

keep alive the small-town feeling which could so easily be lost in a big city.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that my colleagues rise with me in this tribute to Ms. Irene Klementowicz, a woman who has worked very hard to improve her community.

AMERICA'S CREDIT UNION

HON. BENNIE G. THOMPSON

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of America's Credit Unions. The United States Supreme Court ruled last week that the Depression-era statute which authorized the creation of our Nation's credit unions does not permit them to draw members from a variety of occupations. This decision will upset long-standing federal policies and the personal lives of 70 million credit union members and countless more workers who are considering their financial-planning options.

While the Supreme Court's ruling will stand as long as the statutes governing credit unions remain the same, Congress can act now to clarify the law and protect credit unions. H.R. 1151, "The Credit Union Membership Access Act," would permit credit unions to continue recruiting members according to their traditional practices. This bill has already received 182 co-sponsors, but it desperately needs more support to break its deadlock in Committee.

Credit Unions are the only source of financial services for many low-income Americans. It is unfortunate that I am the only Member of Congress from Mississippi—one of the poorest states in the Union—who is a co-sponsor of this bill even though there are over 419,000 thousand credit union members in Mississippi alone. Nonetheless, Congress can not afford to ignore this issue, and I sense the mood is changing here. Let us act swiftly and move to save credit unions by enacting this bill; more than 70 million Americans are waiting.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF RHODA HOOPER

HON. CHARLES F. BASS

OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and honor an outstanding woman and worker, Rhoda Hooper, from my home state of New Hampshire.

Mrs. Hooper was recently named as the "Outstanding Older Worker" from our fine state and I believe she serves as an example to us all that ability is truly timeless.

At the age of 88, Mrs. Hooper is the type of person we would all like to be, and certainly would be lucky to hire. Her success story is both poignant and triumphant. Forced to find employment after the death of her husband, Mrs. Hooper entered the job market as an older worker without significant work experience outside the home or even a driver's license. But despite the odds seemingly stacked against her, Mrs. Hooper found work at New Boston Central School where she has fulfilled the role of office aide and so much more for the past seven years.

Since she does not drive, on a pleasant day she walks the quarter mile from her home to her job where she never missed a day. Her strong work ethic seems to be matched only by the size of her generous heart. Despite demanding office duties, Mrs. Hooper takes the time to take a personal interest in each of the students. For instance, you will never find a student at New Boston Central School without mittens. She knows when any of the children are without them and makes sure they do not leave school without a hand-knit pair. If you've ever experienced a New Hampshire winter, you know just how wonderful that gift of warm mittens can be.

Her co-workers call her "a lifesaver and a joy to work with." The students affectionately call her "Grandma." I call her a "winner." Not just because she has won a richly deserved award, but because she is a role model for workers everywhere. Mrs. Hooper has overcome obstacles to achieve her goals and change her life, and in the process has enriched the lives of countless others.

I extend my best wishes to Mrs. Hooper as she receives her award and urge her to keep up the good work. She is truly a special person and I am privileged to recognize her here today.

NEWARK STUDENTS PRACTICE RANDOM ACTS OF KINDNESS

HON. DONALD M. PAYNE

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to pay tribute to the students of New Jersey for winning the Kindness and Justice Challenge. Pupils of New Jersey led the nation with 96,816 acts of kindness. Students from my home district of Newark, New Jersey led all municipalities with 30,615 good deeds. This is indeed an honor and a privilege to represent such model students.

The competition was started 3 years ago by Newark students who wanted to do something about all the negative images that faced their communities. Today we have over 40,000 pupils in over 12,000 classrooms participating in the contest across the nation. Good deeds are recorded on the Internet to keep an accurate account. Teachers had to pitch in during lunch breaks and at night because not all students had access to computers at home.

Newark students were led by Latoya Hedgespeth, a fifth grader at Madison Avenue School who recorded the most acts of kindness with 321 goods deeds. This truly exemplifies the dream of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and should serve as a lesson to us all. The students were honored by Superintendent Beverly Hall and Mayor Sharpe James.

