

Bonds (a new proposal), and expansion of the Qualified Zone Academy Bonds (created last year). These tax credits will cost the Treasury $5 billion over 5 years, and more than $10 billion over ten years.

SCHOOL MODERNIZATION BONDS

$19.4 billion in zero-interest bonds ($9.7 billion in 1999 and $9.7 billion in 2000) is proposed for construction and renovation of public school facilities. The Department of the Treasury would allocate the rights to offer these special 15-year bonds to States, territories, and certain school districts that have submitted school construction plans to the Secretary of Education.

Half of the bond authority would be allocated to the 100 school districts with the largest number of low-income children, in proportion to the number of such children served (the Title I Basic Grant formula), to provide assistance in accordance with each school district's plan.

The other half would be allocated to States and territories to provide to school districts in need of assistance in accordance with each State's plan. The bond authority would be allocated according to the State's proportion of low-income children (Title I Basic Grant formula), except that children in the 100 school districts (above) would not be included in the count.

School Construction Plans: In order to receive a bond allocation, States, territories, and the eligible 100 school districts would be required to submit a plan to the Secretary of Education. The plans would (1) demonstrate that a comprehensive survey has been undertaken of the construction and renovation needs in the jurisdiction, including meeting requirements for access by persons with disabilities, and (2) describe how the jurisdiction will ensure that the bond funds are used for the purposes intended by this proposal, including the requirement that they will supplement, not supplant, amounts that would have been spent on construction and renovation in the absence of these bonds. State plans would also describe how they will ensure that localities with the greatest need—as demonstrated by inadequate facilities coupled with a low level of resources to meet the needs—would be served.

QUALIFIED ZONE ACADEMY BONDS

This program, created by the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, provides a tax credit to pay interest on bonds for a variety of expenses (including building renovation) related to certain public school-business partnerships. The FY 99 Budget would expand these bonds to cover school construction and would increase and extend the bond authority by $2.4 billion (an additional $1 billion, to $1.4 billion, in 1999, and $1.4 billion in 2000). This bond authority is allocated to States on the basis of their respective populations of individuals with incomes below the poverty line.

TITLE XVII—EUROPEAN SECURITY ACT OF 1998

SEC. 1701. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “European Security Act of 1998”.

SEC. 1702. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

(a) POLICY WITH RESPECT TO NATO ENLARGEMENT.—Congress urges the President to outline a clear and complete strategic rationale for the enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), and declares that—

(1) Poland, Hungary, and the Czech Republic should not be the last emerging democracies in Central and Eastern Europe invited to join NATO;

(2) the United States should ensure that NATO continues a process whereby all other emerging democracies in Central and Eastern Europe that wish to join NATO will be considered for membership in NATO as soon as they meet the criteria for such membership;

(3) the United States should ensure that no limitations are placed on the numbers of NATO troops or types of equipment, including tactical nuclear weapons, to be deployed on the territory of new member states;

(4) the United States should reject all efforts to condition NATO decisions on review or approval by the United Nations Security Council;

(5) the United States should clearly delineate those NATO deliberations, including but not limited to discussions on arms control, further Alliance enlargement, procurement matters, and strategic doctrine, that are not subject to review or discussion in the NATO-Russia Permanent Joint Council;

(6) the United States should work to ensure that countries invited to join the Alliance are provided an immediate seat in NATO discussions; and

(7) the United States already pays more than a proportionate share of the costs of the common defense of Europe and should obtain, in advance, agreement on an equitable distribution of the cost of NATO enlargement to ensure that the United States does not continue to bear a disproportionate burden.

(b) POLICY WITH RESPECT TO NEGOTIATIONS WITH RUSSIA.—

(1) IMPLEMENTATION.—NATO enlargement should be carried out in such a manner as to underscore the Alliance's defensive nature and demonstrate to Russia that NATO enlargement will enhance the security of all countries in Europe, including Russia. Accordingly, the United States and its NATO allies should make this intention clear in negotiations with Russia, including negotiations regarding adaptation of the Conventional Armed Forces in Europe (CFE) Treaty of November 19, 1990.

