

GOP SHOULD STOP PLAYING POLITICS WITH PEOPLES' LIVES

HON. CHARLES E. SCHUMER

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 31, 1998

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. Speaker, to paraphrase a famous Republican, "There they go again." Just as they did last year, the Republican Congress is holding badly needed emergency funding hostage to political whimsy.

As we all remember, though I'm sure some of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle would like to forget, the GOP held up emergency appropriations for flood victims in North Dakota for political purposes.

This year, Republicans are holding up federal relief for families in the Northeast who were recently battered by icestorms. Rather than have a straight vote on the emergency appropriations, Republicans are tying these funds to their agenda to decimate housing aid, cut education, and eliminate the President's national service program.

It has become apparent that the House leadership would rather build bridges to their right-wing constituencies than rebuild communities shattered by the forces of nature. These tactics have failed before, and they will certainly fail again.

Mr. Speaker, the families in Upstate New York, Maine and other Northeastern states need help, not political maneuvering. And they need help right now. I ask my colleagues to oppose this measure and instead demand an immediate, clear vote on emergency funding.

IN HONOR OF PAUL ROBESON DAY

HON. BOBBY L. RUSH

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 31, 1998

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the centennial of the birth of Paul Leroy Robeson.

Whereas, Paul Robeson grew up in Princeton, New Jersey, the son of an escaped slave who was a Presbyterian minister; and

Whereas, Paul Robeson's forensic skills while in high school won him a scholarship to Rutgers University where he was the only African-American student and only the third African-American student in the college's history; and

Whereas, Paul Robeson, a brilliant student who was elected to the highest academic honor society in America, Phi Beta Kappa, in his junior year, was valedictorian of his college class and a Commencement speaker at a college where he could not live on campus in a dormitory; and

Whereas, Paul Robeson, a gifted four-letter athlete and two year football All-American understood the importance of community service and received the acknowledgment of the New Brunswick, New Jersey African-American community at a banquet in his honor while a student at Rutgers; and

Whereas, Paul Robeson went on to earn a law degree at Columbia University School of Law in 1923 and was admitted to the New York State bar; and

and screen including becoming the definitive Othello in modern theater and setting an all-time record for a Shakespearean play on Broadway of two-hundred-ninety-six performances; and

Whereas, Paul Robeson was a fearless advocate for the cause of human dignity and the civil rights of his fellow African-Americans and the human rights of other oppressed peoples throughout the world, and in doing so, sacrificed his career as a world renowned actor and singer; and

Whereas, in recognition of the achievements and accomplishments of Paul Robeson, the Chicago Board of Education constructed and opened Paul Robeson High School in the 1st Congressional District in 1977; and

Whereas, Paul Robeson's determination, academic achievements, self-discipline and self-esteem epitomize the traits and attributes that should be emulated by students all over the United States;

I applaud the Governor of Illinois, the Mayor of the City of Chicago and Paul Robeson High School in memorializing the life and works of Paul Robeson and celebrating April 9, 1998, as "Paul Robeson Day."

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE LITERACY COUNCIL OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY, MD

HON. CONSTANCE A. MORELLA

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 31, 1998

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the Literacy Council of Montgomery County, MD, on the occasion of its 35th anniversary on November 13, 1998. The Literacy Council was founded by Mrs. Beth Kilgore, and is a nonprofit organization supported by public funds and private contributions.

Since the Council's inception in 1963, the volunteer tutors have taught nearly 7,400 illiterate adults to read, write, and speak English. Dedicated volunteers act as administrators, office workers, speakers, and fundraisers, as well as tutors, and devote about 37,000 hours per year to the battle against illiteracy.

The Literacy Council has two primary programs: Basic Literacy, for English-speaking adults who have failed or have not had the opportunity to learn to read and write; and English as a Second Language, for foreign-born adults who need to learn English. At any given time, the Council has about 800 students and about 500 tutors participating in these programs.

The socioeconomic rewards of the services provided by the Literacy Council are invaluable. Newly literate adults become more involved and effective parents encouraging their children to aspire to more promising lives. Literacy skills enable these adults to acquire jobs and become productive members of society.

Mr. Speaker, I congratulate the Literacy Council of Montgomery County, MD, for 35 years of dedicated service to our community. It is a proud moment for me to pay tribute to the winning combination of staff, volunteers, and students of the council who have devoted their time and energies to wiping out illiteracy in our Nation.

RECOGNIZING KENNETH J. BEEBY

HON. JOHN JOSEPH MOAKLEY

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 31, 1998

Mr. MOAKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize one of the great, behind-the-scenes figures in American business today. He is Kenneth J. Beeby, who will retire this year after 25 years of service with Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc. Ken's leadership and dedication has led Ocean Spray and the cranberry industry nationwide through a period of unparalleled prosperity and growth.