Mr. Speaker, I am sure that my colleagues will join me as I extend heartfelt congratulations and best wishes to the students of New Jersey.

HONORING KANDACE V. SIMMONS

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the efforts of one of the hardest working young women in my district, Ms. Kandace V. Simmons.

Kandace is the President and Chief Operating Officer of Simmons Design Group, Ltd., a building design firm located in Park Slope, Brooklyn. Simmons Design Group was established in 1969 by her father, the late Harry Simmons, Jr. as Simmons Architects. Ms. Simmons over sees the strategic planning marketing, financial administration, and project management of the firm.

Prior to permanently joining the family business in 1994, Kandace had a varied career. After graduation from Yale University in 1988, she was a financial analyst with Chemical Bank. She later moved to New York City Department of General Services (DGS) becoming a senior policy analyst where she implemented City-wide cost savings initiatives. Ms. Simmons also coordinated activities for compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act in city-owned buildings. In 1992, while still employed by DGS, she founded Simmons Entertainment, managing jazz musicians and producing concerts in Houston, TX.

At her father's request, Ms. Simmons returned to Simmons Architects in July, 1994 with overall responsibility for the business management of the firm. After the death of her father in October 1994, Ms. Simmons took charge of the company. In addition to managing Simmons Design Group, she is an architectural student at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn.

Born in Brooklyn, New York, Kandace Simmons is the eldest child of the late Harry Simmons, Jr. and Dr. Sharon E. Simmons. She is also the sister of Harry Simmons III and Carlton Tarver.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating Ms. Kandace Simmons for all of her achievements, for being a woman who dares to be different, and showing young women everywhere that they can do, and accomplish, anything.

SUPPORT HUMAN RIGHTS IN MOLDOVA

HON. DAVID E. BONIOR

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. BONIOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to share with my colleagues information about a serious human rights situation in the Trans-Dnestr region of Moldova.

Since 1993, the men known as the "Ilascu Six" have been imprisoned for allegedly murdering two separatists in this region.

The State Department's most recent human rights report for Moldova states that serious questions have been raised about the fairness of the trial of the "Ilascu Six" conducted by Trans-Dnestr officials. There is a strong belief that these men were persecuted for political reasons—solely because they are supporters of reunification with Romania.

The leader of the group is Ilie Ilascu, president of the local branch of the democratic Moldavian Popular Front, which favors reunification with Romania. Such a move is strongly opposed by the Trans-Dnestr ruling authorities, who instead favor a closer alliance with Russia and independence for the Trans-Dnestr region.

Mr. Ilascu and three others remain in prison. One prisoner has been freed, and a sixth person, an infiltrator placed by the Trans-Dnestr secret police, was released after his testimony against the others.

There are reports that these men have been subjected to torture and mock executions. Ilie Ilascu remains in isolation in a top security prison.

Despite his imprisonment, in 1994 Mr. Ilascu was elected to the Parliament of Moldova. Although he has been duly elected, Ilie Ilascu has never been able to take his seat in parliament.

According to the State Department report, a group of Moldovan doctors was refused access to Mr. Ilascu in the fall. Trans-Dnestr authorities have also refused the International Committee of the Red Cross access for the purpose of monitoring the conditions of the prisoners.

Mr. Speaker, I believe we must press officials in Trans-Dnestr to allow access to these prisoners by the Red Cross.

I am pleased the State Department focused on this serious situation in its human rights report, and hope that it will continue to raise this issue with the governments of Russia and Moldova.

We should insist that Mr. Ilascu and the other prisoners be guaranteed their internationally-recognized human rights—the right to a fair trial, due process, and freedom of expression.

IN HONOR OF THE NEW YORK STATE ASSEMBLY PUERTO RICAN/HISPANIC TASK FORCE

HON. CHARLES E. SCHUMER

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the New York State Assembly Puerto Rican/Hispanic Task Force on the eve of their 11th Annual Conference.