(2) LIMITATIONS ON COMMITMENTS TO RUSSIA.—In seeking to demonstrate to Russia NATO's defensive and security-enhancing intentions, it is essential that neither fundamental United States security interests in Europe nor the effectiveness and flexibility of NATO as a defensive alliance be jeopardized. In particular, no commitments should be made to Russia that would have the effect of—

(A) extending rights or imposing responsibilities on new NATO members different from those applicable to current NATO members, including rights or responsibilities with respect to the deployment of nuclear weapons and the stationing of troops and equipment from other NATO members;

(B) limiting the ability of NATO to defend the territory of new NATO members by, for example, restricting the construction of defense infrastructure or limiting the ability of NATO to deploy necessary reinforcements;

(C) providing any international organization, or any country that is not a member of NATO, with authority to delay, veto, or otherwise impede deliberations and decisions of the North Atlantic Council or the implementation of such decisions, including deliberations and decisions with respect to the deployment of NATO forces or the admission of additional members to NATO;

(D) impeding the development of enhanced relations between NATO and other European countries that do not belong to the Alliance;

(E) establishing a nuclear weapons-free zone in Central or Eastern Europe;

(F) requiring NATO to subsidize Russian arms sales, service, or support to the militaries of those former Warsaw Pact countries invited to join the Alliance; or

(G) legitimizing Russian efforts to link concessions in arms control negotiations to NATO enlargement.

(3) COMMITMENTS FROM RUSSIA.—In order to enhance security and stability in Europe, the United States should seek commitments from Russia—

(A) to demarcate and respect all its borders with neighboring states;

(B) to achieve the immediate and complete withdrawal of any armed forces and military equipment under the control of Russia that are deployed on the territories of the independent states of the former Soviet Union without the full and complete agreement of those states;

(C) to station its armed forces on the territory of other states only with the full and complete agreement of that state and in strict accordance with international law; and

(D) to take steps to reduce further its nuclear and conventional forces in Kaliningrad.

(4) CONSULTATIONS.—As negotiations on adaptation of the Treaty on Conventional Armed Forces in Europe proceed, the United States should engage in close and continuous consultations not only with its NATO allies, but also with the emerging democracies of Central and Eastern Europe, Ukraine, and the South Caucasus.

(c) POLICY WITH RESPECT TO BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE COOPERATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—As the United States proceeds with efforts to develop defenses against ballistic missile attack, it should seek to foster a climate of cooperation with Russia on matters related to missile defense. In particular, the United States and its NATO allies should seek to cooperate with Russia in such areas as early warning.

(2) DISCUSSIONS WITH NATO ALLIES.—The United States should initiate discussions with its NATO allies for the purpose of examining the feasibility of deploying a ballistic missile defense capable of protecting NATO's southern and eastern flanks from a limited ballistic missile attack.

(3) CONSTITUTIONAL PREROGATIVES.—Even as the Congress seeks to promote ballistic missile defense cooperation with Russia, it must insist on its constitutional prerogatives regarding consideration of arms control agreements with Russia that bear on ballistic missile defense.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The people of the United States and the people of the Republic of China on Taiwan have long enjoyed extensive ties.

(2) Taiwan is currently the 8th largest trading partner of the United States.

(3) The executive branch of Government has committed publicly to support Taiwan's bid to join the World Trade Organization and has declared that the United States will not oppose this bid solely on the grounds that the People's Republic of China, which also seeks membership in the World Trade Organization, is not yet eligible because of its unacceptable trade practices.

(4) The United States and Taiwan have concluded discussions on a variety of outstanding trade issues that remain unresolved with the People's Republic of China and that are necessary for the United States to support Taiwan's membership in the World Trade Organization.

