

United States and Europe—are making inroads into Africa, Asia and South America. WHO projects that deaths related to tobacco use over the next 30 years will rise from 4 million to 10 million by the year 2030, with 70 percent of these deaths occurring in developing countries.

The unfettered globalization of the tobacco market—which is dominated by U.S. companies—will cause untold devastation on the health of every citizen on the planet over the next few decades. We cannot stand idly by when we have the tools to stop such practices.

I am proud to be an original co-sponsor of the Bipartisan NO Tobacco for Children Act of 1998 which will establish an international “code of conduct” for U.S. tobacco companies selling their products abroad. If tobacco companies cannot market in a particular way to American children, they should also be prohibited from using those methods on children in other parts of the world.

HONORING THE GRACE BAPTIST CHURCH OF NANUET

HON. BENJAMIN A. GILMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 20, 1998

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, a great Baptist Church located within Rockland County of the 20th Congressional District of New York, will observe its bicentennial, as this County celebrates its 200th birthday.

In 1798 a small gathering of Baptists in Rockland County formally established what is today the Grace Baptist Church of Nanuet. This Church was instrumental in starting six new Baptist congregations in Rockland County and subsequently established the first Sunday School there in 1828.

A far-sighted and courageous action that this Church took on April 12, 1817, fifty years before President Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, was its declaration that members who owned slaves could no longer remain fellows of the Church.

The growth of the Grace Baptist Church over the past 200 years has kept pace with the growth of Rockland County. The current congregation is multi-ethnic with Caucasian, Afro-American, Hispanic, Asian, Korean, Haitian and Philippine congregation members. All these reflect the current cultural and ethnic composition of Rockland County.

This Church has been an important factor for the development of the Rockland community. Throughout the years it has been an invaluable community presence, making certain that it responds to the special needs of the population. It has been a social and religious institution that always acts in the best interests of the community.

I am certain that the Grace Baptist Church of Nanuet will keep up its good works, not only in spreading out its religious traditions and observances, but also promoting its religious teachings and morality in Rockland's community.

TRIBUTE TO “BUCK” LONG

HON. SONNY CALLAHAN

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 20, 1998

Mr. CALLAHAN. Mr. Speaker, on June 1, 1998, D.H. “Buck” Long will retire from his long-time service as President and General Manager of WKRG-TV, Inc., the CBS affiliate in my hometown of Mobile, Alabama.

For over 30 years, Buck has been an innovator in the broadcasting industry, always keeping his station on the cutting edge of technology. Furthermore, he has set an example for his peers and employees alike by giving much back to his community. Quite frankly, Buck's service to the Mobile area has been unrivaled in many ways.

Buck Long was born on April 9, 1929 in Spartanburg, S.C., where he attended Spartanburg High School. Soon after graduation, he moved to Mobile to attend Springhill College in 1947. As a student at Springhill, Buck worked part-time as a record librarian, station-break announcer and disc-jockey at WMOB Radio, which marked his first job in the broadcasting field to which his father had introduced him years before as a young child.

In 1950, Buck became the nighttime announcer and disc-jockey at WABB Radio where he became known as the host of “Buck Back Room.” With his ingenious business style and optimistic attitude, Buck sold his show to the listeners of Mobile who grew to appreciate and admire not only the show but also the announcer. In return for his hard work and success with the show, WABB promoted Buck to the position of full-time sales associate the following year and by 1955, he was named local sales manager at WABB.

After his initial success in radio, Buck left the station in 1957 and became an account executive with Jack Lewis Advertising. Two years later, in 1959, he joined the sales department at WKRG-TV. That year marked the beginning of what would turn into a long and dedicated relationship with the WKRG corporate family.

In 1967, Buck Long was promoted to local sales manager as a reward for his hard work. A few years later, he was elected Vice President, and later Senior Vice President, of WKRG. In 1982, Buck was once again elevated, this time to Executive Vice President and Station Manager. Finally, on January 1, 1986, the Board of Directors of AM-FM radio stations.

Throughout his distinguished career, Buck has always demonstrated his genuine concern for the Mobile community through his commitment to quality family programming. In addition, Buck has also believed the public deserves to be kept informed with a top notch news department and a public affairs division that is second to none. Along these lines, I would be remiss if I didn't mention one such program, The Gulf Coast Congressional Report, which has been a mainstay on WKRG for more than 20 years. In fact, with Buck's strong support, several of my colleagues and I, most notably former Congressman Earl Hutto and the Senate Majority Leader, TRENT LOTT, have been able to appear on WKRG on a regular basis keeping the viewing audience in Northwest Florida, Southwest Alabama and the Mississippi Gulf Coast informed on the latest news coming out of Washington.

As you can imagine, Buck Long has received numerous awards over the years but three in particular stand out. Not long ago, the Alabama Broadcasting Association named Buck Alabama Broadcaster of the Year. In addition, he has also been named a Paul Harris Fellow from the Mobile Rotary Club and an Honorary Fellow to the University of Mobile.

