

After a learning period under the wing of famed California political consultants Stuart Spencer and Bill Roberts and serving as Statewide News Director of Governor Ronald Reagan's re-election campaign, McDowell and partner Richard Woodward, formed the firm Woodward & McDowell in 1971.

They successfully guided former San Francisco State University President S.I. Haya-kawa to a seat in the United States Senate and went on to run some of the most controversial ballot measure campaigns in California, winning more than 95% of the time. McDowell earned the firm a reputation for honesty, credibility and journalistic standards that are a hallmark of the industry.

Mr. Speaker, with the loss of Jack McDowell we have lost a man for whom the standard was excellence, and nothing less. He will be sorely missed by his loving family, his colleagues at Woodward & McDowell and the many others who knew him as a man not only with a story to tell, but the best way to tell it.

IN SUPPORT OF ALEXIS HERMAN

HON. EARL F. HILLIARD

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 14, 1998

Mr. HILLIARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of my friend, and our Labor Secretary, Ms. Alexis Herman. From what I have read, I do not believe that there exists any sound evidence that she was involved in any illegal acts. The charges are frivolous and unsubstantiated. And, for the life of me, I cannot understand what continues to possess the Attorney General to appoint Independent Counsels to investigate overtly partisan and unsubstantiated hearsay.

Even officials at the United States Department of Justice, in their memo to the three Judge panel overseeing this process, stated that no tangible evidence exists which proves that Secretary Herman was involved in anything even remotely illegal.

Mr. Speaker, I am deeply troubled at this wanton spirit of unwarranted prosecution, and at the Justice Department's willingness to appoint Independent Counsels to investigate unsubstantiated rumors.

Since the beginning of the Clinton administration, these so-called Special Prosecutors have cost the American taxpayers a fortune, yet; not one of the principals investigated, has yet to be convicted of any crime.

The costs of the investigations of the present administration total over $51 million, with no apparent end in sight. The examples of these politically inspired investigations include: $29 million and still counting for Ken Starr's investigations; $14 million for Donald Smaltz's investigations; $5.4 million for David Barrett's; $3.2 million for Daniel Pearson's; and $244,000 for Curtis von Kann's investigation.

It seems as though the leadership at the Justice Department is like a willow which blows in the wind, allowing it to bend to the desires of the current rumor-of-the-day.

All I can say is, shame on you Madame Attorney General, for allowing yourself to be influenced, at the eleventh hour, by unwarranted, last minute, right-wing, rumor-mongering. This is political folly at its very worse, and it is costing the country a great deal of money, and a larger amount of credibility.

RECOGNIZING KODAK OF WINDSOR, COLORADO

HON. BOB SCHAFFER

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 14, 1998

Mr. BOB SCHAFFER of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, on May 7, 1998, officials of Kodak Colorado Division located in Colorado's Fourth Congressional District announced that the company is the first facility in the State of Colorado and the first sensitized manufacturing facility of Eastman Kodak Company to become registered for ISO 14001.

ISO 14001 Registration is given to companies by the British Standards Institution, Inc. (BSI) after completing a rigorous audit conducted by BSI representatives. The audit is a thorough examination of Environmental Management Systems in all major production and support areas on site including manufacturing processes, pollution prevention plans, and site procedures. "This registration is a true reflection of the efforts of our employees on behalf of environmental protection", said Lucille Mantelli, director of Communications and Public Affairs. "The Kodak Colorado Division is committed to being an environmentally responsible citizen, and to be registered as a ISO 14001 company is a recognition of our efforts in this arena." In order to retain the registration as a ISO 14001 company, third party audits are required semi-annually.

Mr. Speaker, this recognition shows the commitment Kodak has as a company, to be an environmentally sound, competitive organization maintain high standards of excellence for the community. I would like to thank Kodak of Windsor, Colorado for being such a conscientious corporate citizen.

MARKING THE DEDICATION OF THE BAKERSFIELD POLICE MEMORIAL

HON. WILLIAM M. THOMAS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 14, 1998

Mr. THOMAS of California. Mr. Speaker, this week is Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Week, seven days set aside to honor the courageous men and women who gave their lives protecting us and upholding the law. Yesterday, I was proud to vote for House Resolution 422 which states that law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty should be honored, recognized, and remembered for their great sacrifice. Today I rise to help pay tribute to the law enforcement officers who died while serving Bakersfield, California.

With all of the advances that have been made in the field of American law enforcement this century, one sad and sobering fact remains the same: police officers are often killed in the line of duty. On May 15, the Bakersfield Police Department will dedicate a monument to honor the law enforcement officers who sacrificed their lives for the safety and well-being of the people of Bakersfield over the past century.

