

Day which is held during the Logging Conference.

I would also like to recognize this year's Redwood Region Logging Conference Achievement Award winner, Don Anderson. Don was born in Wisconsin in 1926 and at the age of seventeen had his first taste of logging while working for Peterson Brothers Logging at a logging camp near Mercer, Wisconsin. After a stint as a Merchant Seaman from 1944 to 1946, Don landed in Fort Bragg, California where he met his future wife, Marie. Don and Marie have three children, Donna, Mike, and Joe, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The Andersons celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last year.

In 1947, Don was reunited with the logging industry, working a myriad of jobs within the industry. In 1963, Don and Marie refinanced their home and went into the logging business as a junior partner in Eastman Logging. Don went into business on his own and Anderson Logging was born in 1977. By 1983, it became obvious to Don that his sons, Mike and Joe, were ready and able to run the company he had founded. Mike and Joe took over the business in 1983 and have built it into a very successful company.

There have been many hard working men and women over the past 60 years, who, just like Don and Marie, have worked in and cared for the forests of northern California. These men and women have contributed much to the communities where they have lived, worked, and raised their families. The Redwood Region Logging Conference has done the logging industry a great service by highlighting these individuals through their Annual Achievement Awards.

Once again, I salute the Redwood Region Logging Conference and its 1998 Achievement Award winner, Don Anderson.

A TRIBUTE TO THE HIGHLAND WOMEN'S CLUB

HON. JERRY LEWIS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Speaker, I would like to bring to your attention today the fine work and outstanding public service of the Highland Women's Club of Highland, California. Earlier this year, the club marked its centennial as an active and vibrant part of the local community.

On January 14, 1898, ten ladies in the village of Highland met to organize the Pleasant Hour Club. From this small beginning, the first library hall was built and, with the assistance of the members of the Pleasant Hour Club, furnished and manned. Later, after this first building burned, another library hall and public library was built in what is now the Knights of Pythias Hall on West Main Street. The Pleasant Hour Club met in both of these buildings.

In 1926, the people of Highland raised money to build a facility at the corner of Palm Avenue and Main Street. A lovely large Spanish style building, it housed the public library, the Chamber of Commerce, and a very large beautiful meeting room with a stage, fireplace, and large kitchen. The building was finished in 1926 and was given to the Highland Women's Club to maintain.

Over the years, the building was used for a variety of purposes—Chamber banquets, church affairs, community service work, square dancing, and even the crowning of several Miss Highland contestants for the National Orange Show. Largely because of the expense of maintaining the building, the women of the club sold the building to the Highland Temple Baptist Church in 1975.

The outstanding work of the Highland Women's Club is well known and deeply appreciated by local citizens. It has been actively involved with the PTA, little league, scouting, 4-H and other activities relating to the youth of our community. It has also played a role in raising awareness of fire safety rules among grade school students and purchasing supplies for the first paramedic truck in Highland, as well as the Jaws of Life for the local fire station. The Women's Club also assisted the Highland Citizens Patrol with the purchase of uniforms as well as with the purchase of radio equipment for the local sheriffs office.

The contributions made by the Highland Women's Club to education has been nothing short of remarkable. It has adopted the Highland Head Start School in recent years and has also taken part in the Pennies for Pines Program since the 1950's. All of these activities underscore one fundamental point: the Highland Women's Club has made a difference for 100 years and is well on its way to making a difference for at least another 100 years.

Mr. Speaker, I ask you to join me and our colleagues in recognizing the outstanding contributions made to our local community by this tremendous organization. The Highland Women's Club represents the very finest in civic and community affairs and it is only appropriate that the House recognize this organization during its centennial celebration.

IN HONOR OF BRIAN J. SAMMON ON HIS ATTAINMENT OF EAGLE SCOUT

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor Brian J. Sammon of Cleveland, Ohio, who will be honored March 29, 1998 for his attainment of Eagle Scout.

The attainment of Eagle Scout is a high and rare honor requiring years of dedication to self-improvement, hard work and the community. Each Eagle Scout must earn 21 merit badges, twelve of which are required, including badges in: lifesaving; first aid; citizenship in the community; citizenship in the nation; citizenship in the world; personal management of time and money; family life; environmental science; and camping.

In addition to acquiring and proving proficiency in those and other skills, an Eagle Scout must hold leadership positions within the troop where he learns to earn the respect and hear the criticism of those he leads.

The Eagle Scout must live by the Scouting Law, which holds that he must be: trustworthy, loyal, brave, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, clean, and reverent.

