide what he's doing on SSW options. Will let us know. He's think that it probably makes more sense to close out the swap plus some of the options rather than all options. Will get back to us.

You mutual fund license only allows for 15 entities - correct? Think you need to figure out how to increase that pretty quickly. If Sam adds 2 and Charles adds 1 and Maverick's going to start a master/feeder commodities fund you could very shortly have five more funds. Let me know how big an issue this is. Should we consider a trust company for the family and one for the fund administration?

The Cayman Fund, First Dallas International (FDI) should be incorporated tomorrow, and I have bank accounts ready to go here at Queensgate Bank & Trust.

I have arranged preliminary paperwork at Lehman Brothers to open the 'IPO' account with them, and we should be able to move money there on Monday.

I await confirmation on the sum being invested in Coolink through FDV, but understand that it is currently $1 Million - please confirm. Elaine and I are communicating to ensure that we transfer enough money into the First Dallas structure to provide for the investments as well as initial fees. Assuming Coolink will be $1M and Lehman is $5M, I am arranging for $6.25M to be Elysium's initial contribution. I hope this additional $250K will provide for most of the fees for the next 6 - 12 mths, depending on investment activity.

Yes

I would also like confirmation to proceed with placement of $5 Million into the Lehman account. I spoke with Lou Schaufele and understand that arrangements have been made that his group will make the investments on behalf of FDI, and advise us at the end of the day as to what was traded. My impression is that trading will be relatively thin, and dependent upon the IPO / Capital Markets activity, but is expected to be up to 5 trades per month. Is this your understanding?

Yes

For documentation purposes, we will arrange paperwork so that actual discretion over trading in the Lehman's account is granted to First Dallas, Ltd.

I look forward to hearing from you.

The protectors recommend that the trustees invest a further $2M into First Dallas International Limited for July 1st, 2000. Provided that the trustees agree to proceed with the investment, please contact Lara Haskins at Irish Trust to co-ordinate the investment. It is suggested that the 9/14/00 FNMA and 7/13/00 FNMA bonds be liquidated to raise funds for this investment.

Mr. Wylly,

Further to the funding request for FDV earlier this week, I have updated the summary of cash flows on First Dallas International through yesterday. As previously discussed, we anticipated keeping a 'float' of approximately $1.52 Million to fund capital calls on Winston Thayer, Brazos, Trans Europe Buyout and for funding investments of FDV. We last subscribed $3Million to the Fund on February 1st, which has been fully invested. As such, the protectors of Red Mountain Trust would like to suggest a further funding of $3Million to First Dallas International at the earliest possible date.

Here is a brief summary of the attached:

- The IOM trusts have contributed a total of $32.2 Million to date, of which $27.2Million was cash and $5M was investments.
- The cash contribution has been invested as follows: $4.8 Million into direct investments, $1.5Million to the Lehman Managed account and $20.3 Million into First Dallas Ventures.

We are waiting for a summary of Elagent's operational cash requirements from Jim Lincoln. I expect we will receive this on Monday morning. Based on outstanding commitments to Brazos, Trans-Europe Partners and Winston Thayer Capital Partners, and an expectation that the Elagent funding needs will be consistent with the needs of the past 4 mths, I have estimated that the protectors should recommend an additional investment of $3Million dollars into First Dallas International.

As you are aware, Keely and I are traveling to Isle of Man on Monday afternoon. Hopefully we can touch base on this before we go.

Thanks!

Andrea,

Donnie mentioned this to me today, but I did not realize it was this large an amount. Donnie & Jim also confirmed to me today that First Dallas Ventures(FDV) is making an additional investment (other than Cool Partners), and seeks funding for $1Million.

I have made arrangements this afternoon for $1Million to be available to be wired from First Dallas International (FDI) to FDV for value June 7th (tomorrow).

I think you are saying this, but please confirm that we should make arrangements to fund a further $1,250,000 to FDV to cover the second Cool Partners investment, so FDV can repay Stargate.

I will be out of the office on Wednesday, so you will need to follow this up with Lara Haskins. I am copying her on this email through irishtst@candw.ky. Other than the $1Million we will wire tomorrow, as indicated above, the funds in FDI are tied up until next Tuesday - can we wait until then to send the $1,250,000 additional amount or do we need to break the deposit so Stargate can be repaid sooner than next week?

Your understanding is close! FDI funds FDV, and FDV makes the investments. First Dallas, Ltd (FDL) acts as the investment advisor to both FDV and FDI.

 Subject: FDL Items

Keeley,

These are the items that we discussed which need to be completed for First Dallas, Ltd

1. Make sure that FDL's financials are up to date.
 - a. First Dallas Ventures Investments (2 rounds of Coolink, and this week RL)
 - b. and First Dallas Limited
 - We will be reporting to CJW on standing as of the 2nd Qtr. '00
2. We need a letter of engagement between First Dallas, International and First Dallas, Ltd to act as the Investment Manager for the following investments:
 - a. Winston Thayer
 - b. Trans-Europe Buyout Fund (not yet invested)
 - c. Libra
 - d. Brazos
 - e. Lehman IPO Fund
 - f. Deerfield
 - g. Lyco
3. The Lyco investment has been previously made by Aspen Flyers (I think), we need to refund Aspen Flyers for this investment and put it into First Dallas International. This may not be logistically possible if we have put this into the taxes of Aspen Flyers already (right?).
4. The letter of engagement will call for a annual 1% management fee, paid quarterly (based upon total assets under management). The fee should be billed for the upcoming quarter. CJW would like for this to have started on April 1. So we need to invoice for the last quarter and invoice for the upcoming quarter
5. First Dallas Ventures made a second investment into Coolink for $1.25mm. Because of the speed of the transaction funds could not be produced from First Dallas International in time. So, I believe that money was borrowed from Stargate. These funds will need to be paid back
6. Lastly, we should be making a $750,000.00 investment into a company called RocketLogix today or tomorrow. I asked that First Dallas International make a $1mm transfer into First Dallas Ventures, we should make sure that this actually happened

Please get back to Donnie and myself on these issues as they happen so that we are all on the same page. If you have any questions just give me a call

Thanks,

We currently have approx $1.3M on a call account which has same day availability if notified before 11am EST. The balance will need to be raised by further subscriptions from IOM entities. In order to keep liquidity for future calls on Winston Thayer, Brazos and Trans Europe Global Fund of approx $1Million, I should seek additional subscriptions from IOM for approx $3Million. Please confirm I should proceed with this for June 1st subscriptions.

Mr. Wily,

Further to my email last night, the protectors plan to recommend a total contribution of $3Million to First Dallas International for the February 1, 2002 subscription date.

I have attached a summary of cash flow since inception, and details of the short term cash requirement that I am aware of.

- The IOM trusts have contributed a total of $29.2 Million to date, of which $24.2Million was cash and $5M was investments.
- The cash contribution has been invested as follows: $4Million into direct investments, $1.7Million to the Lehman Managed account and $18 Million into First Dallas Ventures (12/31/01 balances plus January contributions of $436K).

eyes Based on outstanding commitments to Brazos, Trans-Europe Partners and Winston Thayer Capital Partners, as well as commitments to fund Elagent's operations through April 2002, I have estimated that the protectors should recommend an additional investment of $3Million dollars into First Dallas International.

A recommendation to invest $1Million was given to the trustees last night, in order to meet Elagent commitments for tomorrow, I suggest that the protectors also request the additional $2Million as a Feb 1st subscription to provide for projected cash requirements through April 2002.

Margot - Let's wait and see if you hear back from Michelle on this. I sent Andrea a note yesterday asking for timing but she did not get back to me and is out sick today - so I am assuming we are safe waiting until tomorrow and maybe in that time you will hear from Michelle. My instinct is to fund from Tyler Trust but would like her confirmation on that.

Thanks

I don't know which trust or entity Michelle would want the cash to move from. But, if the fact that Elysium holds a large part of FDI means anything, and assuming the payment can come from the Tyler Trust-- in Elysium there is a government agency bond maturing on July 17th that could cover the $600K+. There is also a large enough GAB in Soulieana, but it looks like it may have already rolled over. The only entities with enough cash on hand to cover the short term payment of $200K is Gorsemoor. The Tyler Trust itself also has sufficient cash to cover the short term payment.

Let me know what you think.

Based on the last e-mail on 5/29 Charles approved $210,000 per month for Transfinity and $200,000 per month for Seranin. We need to fund the following for rest of July - $110,000 Transfinity, $100,000 Seranin. So, depending on how cash looks - you can either send just the $210,000 or $620,000 to take us through August 31st. Michelle - you may want to send just the $210,000 now since it is more immediate and wait to have another discussion with Donnie and Charles on the remaining funding and then you could fund a couple of months. All the Elegant related items have been paid - peaceful disposition and loan payoff so these should be the only items going forward.

Little Woody is to cover mortgage, operating etc till year end

Let me know what it is looking like on funding and timing - thanks

I need to get funding for both of the listed entities. I need approximately $410,000 transferred to FDV. $200K is for Seranin and $210K for Transfinity. I believe these were ok'ed, but I think that Michelle is out of the office still and I am not sure who to forward this on to.

As for LWLLC, I need probably about $300,000. That should get me through the end of the year. The last transfer I have to LWLLC was in February in the amount of $200,000. Please advise on who I need to forward the questions

RE: Seranin Draw Request

I think it is set up to go to you this week - I believe Ryan (here) has it ready to go, but I'll confirm and ask him to let Jana know what date he wires it. I think he usually sends it around the 11th or 12th so they have it for the 15th.

I don't know what we usually do for this but sounds like we need the infusion of funds.

When I spoke with Sarah today, she told me that Andrea had not answered her email reminder for cash at Seranin - $210K due this week (before payroll). I am sending this to you to make sure you are aware of the need. FYI, $210K/mo is the standard draw for Seranin.

Just so I do not forget this down the road - as we discussed today, FDV is looking at a potential commitment of $10M for a new venture that would be run by Allan Duncan and Jim. It will be a longer term commitment - 1st deal likely to be signed by 8/15 with funding by 9/15. Expected in the 500k - 1M range. Thought we should probably get in the cash flow even though it is still tentative

Hi Jim
I have sent through a wire request for payment of the 4thQ management fees for FDI. The payment was based on a 90% of the estimated fee and came to $110,093.81. You should expect the funds on Monday as the fax only went late this afternoon. The calc is attached.

Subject: Re: Cash Call

Andrea,

Donnie mentioned this to me today, but I did not realize it was this large an amount. Donnie & Jim also confirmed to me today that First Dallas Ventures(FDV) is making an additional investment (other than Cool Partners), and seeks funding for $1Million.

I have made arrangements this afternoon for $1Million to be available to be wired from First Dallas International (FDI) to FDV for value June 7th (tomorrow).

I think you are saying this, but please confirm that we should make arrangements to fund a further $1,250,000 to FDV to cover the second Cool Partners investment, so FDV can repay Stargate.

I will be out of the office on Wednesday, so you will need to follow this up with Lara Haskins. I am copying her on this email through irishst@candw.ky. Other than the $1Million we will wire tomorrow, as indicated above, the funds in FDI are tied up until next Tuesday - can we wait until then to send the $1,250,000 additional amount or do we need to break the deposit so Stargate can be repaid sooner than next week?

Your understanding is close! FDI funds FDV, and FDV makes the investments. First Dallas, Ltd (FDL) acts as the investment advisor to both FDV and FDI.

Michelle

This INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), dated as of April 1, 2000, between FIRST DALLAS INTERNATIONAL, LTD., a company organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands (the "Company") and FIRST DALLAS, LTD., a limited partnership organized under the laws of the State of Texas (the "Investment Manager").

WHEREAS, the Company desires to retain the Investment Manager to provide investment management services to the Company and the Investment Manager desires to agree to be so retained,

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual covenants and agreements set forth herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

Section 1. Retention of the Investment Manager.

(a) The Company hereby retains the Investment Manager and the Investment Manager hereby agrees to act as investment manager of the Company to invest and reinvest all assets of the Company. All investment decisions for the Company will be made by the Investment Manager. The Company has furnished to the Investment Manager a copy of the Company's Articles of Association, and will from time to time furnish the Investment Manager with copies of any amendments thereto. Until such amendments are delivered to the Investment Manager, matters therein stated shall not be binding on the Investment Manager. All investments of the Company and all investment activities of the Investment Manager on behalf of the Company shall at all times conform to and be in accordance with the requirements imposed by (i) any provision of applicable law, and (ii) the provisions of the Company's Articles of Association as amended from time to time. The Investment Manager shall furnish investment management services to the Company for so long as this Agreement is in effect. The Investment Manager shall not be deemed an employee of the Company, and shall have no authority to act for, represent, bind or obligate the Company except as provided for in this Agreement.

(b) The authority of the Investment Manager includes, without limitation, the authority to open, maintain and close, in the name and on behalf of the Company, securities accounts with any brokerage firm or custodian accounts with any financial institution designated by the Investment Manager in its discretion and in connection therewith, to (i) purchase, hold, sell, tender, exchange, convert, exercise and otherwise acquire or dispose of and trade and deal in or with, foreign or domestic securities, both registered or unregistered, such as common and preferred stocks, notes, bonds, evidences of indebtedness, certificates of deposit, voting trust certificates, stock warrants and rights; (ii) place put and call options on, and purchase and sell securities, currencies and forward contracts relating thereto; (iii) engage in short sale transactions, on margin or otherwise, and to cover short sales; (iv) borrow money, securities or other property, and to trade on margin and to pledge, hypothecate or rehypothecate assets to secure such borrowings or other indebtedness or obligations in connection with the foregoing activities; and (v) execute such assignments, instruments of transfer, orders and other instruments and to enter into such agreements as may be necessary or proper in connection with the performance of the Investment Manager's duties under this Agreement.

(c) The Investment Manager shall endeavor to keep the assets of the Company invested as it deems appropriate from time to time, including maintaining any portion of the assets of the Company in cash. The Investment Manager may invest the assets of the Company in any investments it deems appropriate, including without limitation publicly traded securities, other securities and investment contracts, interests in limited partnerships and other investment funds of any type, other tangible and intangible personal property, and real property. The investments and reinvestments made by the Investment Manager shall be based on such research and inquiries as the Investment Manager deems appropriate. The investment and reinvestment of the assets of the Company, including the purchase or sale of any securities or the borrowing of any funds on behalf of the Company, either on a secured or unsecured basis, shall be exclusively within the control and discretion of the Investment Manager.

Section 2. Compensation of the Investment Manager.

As compensation for the Investment Manager's services under this Agreement, the Investment Manager shall be entitled to receive a quarterly fixed fee calculated in accordance with the following definitions and subject to the following conditions:

(a) The fee for any fiscal quarter shall be an amount payable in advance equal to one-half of 1% of the net assets of the Company on the first day of such quarter. The Company shall pay the fee in U.S. dollars to the Investment Manager within ten days after the first day of each fiscal quarter. In the event that the Investment Manager is not acting as such for an entire fiscal quarter, the fee payable by the Company for such fiscal quarter shall be prorated to reflect the portion of such fiscal quarter in which the Investment Manager is acting as such under this Agreement.

(b) For purposes of this Section, net assets of the Company shall be determined on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, except where the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, determines that other adjustments are required or are fair or reasonable, and in accordance with the following:

(i) No value shall be assigned to goodwill.

(ii) Organizational expenses of the Company shall be capitalized and amortized over a five year period beginning with the commencement of operations of the Company.

(iii) Accrued investment management fees and other fees shall be treated as liabilities.

(iv) With regard to common stock held by the Company, dividends payable to shareholders of record that are payable after the date as of which the total net assets are being determined shall be treated as a liability of the payor of such dividend and an asset of the payee of such dividend.

(v) The value of positions in securities shall be as follows:

(A) securities that are listed on the New York Stock Exchange and are freely transferable shall be valued at their last sales price on the consolidated tape on the last day of the relevant period, or, if no sales occurred on such day, at the "bid" price on the consolidated tape at the close of business on such day and if sold short at the "asked" price at the close of business on such day;

(B) securities that are listed on national or international exchanges other than the New York Stock Exchange and are freely transferable shall be valued at their last sale on the exchange that constitutes the principal market on the last day of the relevant period, or, if no sales occurred on such day, at the "bid" price on such exchange at the close of business on such day and if sold short at the "asked" price at the close of business on such day;

(C) securities traded over the counter which are freely transferable shall be valued at the last sales price on last day of the relevant period, or, if no sales occurred on such day, at the "bid" price at the close of business on such day and if sold short at the "asked" price at the close of business on such day.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the securities to be valued constitute a block which, in the judgment of the Investment Manager could not be liquidated in reasonable time without causing a material adverse effect upon the market, such block shall then be valued as may be reasonably determined by the Investment Manager; provided, however, that the unit value shall not exceed of the quoted market price for such security.

(vi) All other assets of the Company shall be valued in the manner determined by the Board of Directors of the Company to reflect their fair market value.

Section 3. Expenses. The Investment Manager will render the services set forth in this Agreement at its own expense, including the salaries of employees necessary to render such services, all general overhead expenses (including computer and quotation equipment, telephone service, financial manuals, news services, subscriptions, office supplies and related travel expenses) attributable to its employees and other expenses incident to the rendering of such services. The Company shall pay its own expenses including the fees paid to the Investment Manager, accounting and legal expenses, organizational and offering expenses and all investment expenses (including brokerage commissions, custodial fees, interest on margin accounts, borrowing charges for securities sold short and short sale dividends).

Section 4. Reports to the Company. The Investment Manager shall submit or cause to be submitted to the Company such reports of the assets of the Company and of the market value of such assets under its management as the Company shall from time to time reasonably request. The Investment Manager shall not incur any individual liability or responsibility for any determination made, advice given or other action taken or omitted by it in good faith with respect to the determination of the value of the assets of the Company under its management.

Section 5. Selection of Brokers and Custodians.

(a) The choice of brokers and dealers, if any, employed in connection with the investment and reinvestment of the assets of the Company shall be exclusively within the control and discretion of the Investment Manager. In its selection of brokers through whom purchases and sales on behalf of the Company will be made, the Investment Manager need not solicit competitive bids and has no obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost. In selecting broker/dealers, the Investment Manager may use its discretion as to whether to negotiate "execution only" commission rates. In negotiating commission rates, the Investment Manager shall take into account the special execution capabilities, financial strength and stability and reputation of the broker/dealer and the brokerage, research and other services provided by such broker/dealer, regardless of whether the Company is the direct or indirect beneficiary of the research or other services provided. In addition, the Investment Manager shall be authorized to direct commissions to certain broker/dealers who furnish other services to the Investment Manager, such as telephone lines, news and quotation equipment, office equipment, account record keeping and clerical services, financial publications, economic consulting services and office space and facilities. The Investment Manager or its affiliates may in the future establish an affiliated broker/dealer through which securities transactions for the Company may be executed.

(b) The Investment Manager shall have the authority to select and appoint brokerage firms, banks or any other type of administrator or custodian for the assets of the Company as it deems appropriate.

Section 6. Allocation. When the Investment Manager deems the purchase or sale of securities to be in the best interests of the Company and of affiliates or other clients of the Investment Manager, the Investment Manager may aggregate the securities to be purchased or sold. In such event, allocation of the securities purchased or sold, as well as expenses incurred in the transaction, shall be made in a manner which the Investment Manager considers to be the most fair and equitable to all of its clients, including the Company.

Section 7. Liability of the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager shall give the Company the benefit of its best judgment and efforts in rendering services under this Agreement. It is agreed that as an inducement to the Investment Manager's undertaking these services, the Company shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Investment Manager and its partners, representatives and employees and the members, managers and employees of the Investment Manager's general partner (collectively, the "Indemnified Parties") against all expenses (including reasonable legal fees and disbursements actually incurred), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement of and reasonably incurred in connection with any legal, administrative or investigative proceeding relating to the performance of the Investment Manager's duties under this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed either to protect or to purport to protect the Investment Manager or the Indemnified Parties against any liability to which it would otherwise be subject by reason of willful misfeasance, bad faith or gross negligence in the performance of its duties hereunder or by reason of its reckless disregard to its obligations and duties under this Agreement. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary, nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to waive or limit any rights that the Company may have under United States and state securities laws that impose liabilities under certain circumstances on persons who act in good faith.

Section 8. Other Activities of the Investment Manager. The Company recognizes that the Investment Manager or its affiliates may be or become associated with other investment entities and engage in investment management for others. Except to the extent necessary to perform its obligations hereunder, nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to limit or restrict the right of the Investment Manager or its affiliates to engage in, or to devote time and attention to the management of any other business, whether of a similar or dissimilar nature, or to tender services of any kind to any other corporation, firm, individual or association. As a result, the Investment Manager and its affiliates and other clients may hold substantial positions in securities that are owned by the Company. If the Investment Manager and its affiliates or other clients hold a substantial position in an issuer, liquidity and concentration considerations may limit the ability of the Investment Manager to add to the position on behalf of the Company or other clients or to readily dispose of the position. It is understood by the Company that although the availability at acceptable prices of investment may from time to time be limited, it is the policy of the Investment Manager and its affiliates to allocate purchases and sales of such securities in a manner deemed fair and equitable to all clients, including the Company. The Investment Manager may on occasion give advice or take action with respect to accounts of its other clients that differs from the advice given with the respect to or actions taken on behalf of the Company.

Section 9. Term. This Agreement shall continue until the close of business on December 31, 2005, except that either party may terminate the Agreement effective as of the last day of any fiscal quarter by giving the other written notice of termination not less than 90 days prior to the end of such quarter. This Agreement shall automatically be extended for successive one-year periods unless either party hereto gives written notice of termination not less than 90 days prior to the termination date. In the event this Agreement is terminated, the Company shall immediately change its name and cease all use of or reference to the name "First Dallas" or any name closely resembling such name.

Section 10. Notice. All notices shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given if delivered personally, by overnight courier or by facsimile (receipt confirmed) or if mailed by registered mail, postage prepaid, to the following respective addresses until a different address is specified in writing by a party to the other party:

 Subject: Re: FDL

Investments in managed funds or managed portfolios are taking place in FDI, ie. Deerfield, Lehman Brothers account, Libra, Brazos. We look at FDV as a 'venture capital fund' and Donnie/Jim are managing it, making the investment decisions. So at FDI, we show an investment in FDV (carried at cost) as we consider it to be a 'managed' fund. We structured the fees as 2% at the FDI level, which effectively gives them 2% on all investments - akin to a fund of funds manager's fee. We decided to book a 20% performance type fee at the FDV level, as this is the money Jim & Donnie are really 'managing'. I have not seen this document, but John McCafferty would have drafted it, so try him if you want to before Elaine is back. He & I have spoken about it, but not in any detail.

The approximate $80K is right.

FDI books are to be done offshore, FDL and FDV should be kept domestically. I only need to receive information on the investments we hold directly. We are also receiving Brazos information. We need to make sure that Jim knows any further funding for Brazos capital calls needs to go from FDI. I don't need to receive info on Cool Partners, Rocket Logic, 4G etc... (the investments made by FDV). But I do need to receive a portfolio and trial balance for FDV each month, and what FDI's proportionate share of the net assets is (I think it is 100%).

FDI will make additional contributions to FDV as needed. We need to set up a more formal capital call request system. Currently Jim calls me and Donnie confirms it. They should really send me a written request signed off by Jim and Donnie as FDL (like what Brazos does). Since it is all family funds at this time, it is no big deal, but would be good to get in place.

It also provides support to the directors of FDI, that the investment manager FDL is the decision maker for the additional investment in FDV.

Let me know if you need anything else!

ARTICLE II
Capital Contributions

2.1 Capital Contributions. The Partners have contributed capital to the Partnership in the amounts respectively set forth opposite each Partner's name on Schedule A. No Partner shall be required to make additional capital contributions to the Partnership without such Partner's prior written consent. The capital contribution commitments of the Partners (whether now or hereafter made) are solely for the benefit of the Partners, as among themselves, and may not be enforced by any creditor, receiver or trustee of the Partnership or by any other person.

2.2 No Return of Capital Contributions. No Partner is entitled to a withdrawal or return of its capital contributions and each Partner shall look solely to distributions from the Partnership for such purpose.

2.3 No Interest. No Partner shall be entitled to interest on its capital contributions, and any interest actually received by reason of investment of any part of Partnership funds shall be included in the Partnership's property.

ARTICLE III
Rights and Obligations of Partners

3.1 Management. The management, control and direction of the Partnership and its operations, business and affairs shall be vested exclusively in the General Partner, who shall have the right, power and authority, acting solely by itself and without the necessity of approval by any Limited Partner or any other person, to carry out any and all of the purposes of the Partnership and to perform or refrain from performing any and all acts that the General Partner may deem necessary, desirable, appropriate or incidental thereto, including borrowing money or otherwise obtaining financing from any source (including the General Partner or any of its Affiliates, regardless of whether the General Partner or any of its Affiliates may profit therefrom) for Partnership purposes, and to pledge, mortgage, grant security interests in and otherwise encumber all or any part of the assets of the Partnership as security for such borrowings or financing arrangements. No Limited Partner shall participate in the management, control or direction of the Partnership's operations, business or affairs, transact any business for the Partnership, or have the power to act for or on behalf of or to bind the Partnership, such powers being vested solely and exclusively in the General Partner. The General Partner and each of its Affiliates shall be entitled to reimbursement for all reasonable expenses respectively paid or incurred by or for it on behalf of the Partnership. The General Partner shall not be removed, suspended or (except as provided in Section 7.1) replaced without its consent.

3.2 Tax Matters Partner. The General Partner shall be the tax matters partner of the Partnership and, in such capacity, shall exercise all rights conferred, and perform all duties imposed, upon a tax matters partner under Sections 6221 through 6233 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (as amended from time to time, the "Code") and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

3.3 Other Activities. Neither this Agreement nor any principle of law or equity shall preclude or limit, in any respect, the right of any Partner or any Affiliate thereof to engage in or derive profit or compensation from any activities or investments, nor give any other Partner any right to participate or share in such activities or investments or any profit or compensation derived therefrom.

3.4 Consents and Limited Voting Rights. The Limited Partners (whether individually or in combination) shall not be entitled to consent to, vote on or approve any matter for which the action of such Limited Partners is not expressly required by law or this Agreement, or not requested by the General Partner. In the case of any matter for which the action of the Limited Partners is expressly required by law or this Agreement or is requested by the General Partner, such action shall (unless a different percentage is specified by law, this Agreement or the General Partner) be effective against and binding on all Partners and the Partnership if taken with the consent of the General Partner and the consent, vote or approval of the Limited Partners then representing a majority in interest of all Limited Partners.

3.5 Liability of Partners.

(a) General Partner. NEITHER THE GENERAL PARTNER NOR ANY OF ITS OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, MANAGERS, MEMBERS OR PARTNERS NOR ANY AFFILIATE OF ANY OF THE FOREGOING SHALL BE LIABLE, RESPONSIBLE OR ACCOUNTABLE IN DAMAGES OR OTHERWISE TO THE PARTNERSHIP OR ANY OF THE LIMITED PARTNERS FOR ANY ACTION TAKEN OR FAILURE TO ACT (EVEN IF SUCH ACTION OR FAILURE TO ACT CONSTITUTED THE SIMPLE NEGLIGENCE OF THE GENERAL PARTNER OR SUCH OFFICER, DIRECTOR, MANAGER, MEMBER OR PARTNER OR ANY AFFILIATE OF ANY OF THE FOREGOING) ON BEHALF OF THE PARTNERSHIP WITHIN THE SCOPE OF AUTHORITY CONFERRED ON THE GENERAL PARTNER BY THIS AGREEMENT OR BY LAW UNLESS SUCH ACT OR FAILURE TO ACT WAS PERFORMED OR OMITTED IN BAD FAITH OR CONSTITUTED WILLFUL MISCONDUCT OR GROSS NEGLIGENCE.

(b) Limited Partners. No Limited Partner shall be liable for the debts, liabilities, contracts or other obligations of the Partnership except to the extent (i) of any unpaid capital contributions it shall have agreed to make to the Partnership, (ii) of its share of the assets (including undistributed revenues) of the Partnership and (iii) provided in the Act with respect to distributions made to the Limited Partner by the Partnership.

3.6 Indemnification.

(a) The Partnership shall indemnify and hold harmless the General Partner, the Limited Partners, any of their respective officers, directors, stockholders, managers, members, partners, employees and agents, and any Affiliate of any of the foregoing (each individually, an "Indemnitee") in any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitral or investigative, to which an Indemnitee was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party by reason of the fact that it is or was a Partner, an officer, director, stockholder, manager, member, partner, employee or agent of a Partner, or an Affiliate of any of the foregoing to the fullest extent permitted under Article 11 of the Act against any and all losses, claims, demands, liabilities, costs and expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, accountants' fees, judgments, penalties (including excise and similar taxes), fines and amounts paid in settlement, actually incurred by such Indemnitee in connection with such action, suit or proceeding.

(b) All reasonable expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred in defending any proceeding shall be paid by the Partnership in advance of the final disposition of such proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the Indemnitee to repay such amount if it shall ultimately be determined, by a court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise, that the Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified by the Partnership as authorized hereunder and upon receipt of a written affirmation by the Indemnitee of its good faith belief that it has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification under this Agreement and the Act.

(c) Any such indemnification shall be made only out of the assets of the Partnership, and in no event may an Indemnitee subject the Limited Partners or the General Partner to personal liability by reason of these indemnification provisions.

(d) The indemnification provided by this Section 3.6 shall be in addition to any other rights to which those indemnified may be entitled, in any capacity, under any agreement, or vote of the Partners, as a matter of law or otherwise and shall continue as to an Indemnitee who has ceased to serve in such capacity and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, successors, administrators and permitted assigns of the Indemnitee.

(e) The provisions of this Section 3.6 shall survive any termination of this Agreement, are for the sole benefit of the Indemnitees, their heirs, successors, assigns and administrators, and shall not be deemed to create any rights for the benefit of any other persons.

ARTICLE IV
Distributions and Allocations

4.1 Distributions. At such time or times as the General Partner deems appropriate, that portion, if any, of the Partnership assets (including undistributed income) which the General Partner shall deem not needed in respect of the Partnership operations, and available for distribution, may, in the General Partner's sole discretion, be distributed, in cash or in kind, to the Partners in accordance with their sharing ratios, as set forth on Schedule A (the "Sharing Ratios"), at the time of such distribution.

4.2 Allocations. Capital accounts will be maintained for each Partner in accordance with Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b). The capital account of each Partner will be increased by the amount of each contribution by such Partner to the capital of the Partnership, decreased by the amount of each distribution to such Partner by the Partnership and increased or decreased as appropriate by the amount of each item of income, gain, loss, deduction or expense of the Partnership allocated to such Partner. For purposes of maintaining such capital accounts, except as provided in this Section 4.2, all items of income, gain, loss, deduction and expense of the Partnership will be allocated to the Partners in proportion to their Sharing Ratios, provided that, in the event of the admission of a new Partner pursuant to Section 5.1 hereof, the capital accounts of the Partners shall be adjusted to reflect the then current values of Partnership property and shall thereafter be maintained in accordance with the principles of Treasury Regulation Section 1.701-1(b)(2)(iv)(f). It is the intention of the Partners that allocations hereunder comply with the requirements of Section 704(b) of the Code and the Treasury Regulations thereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, therefore, all allocations required by such Treasury Regulations (including allocations related to nonrecourse debt, minimum gain and chargebacks thereof and qualified income offsets) will be made as required thereby. Allocations for income tax purposes shall be made in accordance with the corresponding allocations made for purposes of maintaining capital accounts, except that if any Partnership property has an income tax basis which differs from its fair market value at the time of contribution to the Partnership, solely for income tax purposes, allocations will be made so as to take into account such difference as required by Section 704(c) of the Code using any permissible method selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

ARTICLE V
Admissions, Transfers and Withdrawals

5.1 Admission of New Partners. New Partners may be admitted to the Partnership only with the written consent of, and upon such terms and conditions as approved by, the General Partner, including the execution and delivery by such person of such instruments as the General Partner may deem necessary or desirable to confirm the agreement of such person to be bound by all the terms and provisions of this Agreement. Substituted Partners shall not be deemed new Partners for purposes of this Section 5.1.

5.2 Transfer by the General Partner. The General Partner shall not sell, assign or otherwise dispose of all or any portion of its interest in the Partnership without the consent or vote of a majority in interest of all Limited Partners; provided, however, that the General Partner may transfer all or any portion of its interest in the Partnership to any of the General Partner's Affiliates without the consent or vote of the Limited Partners.

5.3 Transfer by a Limited Partner.

(a) A Limited Partner shall not sell, assign or otherwise dispose of all or any portion of such Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership without the prior written consent of the General Partner.

(b) In the event of the death, incompetence, insolvency, bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or termination of any Limited Partner:

(i) the Partnership shall not be dissolved or terminated, and the remaining Partners shall continue the Partnership and its operations, business and affairs until the dissolution thereof as provided in Section 7.1;

(ii) such affected Limited Partner shall thereupon cease to be a Partner for all purposes of this Agreement and, except as provided in Section 5.4, no officer, partner, beneficiary, creditor, trustee, receiver, fiduciary or other legal representative and no estate or other successor in interest of such Limited Partner (whether by operation of law or otherwise) shall become or be deemed to become a Limited Partner for any purpose under this Agreement;

(iii) the Partnership interest of such affected Limited Partner shall not be subject to withdrawal or redemption in whole or in part prior to the dissolution, liquidation and termination of the Partnership;

(iv) the estate or other successor in interest of such affected Limited Partner shall be deemed a transferee of, and shall be subject to all of the obligations in respect of, the Partnership interest of such affected Limited Partner as of the date of death, incompetence, insolvency, bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or termination, except to the extent the General Partner releases such estate or successor from such obligations; and

(v) any legal representative or successor in interest having lawful ownership of the assigned Partnership interest of such affected Limited Partner shall have the right to receive notices, reports and distributions, if any, to the same extent as would have been available to such affected Limited Partner.

5.4 Substituted Partners. A transferee of any general or limited partnership interest in the Partnership may become a substituted Limited Partner, as to the interest in the Partnership transferred, in place of the transferor only: (a) if such transfer was permitted under this Agreement or occurred by operation of law; (b) upon the written consent of the General Partner to such substitution; and (c) upon the execution and delivery by such transferee of such instruments as the General Partner may deem necessary or desirable to confirm the agreement of such transferee to be bound by all the terms and provisions of this Agreement. A transferee of any general or limited partnership interest in the Partnership may become a substituted General Partner, as to the interest in the Partnership transferred, in place of the transferor only: (a) if such transfer was permitted under this Agreement or occurred by operation of law; (b) upon the consent or vote of a majority in interest of all Limited Partners to such substitution; provided, however, that any Affiliate of the General Partner may become a substituted General Partner without the consent or vote of the Limited Partners; and (c) upon the execution and delivery by such transferee of such instruments necessary to confirm the agreement of such transferee to be bound by all the terms and provisions of this Agreement. Unless a transferee of any Partnership interest of a Partner becomes a substituted General Partner or substituted Limited Partner in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, such transferee shall not be entitled to any of the rights granted to a Partner hereunder other than the right to receive all or part of the share of the income, gains, losses, deductions, expenses, credits, distributions or returns of capital to which its transferor would otherwise be entitled in respect of the Partnership interest so transferred.

5.5 Withdrawal of Partners. Except as permitted by Section 5.3(b)(iv) or by this Section 5.5, no Partner shall have any right to withdraw or resign from the Partnership, unless such Partner transfers its entire interest in the Partnership to one or more transferees, all of whom have been admitted as substituted General or Limited Partners (as the case may be) in accordance with Section 5.4. Any withdrawal of the General Partner in compliance with this Section 5.5 shall expressly not be deemed a breach of this Agreement.

ARTICLE VI
Amendments and Waivers

6.1 Without Limited Partner Consent. The General Partner may, without the consent, vote or approval of any Limited Partner, amend or waive any provision of this Agreement (a) relating to the transfer of an interest in the Partnership or the admission or withdrawal of one or more new or substituted General or Limited Partners in accordance with this Agreement or (b) that merely corrects a manifest error in this Agreement.

6.2 With Majority Limited Partner Consent. Except as expressly provided in Section 6.1 or 6.3, this Agreement may be modified or amended, or any provision hereof waived, only with the written consent of the General Partner and the consent or vote of Limited Partners then representing a majority in interest of all Limited Partners.

6.3 Certain Amendments. No amendment to or waiver of any provision of this Agreement shall be effective against a given Partner without the consent or vote of such Partner if such amendment or waiver would (a) cause the Partnership to fail to be treated as a limited partnership under the Act or cause a Limited Partner to become liable as a general partner of the Partnership, (b) change Section 2.1 to increase a Partner's obligations to contribute to the capital of the Partnership, (c) change Section 3.6 to affect adversely any Partner's rights to indemnification or (d) change Section 4.1 or 4.2 to affect adversely the participation of such Partner in the income, gains, losses, deductions, expenses, credits, capital or distributions of the Partnership.

ARTICLE VII
Dissolution and Termination

7.1 Dissolution. The Partnership shall be dissolved upon the first to occur of the following events:

- (a) the election of the General Partner to dissolve the Partnership at any time with the consent of Limited Partners then representing a majority in interest of all Limited Partners;

(b) the election of the General Partner to dissolve the Partnership at any time if all or substantially all of the Partnership's assets shall have been sold or disposed of or shall consist of cash;

(c) the occurrence of an event of withdrawal from the Partnership by the General Partner as provided for in Section 4.02(a) of the Act; or

(d) the occurrence of any other event which under the Act causes the dissolution of a limited partnership.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 7.1, the Partnership shall not be dissolved upon the occurrence of an event specified in Section 7.1(c) if within 90 days after such occurrence a majority in interest of the remaining Partners agree in writing to continue the business of the Partnership and to the appointment, effective as of the date of withdrawal, of a successor general partner.

7.2 Liquidation and Distribution. In the event of the dissolution of the Partnership, the General Partner (or in the event the dissolution is caused by the occurrence of an event of withdrawal as contemplated by Section 7.1(c) or any other withdrawal by the General Partner, such person as a majority in interest of all Limited Partners shall designate in writing) shall act as liquidating trustee and, in an orderly manner, shall wind up the affairs (including the sale of any assets deemed appropriate by the liquidating trustee) of the Partnership and shall apply the assets of the Partnership in the following order:

(a) to pay for all debts and liabilities of the Partnership owed to creditors other than Partners (and if any liability is contingent, or uncertain in amount, a reserve equal to the maximum amount to which the Partnership could reasonably be held liable may be established);

(b) to pay for all debts, if any, of the Partnership to the Partners; and

(c) thereafter, all remaining cash or other property, if any, of the Partnership shall be distributed to the Partners in accordance with Section 4.1, including any reserved cash or property released because in the judgment of the liquidating trustee the need for such reserve has ended.

7.3 No Negative Capital Account Obligation. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary, in no event shall any Partner who has a negative capital account upon final distribution of all cash and other property of the Partnership be required to restore such negative account to zero.

7.4 Merger. The Partnership may, with the written consent of the General Partner and the consent or vote of Limited Partners then representing a majority in interest of all Limited Partners, adopt a plan of merger and engage in any merger permitted by applicable law.

ARTICLE VIII Miscellaneous

8.1 Waiver of Partition. Each Partner hereby irrevocably waives any and all rights that it may have to maintain an action for partition of any of the Partnership's property.

8.2 Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement among the Partners in respect of the subject matter hereof and supersedes any prior agreement or understanding among them in respect of such subject matter.

8.3 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement, or the application of such provision to any person or circumstance, shall be held invalid under the applicable law of any jurisdiction, the remainder of this Agreement or the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances or in other jurisdictions shall not be affected thereby. Also, if any provision of this Agreement is invalid or unenforceable under any applicable law, then such provision shall be deemed inoperative to the extent that it may conflict therewith and shall be deemed modified to conform with such law. Any provision hereof that may prove invalid or unenforceable under any law shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision hereof.

8.4 Notices. All notices, requests, demands, consents, votes, approvals, waivers and other communications hereunder shall be effective only if in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given if hand delivered, mailed (first class mail, postage prepaid) or sent by facsimile or overnight courier if to the Partners, at the addresses or facsimile numbers set forth on Schedule A, and if to the Partnership, at the address or facsimile number of the General Partner set forth on Schedule A, or to such other address or facsimile number as the Partnership or any Partner shall have last designated by notice to the Partnership and all other parties hereto in accordance with this Section 8.4. Notices sent by hand delivery shall be deemed to have been given when received; notices mailed in accordance with the foregoing shall be deemed to have been given three days following the date so mailed; notices sent by facsimile shall be deemed to have been given when electronically confirmed; and notices sent by overnight courier shall be deemed to have been given on the next business day following the date so sent.

8.5 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Texas (without regard to principles of conflicts of laws).

8.6 Successors and Assigns. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this Agreement, this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Partners and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors and permitted assigns.

8.7 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, all of which shall constitute one and the same instrument.

8.8 Use of Terms. Whenever in this Agreement the singular number is used, the same shall include the plural where appropriate (and vice versa), and words of any gender (masculine, feminine or neuter) shall include each other gender where appropriate. As used in this Agreement, the following words or phrases shall have the meanings indicated: (a) "majority in interest of all Limited Partners" means Limited Partners whose sharing ratios represent at least a majority of the sharing ratios of all Limited Partners; (b) "person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust, unincorporated association, or other form of business or legal entity or governmental entity; and (c) "Affiliate" means, when used with respect to any person, a person controlling, controlled by or under common control with such other person or any relation of such person or any Affiliate of such other person (and as used in this definition of "Affiliate", the term "control" means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise, and the term "relation" means, with respect to any individual, such individual's spouse and the parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, children and grandchildren of such individual or of such individual's spouse). Whenever any provision of this Agreement requires or permits the General Partner to take or omit to take any action, or make or omit to make any decision, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, such provision shall be interpreted to authorize an action taken or omitted, or a decision made or omitted, by the General Partner acting alone and in good faith.

8.9 Power of Attorney. By execution of this Agreement, each Limited Partner hereby makes, constitutes and appoints the General Partner, with full power of substitution and resubstitution in the General Partner (in its sole discretion), such Limited Partner's true and lawful attorney-in-fact ("Attorney") for and in such Limited Partner's name, place and stead and for its use and benefit, to execute, deliver or record any agreement, certificate, report, consent, instrument, filing or writing made by or relating to the Partnership (including any amendment to or modification or restatement of this Agreement authorized pursuant to Article VI or reflecting merely clerical changes) that the Attorney deems necessary, desirable or appropriate to effectuate the business purposes of, or the dissolution, liquidation or termination of, the Partnership pursuant to applicable law or the respective terms of this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned Partners have executed this Agreement effective as of the date first written above.

5. Purpose: The principal purpose and business of the Company shall be to engage in any lawful act or activity for which a limited liability company may be organized under the Act, including, without limitation, acting as general partner of First Dallas, Ltd., and such other activities as may be necessary, advisable, convenient or appropriate to promote or conduct the business of the Company as set forth herein.

