SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The Department of Labor, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent burden, conducts a preclearance consultation program to provide the general public and Federal agencies with an opportunity to comment on proposed and continuing information collection requirements in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA-95) (44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)). This program ensures that information is in the desired format, reporting burden (time and costs) is minimal, collection instruments are clearly understood, and OSHA's estimate of the information collection burden is correct.

The Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (the Act) authorizes information collection by employers as necessary or appropriate for enforcement of the Act or for developing information regarding the causes and prevention of occupational injuries, illnesses, and accidents. (29 U.S.C. 657.) In this regard, the information collection requirements (the inspection certification records) in the standard on Mechanical Power Presses (29 CFR 1910.217) ensures that information is provided which can be used to properly maintain mechanical power presses and to ensure safe operating conditions for employees.

II. Proposed Actions

OSHA proposes to increase its earlier estimate of 1,372,945 burden hours to 2,063,230 burden hours for the provisions pertaining to the inspection certification records in the standard on Mechanical Power Presses (29 CFR 1910.217).