Of great men, Ralph Waldo Emerson once said "brave men who work while others sleep, who dare while others fly . . . they build a nation's pillars deep and lift them to the sky." The names which will be etched on this memorial will be an eternal reminder of the seven brave men who lost their lives daring to protect the people of Bakersfield.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great pride that I pay tribute to the law enforcement officials in Bakersfield who died in the line of duty. The somber black granite monument will be a lasting tribute to these individuals who put the safety of the community ahead of their own. I am proud to live in a town which has chosen to honor its fallen police officers in such a fitting and lasting manner.

PEACE OFFICERS MEMORIAL DAY AND POLICE WEEK, 1998

HON. TIM ROEMER

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 14, 1998

Mr. ROEMER. Mr. Speaker, this week Congress and the nation pause to honor the more than half a million law enforcement officers across the country who put their lives on the line each day to protect us and our families. These dedicated men and women are prepared to give what Abraham Lincoln called "their last full measure of devotion" so that we can continue to enjoy the freedom and quality of life that we sometimes take for granted.

Federal, state, and local police officers perform a great service for our communities. All too often they literally are the last thread between us and the forces of violence and chaos. We ask a great deal of the officers who protect us. We ask them to defend our homes and families; to patrol our roads and highways; and to bring justice to criminals and murderers who would otherwise prey on our society. We ask a great deal from this "blue line," but it never breaks and is always there to guard us. For this we owe the nation's police officers our deepest gratitude and our strong support.

Last year, 159 law enforcement officers made the ultimate sacrifice while working to protect us. This means that, on average, one law enforcement officer is killed somewhere in America nearly every other day. In Indiana, seven officers lost their lives—ranking Indiana fifth in the nation in terms of officers lost in the line of duty. Two officers from the congressional district I represent made the ultimate sacrifice last year: Paul Richard Deguch, from the South Bend Police Department, was murdered in the line of duty; and James Kautz, from the Long Beach Police Department, was killed while helping at the scene of a traffic accident.

This week we pay tribute not only to those who gave their lives, but also to every spouse, every child, every parent, and every friend. We pay tribute not only to those who died, but to those who have lost them, to the survivors. And we pay tribute to the law enforcement officers who continue to go to work each day, putting their lives on the line, in the name of freedom.

As we honor these heroes with ceremonies and flags standing at half-staff, we should rededicate ourselves to ending the violence that has taken such a toll on these peace officers. We can best honor their service by seeing that today's officers have the training, equipment and public support they need to accomplish their dangerous mission. To quote Lincoln again, our greatest tribute to these fallen officers is to see that they "shall not have died in vain."

1997-98 VFW VOICE OF DEMOCRACY
SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION

HON. DAN BURTON

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 14, 1998

Mr. BURTON of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to submit the following for the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD:

"MY VOICE IN OUR DEMOCRACY"

(By Lori Parcel, Indiana Winner)

Who hasn't solved a jigsaw puzzle? We all have been faced with the task at one time or another. I remember the last time I tried to solve one. After hours of work, the puzzle was nearly complete . . . and then I realized that some of the pieces were missing. I scoured the area in search of the missing pieces, but I was unable to find them. The puzzle remained incomplete. In many ways, our democracy is a puzzle that consists of over 250 million pieces. Over 250 million voices which are inextricably bound. And interlocked within this tapestry, the tapestry of democracy, is my voice.

I realize that all of the pieces of the puzzle must be present for our government to be fully effective. However, looking around, I can't help but notice gaps in democracy's tapestry. Gaps which surely weaken the entire structure. I raise my voice to cry out to the missing pieces, to tell them to join the majority of Americans, to exchange ideas and strengthen our government, but my cry does not reach some. They do not understand that by discounting their own voices, and by ignoring my plea, they are hurting both themselves and our government. They do not realize that a democracy such as ours cannot effectively operate without their input. I use my voice to tell them about the time I was paging in the state legislature. I tell of a man who came into the statehouse and observed me tallying opinion surveys. The man, presumably a stray piece, was surprised that the surveys were tallied. He expressed his astonishment by saying, "That's where those surveys go. You actually read these. I did not think anyone listened, or that it was worth spending money for a stamp." The man did not understand that the absence of a single voice, a solitary note in the symphony of our government, can throw harmony into discord.

I plea to the stray pieces once again. I tell them that, during my experience paging, I learned that legislators are people. They have pictures of their families on their desks, and they even drink coffee. They are no different from the rest of us except they have decided to make a career out of using their voices to build our democracy, to add more pieces to the puzzle in hope of solving our nation's problems.

