EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

DENOUNCING POLICE BRUTALITY AGAINST ETHNIC ALBANIANS

HON. JAMES A. TRAFICANT, JR.

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 9, 1998

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, on March 5, 1998 a Serb police force armed with assault rifles attacked ethnic Albanians in the Serbian province of Kosova. This atrocity, in which Serbian police set fire to homes and buildings, left dozens of ethnic Albanians dead, wounded and homeless.

The massacre in Kosova today was just one incident in a long chain of police brutality against ethnic Albanians. The State Department's 1997 Country Report on Human Rights in Serbia demonstrates that human rights abuses and violations of civil liberties in Kosova are both shocking and pervasive: political and extra-judicial killings, torture, cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment and punishment, arbitrary arrest, detention and exile, as well as denial of fair public trial, arbitary interference with privacy, family, home and correspondence. More recently, on February 28, 1998, over 25,000 Serbian paramilitary police descended on the Drenica region of Kosova, killing more than 20 Albanian citizens, beating many to death. Similarly, on March 2, 1998, Serbian police brutally attacked 30,000 Albanian demonstrators peacefully marching in Pristina in protest of the February 28th massacre.

Ethnic Albanians of Kosova comprise more than ninety percent of the total population of Kosova. Yet, the Albanian people have no political rights such as self-determination and representation in government. On March 23, 1989, the government of Yugoslavia illegally amended the Constitution of Yugoslavia thereby stripping the Albanian people of their political rights by revoking Kosova's autonomy. Further unlawful amendments to the Constitution abolished the Parliament and Government of Kosova.

The U.S. Department of State should immediately condemn this oppressive and sadistic massacre of ethnic Albanians in Kosova by Serbian authorities. Keeping with the promises made by both the Bush and Clinton Administrations, the United States should reimpose economic sanctions against Serbia-Montenegro that were terminated following the signing of the Dayton Peace Agreement in 1995 unless the violence against Albanians in Kosova is promptly terminated and a dialogue is established.

The violence in Kosova has the potential to spread throughout the region, threatening to undermine the Dayton Peace Agreement and spark a Balkan-wide war. It's time for the United States to get tough on brutal dictators like Slobodan Milosevic, and demand compliance with international conventions, before more ethnic Albanians are needlessly slaughtered.

I urge my colleagues to join me in co-sponsoring a sense of the Congress resolution introduced today by our esteemed colleague, BENJAMIN GILMAN. The resolution expresses the sense of the Congress that:

Efforts of the international Contact Group in support of a resolution of the conflict in Kosova are to be commended and intensified;

No international or United States sanctions currently in force against the Government of Serbia and Montenegro should be terminated at this time, unless such termination serves to support a peaceful resolution to the repression in Kosova:

The United States should consult with its allies and other members of the United Nations on reimposing those sanctions against Serbia-Montenegro that were terminated following the signing of the Dayton Peace Agreement in 1995 if Serbian authorities continue to use unlawful violence against the Albanian people of Kosova;

The United States should acknowledge recent developments in the Republic of Montenegro that indicate that the new leadership of the Republic is seeking a peaceful resolution to the repression in Kosova, particularly the statement by Montenegrin President Milo Djukanovic that Kosova must receive a certain degree of autonomy, and his call for a dialog between the government of Serbia and Montenegro and ethnic Albanians in Kosova;

The United States should, to the extent practicable, recognize positive actions by the Government of the Republic of Montenegro with regard to repression in Kosova through exclusion from those sanctions that may be applied to the Government of Serbia;

The elections in Kosova scheduled on March 22, 1998 should be allowed to proceed unimpeded by Belgrade, as they represent the opportunity for a peaceful expression of the political will of the Albanian people of Kosova;

All parties should refrain from acts that could lead to heightened tensions in Kosova;

The agreement on education in Kosova should be implemented immediately, including at the university level, allowing all residents of Kosova regardless of ethnicity to receive education in their native tongue;

The elected leaders of Kosova should begin a dialog with the authorities in Belgrade to resolve the present situation, and to provide for the exercise of the legitimate civil and political rights of the Albanian people of Kosova.

Once again, I urge my colleagues to cosponsor this resolution.

This vigil has been held on March 10, now known as Tibetan National Day, recognizing for thirty-nine years the ongoing efforts of the Tibetan people to gain their freedom.