(5) The reversion of control over Hong Kong—a member of the World Trade Organization—to the People's Republic of China in many respects affords to the People's Republic of China the practical benefit of membership in the World Trade Organization for a substantial portion of its trade in goods despite the fact that the trade practices of the People's Republic of China currently fall far short of what the United States expects for membership in the World Trade Organization.

(6) The executive branch of Government has announced its interest in the admission of the People's Republic of China to the World Trade Organization; the fundamental sense of fairness of the people of the United States warrants the United States Government's support for Taiwan's relatively more meritorious application for membership in the World Trade Organization.

(7) Despite having made significant progress in negotiations for its accession to the World Trade Organization, Taiwan has yet to offer acceptable terms of accession in agricultural and certain other market sectors.

(8) It is in the economic interest of United States consumers and exporters for Taiwan to complete those requirements for accession to the World Trade Organization at the earliest possible moment.

(b) CONGRESSIONAL STATEMENT.—The Congress favors public support by officials of the Department of State for the accession of Taiwan to the World Trade Organization.

DIVISION A—FOREIGN AFFAIRS REFORM AND RESTRUCTURING

USIA AND BROADCASTING

Section 313 of the Senate bill provides for the creation of a new Under Secretary of State for Public Diplomacy. It should be noted that it is slightly different from the original Senate-passed bill (S. 903) in delineating the duties of this Under Secretary.

Specifically, Section 313 provides that the Under Secretary will have primary responsibility for assisting the Secretary and Deputy Secretary in carrying out the public diplomacy function. Additionally, although the bill provides, as did the original Senate bill, that the new Under Secretary will have responsibility for assisting the Secretary and Deputy Secretary with regard to international broadcasting, the authorities of the Department of State with regard to broadcasting are limited. While the Secretary has a seat and vote on the Broadcasting Board of Governors, and she provides foreign policy guidance to the Board, neither she nor the Under Secretary will have specific supervisory powers over the international broadcasting function; those powers are vested in the Broadcasting Board of Governors, as explained below.

Chapter 3 of Title III provides for the organization of all U.S.-sponsored international broadcasting. It is very similar to the original Senate bill (S. 903), with several modifications. The central element of this chapter is that the current Broadcasting Board of Governors—which supervises international broadcasting, but is currently part of the U.S. Information Agency—will remain in place, but it will not be merged into the Department of State. Instead, the Board will become an independent federal establishment.

The Broadcasting Board of Governors was established by the United States International Broadcasting Act of 1994 (Title III of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1994-1995, P.L. 103-236). In that Act, Congress consolidated all U.S.-sponsored international broadcasting—the Voice of America (VOA), Radio and TV Marti, Worldnet TV, Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty (RFE/RL), and Radio Free Asia (RFA)—under the direction and supervision of one governing board. The Board is part of the United States Information Agency, although in essence it is a self-contained unit within the Agency.

The bill does not alter the consolidation achieved in 1994, but it does prevent the Board and the international broadcasting entities from being merged into the State Department, where the credibility and journalistic integrity of the broadcasters would be threatened. The rationale for creating this arms-length distance from the State Department is two-fold: (1) to provide "deniability" for the Department when foreign governments voice their complaints about specific broadcasts; and (2) to provide a "firewall" between the Department and the broadcasters to ensure the integrity of the journalism.

Establishing this structure is not to deny that the broadcast entities are funded by the United States government—quite obviously, they are. This structure in no way should be construed to lessen the responsibility of the Board to ensure that U.S. broadcasts are "consistent with the broad foreign policy objectives of the United States," as required by Section 303(a)(1) of the 1994 Broadcasting Act. For example, this legislation states that the VOA should continue to include editorials which present the views of U.S. policy. But the concepts of "deniability" and "firewall" are not merely diplomatic fictions. In truth, the State Department will be able to deny responsibility for a specific broadcast—because it will have denied itself the ability to directly affect the content of any specific broadcast. It can do so because the "firewall" will have operational meaning. Whenever a foreign government complains to a U.S. diplomat that a broadcast is inconsistent with U.S. foreign policy objectives, that diplomat can plausibly deny that the broadcast is "not my department," and refer their counterpart to the Board. The Board, in turn, will exercise its oversight duties to investigate the matter, take steps to influence overall broadcast policy to ensure that broadcasts are consistent with broad foreign policy objectives of the United States, but the journalists themselves will be shielded from political interference by State Department officials.