But certainly one does not have to hold public office to have a voice in our government. Rosa Parks provided the impetus for the Civil Rights movement by simply refusing to give up her seat on the bus. She did not even have to open her mouth to have her voice heard throughout the nation.

My voice will not be the missing piece of the puzzle or the chord absent in the symphony. I may speak loudly and run for public office. Or I may speak softly by writing to my representative to tell him my opinions on an issue. But regardless of how I speak, my voice will always be audible. It must be, in order for me to be a fully participating member of our democracy. It is my duty to those who have sacrificed and those who continue to work for freedom throughout the world to exercise my right to participate in our government.

I realize that using my voice is critical to the continuation of democracy. Our government consists of millions of voices. Those of politicians and those of voters, but all of which are American voices. Exercising our voices through voting is our privilege, right, and duty as American citizens. In order to truly have a government of, by, and for the people, we must all work to build it. We must all contribute our piece of the puzzle, our voice, to our democracy. When I cast my vote a year from now, I will be doing far more than choosing one candidate from the ballot. I will be contributing my voice to the extensive puzzle which depicts the tapestry of our government. And I will be raising my voice, in harmony, to contribute to that symphony we call democracy.

HONORING WIVB-TV CHANNEL 4

HON. JACK QUINN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 14, 1998

Mr. QUINN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to bring to the attention of my colleagues a very special anniversary in my district, that of our local television channel, WIVB-TV.

On May 14, 1948, then known as WBEN-TV, WIVB began service to the Greater Buffalo areas as our community's first television station. In addition to being the first television station in Western New York, WIVB was also first to offer live news broadcasts, live weather reports, live coverage of sporting events, and color broadcasting. This pioneering and innovative spirit has established WIVB a leader in local broadcasting.

In that proud tradition, WIVB-TV looks to the future with a continued commitment to ethical and ambitious journalism, technological innovations through Doppler Radar, and a growing system of local weather stations.

These impressive accomplishments would not have been possible without the many talented individuals who have served WIVB. Whether as an on-air television personality, or as one of the countless behind-the-scenes men and women who contribute so much to the success of the program, WIVB-TV, and indeed, our entire community, are indebted to their service.

Mr. Speaker, today I would like to join with the many residents of Buffalo and Western New York who enjoy WIVB's programming everyday in expressing my enthusiastic commendation to WIVB-TV Channel 4 on the occasion of its Fiftieth Anniversary, and send our best wishes for the next half-century.

CONGRATULATIONS TO JACK V.
PANDOL

HON. GEORGE P. RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 14, 1998

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Jack V. Pandol for being honored with the Boy Scouts of America Southern Sierra Council's Great American Award. This is one of the highest awards given by the Boy Scouts and is only the fourth in the 86-year history of the local Scout Council. As a man who has made lasting contributions to his community and country, Jack is very deserving of this award.

Jack Pandol began his service in the United States Army 25th Infantry Division during World War II. He fought in the Philippines and Japan and received the Purple Heart, Bronze Star, and Combat Infantry Badge for his distinguished service.

Jack V. Pandol is of Croatian descent and has been a Delano based farmer since 1941. In 1948, Jack and his two brothers purchased 400 acres of land from their parents. Today, this family owned farming operation has grown to over 6,000 acres of land in Kern and Tulare counties. He began as a grape grower, but soon branched out to become a grower, marketer, exporter, and importer. Jack is currently the President of Pandol Brothers, Inc. National and International Sales, and a partner in Pandol & Sons Farming. The Pandol firm currently does business in over thirty countries, representing growers from Washington state to South America and as far away as China.

Jack has been instrumental in the opening of foreign markets for international trade in Europe, the Orient and South America. He is known for his innovations in "barter" trade, fresh produce marketing, and general agriculture. Jack has received many awards for his work in the farming and shipping industries, and has served in many distinguished positions. Among these are Director of California Pacific Corporation, Advisory Board Member for the U.S. Department of Agriculture for Fruit and Vegetables, Member of the California Export Finance Board, Advisory Board Member for the U.S. Maritime Commission, President of Delano Grape Products, Vice President of the Rag Gulch Water District, and President of the California Grape and Tree Fruit League.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great honor that I congratulate Jack V. Pandol for being honored with the Boy Scouts of America Southern Sierra Council's Great American Award. Jack Pandol is an exceptional patriot whose contributions to agriculture have made a prominent impact in his community and beyond. I ask my colleagues to join me in wishing Jack V. Pandol many more years of success.

TRIBUTE TO HUGO F. SON-NENSCHN, PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

HON. SANDER M. LEVIN

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 14, 1998

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Speaker, as a proud alumnus of the University of Chicago, I rise today