6. Member: The Member shall be shown as such on the books and records of the Company. The Member may transfer all but not less than all of his interest in the Company to another person or entity who shall thereafter be shown as the Member on the books and records of the Company. The Member may not transfer less than all of such Member's interest in the Company (and no purported transfer of less than all of a Member's interest in the Company shall vest any interest in the Company in the transferee) unless the resulting holders of all interests in the Company shall have adopted amendments to these Regulations providing for the ownership of the Company by multiple members.

7. Manager:

(a) The Company shall have a single manager within the meaning of Article 2.12 of the Act. Wyly shall be the Manager of the Company until his death, resignation or removal by the Member. If Wyly shall cease to be the Manager, the Member shall appoint a replacement Manager.

(b) Except as specifically provided herein, (i) the business and affairs of the Company shall be managed by the Manager, and the Manager shall have the exclusive power and authority, on behalf of the Company, to take any action of any kind not inconsistent with these Regulations or the Act and to do anything and everything it deems necessary or appropriate to carry on the business of the Company and (ii) unless otherwise set forth herein, no Member (other than the Manager) shall have the authority to execute documents and take other actions on behalf of the Company and thereby bind the Company without the consent of the Manager.

(c) The Manager may appoint officers and agents of the Company for the purpose of managing the day to day operations of the Company's business, and the actions of any officer or agent taken in accordance with the authorization of the Manager shall bind the Company.

8. Tax Matters: The undersigned intends for the Company to be treated as an entity that is disregarded for federal income tax purposes pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 301.7701-3, so long as it has one member. Neither the Manager nor any officer or agent of the Company shall take any action to cause the Company to be treated as a corporation for federal or state income tax purposes without the written consent of the Member. The Member will report all items of income, gain, loss, expense, deduction and credit of the Company on the Member's federal and, to the extent appropriate, state tax returns. The Manager (or, if required, the Member) will file any tax returns which are required to be filed by the Company.

9. Capital Contributions and Distributions:

(a) The Member has made or will make an initial contribution to the capital of the Company in the amount of $100 and has made or will make such other capital contributions as he deems appropriate.

(b) After providing for the satisfaction of all the current debts and obligations of the Company and after the establishment of appropriate and reasonable reserves, the Company shall distribute to the Member the Company's net cash flow available for distribution, as determined by the Manager, in his sole and absolute discretion, to the Member.

10. Dissolution and Termination:

(a) The Company shall be dissolved and its business wound up upon the written consent of the Member. The Company shall not be dissolved upon the death, retirement, resignation, expulsion, bankruptcy or dissolution of the Member or the occurrence of any other event which terminates the continued membership of the Member in the Company.

(b) Upon dissolution, the Company's business shall be liquidated in an orderly manner. The Manager shall act as the liquidator and is authorized to sell, distribute, exchange or otherwise dispose of the assets of the Company in accordance with the Act and in any reasonable manner that the liquidator shall determine to be in the best interest of the Member.

11. Indemnification: No Member or Manager (the "Indemnitees") shall be liable to the Company or to any other Indemnitee for monetary damages for any losses, claims, damages or liabilities (collectively, "Losses") arising from any act or omission performed or omitted by him arising out of or in connection with these Regulations or the Company's business or affairs, SPECIFICALLY INCLUDING ANY SUCH LOSS THAT IS ATTRIBUTABLE, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, TO THE NEGLIGENCE OF SUCH INDEMNITEE, but specifically excluding any such Loss primarily attributable to such Indemnitee's gross negligence, malfeasance, fraud or willful misconduct. The Company shall, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, indemnify, defend and hold harmless each Indemnitee against any Losses to which such Indemnitee may become subject in connection with any matter arising out of or in connection with these Regulations or the Company's business or affairs, SPECIFICALLY INCLUDING ANY SUCH LOSS THAT IS ATTRIBUTABLE, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, TO THE NEGLIGENCE OF SUCH INDEMNITEE, but specifically excluding any such Loss primarily attributable to such Indemnitee's gross negligence, malfeasance, fraud or willful misconduct. If any Indemnitee becomes involved in any capacity in any action, proceeding or investigation in connection with any matter arising out of or in connection with these Regulations or the Company's business or affairs, the Company shall reimburse such Indemnitee for its reasonable legal and other reasonable out-of-pocket expenses (including the cost of any investigation and preparation) as they are incurred in connection therewith, provided that such Indemnitee shall promptly repay to the Company the amount of any such reimbursed expenses paid to it if it shall ultimately be determined that such Indemnitee was not entitled to be indemnified by the Company in connection with such action, proceeding or investigation. If for any reason (other than the gross negligence, malfeasance, fraud or willful misconduct of such Indemnitee) the foregoing indemnification is unavailable to such Indemnitee, or insufficient to hold it harmless, then the Company shall contribute to the amount paid or payable by such Indemnitee as a result of such Loss or expense in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative benefits received by the Company on the one hand and such Indemnitee on the other hand or, if such allocation is not permitted by applicable law, to reflect not only the relative benefits referred to above but also any other relevant equitable considerations.

12. Liability of the Members: Except as otherwise expressly provided in the Act, the debts, obligations and liabilities of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, shall be solely the debts, obligations and liabilities of the Company, and the Member shall not be obligated personally for any such debt, obligation or liability of the Company solely by reason of being the Member.

13. Miscellaneous:

(a) Notices: All notices, demands, consents, approvals, requests or other communications related to these Regulations (collectively, "Notices") shall be in writing and shall be given by personal delivery, facsimile transmission or a nationally recognized overnight courier service, fees prepaid if to the Member, at the address recorded in the Company's books and records and, if to the Company or the Manager, at the address set forth in Section 2(b) hereof. The Member may designate another addressee (and/or change its address) for Notices hereunder by a Notice given pursuant to this Section 13(a). A Notice sent in compliance with the provisions of this Section 13(a) shall be deemed given on the date of receipt.

(b) Successors and Assigns: These Regulations shall be binding upon the Company, the Manager and the Member and their respective executors, administrators, legal representatives, heirs, successors and assigns, and shall inure to the benefit of such persons and, except as otherwise provided herein, their respective executors, administrators, legal representatives, heirs, successors and assigns.

(c) Severability: In case any one or more of the provisions contained in these Regulations or any application thereof shall be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions contained herein and other application thereof shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

(d) Amendments: These Regulations may be amended only by a written instrument executed by the Member or the holders of all of the membership interests in the Company.

(e) Governing Law: These Regulations shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Texas (without regard to principles of conflicts of laws).

(f) Creditors Not Benefited: Nothing contained in these Regulations is intended or shall be deemed to benefit any creditor of the Company, and no creditor of the Company shall be entitled to require the Company or the Member to solicit or accept any capital contribution for the Company or to enforce any right which the Company may have against the Member under these Regulations.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned has executed these Regulations as of the date set forth in the introductory paragraph hereof.

ARTICLE II
Capital Contributions

2.1 Capital Contributions. The Partners have contributed capital to the Partnership in the amounts respectively set forth opposite each Partner's name in the column labeled Capital Contribution on Schedule A ("Capital Contribution"). The Partners may be required, from time to time, when called by the General Partner, to make additional capital contributions to the Partnership in the amounts respectively set forth opposite each Partner's name in the column labeled Maximum Capital Contribution on Schedule A ("Maximum Capital Contribution"). Except as set forth in Section 3.1(c) below, no Partner shall be required to make additional capital contributions to the Partnership above the Maximum Capital Contribution without such Partner's prior written consent. The capital contribution commitments of the Partners (whether now or hereafter made) are solely for the benefit of the Partners, as among themselves, and may not be enforced by any creditor, receiver or trustee of the Partnership or by any other person.

2.2 No Return of Capital Contributions. No Partner is entitled to a withdrawal or return of its capital contributions and each Partner shall look solely to distributions from the Partnership for such purpose.

2.3 No Interest. No Partner shall be entitled to interest on its capital contributions, and any interest actually received by reason of investment of any part of Partnership funds shall be included in the Partnership's property.

ARTICLE III
Rights and Obligations of Partners

3.1 Management. The management, control and direction of the Partnership and its operations, business and affairs shall be vested exclusively in the General Partner, who shall have the right, power and authority, acting solely by itself and without the necessity of approval by any Limited Partner or any other person, to carry out any and all of the purposes of the Partnership and to perform or refrain from performing any and all acts that the General Partner may deem necessary, desirable, appropriate or incidental thereto, including borrowing money or otherwise obtaining financing from any source (including the General Partner or any of its Affiliates, regardless of whether the General Partner or any of its Affiliates may profit therefrom) for Partnership purposes, and to pledge, mortgage, grant security interests in and otherwise encumber all or any part of the assets of the Partnership as security for such borrowings or financing arrangements. No Limited Partner shall participate in the management, control or direction of the Partnership's operations, business or affairs, transact any business for the Partnership, or have the power to act for or on behalf of or to bind the Partnership, such powers being vested solely and exclusively in the General Partner. The General Partner and each of its Affiliates shall be entitled to reimbursement for all reasonable expenses respectively paid or incurred by or for it on behalf of the Partnership. The General Partner shall not be removed, suspended or (except as provided in Section 7.1) replaced without its consent.

3.2 Tax Matters Partner. The General Partner shall be the tax matters partner of the Partnership and, in such capacity, shall exercise all rights conferred, and perform all duties imposed, upon a tax matters partner under Sections 6221 through 6233 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (as amended from time to time, the "Code") and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

3.3 Other Activities. Neither this Agreement nor any principle of law or equity shall preclude or limit, in any respect, the right of any Partner or any Affiliate thereof to engage in or derive profit or compensation from any activities or investments, nor give any other Partner any right to participate or share in such activities or investments or any profit or compensation derived therefrom.

3.4 Consents and Limited Voting Rights. The Limited Partners (whether individually or in combination) shall not be entitled to consent to, vote on or approve any matter for which the action of such Limited Partners is not expressly required by law or this Agreement, or not requested by the General Partner. In the case of any matter for which the action of the Limited Partners is expressly required by law or this Agreement or is requested by the General Partner, such action shall (unless a different percentage is specified by law, this Agreement or the General Partner) be effective against and binding on all Partners and the Partnership if taken with the consent of the General Partner and the consent, vote or approval of the Limited Partners then representing a majority in interest of all Limited Partners.

3.5 Liability of Partners.

(a) General Partner. NEITHER THE GENERAL PARTNER NOR ANY OF ITS OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, MANAGERS, MEMBERS OR PARTNERS NOR ANY AFFILIATE OF ANY OF THE FOREGOING SHALL BE LIABLE, RESPONSIBLE OR ACCOUNTABLE IN DAMAGES OR OTHERWISE TO THE PARTNERSHIP OR ANY OF THE LIMITED PARTNERS FOR ANY ACTION TAKEN OR FAILURE TO ACT (EVEN IF SUCH ACTION OR FAILURE TO ACT CONSTITUTED THE SIMPLE NEGLIGENCE OF THE GENERAL PARTNER OR SUCH OFFICER, DIRECTOR, MANAGER, MEMBER OR PARTNER OR ANY AFFILIATE OF ANY OF THE FOREGOING) ON BEHALF OF THE PARTNERSHIP WITHIN THE SCOPE OF AUTHORITY CONFERRED ON THE GENERAL PARTNER BY THIS AGREEMENT OR BY LAW UNLESS SUCH ACT OR FAILURE TO ACT WAS PERFORMED OR OMITTED IN BAD FAITH OR CONSTITUTED WILLFUL MISCONDUCT OR GROSS NEGLIGENCE.

(b) Limited Partners. No Limited Partner shall be liable for the debts, liabilities, contracts or other obligations of the Partnership except to the extent (i) of any unpaid capital contributions it shall have agreed to make to the Partnership, (ii) of its share of the assets (including undistributed revenues) of the Partnership and (iii) provided in the Act with respect to distributions made to the Limited Partner by the Partnership.

3.6 Indemnification.

(a) The Partnership shall indemnify and hold harmless the General Partner, the Limited Partners, any of their respective officers, directors, stockholders, managers, members, partners, employees and agents, and any Affiliate of any of the foregoing (each individually, an "Indemnitee") in any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitral or investigative, to which an Indemnitee was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party by reason of the fact that it is or was a Partner, an officer, director, stockholder, manager, member, partner, employee or agent of a Partner, or an Affiliate of any of the foregoing to the fullest extent permitted under Article 11 of the Act against any and all losses, claims, demands, liabilities, costs and expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, accountants' fees, judgments, penalties (including excise and similar taxes), fines and amounts paid in settlement, actually incurred by such Indemnitee in connection with such action, suit or proceeding.

(b) All reasonable expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred in defending any proceeding shall be paid by the Partnership in advance of the final disposition of such proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the Indemnitee to repay such amount if it shall ultimately be determined, by a court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise, that the Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified by the Partnership as authorized hereunder and upon receipt of a written affirmation by the Indemnitee of its good faith belief that it has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification under this Agreement and the Act.

(c) Any such indemnification shall be made only out of the assets of the Partnership, and in no event may an Indemnitee subject the Limited Partners or the General Partner to personal liability by reason of these indemnification provisions.

(d) The indemnification provided by this Section 3.6 shall be in addition to any other rights to which those indemnified may be entitled, in any capacity, under any agreement, or vote of the Partners, as a matter of law or otherwise and shall continue as to an Indemnitee who has ceased to serve in such capacity and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, successors, administrators and permitted assigns of the Indemnitee.

(e) The provisions of this Section 3.6 shall survive any termination of this Agreement, are for the sole benefit of the Indemnitees, their heirs, successors, assigns and administrators, and shall not be deemed to create any rights for the benefit of any other persons.

ARTICLE IV
Distributions and Allocations

4.1 Distributions.

(a) At such time or times as the General Partner deems appropriate, that portion, if any, of the Partnership assets (including undistributed income) which the General Partner shall deem not needed in respect of the Partnership operations, and available for distribution, may, in the General Partner's sole discretion, be distributed, in cash or in kind, to the Partners in the following order and priority:

(i) first, pro rata to each Partner until such time as each Partner shall have received aggregate distributions equal to the amount of total capital contributions made to the Partnership; and

(ii) thereafter, 80% to the Limited Partner and 20% to the General Partner.

4.2 Capital Accounts. Capital accounts will be maintained for each Partner in accordance with Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b). The capital account of each Partner will be increased by the amount of each contribution by such Partner to the capital of the Partnership, decreased by the amount of each distribution to such Partner by the Partnership and increased or decreased as appropriate by the amount of each item of income, gain, loss, deduction or expense of the Partnership allocated to such Partner. In the event of the admission of a new Partner pursuant to Section 5.1 hereof, the capital accounts of the Partners shall be adjusted to reflect the then current values of Partnership property and shall thereafter be maintained in accordance with the principles of Treasury Regulation Section 1.701-1(b)(2)(iv)(f).

4.3 Allocations. For purposes of maintaining such capital accounts, except as provided in this Section 4.3, all items of income, gain, loss, deduction and expense of the Partnership will be allocated 80% to the Limited Partner and 20% to the General Partner; provided that items of loss, deduction and expense will not be allocated to any Partner to the extent it would cause such Partner to have a deficit in its capital account greater than the amount such Partner is required to restore (or is treated as obligated to restore under relevant Treasury Regulations), but instead will be allocated to the other Partners (with compensating allocations to be made in future years when possible). It is the intention of the Partners that allocations hereunder comply with the requirements of Section 704(b) of the Code and the Treasury Regulations thereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, therefore, all allocations required by such Treasury Regulations (including allocations related to nonrecourse debt, minimum gain and chargebacks thereof and qualified income offsets) will be made as required thereby. Allocations for income tax purposes shall be made in accordance with the corresponding allocations made for purposes of maintaining capital accounts, except that if any Partnership property has an income tax basis which differs from its fair market value at the time of contribution to the Partnership, solely for income tax purposes, allocations will be made so as to take into account such difference as required by Section 704(c) of the Code using any permissible method selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

ARTICLE V
Admissions, Transfers and Withdrawals

5.1 Admission of New Partners. New Partners may be admitted to the Partnership only with the written consent of, and upon such terms and conditions as approved by, the General Partner, including the execution and delivery by such person of such instruments as the General Partner may deem necessary or desirable to confirm the agreement of such person to be bound by all the terms and provisions of this Agreement. Substituted Partners shall not be deemed new Partners for purposes of this Section 5.1.

5.2 Transfer by the General Partner. The General Partner shall not sell, assign or otherwise dispose of all or any portion of its interest in the Partnership without the consent or vote of a majority in interest of all Limited Partners; provided, however, that the General Partner may transfer all or any portion of its interest in the Partnership to any of the General Partner's Affiliates without the consent or vote of the Limited Partners.

5.3 Transfer by a Limited Partner.

(a) A Limited Partner shall not sell, assign or otherwise dispose of all or any portion of such Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership without the prior written consent of the General Partner.

(b) In the event of the death, incompetence, insolvency, bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or termination of any Limited Partner:

(i) the Partnership shall not be dissolved or terminated, and the remaining Partners shall continue the Partnership and its operations, business and affairs until the dissolution thereof as provided in Section 7.1;

(ii) such affected Limited Partner shall thereupon cease to be a Partner for all purposes of this Agreement and, except as provided in Section 5.4, no officer, partner, beneficiary, creditor, trustee, receiver, fiduciary or other legal representative and no estate or other successor in interest of such Limited Partner (whether by operation of law or otherwise) shall become or be deemed to become a Limited Partner for any purpose under this Agreement;

(iii) the Partnership interest of such affected Limited Partner shall not be subject to withdrawal or redemption in whole or in part prior to the dissolution, liquidation and termination of the Partnership;

(iv) the estate or other successor in interest of such affected Limited Partner shall be deemed a transferee of, and shall be subject to all of the obligations in respect of, the Partnership interest of such affected Limited Partner as of the date of death, incompetence, insolvency, bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or termination, except to the extent the General Partner releases such estate or successor from such obligations; and

(v) any legal representative or successor in interest having lawful ownership of the assigned Partnership interest of such affected Limited Partner shall have the right to receive notices, reports and distributions, if any, to the same extent as would have been available to such affected Limited Partner.

5.4 Substituted Partners. A transferee of any general or limited partnership interest in the Partnership may become a substituted Limited Partner, as to the interest in the Partnership transferred, in place of the transferor only: (a) if such transfer was permitted under this Agreement or occurred by operation of law; (b) upon the written consent of the General Partner to such substitution; and (c) upon the execution and delivery by such transferee of such instruments as the General Partner may deem necessary or desirable to confirm the agreement of such transferee to be bound by all the terms and provisions of this Agreement. A transferee of any general or limited partnership interest in the Partnership may become a substituted General Partner, as to the interest in the Partnership transferred, in place of the transferor only: (a) if such transfer was permitted under this Agreement or occurred by operation of law; (b) upon the consent or vote of a majority in interest of all Limited Partners to such substitution; provided, however, that any Affiliate of the General Partner may become a substituted General Partner without the consent or vote of the Limited Partners; and (c) upon the execution and delivery by such transferee of such instruments necessary to confirm the agreement of such transferee to be bound by all the terms and provisions of this Agreement. Unless a transferee of any Partnership interest of a Partner becomes a substituted General Partner or substituted Limited Partner in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, such transferee shall not be entitled to any of the rights granted to a Partner hereunder other than the right to receive all or part of the share of the income, gains, losses, deductions, expenses, credits, distributions or returns of capital to which its transferor would otherwise be entitled in respect of the Partnership interest so transferred.

5.5 Withdrawal of Partners. Except as permitted by Section 5.3(b)(iv) or by this Section 5.5, no Partner shall have any right to withdraw or resign from the Partnership, unless such Partner transfers its entire interest in the Partnership to one or more transferees, all of whom have been admitted as substituted General or Limited Partners (as the case may be) in accordance with Section 5.4. Any withdrawal of the General Partner in compliance with this Section 5.5 shall expressly not be deemed a breach of this Agreement.

ARTICLE VI Amendments and Waivers

6.1 Without Limited Partner Consent. The General Partner may, without the consent, vote or approval of any Limited Partner, amend or waive any provision of this Agreement (a) relating to the transfer of an interest in the Partnership or the admission or withdrawal of one or more new or substituted General or Limited Partners in accordance with this Agreement or (b) that merely corrects a manifest error in this Agreement.

6.2 With Majority Limited Partner Consent. Except as expressly provided in Section 6.1 or 6.3, this Agreement may be modified or amended, or any provision hereof waived, only with the written consent of the General Partner and the consent or vote of Limited Partners then representing a majority in interest of all Limited Partners.

6.3 Certain Amendments. No amendment to or waiver of any provision of this Agreement shall be effective against a given Partner without the consent or vote of such Partner if such amendment or waiver would (a) cause the Partnership to fail to be treated as a limited partnership under the Act or cause a Limited Partner to become liable as a general partner of the Partnership, (b) change Section 2.1 to increase a Partner's obligations to contribute to the capital of the Partnership, (c) change Section 3.6 to affect adversely any Partner's rights to indemnification or (d) change Section 4.1 or 4.2 to affect adversely the participation of such Partner in the income, gains, losses, deductions, expenses, credits, capital or distributions of the Partnership.

ARTICLE VII
Dissolution and Termination

7.1 Dissolution. The Partnership shall be dissolved upon the first to occur of the following events:

- (a) the election of the General Partner to dissolve the Partnership at any time with the consent of Limited Partners then representing a majority in interest of all Limited Partners;
- (b) the election of the General Partner to dissolve the Partnership at any time if all or substantially all of the Partnership's assets shall have been sold or disposed of or shall consist of cash;
- (c) the occurrence of an event of withdrawal from the Partnership by the General Partner as provided for in Section 4.02(a) of the Act; or
- (d) the occurrence of any other event which under the Act causes the dissolution of a limited partnership.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 7.1, the Partnership shall not be dissolved upon the occurrence of an event specified in Section 7.1(c) if within 90 days after such occurrence a majority in interest of the remaining Partners agree in writing to continue the business of the Partnership and to the appointment, effective as of the date of withdrawal, of a successor general partner.

7.2 Liquidation and Distribution. In the event of the dissolution of the Partnership, the General Partner (or in the event the dissolution is caused by the occurrence of an event of withdrawal as contemplated by Section 7.1(c) or any other withdrawal by the General Partner, such person as a majority in interest of all Limited Partners shall designate in writing) shall act as liquidating trustee and, in an orderly manner, shall wind up the affairs (including the sale of any assets deemed appropriate by the liquidating trustee) of the Partnership and shall apply the assets of the Partnership in the following order:

- (a) to pay for all debts and liabilities of the Partnership owed to creditors other than Partners (and if any liability is contingent, or uncertain in amount, a reserve equal to the maximum amount to which the Partnership could reasonably be held liable may be established);
- (b) to pay for all debts, if any, of the Partnership to the Partners; and
- (c) thereafter, all remaining cash or other property, if any, of the Partnership shall be distributed to the Partners in accordance with Section 4.1, including any reserved cash or property released because in the judgment of the liquidating trustee the need for such reserve has ended.

7.3 No Negative Capital Account Obligation. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary, in no event shall any Partner who has a negative capital account upon final distribution of all cash and other property of the Partnership be required to restore such negative account to zero.

7.4 Merger. The Partnership may, with the written consent of the General Partner and the consent or vote of Limited Partners then representing a majority in interest of all Limited Partners, adopt a plan of merger and engage in any merger permitted by applicable law.

ARTICLE VIII
Miscellaneous

 Subject: FDL Items

Keeley,

These are the items that we discussed which need to be completed for First Dallas, Ltd

1. Make sure that FDL's financials are up to date.
 - a. First Dallas Ventures Investments (2 rounds of Coolink, and this week RLI)
 - b. and First Dallas Limited
 - We will be reporting to CJW on standing as of the 2nd Qtr. '00
2. We need a letter of engagement between First Dallas, International and First Dallas, Ltd to act as the Investment Manager for the following investments:
 - a. Winston Thayer
 - b. Trans-Europe Buyout Fund (not yet invested)
 - c. Libra
 - d. Brazos
 - e. Lehman IPO Fund
 - f. Deerfield
 - g. Lyco
3. The Lyco investment has been previously made by Aspen Flyers (I think), we need to refund Aspen Flyers for this investment and put it into First Dallas International. This may not be logistically possible if we have put this into the taxes of Aspen Flyers already (right?).
4. The letter of engagement will call for a annual 1% management fee, paid quarterly (based upon total assets under management). The fee should be billed for the upcoming quarter. CJW would like for this to have started on April 1. So we need to invoice for the last quarter and invoice for the upcoming quarter
5. First Dallas Ventures made a second investment into Coolink for $1.25mm. Because of the speed of the transaction funds could not be produced from First Dallas International in time. So, I believe that money was borrowed from Stargate. These funds will need to be paid back
6. Lastly, we should be making a $750,000.00 investment into a company called RocketLogix today or tomorrow. I asked that First Dallas International make a $1mm transfer into First Dallas Ventures, we should make sure that this actually happened

Please get back to Donnie and myself on these issues as they happen so that we are all on the same page. If you have any questions just give me a call.

Thanks,

Memo

To: Shari Robertson, Mike French
 Cc: Keeley Hennington, Donnie Miller
 Re: Charles Wyly Family meetings – week of 10/09/00
 Date: October 16, 2000
 From: Michelle Boucher

Keeley & I met with Charles & Donnie on 10/11/00, here is an update on recent developments:

First Dallas International:

Charles has a planned investment in a new Peter Ackerman venture called "Fresh Direct". It is a web based consolidator of fresh foods. You can order off their website and they will ship anywhere in the NY area. They have made significant progress on their warehouse facilities and distribution center in Long Island, and they hope to be up and running in about 1 year's time. The planned cost of this is $45Million, and Charles would like to commit $1Million through First Dallas International for an October 31st closing. Jim Lincoln will forward documents once received, but we expect the investment to be made into a tranche of preferred stock.

First Dallas Ventures:

This is the venture cap fund that Donnie and Jim are managing. Charles has authorised investments up to $10Million at this time. They are contemplating further investment in Cool Partners Inc., as well as other predominantly web-based ventures. Jim and Donnie both appear to be really enjoying this venture.

Ranger/Precept:

It does not appear that Charles and Sam have been able to get together to work out details of Charles' involvement with Ranger/Precept and the Ranger Management company. We had ordered tentative redemptions from Maverick for November 1st, which we'll roll to December 1st if details have not been worked out beforehand.

Sport Horses:

Charles is looking at establishing a breeding and equestrian training facility with Emily's involvement. A business plan has been presented, involving the acquisition of approximately 140 acres of land just north of DFW airport. Only 50 acres will be used for the business venture, and it is likely that the remaining land will be subsequently sold. Keeley and I are consulting Rodney to see if we can use a structure similar to that which was used for the gallery in Aspen, thus utilizing foreign assets for the cash injection and contributing Emily's horses in the same way Kelly contributed the gallery's inventory stocks. We would likely try to sub-divide the property and buy the land held for resale domestically, through another structure. I have not seen it yet, but understand the business plan indicates the business will not likely cash flow for the first few years, and will need ongoing capital. The anticipated initial commitment will be a minimum of $3Million.

Little Woody Creek Ranch:

This is the house that Emily and Jennifer use. We put together all documentation to sell this property to an IOM company last November/December. Charles has asked us to proceed once again and effect the sale. All domestic and IOM structures and funds are in place. Keeley will pull the documents and we'll touch base with Charles again next week and proceed.

Lambda Properties:

Nothing was directly discussed regarding construction activities on Charles and Dee's house in Aspen. If they decide to proceed, we will recommend that an IOM company acquire the property, to provide funds for the construction project. It is likely that this will not be underway until well into next year, with construction commencing in 2002. As with the Little Woody Creek Ranch property mentioned above, there are some issues regarding ownership of the existing properties which will need to be properly considered and dealt with in the new structures, especially within the context of creating sub-funds of the IOM trusts (see below).

Sub-funds:

Charles is aware that Sam is looking at creating sub-funds with the IOM assets, and is contemplating the same. We discussed the idea of creating them by using certain real estate transactions as the initiating transaction. This would include the new Sport Horses venture for Emily, and selling some of the Colorado properties which involves all the children to the foreign system. Charles also discussed making specific $20million allocations to each of Martha, Emily and Jennifer, indicating that he thought Chip was well taken care of domestically.

Mr. Wylie,

Further to my email last night, the protectors plan to recommend a total contribution of $3Million to First Dallas International for the February 1, 2002 subscription date.

I have attached a summary of cash flow since inception, and details of the short term cash requirement that I am aware of.

- The IOM trusts have contributed a total of $29.2 Million to date, of which $24.2Million was cash and $5M was investments.
- The cash contribution has been invested as follows: $4Million into direct investments, $1.7Million to the Lehman Managed account and $18 Million into First Dallas Ventures (12/31/01 balances plus January contributions of $436K).

eps

Based on outstanding commitments to Brazos, Trans-Europe Partners and Winston Thayer Capital Partners, as well as commitments to fund Elagent's operations through April 2002, I have estimated that the protectors should recommend an additional investment of $3Million dollars into First Dallas International.

A recommendation to invest $1Million was given to the trustees last night, in order to meet Elagent commitments for tomorrow, I suggest that the protectors also request the additional $2Million as a Feb 1st subscription to provide for projected cash requirements through April 2002.

Mr. Wyly,

Further to the funding request for FDV earlier this week, I have updated the summary of cash flows on First Dallas International through yesterday. As previously discussed, we anticipated keeping a "float" of approximately $1-$2 Million to fund capital calls on Winston Thayer, Harros, Trans Europe Buyout and for funding investments of FDV. We last subscribed $3Million to the Fund on February 1", which has been fully invested. As such, the protectors of Red Mountain Trust would like to suggest a further funding of $3Million to First Dallas International at the earliest possible date.

Here is a brief summary of the attached:

- The IOM trusts have contributed a total of $32.2 Million to date, of which $27.2Million was cash and $5M was investments.
- The cash contribution has been invested as follows: $4.8 Million into direct investments, $1.5Million to the Lehman Managed account and $70.3 Million into First Dallas Ventures.

We are waiting for a summary of Elagent's operational cash requirements from Jim Lincoln. I expect we will receive this on Monday morning. Based on outstanding commitments to Harros, Trans-Europe Partners and Winston Thayer Capital Partners, and an expectation that the Elagent funding needs will be consistent with the needs of the past 4 mths, I have estimated that the protectors should reconound an additional investment of $3Million dollars into First Dallas International.

As you are aware, Kecley and I are traveling to Isle of Man on Monday afternoon. Hopefully we can touch base on this before we go.

Thanks!

Margot - Let's wait and see if you hear back from Michelle on this. I sent Andrea a note yesterday asking for timing but she did not get back to me and is out sick today - so I am assuming we are safe waiting until tomorrow and maybe in that time you will hear from Michelle. My instinct is to fund from Tyler Trust but would like her confirmation on that.

Thanks

I don't know which trust or entity Michelle would want the cash to move from. But, if the fact that Elysium holds a large part of FDI means anything, and assuming the payment can come from the Tyler Trust-- in Elysium there is a government agency bond maturing on July 17th that could cover the $600K+. There is also a large enough GAB in Soulieana, but it looks like it may have already rolled over. The only entities with enough cash on hand to cover the short term payment of $200K is Gorsemoor. The Tyler Trust itself also has sufficient cash to cover the short term payment.

Let me know what you think.

Margot

Based on the last e-mail on 5/29 Charles approved $210,000 per month for Transfinity and $200,000 per month for Seranin. We need to fund the following for rest of July - $110,000 Transfinity, $100,000 Seranin. So, depending on how cash looks - you can either send just the $210,000 or $620,000 to take us through August 31st. Michelle - you may want to send just the $210,000 now since it is more immediate and wait to have another discussion with Donnie and Charles on the remaining funding and then you could fund a couple of months. All the Elegant related items have been paid - peaceful disposition and loan payoff so these should be the only items going forward.

Little Woody is to cover mortgage, operating etc till year end

Let me know what it is looking like on funding and timing - thanks

I need to get funding for both of the listed entities. I need approximately $410,000 transferred to FDV. $200K is for Seranin and $210K for Transfinity. I believe these were ok'ed, but I think that Michelle is out of the office still and I am not sure who to forward this on to.

As for LWLLC, I need probably about $300,000. That should get me through the end of the year. The last transfer I have to LWLLC was in February in the amount of $200,000. Please advise on who I need to forward the questions

Thanks!

Dear Jim,

Congratulations on the sale of the Transfinity assets!
This transaction represents good execution of the plan that was established.

First Dallas awards you a $10,000 bonus which will be included in this month's pay. While the amounts involved in this transaction and this bonus are not large, they are symbolically important.

Sincerely,

Scottish Holdings Recapitalization

I Ownership percentages:

- South Madison 38%
- Bessie/Tyler 57%
- Boucher 3%
- Chisolm 1%
- Lynchburg 1%

New Capital

A. Tyler needs to contribute the balance due ($666,600) of the $2m additional capital. Bessie contribution of $1,333,400 has been received.

B. Existing loan of shares of Maverick Fund from Bulldog and Pitkin to Holdings should be increased by shares having a current value of an additional $20 million. These shares are to be contributed by Holdings to SAC as additional equity capital. Loan is a demand loan and must be satisfied by return of the shares. Like the existing arrangement, this will be equity on SAC's books and a loan payable on Holding's books.

C. If additional shares need to be issued to balance ownership as above, issue shares at par value.

Recap must be accomplished by December 31, 1997.

Other terms of earlier draft of agreements remain the same (distribution preference, put, etc).

The Scottish Annuity Company (Cayman) Ltd.

Thank you for your fax last night.

Where Keith and I are concerned with respect to the above company, we feel that we are being asked to put our heads on the block without having much compensation. The potential risk to our reputation is much the more important aspect as far as we are concerned. If it turned out that our agents in Cayman had been fraudulent, or merely negligent, and we as Managing Directors had failed to keep an careful eye on matters then our very livelihoods would be at risk.

Quite frankly, we were not impressed by Roger Phelps' idea of a quarterly report. As and when the new man is in place - and it might have been better had we been more involved in the decision to appoint him - we will hope to receive quarterly or monthly analyses of income, expenditure and cash position with comparisons against budget, the previous quarter and, in due course, the equivalent quarter in the previous year and so on. Being able to telephone you or Shawn is not the same thing, as doing so leaves no record that we made sure that we were kept abreast of affairs.

Two bits of recent news are relevant here; one well known, the other not. The notorious one is the ability of one dishonest man in a distant office to bring down a banking dynasty, Baring Brothers (my brother's in-laws), because people who should have supervised him were not asking the right questions. The unknown one is that Lorne House Trust, as a trustee, is fighting the IRS in Northern California where the IRS is contending that a corporation owned by the (foreign) trust is the mere 'alter ego' of the Settlor, even though I can assure you that the settlor in question has been far more willing to leave us in genuine control - a fact which promises to win us the case - than S. appears to be.

On the slightly less important matter of rewards, we were glad to read that you might be able to point some significant business in our direction. Thanks for thinking of us;

COMMENTS:

Shari and I recommend that the Trustees consider the following investments:

An aggregate $3.5 million in one-half of one unit being offered in a private transaction by Boston Chicken, consisting of a $2.5 million investment in BC Funding, a funding vehicle for Boston Chicken franchisees, and $1 million in a new company being formed by Boston Chicken to develop a nationwide chain of bagel stores.

An aggregate of $200,000 (probably just from Bulldog and Pitkin) to be invested in an addition to the $300,000 loan previously made to Scottish Holdings (Romie, we need to discuss this structure when I am there on the 5th), for further advance as equity to Scottish Annuity, making its total capitalization $500,000.

We understand that Scottish Annuity is required to maintain the US $240,000 minimum capital in the form of cash equivalents, and that portion of the capital is not available to use as working capital to finance the current capital investment and expense requirements. The remaining $60,000 of initial capital has been exhausted for computer equipment, administration fees, legal and accounting fees, and other expenditures. We further understand that the company expects to be revenue positive by the end of this year, based on current indications of interest in the company's annuity product, and that the additional investment is expected to be a more than sufficient amount of working capital.

A new Cayman fund, Maverick Growth and Income Fund is in the process of formation. This fund will hold the Boston Chicken Investments through a special purpose Cayman subsidiary, B & C Holdings, Ltd. In the event the new fund is not ready at the time funding is required for the B & C investment, it may be necessary to contribute the $3.5 million direct to B & C for equity and contribute the B & C equity to the new fund at a later date.

In conjunction with the formation of the new fund, Maverick Income Fund, Ltd. will liquidate all of its investments and distribute the net proceeds to its shareholders. We recommend that the shareholders contribute these funds to the new Growth and Income Fund.

More details will be available later. If the Trustees concur in these recommendations, we recommend that steps be taken to ensure the availability of funds under the current margin arrangements with Lehman and First Boston. We understand that you will contact Lou Schaufele at Lehman regarding funding arrangements.

With respect to timing, we understand that the Scottish Annuity funds are required to be in before March 31, in order that the statutory accounting requirements can be met and bills can be paid on time. The B & C transaction will also be required to be funded by the end of March.

Dear Barbara,

In tying out October 1995 statements, I note the following items which differ, which I hope we can resolve for their correction in the December 1995 statements. I have not yet received the reports for November yet, but I suggest we incorporate any necessary changes in our reports in the December statements.

As an aside, I will need the bank activity asap after each month end. Kindly either fax this as soon as you have prepared it, or send it by courier with the complete monthly package if they are prepared simultaneously. The mail can take up to 3 weeks, which is obviously too long a lag for us. I would like to have an outline of your monthly procedures, ie. do you prepare the bank statements when available and then other info as it becomes available or do you wait any prepare the bank activity statements when all other info has been received and you can put together everything at once? This will help me to develop a timetable.

Morehouse Limited loaned $100,000 to 'David Capps & Co.' in July 1994, this needs to be set up as a loan receivable in Morehouse's investment listing. 4) STERLING SOFTWARE SHARES

In West Carroll Limited, your portfolio indicates 183,324 shares owned. My records show 183,333. The activity I show is as follows:

Roaring Fork/Elegance	$925,565.43	✓
Little Woody/Elegance	$5,022.04	✓

7) INVESTMENT IN C&B HOLDINGS RE: MAVERICK INCOME FUND

Effective March 31, 1995, Richland wired out $933,333 re: C&B Holdings, which you have been carrying at cost since then. In actuality, these funds were transferred to Maverick Income Fund and Maverick Income Fund in turn received the shares of C&B Holdings. Therefore, Richland does not in fact own $933,333 worth of shares in C&B Holdings, it owns additional shares of Maverick Income Fund.

In summary Richland owns shares in Maverick Income Fund as follows, which should all be marked to market each month:

Maverick Income Fund purchased 3/31/95	10,046.4427	✓	! cost
Maverick Income Fund purchased 04/30/95	15,961.6996		- Michelle to fax B.C. 09/05
Total	26,008.1423

Richland does not own any shares in C&B Holdings. ✓

7) INVESTMENT IN C&B HOLDINGS RE: MAVERICK INCOME FUND

Effective March 31, 1995 Little Woody wired out $466,667 re: C&B Holdings.
The same scenario applies here - Little Woody in fact received shares of Maverick Income Fund and Maverick Income fund purchased the shares in C&B Holdings.

Little Woody owns shares in Maverick Income Fund as follows, which should all be marked to market each month:

Maverick Income Fund purchased 01/31/95	8,333.3300	✓	?
Maverick Income Fund purchased 03/31/95	5,023.2267	✓	0
Maverick Income Fund purchased 04/30/95	12,782.9105	✓
Total	26,139.4672

Little Woody does not own any shares in C&B Holdings.

This should tie out to the number of shares on the valuation summaries I had sent you re: August 1995 to outline the total investment values.

8) COST OF STERLING SOFTWARE COLLAR

This is basically outlined in Cindy Murdock's memo of November 3rd, 1995, but I'll summarize the numbers overall below:

Puts: They initially cost $3.57 per share that was collared.
They were stepped up in July 95 at a cost of $1.6422 per share
They were stepped up again in Sept 95 at a cost of $2.25 per share

Calls: They were worth $3.57 per share at issue. ie. we technically received $3.57 per share for the call we sold. Because the Put cost us $3.57 as above the net cash flow was NIL. (Put cost of $3.57, Call proceeds of $3.57 = Nil cash). Although no cash changed hands, we still want to reflect these per share values in the accounting records.

No activity relating to the calls occurred in July 95.

The calls were however stepped up in Sept 95 at a cost of $5.44 per share. When they were issued we technically received $3.57 and now we have a cost of $5.44, the net per share is a cost of $1.87 per share. So technically we have a negative position that has positive cost.

An overall summary is on the next page:

Company	date	# shares	cost/(proceeds)	Total Put	Total Call

9. OTHER ITEMS

I have a couple of minor differences in intercompany accounts which I will summarize for you tomorrow. There is also a series of investments made by the Bulldog, Pitkin and Plaquemines corporations that date back to I believe 1992. They relate to the intercompany advances of $49,405 you set back up in your records in September 1995 (most of these intercompany advances were with Tensas). I will summarize the dates and amounts for you tomorrow. I will be able to provide you with monthly valuations for these investments on a ongoing basis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Kind regards,

Michelle Boucher (unsigned as sent via personal computer)

Dear Barbara,

The protectorates committee recommends the following:

Bessie and Tyler make an additional contribution to Scottish Holdings equal to the amount that Scottish Holdings owes to the Bulldog and Pitkin Trust entities.

I will then arrange for Scottish Holdings will then repay the loans back to the Bulldog and Pitkin entities.

I have attached a summary of the amounts, including interest accrued to March 31, 1996. If you accept the above recommendation the transfers should be handled as follows:

- 1) Fugue should transfer $ 463,894.24 to Bessie Trust a/c at Bank of Bermuda [REDACTED] plus the applicable wire charge Bessie will incur to wire the money to Scottish Holdings.
- 2) Bessie Trust should then wire $463,894.24 out to Scottish Holdings.
- 3) Souleiana should transfer $231,948.50 to the Tyler Trust a/c at Bank of Bermuda [REDACTED] plus the applicable wire charge Tyler will incur to wire the money to Scottish Holdings.
- 4) Tyler Trust should then wire $231,948.50 out to Scottish Holdings.

As soon as the money hits Scottish Holdings, I will send it back to the accounts as follows:

West Carroll $166,133
Richland $9,227.91
Morehouse $288,533.33
Little Woody $87,681.83
Roaring Creek $144,266.67

Shari,

Here are the FINAL June 30th, 1996 SAC financial statements, as well as a worksheet that consolidates Scottish Holdings and SAC as at 12/31/95 and 06/30/96. Mike had requested the consolidation to show a better picture of the annuity business. He has also received copies of these items. (I had sent him draft SAC 6/30 accounts a few weeks ago, but we were waiting to finalize details of 06/01 investment that was transferred from IOMA and it took some time to determine their actual value).