Our professional and personal life creates many fine lines, demanding us to make many hard choices and decisions every day. Few people learn to navigate this line and maintain a balance—when to walk it, when to crossover and when to stand up and on what side. Ken Beeby is one of those few people who have mastered this ability with honor, self-respect and integrity.

During his 25 years of service to Ocean Spray, Ken has compiled an impressive record of achievement, rising to the post of Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary. Massachusetts is the birthplace of the cranberry industry and the home of Ocean Spray Cranberries, a grower owned market cooperative. For nearly 70 years, the cranberry industry has been a major contributor to our economic and employment base in Massachusetts. And Ken's keen intellect and understanding of the legal issues surrounding the Cooperative form of business and proper trademark usage enabled Ocean Spray to develop and grow into the organization it is today.

Cranberry growers nationwide respect and admire Ken's intelligent and professional manner in which he diligently performed his duties. His faithful service with various agricultural and trade organizations has been a benefit to the best interests of all cranberry farming communities across the country.

Ken started with the grower-owned cooperative in 1973 as House Counsel. In 1976, he was promoted to Chief Legal Officer and a year later, was named Vice President-General Counsel. In 1982, he was appointed Secretary of the Corporation.

Prior to joining Ocean Spray, Ken served as Staff Attorney and Assistant General Counsel with Seven-Up from 1961 to 1973. He is a graduate of Northwestern University School of Law and Beloit College in Wisconsin.

Ken is a member of several professional organizations, including the National Council of Farmer's Cooperatives, Grocery Manufacturers of America, National Food Processors Association, American Bar Association, Massachusetts Bar Association, American Agricultural Law Association, Association of Food and Drug Officials and the American Corporate Counsel Association.

An active participant in his home community, Ken is a Lay Person of his church and a former board member of the Plymouth Philharmonic Orchestra. He and his wife Shelley live in Duxbury, Massachusetts. They have three children and two grandchildren.

The cranberry industry has benefited from Ken's wise judgement, calm guidance and compassionate insight into the crucial issues facing business and agriculture. His devotion to the cause has helped secure for Ocean Spray a position of prestige among American corporations, and surely secured for him an honored place in the history of Ocean Spray, the cranberry industry and American business.

RECOGNIZING MS. CLAUDIA ALVAREZ FOR HER THIRD-PLACE FINISH IN A NATIONAL ESSAY CONTEST

HON. ZOE LOFGREN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 31, 1998

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the outstanding achievement of Ms. Claudia Alvarez, whose essay on bilingual education won a third-place prize in a prestigious national essay contest sponsored by Scholastic, Inc., an educational publishing company.

Claudia's essay, "Estoy Orgullosa de Ser Bilingüe" ("I'm Proud To Be Bilingual"), very eloquently extols the virtues and enrichment of bilingualism from her personal perspective.

Claudia wrote her essay last year as a 5th-grade student at San Antonio School, located in the 16th Congressional District of California.

More than 40,000 students nationwide participated in the essay contest. Claudia's third-place finish earned her a $1,000 educational grant from Scholastic, Inc., which was matched with a grant from New Star, an educational testing company. In addition, Claudia has been honored by the California Association of Bilingual Teachers at its recent convention in San Jose, California and was flown to Dallas, Texas with her teacher, Ms. Norma Rodriguez, to be honored by the National Association of Bilingual Teachers.

In its March 4, 1998, issue La Oferta Review, a bilingual newspaper serving Silicon Valley, published Claudia's essay in English and Spanish.

Claudia's outstanding achievement is indicative of the potential of our young people when provided with the proper educational tools.

Mr. Speaker, today I ask my colleagues in the United States House of Representatives to join with me in recognizing the outstanding achievement of Ms. Claudia Alvarez.

[From La Oferta Review, Mar. 4, 1998]

I'M PROUD TO BE BILINGUAL

(By Claudia Alvarez)

I'm proud to be bilingual because that is who I am. I'm proud to be bilingual because my first language, Spanish in my mother tongue. It is the heritage from my ancestors. I'm proud to be bilingual because it is a privilege. When you speak one language well, you may feel like you are holding the world in your hands.