Buck resides in Mobile with his wife, the former Sara Kerr. Their daughter, Karen St. Clair, also lives in Mobile with her husband Jeffrey Miles St. Clair, and their children, Sara, Katherine and Andrew.

Mr. Speaker, Buck Long is a good friend but more than that, he is a good citizen. His leadership in our community and at WKRG serves as an inspiration to young and old alike, and it is indeed a pleasure for me, as his congressman, to enter this recognition in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, so that on behalf of his viewing audience and my constituents, a proper “thank you” for his many efforts to make Mobile and South Alabama a better place can be duly noted. And to Buck and Sara, here's for many more years of success, good health and happiness in all your future endeavors.

SANDIA NATIONAL LABORATORIES FIRST FEMALE ENGINEER RETIRES

HON. ELLEN O. TAUSCHER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 20, 1998

Mrs. TAUSCHER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Betty Carrell, a constituent from Livermore, California and one of science's true female pioneers.

While at Oregon State University in the 1950s, Betty Carrell was the only female student enrolled in the university's engineering program. In fact, because of her welding classes, Mrs. Carrell was the only woman allowed to wear pants on campus.

In 1959, Mrs. Carrell graduated and was quickly hired by Sandia National Laboratories in Livermore, California where she became their first female engineer. After five ground breaking years, where she was the only woman among the 350 engineers at Sandia, Betty left just prior to the birth of her first child.

While raising her two children, who it should be noted are now both mechanical engineers, Betty somehow found time to serve on the Livermore School Board, including two terms as its president. Among her other civic activities, she also sat on the Chabot Community College Foundation and the Livermore Chamber of Commerce.

In 1984, she returned to Sandia where she worked on a number of projects including solar thermal technology, warhead dismantling programs and toxic waste reduction. Betty is most proud of the environmental management work she did in Washington, D.C. for two years while on loan to the Department of Energy. Earlier this year at the age of 60 and after 20 fulfilling years at Sandia, Betty Carrell retired from the working world.

Betty Carrell is truly an inspiration to young woman everywhere who dream of entering the workplace as scientists and engineers. At an early age, she shared her parent's love of math and science so it was a natural for her to want to become an engineer.

Betty can be delighted with the progress women have made in the sciences. Of the 630 technical engineers at Sandia today, 107, 17 percent of them, are women. Betty Carrell should take great pride in the trail she blazed for women everywhere in engineering and in the sciences. We in the 10th Congressional District are extremely fortunate to have someone as special and as courageous as Betty Carrell living in our community. I applaud her for her efforts on behalf of women everywhere and I wish her the best in her well-deserved retirement.

TRIBUTE TO ROY TOWERS

HON. FRANK RIGGS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 20, 1998

Mr. RIGGS. Mr. Speaker, one of my best friends left this world for a better one last week. His name was Roy Towers. He had one mission in life, to help make his country, his state and Del Norte County a better place to live, work and raise a family.

Some people sit on the sidelines and say why bother. Not Roy Towers. He was the type of person to get involved and make a difference. And make a difference he did. In the political arena there was no one better at organizing to elect the candidate he felt would do the best job for the people. Where some people just give money, and others only give their time, Roy Towers gave both.

Most people will remember him as a political activist, but he was so much more than that. Few people will recall that it was Roy Towers who was one of the prime movers of the effort to get quality care in Del Norte County. Yes, as a member of the Local Hospital Board of Directors, he convinced Sutter Health Systems to invest millions of their dollars to build a new hospital in Crescent City. He made sure that poor people were guaranteed access to good health care by convincing the board to bring in a medical clinic to serve those who could not afford medical and dental care.

Roy was also a dependable friend. I often sought his advice and counsel, and he was always forthright with his thoughts and ideas.

He was a person who was active right up to the end, fighting for his beliefs.

[From the Daily Triplicate, Tuesday, May 19, 1998]

ROY TOWERS, 1920-1998

A MAN OF INFLUENCE AND DILIGENCE, ROY TOWERS WORKED HARD TO LEAVE HIS LITTLE CORNER OF THE WORLD A BETTER PLACE

If someone met Roy Towers walking down the street, at least in the 1990s, most people would not see the clout the gentleman held in the area. They would have seen a tall, orderly man with quiet eyes and reserved demeanor. Flashy was not part of his wardrobe or his lifestyle.

Yet Towers was far different than some others with power. First, Towers' influence wasn't because of his money, although he did have a dime or two. No, it was built on respect. It was anchored in hard work. He was willing to fight his own battles. For example, he saw a need for leadership on what is now the Del Norte Healthcare District's board of directors, and for 17 years he provided that in a determined, yet civilized, manner.

Towers was also a man who understood principles and accepted the fact that other people had principles that didn't always match his goals. As long as an opponent had a good reason for disagreeing with him, Towers understood.

Roy Towers died last week. He took with him a wealth of knowledge about many subjects, such as making friends and making Del Norte County a better place to be. He will be missed.