The deficit in SH is approximated by:

Interest on the original $500K loaned from the trusts @ 24%	$182,000
(these were repaid as of 03/31/96)
Interest equating to the increase in Fund shares transferred to SAC	$694,156
Other operating items (bank interest & legal/organization costs)	$ 18,921
Total	$895,077

Since the increase in the Fund shares is eliminated upon consolidation the overall consolidated deficit is comprised of:

Accumulated SAC deficit (without increase in Fund shares)	$ 61,887
SH interest on $500K loan	$182,000
SH Operating items	$ 18,921
Total	$262,808

I am maintaining SH on Total Return, if you want to see any of that detail, let me know.

Regarding: Scottish Annuity / Scottish Holding

Enclosed is the consolidated balance sheet for Scottish Annuity and Scottish Holding. I am enclosing Michelle's memo to me and I think it will answer any questions you might have about the balance sheet.

A reminder, that the Wyly's loaned $2,008,013 of Maverick Fund LDC to Scottish Holdings, the interest rate is measured against the performance of Fund. Scottish Holdings contributed the Fund investment to Scottish Annuity as APIC. The investment in Fund is now worth $2,702,169. Scottish Annuity's profit YTD less the profits from Fund is $58,694.

Dear Sirs

We refer to our letter of 7 June, 2006. As requested, we forwarded your list of questions to the various client contacts with respect to the companies listed in paragraphs (d) through (k), 13 and 14 of your letter of 2 June, 2006 to seek instructions as to whether we are authorised to discuss or divulge client specific and confidential information with the Subcommittee.

We are still waiting to receive definitive instructions from all of these entities, some of which are being separately advised or represented by other legal counsel, but we thought it appropriate to provide you with a report as to the responses we have received to date, which are as follows:

1. With respect to your questions about HBK Offshore Fund Ltd., HBK Offshore Fund Ltd. does not wish to waive any rights of confidentiality or client-attorney privilege but we have been authorized to provide the following information. HBK Offshore Fund is a multi-strategy hedge fund managed by HBK Investments L.P., which is an investment management firm based in Dallas, Texas. HBK Offshore Fund was created in 1996 in order to allow qualifying U.S. tax-exempt investors and non-U.S. investors to participate in an investment program substantially similar to that of HBK Fund L.P., which has been offered to qualifying U.S. taxable investors since 1991. The investors in HBK's funds include a wide variety of foundations, endowments, pension plans, funds of funds, other institutions and families. Maples and Calder has served as Cayman Islands legal counsel to HBK Investments and its funds since HBK Offshore Fund was formed in 1996. In this capacity, Maples and Calder has provided legal services typical of those provided to other funds and fund managers, in exchange for hourly fees. Maples and Calder has no role in the investment decision-making process, which is handled by HBK Investments, in its capacity as investment manager of the funds. HBK Offshore Fund was listed on the Cayman Islands Stock Exchange ("CSX") in January 2000 to facilitate compliance with the NASD's prevailing requirements related to investments in "Hot Issues." Following a change to the NASD's rules that became effective in March 2004, the CSX listing ceased to be advantageous, and HBK Offshore Fund chose to voluntarily discontinue its listing at the end of 2004. Maples and Calder is a listing agent for the CSX, which role principally involves acting on behalf of funds to ensure that fund documentation is in compliance with the rules of the CSX and general requirements of Cayman Islands Law, as well as attending to annual fee payments, the filings of accounts and periodic updates where required to maintain the listing in good standing. Any additional questions regarding HBK Investments or the funds that it manages would best be directed to HBK Investments' offices in the United States.

2. Maverick Capital, Ltd. ("Maverick") has indicated to us that it desires to cooperate with the Subcommittee in its investigations but does not wish to waive any rights of confidentiality or client-attorney privilege. Maverick has therefore declined to authorise us at this time to engage in direct discussions with the Subcommittee of matters concerning Maverick or any of the funds it manages which could effectively waive those rights. Maverick would prefer the Subcommittee to address any questions concerning Maverick directly to Maverick in the United States.
3. Respective legal counsel or other representatives (in the case of the companies listed at (d), (e), (f) or (h) below, each of which we understand has been either wound up or struck off from the Register of Companies and no longer exists) of the following companies have informed us that the following companies do not wish to waive any rights of confidentiality or client-attorney privilege and that we are not authorised to discuss confidential or privileged information:

 Subject: URGENT email for Sam, We need a quick reply on this - thanks!

Sam,

Keeley and I need to touch base with you on a couple of things relating to the foreign trust system:

1. Withdrawal from Maverick Fund offshore to raise cash for other investments.

I received an email from Lee and Shari last night indicating that you thought the withdrawal of Maverick this month was going to be reinvested. This is not the case. As per the cash flow information we discussed on August 3rd, the Trustees have requested a withdrawal of $30million from the Scottish Annuity Policy. The withdrawal is being made in two stages - $20million at September 1st and $10million at October 1st. The Scottish Annuity policy will redeem their Maverick investment to raise cash. The cash will then be withdrawn from the Scottish Annuity Policy and transferred back to the trust. The trust will use this cash for various other purposes, such as acquiring Beverly Drive, investing in Ranger, Greenmountain and funding commitments to Red River and Winston Thayer and funding construction at Two Mile Ranch. As you are aware the cash reserves in the trusts have been considerably diminished, raising this cash will also replenish the 'working' cash balances for other unforeseen investments that may arise over the near term.

FYI, there has been no action to sell Michaels Stores shares from the offshore trust yet. A decision on whether to liquidate some of these holdings has been deferred at this time, but will be revisited when cash needs arise again.

2. Withdrawal from the Scottish Annuity Policy.

As indicated above, a decision was made to withdraw the Maverick Fund holdings that reside in the Scottish Annuity Policy and withdraw part of the policy. As discussed with you, this was arrived at for the following reasons:

- the Maverick investments held directly by the trusts (not in a Scottish Policy) are lower in dollar value and would easily be transferred as a block to Ranger when the need for additional Maverick holdings to keep Ranger's investment ratios in line is needed.
- advice was obtained from Rodney Owens last year indicating that he didn't feel the annuity gave the trust much additional tax advantage, and in the event that the trust was challenged having the annuity in place would be insignificant to the overall picture.
- the annuity policy was originally acquired, in part, to provide seed capital to Scottish's book of business which was no longer necessary
- cost of continuing to hold the annuity (although this is less of a concern now as fees were significantly reduced effective January 2001 to 10 basis points, which is approximately $50K per year at this time)

The Trustees submitted the withdrawal request and initially Scottish Annuity agreed to the withdrawals. I had a couple of conversations with Scottish about this, but there was no real fuss made about it. However, this week, I received an email from Mike French which I found very offensive. Apparently he had gone back to Rodney Owens to find out if he had been consulted on the withdrawal. Rodney allegedly denied being consulted, despite the advice he had given us last year (as you may recall the trustees requested full withdrawals of the policies for December 31st, 2000, which were subsequently withdrawn when Scottish agreed to lower their fees). Mike then contacted the trustees and indicated that he was aware that Rodney had not been consulted and that this decision was being made without proper legal advice and as far as he was concerned the withdrawal was a grave mistake. I have attached Mike's email to me, and to the trustees below. I have also included my response to Mike as an attachment to this email.

I feel that it was wholly inappropriate for Mike to initiate discussion on these matters with Rodney Owens, without consent of the family or the trustees, and I find it disturbing that Rodney has denied being consulted on this matter. I don't know in what capacity Mike felt he was communicating with the trustees, as he is no longer a protector and I am personally insulted at his implications that we/I would undertake any activities without receiving appropriate advice and proper consultation with the family members and trustees. I did respond to Mike, and have attached my email to him,

Now that I have finished ranting :-). in order to be certain that you are aware of the implications of surrendering the Scottish policy, I have outlined the issues again for you below. Keeley, Shari and I discussed this yesterday, and contacted Rodney Owens, who confirmed that the following is an accurate description of the issues. Please also review Mike's discussion as per his email which follows mine.

- The policy is owned by a 1992 trust, which is a Foreign Non-Grantor Trust. The trust income is currently not subject to US taxation, however, the trust converts to a taxable trust 2 yrs after your death.

- The annuity is providing value if this status is successfully challenged. If the trust is successfully challenged, taxes, interest and penalties could be levied on income earned by the trust within the statute period, which we can assume is 6 yrs.

- The annuity defers income, and assuming the annuity transaction is upheld, the annuity provides us with deferral of taxes, interest and penalties on income equal to the value of the policy at it's ultimate surrender date.

- This trust has over $300M in assets, $50M of which are in the annuity. It is only the $50M in the annuity that we have the potential to defer tax, interest and penalties on. Income earned on the balance of assets in the trust, during the statute period, would be subject to tax, interest and penalties if the trust were successfully challenged.

- If we withdraw from the policy now, we are eliminating the potential deferral of taxes, interest and penalties on further income earned by these assets. We are also running the risk that if the trust is successfully challenged within the next 6yrs, the withdrawal amount could be assessed tax at ordinary income tax rates, interest and penalties. However, we do start the clock on running on the 6 yr statute for this lump sum being recognized as ordinary income. Note that this lump sum will roll into the overall assets of the trust which will earn future income that could be assessed if the trust were challenged down the road (as is the case with the existing trust assets that are not wrapped).

We need to withdraw money from Maverick to fund other activities. However, we could avoid actually withdrawing value from the annuity by swapping in Ranger investments to replace the cashed out Maverick. ie. the annuity redeems Maverick for cash, then the annuity uses the cash to buy Ranger investments from other trust entities. The trust ends up with cash out of the annuity but the value in the annuity is maintained - the only change to the annuity is that it now holds Maverick and Ranger rather than just Maverick.

EYI, Shari indicated that unless you want to cash in the annuity to more fully sever the relationship with Mike, she would recommend you keep the annuity in place. Keeley and I have mixed feelings on it. The annuity is a relatively small element of the total trust, and it has no value if the trust is never challenged. If the trust is challenged the value depends on the timing of the challenge and the value of the withdrawal now vs the value at it's ultimate surrender date and the return earned on it during that period. Last year Rodney was happy with us making the withdrawal and indicated the cost didn't warrant any potential benefit the annuity gave us. During our call yesterday, he was not as positive, but he did not tell us this was a bad idea, as is indicated in Mike's emails, Rodney was non-committal and felt like we understood the issues and once explained, this was a decision for the family to make.

Please call either Keeley or I to discuss. I can be reached on 345-916-0516 or 345-946-9435 over the weekend and through Monday. I need to go back to the trustees on this on no later than Tuesday morning.

The following copies of emails are:
- Mike's email to the trustees
- Mike's email to me
- my response to Mike.

Thanks,

As long as they will let us distribute in kind I can do it at either date, and would rather get it done now than try to co-ordinate it over the year end. Will see how difficult they want to make things.

If you can't redeem until 12/31, can't you distribute in kind and then liquidate the LDC shares and issue Ltd shares?

SW told us to go ahead and have the trustees make this withdrawal. Kathy contacted Chad yesterday/today and although he verbally confirmed to me Wednesday that a distribution could be made in kind (this is provided for in Section 7 of the contract) and he didn't see any problem, he is apparently giving the trustees a bit of the run around - saying that he has to get it cleared due to the size involved etc....

Just letting you know because you may hear something from MCF on this and wanted you to know it had proceeded. This was discussed at the Geneva meetings, and since the Protector powers on the 1992 trusts is limited to hiring and firing the trustee, he really should not have recourse on this. SW also indicated that this is in keeping with the severing of the relationship and he should expect it. (as you know we are also planning to acquire life ins policies with the proceeds)

The only wrinkle, which MCF may think of, and I already have is that the annuity holds shares in LDC, so I have to transfer them from the policy to the trust, from the trust to the company and then redeem from LDC and receive shares of Ltd as consideration or simultaneously acquire Ltd shares using LOA's. Hoping to do this as all non-cash transactions at December 1st. But have advised Michelle P that we may be wiring $ around and losing it for 2 days at year end.

Will let you know how this moves forward.
Have heard nothing of the meeting yesterday - have you?

I have had a 'formal' reply from Scottish on the share certificate issue, which is much more involved than originally contemplated. It is attached for your information.

The Scottish Annuity policy withdrawals relate to SW side withdrawals that we submitted regarding Bulldog's policy.

Dear Messrs. Nelson and Roach:

We enjoyed meeting with you and your colleagues on April 20, 2006. During our meeting, you requested additional information concerning a few topics. Below we set forth your requests and our client's responses. Please note that nothing in these responses shall be deemed to waive any rights, privileges or protections available or applicable to Scottish Re, including but not limited to the Cayman Islands' Confidential Relationships (Preservation) Law.

Request No. 1: Why did Chubb request additional indemnification in connection with the misplaced restricted share certificates.

Response: Chubb issued a bond to cover the transfer agent and wanted to be indemnified in the event of a wrongful presentment of the original, misplaced certificates. Only Scottish Re could have recognized the ownership of these shares and allowed the restricted legend on the certificates to be removed. If Scottish Re had recognized ownership by someone wrongfully presenting these lost shares and permitted removal of the legend, indemnification would ensure that Scottish Re, not Chubb, would ultimately be responsible for this error.

Request No. 2: Additional information concerning a $52 million policy.

Response: The funds for this policy are invested in LifeInvest Opportunity Fund, an insurance dedicated fund managed by Bermuda-based Tremont Advisors.

Redacted By Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations

Request No. 4: Additional information concerning fund advisors, such as (a) how they were selected and (b) how they were paid.

Response: Fund advisors are recommended by policyholders but approved and appointed by Scottish Re. Fund advisors are paid out of segregated assets.

Request No. 5: Additional information concerning the investment advisor for the Wyllys' trusts.

Response: Ranger Capital is the investment advisor for one Wyly policy. The other Wyly policy has no investment advisor as the funds are invested in LifeInvest. Scottish Re believes that Michelle Boucher may be the protector of the Wyllys' trusts.

Request No. 6: The names of the "independent directors" who requested a copy of the Prudential Securities Fairness Opinion and approved the purchase of Scottish Annuity Company.

Response: Board minutes reflect that Directors Robert Chmely and G. William Caulfield-Browne voted on the purchase, and Director Michael Austin also recalls voting on this purchase. Scottish Re could not determine who requested the opinion.

Request No. 7: With respect to Scottish Re's estimation of how many of its wealth management products are owned by or insure a U.S. person, what does the term "U.S. connection" or "U.S. nexus" include (and would this term encompass a Cayman corporation owned by a U.S. person)?

Response: An individual with a U.S. address or some other physical connection to the U.S. (e.g., education, employment or a residence in the U.S.) is considered to have a U.S. connection or nexus. A U.S. person owning a policy through a Cayman company is also considered "connected" to the U.S.

Evan / Shari,

Here is an organization chart regarding the structure that has been set up. I have also attached a copy of the minutes I have had executed. These minutes basically create the Life Assurance Company and its intermediary Holding Company, and fund it with initial capital of $500,000 (funded from Scottish Holdings, by way of a dividend from Scottish Annuity). These are the only minutes I have had signed to date. I also have an application for an insurance licence ready to file on behalf of Scottish Life Assurance. Which should be submitted by the end of this week.

There are draft minutes circulating to approve the registration statement, but they are currently under revision in New York, as well as a Scottish Holdings, Ltd shareholder agreement. Mike indicated that the shareholder agreement had been circulated to, and approved by Sam, Evan and Charles, but I will re-send it once I have a final copy.

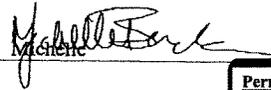

The initial capitalization of Scottish Life also provides for the sale of 1,550,000 warrants for a total of $100,000 as follows:

MCF	750,000	$ 48,387.10
Bessie	500,000	$ 32,258.06
Tyler	250,000	$ 16,129.03
MLB	50,000	$ 3,225.81
		$100,000.00

Since the Trusts are acquiring these, I will need protectors consent for the investment and corresponding wire transfer.

I have also attached a draft of the opening consolidated balance sheet on Scottish Life Holdings, Ltd.

I look forward to hearing from you with comments and/or questions.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND MUTUAL RELEASE

Michael C. French ("French"), for his part, and Sam Wyly and Evan Wyly (together, the "Wyllys"), for their part, enter into this Settlement Agreement and Mutual Release ("Agreement") on this 21st day of December 2000. The intent of this Agreement is to sever all direct and indirect business and professional relationships between French and the Wyllys, to resolve all claims that French has asserted against the Wyllys, and to forever end all disputes between French and the Wyllys, except insofar as may be necessary to enforce this Agreement.

RECITALS

A. Contemporaneously with the execution of this Agreement and effective as of the date hereof, Michaels Stores, Inc. Subject: SCOT shares - tradeable stock

05/23/01 03:26 PM

On Friday May 18th, Lehmans confirmed a closing price on SCOT of $15.13 and booked the sale of 270,000 shares between IFG and Trident entities. The trustees at Trident are now able to sell these shares in the market.

The stock has been selling between $14.75 and $15.75 for the past two weeks. The protectors are prepared to recommend that the trustees use Lou Schaufele to move the stock out in the market, at his discretion but at no less than $15 per share. The trustees will also ask Lou to keep an eye out for any opportunities for large block trades. The protector recommendation will go out overnight and trading should commence tomorrow.

I'll keep you updated on trading volume and pricing.

I just learned that Sam signed a letter authorizing Green Funding I to loan greenmountain.com $22,000,000 under a non-recourse loan. My understanding is that an offshore entity will loan the funds to Green Funding I under a similar non-recourse loan, and GF1 will turn the funds around to gm.com. Per Sam, the funds will be loaned only upon a 30 day advance request from gm.com, because the offshore entity will have to liquidate a portion of its Maverick investment. The first request is for $5,000,000 on June 1. Sam had to sign in order to get AA to sign off on last year's audit.

Are there any tax issues from:

- the structure of the loans
- the possibility that the loan may not be repaid by greenmountain.com to GF1 (Does GMF1 then have taxable income from the funds received from the offshore entity? Is the income offset by the bad debt?)
- anything else I haven't thought about

Sam recommends fulfilling the Green Mountain request for $7 million for April. Green Mountain expects BP Amoco to invest $50 million in two tranches in a security that is similar to the attached $50 million convertible debenture. The $7 million would be invested in the attached security. There are other strategic and institutional investors who are expected to invest in this security. Sam recommends investing whatever remaining balance that other investors do not take of the $50 million. Charles will be contacting you regarding participation.

GREEN FUNDING I, L.L.C.

THIS LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), dated as of August 6, 1997, is by and among Green Funding II, L.L.C., a Delaware limited liability company ("GF II"), Maverick USA, Corp., a Delaware corporation ("Maverick USA") and EB&M Holdings, Ltd., a Cayman Islands company ("EB&M") (collectively, "Members"). Unless the context otherwise requires, terms that are capitalized and not otherwise defined in context have the meanings set forth or cross-referenced in Article 10 hereof.

1. ORGANIZATIONAL MATTERS

1.1 Formation of the Company; Term. The Company is a limited liability company under the Act governed by this Agreement and formed by the execution and filing with the Secretary of State of Delaware of the Certificate of Formation of the Company. Unless sooner dissolved under Section 7.1, the Company shall have a term commencing on the date the Certificate of Formation of the Company was filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware and continuing until December 31, 2085.

1.2 Name. The name of the Company is: "Green Funding I, L.L.C."

1.3 Purpose of the Company; Business. The purpose of the Company is to perform all things necessary for or incidental to or connected with or growing out of any lawful business, purpose, or activity in accordance with this Agreement and permitted to be performed by limited liability companies under the Act.

1.4 Principal Place of Business, Office and Agent. shall be deemed to be amended by the Members to reflect each change in the identity or address of the registered agent in Delaware.

1.5 Fictitious Business Name Statement; Other Certificates. The Members will, from time to time, register the Company as a foreign limited liability company and file fictitious or trade name statements or certificates in those jurisdictions and offices as the Members consider necessary or appropriate. The Company may do business under any fictitious business names selected by the Members. The Members will, from time to time, file or cause to be filed certificates of amendment, certificates of cancellation, or other certificates as they reasonably consider necessary or appropriate under the Act or under the laws of any jurisdiction in which the Company is doing business to establish and continue the Company as a limited liability company or to protect the limited liability of the Members.

2. INTERESTS AND CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS

2.1 Interests and Voting Percentage. Each Member's "Interest", meaning the relative voting power and the relative participation attributable to its interest in profit, loss and distributions by the Company from time to time, is indicated below. Each Member's total capital commitment is also indicated below:

Member	% Interest	Total Capital Commitment
GF II	80.0000%	$24,000,000.00
Maverick USA	7.0395%	$ 2,111,850.00
EB&M	12.9605%	$3,888,150.00

2.2 Capital Contributions. Simultaneously with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Member is making the following initial contribution to the capital of the Company:

Member	Contribution
GF II	$6,440,000.00
Maverick USA	$573,160.00
EB&M	$1,043,320.25

Each Member shall make additional capital contributions as deemed necessary by the Managers, except each Member shall not be required to contribute in excess of the Total Capital Commitment set forth opposite the Members name in Section 2.1 of this Agreement unless all Members agree. In the event that any Member elects not to make any capital contribution required hereunder, the other Members may (but shall not be obligated to) contribute to the capital of the Company all such amounts, in which event the percentage interest of each member making such a contribution shall be adjusted so that, immediately after such contribution, such Member's percentage Interest shall be a percentage equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the sum of the capital contributions made by such Member and the denominator of which is the aggregate of the capital contributions theretofore made by all the Members, and concomitantly, the percentage Interest of the non-contributing Member shall be correspondingly decreased.

2.3 Limited Liability of the Members. Unless a Member expressly agrees otherwise in writing, no Member is liable for the debts, liabilities, contracts or other obligations of the Company.

2.4 Withdrawal and Return of Capital; Interest on Capital. Except for the right to receive distributions in accordance with Section 3.1 or upon dissolution, winding-up and liquidation of the Company as provided in this Agreement, no Member has the right to withdraw any of its Capital Contribution. No Member is entitled to receive any interest on its Capital Contribution, or any portion thereof.

3. DISTRIBUTIONS

3.1 Distribution Method. Distributions of cash or other property will be made as and when available, as determined by the Members, by a Required Vote. All distributions are subject to the payment of Company expenses and the maintenance of reasonable Company reserves. Non-liquidating distributions will be made to the Members in proportion to their interests in the Company. A distribution of property other than cash will be made pro rata in kind as well as in value (unless all Members receiving disproportionate distributions agree otherwise).

3.2 Withholding. Notwithstanding anything contained herein, the Managers shall have the right to withhold from a distribution hereunder to any Member any amount of federal, state, local or foreign tax that is required to be withheld by the Company under applicable law, and pay over such amounts to the relevant taxing authority. Any such amounts shall be deemed distributed to such Member for all purposes of this Agreement. In the event the Managers are required to withhold an amount with respect to a Member in excess of the amount otherwise available for distribution to such Member ("Excess Amount"), such Member shall pay to the Partnership the Excess Amount on demand of the Manager (such payment shall not be considered a contribution to the Company hereunder) and if such Member does not pay such amount to the Company, the Manager may, if there are funds available, pay the Excess Amount to the relevant Taxing Authority and, in such case, such Excess Amount shall constitute a recourse loan to such Member payable on demand and bearing interest at 15% per annum. Such Member shall execute any documents required to evidence the foregoing.

4. ACCOUNTING AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

4.1 Financial Reporting and Non-Financial Reporting Books. The Company will maintain books and Capital Accounts as required by Section 4.2. The Company will also maintain the additional records contemplated by Section 6.3.

4.2 Capital Accounts. A "Capital Account" will be maintained for each Member in the manner set forth below. The provisions of this subsection are intended to comply with the requirements of Treas. Reg. § 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv) and Treas. Reg. § 1.704-2 with respect to maintenance of capital accounts and partnership allocations, and will be interpreted and applied accordingly.

(a) In accordance with Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv), the Capital Account of each Member will be determined and adjusted as follows:

- (i) Each Member's Capital Account will be credited with:
 - (1) any contributions of cash made by such Member to the capital of the Company plus the Book Basis of any property contributed by such Member to the capital of the Company (net of any liabilities to which such property is subject or which are assumed by the Company);
 - (2) the Member's distributive share of Net Profit and items of income and gain, allocated to such Member under Section 5.2 of this Agreement; and
 - (3) any other increases required by Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv).
- (ii) Each Member's Capital Account will be debited with:
 - (1) any distributions of cash made from the Company to such Member plus the fair market value of any property distributed in kind to such Member (net of any liabilities to which such property is subject or which are assumed by such Member);
 - (2) the Member's distributive share of Net Loss and items of deduction and loss, allocated to such Member under Section 5.2 of this Agreement; and
 - (3) any other decreases required by Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv).

5. PROFITS AND LOSSES

5.1 Allocation of Book Items. Net Profit and Net Loss shall be allocated to the Members, after all allocations have been made pursuant to Section 5.2 so as to make their respective Adjusted Capital Account balances stand in proportion to their respective interests.

5.2 Compliance with Section 704(b). The following special allocations shall, except as otherwise provided, be made in the following order:

(a) Minimum Gain Charge-back. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article 5, if there is a net decrease in "partnership minimum gain" or in any partner nonrecourse debt minimum gain (both as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2) during any taxable year or other period, prior to any other allocation pursuant hereto, each Member shall be specially allocated items of Company income and gain for such year (and, if necessary, subsequent years) in an amount and manner required by Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-2(f) or 1.704-2(i)(4) or any successor provisions. The items to be so allocated shall be determined in accordance with Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2 or any successor provision.

(b) Qualified Income Offset. Any Member who unexpectedly receives an adjustment, allocation or distribution described in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(i)(d)(4), (5) or (6) which causes or increases a negative balance in his or its Capital Account shall be allocated items of Profit sufficient to eliminate such increase or negative balance caused thereby, as quickly as possible, to the extent required by such Treasury Regulation.

(c) Nonrecourse Deductions. Nonrecourse deductions (as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2) for any taxable year or other period shall be allocated (as nearly as possible) among the Members pro rata in proportion to their respective interests.

(d) Partner Nonrecourse Deductions. Any partner nonrecourse deductions (as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2) for any taxable year or other period shall be allocated to the Member that made, or guaranteed or is otherwise liable with respect to the loan to which such partner nonrecourse deductions are attributable in accordance with principles under Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(i) or any successor provision.

5.3 Section 704(c) Compliance. In accordance with Section 704(c) of the Code and the applicable Treasury Regulations thereunder, income, gain, loss, deduction and tax depreciation with respect to any property contributed to the capital of the Company, or with respect to any property which has a Book Basis different than its adjusted tax basis, shall, solely for federal income tax purposes, be allocated among the Members so as to take into account any variation between the adjusted tax basis of such property to the Company and the Book Basis of such property. The Company shall use the "traditional method" without curative allocations as provided in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-3.

5.4 Override. No allocation of Losses or Net Losses, or items thereof, shall be made to any Member if as a result of such allocation, such Members would have a deficit balance in its Capital Account in excess of the amount it is actually obligated to restore or deemed obligated to restore to the Company pursuant to Treasury Regulations under Section 704(b) of the Code. Any such disallowed allocation shall be made to the Members entitled to receive such allocation under the Section 704(b) of the Code in proportion to their respective interests.

6. MANAGEMENT AND MEMBER RIGHTS

6.1 Management. (a) Except for situations in which the approval of the Members is required by this Agreement or by nonwaivable provisions of applicable law, the powers of the Company shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Company shall be managed under the direction of, the Managers. There shall be two Managers who shall be Evan A. Wyly and Sam Wyly.

(b) A Manager may resign at any time. If a Manager resigns or dies, the number of Managers shall be reduced to one unless the Members, by a unanimous vote taken within sixty days of such vacancy, elects a replacement Manager. If both Managers concurrently resign or die, the Members shall, by unanimous vote, elect replacement Managers.

(c) The Company cannot engage in any of the following except by a Required Vote of the Members:

- (i) sell, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of any assets of the Company including all or substantially all of the assets in one or more related or unrelated transactions;
- (ii) issue additional Interests in the Company, create new classes and series of Interests and state and create the rights and terms thereof;
- (iii) confess a judgment against the Company;
- (iv) create, incur, assume or guarantee indebtedness for borrowed money and pledge any or all the assets of the Company as security therefor;
- (v) cause the Company to merge or consolidate with or into any other person or entity and establish the terms of such transaction; and
- (vi) authorize the Company to file a petition for relief or otherwise initiate Bankruptcy.

Additionally, the Members may amend this Agreement pursuant to Section 11.2 below.

(d) The Managers may delegate to other employees and agents of the Company the authority to conduct the business of the Company in accordance with this Agreement and any policy of delegation which may be adopted and revised from time to time by the Managers. Any power not delegated by the Managers remains with them.

6.2 Standard of Care. (a) Any Manager or Member or any director, trustee or officer of any Member serving on behalf of the Company, and any employee of the Company in the performance of his, her or its duties, is fully protected in relying in good faith on information, opinions, reports, or other statements, including financial statements, books of account and other financial data, if prepared or presented by: (i) one or other more Officers or employees of the Company; or (ii) legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons as to matters are within the person's professional or expert competence.

(b) No Manager or Member, nor any director, trustee or officer of any Member serving on behalf of the Company will be liable to the Company or any Member with respect to claims relating to his, her or its conduct for or on behalf of the Company if he, she or it acted in good faith and in a manner he, she or it reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his, her or its conduct was unlawful.

6.3 Access to and Confidentiality of Information; Records. Each Member has the right, subject to such reasonable standards (including standards governing what information and documents are to be furnished at what time and location and at whose expense) as may be established by a Member, to obtain from the Company from time to time upon reasonable demand for any purpose reasonably related to the Member's interest:

- (i) true and full information regarding the status of the business and financial condition of the Company;
- (ii) promptly after becoming available, a copy of the Company's federal, state and local income tax returns for each year;
- (iii) a current list of the name and last known business, residence or mailing address of each Member;
- (iv) a copy of this Agreement, Certificate of Formation and all amendments thereto, together with executed copies of any written powers of attorney pursuant to which the Agreement and any certificate and all amendments thereto have been executed;
- (v) true and full information regarding the amount of cash and a description and statement of the agreed value of any other property or services contributed by each Member and which each Member has agreed to contribute in the future, and the date on which each became a Member; and
- (vi) other information regarding the affairs of the Company as is just and reasonable.

6.4 Limited Liability of the Members. The Members (solely in their capacity as Members) have no liability for any Company obligations. Any liability to return distributions from the Company is limited to mandatory requirements of the Act or of any other applicable law.

6.5 Tax Matters Partner. GF II is designated as the "tax matters partner" (the "TMP") under Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code. The Tax Matters Partner has the power to:

- (viii) conform to any tax administrative requirements as may be placed on Tax Matters Partners by Treasury Regulations adopted after the date hereof as to income tax or any other federal tax applicable to the Company.

Any vacancy in the office of the TMP will be filled from among the Members.

7. DISSOLUTION AND LIQUIDATION

7.1 Dissolution. (a) Notwithstanding any provisions of the Act to the contrary, the Company will dissolve without further action of the Members only by Agreement of the members holding more than 50% of the Interests. No other event, including any event which would cause the withdrawal of a Member under the Act, will cause a dissolution.

(b) Upon dissolution of the Company, the Members will wind up and liquidate the Company by using, in their discretion, either or both of the following methods:

- (i) selling the Company's assets and distributing the net proceeds pursuant to Section 7.2(a); and
- (ii) distributing the Company's assets to the Members in kind in proportion to the credit balances of the Members Capital Accounts, each Member accepting an undivided interest in the Company's assets subject to its liabilities.

(c) Upon completion of the liquidating distributions under Section 7.2, the Company is completely dissolved and terminated.

7.2 Liquidating Distributions.

(a) Upon the dissolution of the Company followed by its winding-up, the proceeds of liquidation will be applied and distributed in the following order of priority:

- (i) first, to the expenses of liquidation and the debts of the Company, other than the debts owing to the Members;
- (ii) second, to the establishment of any reserve which the Members, by a Required Vote, consider appropriate for any contingent or unforeseen liabilities and other obligations of the Company arising out of or in conjunction with the Company's affairs;
- (iii) third, to such debts as are owing to the Members; and
- (iv) fourth, to the Members whose Capital Accounts have credit balances, in proportion to such balances.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in Section 7.2(c) of this Agreement, distributions pursuant to Section 7.2(a) will be made not later than the later of (i) the end of the taxable year in which liquidation of the Company occurs, or (ii) a date which is 90 days after the date of such liquidation.

(c) Amounts withheld as reserves pursuant to Section 7.2(a)(ii) of this Agreement will, to the extent not needed for the purpose of which they were withheld, be distributed as soon as practicable among the Members in accordance with Sections 7.2(a)(iii) and (iv).

7.3 Final Accounting. Each of the Members will be furnished with a statement prepared by the Company's accountants, which shall set forth the assets and liabilities of the Company as of the date of the complete liquidation.

8. TRANSFERS OF INTEREST

8.1 Limitations on Transfers. (a) Except as provided in Section 8.1(b), no Member is permitted to Transfer all or any part of its Interest. Any purported Transfer of a Member's Interest, portion thereof or any other interest in an Interest in the Company in violation of this Agreement is a nullity and vests no title or right in the purported transferee.

(b) Any Member (a "Transferring Member") may transfer its Interest to another entity controlled by or under common control with such Transferring Member and that entity will, upon such transfer, be substituted for such Transferring Member as a Member of the Company having all the rights, powers (and duties and obligations) of such Transferring Member under this Agreement.

8.2 Investment Representation. Each of the Members recognizes that its Interest in the Company has not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 in reliance on the so-called "private offering" exemption contained in Section 4(2) of said Act. Each of the Members hereby certifies, represents and warrants that he or it is acquiring his or its interest in the Company for investment and not with a view to, or for resale in connection with, any distribution of such interest within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933.

9.1 Indemnification. (a) The Company will indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative by reason of fact that he is or was (i) a Member of the Company, or (ii) is or was an officer or director of a Member, or (iii) is or was serving at the request of the Company as a member, manager, director or officer of another limited liability company, corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if the person met the standard of care set forth in Section 6.2(b). No indemnification will be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person is adjudged to be liable to the Company unless, and indemnification will only be made to the extent that, the court in which action or suit was brought determines upon application that, despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses which the court considers proper. The termination of any action, suit or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, does not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not meet the standard of care set forth in Section 6.2(b).

(b) To the extent that an employee or agent of a Company has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any action, suit or proceeding referred to in Section 9.1(a), or in defense of any claim, issue or a matter therein, he will be indemnified against expenses (including attorney's fees) actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection therewith.

9.2 Advancement of Expenses. Expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred defending any civil, criminal, administrative or investigative action, suit or proceeding may be paid by the Company in advance of the final disposition of any action suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the indemnitees to repay such amount if it is ultimately determined that he is not entitled to be indemnified by the Company and upon such other terms and conditions, if any, as the Members, by a Required Vote, deem appropriate.

9.3 Other Rights to Indemnity or Reimbursement; Survival. Indemnification under this Article 9 will be provided only with respect to such losses, costs, expenses, judgments and amounts which otherwise are not compensated for by insurance carried for the benefit of the Company. The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to this Agreement is not exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement of expenses may be entitled under any agreement or otherwise, both as to action in his official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office.

Three Months Ended March 31, 1998 and 1999 is Unaudited)

The AICPA issued SOP No. 98-1, Software for Internal Use, which provides guidance on accounting for the cost of computer software developed or obtained for internal use. SOP No. 98-1 is effective for financial statements for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1998. The adoption of SOP No. 98-1 did not have a material impact on GreenMountain.com's financial statements. GreenMountain.com anticipates that in the second quarter of 1999 it will begin capitalizing certain costs in accordance with SOP No. 98-1 associated with projects that enter the development stage, including its web site development project.

(11) Subsequent Event—Private Placement Offerings

During 1999, GreenMountain.com completed two private placement offerings. The first offering, completed in early January and early February 1999, was for $10,000,000 from a sale of 3,000,000 shares to GreenMountain.com's employees and certain consultants for $3.33 per share. Net proceeds included $4,891,750 of cash and $5,108,250 of promissory notes from employees and certain consultants. GreenMountain.com recognized compensation expense of $2,072,300 in connection with the issuance of shares. The second offering, completed in mid-February 1999, resulted in net proceeds of $30,310,000 from a sale of 4,546,500 shares to investors for $6.67 per share. As a result of purchases during the second offering, Maverick Capital became the beneficial owner of 2,250,000 shares for an aggregate purchase price of $15.0 million. Evan Wyly, a Vice Chairman and a Director of GreenMountain.com, is a Managing Partner and H. Lee S. Hobson, a GreenMountain.com Director, is a Partner of Maverick Capital. In addition, Green Funding II, L.L.C., an investment vehicle controlled by the Wyly family, acquired directly 1,500,000 shares for an aggregate purchase price of $10.0 million.

(12) Subsequent Event—Reorganization

In 1999, GreenMountain.com merged into a newly formed Delaware corporation, which (i) was the entity surviving the merger, succeeding to all rights, properties and obligations of GreenMountain.com; (ii) is named GreenMountain.com Company; and (iii) is taxable as a corporation. In connection with the conversion, the limited liability company agreement will terminate, except for certain covenants that, by their terms, require performance after the termination of such agreement and each member will receive three shares of GreenMountain.com common stock in exchange for each of its common units in the limited liability company (subject to the payment of cash in lieu of fractional shares). Additionally, any undistributed tax losses at the date of reorganization will be reclassified against additional paid in capital. All outstanding options and warrants exercisable for common units in the limited liability company will, in effect, be converted into options or warrants exercisable for GreenMountain.com common stock. The common stock information in the financial statements and notes has been restated as if the common units were converted to common shares.

Should I scold you too for answering e-mail to fast. How are you doing? Did the C-section go okay. I know the recovery is not the best, but it does not last that long.

assuming it will come from offshore, we should be okay with this to make the 2001 payment. I think that towards the end of this year, we are going to need to take a look at possibly liquidating some Maverick or other holdings to raise some funds. (But lot's can happen between now and then!)

Evan - assuming this is a stock deal, do you have any information on what the price may be, or who the other participants are? Is there anything I should/could be letting the trustees know at this point?

Michelle

Attached is a schedule showing the anticipated funding for the prior approved GMP Holdings investment. I will be out next week, final confirmation of the amounts and dates will be coming from either Michelle Boucher or Evan Wylly. If you need further confirmation of my approval, leave me a voice mail and I will call. The cash call in total is $10,000,000. (The protectors are recommending leaving the $10,000,000 loan to Security Capital outstanding at this time, more on that later.) At this time, I do not know whether Maverick is going to invest in this round. If Maverick does invest the % of GMP's Cash call is 66.71328%, if not the % is 86.71328%. I have attached schedules outlining these two cash calls.

The protectors' recommendation is to fund GMP's % as follows:

Roaring Fork	$750,000
Dortmund	$302,080.
Locke	$5,135,920.
East Carroll	483,328.

And if Maverick is out:

Tensas	$1,000,000.
W. Carroll	$1,000,000.

Michelle will provide you with wiring instructions. It is my understanding that good funds are needed at Green Mountain Energy on 11/30/98. I think you should plan to have cash ready to wire to GMP Holdings on Tuesday/Wednesday of next week. I am in the office today and tomorrow if you have questions.

As per the recent cash flow projections, the protectors recommend that you make arrangements for the $6.5M funding for March to be paid over to Green Funding 1 at your earliest convenience.

I suggest that you make arrangements to utilize funds on hand at Moberly Limited with Bank of Bermuda, as well as those that were realized on the recent SSW swap reset. Money will need to move to Green Funding 1 no later than March 9th.

We are arranging for the documentation to be prepared and executed and will forward the same to you once received.

If you have any questions, please call.

GMP Holdings, Ltd has a need for approximately $15,000 to pay current expenses due for prior years' directors fees, and current annual return / legal fees.

I have attached a spreadsheet which allocates this $15,000 across the various equity shareholders of Greenmountain.com, as this appears to be the 'fairest' way to fund the expenses of GMP Holdings, Ltd

Provided that the trustees for these entities agree, kindly arrange for payment to GMP Holdings, Ltd to the following wire instructions.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Shareholders of
Green Mountain Energy Company:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Green Mountain Energy Company (a Delaware corporation) as of December 31, 2000 and 2001, and the related statements of operations, shareholders' deficit and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2001. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Green Mountain Energy Company as of December 31, 2000 and 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2001, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company has suffered recurring losses from operations and net losses, and it has not generated positive cash flows from operations since its inception. In addition, the Company is dependent on its ability to obtain additional equity and/or debt financing. These matters raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 2. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

GREEN MOUNTAIN ENERGY COMPANYNOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTSDECEMBER 31, 20011. ORGANIZATION AND BUSINESS:

Green Mountain Energy Company (the Company), a Delaware corporation, markets and sells electricity produced from renewable and other environmentally preferable sources to residential and small commercial customers. As of December 31, 2001, the Company was serving approximately 433,400 customers located in Ohio, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Texas and California. As further discussed in Note 7, during February and March 2001, the Company reverted the majority of its California customers to incumbent local utilities due to that state's electric power issues that developed during the second half of 2000 and the first quarter of 2001.

2. GOING CONCERN AND LIQUIDITY:

The Company operates in the retail energy market in several states and has a limited operating history. The competitive retail energy market in the United States is at an early stage of development, and a limited number of states have deregulated the sale of electricity. The development of the Company's business will depend upon, among other things, the continued existence and opening of favorable markets having rules that favor open competition among retail electricity providers, including the incumbent utilities (or their affiliates), the Company's ability to expand its customer base in its current markets and its ability to enter new markets in a timely manner at reasonable costs.

The Company has incurred losses since its inception, and management expects to continue to incur losses for a period of time. The Company has incurred significant operating expenses to develop its business, and its ability to become profitable will depend on its ability to acquire and retain customers at a reasonable cost, sell its products at a sufficient margin, effectively manage its energy supply requirements and further develop its internal corporate organization and systems.

The Company has suffered recurring losses from operations and net losses, and it has not generated positive cash flows from operations since its inception. In addition, the Company's operations and the expansion of its business have both been historically funded by equity and debt financings. In March 2002, the Company obtained additional preferred stock equity financing of approximately $15.0 million and converted approximately $9.1 million of its outstanding long-term debt to preferred stock. Management estimates that the Company's working capital will be sufficient to fund its operations and the expansion of its business through the second quarter of 2002. Additional equity and/or debt financing will be required no later than the third quarter of 2002 in order for the Company to continue to execute its current business plan and continue as a going concern, and management is currently in the process of negotiating up to $20.0 million in additional equity financing from certain of its current shareholders. There is no assurance, however, that additional equity or debt financing can be obtained or that it can be obtained on acceptable terms. If additional financing is obtained, there is no assurance that the Company will be able to develop financially viable future operations. These matters raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

Cash Equivalents and Short-Term Investments

Cash equivalents consist of cash held in bank deposit accounts and short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of 90 days or less. Short-term investments consist of high-grade mutual funds and bonds and are reflected at market value as determined by the most recently traded price of such funds as of the balance sheet date. As of December 31, 2001, the market value and original cost of the mutual fund investments were not materially different. The short-term investments are defined as available-for-sale securities under the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 115, "Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities." Management anticipates liquidating these short-term investments during 2002 to help fund the Company's operations.

