Emergency Clearance: Public Information Collection Requirements Submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB)

In compliance with the requirement of section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), is publishing the following summary of proposed collections for public comment. They invite interested persons to send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including any of the following subjects: (1) The necessity of the utility of the proposed information collection for the proper performance of the agency's functions; (2) the accuracy of the estimated burden; (3) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology to minimize the information collection burden.

We are, however, requesting an emergency review of the information collection referenced below. In compliance with the requirement of section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, we have submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) the following requirements for emergency review. Due to the unanticipated event and the fact that this collection of this information is needed before the expiration of the normal time limits under OMB's regulations at 5 CFR, Part 1320, we are requesting an emergency review.

The purpose of this submission is to request approval to collect information from Internet users as they exit from any of three web sites of the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS): medicare.gov, 4woman.gov, and healthfinder.gov, which are respectively provided by the Health Care Financing Administration, the Office of Women's Health and the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (ODPHP). The latter two agencies are within the DHHS Office of Public Health and Science (OPHS). Obtaining feedback from users of these web sites is critical for these three agencies so that the agencies can continually revise the sites to respond to the needs of the public. As part of the effort to decide how these web sites can serve the public best, we request approval from OMB of "bounceback" forms. Internet users will fill out a bounceback form after visiting any of the web sites. They will compile and study the results of the forms so that the needs and preferences of the people who use the web sites guide future revisions to the web sites.

The present request is for OMB authorization to collect data on the reactions of users of all three federally mandated web sites. We will use the data to improve the web sites so that can best serve the needs of the users. The designers of medicare.gov will introduce changes to their site at various times in 1999. The Surgeon General recently announced the 4woman.gov web site on November 16, 1998. They will update and enhance the site often in the immediate future. The designers of the healthfinder.gov web site are preparing new sections, functionality, and updates for release March 18, 1999. They request expedited review of this submission so that pending enhancements and updates incorporate information collected from users. With an expedited review, the staff of these web sites will have findings in sufficient time to guide the revisions planned for the sites. Without receiving feedback from users of these sites, the developers of the sites would have little information from the perspective of actual users to guide the changes. Besides the need for having feedback to carry out anticipated changes in the web sites, each of the three World Wide Web
