Reported by Mr. BIDEN, without amendment

A BILL

To authorize the establishment of a Social Investment and Economic Development Fund for the Americas to provide assistance to reduce poverty, expand the middle class, and foster increased economic opportunity in the countries of the Western Hemisphere, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; TABLE OF CONTENTS.

2 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the 3 “Social Investment and Economic Development for the 4 Americas Act of 2007”.

5 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for 6 this Act is as follows:

- Sec. 1. Short title; table of contents.
- Sec. 2. Findings.
- Sec. 3. Amendment to Foreign Assistance Act of 1961.
- Sec. 4. Amendment to the Inter-American Development Bank Act.
- Sec. 5. Sense of Congress.
- Sec. 6. Payment of arrears owed by United States to the Multilateral Investment Fund.

7 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

8 Congress makes the following findings:

9 (1) It is in the national interest and national 10 security interest of the United States to help foster
11 security and stability in Latin America and the Car-
12ibbean.

13 (2) Over the past 25 years, there has been tre-
14mendous progress on democracy and economic
15growth in the Western Hemisphere, and the hemi-
16sphere is now a region dominated by democracies
17and democratic values.

18 (3) the United States contributes, on average, 19$820,000,000 in bilateral development assistance to 20Latin America and the Caribbean each year and has 21continued to strengthen its commitment to pro-

1 moting our shared values, heritage, and culture
2 while confronting the common challenges we face.

3 (4) The United States has also contributed
4 through the Millennium Challenge Account more 5 than $269,000,000 in development assistance to 6 countries in the region that have demonstrated a
7 commitment to just and democratic governance, eco-
8 nomic freedom, and investing in their people.

9 (5) Poverty and inequality remain historic and 10 persistent problems in the region, which undermine 11 progress on social and economic development. These 12 problems contribute to the rise of populist ideas and 13 add to inequality. The poverty rate in Latin America
14 is almost 40 percent, with little significant change
15 since the 1980s, and Latin America remains the re-
16 gion with the most unequal distribution of wealth in 17 the world.

18 (6) The region must also face the challenges of 19 staggering crime rates, weak judicial systems, and 20 inadequate housing, health care, and educational 21 systems.

22 (7) By expanding the middle class through pro-
23 moting microenterprise, improving the investment
24 climate, and creating a competitive workforce in 25 Latin America and the Caribbean, the United States

1 will be able to help respective governments improve
2 economic development in the region, and the coun-
3 tries of the region will become stronger trading part-
4 ners with the United States.

5 (8) Working in partnership with the countries
6 of the region, the United States can play a positive
7 role in addressing these challenges.

8 (9) As President George W. Bush said on 9 March 5, 2007, “The working poor of Latin Amer-
10 ica need change, and the United States of America
11 is committed to that change. It is in our national in-12 terests, it is in the interest of the United States of 13 America to help the people in democracies in our 14 neighborhood succeed. When our neighbors are pros-
15 perous and peaceful, it means better opportunities
16 and more security for our own people. When there
17 are jobs in our neighborhood, people are able to find
18 work at home and not have to migrate to our coun-
19 try. When millions are free from poverty, societies
20 are stronger and more hopeful.”.

21 (10) In order to effect significant reduction of 22 poverty and enhance sustainable development, the 23 United States must continue to make a long-term
24 commitment of significant resources to programs

1 that impact on housing, health care, and educational
2 systems.