Restricted Cash

Certain utilities, power supply vendors, state regulatory agencies and other organizations require various types of collateral to ensure fulfillment of the Company's commitments. Cash providing such collateral has been classified as restricted cash in the accompanying balance sheets.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the various classes of depreciable property as follows:

Computer hardware	2 years
Purchased computer software	3-5 years
Furniture, fixtures and vehicles	5-7 years
Web site development costs	3 years

The Company capitalizes the costs incurred to develop its web site in accordance with Statement of Position (SOP) 98-1, "Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use." The Company recorded depreciation expense for the years ended December 31, 1999, 2000 and 2001, of approximately $844,000, $504,000 and $1.2 million, respectively.

Revenue Recognition and Cost of Revenues

Revenue is recognized for the sale of electricity once it has been delivered to a customer. Unbilled electricity sales are estimated and recorded each period. Cost of revenue consists of the cost of power delivered to the Company's customers. Power costs for which suppliers have not billed the Company are estimated each period and are included in accrued cost of revenue. The Company's invoices to its customers may also include charges relating to the transmission and distribution of the electricity, functions which are provided by the incumbent utilities. These amounts are excluded from the Company's net revenue. As a result, neither the Company's revenue nor its costs include the transmission and distribution charges included in customers' invoices. See Note 4 for unbilled accounts receivable and accrued cost of revenue.

Concentration of Credit Risk

In certain markets in Pennsylvania, Connecticut and New Jersey, the incumbent utility is responsible for collection risk; whereby the incumbent utility remits payment to the Company for the amount of the Company's billings. The incumbent utility is responsible for collecting from the Company's customers in those markets and ultimately bears the risk of collection.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred, as such efforts historically have not met the direct-response criteria required for capitalization. Total advertising costs for the years ended December 31, 1999, 2000 and 2001, were approximately $14.0 million, $7.7 million and $5.5 million, respectively.

Write-Off of Public Offering Costs

In July 1999, management decided not to proceed with an initial public offering of the Company's common stock, and the Company wrote off approximately $3.9 million in deferred costs related to the offering.

Corporate Relocation Costs

In June 2000, the Company's headquarters were moved from South Burlington, Vermont, to Austin, Texas. The Company incurred costs of approximately $3.1 million in 2000 and $0.8 million in 2001 related to this relocation consisting primarily of costs to move physical assets and employee-related costs such as relocation incentives and moving allowances.

Federal Income Taxes

The Company utilizes the liability method of accounting for income taxes as set forth in SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes." Under the liability method, deferred taxes are determined based on the difference between the financial and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect in the years in which the differences are expected to reverse (see Note 9).

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company applies Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees," in accounting for its stock option plans. The Company has adopted the disclosure-only provisions of SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation." See Note 6 for a further discussion of the Company's stock option plans.

Use of Estimates

The presentation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures concerning contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Operating results in the future could vary from management's estimates and assumptions.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts reflected in the accompanying balance sheets for cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable approximate fair value due to the short-term nature of the instruments. Short-term investments are reflected at market value as determined by the most recently traded price of such investments as of the balance sheet date, and such market values as of December 31, 2000 and 2001, were not materially different from the cost of the investments. Management believes that the carrying amount of the Company's long-term debt approximates its fair value.

Derivative Financial Instruments

The Company follows the provisions of SFAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities," and SFAS No. 138, "Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities," in accounting for its derivative financial instruments. SFAS No. 133 requires that derivative instruments be recorded in the balance sheet as either assets or liabilities, depending upon the rights or obligations under the contracts, at their fair values. SFAS No. 133 also requires that changes in a derivative's fair value be recognized currently in earnings unless specific hedge accounting criteria are met. For a qualifying cash flow hedge, the changes in fair value of the derivative instrument are initially recognized in other comprehensive income and then are reclassified into earnings in the period that the hedged transaction affects earnings. For a qualifying fair value hedge, the changes in fair value of the derivative instrument are offset against the corresponding changes for the hedged item through earnings. Such accounting for qualifying hedges allows a derivative's gains and losses to offset related results of the hedged item in the income statement and requires the Company to formally document, designate and continuously assess the effectiveness of transactions that receive hedge accounting. SFAS No. 138 was issued in June 2000 and amended certain provisions of SFAS No. 133.

Confidential
SEC_ED00014545

The Company does not enter into derivative transactions for speculative purposes. The Company enters into derivative transactions that meet SFAS No. 133's definition of normal purchases and sales. Accordingly, the Company does not record the derivative transactions that meet the definition of normal purchases and sales on the balance sheet.

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets

The Company follows the provisions of SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of." If an evaluation is required under SFAS No. 121, the estimated future undiscounted cash flows associated with the asset are compared to the asset's carrying amount to determine if an impairment of such asset is necessary. The Company has not recognized any impairment losses pursuant to SFAS No. 121.

Reclassifications

Certain prior-year amounts have been reclassified to be consistent with the current year's presentation.

New Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations," and SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets." SFAS No. 141 requires that all business combinations subsequent to June 30, 2001, be accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. The pooling-of-interests method is no longer allowed. Under SFAS No. 142, goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives are no longer amortized but are reviewed annually (or more frequently if impairment indicators arise) for impairment. Separable intangible assets that are not deemed to have indefinite lives will continue to be amortized over their useful lives (but with no maximum life). SFAS No. 142 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. The Company adopted SFAS No. 142 effective January 1, 2002, the first day of fiscal year 2002. The adoption had no impact on the Company's financial position and results of operations.

In August 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets." SFAS No. 144 establishes a single accounting model, based upon the framework established in SFAS No. 121, for long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale. SFAS No. 144 broadens the presentation of discontinued operations to include more disposal transactions and also provides additional implementation guidance for SFAS No. 121. SFAS No. 144 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. The Company adopted SFAS No. 144 effective January 1, 2002, and such adoption had no impact on the Company's financial position and results of operations.

5. DEBT:Long-Term Debt

The Company had $44.5 million in long-term notes payable to an affiliate of a shareholder as of December 31, 2000 and 2001. Accrued and unpaid interest related to these notes of approximately $3.0 million and $5.9 million as of December 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively, is included with the principal amounts in the accompanying balance sheets.

The notes bear interest at 6 percent per annum with all accrued and unpaid interest added to the principal on each June 30 and December 31. The effective interest rate on the notes approximates the stated rate. The notes are unsecured and are due, along with accrued interest, on the earlier of June 2003 or the tenth day following a qualified initial public offering of the Company's common stock. As indicated in Note 2, subsequent to year-end, the Company converted approximately $9.1 million of its outstanding long-term debt to preferred stock.

6. CAPITAL STOCK:Convertible Preferred Stock

The Company is authorized to issue 50 million shares of preferred stock with a par value of $0.01 per share. The Company's preferred stock may be issued from time to time in one or more series as may be designated by the Company's board of directors. As of December 31, 2001, there were the following shares issued and outstanding: 10,843,372 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock; 11,296,659 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock; 4,216,867 shares of Series E convertible preferred stock; 3,719,176 shares of Series F convertible preferred stock; and 589,391 shares of Series G convertible preferred stock.

The shares of all series of the Company's preferred stock are convertible into the Company's common stock at any time at the record holder's option. The number of shares of common stock into which a share of preferred stock is convertible is based on a conversion price which initially provides for the conversion of one share of preferred stock into one share of common stock. The conversion price of each series of preferred stock will be adjusted downward in the event of stock splits, stock dividends or other dilutive events as described in each series' certificate of designation. In the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company or a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company, the holders of each series of preferred stock are entitled to receive, before any payment to the holders of common stock, an amount per share equal to the stated value (purchase price) of such shares and no more.

The holders of each series of preferred stock are entitled to receive dividends declared on common stock and to vote their shares on an as-converted basis. All such holders have additional voting rights and rights to receive dividends and distributions as described in each series' certificate of designation.

The Company redeemed 4,216,867 shares of Series C convertible preferred stock during the year ended December 31, 2000, for $3.44 per share. There were no shares of Series C convertible preferred stock outstanding as of December 31, 2000 and 2001.

In March 2001, the Company issued 392,927 shares of Series G convertible preferred stock valued at $5.09 per share in consideration for certain financial services provided by a third party. In April 2001, the Company issued 11,296,659 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock and 196,464 shares of Series G convertible preferred stock for cash in the amount of $5.09 per share.

In March 2002, the Company issued 2,947,150 shares of Series H convertible preferred stock for cash in the amount of $5.09 per share and converted $9.1 million of its outstanding long-term debt to an affiliate of a shareholder into 1,788,605 shares of Series H convertible preferred stock valued at $5.09 per share.

Common Stock

The Company is authorized to issue 150 million shares of common stock with a par value of $0.01 per share and had 25,475,364 shares issued and outstanding as of December 31, 2001. The Company has reserved 50 million common shares to be available for the conversion of its preferred stock and for exercise of its stock options and common stock warrants.

Stock Option Plans

The Company has two stock option plans: the Second Amended and Restated 1999 Stock Option Plan (the 1999 Plan) and the Limited Participant 2000 Stock Option Plan (the 2000 Plan). The 1999 Plan specifies that 8,646,909 shares of the Company's common stock can be awarded as options. The 2000 Plan specifies that 250,000 shares of the Company's common stock can be awarded as options. The 1999 Plan and the 2000 Plan provide for the Company's board of directors to adjust the number of shares of the Company's common stock available to be awarded as options. The options granted under these plans give plan participants the right, subject to certain terms and conditions, to purchase common stock of the Company.

The stock option plans provide for the grant of incentive and/or nonqualified stock options to directors, employees and consultants. The 1999 Plan also provides for the grant of stock appreciation rights. The stock options and stock appreciation rights granted under these plans vest ratably over a defined period and generally expire no more than 10 years from the date of grant.

The Company applies APB Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees," and related interpretations in accounting for its stock option plans. Accordingly, no compensation cost has been recognized for grants under the stock option plans, except for grants made to employees with exercise prices less than the estimated fair market value of the underlying common stock on the dates of grant and to individuals other than employees for services provided to the Company. The Company has recorded deferred compensation for employee options where the exercise price was less than the estimated fair market value of the underlying common stock and for the fair value of grants made to individuals other than employees. Deferred compensation is being amortized to expense over the vesting period of the options.

Had compensation cost for all stock option grants been determined based on their fair value at the dates of grant, consistent with the method prescribed by SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation," the Company's net loss would have been increased to the pro forma amounts indicated below (in thousands):

	Year Ended December 31

As reported	$(56,732)	$(51,041)	$(76,149)

The fair value of each option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for grants during the following years:

In April 2001, the Company issued to two shareholders separate Series B warrants entitling each of these shareholders to purchase up to 98,300 shares of the Company's common stock at $0.01 per share. These warrants were issued in connection with the shareholders' purchase of shares of the Company's Series B convertible preferred stock. These warrants are exercisable at any time between January and June 2002.

7. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES:Power Supply Agreements

Beginning in 2001, the Company began obtaining its primary energy supply to serve the power needs (including product content requirements) of the Company's customers from an affiliate of a shareholder of the Company (the Affiliate). As of December 31, 2001, substantially all of the power purchased by the Company on the wholesale electricity market was being purchased through arrangements between the Company and the Affiliate, although the Company has the ability to decide to purchase electricity without the assistance or involvement of the Affiliate in the future. In general, the Company from time to time enters into transactions with the Affiliate for power supply on a state-by-state or regional basis, and those transactions are effective for periods ranging from one year to five years. In turn, the Affiliate from time to time enters into legal obligations with electricity wholesalers and producers to purchase and pay for an amount of electricity, expressed as a number of megawatt hours, from the wholesalers and producers. The transactions generally require the Affiliate to match the aggregate customer requirements, less any power supplied through minor supply agreements with the other wholesale suppliers (see the following paragraph). For the major part of that power supply, the wholesale prices are fixed for the terms of the respective transactions. The Affiliate purchases electricity on behalf of the Company at the Company's request and passes on the cost of this electricity and certain related charges, including the costs of ancillary services and imbalance energy, to the Company. The Affiliate maintains credit and security arrangements with the Company to ensure that the Affiliate will be paid for the power supply. The Affiliate also trades in the wholesale electricity market for its own account.

During the year ended December 31, 2001, the Company entered into a power purchase agreement with the Affiliate to purchase a portion of the Company's energy supply. The Affiliate entered into a corresponding contractual arrangement with a third party who subsequently filed for bankruptcy, thereby defaulting under its agreement with the Affiliate. Based upon this default, the Affiliate terminated the power purchase agreement with the Company and, as a result, the Company became obligated to pay the Affiliate for the difference between the contract price for the supply under the agreement and the market price. The Company estimated the total amount of this settlement at approximately $2.7 million, based on estimated megawatt hours to be purchased over the remaining life of the agreement. The Company has accrued for this amount on its balance sheet and has included this amount in contract termination costs for the year ended December 31, 2001.

In addition to the arrangement with the Affiliate, the Company maintains minor agreements with various wholesale power suppliers, including the owners of wind and solar power generation facilities. Generally, these agreements are effective for periods ranging from one year to 15 years. Such suppliers also require the Company to maintain credit and security arrangements. The contracts are for a fixed price, and one of the contracts is adjustable subject to agreement of the parties. The contracts do not contain specified future minimum commitments. In 2000 and 2001, the cost under these agreements amounted to approximately $560,000 and $1.1 million, respectively, and such amounts have been reflected in cost of revenue in the accompanying statements of operations.

As of December 31, 2001, the Company, under certain power purchase agreements, had commitments for net purchases of 13,306,559 megawatt hours of electricity at prices ranging from $10.96 to $46.09 per megawatt hour through December 2006.

California Market

In February and March 2001, the Company reverted approximately 53,000 of its 60,000 California customers to incumbent local utilities. The Company priced its products to its California customers based on the Power Exchange (PX) Credit published by Pacific Gas & Electric, Southern California Edison and San Diego Gas & Electric. The price of power obtained by the Company under its wholesale supply contracts was also indexed to the PX Credit. The PX Credit represented the cost avoided by a utility from not having to buy power for a customer served by the Company. The calculation of the PX Credit was performed by each utility using a complex formula based on hourly prices in the California PX (CalPX) and the volume of utility purchases. The CalPX failed in January 2001 due in part to volatile market conditions. As a result, the formula became arbitrary at the discretion of each utility and subject to potential recalculation at a later date by order of the California Public Utilities Commission. This created risk to the Company, its customers and its suppliers and, as a result, management decided to minimize the risk for all parties by reverting the affected customers to their respective incumbent utilities. This decision had no effect on approximately 7,000 customers who were being served a fixed-price product that had no relation to the CalPX or the PX Credit.

The Company's California market generated approximately $8.4 million, $43.4 million and $12.5 million of the Company's revenue for the years ended December 31, 1999, 2000 and 2001, respectively, and the Company had accounts receivable totaling approximately $187,000 as of December 31, 2001, from its California customers. It is management's opinion that the remaining amount is collectible and, subsequent to year-end, the Company has continued to collect on these receivables.

As of December 31, 2001, the power supply for the California customers being served a fixed-price product by the Company began to be obtained through an arrangement with the Affiliate (see "Power Supply Agreements" above). The Company also maintains various long-term power supply agreements to purchase the output of certain current, and potentially future, power plants located in California. The Company is currently purchasing power under these agreements; however, the Company has not resold this power to customers, nor does it anticipate reselling the power to be purchased for the remaining term of the agreements. The Company has accrued $164,000 for the estimated loss on these agreements as of December 31, 2001.

Service Agreements

The Company has agreements with various third-party vendors to outsource its billing and collections process, manage its call center, assist in developing its marketing strategy and execute its marketing activities. The agreements generally require minimum monthly charges or retainers, which may be adjusted to reflect actual activity. The Company has recorded approximately $28.7 million, $19.4 million and $8.6 million in expense related to these agreements for the years ended December 31, 1999, 2000 and 2001, respectively.

During the year ended December 31, 2000, the Company signed agreements with two third-party vendors to assist the Company with its marketing activities over the internet. Each of the agreements has an initial term of one year and can be canceled after the initial period. In connection with the agreements, the vendors purchased in the aggregate 1,054,216 shares of the Company's Series A convertible preferred stock for $0.01 per share. Upon issuing the preferred stock, the Company recorded deferred consideration of approximately $3.5 million, which represented the difference between the estimated fair market value of the preferred stock on the dates of issuance ($3.32 per share) and the amount paid by the vendors. The Company has also made cash payments during 2000 totaling approximately $1.7 million under these agreements and recorded such payments as prepaid services. The deferred consideration and prepaid services are being amortized to sales and marketing expense over the terms of the agreements. The Company has recorded approximately $3.2 million and $2.0 million in sales and marketing expense related to these agreements for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively. During the year ended December 31, 2001, the Company terminated the agreements with both of the vendors.

Operating Leases

The Company leases its office facilities under various noncancelable operating leases. Future minimum rental payments required under the leases existing as of December 31, 2001, are as follows:

Year ending December 31-
2002	$ 711,257
2003	700,526
2004	687,728
2005	517,392
2006 and thereafter	105,446
	$2,722,349

Lease expense under these operating leases was approximately $314,000, $632,000 and $698,000 for the years ended December 31, 1999, 2000 and 2001, respectively.

Insurance

The Company carries a broad range of insurance coverage, including general liability, workers' compensation, directors' and officers', and an umbrella policy. The Company has not incurred significant claims or losses on any of these insurance policies.

Legal Proceedings

The Company was a party to several pending legal proceedings as of December 31, 2001. In management's opinion, none of these proceedings is expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

8. RELATED-PARTY TRANSACTIONS:Energy Services to California Commercial Accounts

The Company entered into a multi-facility energy services agreement with the Affiliate under which the Company provides power to certain commercial accounts in California. Under the agreement, such accounts pay the Company for power service at a rate discounted to the applicable tariff rates charged by the incumbent utilities. The agreement allocates responsibilities between the Company and the Affiliate with respect to metering, electronic data exchange and billing. A related letter agreement also provides for supply from the Affiliate to serve the commercial accounts. The board approved the terms of the agreement at its November 2001 meeting. The agreements confirm the terms approved by the board.

Power Supply Services

As indicated in Note 7, beginning in 2001, the Company began obtaining its primary energy supply to serve the power needs (including product content requirements) of the Company's customers from the Affiliate. As of December 31, 2001, substantially all of the power purchased by the Company on the wholesale electricity market is purchased through arrangements between the Company and the Affiliate, although the Company has the ability to decide to purchase electricity without the assistance or involvement of the Affiliate in the future. Pursuant to the agreement with the Affiliate, the Affiliate has agreed to identify, propose and, with the Company's prior written consent, execute transactions through which the Company could purchase, sell and/or exchange energy, capacity, transmission and related services. More specifically, the Affiliate is responsible for identifying and proposing transactions that will enable the Company to fulfill its energy amount and content obligations to its retail customers and, as described above, is also responsible for executing these transactions once approved. For the services provided to the Company by the Affiliate, the Company pays the Affiliate a fee per megawatt hour based on the energy delivered by the Affiliate for the Company's customers. The Company recorded approximately $10.6 million and $75.7 million in 2000 and 2001, respectively, in cost of revenue for power supplied by the Affiliate under the applicable power supply transactions.

During 2001, the Company bought the right to purchase energy supply from the Affiliate. The Company settled this contract with the Affiliate during the year. The Company paid approximately $1.4 million for the right to purchase the energy supply, and this amount is recorded as other financing costs.

Administrative Services and Support

In April 2001, the Company entered into a services and support agreement with the Affiliate. Pursuant to this agreement, the Company issued 405,923 shares of common stock valued at $5.09 per share to a current shareholder that is an affiliate of the Affiliate in consideration for the provision of certain administrative and energy-related consulting services through April 2002 to the Company by the Affiliate. The Company recorded approximately $2.1 million as deferred consideration and is amortizing to operating expense the balance over the term of the agreement.

Credit and Security Arrangements for Power Supply

The Affiliate maintains credit and security arrangements with the Company to provide credit support on behalf of the Company for energy purchases from energy wholesalers. On virtually all transactions undertaken by the Affiliate on behalf of the Company, the Company, in lieu of posting security in the form of a bond or letter of credit to the Affiliate, pays the Affiliate a fee equal to a percentage of the notional value of the transaction, which fee is paid by the Company over a term equal to the term of the electricity purchase transaction. To secure payment of this fee, the Company agreed to grant the Affiliate a first-priority security interest in the Company's accounts receivable. If the Company fails to cure a default within 30 days after receiving notice of such default, the Affiliate may terminate its relationship with the Company and accelerate the maturity of all amounts payable. The Company has recorded approximately $2.0 million as of December 31, 2001, as other financing costs related to the credit and security arrangements.

The Company and the Affiliate also agreed to the terms of a number of security agreements in March 2002 under which the Company has agreed to grant the Affiliate a first-priority security interest in, among other things, all of the Company's present and future accounts receivable, and the proceeds therefrom, attributable to its customers in California, Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Connecticut. In addition, the Company agreed to indemnify the Affiliate and its affiliates against, among other things, all claims brought against the Affiliate arising from the joint and several indemnity of Bank One, N.A. (Bank One), by the Company and the Affiliate under an escrow agreement, as described below. The security agreements will continue in effect until all amounts due from the Company to the Affiliate for energy supply services have been paid.

The Company, the Affiliate and Bank One agreed to the terms of a multiparty blocked account agreement which concerns the Company's demand deposit account at Bank One into which all of the Company's customer receivables are deposited. Under the agreement, the Affiliate has the exclusive right to direct and provide instructions to Bank One as to the disposition of all amounts deposited into the account. The Company and the Affiliate have agreed to indemnify Bank One on a joint and several basis from all claims, demands, losses, liabilities and expenses resulting from the agreement or Bank One's services provided thereunder. The Affiliate or Bank One may terminate this agreement upon thirty days' notice to the other parties.

Finally, the Company and the Affiliate agreed to the terms of an escrow agreement whereby the parties agreed that Bank One, as escrow agent, would transfer customer receivables from the Company's demand deposit account to an escrow account as of the close of each business day. On a monthly basis, the Company must instruct Bank One to disburse the funds in the escrow account, first, to the Affiliate in satisfaction of amounts that are owed to the Affiliate and, then, any remaining amount to the Company. In exchange for its services, the Company agreed to pay Bank One certain fees in connection with providing these escrow activities. The Company is also liable to Bank One for its out-of-pocket expenses as well as for any extraordinary services, such as travel and legal services, that Bank One may incur pursuant to the agreement. In the event that the Company is in default under any of the above agreements and the Affiliate delivers a sworn affidavit to that effect to Bank One, the Affiliate will be entitled to receive all of the property in the escrow account. Furthermore, the Company and the Affiliate agreed to indemnify Bank One, jointly and severally, from all costs, losses, liabilities and expenses resulting from either the agreement or Bank One's services. The escrow agreement will remain in effect until Bank One receives written confirmation that the security agreements have been terminated and that no amounts remain payable by the Company to the Affiliate for the obligations secured thereby.

Service Mark License

The Company recorded royalties of approximately $167,000 and $416,666 for the years ended December 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively, pursuant to the terms of a license agreement between the Company and an Affiliate of a shareholder relating to the use of the Green Mountain Energy™ name. These royalties are reflected in revenue in the accompanying statements of operations.

Advertising and Promotion Services

Beginning in 1999, the Company purchased advertising, promotional and related consulting services from firms that are affiliates of two of its shareholders. The Company recorded a total of approximately $17.4 million, $10.7 million and $1.2 million in expense during the years ended December 31, 1999, 2000 and 2001, respectively, related to these services and had amounts payable totaling approximately $702,000 and $- to these firms as of December 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively. The Company's relationship with both firms has been terminated as of December 31, 2001.

Effective December 2001, the Company entered into a marketing services agreement with an advertising agency. Under that agreement, the Company agreed to pay the agency a certain monthly fee and certain expenses and markups on any media buys and to issue to the agency 29,469 shares of the Company's common stock valued at $5.09 per share. Such shares were issued in 2002. The Company has also agreed to issue such agency additional shares of the common stock if the agency's efforts result in certain numbers of customers for the Company in 2002. The Company incurred no expenses to the agency in 2001.

Technology and Consulting

From 1999 through 2001, the Company purchased certain information technology consulting and operations services from a firm that, during 1999 and 2000, was affiliated with a shareholder of the Company. The Company recorded approximately $3.3 million, $3.6 million and $1.0 million in expense during the years ended December 31, 1999, 2000 and 2001, respectively, related to these services and had amounts payable of approximately $207,000 and $- to the firm as of December 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively.

9. INCOME TAXES:

The Company has generated losses since its incorporation in 1999, but it has not recognized any federal or state tax benefit resulting from such losses due to uncertainties regarding the Company's ability to utilize the losses in its future tax returns.

As of December 31, 2001, the Company has a net operating loss (NOL) of approximately $146.6 million, which is available to offset future U.S. taxable income. This loss will begin to expire in 2020. The Company has net deferred tax assets of approximately $23.9 million and $50.0 million as of December 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively, which represent the NOL and differences between the book and tax bases of various assets and liabilities. The utilization of the NOL carryforward and other deferred tax assets is limited to the Company's U.S. taxable income in any given year. Furthermore, additional limits under Internal Revenue Code Section 382 may be imposed on the utilization of the NOL carryforward in the event of an ownership change (as defined in Section 382). Due to the uncertainty surrounding the realization of these deferred tax assets, a valuation allowance of $23.9 million and $50.0 million as of December 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively, has been established against such assets. This valuation allowance will be reversed through the statement of operations as the deferred tax assets are utilized or when it is determined that it is more likely than not that these assets will be realized.

10. EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN:

The Company has a defined contribution plan for its employees. The plan provides for employee contributions, discretionary Company contributions and a Company matching contribution equal to 50 percent of each employee's contribution up to the first 6 percent of such contribution. Both the employee and Company contributions vest immediately. The Company made cash contributions of approximately $129,000, $181,000 and $205,000 for the years ended December 31, 1999, 2000 and 2001, respectively.

11. SUBSEQUENT EVENT:

Subsequent to year-end, the Company and USPowerSolutions Corporation (USPS) entered into an agreement which, subject to various terms and conditions, provides for the acquisition by the Company of USPS and all the outstanding senior secured notes of USPS not held by the Company. If this transaction is consummated, shareholders of USPS will receive as consideration a new series of convertible preferred stock designated from the authorized and unissued preferred stock of the Company. This transaction is contingent upon, among other things, the approval of the shareholders of USPS. The Company anticipates that the transaction will occur during the second quarter of 2002. USPS provides enterprise software services and solutions centered on a flexible, scalable technology platform that enables energy companies to grow and prosper in rapidly deregulated energy markets. The Company is presently a customer of USPS pursuant to a services agreement entered into by the Company and USPS in October 2000.

Report of Independent Auditors

To the Stockholders of Green Mountain Energy Company

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and the related consolidated statements of operations, of changes in stockholders' deficit and of cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Green Mountain Energy Company (the "Company") at December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company has incurred losses and negative cash flows from operations since inception and has a net capital deficiency which raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 2. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

Green Mountain Energy Company
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2003 and 2002

1. Organization and Business

Green Mountain Energy Company (the "Company"), a Delaware corporation, markets and sells electricity produced from renewable and other environmentally preferable sources to residential and commercial customers. The Company provides less-polluting electricity directly to customers in states that allow competition among retail electricity providers; in states that do not allow retail competition, the Company provides supply and marketing services to utilities which sell less-polluting electricity to their customers. As of December 31, 2003 and 2002, the Company was serving approximately 593,600 and 583,700 customers, respectively, located in California, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Texas, Ohio, Oregon, and New York. As further discussed in Note 9, the Company discontinued serving all of its customers in Connecticut in March 2003 and all of its residential customers in California in May 2003. In December 2003, the Company's two supply and marketing services agreements with two Oregon incumbent utilities expired. One was renewed through 2006.

During 2003, the Company consolidated operations in certain regions, and the Company closed offices in Pennsylvania and Vermont. In 2004, the Company discontinued serving part of its Pennsylvania customers due to the expiration of a competitive default service program.

2. Liquidity and Going Concern

The Company operates in competitive retail electricity markets in several states. The competitive retail electricity market in the United States continues to develop, and a limited number of states have restructured the retail sale of electricity. The continued development of the Company's direct access business will depend upon, among other things, the continued existence and operation of markets having rules that favor competition among retail electricity providers, including the incumbent utilities or their affiliates, the Company's ability to expand its customer base in its current markets, and its ability to enter new markets in a timely manner at reasonable costs. In addition, the Company continues to develop relationships in regulated markets with incumbent utilities or their affiliates to offer less-polluting electricity products.

The Company is subject to the risks and volatility of retail electricity markets and has incurred significant operating expenses to develop its business. Its ability to become profitable will depend on the existence of favourable regulatory structures in retail electricity markets, and its ability to acquire and retain customers at a reasonable cost, sell its products at a sufficient margin, effectively manage its electricity supply requirements, and further develop its internal corporate organization and systems.

Green Mountain Energy Company
December 31, 2003 and 2002

The Company has suffered recurring losses from operations, and it has not generated positive cash flows from operations on an annual basis since its inception. The Company's operations and the expansion of its business have been funded by equity and debt financing. In May and June 2003, the Company obtained additional debt financing of approximately $10.0 million and $10.0 million, respectively. Management estimates that the Company's working capital will be sufficient to fund its operations and the expansion of its business through the end of 2004, at which time, the Company anticipates positive cash flows from operations. There is no assurance, however, that the Company will be able to achieve profitable operations or that additional equity or debt financing can be obtained or that it can be obtained on acceptable terms, as necessary. The matters discussed above raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

3. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Green Mountain Energy Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents consist of cash held in bank deposit accounts and short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of 90 days or less.

Restricted Cash

Certain utilities, power supply vendors, state regulatory agencies and other organizations require various types of collateral to ensure fulfillment of the Company's commitments. Cash providing such collateral has been classified as short-term and long-term restricted cash in the accompanying balance sheets.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the various classes of depreciable property as follows:

Computer hardware	3 years
Purchased computer software	3 years
Furniture, fixtures and vehicles	5 years
Web site development costs	3 years

Revenue Recognition and Cost of Revenues

Revenues from the sale of electricity are recorded based on electricity delivered to customers and on contracts and scheduled power usages, as appropriate. Electric energy provided subsequent to billing dates through the end of each calendar month is accrued as estimated unbilled revenues. Unbilled revenues were approximately $16.3 million and $14.2 million at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, and are included in accounts receivable.

Cost of revenue consists of the cost of power delivered to the Company's customers as well as charges relating to the transmission and distribution of the electricity, functions which are provided by the incumbent utilities. The cost of power also includes environmental attributes or renewable energy credits ("Green Tags"). Power costs for which suppliers have not billed the Company are estimated each period and are included in accrued cost of revenue.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk are primarily cash and accounts receivable. Concentrations of credit risk with respect to the Company's receivables are limited due to the large number of customers, small individual balances and short payment terms.

In certain markets in Pennsylvania, Connecticut and New Jersey, the incumbent utility remits payment to the Company for the amount of the Company's billings and is responsible for collecting from the Company's customers. In these instances, the incumbent utility bears the risk of collection. In other markets such as Texas and Ohio, the Company bears the collection risk for the Company's charges, as well as the charges of transmission and distribution providers. During 2003 and 2002, the Company incurred significant past due amounts in the Texas and Ohio markets. As a result, the Company has increased the allowance for doubtful accounts and returned its delinquent or non-paying customers to the incumbent utility. The Company believes that collection risk is mitigated by an agreement entered into with the incumbent utility in 2003 (Note 9) which provides for protection relative to late payments in Ohio.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred. Total advertising costs for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002 were approximately $1.8 million and $3.7 million, respectively.

Income Taxes

Income taxes are accounted for using the asset and liability method. Under this method, deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which these temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. If based upon the weight of available evidence it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized, valuation allowances are provided.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company applies Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, in accounting for its stock option plans. The Company has adopted the disclosure-only provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation as amended by SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation-Transition and Disclosure. Had compensation cost for all stock option grants been determined based on their fair value at the dates of grant, consistent with the method prescribed by SFAS No. 123, the Company's net loss would have been increased to the pro forma amounts indicated below:

(in thousands)	December 31
	2003	2002
Net loss as reported	$ (41,790)	$ (75,109)
Stock-based compensation charges for employee awards under the intrinsic value method	170	467
Stock-based compensation determined under the fair value method	(906)	(2,011)
Pro-forma net loss	$ (42,526)	$ (76,653)

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts reflected in the accompanying balance sheets for cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable approximate fair value due to the short-term nature of the instruments. Management believes that the carrying amount of the Company's long-term debt approximates its fair value, based on borrowing rates currently available to the Company for debt with similar terms.

Derivative Financial Instruments

SFAS No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, requires an entity to recognize all of its derivatives as either assets or liabilities on its balance sheet and measure those instruments at fair value. If the conditions specified in SFAS No. 133 are met, those instruments may be designated as hedges. Changes in the value of hedge instruments would not impact earnings, except to the extent that the instrument is not perfectly effective as a hedge.

The Company does not enter into derivative transactions for speculative purposes; however, the Company enters into derivative transactions that meet SFAS No. 133's definition of normal purchases and sales and, therefore, are excluded from the accounting provisions of SFAS No. 133.

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets

The Company evaluates long-lived assets held and used by the Company for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their net book value may not be recoverable. When such factors and circumstances exist, the Company compares the projected undiscounted future cash flows associated with the related asset or group of assets over their estimated useful lives against their respective carrying amounts. Impairment, if any, is based on the excess of the carrying amount over the fair value, based on market value when available, or discounted expected cash flows, of those assets and is recorded in the period in which the determination is made.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2003 and 2002

Goodwill and Purchased Intangible Assets

In June 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Under SFAS No. 142, amortization of goodwill is prohibited, and goodwill is subjected to reviews for impairment at least annually. Intangible assets with finite lives are ratably amortized to expense over the period they are economically useful. Intangible assets having indefinite useful lives are carried at cost and subjected to reviews for impairment at least annually.

Reclassifications

Certain prior period balances have been reclassified in order to conform to the current year presentation.

4. Acquisition of US PowerSolutions Corporation

On June 26, 2002, the Company acquired US PowerSolutions Corporation (the "Acquired Business"). The transaction was accounted for as a purchase business combination. The Acquired Business was engaged in developing and providing billing and collection services for organizations in the utility industry. The Acquired Business was expected to enhance the Company's ability to process and maintain customer billing data and enable the Company to enter the billing service provider industry.

The consideration given included 1,281,973 shares of Series I convertible preferred stock and forgiveness of $1.6 million of obligations owed to the Company, net of transaction fees of approximately $606,000. As of December 31, 2003 and 2002, the Company had issued 1,180,748 and 1,091,525 shares, respectively, of Series I convertible preferred stock in connection with the acquisition. As of December 31, 2003, the remaining shares with a value of approximately $515,000 have been included in accrued liabilities.

The purchase price was allocated to the tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on estimates of fair value at the acquisition date.

The following table shows the allocation of the purchase price for the Acquired Business:

(in thousands)

Value assigned to assets and liabilities acquired
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 33
Accounts receivable and other assets	564

Capitalized software	545
Goodwill	8,359
Short-term liabilities	(2,107)
Long-term liabilities	(190)
Net assets	$ 7,204

In December 2002, the Company concluded that it would not expand its business and become a billing service provider. As a result, the Company determined its goodwill was impaired under the provisions of SFAS No. 142 and recorded an impairment charge of $8.4 million.

Long-Term Accrued Liabilities

In conjunction with the release of approximately $15.0 million of restricted cash in February 2003, certain stockholders guaranteed reimbursement of Letters of Credit issued for the benefit of the Company. In return for this guarantee, the Company agreed to pay these stockholders a fee in the amount of 9% per annum on the amount guaranteed. In a separate transaction, certain stockholders guaranteed reimbursement of Letters of Credit totaling $6.8 million for the benefit of the Company. Green Mountain Energy Company
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2003 and 2002

Conversion

The shares of all series of the Company's convertible stock are convertible into the Company's common stock at any time at the preferred stockholder's option. The number of shares of common stock into which a share of preferred stock is convertible is based on a conversion price, which initially provides for the conversion of one share of preferred stock into one share of common stock. The conversion price of each series of preferred stock will be adjusted in the event additional shares of the Company's common stock are issued or deemed issued in an amount less than the conversion price in effect on the date of the issuance or deemed issuance of such common stock. In addition, the conversion price of each series of preferred stock will be adjusted downward in the event of stock splits, stock dividends or other dilutive events as described in each series' certificate of designation. On October 10, 2003, the conversion price of the Series B, G, H, I and J convertible preferred stock was adjusted from $5.09 per share to $5.01 per share as a result of the issuance of employee stock options with an exercise price of $3.50 per share. On February 24, 2004, the conversion price of the Series B, G, H, I and J convertible preferred stock was further adjusted from $5.01 per share to $4.99 per share as a result of the issuance of additional employee stock options with an exercise price of $3.50 per share.

Dividends

The holders of each series of preferred stock are entitled to receive, when and as declared by the Board of Directors and out of funds legally available, non-cumulative dividends in preference and priority to any payment of any dividend on common stock. Through December 31, 2003, no dividends have been declared or paid by the Company.

8. Stock Option Plans

The Company has two stock option plans: the Second Amended and Restated 1999 Stock Option Plan (the "1999 Plan") and the Limited Participant 2000 Stock Option Plan (the "2000 Plan"). The 1999 Plan currently provides that 8,646,909 shares of the Company's common stock can be awarded as options. The 2000 Plan currently provides that 250,000 shares of the Company's common stock can be awarded as options. The 1999 Plan and the 2000 Plan allow the Company's board of directors to adjust the number of shares of the Company's common stock available to be awarded as options. The options granted under these plans give plan participants the right, subject to certain terms and conditions, to purchase common stock of the Company.

The stock option plans provide for the grant of incentive and/or nonqualified stock options to directors, employees and consultants. The 1999 Plan also provides for the grant of stock appreciation rights. The stock options and stock appreciation rights granted under these plans have exercise prices ranging from $3.32 to $6.67 per share. Under the 1999 Plan, incentive stock options may be granted to directors or consultants at prices not lower than 100% of the fair market value of the Company's common stock at the date of grant as determined by the board of directors. Under the 2000 Plan, incentive stock options may be granted to employees, and non-statutory stock options may be granted to directors and consultants, at prices not lower than 85% of the fair market value of the Company's common stock at the date of grant as determined by the board of directors. In addition, options awarded under the 2000 Plan to a beneficial owner of 10% or more of the Company's voting stock must have an exercise price no lower than 110% of the fair market value of the Company's common stock at the date of grant as determined by the board of directors. Generally, options vest over a four year period (25% at end of the first year from date of grant, and 6.25% on the first day of each subsequent calendar quarter) and are exercisable for a period of ten years from the date of grant.

Green Mountain Energy Company
December 31, 2003 and 2002

The Company applies APB Opinion No. 25 and related interpretations in accounting for its stock option plans. Accordingly, no compensation cost has been recognized for grants under the stock option plans, except for grants made to employees with exercise prices less than the estimated fair market value of the underlying common stock on the dates of grant and to individuals other than employees for services provided to the Company. The Company has recorded deferred compensation for the fair value of grants made to non-employees. Deferred compensation is being amortized to expense over the vesting period of the options.

The fair value of each option grant to employees is estimated on the date of grant using the minimum value method with the following weighted average assumptions used for grants during the following years:

	2003	2002
Volatility	$ -	$ -
Dividend yield	-	-
Risk-free interest rate	2.72% - 3.08%	2.58% - 4.46%
Expected life	4 years	4 years

A summary of the status of the Company's stock option plans is presented below:

The weighted average fair value per share of options granted during 2003 and 2002 was $0.39 and $0.61, respectively. Forfeitures generally relate to expiration of options under earlier stock option plans and the termination of employees.

The following table summarizes information about stock options outstanding as of December 31, 2003:

None of the options have been exercised and 120,300 options have been forfeited (these forfeitures are reflected in the table above) as of December 31, 2003. The remaining stock appreciation rights of 84,597 shares of common stock are exercisable as of December 31, 2003. No compensation expense has been recognized by the Company related to these stock appreciation rights as the estimated fair value of the common stock is below the exercise price of $6.67 per share.

Warrants

In 1997, the Company issued to certain consultants and advisors warrants entitling the holders to purchase, in the aggregate, 11,940 shares of common stock at $75.40 per share. These warrants were exercisable upon issuance and expired in August 2002.

In April 2001, the Company issued to two stockholders separate Series B warrants entitling each of these stockholders to purchase up to 98,300 shares of the Company's common stock at $0.01 per share. These warrants were issued in connection with the stockholders' purchase of shares of the Company's Series B convertible preferred stock. These warrants were exercised in 2002, with a total of 196,600 shares of common stock being issued.

9. Commitments and Contingencies

Power Supply Agreements

In 2001, the Company began obtaining its primary electricity supply from an affiliate of a stockholder of the Company (the "Affiliate"). As of December 31, 2001, substantially all of the power purchased by the Company on the wholesale electricity market was being purchased through arrangements between the Company and the Affiliate, although the Company has the ability to decide to purchase electricity without the assistance or involvement of the Affiliate in the future. These arrangements were set out in an energy services agreement entered into by the Company and the Affiliate in September 2000. This agreement expired in December 2003 and was replaced with an amended and restated energy services agreement dated as of October 15, 2004 ("Amended ESA"). The principal financial terms of the Amended ESA apply from January 2003 and expire in December 2006. The remaining terms apply from January 2004 to December 2006. The Company maintains credit and security arrangements with the Affiliate to ensure that the Affiliate will be paid for the power supply. The affiliate also trades in the wholesale electricity market for its own account.

In general, under the Amended ESA, the Company from time to time enters into transactions with the Affiliate to buy power and in turn, the Affiliate enters into legal obligations to buy power from electricity wholesalers. The Affiliate generally matches the Company's aggregate customer load requirements, and for significant portions of the Company's power supply, the wholesale prices are fixed for the terms of the respective transactions. The Affiliate purchases electricity on behalf of the Company at the Company's request and passes on the cost of this electricity and certain related charges, including the costs of transmission, ancillary services and imbalance energy, to the Company.

During the year ended December 31, 2001, the Company entered into a power purchase agreement with the Affiliate to purchase a portion of the Company's electricity supply. The Affiliate entered into a corresponding contractual arrangement with a third party which subsequently filed for bankruptcy, thereby defaulting under its agreement with the Affiliate. Based upon this default, the Affiliate terminated the power purchase agreement with the Company and as a result, the Company became obligated to pay the Affiliate for the difference between the contract price for the supply under the agreement and the market price. The Company estimated the total amount of this settlement at approximately $2.7 million in 2001 and in 2002 lowered the estimate by approximately $356,000, based on estimated megawatt hours to be purchased over the remaining life of the agreement. The Company recorded this amount as contract termination costs. This amount is payable ratably each month from January 2004 through December 2006.