And the Eagle Scout must complete an Eagle Project, which he must plan, finance and evaluate on his own. It is no wonder that only two percent of all boys entering scouting achieve this rank.

My fellow colleagues, let us recognize and congratulate Brian for his achievement.

CELEBRATING RHODE ISLAND MANUFACTURING

HON. PATRICK J. KENNEDY

OF RHODE ISLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Mr. KENNEDY of Rhode Island. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the second annual Rhode Island Manufacturing Week taking place from April 27 to May 1 of this year. The conference is a celebration of the significant role manufacturing has played and will continue to play in the lives of the people of Rhode Island. But it is much more than that. The week-long seminar is an opportunity to educate the over 2,500 manufacturing companies in Rhode Island about the latest in technological business advances. It is an opportunity to stress the necessity of adapting to the constant cultural and societal changes that impact our economy. In short, it is an opportunity to ensure that Rhode Island manufacturers remain competitive in today's rapidly changing market.

This year, the Rhode Island Manufacturing Week organizing committee is honored to have Mr. Daniel S. Goldin, Administrator at NASA, as its keynote speaker. Mr. Goldin will discuss the most modern NASA technology, and how that technology can be commercially applied to improve the changing face of business. As we all know, an essential element in the growth of our nation is the sustained success of our manufacturing infrastructure. This industry is a part of our historical job base, and is a key to our economic future.

Today in Rhode Island, there are over 80,000 high skill/high wage manufacturing jobs. Successful public/private partnerships there are proving that the government and private corporations can work together to not just succeed, but rather flourish. Simply put, Rhode Island is taking the lead in what should be a nationwide fight to reinvigorate American manufacturing. The Manufacturing Week Conference is a giant step in this direction.

As the birthplace of the Industrial Revolution, Rhode Island long ago recognized the significance of manufacturing. In 1790, innovations by Rhode Islander Samuel Slater helped spur along industrial changes that dramatically impacted both our nation and the world. Since that time, technological improvements have continued to alter the landscape of the business industry. In order to stay competitive in this environment, leadership is necessary to educate and sustain our businesses. The Rhode Island Manufacturing Week Conference is attempting to provide that leadership, to provide that education, to provide that sustenance, so that our economy, and in turn our nation, can continue to grow as it should.

IN HONOR OF RABBI ALLEN &
ALISA SCHWARTZ

HON. CHARLES E. SCHUMER

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to take this opportunity to commend members of my community for their outstanding service, Rabbi Allen and his wife, Alisa Schwartz. This will mark the 125th anniversary of Congregation Ohav Zedek along with the 10th anniversary of the arrival of Rabbi and Mrs. Schwartz to the fold.

Since Rabbi Schwartz joined Congregation Ohav Zedek, things have not been the same. In ten years, membership has increased 600 percent. Under his direction, the Congregation has instituted countless charitable programs such as food delivery for the homebound, hospital visits and clothing, food and toy drives. His presence and service have helped to guide the 125 year old congregation into becoming a vibrant part of the upper West Side community.

Mrs. Schwartz has been equally successful in her activities at the Congregation. She has been very active in her efforts to develop a children's program at Ohav Zedek as well as a Shiurim for women of the congregation. Mrs. Schwartz has worked diligently side by side Rabbi Schwartz to create a true sense of community among the congregants.

In addition to being senior rabbi at Ohav Zedek, Rabbi Schwartz finds time to teach Bible at Yeshiva University, where he was also ordained. He is currently working on his doctoral thesis on the Methodology of Rashi and has published numerous themes on Bible, Rabbinics, Halakha and Jewish thought. He also manages to find time to write Bible curriculum for Jewish Day Schools and lectures on behalf of the Board of Jewish Education in New York.

I would like to take this opportunity to commend both Rabbi and Mrs. Schwartz for their limitless generosity to the congregants of Ohav Zedek. Their devotion to the community and effort to promote Jewish education is admirable. I wish them the best on this ten year anniversary with Ohav Zedek and to the congregation, many more great years of fellowship.

CONGRATULATING ELIZABETH
AMES AS WOMAN OF THE YEAR

HON. MARGE ROUKEMA

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Mrs. ROUKEMA. Mr. Speaker, I rise to congratulate Elizabeth Ames, of Stewartville, New Jersey, on being named "Woman of the Year" by the Warren County Commission for Women. Mrs. Ames has had a distinguished career as a volunteer in many areas of community life but has been especially dedicated to the cause of public education. She has served on local school boards for nearly three decades, been active in the Warren County School Boards Association and has been on the New Jersey School Boards Association's board of directors for 20 years. She has been called upon by the state Department of Education many times for her expertise in a variety of subjects. In all of this work, Mrs. Ames' goal has been to improve the quality of education for the children of our community. As a former teacher and school board member myself—and the mother of children who attended public schools—I can attest to the importance of this work. This high honor is well deserved.

