

Once opportunities have been determined, management practices, such as those for site preparation and reforestation or for changes in MA-2 allocations, will be identified and developed into a Proposed Action. The Changed Condition Analysis is scheduled to be completed on or about October 1998.

3. Public Involvement in the analysis Process

The concerns and expectations of National Forest constituents played a significant role in the development of the 1996 LRMP. The February windstorm brought sudden and unexpected changes to the biological and social components of the NFGT, particularly on the Angelina and Sabine National Forests. It is important to involve the public as the Forest Service develops the analysis and determines the opportunities for management actions. Since the analysis will not be a "decision document" and will not involve the NEPA process, formal public involvement through scoping will not be done. The NFGT has been regularly informing the public about the progress of the ongoing storm recovery actions through regular information updates. The NFGT will contact the interested public with information about the analysis and offer the opportunity for participation in the analysis process.

4. Issuing the Notice of Intent to Prepare an Environmental Impact Statement

The NFGT will issue a Notice of Intent (NOI) to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) after developing proposed actions based on the Changed Condition Analysis. The NOI will include a description of preliminary proposed actions, issues, and alternatives. The public will be asked to comment on these items as part of the scoping process under NEPA. Public comments will be used to further refine the proposed action, issues, and alternatives, and the range of alternatives to be considered in the EIS.

Needs and Uses: The Bureau of the Census conducts the Survey of Income and Program Participation (SIPP) to collect information from a sample of households concerning the distribution of income received directly as money or indirectly as in-kind benefits. SIPP data are used by economic policymakers, the Congress, state and local governments, and Federal agencies that administer social welfare and transfer payment programs such as the Department of Health and Human Services, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the Department of Agriculture.

The SIPP is a longitudinal survey, in that households in the panel are interviewed 12 times at 4 month intervals or waves over the life of the panel, making the duration of the panel about 4 years. The next panel of households will be introduced in the year 2000.

The survey is molded around a central core of labor force and income questions, health insurance questions, and questions concerning government program participation that remain fixed throughout the life of a panel. The core questions are asked at Wave 1 and are updated during subsequent interviews. The core is supplemented with additional questions or topical modules designed to answer specific needs.

This request is for clearance of the topical modules to be asked during Wave 9 of the 1996 Panel. The core questions have already been cleared. Topical modules for waves 10 through 12 will be cleared later. The topical modules for Wave 9 are: 1) Assets, Liabilities, and Eligibility, 2) Medical Expenses/Utilization of Health Care Services, and 3) Work Related Expenses and Child Support Paid. Wave 9 interviews will be conducted from December 1998 through March 1999.