In addition to the arrangement with the Affiliate, the Company maintains minor agreements with various wholesale power suppliers (one of which is an affiliate of a stockholder of the Company), including the owners of wind and solar power generation facilities. Generally, these agreements are effective for periods ranging from two years to fifteen years. Most of such suppliers require the Company to maintain credit and security arrangements. Most are for a fixed price, except one contract is at market price and one is adjustable according to a formula agreed to by the parties. All do not contain specified future minimum commitments. However, almost all of these agreements require the Company to purchase all output from the wind or solar facility. In 2003 and 2002, the cost under these agreements amounted to approximately $2.4 and $2.1 million, respectively, and such amounts have been reflected in cost of revenue in the accompanying statements of operations.

Green Mountain Energy Company
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2003 and 2002

As of December 31, 2003, the Company, under power purchase agreements, had commitments for net purchases of 10.0 million megawatt hours of electricity at fixed prices ranging from $20.40 to $56.50 per megawatt hour through 2006.

In addition to purchasing power to meet its electricity supply obligations, the Company also purchases Green Tags to supply and support the Company's electricity and electricity-based products. Green Tags represent the environmental attributes associated with electricity generated by renewable or other similarly beneficial generation resources, which the Company uses to support its marketing claims. A portion of the Company's Green Tag supply is purchased from the Affiliate through the arrangement described above.

In June 2003, the Company entered into an agreement with an energy provider to purchase 3.2 million Green Tags from 2004 through 2008 for a total purchase price of $28.8 million. In conjunction with this arrangement, the Company also acquired the naming rights for the West Texas wind generation facility that produces Green Tags.

In addition to the arrangement with the Affiliate, the Company purchases Green Tags through fixed price agreements with other suppliers. Generally, these agreements are for immediate purchase or are effective for up to three years. Some contain minimum commitments or require the Company to purchase all output of Green Tags from a particular facility. In 2003 and 2002, the total cost of Green Tags for the Company amounted to approximately $6.5 million and $8.8 million, respectively, and such amounts have been reflected in cost of revenue in the accompanying statements of operations.

Market Changes

In May 2003, the Company decided to discontinue service to approximately 3,000 residential customers in California. Current regulations preclude the expansion of residential business and add difficulty to continued service for current customers. In addition, the current supply contract for these customers expired in May 2003, and the Company decided that the contract would not be renewed. The Company's California market generated approximately $474,000 and $2.2 million of the Company's revenue for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The Company has fully reserved all remaining accounts receivable, approximately $470,000, as of December 31, 2003.

In March 2003, the Company discontinued service to all of its approximately 1,300 customers in Connecticut. The Company took this action because of a low, fixed standard offer rate that had a negative effect on retail competition, recently adopted regulations that made it cost prohibitive to bring less-polluting electricity into Connecticut, and a lack of evidence that a competitive electricity market would soon develop in the state. The Company's Connecticut market generated approximately $192,000 and $478,000 of the Company's revenue for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The Company has fully reserved all remaining accounts receivable as of December 31, 2003.

The Company's three-year agreement to provide competitive default service to residential customers in Pennsylvania expired in January 2004. Approximately 28,000 customers serviced pursuant to this agreement were returned to the incumbent utility, after which, the Company continued to serve approximately 39,000 customers in Pennsylvania.

December 31, 2003 and 2002

In December 2003, the Company's Trademark License and Services Agreement with an incumbent utility in Oregon expired. In January 2004, the term of a similar agreement with another Oregon incumbent utility was extended through December 2006. Pursuant to this extended agreement, the Company provides supply, marketing and sales services to the incumbent utility in connection with the utility's offering of less-polluting electricity. As of December 31, 2003, approximately 21,000 customers had selected this offering.

Operating Leases

The Company leases its office facilities under various operating leases. Future minimum rental payments required under the leases existing as of December 31, 2003 are as follows:

Year Ended December 31,	Operating Leases
2004	$ 1,288,968
2005	569,511
2006	56,700
2007	-
2008 and thereafter	-
Total minimum lease payments	$ 1,915,179

Lease expense under these operating leases was approximately $2.0 and $1.5 million for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

The Company also leases certain equipment under capital lease arrangements. Total commitments for capital leases were approximately $178,000 and $287,000 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. In May and June 2003, a buyout was made of certain capital lease arrangements for an amount of approximately $52,000. The remaining capital lease commitments will be paid in 2004.

Insurance

The Company carries a broad range of insurance coverage, including general liability, workers' compensation, directors' and officers' liability, and an umbrella policy. The Company has not incurred significant claims or losses on any of these insurance policies.

Legal Proceedings

The Company is currently involved in matters regarding pending or threatened litigation in the normal course of business. Management does not expect the ultimate resolution of these matters to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial statements.

In May 2003, the Company entered into an agreement with a former vendor settling breach of contract claims asserted by the vendor against the Company and by the Company against the vendor. This agreement requires the Company to pay the vendor $1.5 million dollars in installments over a term expiring in 2006. The Company accrued this amount in full as of December 31, 2002 and paid $500,000 during 2003.

Green Mountain Energy Company
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2003 and 2002

In August 2003, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio ("PUCO") approved an agreement entered into by the Company and several other parties, including incumbent utilities in Ohio, settling a complaint brought by the Company and another competitive retail electric service provider before the PUCO. This agreement requires the incumbent utilities to make certain changes to the way they credit customer payments to the Company. This has resulted in timelier customer remittances and has improved the rate at which customer arrears are brought current.

In October 2003, three incumbent utilities in North-eastern Ohio filed an application with the PUCO seeking approval of a plan to change to the regulatory structure of the retail electricity markets in these utilities' service territories ("Incumbents' Plan"). The requested changes would have applied during 2005 through 2008 and would have adversely affected the profitability of the customers served by the Company in North-eastern Ohio during that time. The Company and a number of other market participants opposed the Incumbents' Plan.

After a hearing, the PUCO approved the Incumbents' Plan with several changes. One important change was to set 2005 shopping credits at the level requested by the Company. This will allow the Company to sell electricity at expected prices, rather than the lower prices that would have applied under the Incumbents' Plan. The Incumbents' Plan also included several improvements for 2006 through 2008. However, these improvements alone will not create a regulatory structure within which the Company can earn a profit in Northeast Ohio during 2006 through 2008. The Company will try to remedy this by seeking lower-cost wholesale supply and suggesting changes to the aggregation contract under which the Company serves its Northeast Ohio customers. It is uncertain whether the Company will be able to obtain either of these.

As part of its approval and modification of the Incumbents' Plan, the PUCO required a competitive wholesale auction to be held. This auction is scheduled for December 2004 and will test whether the generation pricing contained in the Incumbents' Plan is competitive. If the PUCO decides that the auction results would provide better generation pricing, the Incumbents' Plan will not go into effect and the utilities' generation pricing for 2006 through 2008 will be based on the auction results. The PUCO has announced that if the Incumbents' Plan survives this first auction, it may use auctions in later years to again test the Incumbents' Plan's competitiveness. The Company will not know what its pricing will be during 2006 through 2008 until these auctions have been held and either approved or rejected by the PUCO. The Company believes the PUCO will rule on the first auction during the first calendar quarter of 2005.

The PUCO's modification and approval of the Incumbents' Plan has been appealed to the Supreme Court of Ohio. The Company has not yet joined that appeal. It is not certain when a decision on the appeal will be made. A variety of outcomes are possible. Several could lead to further changes in the regulatory structure for 2006 through 2008.

10. Related-Party Transactions

Energy Services to California Commercial Accounts

The Company entered into a multi-facility energy services agreement with the Affiliate (see Note 9) under which the Company provided power to certain commercial accounts in California. Under the agreement, such accounts paid the Company for power service at a rate discounted to the applicable tariff rates charged by the incumbent utilities. The agreement allocated responsibilities between the Company and the Affiliate with respect to metering, electronic data exchange and billing. A related letter agreement also provided for supply from the Affiliate to serve the commercial accounts. The Affiliate terminated this agreement in 2004 (see Note 13).

Power Supply Services

On October 15, 2004 the Company entered into the Amended ESA with the Affiliate (see Note 9). This agreement replaced an earlier energy services agreement entered into by the Company and the Affiliate in September 2000 ("ESA"). In general, under the Amended ESA, the Company from time to time enters into transactions with the Affiliate to buy power, and in turn, the Affiliate enters into legal obligations to buy power from electricity wholesalers. The Affiliate generally matches the Company's aggregate customer load requirements, and for significant portions of the Company's power supply the wholesale prices are fixed for the terms of the respective transactions. Under the Amended ESA, the Affiliate purchases electricity on behalf of the Company at the Company's request and passes on the cost of this electricity and certain related charges, including the costs of transmission, ancillary services and imbalance energy, to the Company. These arrangements under the Amended ESA are substantially similar to those under the ESA. The Company recorded approximately $300.3 million and $180.3 million in 2003 and 2002, respectively, in cost of revenues for power supplied by the Affiliate under the ESA and the Amended ESA.

In January 2002, the Company entered into a power purchase agreement with an affiliate of a stockholder of the Company to purchase all output from solar power generation facilities for a ten year period at a fixed price. The Company paid approximately $181,000 and $97,000 in 2003 and 2002, respectively, under this agreement.

Administrative Services and Support

In April 2001, the Company entered into a services and support agreement with the Affiliate (see Note 9). Pursuant to this agreement, the Company issued 405,923 shares of common stock valued at $5.09 per share to a current stockholder that is an affiliate of the Affiliate in consideration for the provision of certain administrative and energy-related consulting services to the Company by the Affiliate. The Company recorded approximately $2.1 million as deferred consideration and completed amortizing this balance to operating expense during 2002, amortizing approximately $300,000 during the year ended December 31, 2002. This agreement expired on April 1, 2002.

Credit and Security Arrangements for Power Supply

The Company maintains credit and security arrangements with the Affiliate to provide credit support on behalf of the Company for energy and supply purchases from energy and supply wholesalers. On virtually all transactions undertaken by the Affiliate on behalf of the Company, the Company, in lieu of posting security in the form of a bond or Letters of Credit in favor of the Affiliate, pays the Affiliate a fee equal to a percentage of the notional value of the transaction, which fee is paid by the Company over a term equal to the term of the electricity purchase transaction. In addition, the Company agreed to grant the Affiliate a first-priority security interest in the Company's account receivables, see further discussion in the following paragraph. If the Company fails to cure a default within 10 days after receiving notice of such default, the Affiliate may terminate its relationship with the Company and accelerate the maturity of all amounts payable. The Company recorded approximately $5.3 million and $4.1 million for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, of other financing costs related to the credit and security arrangements.

The Company and the Affiliate have also agreed to a number of security agreements under which the Company granted the Affiliate a first-priority security interest in, among other things, all of the Company's present and future accounts receivable, and the proceeds there from, attributable to its customers in California, Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Connecticut. In addition, the Company agreed to indemnify the Affiliate against, among other things, all claims brought against the Affiliate arising from the joint and several indemnity of Bank One, N.A. ("Bank One") by the Company and the Affiliate under an escrow agreement, as described below, other than arising from the negligence or willful misconduct of the indemnified party. The security agreements will continue in effect until all amounts due from the Company to the Affiliate for energy supply services have been paid.

The Company, the Affiliate and Bank One agreed to the terms of a multiparty blocked account agreement, which concerns the Company's demand deposit account at Bank One into which virtually all of the Company's customer receivables are deposited. Under the agreement, the Affiliate has the exclusive right to direct and provide instructions to Bank One as to the disposition of all amounts deposited into the account. The Company and the Affiliate have agreed to indemnify Bank One on a joint and several basis from all claims, demands, losses, liabilities and expenses resulting from the agreement or Bank One's services provided thereunder. The Affiliate or Bank One may terminate this agreement upon thirty days' notice to the other parties.

Green Mountain Energy Company
December 31, 2003 and 2002

Finally, the Company and the Affiliate agreed to the terms of an escrow agreement whereby the parties agreed that Bank One, as escrow agent, would transfer customer receivables from the Company's demand deposit account to an escrow account as of the close of each business day. On a monthly basis, the Company must instruct Bank One to disburse the funds in the escrow account, first, to the Affiliate in a specified amount (in satisfaction of amounts that are owed to the Affiliate) and, then, any remaining amount to the Company. In exchange for its services, the Company agreed to pay Bank One certain fees in connection with providing these escrow activities. The Company is also liable to Bank One for its out-of-pocket expenses as well as for any extraordinary services, such as travel and legal services that Bank One may incur pursuant to the agreement. In the event that the Company is in default under any of the above agreements and the Affiliate delivers a sworn affidavit to that effect to Bank One, the Affiliate will be entitled to receive all of the property in the escrow account. Furthermore, the Company and the Affiliate agreed to indemnify Bank One, joint and severally, from all costs, losses, liabilities and expenses resulting from either the agreement or Bank One's services. The escrow agreement will remain in effect until Bank One receives written confirmation that the security agreements have been terminated and that no amounts remain payable by the Company to the Affiliate for the obligations secured thereby.

During 2003, the Company and the Affiliate agreed to close the escrow account. The Company and the Affiliate agreed to utilize a separate account where customer receivables are deposited and subsequently disbursed to the Affiliate on a daily basis until satisfaction of current amounts owed to the Affiliate are paid in full.

11. Income Taxes

The Company has generated losses since its incorporation in 1999, but it has not recognized any federal or state tax benefit resulting from such losses due to uncertainties regarding the Company's ability to utilize the losses in its future tax returns.

As of December 31, 2003, the Company has a net operating loss ("NOL") carryover of approximately $242.2 million and a Research and Development Tax Credit carryover of approximately $0.6 million, which may be available to offset future U.S. taxable income and taxes. These carryovers will begin to expire in 2020, if not utilized. Utilization of the net operating losses and tax credits may be subject to a substantial annual limitation due to the "change in ownership" provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. The annual limitation may result in the expiration of net operating losses and tax credits before utilization.

The Company has net deferred tax assets of approximately $105.1 million and $89.3 million as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, which represent the NOL carryover, the tax credit carryover, and differences between the book and tax bases of various assets and liabilities. Due to the uncertainty surrounding the realization of these deferred tax assets, a valuation allowance of $105.1 million and $89.3 million as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, has been established against such assets. This valuation allowance will be reversed through the statement of operations as the deferred tax assets are utilized or when it is determined that it is more likely than not that these assets will be realized.

The Company's provision for income taxes differs from the expected tax benefit amount computed by applying the statutory federal income tax rate of 34% to loss before income taxes due primarily to changes in the valuation allowance of $15.8 million.

12. Employee Benefit Plan

The Company has a defined contribution plan for its employees. The plan provides for employee contributions, discretionary Company contributions and a Company matching contribution equal to 50 percent of each employee's contribution up to the first six percent of such contribution. Both the employee and Company contributions vest immediately. The Company made cash contributions of approximately $292,000 and $240,000 for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

13. Subsequent Events

In July 2003, the Company entered into a Trademark License and Services Agreement with a Florida incumbent utility, pursuant to which the Company will provide supply, marketing and sales services to the incumbent utility in connection with the utility's offering of less-polluting electricity. The Florida Public Service Commission approved the utility's offering in January 2004. The Company began its marketing and sales activities under this agreement in February 2004.

In March 2004, the Affiliate (see Note 9) terminated its agreement with the Company to provide electricity to certain commercial accounts in California. These were the Company's last California customers.

In April 2004, the Company amended its February 2003 $15 million Letters of Credit facility with Bank One to create a $4 million revolving line of credit. The Company's repayment obligations under this line of credit are secured by the same letters of credit provided by certain of its stockholders to secure the Company's reimbursement obligations under the letter of credit facility. The Company may borrow under the line of credit only to the extent of any unused portion of the letter of credit facility and subject to a $4 million cap. The Company and Bank One have agreed to remove this cap and allow borrowing under the revolving line of credit to the full extent of any unused portion of the letter of credit facility. The Company expects documents reflecting this agreement will be executed by December 2004.

During October 2004, the Company entered an Amended ESA with the Affiliate. This Amended ESA sets forth the terms of the Company's purchase of its primary electricity supply from the Affiliate (see Notes 9 and 10).

Are we talking about July? I did do Juna. Hope we're not duplicating efforts.

There's a lot going on (why does it always work this way?), keeps life interesting.

CW is selling two properties in Co. to Quayle. I think where we're getting is that Quayle will form 2 subsidiaries which are U.S. Corps. Should know later today. We've talked with Bond and he's okay with the Castlecreek purchasing properties that will be used by the "potential" beneficiaries of the trust. This is a non-reportable item by the Trusts and the U.S. parties. Rodney is doing the legal work. I sent to your office and Bond copies of the appraisals and selling prices. Hope to close this next week.

Sam still has a contract pending on one property. It is up to him to determine whether he wants to counter. I'm not sure what he's going to do. He seemed to be getting a little worried about the markets and wasn't too sure he should be spending $10 - $14 million to purchase the property and then spending money on building houses.

D. Harris has been raising hell about the money going into Green Mountain. It's not that I don't think he should be, just adds one more stress level. Currently he has agreed to fund through Sept. I've had that discussion with both Sam and Evan. Surprisingly, Sam did not explode, but it actually seemed to cause him to step back and re-think the money is spending. We'll see what happens. Anyway, I do think we need to give notice to FUND to redeem $10 million for the SW entities to fund Green. Do you have time to give me a recommendation on needs to get redemption notices in before 9/17?

There's been some new trust regulations and ugly case law recently. From several lawyers Mike and I have been strongly recommended that we no longer serve as "U.S. citizens" as protectors. We're thinking about forming a Channel Island corp that is the protector. The owners would be Mike and I < 50% (stay out of the CFC rules) and you, David Harris, David Bester, Daughtery and Fullertove the other owners. Mike is particularly concerned about all the bad press about Cayman lately. That's why he's picking the Channel Islands. We're thinking it might be good for the administrative fee from the trusts to be paid to this new corp and then hire ITC as an administrator. We're still exploring...I'll keep you informed as we get further along.

I had some questions for Elaine re: Brush Creek's holdings and valuations of SSW, SE and MIKE. Also, her summary sheets did not show the correct MV per share, but had the right extended total market value since they were pulled up from sub-sheets.

Hopefully she'll respond first thing tomorrow and I can get the file sent to you tomorrow afternoon or night. If I can't get in the office tomorrow, Lara will pick it up from me tomorrow night and upload it to you Friday.

Here are some comments. I should have more info after our meeting on Weds.

* Are there revised cash flow forecasts

(See attached file: Attachment 1.xls)

* Under costs what are "acquisitions" and "credit demand fee"

Acquisitions refers to the cost of acquiring new customers.

Credit demand fee is one of the fees paid to BP for the use of their balance sheet and trading assistance in hedging.

Questions that are more for management ;

* Why can't we pass on war related price increases.

Prices are relatively slow to move. We are competing against regulated utilities that have to get approval for price increases, which takes time.

If we increase prices faster than the competition, then we will appear to have prices that are above the market. We do hedge existing customer load, so higher prices have primarily dampened near-term growth in new customers.

* What do forecasts for new customers look like.

This depends a great deal on how long market prices stay high, because aggregations are not attractive at these price levels. In other segments, we have slowed growth to conserve cash.

* Selling the company ?To who and for how much ???

There would be a few potential strategic buyers. Companies who are already competing in the retail segment or utilities who are expanding their unregulated business, or companies in the commercial and industrial markets who would want to expand into retail. We haven't made inquiries yet, so it is difficult to evaluate what the price would be at this time.

Please find following some comments from Evan regarding the status of Greenmountain. If you would like to speak to him directly or consider arranging a call with the management at Greenmountain to more fully brief you on the situation, please contact Keeley and she will coordinate this for you. I will be out of the office tomorrow through next week.

Green Mountain is missing budget due to:
a) wholesale energy price increases related to war (making new aggregations unattractive due to low margins) and
b) problems with Ohio utility purchase of receivables (which has been resolved, but implementation timing is very slow).

We have a contingency planning call on Friday to evaluate selling the company (or parts) versus additional investment from current investors.
(Green Funding's pro rata part would be about $7 million in May or June.)

----- Forwarded by Evan Wyly/Maverick on 04/02/2003 05:19 PM ----- Forecast Overview:

In addition to the normal changes made to the monthly forecast for the prior month's actual results, updated customer counts and forward supply curves, we made two other significant assumption changes to the March forecast.

Given the current supply market and projections that show that proforma gross margin on an aggregation in this market is unlikely to support a deal, we have removed the first third of our aggregations (144,000 customers planned for service in April) and the other one-third aggregates were forecasted to be delayed a month each.

We assumed a successful settlement with FirstEnergy (FE) on Ohio receivables that provides for new payment preference rules to go into effect in June (though we believe that we were conservative on the timing and effect of the implementation). This assumption is at risk given the inability to settle the case so far and the April 9th trial date.

Full Year 2003 forecasted EBITDA and Net Income have been reduced from the February forecast by $11.2 million and $11.0 million, respectively.

Dear Dennis,

Quayle Limited would like to proceed with the sale of all or any portion of its investment. I would appreciate your contacting existing shareholders to see if they have an interest now. Alternatively, Quayle would like to be a selling shareholder in the next planned financing.

We are pleased with the growth and progress and outlook for Green Mountain. This simply is no longer a strategic holding for Quayle. I will appreciate everyone's assistance with this.

General

The Re-Structuring. The Merger is part of a larger re-structuring of Green Mountain's outstanding debt and equity. Green Mountain currently owes approximately $100 million in unpaid principal and accrued but unpaid interest on various convertible promissory notes (the "Convertible Notes"). The Convertible Notes accrue interest at a rate of 9% per annum, are convertible at the option of the holder into Common Stock of Green Mountain, and have various maturity dates, the first of which is in June 2007 and the last of which is in June 2009. The Convertible Notes are held by Nuon Green Energy B.V. ("Nuon BV"), N.V. Nuon ("NV Nuon"), and together with Nuon BV, "Nuon", BP International Limited ("BP"), Maverick Fund USA, Ltd. ("Maverick USA"), Maverick Fund, L.D.C. ("Maverick LDC"), Maverick Fund II, Ltd. ("Maverick Fund II"), and together with Maverick USA and Maverick LDC, the "Maverick Entities" and Green Funding I, LLC ("Green Funding"), and together with Nuon, BP and the Maverick Entities, the "Principal Debt-holders". Nuon BV, BP, the Maverick Entities, the Domestic Green Stockholders¹, the Foreign Green Stockholders² (the Domestic Green Stockholders and the Foreign Green Stockholders are collectively the "Green Stockholders"), and Quayle Limited ("Quayle") also hold approximately 92% of the issued and outstanding Voting Stock of Green Mountain (determined on an as-if converted to Common Stock basis). Nuon BV, BP, the Maverick Entities, Quayle and the Green Stockholders are referred to collectively in this Information and Proxy Statement as the "Principal Stockholders".

In order to obtain certain relief from its debt obligations, Green Mountain requested the Principal Debt-holders to agree to amend the terms of the Convertible Notes to (i) extend the maturity date of the Convertible Notes to June 1, 2010, (ii) reduce the interest rate payable per annum on the Convertible Notes to the applicable rate for mid-term instruments for the month of March 2006 as determined by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and (iii) eliminate the conversion feature of the Convertible Notes such that they will no longer be convertible into the Common Stock or any other securities issued or issuable by Green Mountain. The Principal Debt-holders have agreed to the foregoing amendments of the Convertible Notes provided that Green Mountain effect a recapitalization of its equity. The terms and conditions on which the Principal Debt-holders and the Principal Stockholders have agreed to amend the Convertible Notes and participate in the recapitalization of the equity of Green Mountain (the "Re-Structuring") are set forth in the Re-Structuring Agreement, dated as of March 8, 2006, by and between Green Mountain, the Principal Debt-holders and the Green Stockholders (the "Re-Structuring Agreement"). For more information about the Re-Structuring Agreement, see below under the heading "The Re-Structuring Agreement".

The BP discussions are proceeding very well. BP has hired Goldman Sachs to assist them in negotiating an investment. BP and Goldman have a meeting scheduled for Nov. 29th.

Merrill Lynch is at the Green Mountain headquarters today. We expect Green Mountain to hire Merrill Lynch to assist the company in this discussion.

Also, Green Mountain and BP both recently won Financial Times Energy Awards. The CEOs of the two companies, Dennis Kelly and Sir John Browne, spoke with each other at the ceremony and expressed their respect for each other's company and their interest in working together.

about the email this morning from Meadows Owens. Have you/Keeley seen any draft Trust documents for the Texas Trusts? I can confirm that the names of the IOM entities are Little Woody Creek Road Limited and Jourdan Way Limited - surely they don't need anything more to get drafts circulating on this. I'm confused as to why they think the IOM entities being formed is holding everything up? Maybe I'm wrong and they have gotten the drafts to you/Keeley already, but surely we can't be holding them up completely....

Anyway, if you do have these, I need to get a copy to Francis Webb for his review as co-settlor / settlor. I'd also like to know how much money they are putting in the documents as the initial settlement amount from the IOM company so that we wire that amount when the time comes (not like on the SW transaction we just did, where there was a difference to be followed up with later).

10% Rev back from SAM?

That's what I think too - I'll confirm with Rodney and see if we need to do any paperwork for it. I'll let you know.

I can't say I know the answer for sure, but I assume that Sam would need to put in his percentage also.

Rena,
I have not had a reply from Elaine on this yet - perhaps you can help me?

Also, the IOM entity should be wiring the remaining $85,000 this week. I have also recommended that they fund you with an additional $300,000 to provide you with cash for acquiring the TDRs. I will let you know when to expect that wire also.

I need to touch base with Rodney as to whether these addition contributions (the $300K) need to be matched by SW in the correct percentage as a 'settlement' or if they are able to be made on some other basis, just from the IOM company. If you know the answer, please let me know - or I will go back to Rodney.

Thanks!
Michelle

No, I think this money would be fine as long as it is reimbursed by the entity eventually buying the property (treat as short-term loan). Let me know if you need me to do anything else on this right now. I am assuming since you talked to Rodney yesterday that he will call either you or I today. I do not know if he talked to Kelly yesterday or not, but I will follow up. Thanks

Kristin called me today, apparently they are waiting on Rodney's comments on the offer documents before submitting it. I thought they knew they were okay to submit the offer, and that we would sort out the structure etc... before closing. But I guess I wasn't clear enough. Anyway, I called Rodney, and, with respect to the structure - they are still working on it - 'as we speak' (<- I'm sure!), but he promised to call Kelly immediately and clear them to put the offer in. :-)

Rena has cash available in the Two Mile Ranch Management Trust account. I think it would be okay to use this for the earnest - I can't see any reason not to- can you?

 Re: Charles Wyly Family meetings – week of 10/09/00
 Date: October 16, 2000
 From: Michelle Boucher

Keeley & I met with Charles & Donnie on 10/11/00, here is an update on recent developments:

First Dallas International:

Charles has a planned investment in a new Peter Ackerman venture called "Fresh Direct". It is a web based consolidator of fresh foods. You can order off their website and they will ship anywhere in the NY area. They have made significant progress on their warehouse facilities and distribution center in Long Island, and they hope to be up and running in about 1 year's time. The planned cost of this is $45Million, and Charles would like to commit $1Million through First Dallas International for an October 31st closing. Jim Lincoln will forward documents once received, but we expect the investment to be made into a tranche of preferred stock.

First Dallas Ventures:

This is the venture cap fund that Donnie and Jim are managing. Charles has authorised investments up to $10Million at this time. They are contemplating further investment in Cool Partners Inc., as well as other predominantly web-based ventures. Jim and Donnie both appear to be really enjoying this venture.

Ranger/Precept:

It does not appear that Charles and Sam have been able to get together to work out details of Charles' involvement with Ranger/Precept and the Ranger Management company. We had ordered tentative redemptions from Maverick for November 1st, which we'll roll to December 1st if details have not been worked out beforehand.

Sport Horses:

Charles is looking at establishing a breeding and equestrian training facility with Emily's involvement. A business plan has been presented, involving the acquisition of approximately 140 acres of land just north of DFW airport. Only 50 acres will be used for the business venture, and it is likely that the remaining land will be subsequently sold. Keeley and I are consulting Rodney to see if we can use a structure similar to that which was used for the gallery in Aspen, thus utilizing foreign assets for the cash injection and contributing Emily's horses in the same way Kelly contributed the gallery's inventory stocks. We would likely try to sub-divide the property and buy the land held for resale domestically, through another structure. I have not seen it yet, but understand the business plan indicates the business will not likely cash flow for the first few years, and will need ongoing capital. The anticipated initial commitment will be a minimum of $3Million.

Little Woody Creek Ranch:

This is the house that Emily and Jennifer use. We put together all documentation to sell this property to an IOM company last November/December. Charles has asked us to proceed once again and effect the sale. All domestic and IOM structures and funds are in place. Keeley will pull the documents and we'll touch base with Charles again next week and proceed.

Lambda Properties:

Nothing was directly discussed regarding construction activities on Charles and Dee's house in Aspen. If they decide to proceed, we will recommend that an IOM company acquire the property, to provide funds for the construction project. It is likely that this will not be underway until well into next year, with construction commencing in 2002. As with the Little Woody Creek Ranch property mentioned above, there are some issues regarding ownership of the existing properties which will need to be properly considered and dealt with in the new structures, especially within the context of creating sub-funds of the IOM trusts (see below).

Sub-funds:

Charles is aware that Sam is looking at creating sub-funds with the IOM assets, and is contemplating the same. We discussed the idea of creating them by using certain real estate transactions as the initiating transaction. This would include the new Sport Horses venture for Emily, and selling some of the Colorado properties which involves all the children to the foreign system. Charles also discussed making specific $20million allocations to each of Martha, Emily and Jennifer, indicating that he thought Chip was well taken care of domestically.

Yes, please get back to Kelly & Lisa on your idea of Two Mile paying/owning instead of Wrangler. To even it out, Rosemary could get the benefit of sub-fund spending instead of Wrangler distributions for a couple of years. I mentioned this Wrangler problem to Lisa, and she'd like to talk to Rosemary. You can either forward this or write them fresh. Thanks.

 Subject: Re: Rosemary's House at Two Mile

Evan - As I suspected, Rodney does not think this is a good idea. We do not want to comeingle ownership of the property between Rosemary and Two Mile. Is Sam that opposed to Two Mile owning the house Rosemary will use? There are some issues with if it is owned by Rosemary outright or Wrangler, could you restrict their right to sell the property which I know is important to Sam.

It would also require Rosemary to be a co-grantor of the Management Trust which would in essence make her a co-owner of the project. I would suggest as an alternative that Two Mile pay for and own the house (good use of off-shore vs. on-shore cash). The cost can then be allocated within the sub-funds between the 4 children or kept in the big pool for now and allocated out later. I think we are going to be able to find other uses for the Wrangler cash if that is Sam's concern. Please let me know if you think it is important to find a way for Wrangler to fund and we will work on it although, it may be hard to find a structure that Rodney would be comfortable with and may involve an additional layer of entities. I just did not want to spend a lot of time if we can leave at Two Mile. I will get back with Kelly and Lisa once I hear back from you.

but not directed, to accept such assets [if any] based upon the accounting and/or other written instrumentation as given by that previous or resigning Trustee or its representatives.

(c) Liability for Predecessor Fiduciaries: In no event shall any Trustee, whether original or successor, be liable for the actions, inactions, or default of any existing or prior Trustee, Co-Trustee, legal representative, executor, or administrator from whom distributions may be received [any of such fiduciaries being referred to as "Prior Fiduciaries"] or for failure to contest the accounting as rendered by such Prior Fiduciaries.

(d) Successor Trustee's Powers and Liabilities: The successor Trustee shall succeed to all of the powers, duties, and responsibilities of the previous or resigning Trustee upon the effective resignation, termination, or removal of such prior Trustee and the written acceptance of the position, as a Trustee, by the respective successor Trustee.

(e) No Duty of Investigation by Additional or Successor Trustee: In no event shall the terms and provisions of this Trust Agreement be interpreted or construed to require any additional or successor Trustee to investigate the prior acts or omissions of any Prior Fiduciaries, except to the extent that the additional or successor Trustee has actual notice or knowledge of any act or omission of the Prior Fiduciaries contrary to the terms of this Trust Agreement. Grantors are incorporating this provision into the Trust Agreement in hopes of reducing the expenses and delays of any change in Trustees. Accordingly, the additional or successor Trustee is not required to go beyond the facts and representations as known to it in succeeding to the position of Trustee, subject, of course, to the provisions regarding known irregularities or violations.

4.4. Trustee's Right to Resign. Any Trustee, whether originally named, designated, or subsequently appointed, shall have the right to resign or renounce its position by and according to the following provisions:

(a) Notice of Resignation or Renouncement: The resigning or renouncing Trustee, or its representatives, shall deliver an appropriate written notice of resignation or renouncement to one of the following applicable persons or entities, in the order given: [1] SAM, while living and competent, and the Corporation, or, if not; [2] any other then serving Trustee, if any, or, if none; [3] such resigning or renouncing Trustee's named or designated successor, if any, or, if not; [4] to all Grantors.

(b) Duties of Resigning Trustee: A Trustee's resignation shall become effective upon [1] the complete delivery of all assets then in its possession to its respective successor Trustee or to any other then serving Trustee, [2] the appointment, qualification, and acceptance of a respective successor Trustee [if a successor is required], and [3] the execution of an appropriate written instrument evidencing the effectiveness of such Trustee's resignation by all then serving Trustees including the required successor.

4.5. Appointment of Ancillary Trustees: The Trustee shall have the power to appoint ancillary trustees for the Trust(s) in accordance with Section 113.023 of the Texas Trust Code, as amended, if required or advisable as to assets located in a jurisdiction in which the Trustees are not authorized or qualified to act.

4.6. Special Trustee Co-Administration Provisions: The following special provisions shall apply in the event Co-Trustees are serving for the Trust:

(a) Custody of Trust Assets: Any Trustee shall have the right to maintain sole custody and possession of any and all Trust assets capable of being reduced to custody and possession and, to the extent this right of custody is exercised by a Trustee, the remaining Trustees shall be under no obligation to maintain custody and possession with respect to these assets.

(b) Agreement Among Co-Trustees: No action may be taken unless a majority of the then serving Co-Trustees are in agreement.

However, this paragraph (b) shall not be construed as in any way limiting the third party reliance provisions outlined above in this Trust Agreement with respect to transacting any business with a single Trustee.

(c) Delegation of Duties by a Trustee: Any Trustee may, with the written consent of the remaining Trustees, be relieved of any or all powers, authority, duties, and discretion vested in or imposed upon that Trustee by this Trust Agreement by delivering to the remaining then serving Trustees a written statement delegating these powers, authority, duties, and discretion to them. Any act performed according to such written statement shall be binding upon all persons interested in this Trust.

(d) Disclaimer of Power, Duties and Responsibilities: Any Trustee may disclaim, in whole or in part, any specific or general power, duty, or responsibility imposed by law or by the terms of this Trust Agreement.

Thereafter, the remaining Co-Trustees shall exercise sole power, duty, or responsibility over such disclaimed powers, duties, or responsibilities. Such disclaimer shall not, however, affect the remaining non-disclaimed powers, duties, and responsibilities of such Trustee.

ARTICLE V.

GENERAL TRUST PROVISIONS

5.1. Location and Transfer of Location of Trust. The general location of this Trust shall be the State of Texas, and its administration shall be conducted within the State of Texas. Accordingly, the laws of the State of Texas shall apply in construing the terms of the Trust and the rights and duties of the Trustee, unless the provisions of this Trust Agreement override such laws, or unless the laws of another jurisdiction become applicable and the provisions of this Trust Agreement cannot override them.

If, in the opinion of the Trustee, it becomes advisable to change the location of the Trust, whether in Texas or to another state (but in no events outside of the United States), for the purposes of economy, tax savings, or other benefits to the Trust or to the Grantors of the Trust, the Trustee may change the location of this Trust by giving notice of the proposed transfer to the Grantors.

5.2. Construction and Interpretation. It is the intention of the Grantors to avoid as much as possible any suits for construction, interpretation, or instructions involving this Trust. Accordingly, if a question or problem arises about the proper construction, interpretation, or operation of this Agreement, about any matter involving the administration of any Trust created by this Agreement, about the rights of any Grantor hereof, or about the application, interpretation, or construction of the Texas Trust Code, as from time to time amended, the Trustee is authorized to resolve these questions or problems in a manner it deems equitable and proper in accordance with the tax and non-tax objectives of Grantors. All such decisions and actions of the Trustee shall be conclusive on all persons ever interested in this Trust.

5.3. Additional Assets of Trust. The Trustee is expressly authorized to accept additional assets, including any assets subject to liens, from any person, entity, representative, executor, or administrator by any means of transfer or conveyance. For all purposes, the Trustee is also authorized to accept and is fully protected in accepting any additional assets, including any assets subject to liens, on behalf of any person by the action of such person's appointed or acting agent, representative, custodian, or guardian, without the necessity of court intervention or action, and based solely upon the written representations of authority by the respective transferor (as, for example only, under any form of a power of attorney).

5.4. Maximum Duration of Trust. Because of a particular rule of law, commonly referred to as the "Rule Against Perpetuities," Grantors must expressly provide for the maximum duration of the Trust. However, Grantors hereby direct that this Trust Agreement shall be construed and interpreted under another related doctrine referred to as the "Wait and See" rule in ascertaining whether or not this Trust or any separate Trusts violate the specified rule of law. If it is ultimately determined that any Trust violates such rule of law, then, for such purposes, that Trust and this Trust Agreement shall not be construed as void, but be deemed vested in the respective Grantors as of such time.

All Trusts created by this Trust Agreement shall in all events terminate not later than TWENTY-ONE (21) years from and after the death of the survivor of the following persons: SAM and his descendants living on the date the Trust is effectively or deemed created.

Should any Trust terminate according to the provisions of this Section (only), the remaining assets and properties of that Trust shall be delivered and distributed unto those persons, or such persons' representatives, who, at the deemed termination date, constitute the Grantors of the Trust in proportion to their respective Shares.

5.5. Special Postponement Provision. The Trustee is authorized, but not directed, to postpone for a reasonable time any part or all of a final or interim distribution from the Trust for as long as the Trustee, in its reasonable discretion, may determine necessary because of tax audits, lawsuits, disputed claims, or similar unresolved matters.

5.6. Provisions Relative to Powers of Appointment. The following provisions shall govern the exercise of all powers of appointments vested in each individual Grantor hereof under this Trust Agreement:

(a) Exercise of Powers of Appointment: Each individual Grantor may exercise his or her general power pursuant to a written memorandum delivered to the Trustee during the individual Grantor's lifetime. Such memorandum shall be dated and signed by the individual Grantor and shall be witnessed by two (2) unrelated witnesses. The individual Grantor can amend or revoke such memorandum at any time by delivering an additional written memorandum to the Trustee which is signed, dated and witnessed. If any general power is not exercised pursuant to a lifetime written memorandum, then such power must be exercised pursuant to a clause in the individual Grantor's duly probated Last Will and Testament.

The individual Grantor must exercise a general power by making specific reference in either the memorandum or Last Will and Testament as to which section of the Trust Agreement the power is being exercised under, and must further designate the appointees, their shares, proportions and amounts that each shall be entitled to, and whether such appointments are in trust for or directly to such appointees.

(b) Effective Date of Exercise of Power: Any general power shall take effect at the individual Grantor's death.

ARTICLE VI

TRUSTEE'S POWERS AND RESTRICTIONS

6.1. Trustee Powers Over Partitions, Divisions and Distributions. The Trustee shall have the powers to make all partitions, divisions, and distributions contemplated by this Trust Agreement, and its decisions and actions shall be binding and conclusive upon all interested parties. The Trustee may, in its discretion, make these partitions, divisions, or distributions by proportionately allocating assets and properties in kind [including undivided interests in properties], or partly in money and partly in kind. The amount of a distribution in kind shall be deemed to be the value of the property on the date or dates distributed. A distribution to any distributee may be composed of property similar to or different from that transferred to any other distributee.

6.2. Trustee Investment Powers. The Trustee shall have the following investment powers:

(a) General Investment and Management Guidelines: The Trustee shall manage the Trust Estate as directed by a majority in interest of the Grantors [as determined by their respective Trust shares]. In the absence of specific directions, the Trustee shall manage the Trust Estate for and on behalf of the Grantors in accordance with their discretion. The Trustee shall not, however, be limited to nor bound by the provisions of the Texas Trust Code [or any successor statute], or by any other statutes or regulations respecting investments by fiduciaries except to the extent that such statutes or regulations cannot be waived for any corporate Trustee and there are no individual Trustees then serving. Investments need not be diversified, may be of a wasting nature, and may be made or retained with solely a view towards a possible increase in value. The Trustee is expressly authorized to retain or invest in non-income producing property if, in its discretion, the best interests of the Grantors will be better served by that investment.

The Trustee is expressly authorized to invest in high-income producing property, non-growth or marginally-appreciating property if, in its discretion, it determines that such investments are advisable for the Trust. To this end, Grantors hereby expressly relieve the Trustee from any and all duties, obligations, or responsibilities to invest any part of the Trust Estate in growth-type assets for the Trust or any current or future Grantors. The Trustee shall not, therefore, be liable for any operating losses of the Trust, nor for any depreciation or decline in the value of the Trust Estate.

(b) Power to Retain Any Property Transferred to the Trust: Any property transferred to the Trust shall be deemed a proper investment. The Trustee is expressly authorized to retain all such property with no duty or obligation to dispose of or convert any of these properties.

(c) Real Estate Powers: The Trustee shall have the following non-exclusive powers relating to any real estate assets or investments [broadly construed] owned directly or indirectly by the Trust [including all Property hereof]: to sell, exchange, develop, partition, transfer, abandon, or otherwise dispose of any property, at public or private sale, with or without covenants, warranties, or guarantees, for any purposes, and upon any terms, including sales on credit [with or without security], in any manner and at any prices; to grant options on the same; to lease any property, for any term or terms, upon any conditions and rentals, and in any manner, irrespective of whether the term of such lease exceeds the period permitted by law or the probable period of administration of any Trust; to renew or modify any lease; to grant options to renew or modify any lease; to raise or erect any structure; to make repairs, replacements, and improvements, whether structural or otherwise, for any property; to improve real property; to subdivide or plat real estate; to dedicate streets, alleys, and ways; and to donate sites for public, charitable, or educational facilities.

(d) Nominee Investments: The Trustee is authorized to maintain any investment [or other action] in the name of a nominee, whether itself or another individual, business, or entity, with or without a power of attorney, in the name of one or more Trustees without disclosing fiduciary capacity, or to retain or make any investment in a form permitting transferability by delivery. At all times, however, the books and records of the Trust shall reflect all such investments as investments of the Trust and further reflect in whose name, custody, and possession such assets are placed.

(e) Power to Sell Assets: The Trustee shall have the specific power and authority to sell all or any part of the assets of the Trust (including without limitation the Property) upon such terms and conditions as the Trustee, in its discretion, shall determine. This power of sale shall be broadly construed in favor of the Trustee.

(f) Power to Designate Representative: The Trustee shall have the power to designate one or more individuals as representative agents of the Trust to transact any business for or on behalf of the Trust or the Trustee.