Of course, this bureaucratic separation does not mean that the broadcasters should remain aloof from U.S. foreign policy interests. Broadcasting is an important instrument of U.S. foreign policy, and should remain so. The broadcasting agencies would continue to serve the foreign policy needs of the U.S. government, and would be linked to the foreign affairs apparatus by what might be described as a "dotted-line" relationship to the State Department: (1) the Secretary of State would be a permanent voting member of the Board (as the USIA Director is now), would provide foreign policy guidance to the Board, and would be consulted about the addition or deletion of language services; (2) the VOA mission of telling America's story would remain intact, as would the VOA Charter; (3) the statutory requirements requiring that the broadcasts be consistent with the broad foreign policy objectives of the United States would remain intact; (4) the broadcasters would continue to have the capability to provide surge capacity to support broad U.S. foreign policy objectives during crises abroad.

Although the Board will be a federal agency, the work performed by the international broadcasting entities under it can hardly be described as a typical government function. Cynics may deride their work as "propaganda," but in fact the broadcasters are journalists, reporting the news of the United States and the world to foreign audiences. The news gathering and reporting functions of the broadcasters must continue to be independent and objective. The broadcasters themselves understand the importance of this imperative. It is no accident that VOA employees treasure the VOA Charter, which states that the VOA will "serve as a consistently reliable and authoritative source of news" and that VOA news will be "accurate, objective, and comprehensive." The employees do so because they take this command seriously. Similarly, the employees of the surrogate services—Radio and TV Marti, RFE/RL and RFA—are committed to the highest standards of professional journalism. Accuracy and credibility are their watchwords.

This credibility would be at risk if the various broadcast services were placed inside the Department of State, where they would be perceived by foreign audiences as mere adjuncts of the Department, and where they would be subject to the daily pressures of diplomacy. But in establishing this structure, it is not intended that the broadcasters will become unmoored from the broad objectives of American policy.

The provision in this bill also provides that the current Board members may complete their existing terms without being reappointed. Furthermore, they may be appointed to new terms when those terms expire.

It should be noted here that the bill does not include the original Senate proposal to create a separate Inspector General for broadcasting within the Broadcasting Board of Governors. Instead, that function will continue to be performed by the Inspector General of the Department of State. The bill states, however, that the Inspector General shall respect the journalistic integrity of all broadcasters covered by this title, and may not evaluate the philosophical or political perspectives reflected in the content of broadcasts. The Inspector General must take great care in reviewing broadcast operations, for, as noted earlier, international broadcasting is not a typical government function. The broadcasters are journalists, and the Inspector General must not be involved in second-guessing the daily decisions of journalists and their editors. To do so could have a chilling effect on the activities of the journalists. The Inspector General is currently conducting a review of the Cuba services of the Voice of America, known as Radio and TV Marti. She contends that this review is limited to analyzing whether the Martis have a process in place for assuring that broadcasts are consistent with broad U.S. foreign policy objectives. This provision is intended to ensure that any content review not cross this line drawn by the Inspector General.

In establishing the Broadcasting Board of Governors as an independent agency in the executive branch, several changes to existing law were made—and new authorities were provided to the Board. A few of these changes are highlighted below:

Section 323(d) amends the "standards and principles" section of the 1994 Broadcasting Act in two respects. First, it makes clear that U.S. international broadcasting should include editorials broadcast by the Voice of America which present the views of the U.S. government (only the VOA performs this function). This provision and this title are not intended to change in any manner the current process for ensuring that editorials are consistent with U.S. policy. Second, this section states that international broadcasting should have the capability to provide surge capacity to support U.S. foreign policy objectives during crises abroad.