Those of us who speak two languages is like holding two worlds full of opportunities. Being Bilingual is like living in two rich exciting worlds, which one does not take over the other. Instead, they complement each other. Being bilingual opens more doors to the way of success. Also being bilingual is like having double brain capacity, because I can communicate my feelings, my fears, and dreams in more than one way. Being Bilingual is having double opportunities to communicate these dreams. To be able to speak two languages, is like living in two worlds full of surprises, adventures, and lots of promises for a brighter future. I'm proud to speak English because it is the language I learned at school. It is the heritage I received from the educational system, and it is my country's official language.

COUNCIL OF SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY PRESIDENTS

HON. SCOTT L. KLUG

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 31, 1998

Mr. KLUG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to bring to your attention, and to the attention of my colleagues, that the Council of Scientific Society Presidents (CSSP) will mark its 25th Anniversary in 1998. CSSP is the nation's largest multidisciplinary consortium of scientific, engineering and technical societies. It is composed of over 60 federations and societies, representing over 1.4 million scientists, engineers, technologists and educators.

CSSP fosters communication and collaboration among all science and engineering disciplines and develops policy statements on issues of national scope. Through its network of leaders, CSSP facilitates the implementation of those policies.

For 25 years, CSSP has been a leader and a voice of reason. CSSP has played a key role in the health of the S&T enterprise by developing a network of national leaders and serving as an advocate of wise science policy.

CAMPAIGN REFORM AND ELECTION INTEGRITY ACT OF 1998

SPEECH OF

HON. BOB ETHERIDGE

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 30, 1998

Mr. ETHERIDGE. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of meaningful campaign finance reform.

I strongly support a thorough investigation of the practices of both political parties, and I want Congress to pass serious reform of the campaign finance system. We must eliminate the corrupting influence of special interest money from our political system and restore the faith of the American people in our public institutions. Neither party can claim total innocence of Washington misdeeds, and I believe the people of North Carolina sent me to Congress to work in a bipartisan manner to serve the public interest. That is what I try to do every day as a United States Representative.

At the start of the 105th Congress, the freshman class agreed that we would work on a bipartisan basis to reform the way that campaigns for public office are funded in this country. Each of us was pleased that the President agreed, and the Speaker of the House agreed, that we needed to pass campaign finance reform legislation during this Congress. While we were not able to bring any legislation to the floor last year, each of us was heartened to hear the Speaker say that there "would be a very fair bipartisan process of voting when we bring the [campaign finance reform] bills to the floor."

I oppose the way that campaign finance reform legislation has been brought to the floor of this House tonight. The leadership of this body has made a mockery of the democratic process. By bringing these reform bills to the floor under suspension of the rules of the House, these bills are doomed to failure because a simple majority of votes is not sufficient to pass a bill; instead a super-majority of votes (or $\frac{2}{3}$ of Members voting) is needed in order to pass campaign finance reform legislation. A good bill can pass with a simple majority; a bad bill will not pass with a super-majority. The Majority Leadership has made the determination to kill campaign finance reform legislation by making sure that it will not garner enough votes to pass.

The people of this country are discouraged by this type of behavior from this Congress and will not be fooled by this attempt to pass ill-conceived legislation. Rushing these bills through the people's House without the benefit of full and open debate makes a mockery of the democratic process; rushing these bills through without the benefit of open debate only encourages the cynicism of our society.

H.R. 3581, the misnamed "Campaign Reform and Election Integrity Act," allows wealthy individuals to contribute even more money, by doubling the current Federal dollar limits on contributions to candidates and tripling the limits on contributions to political parties and total contributions, plus indexing them to inflation. As a result, a wealthy person would be able to contribute $100,000 more every election cycle. Most of the citizens of this country believe that there is too much money now being spent on political campaigns, and instead of curbing campaign spending, this bill increases the amount.

And, in another cynical attempt to prevent Hispanic citizens from voting, this bill includes a provision to establish a Federal "voter eligibility confirmation system" which allows state and local officials to drop voters from the rolls, solely on the basis of race or an "ethnic-sounding name." At a time in our Nation's history when fewer and fewer people take the time to go to the polls and cast a ballot, we should not further discourage people from voting by intimidating them from even trying to go to the polls.

Many Members of both the U.S. House and the U.S. Senate have introduced good campaign reform measures. However, in order to restore the trust and confidence of the American people, a way must be found to bridge differences and pass bipartisan campaign finance reform by the next election. I have co-sponsored the Independent Commission on Campaign Finance Reform Act of 1998. This legislation will establish a bipartisan commission of 12 members and will recommend reforms to the laws that govern Federal elections. I believe that an independent commission provides Congress the best opportunity to overcome the political and legislative impediments that have stymied previous campaign finance reform efforts.

Madam Speaker, the American people deserve a reform of the campaign election system. I hope that we will have the courage to do something meaningful toward that end during the 105th Congress.