6.3. Protection of Third Parties Transacting Business or Dealing with the Trust. No purchaser at any sale made by the Trustee or persons dealing with the Trustee under this Trust Agreement shall be obligated or allowed to attend to the application or use of any money or property paid or delivered to the Trustee, or to inquire into the expediency or propriety of any transaction entered into and consummated upon the terms as the Trustee, in its discretion, deems advisable. All individuals, entities, businesses, and other third parties dealing with the Trust or any Trustee shall be fully protected from all liabilities in transacting any business with the Trust.

6.4. Special Trustee Self-Dealing Provisions. Grantors are aware of the potential problems that may arise in the administration of this Trust if a Trustee, in its discretion, should find it advisable to transact business with itself, whether individually or as a fiduciary under any other trust agreement. Grantors expressly relieve any and all Trustees and fiduciaries from any self-dealing restrictions and limitations, except for those prohibitions which cannot be waived.

Accordingly, Grantors hereby specifically waive such rules and prohibitions regarding self-dealing, conflict of interest, or any other rule or regulation regarding the transaction of business between a particular trust or fiduciary and such trustee or fiduciary. For example, the Trustee may freely transact any business between this Trust and any other trust, or between the Trustee, in its individual capacity, and this Trust.

5.5. Special Business Powers of Trustee. In addition to any and all powers granted to the Trustee by this Trust Agreement, the Trustee has the following additional powers with respect to any business interest which is or becomes a part of the Trust Estate, whether it be a sole proprietorship, joint venture, partnership, limited liability company or corporation:

(i) to hold, retain, and continue to operate such business solely at the risk of the Trust Estate and without liability on the part of the Trustee for any losses resulting from operation of the business;

(ii) to enlarge, diminish, or change the scope or the nature of the activities of any business;

(iii) to use the general assets of the Trust for the purposes of the business; to invest additional capital in or make loans to such business, regardless of the non-productivity of such investment or loan, or the diversification of investments;

(iv) to endorse or guarantee on behalf of the Trust any loan or loans made to the business and to secure the loan or loans by pledge or mortgage not only of the Trust's property interest in any such business but also by any other property of the Trust Estate that the Trustee may deem proper;

(v) to make or concur in the decision to accumulate surplus in the business or to pay dividends or otherwise distribute the profits of the business, as the Trustee, in its discretion, may deem advisable;

(vi) to accept as correct financial or other statements rendered by the business from time to time about its conditions and operations except where the Trustee has actual notice of inaccurate information contained therein;

(vii) to regard the business as an entity separate from the Trust with no duty to account to any court about its business or operation;

(viii) to dissolve, liquidate, or sell any business interest at such time [and from time to time] and upon such terms as the Trustee may deem advisable;

(ix) to incorporate any business and hold the stock as an asset of the Trust;

(x) to satisfy any liabilities arising out of the business, whether contractual or tortious in nature, first out of the business, and secondly out of the Trust Estate. However, in no event shall the Trustee be individually or personally liable for any business activities or decisions, and if the Trustee is held liable, it shall be entitled to indemnification from the business, the Trust Estate and the Grantors in the order named;

(xi) to authorize and participate in any mergers, reorganizations, consolidations, exchanges, sales, privates or commercial annuities, or any other form of business transactions involving ownership changes;

(xii) to employ such officers, managers, employees, or agents as it deems advisable and to pay such persons reasonable compensation for their services without regard to any fiduciary fees and expenses payable to the Trustee, and,

(xiii) to exercise all other actions or powers which an individual, competent adult would possess in operating such business.

6.6. Formation of Business Entities. The Trustee is authorized to invest all or any portion of the Trust Estate in one or more joint ventures, partnerships, limited liability companies or corporations, the outstanding equity interests of which are owned in whole or in part by the Trust.

6.7. Protection of Trustee for Acts of Agents. The Trustee shall not be held liable or otherwise responsible for any neglect, omission, or wrongdoing of any agent employed by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust provided the Trustee uses reasonable care in the employment of the agent.

6.8. Liability of Trustee. The Trustee's liability shall be limited pursuant to the following provisions:

(a) Acts by Trustee. No Trustee shall at any time be held liable to the Trust or any Grantor for any action or default of the Trustee or of any other person in connection with the administration of the Trust unless caused by the Trustee's gross negligence, bad faith, or willful commission of an act in breach of trust.

(b) Limitation of Personal Liability of Trustee. The Trustee shall not incur any personal liability to anyone dealing with the Trustee in the administration of the Trust Estate. The Trustee shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Trust Estate and the Grantors for any liability, whether in contract or in tort, incurred in the administration of the Trust. The Trustee may contract in such form as to exempt the Trustee from personal liability and to cause such liability to be limited to the Trust Estate. No successor Trustee shall have any duty, responsibility, obligation, or liability whatsoever for failure to rectify the acts or omissions of any predecessor Trustee.

6.9. Accounting Responsibilities of Trustee. The Trustee shall maintain proper books and records reflecting the assets, liabilities, investments, income, disbursements, principal, and transactions of each Trust. The Trustee is not required to conform to the provisions of the Uniform Trustee's Accounting Act or any similar act. The Trustee shall be free of any court accounting or supervision of any Trust.

6.10. Ultimate Termination of Trustee's Responsibilities and Duties. The Trustee's responsibilities and duties under this Trust Agreement shall cease upon final distribution of all of the income and principal of the Trust and the completion of any miscellaneous work connected with the termination of the Trust and the distribution of its remaining assets.

6.11. General Borrowing and Lending Powers of Trustee. The Trustee is specifically authorized to borrow and/or lend any amount of funds from time to time and at any time from or to any individual, business, or entity (whether or not a Grantor of the Trust) when it determines such action necessary or advisable and to pledge all or any portion of the assets of this Trust as collateral. The terms of any indebtedness or loan shall be those that the Trustee, in its reasonable discretion, may deem advisable, even if the expected period of the loan extends beyond the term of any Trust.

ARTICLE VII

DEFINITIONS AND MISCELLANEOUS TRUST PROVISIONS

7.1. Powers Cumulative. The Trustee shall have all of the rights, powers and privileges as set forth in the Texas Trust Code (or its successor statute) governing the powers and responsibilities of Trustees. In the event, however, that any provisions of such Code in any way conflict or otherwise do not conform to the terms of this Trust Agreement, then the provisions of this Trust Agreement shall in all events control the administration of the Trust to the maximum extent permitted by law.

7.2. Definitions for Descendants. The following definitions of "descendants" shall be utilized in interpreting this Trust Agreement unless a contrary intent is clearly stated or shown by its context:

(a) Descendants: The term "descendants" or "descendant" shall mean all those persons who are in a direct line of descent of a person specifically named or indicated by the context of the Trust Agreement. These descendants must be lawfully related to such persons by consanguinity or adoption (as provided below).

(b) Descendant in Being: A descendant (who is later born alive) shall be treated as a descendant during the actual period of gestation for the purposes of determining [1] whether any person has died without surviving descendants, and [2] whether a person is entitled to share in a distribution of principal.

All other rights for purposes of such descendant shall begin at the date of birth, provided such descendant in gestation is born alive.

(c) Births Out of Wedlock: Any descendant who is born to persons out of wedlock shall not be considered as a "descendant" of such persons for purposes of this Trust Agreement except for the following: [1] any descendant who is born to persons openly living together as husband and wife after the performance of a marriage ceremony between them shall be considered as a "descendant," even if a purported divorce of one or both of such persons with reference to a prior marriage is invalid; and [2] any descendant who would otherwise be excluded from benefiting as a "descendant" by operation of this Section shall be treated for all purposes as a "descendant" if, and only if, his or her natural parents become husband and wife through the performance of a marriage ceremony between them after that child's birth [or during gestation], or if any child or descendant adopts such child or descendant, as provided below.

(d) Adopted Descendants: The term "descendants" shall include for all purposes any person legally adopted prior to his or her attainment of the age of TWENTY-ONE (21) years.

(e) Persons of the Half-Blood: Persons of the half-blood shall be treated as persons of the whole-blood unless otherwise specifically provided by this Trust Agreement.

7.3. Definition of Per Stirpes. When the Trust Agreement directs that any portion of the Trust Estate is to be divided among a decedent's descendants on a "per stirpes" basis, the division into stirpes shall begin at the generation nearest the decedent.

7.4. Interpretation of Trust Agreement. The singular shall be interpreted as the plural, or vice versa, if such treatment is necessary to interpret this Trust Agreement in accordance with Settlor's manifest intentions. If the feminine, masculine, or neuter gender should be one of the other genders, it shall be so construed. This Trust Agreement has been divided into articles, sections, paragraphs, and subparagraphs. The interpretation of this Trust

Agreement shall be determined from this Agreement in its entirety without regard to its divisions and headings.

7.5. Definition of "Code". The term "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended and in effect at the date of death of Settlor.

7.6. Execution in Counterparts. This Trust Agreement may be executed in a number of counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original. A copy of the executed Trust Agreement, whether conformed or photocopied, may be used for any purpose without the necessity of producing the original counterpart.

This TRUST AGREEMENT shall extend to and be binding upon all heirs, executors, administrators, legal representatives, and successors, respectively, of the parties to this Agreement, and shall be effective as of October 1, 1999.

Grantors are incorporating this provision into the Trust Agreement in hopes of reducing the expenses and delays of any change in Trustees. Accordingly, the additional or successor Trustee is not required to go beyond the facts and representations as known to it in succeeding to the position of Trustee, subject, of course, to the provisions regarding known irregularities or violations.

4.4. Trustee's Right to Resign. Any Trustee, whether originally named, designated, or subsequently appointed, shall have the right to resign or renounce its position by and according to the following provisions:

(c) Delegation of Duties by a Trustee: Any Trustee may, with the written consent of the remaining Trustees, be relieved of any or all powers, authority, duties, and discretion vested in or imposed upon that Trustee by this Trust Agreement by delivering to the remaining then serving Trustees a written statement delegating these powers, authority, duties, and discretion to them. Any act performed according to such written statement shall be binding upon all persons interested in this Trust.

(d) Disclaimer of Powers, Duties and Responsibilities: Any Trustee may disclaim, in whole or in part, any specific or general power, duty, or responsibility imposed by law or by the terms of this Trust Agreement. Thereafter, the remaining Co-Trustees shall exercise sole power, duty, or responsibility over such disclaimed powers, duties, or responsibilities. Such disclaimer shall not, however, affect the remaining non-disclaimed powers, duties, and responsibilities of such Trustee.

ARTICLE V.

GENERAL TRUST PROVISIONS

5.1. Location and Transfer of Location of Trust. The general location of this Trust shall be the State of Texas, and its administration shall be conducted within the State of Texas. Accordingly, the laws of the State of Texas shall apply in construing the terms of the Trust and the rights and duties of the Trustee, unless the provisions of this Trust Agreement override such laws, or unless the laws of another jurisdiction become applicable and the provisions of this Trust Agreement cannot override them.

If, in the opinion of the Trustee, it becomes advisable to change the location of the Trust, whether in Texas or to another state (but in no events outside of the United States), for the purposes of economy, tax savings, or other benefits to the Trust or to the Grantors of the Trust, the Trustee may change the location of this Trust by giving notice of the proposed transfer to the Grantors.

5.2. Construction and Interpretation. It is the intention of the Grantors to avoid as much as possible any suits for construction, interpretation, or instructions involving this Trust. Accordingly, if a question or problem arises about the proper construction, interpretation, or operation of this Agreement, about any matter involving the administration of any Trust created by this Agreement, about the rights of any Grantor hereof, or about the application, interpretation, or construction of the Texas Trust Code, as from time to time amended, the Trustee is authorized to resolve these questions or problems in a manner it deems equitable and proper in accordance with the tax and non-tax objectives of Grantors. All such decisions and actions of the Trustee shall be conclusive on all persons ever interested in this Trust.

5.3. Additional Assets of Trust. The Trustee is expressly authorized to accept additional assets, including any assets subject to liens, from any person, entity, representative, executor, or administrator by any means of transfer or conveyance. For all purposes, the Trustee is also authorized to accept and is fully protected in accepting any additional assets, including any assets subject to liens, on behalf of any person by the action of such person's appointed or acting agent, representative, custodian, or guardian, without the necessity of court intervention or action, and based solely upon the written representations of authority by the respective transferor (as, for example only, under any form of a power of attorney).

5.4. Maximum Duration of Trust. Because of a particular rule of law, commonly referred to as the "Rule Against Perpetuities," Grantors must expressly provide for the maximum duration of the Trust. However, Grantors hereby direct that this Trust Agreement shall be construed and interpreted under another related doctrine referred to as the "Wait and See" rule in ascertaining whether or not this Trust or any separate Trusts violate the specified rule of law. If it is ultimately determined that any Trust violates such rule of law, then, for such purposes, that Trust and this Trust Agreement shall not be construed as void, but be deemed vested in the respective Grantors as of such time.

All Trusts created by this Trust Agreement shall in all events terminate not later than TWENTY-ONE (21) years from and after the death of the survivor of the following persons: SAM and KELLY and their descendants living on the date the Trust is effectively or deemed-created.

Should any Trust terminate according to the provisions of this Section (only), the remaining assets and properties of that Trust shall be delivered and distributed unto those persons, or such persons' representatives, who, at the deemed termination date, constitute the Grantors of the Trust in proportion to their respective Shares.

5.5. Special Postponement Provision. The Trustee is authorized, but not directed, to postpone for a reasonable time any part or all of a final or interim distribution from the Trust for as long as the Trustee, in its reasonable discretion, may determine necessary because of tax audits, lawsuits, disputed claims, or similar unresolved matters.

5.6. Provisions Relating to Powers of Appointment. The following provisions shall govern the exercise of all powers of appointments vested in each individual Grantor hereof under this Trust Agreement:

(a) Exercise of Powers of Appointment: Each individual Grantor may exercise his or her general power pursuant to a written memorandum delivered to the Trustee during the individual Grantor's lifetime. Such memorandum shall be dated and signed by the individual Grantor and shall be witnessed by two (2) unrelated witnesses. The individual Grantor can amend or revoke such memorandum at any time by delivering an additional written memorandum to the Trustee which is signed, dated and witnessed. If any general power is not exercised pursuant to a lifetime written memorandum, then such power must be exercised pursuant to a clause in the individual Grantor's duly probated Last Will and Testament.

The individual Grantor must exercise a general power by making specific reference in either the memorandum or Last Will and Testament as to which section of the Trust Agreement the power is being exercised under, and must further designate the appointees, their shares, proportions and amounts that each shall be entitled to, and whether such appointments are in trust for or directly to such appointees.

(b) Effective Date of Exercise of Power: Any general power shall take effect at the individual Grantor's death.

ARTICLE VI.

TRUSTEE'S POWERS AND RESTRICTIONS

6.1. Trustee Powers Over Partitions, Divisions and Distributions. The Trustee shall have the powers to make all partitions, divisions, and distributions contemplated by this Trust Agreement, and its decisions and actions shall be binding and conclusive upon all interested parties. The Trustee may, in its discretion, make these partitions, divisions, or distributions by proportionately allocating assets and properties in kind [including undivided interests in properties], or partly in money and partly in kind. The amount of a distribution in kind shall be deemed to be the value of the property on the date or dates distributed. A distribution to any distributee may be composed of property similar to or different from that transferred to any other distributee.

6.2. Trustee Investment Powers. The Trustee shall have the following investment powers:

(a) General Investment and Management Guidelines: The Trustee shall manage the Trust Estate as directed by a majority in interest of the Grantors [as determined by their respective Trust shares]. In the absence of specific directions, the Trustee shall manage the Trust Estate for and on behalf of the Grantors in accordance with their discretion. The Trustee shall not, however, be limited to nor bound by the provisions of the Texas Trust Code [or any successor statute], or by any other statutes or regulations respecting investments by fiduciaries except to the extent that such statutes or regulations cannot be waived for any corporate Trustee and there are no individual Trustees then serving. Investments need not be diversified, may be of a wasting nature, and may be made or retained with solely a view towards a possible increase in value. The Trustee is expressly authorized to retain or invest in non-income producing property if, in its discretion, the best interests of the Grantors will be better served by that investment.

The Trustee is expressly authorized to invest in high-income producing property, non-growth or marginally-appreciating property if, in its discretion, it determines that such investments are advisable for the Trust. To this end, Grantors hereby expressly relieve the Trustee from any and all duties, obligations, or responsibilities to invest any part of the Trust Estate in growth-type assets for the Trust or any current or future Grantors. The Trustee shall not, therefore, be liable for any operating losses of the Trust, nor for any depreciation or decline in the value of the Trust Estate.

(b) Power to Retain Any Property Transferred to the Trust: Any property transferred to the Trust shall be deemed a proper investment. The Trustee is expressly authorized to retain all such property with no duty or obligation to dispose of or convert any of these properties.

(c) Real Estate Powers: The Trustee shall have the following non-exclusive powers relating to any real estate assets or investments [broadly construed], owned directly or indirectly by the Trust [including all Property hereof]: to sell, exchange, develop, partition, transfer, abandon, or otherwise dispose of any property, at public or private sale, with or without covenants, warranties, or guarantees, for any purposes, and upon any terms, including sales on credit [with or without security], in any manner and at any prices; to grant options on the same; to lease any property, for any term or terms, upon any conditions and rentals, and in any manner, irrespective of whether the term of such lease exceeds the period permitted by law or the probable period of administration of any Trust; to renew or modify any lease; to grant options to renew or modify any lease; to raise or erect any structure; to make repairs, replacements, and improvements, whether structural or otherwise, for any property; to improve real property; to subdivide or plat real estate; to dedicate streets, alleys, and ways; and to donate sites for public, charitable, or educational facilities.

(d) Nominee Investments: The Trustee is authorized to maintain any investment [or other action] in the name of a nominee, whether itself or another individual, business, or entity, with or without a power of attorney, in the name of one or more Trustees without disclosing fiduciary capacity, or to retain or make any investment in a form permitting transferability by delivery. At all times, however, the books and records of the Trust shall reflect all such investments as investments of the Trust and further reflect in whose name, custody, and possession such assets are placed.

(e) Power to Sell Assets: The Trustee shall have the specific power and authority to sell all or any part of the assets of the Trust [including without limitation the Property] upon such terms and conditions as the Trustee, in its discretion, shall determine. This power of sale shall be broadly construed in favor of the Trustee.

(f) Power to Designate Representatives: The Trustee shall have the power to designate one or more individuals as representative agents of the Trust to transact any business for or on behalf of the Trust or the Trustee.

6.3. Protection of Third Parties Transacting Business or Dealing with the Trust. No purchaser at any sale made by the Trustee or persons dealing with the Trustees under this Trust Agreement shall be obligated or allowed to attend to the application or use of any money or property paid or delivered to the Trustees, or to inquire into the expediency or propriety of any transaction entered into and consummated upon the terms as the Trustee, in its discretion, deems advisable. All individuals, entities, businesses, and other third parties dealing with the Trust or any Trustee shall be fully protected from all liabilities in transacting any business with the Trust.

6.4. Special Trustee Self-Dealing Provisions. Grantors are aware of the potential problems that may arise in the administration of this Trust if a Trustee, in its discretion, should find it advisable to transact business with itself, whether individually or as a fiduciary under any other trust agreement. Grantors expressly relieve any and all Trustees and fiduciaries from any self-dealing restrictions and limitations, except for those prohibitions which cannot be waived.

Accordingly, Grantors hereby specifically waive such rules and prohibitions regarding self-dealing, conflict of interest, or any other rule or regulation regarding the transaction of business between a particular trust or fiduciary and such trustee or fiduciary. For example, the Trustee may freely transact any business between this Trust and any other trust, or between the Trustee, in its individual capacity, and this Trust.

6.5. Special Business Powers of Trustee. In addition to any and all powers granted to the Trustee by this Trust Agreement, the Trustee has the following additional powers with respect to any business interest which is or becomes a part of the Trust Estate, whether it be a sole proprietorship, joint venture, partnership, limited liability company or corporation:

- (i) to hold, retain, and continue to operate such business solely at the risk of the Trust Estate and without liability on the part of the Trustee for any losses resulting from operation of the business;

(ii) to enlarge, diminish, or change the scope or the nature of the activities of any business;

(iii) to use the general assets of the Trust for the purposes of the business; to invest additional capital in or make loans to such business, regardless of the non-productivity of such investment or loan, or the diversification of investments;

(iv) to endorse or guarantee on behalf of the Trust any loan or loans made to the business and to secure the loan or loans by pledge or mortgage not only of the Trust's property interest in any such business but also by any other property of the Trust Estate that the Trustee may deem proper;

(v) to make or concur in the decision to accumulate surplus in the business or to pay dividends or otherwise distribute the profits of the business, as the Trustee, in its discretion, may deem advisable;

(vi) to accept as correct financial or other statements rendered by the business from time to time about its conditions and operations except where the Trustee has actual notice of inaccurate information contained therein;

(vii) to regard the business as an entity separate from the Trust with no duty to account to any court about its business or operation;

(viii) to dissolve, liquidate, or sell any business interest at such time [and from time to time] and upon such terms as the Trustee may deem advisable;

(ix) to incorporate any business and hold the stock as an asset of the Trust;

(x) to satisfy any liabilities arising out of the business, whether contractual or tortious in nature, first out of the business, and secondly out of the Trust Estate. However, in no event shall the Trustee be individually or personally liable for any business activities or decisions, and if the Trustee is held liable, it shall be entitled to indemnification from the business, the Trust Estate and the Grantors in the order named;

(xi) to authorize and participate in any mergers, reorganizations, consolidations, exchanges, sales, private or commercial annuities, or any other form of business transactions involving ownership changes;

(xii) to employ such officers, managers, employees, or agents as it deems advisable and to pay such persons reasonable compensation for their services without regard to any fiduciary fees and expenses payable to the Trustee; and,

(xiii) to exercise all other actions or powers which an individual, competent adult would possess in operating such business.

6.6. Formation of Business Entities. The Trustee is authorized to invest all or any portion of the Trust Estate in one or more joint ventures, partnerships, limited liability companies or corporations, the outstanding equity interests of which are owned in whole or in part by the Trust.

6.7. Protection of Trustee for Acts of Agents. The Trustee shall not be held liable or otherwise responsible for any neglect, omission, or wrongdoing of any agent employed by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust provided the Trustee uses reasonable care in the employment of the agent.

6.8. Liability of Trustee. The Trustee's liability shall be limited pursuant to the following provisions:

(a) Acts by Trustee: No Trustee shall at any time be held liable to the Trust or any Grantor for any action or default of the Trustee or of any other person in connection with the administration of the Trust unless caused by the Trustee's gross negligence, bad faith, or willful commission of an act in breach of trust.

(b) Limitation of Personal Liability of Trustee: The Trustee shall not incur any personal liability to anyone dealing with the Trustee in the administration of the Trust Estate. The Trustee shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Trust Estate and the Grantors for any liability, whether in contract or in tort, incurred in the administration of the Trust. The Trustee may contract in such form as to exempt the Trustee from personal liability and to cause such liability to be limited to the Trust Estate. No successor Trustee shall have any duty, responsibility, obligation, or liability whatsoever for failure to rectify the acts or omissions of any predecessor Trustee.

6.9. Accounting Responsibilities of Trustee. The Trustee shall maintain proper books and records reflecting the assets, liabilities, investments, income, disbursements, principal, and transactions of each Trust. The Trustee is not required to conform to the provisions of the Uniform Trustee's Accounting Act or any similar act. The Trustees shall be free of any court accounting or supervision of any Trust.

6.10. Ultimate Termination of Trustee's Responsibilities and Duties. The Trustee's responsibilities and duties under this Trust Agreement shall cease upon final distribution of all of the income and principal of the Trust and the completion of any miscellaneous work connected with the termination of the Trust and the distribution of its remaining assets.

6.11. General Borrowing and Lending Powers of Trustee. The Trustee is specifically authorized to borrow and/or lend any amount of funds from time to time and at any time from or to any individual, business, or entity (whether or not a Grantor of the Trust) when it determines such action necessary or advisable and to pledge all or any portion of the assets of this Trust as collateral. The terms of any indebtedness or loan shall be those that the Trustee, in its reasonable discretion, may deem advisable, even if the expected period of the loan extends beyond the term of any Trust.

ARTICLE VII.

DEFINITIONS AND MISCELLANEOUS TRUST PROVISIONS

7.1. Powers Cumulative. The Trustee shall have all of the rights, powers and privileges as set forth in the Texas Trust Code (or its successor statute) governing the powers and responsibilities of Trustees. In the event, however, that any provisions of such Code in any way conflict or otherwise do not conform to the terms of this Trust Agreement, then the provisions of this Trust Agreement shall in all events control the administration of the Trust to the maximum extent permitted by law.

7.2. Definitions for Descendants. The following definitions of "descendants" shall be utilized in interpreting this Trust Agreement unless a contrary intent is clearly stated or shown by its context:

(a) Descendants: The term "descendants" or "descendant" shall mean all those persons who are in a direct line of descent of a person specifically named or indicated by the context of the Trust Agreement. These descendants must be lawfully related to such persons by consanguinity or adoption [as provided below].

(b) Descendant In Being: A descendant [who is later born alive] shall be treated as a descendant during the actual period of gestation for the purposes of determining [1] whether any person has died without surviving descendants, and [2] whether a person is entitled to share in a distribution of principal.

All other rights for purposes of such descendant shall begin at the date of birth, provided such descendant in gestation is born alive.

(c) Births Out of Wedlock: Any descendant who is born to persons out of wedlock shall not be considered as a "descendant" of such persons for purposes of this Trust Agreement except for the following: [1] any descendant who is born to persons openly living together as husband and wife after the performance of a marriage ceremony between them shall be considered as a "descendant," even if a purported divorce of one or both of such persons with reference to a prior marriage is invalid; and [2] any descendant who would otherwise be excluded from benefiting as a "descendant" by operation of this Section shall be treated for all purposes as a "descendant" if, and only if, his or her natural parents become husband and wife through the performance of a marriage ceremony between them after that child's birth [or during gestation], or if any child or descendant adopts such child or descendant, as provided below.

(d) Adopted Descendants: The term "descendants" shall include for all purposes any person legally adopted prior to his or her attainment of the age of TWENTY-ONE (21) years.

(e) Persons of the Half-Blood: Persons of the half-blood shall be treated as persons of the whole-blood unless otherwise specifically provided by this Trust Agreement.

7.3. Definition of Per Stirpes. When the Trust Agreement directs that any portion of the Trust Estate is to be divided among a decedent's descendants on a "per stirpes" basis, the division into stirpes shall begin at the generation nearest the decedent.

7.4. Interpretation of Trust Agreement. The singular shall be interpreted as the plural, or vice versa, if such treatment is necessary to interpret this Trust Agreement in accordance with Grantor's manifest intentions. If the feminine, masculine, or neuter gender should be one of the other genders, it shall be so construed. This Trust Agreement has been divided into articles, sections, paragraphs, and subparagraphs. The interpretation of this Trust Agreement shall be determined from this Agreement in its entirety without regard to its divisions and headings.

7.5. Definition of "Code". The term "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

7.6. Execution in Counterparts. This Trust Agreement may be executed in a number of counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original. A copy of the executed Trust Agreement, whether conformed or photocopied, may be used for any purpose without the necessity of producing the original counterpart.

This TRUST AGREEMENT shall extend to and be binding upon all heirs, executors, administrators, legal representatives, and successors, respectively, of the parties to this Agreement, and shall be effective as of August 1, 2000.

Are we talking about July? I did do June. Hope we're not duplicating efforts.

There's a lot going on (why does it always work this way?), keeps life interesting.

CW is selling two properties in Co. to Quayle. I think where we're getting is that Quayle will form 2 subsidiaries which are U.S. Corps. Should know later today. We've talked with Bond and he's okay with the Castlecreek purchasing properties that will be used by the "potential" beneficiaries of the trust. This is a non-reportable item by the Trusts and the U.S. parties. Rodney is doing the legal work. I sent to your office and Bond copies of the appraisals and selling prices. Hope to close this next week.

Sam still has a contract pending on one property. It is up to him to determine whether he wants to counter. I'm not sure what he's going to do. He seemed to be getting a little worried about the markets and wasn't too sure he should be spending $10 - $14 million to purchase the property and then spending money on building houses.

D. Harris has been raising hell about the money going into Green Mountain. It's not that I don't think he should be, just adds one more stress level. Currently he has agreed to fund through Sept. I've had that discussion with both Sam and Evan. Surprisingly, Sam did not explode, but it actually seemed to cause him to step back and re-think the money is spending. We'll see what happens. Anyway, I do think we need to give notice to FUND to redeem $10 million for the SW entities to fund Green. Do you have time to give me a recommendation on needs to get redemption notices in before 9/1?

There's been some new trust regulations and ugly case law recently. From several lawyers Mike and I have been strongly recommended that we no longer serve as "U.S. citizens", as protectors. We're thinking about forming a Channel Island corp that is the protector. The owners would be Mike and I < 50% (stay out of the CFC rules) and you, David Harris, David Bester, Daughtery and Fullerlove the other owners. Mike is particularly concerned about all the bad press about Cayman lately. That's why he's picking the Channel Islands. We're thinking it might be good for the administrative fee from the trusts to be paid to this new corp and then hire ITC as an administrator. We're still exploring....I'll keep you informed as we get further along.

I finished the consolidation, and did a reasonableness check at the CW and SW and domestic consolidation levels. I had some questions for Elaine re: Brush Creek's holdings and valuations of SSW, SE and MIKE. Also, her summary sheets did not show the correct MV per share, but had the right extended total market value since they were pulled up from sub-sheets.

Hopefully she'll respond first thing tomorrow and I can get the file sent to you tomorrow afternoon or night. If I can't get in the office tomorrow, Lara will pick it up from me tomorrow night and upload it to you Friday

Subject: Little Woody Creek Ranch Limited

I'm trying to get this sorted out to be sold to Bessie Trust in the next 5 - 10 days.

There has been some back and forth on how to show the original funding in Devotion to WCRL to by the properties, but finally, in February I confirmed to Francis to go ahead with Devotion Limited being the sole share holder of LWCR (as confirmed by Rodney). What we also decided was that the full invested amount of approx $12M be reflected as a capital contribution (par value and share premium).

Now that I'm looking at selling the company to Bessie Trust, I don't think this was the best way to do it. I think we should have left it as Devotion holding the nominal shareholding (of say $100) with the balance of the funds being reflected as a interco advance from Devotion. That way I can sell LWCR to Bessie Trust for $100 and have one of Bessie's subsidiary companies assume the loan from Devotion (or advance the funds to LWCR and have them repay Devotion - I don't think it makes a difference).

If Bessie Trust has to buy LWCR from Devotion for the full $2,190,000 I need to get money up to the Trust from a sub corp, which I know we don't want to do. Alternatively, I can have a subsidiary company (and if we have to go this route, I recommend we use the newly formed Spitting Lion as it was also formed for the purpose of a real estate transaction) purchase LWCR. This would be okay, but I'd prefer for LWCR to be a sub of the Trust, rather than a sub of a sub of the trust.....

Anyway - I've asked Francis to confirm that he did go ahead in February had has made the necessary changes to show all the investment as capital, and if so, to find out if we can take action to effectively reverse it.

I'll let you know what happens - I just thought you should be aware of the back and forth on this.

I've also sent recommendations today to clear up some intercompany balances and move some funds around between Bessie/Bulldog to make sure Bessie has money to buy LWCR.

Subject: Items for trustees

11/04/1999 01:32 PM

Trident:

- I have received the tax exempt certificates for the Trident entities
- La Fourche Trust
 - possible sale of Woody Creek Ranch Limited to Bessie Trust for a note with Woody Creek Ranch Limited shares as collateral (interest rate ?)
 - Francis has not yet seen any original Trust documents for execution regarding the Woody Creek Ranch Management Trust (he may ask about them - I've emailed Elaine today asking her to follow up on this)
- Tyler Trust
 - acquisition of CW family properties through Tyler Trust, via loans from Elegance (Trident) and Quayle (Northern Bank)
 - long term strategy
 - long term cash flow management

IFGBessie Trust

- acquisition of Woody Creek Ranch Limited from La Fourche using a note
- ongoing cash requirements for the property - construction plans ($3M) and annual mtoe costs
- future property acquisitions
- cash management

Moberly Limited

- status of receiving legal opinion from Simcocks for the SSW transaction
- possible sale or redemption of FUND to raise cash for liquidity

Castle Creek

- loan of money to Tyler Trust (Trident) to acquire CW properties

Other items FYI:

- Trident has a query on Edinburgh Depreciation Deposit adjustments made earlier this year - I have not responded yet - Francis & I discussed this last week (I know it's outstanding if they bring it up with you).

- Trust reporting. We are posted through 9/30, but I have not given a thorough review, and I am aware of a few problems on some small items - so I'm not happy to release them yet. I have told the various trustees that I hope to have these for them by the end of next week - but I think some of them (Francis, in particular :) was anxious about not having them going into your meeting next week. I told him I doubted that you and Mike would want to discuss and detailed accounting related matters, and he shouldn't worry.

- Overall, I think that cash flow is the biggest issue right now. I also get the feeling from IFG (which I think you do too) that they've agreed to be fairly aggressive lately and are feeling somewhat anxious about it. I think they'll need some reassurance possibly some pacifying. Ken seemed to be particularly miffed about Lehman's not following through with the notices on the collateral movement last weekend. I think he felt they agreed to the movement of the collateral in good faith, on the condition that they received the notice over the weekend and then didn't get it. (I may be making a bigger issue of this than needs to be, but Ken did sound a little funny, which really isn't Ken)

- Francis commented after the fact on being very rushed on moving forward with the Woody Creek Ranch closing. Which he was, but that's life. He knows that we will give them more time with the future acquisitions.

Well I think I've begun to ramble too much :) Let me know if you have questions on anything else that you need to know about before you go

I am totally happy to be on the other end of a speaker phone during the meetings, so let me know if you're going to plug me and at what times.

I feel tremendously guilty that I'm not going, and am going to miss the chance to spend the time with you and touch base with all the Trustees.

Subject: Two Mile (Rosemary's Circle R Ranch)

Anna - in reference to your questions to Margot re the documents sent for execution:

I have the following in my files executed by IFG 1. Woody Creek Management Trust executed 10/1/99 - you should have a copy of this - see exhibit A - the trust owed all the shares of Rocky Mountain Serenity Ranch I, LLC and II LLC. These two LLC's were the entities that originally purchased the property. Since there were 4 lots and there was a US reporting requirement if the value exceeded a certain dollar amount, each LLC purchased 2 of the lots and equal value was assigned to each - so each LLC owns 50%.

2. Agreement of Trust Amendment to Two Mile Ranch Management Trust dated April 20, 2000 - to change name Woody Creek to Two Mile Ranch Management Trust.

3. Agreement for the Appointment of Additional Trustees and for the Resignation of the existing trustees of Two Mile Ranch Management Trust dated August 2002 - this was resignation of Shari and Mike and appointment of Lisa and Kelly

4. Second Amendment to the Two Mile Ranch Management Trust dated Aug 14, 2002 - this was a legal clarification to the trust

5. Agreement for the Restrictive Use of Property owned by Two Mile Ranch Management Trust dated Aug 14, 2002 - documentation to restrict Torie Steele from use of the property

6. Agreement of Trust Amendment to Rosemary's Circle R Ranch Management Trust - you should have this for signature to change the name of the trust

7. Operating Agreement of Rocky Mountain Serenity Ranch I, LLC and II, LLC - these were not done in 1999 because of oversight of the law firm and was not noticed until we went to make the most recent name change - therefore, we need to have an existing Operating agreement for Rocky Mountain effective Oct 1999 signed by all parties (you should have both of these for signature)

8. First Amendment to the Operating Agreement of Two Mile Ranch I, LLC and Two Mile Ranch II, LLC to change the name effective April 20, 2000 - this needs only to be signed by trustees of the trust so you do not have this one

9. First Amendment to the Operation Agreement of Rosemary's Circle R Ranch I and II, LLC - again to change the name and only needs to be signed by trustees of the trust.

I hope this is helpful and answers your questions - please let me know if you would like copies of any of the other documents that IFG is not a party to and I will fax to you

Subject: sub-funds

[REDACTED] = Redacted by the Permanent
Subcommittee on Investigations

We are going to want to talk substantively about setting up sub-funds at the meeting next week - I'd like to hope that we can have them set up and be moving assets into them for January 1st.

At this point, we are looking at allocating approximately 20% of the major trust assets to sub funds, these are to be split equally to each child and to Cheryl (Sam's spouse), as a sub-fund created out of The Bessie Trust. This calculation results in an amount of approximately $10Million per each sub-fund - this is the figure we are proposing to move forward with. I am aware that there is a letter of wishes on file for Bessie Trust that will need to be amended.

I have been in contact with Rodney Owens, our US tax and estate planning attorney and he is in agreement with the following proposal, which I have discussed extensively with Sam and Shari:

- Create subsidiary companies of The Bessie Trust which are nominated by way of a letter of wishes as sub-funds for the benefits of particular children and their descendants, as well as one sub-fund for his spouse.
- Sam's intent is that the sub-funds be appointed out into sub-trusts upon his death.
- the sub-funds should effectively be revocable prior to his death when they convert to sub-trusts
- Each sub-fund will hold a composite of the major investments held by the global trust system including: Cash, US Agencies, Michaels, CA, Maverick, Edinburgh, Greenmountain, Precept, Ranger and the Real Estate holding companies (Two Mile Ranch and the Cottonwoods).
- there will be specific allocations to some children, for example - Cottonwood I, which represents the ground floor of the Paragon Building, used by the Wyllyworks Gallery will likely be allocated to Kelly Wyly Elliot's sub-fund. The Global Audio Visual investment and loan will be allocated to Laurie Matthews' sub-fund.
- We would like each sub-fund to own part of Two Mile Ranch, but each family group should fund construction of their specific houses, the common development costs should be split by everyone. Since we don't want ownership interests to fluctuate due to the amounts and timing of construction costs, we need to determine another mechanism for 'investing' funds in this property development. What are your thoughts on making gifts to Two Mile Ranch (IOM) (we would keep track of the accumulated gifts in sub accounts) or loans.
- Bessie Trust does not have significant liquidity or many investments other than the art and real estate vehicles, as such, we propose to lend assets from the 1992 trusts (Bulldog, Lake Providence and Delhi) to provide liquidity. The fact the Sam's spouse is not included in the class of beneficiaries of the 1992 trusts must be considered when we look at this.
- we would like to proceed on the basis that the Trustees, together with IOM/UK counsel - Michael Fullertove if appropriate, draft the required amendments and amended letter of wishes to accomplish this. We'll have US tax counsel review.
- obviously we welcome your input and guidance as we set this up, to ensure we are conforming with Manx law as well as the trust documentation. All comments are welcome.

To start things off, here are a list of possible company names - perhaps you could check the registrar and advise which ones could be used:

Katy Limited
Katherine Limited
Abmahi Limited
Minerva Limited
Cleland Limited
Armstrong Limited
Balch Limited
Parker Limited
Irwin Limited
Flowers Limited

I hope this gives you a basis for our discussions next week, and we look forward to hearing your thoughts.

Kelly seems to be getting much better at keeping me in the loop - I hope it continues - It would sure make our lives easier. I am feeling great, pretty much back to 100%, just lacking a little sleep - but Keith has been a huge help by staying up for the last feeding so I can go on to bed. So far it's working out great and Jordan has been a big help too - I'm just wondering how long it is going to last. Take care and talk to you soon yep - that's right. Also help me remember that as we start to build other houses, those individuals will need to contribute to the Management trust. I think Andrew will be one of the first ones to contribute, but this can wait until I get back in.

I got a copy of a memo from Kelly that only went to family members so I am passing along the details in case you did not get it. It looks like they are considering putting in their own natural gas line to the property. They are also considering putting in cable, telephone, fiber optic and electric lines and possible setting up a "Woody Creek Gas and Electric company" and charging neighbors who want to use the line. It looks like for right now they are only going forward with the natural gas line and Kelly put a note on it that the cost is estimated at $400,000. Not sure if this was included in any of Kristins previous estimates. There was no time frame listed for the line, but I would assume late summer.

Hope all is well

Keeley

Sam,

I've attached a schedule of allocations for the 6 sub-funds to the offshore trusts. We are in the process of setting up the subsidiary holding companies and hope to be able to move assets starting on June 1st. The IOM Trustees have agreed a structure that we are comfortable with and Rodney Owens is approving the final documentation. The sub-funds will be Cayman LLC's as subsidiaries of the IOM Trusts. They will not be formal appointments out of the overall trust and will be revocable. They exist, as a sub-fund via an informal understanding with the trustees whereby we account for these entities separately and liaise with particular family members regarding the underlying assets.

- Laurie has been specifically allocated Global Audio Visual and the Mi Casa real estate investment.
- Kelly has been specifically allocated the Cottonwood Galleries investment.
- Evan, Lisa, Laurie & Kelly have equally been allocated the Spitting Lion investment (Rosemary's home in Dallas)
- Two Mile Ranch and Cottonwood Ventures II (the 2nd floor of the Paragon building) have had 20% of the cost today allocated equally across all 6 children.

I then split out investments in Michaels, Ranger, Maverick Levered and Greenmountain to each child, and balanced the overall allocation to $10M each with an allocation of cash and agencies.

Note that Laurie and Kelly both end up with relatively low liquidity. On a fairly short term basis Kelly will need liquidity to fund construction costs of their home on Two Mile Ranch. Laurie also, will need near term liquidity for renovation/reconstruction of the Mi Casa property in Dallas. I suggest either reducing or eliminating allocations of particular investments to them now, or leaving the allocations as is, requiring Laurie and Kelly to decide what to sell when the liquidity needs arise. I don't see a problem with them selling assets back to the overall trust, or in the market when the need arises.

I have not allocated CA options, SCOT stock and warrants or the loans relating to the Malibu property as it is possible that these investments may be liquidated in the near term. Instead of allocating the GMER loans, I've doubled up on the allocation of GMTN common stock. Maverick and Precept were not allocated as they are included under the Ranger portfolio, and some Maverick Levered was allocated. Artwork can be specifically allocated at a later date when we have completed the identification process and entered into possession agreements. The remaining misc investments were not allocated due to their size.

I will be in Dallas next week for the family meeting, hopefully we can schedule some time to look at this. If we can agree a 'final' allocation we can move forward for June 1st transfers.

Hi Michelle,
 The construction company is breaking out future costs. I have put together a spreadsheet of past costs. As soon as I work out a few of the kinks, I will email it to you. For now, the house I am occupying (Historic Log House) has a total cost so far of $1,708,996.74. This is broken down: construction $1,625,521; architects $73,198.74; engineers $10,277. There will probably be one more invoice from the construction company for this house....it shouldn't be much though. I hope that helps.

Thanks Kristin. It sounds like things are busy up there! This gives us a good starting point. Keeley, Rena & I hope to talk tomorrow and Keeley or I will get back to you on what we think is the best way to move forward. Is the Construction co breaking out future costs? Is it possible to segregate out the costs incurred to date for the house you are occupying?