Mrs. Ames holds a degree in bacteriology from the University of Pennsylvania, where she met her husband, veterinarian Sherman Ames II. She worked several years as a research chemist at General Aniline and Film Corp. before becoming business manager of her husband's practice. She was also a research fellow at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, where she conducted government-sponsored research on hepatitis.

Mrs. Ames has been a member of the Warren Hills Regional Board of Education since 1969, serving twice as president, currently as vice president and chairing a variety of committees over the years. She has been a member of the Franklin Township Board of Education since 1974, serving three times as president, chairing several committees and serving on the Community Council. She is a former president of the Warren County School Boards Association and served on the board of directors of the New Jersey School Boards Association from 1975–1996.

The state Department of Education called on Mrs. Ames to serve on its High School Graduation Requirements Committee in 1977 and to participate in its retreat to study reorganization of the department in 1991. She worked with the department's Northwest Educational Improvement Center from 1973–1979, serving one year as chairwoman. In 1985, she participated in the Executive Academy for School Board Members.

Mrs. Ames is a former chairwoman of the Warren County Economic Commission and has been involved in career education coordination, family life planning and the student foreign exchange program. She is a trustee of the Charles Smith Foundation.

A former ballet dancer, Mrs. Ames is also an avid swimmer. She and Dr. Ames live in Stewartville. They have five children and nine grandchildren.

I would like to take this occasion to bring attention to the achievements and service of this outstanding woman and add the recognition of my colleagues in this House for all she has done for Warren County. She deserves this honor for her many years of hard work and dedication.

IN HONOR OF DANIEL J. GARNEK
ON HIS ATTAINMENT OF EAGLE SCOUT

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor Daniel J. Garnek of Cleveland, Ohio, who will be honored March 29, 1998 for his attainment of Eagle Scout.

The attainment of Eagle Scout is a high and rare honor requiring years of dedication to self-improvement, hard work and the community. Each Eagle Scout must earn 21 merit badges, twelve of which are required, including badges in: lifesaving; first aid; citizenship in the community; citizenship in the nation; citizenship in the world; personal management of time and money; family life; environmental science; and camping.

In addition to acquiring and proving proficiency in those and other skills, an Eagle Scout must hold leadership positions within the troop where he learns to earn the respect and hear the criticism of those he leads.

The Eagle Scout must live by the Scouting Law, which holds that he must be: trustworthy, loyal, brave, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, clean, and reverent.

And the Eagle Scout must complete an Eagle Project, which he must plan, finance and evaluate on his own. It is no wonder that only two percent of all boys entering scouting achieve this rank.

My fellow colleagues, let us recognize and congratulate Daniel for his achievement.

TRIBUTE TO CARL STEPHENS—
ALABAMA BROADCAST LEGEND

HON. TERRY EVERETT

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Mr. EVERETT. Mr. Speaker, I have been informed that one of Alabama broadcasting's best loved personalities will soon retire after 40 years behind the microphone and television camera.

A native Alabamian, Carl Stephens was practically born into his profession. A radio sportscaster at the age of ten in his native Gadsden and student manager of the college radio station while at the University of Alabama, Carl Stephens began his television career at the Alabama Educational Television Network before settling in as one of the states' best-known on-camera personalities at WSFA TV in Montgomery.

At WSFA, Carl Stephens forged a 38-year career witnessing and reporting some of Alabama's and the nation's most historic events during the 1960s. Despite his contribution to news reporting in Alabama, it is noteworthy that Carl is best known by many Alabamians for his other roles. As host of a popular children's cartoon show in the late 1950's and co-anchor of the Auburn Football Review for many years, Carl's genteel charm and warm personality best shown through the television screen, earning him wide respect and many loyal fans.

Carl will begin his well-deserved retirement effective this Thursday, but his voice will continue to be heard, as it has been for many years, over the public address system of Auburn University football and basketball games.

I join with all Alabama in wishing Carl, his wife Mary, and all his family the very best in the years ahead.

AMBASSADOR ROBERT E. HUNTER ON NATO ENLARGEMENT

HON. TOM LANTOS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, last week the Senate began the debate on the admission of