"MIRACLE AT MIDNIGHT:" AN EXTRAORDINARY FILM AND A VALUABLE LESSON FROM THE PEOPLE OF DENMARK

HON. TOM LANTOS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 20, 1998

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to honor today an outstanding film, "Miracle at Midnight," that appeared on ABC television's "The Wonderful World of Disney" on Sunday night, May 17. This moving drama, which was created by ABC, the Disney Company, and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, is a stirring description of the story of Danish courage during World War II.

Other European nations, subdued by Nazi might, cowered at the feet of their conquerors and, in some cases, collaborated with them in their most despicable genocidal plans. The Danes stood firm against this affront to humanity, fighting back doggedly and bravely against German efforts to arrest Denmark's Jewish citizens. In a matter of hours, Danes of all religions and persuasions joined together to organize a rescue of miraculous success and unbelievable fortitude.

The swiftness and daring of the rescue illustrated in "Miracle at Midnight" is so monumental that it is difficult to believe. In fact, the entire account is based on the true experience of the Danish people.

On April 9, 1940, German tanks crossed the border into Denmark in an unprovoked attack upon a defenseless nation. As Nazi tanks rolled unhindered across the flat Jutland, the Danish government recognized the impossibility of resistance and surrendered within hours. As a reward for their initial passivity, the German occupiers allowed the Danes a modicum of freedom and a measure of civil life unparalleled under the Nazi yoke. Few untersmenschen—"subhuman" individuals of "degenerate" races—were molested by Gestapo thugs, and, for three years, life for most Danish citizens remained relatively unchanged.

In 1943, however, this changed. Ambitious SS officers in Copenhagen, perversely envious of their mass-murdering colleagues in Eastern Europe, ordered the arrest of the city's Jewish population to coincide with Erev Rosh Hashanah, the night before the start of the Jewish New Year. Word leaked quickly to the Jewish community, and men and women who arrived for celebratory synagogue services were immediately sent home to hide their families from the Nazi onslaught. Non-Jewish families, among them Dr. and Mrs. Karl Koster (skillfully portrayed by Sam Waterston and Mia Farrow) and their two teenage children, risked their lives by opening their homes to Jewish friends and neighbors. Dr. Koster, a leading Copenhagen surgeon, courageously converted the hospital which he directed into a refuge. Similar acts of principled, silent bravery dotted the historic city, making the "surprise" Nazi roundup an unmitigated failure.

Koster and his fellow protagonists soon realized that the Nazi thugs could not be evaded indefinitely, and they devised a plan to ferry their Jewish friends to neutral Sweden. Against seemingly hopeless odds, their efforts were rewarded. Through sheer good fortune and the wit, wisdom, and valor of the many Danish heroes, 7,000 Jews escaped to Sweden. Only a few fell into Nazi hands.

Mr. Speaker, I cannot overemphasize the importance of studying the horrible illustrations of human brutality that mark the history of the Holocaust. I feel equally passionate about the need to study the causes of the widespread popular indifference to the Nazi crimes. But another type of example from these awful years must also be highlighted: the instances of uncompromising bravery that saved many men, women, and children from the gas chambers. The fortitude of Oskar Schindler was brilliantly recorded on film by Steven Spielberg in the epic "Schindler's List." The moral fight of the outnumbered and outgunned Jews of the Warsaw Ghetto tied down pivotal German forces for six weeks and, more importantly, served notice to Hitler's henchmen that the Jewish people would fight the tyranny forced upon them. For me and my wife, the lesson of Raoul Wallenberg, the Swedish humanitarian who saved our lives and the lives of 100,000 Budapest Jews, is one that we never fail to teach our grandchildren. The sacrifices of the Danes must also never be forgotten, and the brilliantly constructed "Miracle at Midnight" helps to fulfill this vital mission.

Mr. Speaker, the extraordinary film would not exist without the luminous talents and firm backing of many important participants. "Miracle at Midnight" is produced by Davis Entertainment in association with Walt Disney Television. John Davis and Merrill Karpf are the executive producers, with Morgan O'Sullivan as producer. Ken Cameron directed from a script by Chris Bryant and Monte Merrick. Waterston, the acclaimed star of "The Killing Fields" and television's "Law and Order," joins Ms. Farrow, Justin Whalin, and numerous other brilliant artists in their magnificent acting performances.

"Miracle at Midnight" displays for us all the beauty and justice of a people comparatively unburdened by the racial and religious hatreds that indelibly stamped the Holocaust. Preben Munch-Nielsen, then a teenager, took part in that historic rescue: "We didn't recognize Jews as Jews, but as Danes. . . . The Jews . . . were victims of an insane movement created by lunatics. If you wanted to maintain your self-respect, you did what you could." This film is a wonderful lesson of tolerance, dignity, and selflessness. Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in commending "Miracle at Midnight" and all those who contributed to its valuable historical lesson.