Sections 323(e) and 323(f) make several amendments to the authorities of the Board, which are set forth in Section 305 of the 1994 Broadcasting Act. First, it amends the statute to provide that the Board has the power to "supervise" all broadcasting activities; current law gives the Board the power to "direct and supervise." This change is intended to clarify any confusion that may have been caused by the use of the word "direct". The word "direct" implies day-to-day management responsibilities, a function that is incongruous with a part-time oversight board. The daily operations of the broadcasters are conducted by the Director of the International Broadcasting Bureau, and the presidents of the respective grantees (RFE/RL and RFA), operating under the supervision of the Board.

Second, the bill requires the Board to consult with the Secretary of State in making its determinations on the addition or deletion of language services. This change is not intended to give the Secretary veto power over such decisions; at the end of the day, she has but one vote on the Board. The amendment does recognize, however, that the addition or deletion of language services has foreign policy implications, and that the Board should give careful consideration to the Secretary's views on such matters.

Third, the bill provides the Board with several additional legal authorities that are necessary for it to function as a separate federal agency. These are intended to ensure that the Board and the Director of the International Broadcasting Bureau have, for the purposes of carrying out their respective duties, all the authorities which are now available to the Director of the U.S. Information Agency on the day before the effective date of this division. It is intended that the Board and the Bureau be enabled thereby to operate utilizing the full range of the Director's administrative, technical, contracting, personnel, and all other authorities, including acquisition and disposal of international broadcasting facilities abroad, liberally interpreted, to carry out their functions.

Fourth, the bill provides the Board with the authority to procure, pursuant to the "Economy Act," goods and services from other federal departments and agencies. In keeping the Board and the Bureau outside the State Department, it is not intended that these entities will grow significantly. The Bureau will likely need additional personnel to carry out certain administrative tasks now performed by the administrative offices of USIA. But some of these routine functions may just as easily—and perhaps more efficiently—be performed by existing federal agencies.

Finally, the bill provides authority for the Board to delegate certain authorities to the Director of the International Broadcasting Bureau, and any other officer or employee of the United States. It bears emphasis here that the Board need not do so, for the Board has a small professional staff which assists it to carry out its statutory functions; the provision simply provides the Board with the option to delegate certain authorities.

Section 323(j) of the bill makes two changes to current law with regard to the role of the Secretary of State. First, the bill amends current law to make clear that the Secretary's authority to provide foreign policy guidance to the Board may be exercised at her discretion.

Second, it authorizes the Secretary of State to use Worldnet broadcasts, on a non-reimbursable basis, for the purposes of continuing interactive dialogues with foreign media and other similar overseas public diplomacy programs sponsored by the State Department. "Interactive dialogue" is a term of art, which describes, in essence, press conferences between a U.S. policy maker (sitting in a studio in Washington), and foreign journalists (sitting in a U.S. Information Service post or other facility overseas). This is a public diplomacy function that should be under the policy control of the State Department after the integration of USIA into the Department. Most other Worldnet programs are, by contrast, the type of traditional broadcasting carried out by the VOA; for example, the VOA has recently commenced simulcasts of its radio programs on television. The Broadcasting Board of Governors and USIA have already reached a cooperative agreement regarding Worldnet (which was submitted recently to the Foreign Relations Committee in the form of a reprogramming) that is similar to the design set forth in the bill. It is intended that this arrangement continue when USIA is merged into the State Department, with the Board making available appropriate broadcasting time slots to the State Department to continue this important program. This provision is not intended to limit the access the Secretary currently has to Worldnet for other purposes, such as the current practice of using this service to broadcast from time to time to employees located at U.S. missions abroad.