Hi Michelle!
 Sorry I haven't gotten back to you...things have been a little hectic around here. The construction company, Fenton Construction, is already breaking the costs of construction out per building and main ranch stuff. However, when I pay the bill, I just write one check a month to them. It isn't broken out. I could break it down in QBooks when I enter it. Would that help? What categories would I use? Or should we create new ones? Jay and I are living in a historical log home that was already on the property. They moved it to redo the foundation, but it is back in the same spot and completely refurbished. There was a caretaker's house on the property when Sam bought it and that has since been bulldozed. Currently, there are two historical log homes on the property that are being redone. These buildings are really small and will be used for an art studio and a bunkhouse. Regarding our houses, no houses are under construction yet. The last I heard, mine and Jay's house will be built first, then Kelly's and Rosemary's simultaneously will start soon after mine (maybe two months). We are not anticipating starting to build until the end of July. Please let me know what you think about the billing situation. And feel free to email with any other questions. Thanks.

Hope you are feeling well also. Take care.

Hi Kristin,

Just following up on my email last week, to make sure you received it. Have you had a chance to think about this yet? We are discussing how to handle the accounting from Dallas to enable us to report on a house by house basis and it would be useful to know how you are going to be able to provide the support for that.

Also, could you give me a status report on the houses, my information is a little out of date. I believe you and Jay are occupying what we refer to as the historical house - was it ever moved or just refurbished. I understand there was a caretaker's cottage on the property - what is the plan for this? Will it be occupied, used as an outbuilding or torn down. If not occupied, I expect any costs associated with it should fall into the overall general property development costs. Finally, what is the status of construction on other houses and the order in which they will likely progress - Kelly & Jason's house first? Then who's and what is the expected timeframe and cost on these at this point.

Thanks and I hope you are still feeling well with your pregnancy - it's getting close!
Michelle

Kristin,

I understand that house which you and Jay are (or have moved into) currently is designated for Andrew on a long term basis.

With this house and the other individual houses as the project moves forward, we will need to have a break down of cost allocations. Could you please break out the costs associated with this particular house to date.

On a going forward basis, we will need you to provide us with details on a house by house basis, as well as overall and common area development costs.

It might be easiest to have the architects/contractor/other service providers reference a particular house/project on their invoices and set up separate accounts for their billing, to facilitate us with this breakdown.

I'll touch base with Rena and Keeley to see if they would prefer to keep a separate ledger in Total Return for the separate houses or whether some sort of Excel spreadsheet system that allocates costs by month and ties out to monthly cash flow.

Okay, I have a better understanding now on what they are doing. Based on the 4 lots as they stand now, they would be allowed to build 7 houses. They would like to build 8 houses so they are taking this negative covenant to the BOCC to see if this will get 8 houses approved. This is not something the BOCC has asked for and they are not sure it is going to help at all. If it does not, then we will go back to holding the 4 parcels with only the ability to build 7 houses. That is why we could not have done a separate agreement for each tract because that would not have helped the cause - we have to show them that we will not sell any of the land to outside people. From talking to the guys, Aspen is very picky about who they will let build there - I guess I never have to worry about building a house there.

Hi Kristin,

Keeley will need to co-ordinate with you on Rosemary. I'm not sure whether Wrangler will reimburse TMR or pay the costs directly (I think the former - but Keeley will confirm)

With regards to the children's houses, you will need to pay the bills directly from there, out of the accounts you currently have. Keeley is arranging for sub-accounts to be created in Total Return so that we can track the expenditures by house and then separately for the overall property. I'll make arrangements to reimburse TMR for expenditures, as we have been doing in the past. So really nothing will change regarding the procedures between us, it's more of an accounting exercise between you and Dallas to ensure the costs are properly allocated. (Then Dallas and I need to communicate so that I am funding the amounts to you from the right child's account.

If you can give me any indication of expected cash flow through year end, by child and for the overall property it would be a big help. Also, how are current cash reserves - are you going to need funding in the next 6 weeks?
 If so, maybe we should make arrangements now.

My last day in the office will likely be June 22nd. I am likely to have a c-section the week of June 25th as the baby is breech. All is going well, but it is extremely hot here! Hope things keep going well for you - do you and Jay know whether you are having a girl or boy?

Good Luck!

Hi Michelle-

Hope you are feeling well. Not too much longer until we are both due! I have a couple of questions for you regarding the billing of the ranch. Sam has informed Kelly that he has set up accounts for each child's house. He said the kids bills are to be paid by you and Rosemary's bills paid by Keeley (Wrangler Trust). Currently, I get one ranch bill that is broken down between general ranch and the individual houses. I receive a pay application around the first week of the month and they expect payment around the second week. I have told the construction company to start making different invoices for each house starting with June's invoice. Here are our questions:

1. Since there is a short turn around for payment, should I email you the amount and then send the pay application to you.
2. Or should I still pay the bills for the individual houses and you reimburse Two Mile Ranch?

If you have not already, you should be getting an update from Kelly on the project. I was very suprised by some of the numbers, maybe I am just remembering wrong:

Rosemary house - 2.5M
Kelly and Jason - 4.0M
Lisa & John $1.5M
Barn - $1.5M
Kristin and Jay - 760K

Do these seem alot higher than where they started? Most of these houses will not be over 3,500 sq. feet.

Talked to Kelly and here is the update:

They have hired Bob Mandick to act as supervision manager and attends all of the weekly meetings at the farm. He is responsible for reviewing all of the contractor bills and assuring charges are correct and as originally agreed to. He is also responsible for finding areas that fees could be reduced without a reduction in quality of work. As an example, he has cut some supervisor hours down from 40 to 20 because they could get everything they needed to get done completed in 20 hours and they were just standing around wasting time for the other 20. He has also been able to reduce the cost of Kelly's house by 200,000 by questioning items on the proposal. He works only on an hourly basis and has already saved the farm well in excess of his charges.

Completed:

Bunk House
 Historical house - Rosemary has moved in Yearly House - completed Oct. 2002 Garage Barn
 Plans complete for Lisa and Laurie

In Progress:

Kelly house - May/June 2004
 Rosemary house - Dec 2003

They are beginning to work on the prep for the roads which they will make permanent this summer when it is warmer.

They are also working on their water plan which will be rolled out this summer.

They are holding off on the hydro plant and the solar sculpture for now - they are able to produce all the power they need with the existing solar panels

The Yearly house and the hydro plant both won architectural awards for design.

The ranch was featured on the front page of the Aspen newspaper - trying to get a copy

Flo Flo (Laurie)

Proposed transactions to raise liquidity for continued construction at Rosemary's Ranch

100% 200 L... (PO W)

Flo Flo is responsible to fund:

- 3.33% of all common area charges ✓
- 25% of all costs related to Rosemary's house and related items ✓
- 100% of all costs related to home construction for personal use ✓

Estimated costs to provide for at this time:

Home for personal use	-
Rosemary's house (est. 6mths)	350,000	1.0
common area (est. 6mths)	50,000	1.6
repayment of advances from main trust	450,000
Total liquidity to be raised	750,000

Assets in Flo Flo, avail for use

(approx values at 7/31/03)

Cash	69,000
Ranger Multi Strategy Fund	500,000	could sell outright or transfer some to new levered product
Ranger Partners (via RFA)	950,000	will be available after settlement
Michaels Stores (46,200 shs)	1,917,000	could sell outright, margin or enter into a derivative
Total available assets	3,436,000

Recommendation:

Use cash on hand to fund ongoing common area charges and continue to have main trust fund any other large requirements in respect of Rosemary's house. Flo Flo can plan on reimbursing for those advances and fulfilling the above commitments when the funds tied up in Ranger Partners are released.

Long term cash management:

The following compares current assets vs. assets after the RP money is released and commitments above are settled

	projected after	%	estimated	%
	reallocations		at 7/31/03

Total real estate assets	5,249,038	58.7%	4,949,038	55.4%
Total Assets	8,935,038	100.0%	9,385,038	105.0%
Advances due to main trust	-	0.0%	(450,000)	-5.0%	<450>
Total Net Assets	8,935,038	100.0%	8,935,038	100.0%

Long term recommendations:

Flo Flo has approximately $2.25Million in RMS and Michaels Stores from which to derive future cash flow. Margin is available on MIK at a 30% advance rate.

I suggest formulating a budget including the following items:

- Spitting Lion - future cash needs and ongoing maintenance
- MiCasa - future cash needs and ongoing maintenance costs
- Ranch - common area allocations
- Ranch - completion of Rosemary's house, furnishings, ongoing maintenance
- Ranch - any plans to build home for personal use and its ongoing maintenance
- Cottonwood II Limited - possible minor ongoing maintenance and possible sale to return some cash, but likely not significant

Hi Michelle,
This is a letter of budgets and dates for all of the ranch projects prepared by Bob Mandich the construction consultant for Circle R Ranch. He has included all projects that the family has talked about. Let me know if you have any questions or need more information. Thanks.

Hi Kristin,

I was speaking with Sam & Evan today, and we would like to get an idea of budget going forward at the Ranch. Could you put something together that addresses the following items:

- Remaining Common Area Development Costs ie. infrastructure, services, landscaping etc...
- Costs to complete individual houses on the property
- re: Jason & Kelly - estimated costs to complete from 7/31/03
- re: Rosemary's house - estimated costs to complete from 7/31/03
- Lisa & John - total anticipated budget
- other buildings or projects being considered
- Estimated costs to manage and operate common area/infrastructure on a going forward basis
- ie. ranch management, services, mtce, taxes etc... on an annual basis
- Estimated costs to operate specific houses on a going forward basis

It would be helpful for the development and construction costs to be segregated timewise into estimates for 6mth, 1yr, 3yr, total projections, and I don't think these need to be nailed down in any exact terms, a ballpark idea of what to expect over the near term and in total would be extremely helpful.

Could you give me an idea of when you think you could pull this together. Thanks! and I hope all is going well.

Michelle

I spoke with Cheryl & Sam. They approved the purchase of the required TDR's for the ranch. You need to contact Gale at Lenny Oates office to wire $120,000.00 for the first one.

Please verify this with Sam and call Gale. We will talk later.
Thanks.

Re: Natural Gas line to Two Mile Ranch
Date: April 3, 2001

FAX COPY TO CHERYL

Gary,

I spoke with Sam tonight after I hung up with you. He is pleased with our approval from the F&Z. He had some other ideas about the potential for a natural gas line to the ranch. He would like for you to look into the possibility of putting other lines such as T.V. cable, electric cable, telephone line, fiber optic, etc. as well as the natural gas line. He is wondering if there might be a way to recoup some of our expense by forming a "Woody Creek Electric, Gas, Telephone, and Cable Company" and signing up our neighbors for service. He knows that there is a loophole in the law that allows rural areas to create their own telephone, electric company. Sam does have the concern that he doesn't want people calling us personally if their phone doesn't work, and would want the responsibility of service to be outsourced. Another scenario might be the phone company (or whoever else) paying us a fee to use our ditch to lay their line in. There is definitely an economic opportunity here for us as well as someone else (whomever might want to handle the service-side of the scenario).

Either way, he does want to go forward with the natural gas line. Sam believes that there will be obvious benefits, and that there will be some way to recoup some of that initial investment. He still would like for you to look into making this initial price as low as possible, but we do have permission from him to put it in.

Sam is well aware that you will be busy the next three weeks preparing for our meeting with the BOCC, and will not be able to devote much time to this venture until after April 25th. We just wanted to put the bug in your ear so that you could be thinking about the best approach.

Talk to you soon,

Kelly

Subject: BOCC contract for Two Mile Ranch

Keeley,
I haven't heard about the changes to the contract yet. I got an e-mail from Michelle about it. She said you would give me a call to discuss. I assume that you are also communicating directly with Lenny's office about it. I need to look over the changes as well to make sure that he didn't leave anything important out. My assumption is that I can sign it as representative of Two Mile Ranch, but if someone else has to sign it, I need to make sure it is here in time for our BOCC meeting (June 12th). Hope all is great with you and baby. I can't wait to see pictures.

Subject: Ranch budgets

Hi Kristin,

I was speaking with Sam & Evan today, and we would like to get an idea of budget going forward at the Ranch. Could you put something together that addresses the following items:

- Remaining Common Area Development Costs ie. infrastructure, services, landscaping etc...
- Costs to complete individual houses on the property
- re: Jason & Kelly - estimated costs to complete from 7/31/03
- re: Rosemary's house - estimated costs to complete from 7/31/03
- Lisa & John - total anticipated budget
- other buildings or projects being considered
- Estimated costs to manage and operate common area/infrastructure on a going forward basis
- ie. ranch management, services, mtce, taxes etc... on an annual basis
- Estimated costs to operate specific houses on a going forward basis

It would be helpful for the development and construction costs to be segregated timewise into estimates for 6mth, 1yr, 3yr, total projections, and I don't think these need to be nailed down in any exact terms, a ballpark idea of what to expect over the near term and in total would be extremely helpful.

Could you give me an idea of when you think you could pull this together. Thanks! and I hope all is going well.

Michelle

 Rosemary's Ranch

FYI,
 From discussions last week, Kelly advised the following re: RMR
 - the Natal Cabin and the Bunk House are actually the same building, so we should adjust the TR classifications accordingly and merge them.
 - Nowry Barn - this was taken down and plans were to resurrect it elsewhere on the property. The materials were not in good enough shape to be able to do that so they couldn't. However, many of the beams from the old barn have been used in construction of some of the other buildings/houses. A decision should be made whether to attribute the cost of those beams (or equivalent FMV) to the individual houses or not, and the balance of the cost of the Nowry Barn should be expenses/allocated to another line item. I think we need to follow up with the Wyls to confirm treatment and adjust.
 - Gypsy Wagon - this project should move forward shortly. Margot - on our allocations, the costs should be fully allocated to S&C Wyls.

Subject: Items for trustees

11/04/1999 01:32 PM

Trident:

- I have received the tax exempt certificates for the Trident entities
- La Fourche Trust
- possible sale of Woody Creek Ranch Limited to Bessie Trust for a note with Woody Creek Ranch Limited shares as collateral (interest rate ?)
- Francis has not yet seen any original Trust documents for execution regarding the Woody Creek Ranch Management Trust (he may ask about them - I've emailed Elaine today asking her to follow up on this)
- Tyler Trust
- acquisition of CW family properties through Tyler Trust, via loans from Elegance (Trident) and Quayle (Northern Bank)
- long term strategy
- long term cash flow management

IFGBessie Trust

- acquisition of Woody Creek Ranch Limited from La Fourche using a note
- ongoing cash requirements for the property - construction plans ($3M) and annual mce costs
- future property acquisitions
- cash management

Moberly Limited

- status of receiving legal opinion from Simcocks for the SSW transaction
- possible sale or redemption of FUND to raise cash for liquidity

Castle Creek

- loan of money to Tyler Trust (Trident) to acquire CW properties

Other items FYI:

- Trident has a query on Edinburgh Depreciation Deposit adjustments made earlier this year - I have not responded yet - Francis & I discussed this last week (I know it's outstanding if they bring it up with you).

- Trust reporting. We are posted through 9/30, but I have not given a thorough review, and I am aware of a few problems on some small items - so I'm not happy to release them yet. I have told the various trustees that I hope to have these for them by the end of next week - but I think some of them (Francis, in particular :) was anxious about not having them going into your meeting next week. I told him I doubted that you and Mike would want to discuss and detailed accounting related matters, and he shouldn't worry.

- Overall, I think that cash flow is the biggest issue right now. I also get the feeling from IFG (which I think you do too) that they've agreed to be fairly aggressive lately and are feeling somewhat anxious about it. I think they'll need some reassurance possibly some pacifying. Ken seemed to be particularly miffed about Lehman's not following through with the notices on the collateral movement last weekend. I think he felt they agreed to the movement of the collateral in good faith, on the condition that they received the notice over the weekend and then didn't get it. (I may be making a bigger issue of this than needs to be, but Ken did sound a little funny, which really

- Francis commented after the fact on being very rushed on moving forward with the Woody Creek Ranch closing. Which he was, but that's life. He knows that we will give them more time with the future acquisitions.

Well I think I've begun to ramble too much :) Let me know if you have questions on anything else that you need to know about before you go

I am totally happy to be on the other end of a speaker phone during the meetings, so let me know if you're going to plug me and at what times.

I feel tremendously guilty that I'm not going, and am going to miss the chance to spend the time with you and touch base with all the Trustees.

I'm trying to get this sorted out to be sold to Bessie Trust in the next 5 - 10 days.

There has been some back and forth on how to show the original funding in Devotion to WCRL to by the properties, but finally, in February I confirmed to Francis to go ahead with Devotion Limited being the sole share holder of LWCRL (as confirmed by Rodney). What we also decided was that the full invested amount of approx $12M be reflected as a capital contribution (par value and share premium).

Now that I'm looking at selling the company to Bessie Trust, I don't think this was the best way to do it. I think we should have left it as Devotion holding the nominal shareholding (of say $100) with the balance of the funds being reflected as a interco advance from Devotion. That way I can sell LWCRL to Bessie Trust for $100 and have one of Bessie's subsidiary companies assume the loan from Devotion (or advance the funds to LWCRL and have them repay Devotion - I don't think it makes a difference).

If Bessie Trust has to buy LWCRL from Devotion for the full $2,190,000 I need to get money up to the Trust from a sub corp, which I know we don't want to do. Alternatively, I can have a subsidiary company (and if we have to go this route, I recommend we use the newly formed Spitting Lion as it was also formed for the purpose of a real estate transaction purchase LWCRL. This would be okay, but I'd prefer for LWCRL to be a sub of the Trust, rather than a sub of a sub of the trust....

Anyway - I've asked Francis to confirm that he did go ahead in February had has made the necessary changes to show all the investment as capital, and if so, to find out if we can take action to effectively reverse it.

I'll let you know what happens - I just thought you should be aware of the back and forth on this.

I've also sent recommendations today to clear up some intercompany balances and move some funds around between Bessie/Bulldog to make sure Bessie has money to buy LWCRL.

I assume he's talking about bringing it up to $20M level. At 12/31 the net assets were approx $16.9M, so I have $3.1M available due to the Michaels sales. Since the cash is in Bessie, and needs to be used to buy Woody Creek Ranch Limited from Devotion, I propose that we transfer what we need over to Devotion now, and then settle the intercompany as part of the purchase price of Woody Creek Ranch Limited when we have all the cash available (ie. when we are done the Michaels sales.)

I'll put something together for you on cash flow and confirm with Juanell on the $20M, - I have to run out and pick Jeff up at the airport, but will do it this afternoon.

I guess that if they really want us to move money asap, and put it in for a 2/1 subscription we can - it's all the same pot at this point - no outsiders so I don't really have a problem doing that, provided the trustees with agree to it.

Let me know what you think.

I assume we're actually talking about 3/1. What do you think? Can we raise cash that quickly? Do you think he's talking adding enough to bring the value of the fund up to $20 million or $20 million - initial investment?

I am so close to having October done, but I'm not going to make it for today. :(I am very very disappointed.

I went back to Rodney again yesterday on the Devotion/La Fourche/Little Woody Creek Ranch Funding, and await an answer, but maybe you have an idea:

He said to book the movements from Devotion to La Fourche to Little Woody Creek Ranch as return of capital and then investment. The initial capital that La Fourche put into Devotion was approx $4.9M, and the money we moved was approx $12M, and we'll need to move future funds for construction/maintenance etc.... ongoing costs. My first problem is how to reflect the excess over the paid in capital - dividend/loan?, and secondly what's the best approach to handle ongoing funding.

I also asked him to confirm how we handled the Soulieana/Tyler/Gorsemoor/Stargate Loan Funding transaction. The Trustees have booked it all through as intercompany/intertrust advances - no investments, no refunds of paid in capital. I want to be sure we're okay taxwise showing it that way.

I'll let you know what he comes back with, and if you have any ideas on the La Fourche transaction let me know.

Petra is going to continue on putting November together in my absence. I expect we'll have no trouble having November's available by the end of the month. Elaine hopes to have November completed by December 22nd. If she does, this will allow us to have the consolidation by month end.

I've attached agendas for Geneva - please take a look and advise of other matters to add before I distribute.

I understand from Shonda that you are available to meet for dinner on Monday with David. One of the things David wants to discuss with you and I directly is the crossover between the 1992's and the 1994 trusts, due to the differences in beneficiaries particularly as the existing letter of wishes will change. FYI, I put a call into Sam to generally discuss the letter of wishes and the fact that it will need to be amended for the creation of the sub-trusts. - I want to clarify whether Cheryl should be allocated a piece of Two Mile Ranch, or if this is for his kids, and whether her benefit from the trust should be limited to the sub-fund we are creating.

Anyway, given that we are going to loan assets from the 1992s to the 1994s, David wants to ask all the children to confirm their agreement to this in writing. He also feels a lot better about doing this if Aundyr is the trustee of both trusts. Which they will be when we merge the 1992s back together, but... that is a huge pot to have at one place - I don't think we can represent to him that we wouldn't move part of the business for further diversification.

Since he is raising issues on this, I mentioned to him the split dollar life insurance planning, knowing it makes his problem worse, but felt he should know that's where we want to go, likely within the next year.

I'm making arrangements to fund the University of Michigan donation from Relish and Devotion ($1.75M and .25 respectively). I'll confirm with you, but I expect payment to go out next week.

We had the cash avail here since we did not invest in Jason's 'internet companies' venture, and the immediate funding of the Aspen properties was lower than expected as construction will not commence until later in the year. Note that on this, I think that with the Michaelis sales, we'll be able to have Bessie acquire WCRL shortly. Next week I'm going to take a look at everything and we can discuss with the family when I'm in Dallas

Good news (!) is that Francis hadn't finalized the 'restructuring' of the transaction so from a corporate records perspective Devotion has $1.65 invested in LWCR's capital stock and a loan to them for $12,193,000. I'll to have Bessie buy LWCR for $1.65 and have Yurta Faf advance LWCR $12,193,000 and have LWCR repay Devotion. Ken is moving funds around to get money available in Yurta Faf. I expect the sale etc.... will happen Monday.

Please respond to
"mboucher@ [REDACTED]"

The protectors recommend that you make a further investment in Woody Creek Management Trust in the amount of $500,000 (five hundred thousand dollars). These funds are required to ensure that the properties have ready cash available to acquire additional TDR's (up to 6, averaging $150K each) should they come available. It is my understanding that the property manager hopes to acquire these by the end of April when it is expected that plans for the development will be submitted for approval.

I believe there is sufficient cash available in Devotion Limited to fund such additional investment. Please let me know if you need me to re-confirm wire instructions, which you should have on hand.

If you have any questions, please call.

Rena,
Please send me wire instructions for two mile ranch management trust. Based on Kristin's cash flow's she expects approx $800K to be spent for Oct/Nov. I'll arrange for $750K to be wired to the management trust, and you can transfer it out to the LLC's as needed.
Thanks

Hi Michelle!
Rena told me to email you regarding the ranch accounts. I currently have about $100k in each account....but I am about to pay bills and will be down to about $75k per account. The bulk of my bills usually come in the middle to the end of each month. So I shouldn't have any major bills until next month....but then again you never know. So I may be needing a cushion within the next month. Thank you.

Subject: two mile ranch

Dear Ken,
In order to fund ongoing activities at the Two Mile Ranch properties, the management trust requires additional cash of approximately $750,000. This is expected to cover expenses for the next two months.

I believe I forwarded you cash flow projections for the properties, but if you have not received them, please let me know.

The protectors recommend that Audubon Asset Limited make arrangements to loan funds to Two Mile Ranch to raise the necessary cash.

I will forward wiring instructions shortly.

Michelle

yep - that's right. Also help me remember that as we start to build other houses, those individuals will need to contribute to the Management trust. I think Andrew will be one of the first ones to contribute, but this can wait until I get back in.

Subject: Two Mile

I got a copy of a memo from Kelly that only went to family members so I am passing along the details in case you did not get it. It looks like they are considering putting in their own natural gas line to the property. They are also considering putting in cable, telephone, fiber optic and electric lines and possible setting up a "Woody Creek Gas and Electric company" and charging neighbors who want to use the line. It looks like for right now they are only going forward with the natural gas line and Kelly put a note on it that the cost is estimated at $400,000. Not sure if this was included in any of Kristins previous estimates. There was no time frame listed for the line, but I would assume late summer.

Hope all is well

Keeley

Lara - The $200,000 is for Little Woody. You should be getting an e-mail from Jana this morning on cash needs for Two Mile. FYI - Jana has taken over the accounting for Two Mile Ranch and Cottonwood from Rena so future e-mails will come from her. I believe the cash needs for Two Mile are $1,000,000. Sorry for all the requests - they all just seem to be hitting at the same time.

Keeley,

Are you meaning Two Mile Ranch rather than Little Woody Limited? I spoke to Michelle B this morning and will be recommending the movement of funds but before I do I just wanted to clarify this. I will also be recommending the Sport Horses money be sent. I hope you will get this tomorrow.

Thanks
Lara

Jana, we have requested $3.6M for Two Mile Ranch and $1.5M for Cottonwood. I expect the trustees will have it to move to you Tuesday or Wednesday next week. Lara will advise you as soon as we are notified of the value date of the transfer.

Also, I will need a breakdown of how the money is being spent on TMR. We need to break costs out by overall property development vs. individual house construction. Keeley and I spoke about this earlier in the year and I think you were going to set up sub a/cs in Total Return to track it. We need to touch base on this again. Let me know what you guys are doing, so we can make sure we get the right reporting to allocate it in our system.

I just received a three month projection of expenditures from Fenton Construction. For the ranch, they are projecting $3 million over the next three months. I'm expecting approximately $200k per month for the ranch in other expenditures (i.e. architects, design, engineers, etc.). So for the ranch, let's plan on 1.2m per month through November.

For Cottonwood II, Fenton Construction plans on $1.2m in expenditures over the next 3 months. Let's say $500k per month for Cottonwood II until November.

If you have any questions, please feel free to email or call me. Thanks.

Rosemary's house is almost complete but I think they will be starting on Lisa's real soon

Please respond to
"mboucher@[Redacted]"

The protectors recommend that you make a further investment in Woody Creek Management Trust in the amount of $500,000 (five hundred thousand dollars). These funds are required to ensure that the properties have ready cash available to acquire additional TDR's (up to 6, averaging $150K each) should they come available. It is my understanding that the property manager hopes to acquire these by the end of April when it is expected that plans for the development will be submitted for approval.

I believe there is sufficient cash available in Devotion Limited to fund such additional investment. Please let me know if you need me to re-confirm wire instructions, which you should have on hand.

If you have any questions, please call.

PROPERTY IDENTIFICATION

Legal Description:

The subject property is located at 1137 Little Woody Creek Road, and is legally described as:

Sachs Woody Creek Exemption Subdivision

The subject property is also known as Speer Woody Creek Subdivision Lot 2 and part of Lot 1.

Sales History and Present Owner of Record:

The subject property, according to the Pitkin County Assessor's Office, is in the ownership Little Woody, Ltd., a Texas limited partnership. The property was purchased by that entity from Finkelstein in September, 1996 for $2,425,000. Since that time the home has been completely remodeled and expanded. To our knowledge, there have been no other arms-length transactions involving the subject property over the past 5 years. It is not currently available for sale.

Real Estate Tax Information:

State Tax Identification No.:	[REDACTED]
Assessor's Schedule No.:	07-11034

Dear Ronnie,

Please see attached recommendation from the protectorates committee (which you may have already received from them directly).

Kindly ensure that copies of the loan agreement, Second Deed of Trust and invoices for any legal costs associated with the loan and deed are sent to me.

Kindly also ensure that I receive copies of instructions to Lehman Brothers to liquidate treasuries to make the loan, and that I am advised of the date of any cash movements.

When the loan principle is transferred out, kindly provide me with details of the applicable US Fed rate that has been attached to the loan, and a copy of your source for it.

I will provide you with wiring instructions for Little Woody Ltd (a Texas Partnership) shortly.

Dear Ronnie,

Further to our conversation, I confirm the following:

The first mortgage will be for $1.6 Million, the second mortgage will be for $1.5 Million.

The current appraised value of the property is $2.3 Million. The excess cash generated by the mortgages will be used to make renovations to the property.

Shari indicated that given your willingness to proceed with the transaction, they will continue with the acquisition and provide you with the necessary documents as it progresses. It is likely that the first mortgage will be set up and the second one will follow shortly thereafter.

If you have any further questions, let me know.

Thanks and kind regards,

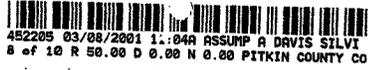

Michelle Boucher

Dear Ronnie,

Further to our conversation, I confirm the following:

The first mortgage will be for $1.6 Million, the second mortgage will be for $1.5 Million.

The current appraised value of the property is $2.3 Million. The excess cash generated by the mortgages will be used to make renovations to the property.

Shari indicated that given your willingness to proceed with the transaction, they will continue with the acquisition and provide you with the necessary documents as it progresses. It is likely that the first mortgage will be set up and the second one will follow shortly thereafter.

If you have any further questions, let me know.

Thanks and kind regards,

Michelle Boucher

Dear Ronnie,

Please see attached recommendation from the protectorates committee (which you may have already received from them directly).

Kindly ensure that copies of the loan agreement, Second Deed of Trust and invoices for any legal costs associated with the loan and deed are sent to me.

Kindly also ensure that I receive copies of instructions to Lehman Brothers to liquidate treasuries to make the loan, and that I am advised of the date of any cash movements.

When the loan principle is transferred out, kindly provide me with details of the applicable US Fed rate that has been attached to the loan, and a copy of your source for it.

I will provide you with wiring instructions for Little Woody Ltd (a Texas Partnership) shortly.

Thanks and kind regards,

Ms. Michelle Boucher,
The Scottish Annuity Company (Cayman) Ltd.,
Grand Cayman.

Fax to 00 1 809 [REDACTED]

August 29th, 1996.

thank you for your fax of August 28th regarding
First Woody (a Texas Partnership)'s second mortgage from Roaring Fork Limited.

I understand that the complete transaction would be for the ultimate benefit of at least some of the Trust's potential beneficiaries and so our Trust Committee would favour the loan.

We note that the whole of the excess of funds to be raised on the two mortgages over the cost of the property will be spent on improvements to the property. We would be glad to receive an appraisal of the value of the improved property after works have been completed. We are aware that this is a long term investment and do not expect the full cost of improvements to be reflected in the first appraisal, but we will need an indication of the current value of our surety.

I note that Shari and her team will now be responsible for producing the loan note and second deed of trust.

Helyn is back today and is proceeding with the Committee of Protectors' other suggestions.

y cL

determination of the value of the water rights is a separately salable commodity is important, we suggest that a water attorney or water appraiser be consulted.

About the Improvements:

The original structure on the property was built in the early 1970's and was subsequently remodeled by the prior owner, Mr. Finkelstein, prior to the purchase by Mr. Wily. Although better than the original structure, it was still a gross underimprovement for its land value. Since purchase, Mr. Wily has largely gutted, remodeled, and expanded the home. It is now an appropriate improvement for its land value. The exterior of the home is a combination of drystack stone on the entry facade, some chinked 3-squared logs, and board and batten (principally in the rear of the home). The roof is Corten rusted iron roofing with copper gutters and downspouts to add the "rustic" appeal of the structure. Windows are thermopane, wood frame with screens. The exterior curb appeal of the home is excellent.

The drive-up level of the home is finished as an oversized 2-car finished garage, with electric garage door openers, access to a mudroom with elevator and two guest bedrooms, each with a private bath. The baths are finished with fossilized flagstone floors, ceramic tile tub recessed areas, and stone vanity tops. The ceiling height on this level is 9 ½ feet. Walls are integral color plaster. This first level of the home totals 1,181 square feet plus the 761 square foot garage.

The real entry of the home is reached via a staircase to a large stone patio accessing the formal foyer. This second level of the home totals 3,594 square feet and is finished as the entry, family room, guest master suite with office and sitting room, two new guest bedrooms each with a private bath, and a powder room. The foyer has fossilized flagstone floor finish, an elaborate iron railing around the staircase with a dancing bear motif and integral color plaster wall finish. Adjacent is a playroom or family room with carpeted floors and a wet bar with undercounter refrigerator and an adjacent powder room with a stone vanity top and fossilized flagstone floor finish. An original bedroom on this level has been remodeled into a guest master. There is a sleeping area with large stone fireplace and carpeted floors, and a sitting area. Adjacent is a small office with wet bar, built-in desk and shelving. Built into the hillside is a large bath with flagstone floors, large jacuzzi tub, double vanities set in a polished granite slab, a large flagstone steam shower, and a dressing area with closets. A new addition to this level is finished as two guest bedrooms with carpeted floors, integral color plaster wall and ceiling finish, and 9½ foot ceiling height. Each has a bath similarly finished to those discussed above.

The third level of the home totals approximately 3,286 square feet and is finished as a living room, dining area, kitchen, laundry room, master bedroom suite, an office, and powder room. The living room has oak floor finish, high vaulted ceiling finish in log purlins and wood decking with two large skylights and is focused around a floor-to-ceiling

In my discussions with Charles last week, he said due to the option sale earlier this month that the sale of the properties was not as time sensitive. The total dollars will be around $25 million. I have to finish some estate planning for Charles this week and am also planning on firming these transactions up. I agree that we should be closed by the end of month unless Charles wants to delay. I should have a better indication from him this week and will let you know. Thanks

My understanding is that shortly we are looking to sell four properties to the offshore system. Shari indicated that you could give me an idea of the total dollars involved.

Also - do you know what the time frame is for accomplishing this? I thought it was by the end of this month.

We have now decided to have the liabilities assumed as part of the transaction which means total cash that needs to be available is around $12.5M. I am not sure we are going to be ready to go with all of them by Nov. 1, so I would think the $10M would be sufficient to handle what we need before Dec. 1.

Shari- Do you think we should sit down with Charles again and make sure he wants to go forward with everything (you may have already had this discussion with him). He wants to increase the sales price 6% on the Aspen properties based on some information from an appraiser that prices are going up about 1% per month, which accounts for the other $1M. Let me know your thoughts.

Subject: CW real estate

As part of the recent SSW/SE transaction I had provided for $10M to be used to acquire these properties (based on what Shari initially thought would be about the size). I will need to raise the additional $15M via redemptions from Maverick (which we were planning on doing for the SSW/SE transactions and changed our minds - so it is not unexpected). But technically we need to give 30 days notice to do this so I'm looking at having $10M avail right now and $15M available at Dec 1st. I can request that Lee agrees to waive notice and see if we can get out for November 1st if you think we need to do the transaction sooner than in 6 weeks time. I've given Shari a heads up that we may want to do this, but let me know how you feel about the timing.

Thanks!

I am back to looking at the Little Woody and Jourdan Way sales since there is not enough other stuff going on - I think the only thing left for you is to fund the Trust before the sale. Is that money readily available and how much lead time do you need? I still think we are a couple of weeks out, but thought I would check.

Thanks

To: Shari Robertson, Mike French
 Cc: Keeley Hennington, Donnie Miller
 Re: Charles Wyly Family meetings - week of 10/09/00
 Date: October 16, 2000
 From: Michelle Boucher

Keeley & I met with Charles & Donnie on 10/11/00, here is an update on recent developments:

First Dallas International:

Charles has a planned investment in a new Peter Ackerman venture called "Fresh Direct". It is a web based consolidator of fresh foods. You can order off their website and they will ship anywhere in the NY area. They have made significant progress on their warehouse facilities and distribution center in Long Island, and they hope to be up and running in about 1 year's time. The planned cost of this is $45Million, and Charles would like to commit $1Million through First Dallas International for an October 31st closing. Jim Lincoln will forward documents once received, but we expect the investment to be made into a tranche of preferred stock.

First Dallas Ventures:

This is the venture cap fund that Donnie and Jim are managing. Charles has authorised investments up to $10Million at this time. They are contemplating further investment in Cool Partners Inc., as well as other predominantly web-based ventures. Jim and Donnie both appear to be really enjoying this venture.

Ranger/Precept:

It does not appear that Charles and Sam have been able to get together to work out details of Charles' involvement with Ranger/Precept and the Ranger Management company. We had ordered tentative redemptions from Maverick for November 1st, which we'll roll to December 1st if details have not been worked out beforehand.

Sport Horses:

Charles is looking at establishing a breeding and equestrian training facility with Emily's involvement. A business plan has been presented, involving the acquisition of approximately 140 acres of land just north of DFW airport. Only 50 acres will be used for the business venture, and it is likely that the remaining land will be subsequently sold. Keeley and I are consulting Rodney to see if we can use a structure similar to that which was used for the gallery in Aspen, thus utilizing foreign assets for the cash injection and contributing Emily's horses in the same way Kelly contributed the gallery's inventory stocks. We would likely try to sub-divide the property and buy the land held for resale domestically, through another structure. I have not seen it yet, but understand the business plan indicates the business will not likely cash flow for the first few years, and will need ongoing capital. The anticipated initial commitment will be a minimum of $3Million.

Little Woody Creek Ranch:

This is the house that Emily and Jennifer use. We put together all documentation to sell this property to an IOM company last November/December. Charles has asked us to proceed once again and effect the sale. All domestic and IOM structures and funds are in place. Keeley will pull the documents and we'll touch base with Charles again next week and proceed.

Lambda Properties:

Nothing was directly discussed regarding construction activities on Charles and Dee's house in Aspen. If they decide to proceed, we will recommend that an IOM company acquire the property, to provide funds for the construction project. It is likely that this will not be underway until well into next year, with construction commencing in 2002. As with the Little Woody Creek Ranch property mentioned above, there are some issues regarding ownership of the existing properties which will need to be properly considered and dealt with in the new structures, especially within the context of creating sub-funds of the IOM trusts (see below).

Sub-funds:

Charles is aware that Sam is looking at creating sub-funds with the IOM assets, and is contemplating the same. We discussed the idea of creating them by using certain real estate transactions as the initiating transaction. This would include the new Sport Horses venture for Emily, and selling some of the Colorado properties which involves all the children to the foreign system. Charles also discussed making specific $20 Million allocations to each of Martha, Emily and Jennifer, indicating that he thought Chip was well taken care of domestically.

Marta -

We are moving forward on the sale of the Little Woody Property. As part of the sale, the loan will be assumed by Little Woody, LLC a Colorado LLC who is purchasing the property. I do not remember how far we got back a year ago on the paperwork, but the documents I have that we needed were new assumption agreement and new guarantee agreement. We are trying to close around mid Feb. - so let me know if this time frame is workable.

Thanks
Keeley

Hi Keeley:

I don't think this will be any problem at all. I will just change the way the Named Insured reads from Little Woody Ltd to Little Woody LLC.
 Now, are we talking about all the properties that are currently under Little Woody Ltd or just one of them? Will Little Woody Ltd own anything now or is it dissolved?
 Thanks, Lisa

First, I am so sorry I did not think of this earlier. We are selling the property held by Little Woody, Ltd. in Aspen to Little Woody LLC (a newly formed LLC). We started to do this transaction in Nov 99 and decided to put it off. At that time, we decided we could just transfer the policy.

Please let me know what you need - of course we are closing tomorrow.

 Subject: FYI

I was talking to Charles yesterday and he was kind of thinking out loud on some stuff. He was talking about use of off-shore cash and was using the following for planning - thought I would pass it along even though he was just thinking.

First Dallas - $10.5 future commitments (Brazos, FDV, ?)
 [REDACTED] Little Woody - $10.2 (Charles and Dee home in Aspen)
 Little Woody - $4.5 (next week deal)
 Sport Horses - $3.0 (capital improvements)
 Jennifer and Jim - $4.0 (new house)
 Charity - ???

He mentioned that he plans to make a pledge some time this summer of about $10M payable $2/yr. for 5 years that could possibly be funded off-shore. He was saying that these things would use about half of his current available cash off-shore. He also talked about the Lambda properties being sold off-shore and I told him I would look into this and what the tax implications are - this one is messy.

(b) Fees for Co-Trustees: The compensation of Co-Trustees shall not be reduced because Co-Trustees are serving, nor shall it be reduced by any statutory law which otherwise establishes or limits the compensation of Trustees.

(c) Trustee Expenses: All Trustees shall be entitled to advancement of or reimbursement for expenses incurred pursuant to their duties under this Trust Agreement, including fiduciary liability insurance. They are also entitled, at the expense of the Trust, to retain and hire employees, accountants, attorneys, investment advisors, or other persons incident to the management of the Trust, the Trust Estate, or any other matter which might arise during the administration of this Trust.

4.3. Provisions Applicable to Additional and/or Successor Trustees. The following provisions shall be applicable with respect to all additional and/or successor Trustees appointed as fiduciaries of the Trust:

(a) Suspension of Powers of Previous or Resigning Trustee: The previous or resigning Trustee shall be relieved of all further liabilities, responsibilities, and duties under this Trust Agreement upon [1] the appointment, qualification, and acceptance of the position by a successor Trustee if any is required, and [2] the delivery of all assets of that respective Trustee then in its possession either to its respective successor Trustee or to any other then serving Trustee.

(b) Acceptance of Assets by Successor Trustee: Grantors have provided that upon the appointment of a successor Trustee the previous or resigning Trustee, or its representatives, shall deliver all assets of the Trust then in its possession to its respective successor or to any other then serving Trustee. The respective successor Trustee or any other then serving Trustee is authorized, but not directed, to accept such assets [if any] based upon the accounting and/or other written instrumentation as given by that previous or resigning Trustee or its representatives.

(c) Liability for Predecessor Fiduciaries: In no event shall any Trustee, whether original or successor, be liable for the actions, inactions, or default of any existing or prior Trustee, Co-Trustee, legal representative, executor, or administrator from whom distributions may be received [any of such fiduciaries being referred to as "Prior Fiduciaries"] or for failure to contest the accounting as rendered by such Prior Fiduciaries.

(d) Successor Trustee's Powers and Liabilities: The successor Trustee shall succeed to all of the powers, duties, and responsibilities of the previous or resigning Trustee upon the effective resignation, termination, or removal of such prior Trustee and the written acceptance of the position, as a Trustee, by the respective successor Trustee.

(e) No Duty of Investigation by Additional or Successor Trustees: In no event shall the terms and provisions of this Trust Agreement be interpreted or construed to require any additional or successor Trustee to investigate the prior acts or omissions of any Prior Fiduciaries, except to the extent that the additional or successor Trustee has actual notice or knowledge of any act or omission of the Prior Fiduciaries contrary to the terms of this Trust Agreement. Grantors are incorporating this provision into the Trust Agreement in hopes of reducing the expenses and delays of any change in Trustees. Accordingly, the additional or successor Trustee is not required to go beyond the facts and representations as known to it in succeeding to the position of Trustee, subject, of course, to the provisions regarding known irregularities or violations.

4.4. Trustee's Right to Resign. Any Trustee, whether originally named, designated, or subsequently appointed, shall have the right to resign or renounce its position by and according to the following provisions:-

(a) Notice of Resignation or Renouncement: The resigning or renouncing Trustee, or its representatives, shall deliver an appropriate written notice of resignation or renouncement to one of the following applicable persons or entities, in the order given: [1] EMILY and/or JENNIFER, while either is living and competent, and the Corporation, or, if not; [2] any other then serving Trustee, if any, or, if none; [3] such resigning or renouncing Trustee's named or designated successor, if any, or, if not; [4] to all Grantors.

