

September 13, 1999, the Department published its amended final results of administrative reviews of the antidumping duty orders on antifriction bearings (other than tapered roller bearings) and parts thereof, from France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Singapore, Sweden, and the United Kingdom, covering the period May 1, 1992, through April 30, 1993, with respect to all companies except NTN, Koyo, and Honda (64 FR 49442).

The CIT and CAFC have affirmed the Department's original determination in AFBs 4 with respect to Honda. Therefore, since neither court remanded the determination with respect to Honda to the Department, the Department has not changed its final results of review with respect to Honda and no amendment to AFBs 4 is necessary with respect to this company.

However, the Department received remand instructions during the litigation pertaining to NTN and Koyo. The CIT and CAFC issued a number of orders and opinions of which the following have resulted in changes to the antidumping margins we had calculated for NTN and Koyo in AFBs 4:

NSK Ltd., et al. v. United States, Slip Op. 97-74 (June 17, 1997);

NSK Ltd., et al. v. United States, Slip Op. 98-11 (February 4, 1998);

NSK Ltd., et al. v. United States, Slip Op. 99-135 (December 17, 1999).

In the context of the above-cited litigation, the CIT and CAFC ordered the Department to make methodological changes and to recalculate the antidumping margins for NTN and Koyo. Specifically, the CIT ordered the Department, inter alia, to make the following changes on a company-specific basis:

NTN—(1) apply a tax-neutral methodology in computing the value-added tax adjustment, (2) deny the adjustment to foreign market value (FMV) for home-market discounts, (3) deny the adjustments to FMV for billing adjustments that were not made solely to in-scope merchandise, (4) exclude sample sales from the home-market database for which NTN received no consideration, (5) allow the adjustment to U.S. indirect selling expenses for interest expense incurred in financing antidumping duty cash deposits, (6) recalculate the cost of production and constructed value without resort to best information available, and (7) correct a clerical error; Koyo—(1) apply a tax-neutral methodology in computing the value-added tax adjustment, (2) reopen the record to allow Koyo to submit documentation showing the nature of the expenses it characterized as non-operating expenses and subsequently exclude certain items from general expenses for purposes of calculating cost of production and constructed value, (3) re-examine the acceptance of the allocation of air-freight expenses, (4) explain further the basis for accepting Koyo's efficiency variance without adjustment, and (5) correct a clerical error.

The CIT and CAFC have affirmed the Department's final remand results affecting final assessment rates for these reviews of NTN and Koyo. As there are now final and conclusive court decisions in these actions, we are amending our final results of review in these matters and we will subsequently instruct the U.S. Customs Service to liquidate entries subject to these reviews.

Amendment to Final Results

Pursuant to section 516A(e) of the Tariff Act, we are now amending the final results of administrative reviews of the antidumping duty orders on antifriction bearings (other than tapered roller bearings) and parts thereof from Japan and the period May 1, 1992, through April 30, 1993, with respect to NTN and Koyo. The revised weighted-average margins are as follows:

Company	BBs	CRBs	SPBs
Koyo Seiko	14.90	6.53	(1)
NTN	9.25	7.99	0.43

(1) No shipments or sales subject to this review.

Accordingly, the Department will determine and the U.S. Customs Service will assess appropriate antidumping duties on entries of the subject merchandise made by firms covered by these reviews. Individual differences between United States price and FMV may vary from the percentages listed above. The Department has already issued appraisal instructions to the Customs Service for certain companies whose margins have not changed from those announced in AFBs 4 and the September 13, 1999, amendment. The Department will issue appraisal instructions to the U.S. Customs Service for NTN, Koyo, and Honda after publication of these amended final results of reviews.

This notice is published pursuant to section 751(a) of the Tariff Act.

Dated: December 20, 2000.

Troy H. Cribb,
Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.