Section 326 contains specific authority for the transfer of appropriate USIA assets and personnel to the Broadcasting Board of Governors. This includes those assets and personnel employed in connection with, or to carry out, the functions transferred by this chapter to the Board. It also includes provisions which will permit the transfer of assets and personnel which support the functions transferred by this chapter. These latter determinations will be made by the Secretary of State, with the concurrence of the Broadcasting Board of Governors. It is intended that the Broadcasting Board of Governors should receive administrative support funds and personnel commensurate with the administrative support it now receives from the U.S. Information Agency.

SMITH-MUNDT

Section 333 addresses the complex question of how to apply restrictions in current law on USIA to influence public opinion in the United States once USIA is integrated into the Department of State. The Department has a responsibility to communicate with the American people on U.S. foreign policy, for example, to explain the importance of continuing U.S. involvement in international affairs. Subsection (a) makes clear that none of the restrictions applicable to USIA shall become applicable to public affairs and other information dissemination functions of the Secretary of State as carried out prior to any transfer of functions pursuant to this division. Subsection (b) provides that existing restrictions will, however, continue to apply to USIA public diplomacy programs (which are carried out abroad) once they are integrated into the State Department. This subsection preserves the exceptions in current law. Under this approach, public diplomacy programs that are unique to USIA, including the program material produced by them, shall continue to be subject to the restrictions of the Zorinsky Amendment and in the Smith-Mundt Act, as relevant. At the same time, the Department of State will be able to integrate the activities that it already performs, such as public outreach, direct public affairs contact with domestic and foreign press, and administrative activities, with such activities of the other foreign affairs agencies without these restrictions being applicable.

In addition, subsection (c) provides that funds that are specifically authorized in statute for such public diplomacy programs at the Department in the future shall not be used to influence public opinion in the United States, and that no program material prepared using such funds shall be distributed or disseminated in the United States. This provision makes clear that if an amount is specifically authorized in an authorization bill for such public diplomacy programs, such amount will be subject to these restrictions.

Subsections (d) and (e) create greater planning and budget transparency for how public diplomacy functions are integrated into the Department.

AUTHORITY TO REORGANIZE THE DEPARTMENT

Section 611(a) authorizes the Secretary, subject to the requirements of the subdivision, to allocate or reallocate any function transferred to the Department, and to establish, consolidate, alter, or discontinue such organizational entities within the Department as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out any reorganization under this subdivision. This subsection does not authorize the Secretary to modify the terms of any statute that establishes or defines the functions of any bureau, office or officer of the Department. Thus, while the Secretary could add functions and responsibilities to a bureau that is mandated under current law, she could not eliminate such a bureau or take away any responsibilities currently mandated by statute to be performed by that bureau.

TRANSFER OF PERSONNEL

Section 613 of the Senate bill provides in subsections (a) and (b) that except as provided in Title III, not later than the date of abolition of ACDA and USIA, or the transfer of any function of AID to the Department of State, affected personnel and positions of those agencies shall be transferred to the Department of State at their same grade or class, the same rate of basic pay or basic salary rate, and with the same tenure held immediately preceding transfer. Thus, members of the Foreign Service will transfer to the Department in the same Foreign Service class (or, in the case of Foreign Service nationals, at the same grade), at the same salary rate, and with the same tenure held prior to transfer. Civil Service employees transferred to the Department will transfer at the same Civil Service grade, at the same rate of basic pay, and with the same tenure held prior to transfer. Tenure, in this context, refers to the employment status of the employee (e.g., probationary, career conditional, or career tenure). This provision is also intended to ensure that the type of appointment (e.g., Civil Service competitive or excepted service appointment, or Foreign Service career or limited appointment) held immediately preceding transfer will remain unchanged by reason of the transfer.