This Task Force has brought together a large network of government officials, community leaders and service providers who share a common goal: improving the quality of life for our Hispanic population in New York. It has managed to draw on the strengths of its participants to move forward and knock down the continued barriers of bias and discrimination.

With great tenacity, the Task Force has fought for and won a number of battles on behalf of Hispanic constituencies. From identifying problems of access by Spanish speaking women to domestic abuse services to uncovering the tracking of Hispanic students in New York schools. Always, and with great success, they have found legislative solutions to these problems that have served to improve and protect the rights of all New Yorkers.

This year's annual legislative meeting will certainly bring to the fore some very important issues facing the Hispanic communities in New York. As our state legislature begins to work on issues such as the involvement of managed care, education reform and economic opportunity, the debate will no doubt be enhanced by the contributions to be made by this Task Force. In fact, all communities will be better served by having an inclusive rapport on these important topics.

I ask my fellow colleagues if I may take this opportunity to commend this fine organization for its leadership and resolve. May the Puerto Rican/Hispanic Task Force continue its admirable task to ensure equal access, true representation and opportunity for all constituencies in New York.

HONORING DEIDRA C. TOWNS

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the skill and achievements of Deidra Towns. Her contribution to community and public service is incomparable.

A woman at the beginning of her career, Deidra's dynamic personality bespeaks a character that will stare the world down—and win. Already, she has flourished as an Administrative Assistant at Bedford-Stuyvesant Legal Services, a Managed Care Training Facilitator/Public Relations Coordinator at East New York Diagnostic and Treatment Center and as a Legislative Aid for the New York State Assembly. Currently, Deidra is the Team Leader for the Red Hook Public Safety Corps. In this position she has provided direction and structure to its AmeriCorps team. She has also planned and implemented projects designed to address public safety issues.

As a devoted mother to her daughter, Kiara, and a loving daughter to Edolphus and Gwen Towns, there is no doubt that this young woman will leave her special mark on her community.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating Deidra C. Towns for all of her achievements, for being a woman who dares to be different, and for showing young women everywhere that they can do and accomplish anything.

COMMEMORATION OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY CANCER AWARENESS WEEK

HON. BRAD SHERMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commemorate Childhood Cancer Awareness Week which will occur March 8th—March 14th in the County of Los Angeles. I would also like to acknowledge the American Cancer Fund For Children and its founder Steve Firestein for their tireless efforts to help children. Through their dedication and perseverance, they have influenced the lives of hundreds of children with cancer, while bringing awareness of this issue to our country as a whole.

Cancer is the leading cause of death by disease among children in our country. Each year, approximately 10,000 children are diagnosed with this frightening illness. A cure for cancer is an important goal that we all hope to achieve. Until that time, important services and programs like the American Cancer Fund for Children play a vital role in the lives of those afflicted with this disease.

The American Cancer Fund for Children has been established to provide financial assistance to families with children fighting cancer. When a child is sick, parents should not be restricted by financial burdens in determining what type of treatment their child receives. Funds are used for expenses such as a bone marrow transplant, housing and food. The American Cancer Fund for Children also enables parents to be with their children as they undergo treatment. This organization has also worked to meet hospital needs for patient and family services, helping to ensure the quality of care and improving the chances of survival. For instance, children participate in psycho-social services designed to foster self-esteem, encourage peer interaction and develop special patient communications.

Through his interactions with children entering the Los Angeles Orthopedic Hospital, Steven Firestein has provided them with courage and hope. He has established a national network of programs, through which he provides children with baseball caps, toys and sports cards. These small tokens do wonders to brighten a child's day.

Mr. Speaker, distinguished colleagues, please join me in acknowledging the work of Steven Firestein and the American Cancer Fund for Children. They have worked to raise awareness of childhood cancer and they have motivated our community to take the first