(b) Duties of Resigning Trustee: A Trustee's resignation shall become effective upon [1] the complete delivery of all assets then in its possession to its respective successor Trustee or to any other then serving Trustee, [2] the appointment, qualification, and acceptance of a respective successor Trustee [if a successor is required], and [3] the execution of an appropriate written instrument evidencing the effectiveness of such Trustee's resignation by all then serving Trustees including the required successor.

4.5. Appointment of Ancillary Trustees. The Trustee shall have the power to appoint ancillary trustees for the Trust(s) in accordance with Section 113.023 of the Texas Trust Code, as amended, if required or advisable as to assets located in a jurisdiction in which the Trustees are not authorized or qualified to act.

4.6. Special Trustee Co-Administration Provisions. The following special provisions shall apply in the event Co-Trustees are serving for the Trust:

(a) Custody of Trust Assets: Any Trustee shall have the right to maintain sole custody and possession of any and all Trust assets capable of being reduced to custody and possession and, to the extent this right of custody is exercised by a Trustee, the remaining Trustees shall be under no obligation to maintain custody and possession with respect to these assets.

(b) Agreement Among Co-Trustees: No action may be taken unless a majority of the then serving Co-Trustees are in agreement.

However, this paragraph (c) shall not be construed as in any way limiting the third party reliance provisions outlined above in this Trust Agreement with respect to transacting any business with a single Trustee.

(c) Delegation of Duties by a Trustee: Any Trustee may, with the written consent of the remaining Trustees, be relieved of any or all powers, authority, duties, and discretion vested in or imposed upon that Trustee by this Trust Agreement by delivering to the remaining then serving Trustees a written statement delegating these powers, authority, duties, and discretion to them. Any act performed according to such written statement shall be binding upon all persons interested in this Trust.

(d) Disclaimer of Powers, Duties and Responsibilities: Any Trustee may disclaim, in whole or in part, any specific or general power, duty, or responsibility imposed by law or by the terms of this Trust Agreement. Thereafter, the remaining Co-Trustees shall exercise sole power, duty, or responsibility over such disclaimed powers, duties, or responsibilities. Such disclaimer shall not, however, affect the remaining non-disclaimed powers, duties, and responsibilities of such Trustee.

ARTICLE V.

GENERAL TRUST PROVISIONS

5.1. Location and Transfer of Location of Trust. The general location of this Trust shall be the State of Texas, and its administration shall be conducted within the State of Texas. Accordingly, the laws of the State of Texas shall apply in construing the terms of the Trust and the rights and duties of the Trustee, unless the provisions of this Trust Agreement override such laws, or unless the laws of another jurisdiction become applicable and the provisions of this Trust Agreement cannot override them.

If, in the opinion of the Trustee, it becomes advisable to change the location of the Trust, whether in Texas or to another state (but in no events outside of the United States), for the purposes of economy, tax savings, or other benefits to the Trust or to the Grantors of the Trust, the Trustee may change the location of this Trust by giving notice of the proposed transfer to the Grantors.

5.2. Construction and Interpretation. It is the intention of the Grantors to avoid as much as possible any suits for construction, interpretation, or instructions involving this Trust. Accordingly, if a question or problem arises about the proper construction, interpretation, or operation of this Agreement, about any matter involving the administration of any Trust created by this Agreement, about the rights of any Grantor hereof, or about the application, interpretation, or construction of the Texas Trust Code, as from time to time amended, the Trustee is authorized to resolve these questions or problems in a manner it deems equitable and proper in accordance with the tax and non-tax objectives of Grantors. All such decisions and actions of the Trustee shall be conclusive on all persons ever interested in this Trust.

5.3. Additional Assets of Trust. The Trustee is expressly authorized to accept additional assets, including any assets subject to liens, from any person, entity, representative, executor, or administrator by any means of transfer or conveyance. For all purposes, the Trustee is also authorized to accept and is fully protected in accepting any additional assets, including any assets subject to liens, on behalf of any person by the action of such person's appointed or acting agent, representative, custodian, or guardian, without the necessity of court intervention or action, and based solely upon the written representations of authority by the respective transferor (as, for example only, under any form of a power of attorney).

5.4. Maximum Duration of Trust. Because of a particular rule of law, commonly referred to as the "Rule Against Perpetuities," Grantors must expressly provide for the maximum duration of the Trust. However, Grantors hereby direct that this Trust Agreement shall be construed and interpreted under another related doctrine referred to as the "Wait and See" rule in ascertaining whether or not this Trust or any separate Trusts violate the specified rule of law. If it is ultimately determined that any Trust violates such rule of law, then, for such purposes, that Trust and this Trust Agreement shall not be construed as void, but be deemed vested in the respective Grantors as of such time.

All Trusts created by this Trust Agreement shall in all events terminate not later than TWENTY-ONE (21) years from and after the death of the survivor of the following persons: EMILY, JENNIFER and their descendants living on the date the Trust is effectively or deemed created.

Should any Trust terminate according to the provisions of this Section (only), the remaining assets and properties of that Trust shall be delivered and distributed unto those persons, or such persons' representatives, who, at the deemed termination date, constitute the Grantors of the Trust in proportion to their respective Shares.

5.5. Special Postponement Provision. The Trustee is authorized, but not directed, to postpone for a reasonable time any part or all of a final or interim distribution from the Trust for as long as the Trustee, in its reasonable discretion, may determine necessary because of tax audits, lawsuits, disputed claims, or similar unresolved matters.

5.6. Provisions Relating to Powers of Appointment. The following provisions shall govern the exercise of all powers of appointments vested in each individual Grantor hereof under this Trust Agreement:

(a) Exercise of Powers of Appointment: Each individual Grantor may exercise his or her general power pursuant to a written memorandum delivered to the Trustee during the individual Grantor's lifetime. Such memorandum shall be dated and signed by the individual Grantor and shall be witnessed by two (2) unrelated witnesses. The individual Grantor can amend or revoke such memorandum at any time by delivering an additional written memorandum to the Trustee which is signed, dated and witnessed. If any general power is not exercised pursuant to a lifetime written memorandum, then such power must be exercised pursuant to a clause in the individual Grantor's duly probated Last Will and Testament.

The individual Grantor must exercise a general power by making specific reference in either the memorandum or Last Will and Testament as to which section of the Trust Agreement the power is being exercised under, and must further designate the appointees, their shares, proportions and amounts that each shall be entitled to, and whether such appointments are in trust for or directly to such appointees.

(b) Effective Date of Exercise of Power: Any general power shall take effect at the individual Grantor's death.

ARTICLE VI.

TRUSTEE'S POWERS AND RESTRICTIONS

6.1. Trustee Powers Over Partitions, Divisions and Distributions. The Trustee shall have the powers to make all partitions, divisions, and distributions contemplated by this Trust Agreement, and its decisions and actions shall be binding and conclusive upon all interested parties. The Trustee may, in its discretion, make these partitions, divisions, or distributions by proportionately allocating assets and properties in kind [including undivided interests in properties], or partly in money and partly in kind. The amount of a distribution in kind shall be deemed to be the value of the property on the date or dates distributed. A distribution to any distributee may be composed of property similar to or different from that transferred to any other distributee.

6.2. Trustee Investment Powers. The Trustee shall have the following investment powers:

(a) General Investment and Management Guidelines: The Trustee shall manage the Trust Estate as directed by a majority in interest of the Grantors [as determined by their respective Trust shares]. In the absence of specific directions, the Trustee shall manage the Trust Estate for and on behalf of the Grantors in accordance with their discretion. The Trustee shall not, however, be limited to nor bound by the provisions of the Texas Trust Code [or any successor statute], or by any other statutes or regulations respecting investments by fiduciaries except to the extent that such statutes or regulations cannot be waived for any corporate Trustee and there are no individual Trustees then serving. Investments need not be diversified, may be of a wasting nature, and may be made or retained with solely a view towards a possible increase in value. The Trustee is expressly authorized to retain or invest in non-income producing property if, in its discretion, the best interests of the Grantors will be better served by that investment.

The Trustee is expressly authorized to invest in high-income producing property, non-growth or marginally-appreciating property if, in its discretion, it determines that such investments are advisable for the Trust. To this end, Grantors hereby expressly relieve the Trustee from any and all duties, obligations, or responsibilities to invest any part of the Trust Estate in growth-type assets for the Trust or any current or future Grantors. The Trustee shall not, therefore, be liable for any operating losses of the Trust, nor for any depreciation or decline in the value of the Trust Estate.

(b) Power to Retain Any Property Transferred to the Trust: Any property transferred to the Trust shall be deemed a proper investment. The Trustee is expressly authorized to retain all such property with no duty or obligation to dispose of or convert any of these properties.

(c) Real Estate Powers: The Trustee shall have the following non-exclusive powers relating to any real estate assets or investments [broadly construed] owned directly or indirectly by the Trust [including all Property hereof]: to sell, exchange, develop, partition, transfer, abandon, or otherwise dispose of any property, at public or private sale, with or without covenants, warranties, or guarantees, for any purposes, and upon any terms, including sales on credit [with or without security], in any manner and at any prices; to grant options on the same; to lease any property, for any term or terms, upon any conditions and rentals, and in any manner, irrespective of whether the term of such lease exceeds the period permitted by law or the probable period of administration of any Trust; to renew or modify any lease; to grant options to renew or modify any lease; to raise or erect any structure; to make repairs, replacements, and improvements, whether structural or otherwise, for any property; to improve real property; to subdivide or plat real estate; to dedicate streets, alleys, and ways; and to donate sites for public, charitable, or educational facilities.

(d) Nominee Investments: The Trustee is authorized to maintain any investment [or other action] in the name of a nominee, whether itself or another individual, business, or entity, with or without a power of attorney, in the name of one or more Trustees without disclosing fiduciary capacity, or to retain or make any investment in a form permitting transferability by delivery. At all times, however, the books and records of the Trust shall reflect all such investments as investments of the Trust and further reflect in whose name, custody, and possession such assets are placed.

(e) Power to Sell Assets: The Trustee shall have the specific power and authority to sell all or any part of the assets of the Trust [including without limitation the Property] upon such terms and conditions as the Trustee, in its discretion, shall determine. This power of sale shall be broadly construed in favor of the Trustee.

(f) Power to Designate Representatives: The Trustee shall have the power to designate one or more individuals as representative agents of the Trust to transact any business for or on behalf of the Trust or the Trustee.

6.3. Protection of Third Parties Transacting Business or Dealing with the Trust. No purchaser at any sale made by the Trustee or persons dealing with the Trustees under this Trust Agreement shall be obligated or allowed to attend to the application or use of any money or property paid or delivered to the Trustees, or to inquire into the expediency or propriety of any transaction entered into and consummated upon the terms as the Trustee, in its discretion, deems advisable. All individuals, entities, businesses, and other third parties dealing with the Trust or any Trustee shall be fully protected from all liabilities in transacting any business with the Trust.

6.4. Special Trustee Self-Dealing Provisions. Grantors are aware of the potential problems that may arise in the administration of this Trust if a Trustee, in its discretion, should find it advisable to transact business with itself, whether individually or as a fiduciary under any other trust agreement. Grantors expressly relieve any and all Trustees and fiduciaries from any self-dealing restrictions and limitations, except for those prohibitions which cannot be waived.

Accordingly, Grantors hereby specifically waive such rules and prohibitions regarding self-dealing, conflict of interest, or any other rule or regulation regarding the transaction of business between a particular trust or fiduciary and such trustee or fiduciary. For example, the Trustee may freely transact any business between this Trust and any other trust, or between the Trustee, in its individual capacity, and this Trust.

6.5. Special Business Powers of Trustee. In addition to any and all powers granted to the Trustee by this Trust Agreement, the Trustee has the following additional powers with respect to any business interest which is or becomes a part of the Trust Estate, whether it be a sole proprietorship, joint venture, partnership, limited liability company or corporation:

- (i) to hold, retain, and continue to operate such business solely at the risk of the Trust Estate and without liability on the part of the Trustee for any losses resulting from operation of the business;
- (ii) to enlarge, diminish, or change the scope or the nature of the activities of any business;
- (iii) to use the general assets of the Trust for the purposes of the business; to invest additional capital in or make loans to such business, regardless of the non-productivity of such investment or loan, or the diversification of investments;
- (iv) to endorse or guarantee on behalf of the Trust any loan or loans made to the business and to secure the loan or loans by pledge or mortgage not only of the Trust's property interest in any such business but also by any other property of the Trust Estate that the Trustee may deem proper;
- (v) to make or concur in the decision to accumulate surplus in the business or to pay dividends or otherwise distribute the profits of the business, as the Trustee, in its discretion, may deem advisable;

(vi) to accept as correct financial or other statements rendered by the business from time to time about its conditions and operations except where the Trustee has actual notice of inaccurate information contained therein;

(vii) to regard the business as an entity separate from the Trust with no duty to account to any court about its business or operation;

(viii) to dissolve, liquidate, or sell any business interest at such time [and from time to time] and upon such terms as the Trustee may deem advisable;

(ix) to incorporate any business and hold the stock as an asset of the Trust;

(x) to satisfy any liabilities arising out of the business, whether contractual or tortious in nature, first out of the business, and secondly out of the Trust Estate. However, in no event shall the Trustee be individually or personally liable for any business activities or decisions, and if the Trustee is held liable, it shall be entitled to indemnification from the business, the Trust Estate and the Grantors in the order named;

~~(xi) to authorize and participate in any mergers, reorganizations, consolidations, exchanges, sales, private or commercial annuities, or any other form of business transactions involving ownership changes;~~

(xii) to employ such officers, managers, employees, or agents as it deems advisable and to pay such persons reasonable compensation for their services without regard to any fiduciary fees and expenses payable to the Trustee; and,

(xiii) to exercise all other actions or powers which an individual, competent adult would possess in operating such business.

6.6. Formation of Business Entities. The Trustee is authorized to invest all or any portion of the Trust Estate in one or more joint ventures, partnerships, limited liability companies or corporations, the outstanding equity interests of which are owned in whole or in part by the Trust.

6.7. Protection of Trustee for Acts of Agents. The Trustee shall not be held liable or otherwise responsible for any neglect, omission, or wrongdoing of any agent employed by the Trustee on behalf of the Trust provided the Trustee uses reasonable care in the employment of the agent.

6.8. Liability of Trustee. The Trustee's liability shall be limited pursuant to the following provisions:

(a) Acts by Trustee: No Trustee shall at any time be held liable to the Trust or any Grantor for any action or default of the Trustee or of any other person in connection with the administration of the Trust unless caused by the Trustee's gross negligence, bad faith, or willful commission of an act in breach of trust.

(b) Limitation of Personal Liability of Trustee: The Trustee shall not incur any personal liability to anyone dealing with the Trustee in the administration of the Trust Estate. The Trustee shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Trust Estate and the Grantors for any liability, whether in contract or in tort, incurred in the administration of the Trust. The Trustee may contract in such form as to exempt the Trustee from personal liability and to cause such liability to be limited to the Trust Estate. No successor Trustee shall have any duty, responsibility, obligation, or liability whatsoever for failure to rectify the acts or omissions of any predecessor Trustee.

6.9. Accounting Responsibilities of Trustee. The Trustee shall maintain proper books and records reflecting the assets, liabilities, investments, income, disbursements, principal, and transactions of each Trust. The Trustee is not required to conform to the provisions of the Uniform Trustee's Accounting Act or any similar act. The Trustees shall be free of any court accounting or supervision of any Trust.

6.10. Ultimate Termination of Trustee's Responsibilities and Duties. The Trustee's responsibilities and duties under this Trust Agreement shall cease upon final distribution of all of the income and principal of the Trust and the completion of any miscellaneous work connected with the termination of the Trust and the distribution of its remaining assets.

6.11. General Borrowing and Lending Powers of Trustee. The Trustee is specifically authorized to borrow and/or lend any amount of funds from time to time and at any time from or to any individual, business, or entity (whether or not a Grantor of the Trust) when it determines such action necessary or advisable and to pledge all or any portion of the assets of this Trust as collateral. The terms of any indebtedness or loan shall be those that the Trustee, in its reasonable discretion, may deem advisable, even if the expected period of the loan extends beyond the term of any Trust.

ARTICLE VII

DEFINITIONS AND MISCELLANEOUS TRUST PROVISIONS

7.1. Powers Cumulative. The Trustee shall have all of the rights, powers and privileges as set forth in the Texas Trust Code (or its successor statute) governing the powers and responsibilities of Trustees. ~~In the event, however, that any provisions of such Code in any way conflict or otherwise do not conform to the terms of this Trust Agreement, then the provisions of this Trust Agreement shall in all events control the administration of the Trust to the maximum extent permitted by law.~~

7.2. Definitions for Descendants. The following definitions of "descendants" shall be utilized in interpreting this Trust Agreement unless a contrary intent is clearly stated or shown by its context:

(a) Descendants: The term "descendants" or "descendant" shall mean all those persons who are in a direct line of descent of a person specifically named or indicated by the context of the Trust Agreement. These descendants must be lawfully related to such persons by consanguinity or adoption [as provided below].

(b) Descendant In Being: A descendant [who is later born alive] shall be treated as a descendant during the actual period of gestation for the purposes of determining [1] whether any person has died without surviving descendants, and [2] whether a person is entitled to share in a distribution of principal.

All other rights for purposes of such descendant shall begin at the date of birth, provided such descendant in gestation is born alive.

(c) . Births Out of Wedlock: Any descendant who is born to persons out of wedlock shall not be considered as a "descendant" of such persons for purposes of this Trust Agreement except for the following: [1] any descendant who is born to persons openly living together as husband and wife after the performance of a marriage ceremony between them shall be considered as a "descendant," even if a purported divorce of one or both of such persons with reference to a prior marriage is invalid; and [2] any descendant who would otherwise be excluded from benefiting as a "descendant" by operation of this Section shall be treated for all purposes as a "descendant" if, and only if, his or her natural parents become husband and wife through the performance of a marriage ceremony between them after that child's birth [or during gestation], or if any child or descendant adopts such child or descendant, as provided below.

(d) Adopted Descendants: The term "descendants" shall include for all purposes any person legally adopted prior to his or her attainment of the age of TWENTY-ONE (21) years.

~~(e) Persons of the Half-Blood: Persons of the half-blood shall be treated as persons of the whole-blood unless otherwise specifically provided by this Trust Agreement.~~

7.3. Definition of Per Stirpes. When the Trust Agreement directs that any portion of the Trust Estate is to be divided among a decedent's descendants on a "per stirpes" basis, the division into stirpes shall begin at the generation nearest the decedent.

7.4. Interpretation of Trust Agreement. The singular shall be interpreted as the plural, or vice versa, if such treatment is necessary to interpret this Trust Agreement in accordance with Grantor's manifest intentions. If the feminine, masculine, or neuter gender should be one of the other genders, it shall be so construed. This Trust Agreement has been divided into articles, sections, paragraphs, and subparagraphs. The interpretation of this Trust Agreement shall be determined from this Agreement in its entirety without regard to its divisions and headings.

7.5. Definition of "Code". The term "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

7.6. Execution in Counterparts. This Trust Agreement may be executed in a number of counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original. A copy of the executed Trust Agreement, whether conformed or photocopied, may be used for any purpose without the necessity of producing the original counterpart.

This TRUST AGREEMENT shall extend to and be binding upon all heirs, executors, administrators, legal representatives, and successors, respectively, of the parties to this Agreement, and shall be effective as of 11/30, 1999.

the "Loan". The Note, Deed of Trust, guaranty agreements, and other loan documents executed in connection therewith shall be referred to as the "Loan Documents".

- B. The current unpaid principal balance of the Note is $3,828,706.80.
- C. Lender is the current owner and holder of the Note and the Deed of Trust as successor by merger to NationsBank, N.A.

Lender has agreed to such assumption in exchange for Assuming Borrower's agreement to repay the Note and other sums owing under the Deed of Trust as provided in this Agreement.

AGREEMENT:

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, and other valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which Original Borrower, Assuming Borrower, and Lender acknowledge, Original Borrower, Assuming Borrower, and Lender agree as follows:

1. Assumption. Assuming Borrower hereby assumes payment of the Note and performance of the obligations of Original Borrower under the Deed of Trust and other Loan Documents. Assuming Borrower promises to pay to Lender, according to the terms of this Agreement, the unpaid principal balance and interest on the Note and to perform and comply with all covenants, conditions, and obligations of the Loan Documents. Original Borrower and Assuming Borrower acknowledge that as of the Effective Date, the unpaid principal balance of the Note is U.S. $3,828,706.80. Original Borrower hereby transfers and assigns to Assuming Borrower all of Original Borrower's rights with respect to and interest in any funds held by Lender or held for Lender's benefit for the payment of taxes, insurance, and other charges, fees, and assessments as provided in the Deed of Trust, and Original Borrower releases any and all claims to those funds. Assuming Borrower acknowledges receipt of copies of the Note and Deed of Trust.
2. Interest Rate. The outstanding principal balance of the Note shall continue to bear interest at the rate set forth in Section 2 of the Note.
3. Payments. The Note is due and payable as follows: Principal and interest shall be due and payable in monthly installments of Twenty-five Thousand Seven Hundred Three and 41/100 Dollars ($25,703.41) each, payable on the 1st day of each and every calendar month, beginning April 1, 2001, and continuing regularly thereafter until May 1, 2014, when the outstanding principal balance of the Note and all accrued and unpaid interest shall be due and payable in full. Interest will be calculated on the unpaid principal balance. Each payment will be credited first to the accrued interest and then to the reduction of principal.
4. Lender's Waiver. In consideration of Assuming Borrower's and Original Borrower's covenants and agreements made herein, Lender agrees to waive its right under the Deed of Trust to declare all sums secured by the Deed of Trust immediately due and payable by reason of the conveyance and transfer of the Property by Original Borrower to Assuming Borrower. Provided however, Original Borrower and Assuming Borrower acknowledge and agree that this waiver applies only to this conveyance and transfer of the Property from Original Borrower to Assuming Borrower and it does not apply to any future sales, conveyances, transfers, or encumbrances, Lender hereby expressly reserving all such rights. Lender hereby releases Original Borrower from any and all personal liability with respect to the payment of the Note and performance of the obligations and covenants of the Deed of Trust, and Lender agrees to look solely to Assuming Borrower for the payment of the Note and the performance of the Deed of Trust.

5. Default. Upon default in the payment of the Note or in the performance of Original Borrower's and Assuming Borrower's obligations under the Deed of Trust, this Agreement, or the other Loan Documents, Lender may declare the entire unpaid principal balance of the Note, together with accrued unpaid interest, immediately due and payable. Except for any notice and opportunity to cure expressly set forth in the Note and Deed of Trust, Original Borrower, Assuming Borrower, and each surety, endorser, and guarantor expressly waive notice of default, notice of intent to accelerate, notice of acceleration, notice of intent to demand payment, demand for payment, presentment, and notice of dishonor.

6. Assuming Borrower's Covenants, Representations, and Warranties. Assuming Borrower agrees to continue payment of the Note as modified by this Agreement, and to perform and comply with all covenants, conditions and obligations of the Deed of Trust and all other documents evidencing or relating to the Loan evidenced by the Note. Any default by Assuming Borrower under the terms of this Agreement shall be considered a default under the terms of the Note and Deed of Trust, and Lender shall be entitled to exercise all remedies provided for in such instruments. Original Borrower and Assuming Borrower covenant and agree with Lender and represent and warrant to Lender as follows:

(a) Good Standing. Assuming Borrower is a limited liability company, duly organized and validly existing under applicable state laws and is in good standing in the state of its organization and in the State of Texas. Assuming Borrower has complied with all conditions prerequisite to do business in the State of Texas. Assuming Borrower has all requisite organizational power and all governmental certificates of authority, licenses, permits, qualifications, and documentation to own, lease, and operate the Property and its other properties and to carry on its business as now conducted and as contemplated in the future. The execution of this Agreement and any and all other Loan Documents is within Assuming Borrower's powers, has been duly authorized by all requisite action and is not in contravention of law or the powers of Assuming Borrower's limited liability company charter. Assuming Borrower shall preserve and keep in full force and effect its existence, rights, franchises, and trade names.

(b) Authority and Compliance. Assuming Borrower has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and any other Loan Documents to be executed in connection herewith and to incur and perform the obligations provided for herein, all of which have been duly authorized by all proper and necessary action of the managers of Assuming Borrower. No consent or approval of any public authority or other third party is required as a condition to the validity of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, and Assuming Borrower is in compliance with all laws and regulatory requirements to which it is subject.

(c) Binding Agreement. This Agreement and the other Loan Documents executed by Assuming Borrower constitute valid and legally binding obligations of Assuming Borrower, enforceable in accordance with their terms, and any instrument or agreement required hereunder or thereunder, when executed and delivered, will be similarly legal, valid, binding and enforceable.

(d) Payment and Performance. Assuming Borrower agrees to continue the payment of the Note as modified by this Agreement and to perform and comply with all covenants, conditions, and obligations of the Deed of Trust and all other Loan Documents.

(e) Lender as Holder. Assuming Borrower acknowledges, covenants, and agrees that Lender has succeeded to all rights, titles, benefits, and interests of NationsBank, N.A. under the Note and other Loan Documents, and that Lender as owner and holder of the Note is and shall be entitled to the benefit of all covenants and agreements of Assuming Borrower under the Loan Documents, including without limitation any indemnities made by Assuming Borrower under the Loan Documents.

(e) Representations and Warranties. All representations and warranties set forth in this Agreement and the Loan Documents, are true and correct as of the Effective Date. Original Borrower is in compliance with all of Original Borrower's covenants set forth in the Loan Documents. Neither Original Borrower nor Assuming Borrower know of any fact or condition that with the passage of time or notice or both will create a breach of any such covenants or any other event of default under any Loan Document.

(f) Interest and Other Charges. All interest or other fees or charges which have been imposed, accrued or collected by Lender (including all of its predecessors) under the Loan Documents or in connection with the Loan through the date of this Agreement, and the method of computing the same, were and are proper and agreed to by Original Borrower and were properly computed and collected.

(g) Claims, Disputes, Impairments. Assuming Borrower does not have any pending litigation, tax claims, proceedings or disputes that may adversely affect Assuming Borrower's financial condition or impair Assuming Borrower's ability to repay the Loan or otherwise perform its obligations under the Loan Documents.

(h) No Offset or Claims. The indebtedness evidenced by the Note is not subject to any credits, charges, claims, or rights of offset or deduction of any kind or character whatsoever. Neither Original Borrower nor Assuming Borrower have any claims or causes of action of any kind against Lender.

Original Borrower and Assuming Borrower acknowledge that Lender has agreed to permit the assumption the Note by Assuming Borrower in reliance on these covenants, representations, and warranties and the other covenants, representations, and warranties in this Agreement.

7. Extension of Liens. For purposes of this Agreement and in order to secure repayment of the Note and all obligations and liabilities under the Loan Documents, Assuming Borrower does hereby grant, bargain, sell and convey in trust unto the Public Trustee of the County in which the Property is situated, all right, title and interest of Assuming Borrower in and to the Property, said grant to remain in effect until the Note has been fully paid. Assuming Borrower agrees that this Agreement shall in no way affect or impair the Note or the liens securing the Note, which Original Borrower and Assuming Borrower acknowledge to be valid and subsisting. Original Borrower and Assuming Borrower agree that the Liens shall not in any manner be waived and shall be and remain in full force and effect until the Note has been fully paid and until Lender has released the Liens in accordance with the terms of the Deed of Trust.

8. Effect of Agreement. Nothing in this Agreement shall be understood or construed to be a satisfaction or release in whole or in part of the Note or Deed of Trust. All terms and provisions of the Note and Deed of Trust, except as specifically modified in this Agreement, shall remain in full force and effect. This Agreement is a modification of the existing Loan. Original Borrower, Assuming Borrower, and Lender expressly agree that their intent is to modify the Loan, and this Agreement does not constitute and shall not be construed as a novation of the Note, the Deed of Trust, or any other Loan Document. Provided, however, in the event of a conflict between the terms and provisions of this Agreement and those of the Note and Deed of Trust, the terms and provisions of this Agreement shall govern and control.

9. Limitation on Interest: Maximum Lawful Rate. Lender, Original Borrower, and Assuming Borrower intend to contract in strict compliance with applicable usury law from time to time in effect. To effectuate this intention, Lender, Original Borrower, and Assuming Borrower stipulate and agree that none of the terms and provisions of the Note and any other agreement among such parties, whether now existing or arising hereafter, shall ever be construed as a contract to pay interest for the use, forbearance or detention of money in excess of the Maximum Lawful Rate. If, from any possible construction of any document, interest would otherwise be payable to Lender in excess of the Maximum Lawful Rate, any such construction shall be subject to the provisions of this Section and such document shall be automatically reformed and the interest payable to Lender shall be automatically reduced to the Maximum Lawful Rate permitted under applicable law, without the necessity of the execution of any amendment or new document. Neither Original Borrower, Assuming Borrower endorses or other persons now or hereafter becoming liable for payment of any portion of the principal or interest of the Note shall ever be liable for any unearned interest on the principal amount or shall ever be required to pay interest thereon in excess of the Maximum Lawful Rate that may be lawfully charged under applicable law from time to time in effect. Lender and any subsequent holder of the Note expressly disavows any intention to charge or collect unearned or excessive interest or finance charges in the event the maturity of the Note, is accelerated. If the maturity of the Note is accelerated for any reason, whether as a result of a default under the Note, or by voluntary prepayment, or otherwise, any amounts constituting interest, or adjudicated as constituting interest, which are then unearned and have previously been collected by Lender or any subsequent holder of the Note shall be applied to reduce the principal balance thereof then outstanding, or if such amounts exceed the unpaid balance of principal, the excess shall be refunded to Original Borrower or Assuming Borrower as applicable. In the event Lender or any subsequent holder of the Note ever receives, collects, or applies as interest any amounts constituting interest or adjudicated as constituting interest which would otherwise increase the interest to an amount in excess of the amount permitted under applicable law, such amount which would be excessive interest shall be applied to the reduction of the unpaid principal balance of the Note, and, if the principal balance of the Note is paid in full, any remaining excess shall be paid to Assuming Borrower. In determining whether or not the interest paid or payable under the specific contingencies exceeds the Maximum Lawful Rate allowed by applicable law, Original Borrower, Assuming Borrower, and Lender shall, to the maximum extent permitted under applicable law, (i) characterize any non-principal payment as an expense, fee or premium, rather than as interest; (ii) exclude voluntary prepayments and the effect thereof; (iii) amortize, prorate, allocate and spread, in equal parts, the total amount of interest throughout the entire contemplated term of the applicable Note (as it may be renewed and extended) so that the interest rate is uniform throughout the entire term of the Note. The terms and provisions of this section shall control and supersede every other provision of all existing and future agreements between Lender, Assuming Borrower, and Original Borrower. As used in this Agreement, "Maximum Lawful Rate" means the maximum non-usurious interest rate that at any time or from time to time may be contracted for, taken, reserved, charged or received on the unpaid principal or accrued past due interest under applicable law and may be greater than the Note Rate, the parties hereby stipulating and agreeing that the Lender may contract for, take, reserve, charge or receive interest up to the Maximum Lawful Rate without penalty under any applicable law; and "applicable law" means the laws of the State of Texas or the laws of the United States of America, whichever laws allow the greater interest, as such laws now exist or may be changed or amended or come into effect in the future. In the event applicable law provides for an interest ceiling under Chapter 303 of the Texas Finance Code, and applicable state or federal law does not permit a higher interest rate, the "weekly ceiling" (as defined as Chapter 303 of the Texas Finance Code) shall be the rate ceiling, subject to any right Lender may have in the future to change the method of determining the Maximum Lawful Rate.

10. Participation or Sale of Loan. Lender shall have the right to sell the Note or participation interests in the Note. Assuming Borrower and Original Borrower shall execute, acknowledge and deliver any and all instruments requested by Lender to satisfy such purchasers or participants that the unpaid indebtedness evidenced by the Note is outstanding upon the terms of the provisions set out in the Loan Documents. Lender shall have the right to disclose in confidence such financial information regarding Assuming Borrower and/or Original Borrower or the Property as may be necessary to complete any sale or attempted sale of the Note or participations or attempted participations in the Loan, including without limitation all Loan Documents, financial statements, projections, internal memoranda, audits, reports, payment history, appraisals and any and all other information and documentation in Lender's files relating to Assuming Borrower, Original Borrower, and the Property.

11. Further Assurances; Expenses. Assuming Borrower and Original Borrower agree to execute and deliver to Lender, promptly upon request from Lender, such other and further documents as may be reasonably necessary or appropriate to consummate this transaction or to perfect and/or renew and extend the Liens or to correct any clerical, administrative or other errors found in any Loan Documents or this Agreement. Assuming Borrower agrees to promptly reimburse Lender for all expenses incurred by Lender in connection with the preparation, execution, and recording of this Agreement, including without limitation attorney's fees, premiums or fees for title insurance policies or endorsements, and recording fees.

12. Release and Waiver of Claims. In consideration of (i) the assumption of the Note, as herein provided, and (ii) the other benefits received by Original Borrower and Assuming Borrower hereunder, Original Borrower and Assuming Borrower hereby RELEASE, RELINQUISH and forever DISCHARGE Lender, as well as its predecessors, successors, assigns, agents, officers, directors, employees and representatives, of and from any and all claims, demands, actions and causes of action of any and every kind or character, past or present, which Original Borrower and/or Assuming Borrower may have against Lender and its predecessors, successors, assigns, agents, officers, directors, employees and representatives arising out of or with respect to (a) any right or power to bring any claim against Lender for usury or to pursue any cause of action against Lender based on any claim of usury, and (b) any and all transactions relating to the Loan Documents occurring prior to the date hereof, including any loss, cost or damage, of any kind or character, arising out of or in any way connected with or in any way resulting from the acts, actions or omissions of Lender, and its predecessors, successors, assigns, agents, officers, directors, employees and representatives, including any breach of fiduciary duty, breach of any duty of fair dealing, breach of confidence, breach of funding commitment, undue influence, duress, economic coercion, conflict of interest, negligence, bad faith, malpractice, intentional or negligent infliction of mental distress, tortious interference with contractual relations, tortious interference with corporate governance or prospective business advantage, breach of contract, deceptive trade practices, libel, slander or conspiracy, but in each case only to the extent permitted by applicable law.

13. APPLICABLE LAW. THIS AGREEMENT, OTHER THAN THE PROVISIONS HEREOF THAT RELATE TO THE DEED OF TRUST, AND THE NOTE SHALL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS AND THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA APPLICABLE TO TRANSACTIONS IN TEXAS. THE PROVISIONS HEREOF THAT RELATE TO THE DEED OF TRUST AND THE DEED OF TRUST SHALL BE GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF COLORADO.

14. Miscellaneous. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective heirs, successors and assigns of Lender, Original Borrower, Assuming Borrower, and, if applicable, any guarantor, subject to any limitations in the Loan Documents concerning the sale or other transfer of the Property. Whenever used herein, the singular number shall include the plural and the plural the singular, and the use of any gender shall be applicable to all genders. The captions, headings, and arrangements used in this Agreement are for convenience only and do not in any way affect, limit, amplify, or modify the terms and provisions hereof. In the event any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement, or in any other instrument referred to herein or executed in connection with or as security for the Note shall, for any reason, be held to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality, or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this Agreement or any such other instrument.

15. SPECIAL NOTICES. THE LOAN EVIDENCED BY THE NOTE IS PAYABLE IN FULL ON MAY 1, 2014. YOU MUST REPAY THE ENTIRE PRINCIPAL BALANCE OF THE LOAN AND UNPAID INTEREST THEN DUE. LENDER IS UNDER NO OBLIGATION TO REFINANCE THE LOAN AT THAT TIME.

Lara - The $200,000 is for Little Woody. You should be getting an e-mail from Jana this morning on cash needs for Two Mile. FYI - Jana has taken over the accounting for Two Mile Rance and Cottonwood from Rena so future e-mails will come from her. I believe the cash needs for Two Mile are $1,000,000. Sorry for all the requests - they all just seem to be hitting at the same time.

Are you meaning Two Mile Ranch rather than Little Woody Limited? I spoke to Michelle B this morning and will be recommending the movement of funds but before I do I just wanted to clarify this. I will also be recommending the Sport Horses money be sent. I hope you will get this tomorrow.

Based on the last e-mail on 5/29 Charles approved $210,000 per month for Transfinity and $200,000 per month for Seranin. We need to fund the following for rest of July - $110,000 Transfinity, $100,000 Seranin. So, depending on how cash looks - you can either send just the $210,000 or $620,000 to take us through August 31st. Michelle - you may want to send just the $210,000 now since it is more immediate and wait to have another discussion with Donnie and Charles on the remaining funding and then you could fund a couple of months. All the Elegant related items have been paid - peaceful disposition and loan payoff so these should be the only items going forward.

Little Woody is to cover mortgage, operating etc till year end

Let me know what it is looking like on funding and timing - thanks

I need to get funding for both of the listed entities. I need approximately $410,000 transferred to FDV. $200k is for Seranin and $210k for Transfinity. I believe these were ok'ed, but I think that Michelle is out of the office still and I am not sure who to forward this on to.

As for LWLLC, I need probably about $300,000. That should get me through the end of the year. The last transfer I have to LWLLC was in February in the amount of $200,000. Please advise on who I need to forward the questions

I am in need of funding for Little Woody. The last funding was $250,000 in Sept. 2003. If we could get another $250,000 at your earliest convenience, I would greatly appreciate it.

Thanks!

For the insurance renewal's on the jewelry policy the company needs to know the most expensive piece owned by both Audubon and Soulieana - no details just value of the most expensive single piece per company - is that hard to get?

Dear Michelle

Mark is unfortunately away on vacation and I am therefore replying to your e-mail to him on his behalf.

From the records we hold, the only distribution made from the Red Mountain Trust was to The First Church of Christ back on 14 May 2001 for $250,000. This was treated as an Income Distribution.

I trust you find the above in order.

Many thanks

Lisa - here are answers to your questions:

Most expensive piece of jewelry for :

Sam family - $600,000 earrings bought for Cheryl Charles family - $100,000 - this is an estimate - the actual most expensive piece we have found is a ring purchased by Donnie for Martha - all of the very expensive pieces are owned by Soulieana Audubon - $622,000 ruby in Cheryl's possession Soulieana - $759,000 necklace in Dee Wylly's possession Wrangler - no jewelry - just one painting worth $5M the question as to how much is worn by the family really depends on who you are talking about. Here are general observations:

As per prior email the timing is fine, but I think we should book the sale as of the invoice date and set up a receivable - just book it to Misc receivable for now.

Keeley - FYI, we're going to record the sale effective today, so we are clean going into year end.

I don't like to pay direct to the domestic entity from offshore, but we have a company here called Michelangelo LDC that we can use as an intermediary to refund the deposit. We can assign or sell the commissioned work to Michelangelo and then assign it onto Souliana Limited [REDACTED] I will be coming up for the meeting on the 15th, but it will be my last trip. [REDACTED] Dawn will be making the trip with me also.

NEGRO AND ALLIGATORS

We have been advised by Ruina Alexander that the above piece has been sold by Hammer Galleries on behalf of the Company. As you will be aware this action is contrary to the terms of the Agreement dated 22nd May 2002 under which Elliott Yeary Gallery were appointed curator of the Company's collection. May we respectfully draw your attention to Clause 11 of that Agreement which states as follows:-

"The appointment of the Gallery as curator does not confer any authority on the Gallery to buy or sell any item for the Collection without prior express arrangement with the Company. If the Company wishes to buy or sell a particular piece it will execute a separate Agreement in respect of the particular piece. The Gallery may however make recommendations to the Company in relation to future acquisitions or disposals of pieces in the Collection but for the absolute avoidance of doubt nothing in this Agreement constitutes the appointment of the Gallery as agent of the Company and the Gallery is not authorized to enter into any sale or purchase agreement on behalf of the Company".

Re: Grand Jury Investigation # L2003-05071

Dear Laura:

With this letter I am enclosing the first phase of production to the subpoena that was served upon my client, Hammer Galleries, under cover of your letter of December 6. As you and I agreed during our telephone conversation last week, you will let me know what, if any, additional production you would like to receive from Hammer Galleries -- after you have reviewed the enclosed documents.

Enclosed are documents that address the two issues you identified in our conversation last week: namely, (i) the name of the party that acquired the art in each of the eight transactions listed in the subpoena; and (ii) the location to which the art was delivered in each transaction. Thus, you will find enclosed eight numbered sets of documents, each corresponding to one of the eight listed transactions. Generally, you will find for each transaction an invoice from Hammer Galleries that identifies the entity (usually Audobon Asset Ltd.) that purchased the art, and the sender's copy of a USA Airbill reflecting where the art was delivered. The deliveries were made in each instance upon instructions that were received from persons that had authority to communicate decisions that had been made on behalf of Audobon Assets Ltd., which we understand to be a trust.

The following individuals (and entities) may have had communications with Hammer Galleries relating to these transactions: Michelle Boucher (of Audobon Assets Ltd. on the Isle of Man); Sam Wyly, Susan Tiholiz, Elizabeth Yeary and Reena Alexander (of Ranger Capital in Dallas); and Kelly Wyly Elliott and Kristin Yeary (of Elliott Yeary Gallery in Aspen). In particular, Hammer Galleries understands that Sam Wyly and Elliott Yeary Gallery have been appointed by the trust to act as consultants concerning its art purchases and sales).

You will note that the first and second listed transactions in the subpoena appear to have misstated the dates of those transactions. According to Hammer Galleries' records, the $440,000 transaction (transaction no. 1 in the subpoena) took place in the Fall of 2003 (not 2000 or 2001 as indicated in the subpoena). The $500,000 transaction (transaction no. 2 in the subpoena) took place in the Fall of 2002 (not 2000 or 2001 as indicated in the subpoena).

With respect to the fourth and eighth transactions, you will not find any airbills reflecting delivery of the art. This is because the artwork that is the object of those transactions is still being held by Hammer Galleries.

With respect to the sixth transaction, you will note that the invoice (dated December 19, 2002) is addressed to Kelly Elliot, rather than to Audobon Assets Ltd. This is because it was originally contemplated that the artwork might be purchased by Mrs. Elliott personally, and the invoice was drawn to reflect this. However, the transaction was changed after the invoice was generated, so that by the time the art was paid for and delivered, it had been determined that Audobon Assets Ltd. was to be the purchaser. Hammer Galleries never issued a corrected invoice.

Finally, with respect to the eighth transaction, you will note that the wire transfer identified in the subpoena is for $95,000 -- exactly half of the purchase price of the two paintings listed on the invoices. The $95,000 payment in May 2004 was a 50% deposit, and an additional $95,000 remains due and owing on this transaction.

I hope that this information is helpful, and satisfies whatever your investigative concerns may be concerning these transactions. If you require further information or documentation, please let me know.

Also, please have a happy holiday season.

Very truly yours,

James A. Moss