The 14th Dalai Lama, who in 1989 won the Nobel Peace Prize for his continuing efforts for a nonviolent peaceful solution to end the occupation of Tibet, is still laboring ceaselessly to accomplish this goal. I fully support Reverend Schupp and the vigil he is once again undertaking.

TRIBUTE TO THE WOMEN'S RE-SOURCE CENTER CALIFORNIA LUTHERAN UNIVERSITY

HON. BRAD SHERMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 9, 1998

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Women's Resource Center of California Lutheran University. This organization will celebrate their Ninetheenth Annual "Creative Options—A Day for Women" on Saturday, March 7th.

March has been designated "Women's History Month" by the Congress of the United States as a tribute to American women of every race, class and ethnic background that have made historic contributions to the growth and strength of our Nation. Women have played and continue to play a critical economic, cultural and social role in every aspect of American life. They serve as leaders in the forefront of every major progressive movement for social change and have worked to create a more fair and just society for all. And though our country has come a long way in recognizing the talents and accomplishments of women, there are still hurdles to be overcome.

The Women's Resource Center offers many services to women, from academic resources to emotional support. In addition, they sponsor a variety of forums aimed at facilitating discussions on the leadership role of women in our community. Creative Options is a day for women to come together to discuss their experiences. This day of reflection is spent listening and talking with each other about hardships associated with being a woman in today's society. From sharing personal stories, women learn from each other how to cope with struggles in their careers, families, and daily lives. With an emphasis on renewal and growth, many view the day as an opportunity to work toward self-improvement.

Throughout this month, schools, businesses and organizations will pay tribute to the role women have played in our country's history. However, the Women's Resource Center of California Lutheran University is an organization that works throughout the year to provide women with strength and support in every area of their lives. Mr. Speaker, distinguished colleagues, please join me in honoring the work they have already done and continue to do.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE 1998 CONGRESS-BUNDESTAG STAFF EXCHANGE

HON. RALPH REGULA

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 9, 1998

Mr. REGULA. Mr. Speaker, since 1983, the U.S. Congress and the German Parliament have conducted an annual exchange program for staff members from both countries. The program gives professional staff the opportunity to observe and learn about each other's political institutions and convey Members' views on issues of mutual concern.

A staff delegation from the United States Congress are being chosen to visit Germany March 22 to April 4 of this year. During the 2-week exchange, the delegation will attend meetings with Bundestag members, Bundestag party staff members, and representatives of numerous political, business, academic, and media agencies. Cultural activities and a weekend visit in a Bundestag Member's district will complete the schedule.

A comparable delegation of German staff

A comparable delegation of German staff members will visit the United States for 3 weeks this summer. They will attend similar meetings here in Washington and visit the districts of congressional Members.

The Congress-Bundestag is highly regarded in Germany and is one of several exchange programs sponsored by public and private institutions in the United States and Germany to foster better understanding of the politics and policies of both countries. The ongoing situation in Bosnia, the future expansion of NATO and the proposed expansion of the European Union, as well as plans for a single currency will make this year's exchange particularly relevant.

The U.S. delegation should consist of experienced and accomplished Hill staff members who can contribute to the success of the exchange on both sides of the Atlantic. The Bundestag sends senior staff professionals to the United States.

Applicants should have a demonstrable interest in events in Europe. Applicants need not be working in the field of foreign affairs, although such a background can be helpful. The composite U.S. delegation should exhibit a range of expertise in issues of mutual concern in Germany and the United States such as, but not limited to, trade, security, the environment, immigration, economic development, health care, and other social policy issues.

In addition, U.S. participants are expected to help plan and implement the program for the Bundestag staff members when they visit the United States. Participants are expected to assist in planning topical meetings in Washington, and are encouraged to host one or two Bundestag staffers in their Member's district over the Fourth of July break, or to arrange for such a visit to another Member's district.

Participants are being selected by a committee composed of U.S. Information Agency personnel and past participants of the exchange.

Senators and Representatives who would like a member of their staff to apply for participation in this year's program should direct them to submit a résumé and cover letter in which they state why they believe they are qualified and some assurances of their ability to participate during the time stated. Applications may be sent to Connie Veillette at 2309
