

Act: (1) To make antenna structure owners, as well as Commission licensees and permittees responsible for the painting and lighting of antenna structures, and (2) to provide that non-licensee antenna structure owners may be subject to forfeiture for violations of painting or lighting requirements as specified by the Commission.

In the Commission's Report and Order, WT Docket No. 95-5, released on November 30, 1995, a uniform registration procedure was implemented. Antenna structure owners, rather than tenant licensees, are required to register and notify the Commission concerning changes to their antenna structures. Effective July 1, 1996, all new antenna structures meeting the "notification criteria" were to be registered with the Commission. For existing antenna structures, owners were required to register by state, in accordance with prescribed filing windows over a two year period from July 1, 1996 through June 30, 1998. In cases where an entity owned multiple structures in various states, owners were permitted to apply for a waiver of the filing window requirement to register all the structures at once, rather than on a state by state basis. After June 30, 1998, owners need to submit just one application to register new antenna structures, modify antenna structure registrations, or notify the Commission of antenna structure dismantlement (structure no longer exists).

The Commission is currently in the process of developing a Universal Licensing System (ULS) to incorporate 11 separate databases into a single database, including antenna structure registration. The Form 854ULS has been designed for the ULS and will collect Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) of the antenna structure owner. In order to use ULS, each antenna structure owner will be required to register their TIN and any associated registration numbers. The TIN will link all antenna structure registrations associated to any one owner in the ULS and will allow pre-filing of data, too. The purposes for using the form have changed and Form 854ULS will collect coordinate information in NAD83 only.

In addition, a separate Antenna Structure Registration Change of Ownership Form, FCC Form 854-O has been designed to apply for a change of ownership for an FCC registered antenna structure and must be signed by both assignor and the assignee. (Owners previously filed Form 854 to accomplish this change.) FCC Form 854-O also allows for change of ownership for multiple registration numbers at the same time, provided the same owner is assuming ownership for all. Respondents will file only one of the four forms, depending upon which phase of the process they are in, i.e., current antenna registration process or ULS.
