Analysis of Proposed Consent Order To Aid Public Comment

I. Introduction

The Federal Trade Commission ("Commission") has accepted for public comment from America Online, Inc. ("AOL") and Time Warner Inc. (Time Warner") (collectively "Proposed Respondents") an Agreement Containing Consent Orders ("Proposed Consent Agreement"), including the Decision and Order ("Proposed Order"). The Proposed Respondents have also reviewed a draft complaint. The Commission has now issued the complaint and an Order to Hold Separate ("Hold Separate Order"). The Proposed Consent Agreement intends to remedy the likely anticompetitive effects arising from the merger of AOL and Time Warner.

II. The Parties and the Transaction

AOL is the world's leading internet service provider ("ISP"), providing access to the internet for consumers and businesses. AOL operates two ISPs: America Online, with more than 25 million members; and CompuServe, with more than 2.8 million members. AOL also owns several leading Internet products including AOL Instant Messenger, ICQ, Digital City, MapQuest, and MoviePhone; the AOL.com and Netscape.com portals; the Netscape 6, Netscape Navigator and Communicator browsers; and Spinner.com and NullSoft's Winamp, leaders in Internet music.

Time Warner is the nation's second largest cable television distributor, and one of the leading cable television network providers. Time Warner's cable systems pass approximately 20.9 million homes and serve approximately 12.6 million cable television subscribers, or approximately 20% of U.S. cable television households. Time Warner, or its principally owned subsidiaries, owns leading cable television networks, such as HBO, Cinemax, CNN, TNT, TBS Superstation, Turner Classic Movies and Cartoon Network.

Time Warner also owns, directly or through affiliated businesses, a wide conglomeration of entertainment or media businesses. Time Warner's holdings include leading magazine franchises, such as Time, People and Sports Illustrated; copyrighted music from many of the world's leading recording artists that it produces and distributes through a family of established record labels, such as Warner Bros. Records, Atlantic Records, Elektra Entertainment and Warner Music International; the unique and extensive film and animation libraries owned or managed by Warner Bros. and New Line Cinema; and trademarks, such as the Looney Tunes characters, Batman and The Flintstones; the WB Network, a national broadcasting network; and Internet websites, such as CNN.com. Time Warner is the majority owner of Road Runner (the trade name of ServiceCo, LLC), the second largest provider of cable broadband ISP service in the U.S., serving more than 1.1 million subscribers. Road Runner has an exclusive contract to provide cable broadband ISP service via Time Warner's cable systems through December 2001.

On January 10, 2000, AOL and Time Warner entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "merger"), pursuant to which Time Warner common stockholders will receive 1.5 shares of the combined AOL Time Warner ("combined company," or "AOL Time Warner") for each share of Time Warner common stock they hold. AOL common stockholders will receive one share of common stock of AOL Time Warner for each share of AOL common stock they hold.

III. The Proposed Complaint

According to the complaint the Commission intends to issue, AOL's merger with Time Warner will have anticompetitive effects in three relevant product markets: (1) The market for broadband Internet access; (2) the market for residential broadband Internet transport services, or last mile access; and (3) the market for interactive television ("ITV") services.

AOL is the dominant narrowband ISP. Its narrowband customer base positions AOL to become a significant broadband ISP competitor as well. Time Warner provides broadband Internet access through Road Runner, a partially owned subsidiary in which it has a controlling interest. AOL and Road Runner are two of the most significant broadband ISP