Subsection (c) authorizes the Secretary, for a period of not more than six months commencing on the effective date of the transfer of personnel to the Department under subsections (a) and (b), to assign such personnel to any position or set of duties at any grade in the Department except that by virtue of such assignment, such personnel shall not have their grade or class or rate of basic pay or basic salary rate reduced, nor their tenure changed. Although the Secretary's authority to make assignments under this subsection is limited to a six-month period following transfer, the duration of any assignment made pursuant to this authority and the retention of grade may continue indefinitely, as long as the employee remains in a position to which s/he is assigned during the six month period. This provision will overcome any requirement for the Department of State involuntarily to demote or reassign personnel at the end of the six-month period, even though the number of employees who retain a particular grade may exceed the number of positions at that grade level. This provision does not, however, provide Civil Service personnel with a guaranteed grade if, for example, they apply for and obtain another position or the Department chooses to employ reduction in force procedures to reduce the number of Department employees. The Secretary shall consult with the relevant labor organizations with regard to the exercise of this authority. This subsection gives the Secretary the flexibility to assign and reassign for a six month period transferred personnel to any position within the Department after they have been transferred to the Department, except to positions that by law require appointment by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

REORGANIZATION OF AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The bill requires that AID's Press Office and certain administrative functions be transferred to and consolidated with the Department of State. The committee of conference is aware that the Department of State and the Agency for International Development recently entered into an agreement to implement the President's April 1997 decision that these two agencies should share certain administrative functions.

The single largest change will occur overseas as the International Cooperative Administrative Support Services (ICASS) system is put into place. ICASS is designed to provide AID with the data and other information needed to compare the costs of services within the system that encourages the use of the most economic service provider. Both agencies will, over the next fiscal year, work to maximize shared administrative support services. As part of this agreement, both agencies agree to analyze jointly the data generated by ICASS to identify opportunities where one or the other agency can expand shared services.

Also, AID had agreed already to have the Department of State provide retirement processing for Foreign Service officers, retirement counseling for AID officers, and site consolidation of AID headquarters' computer operations. According to the Administration, these are either now implemented or on their way to implementation.

Further, AID has agreed to expand its use of training services offered by the Department of State. Specifically, AID will attempt to obtain all of its foreign language training from the Department of State. In addition, State and AID have agreed to jointly develop training programs so that other professional and technical training can be shared to the maximum extent possible.

The Department of State has agreed to try to accommodate AID by taking responsibility for storage of employees' household goods. In addition, State and AID already share other transportation and storage services, and they will continue to review these areas for other opportunities. The committee of conference expects AID and the State Department to continue to explore areas in which additional consolidation and cost savings can occur and that the Foreign Relations Committee and the International Relations Committee will be notified of such progress.

ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS COORDINATION AND OVERSIGHT

The bill provides for the coordination of activities of the Secretary of State in relation to United States assistance. The activities include designing of an overall assistance strategy for countries in the region; ensuring the coordination of United States government agencies; coordinating with the individual country governments and international organizations; and resolving policy disputes among United States government agencies with respect to assistance being provided.

This coordination authority does not supersede the responsibility of the Secretary of Commerce in relation to the promotion of exports of United States goods and services. Nor does this supersede the responsibility of the Secretary of the Treasury to coordinate the activities of the United States in relation to the International Financial Institutions, and the organization of multilateral efforts aimed at currency stabilization, currency convertibility, debt reduction, and comprehensive economic reform programs.

This section of the bill is essential to bring improved coordination and rationalization to U.S. overseas economic and development assistance programs. The establishment within the Department of State of this coordination function will ensure that, in the future, foreign aid programs are being carried out in a manner consistent with our nations overall foreign policy. It furthers the President's goal of establishing the Secretary of State's pre-eminence in foreign policy making. According to the State Department's April 17, 1997, statement regarding reorganization, one reform "...would be to further improve coordination between AID's and State's regional Bureaus." This section supports that objective.

A.I.D. UNDER THE DIRECT AUTHORITY AND FOREIGN POLICY GUIDANCE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

The President's decision on reorganization retains the Agency for International Development as a distinct agency but places it under the direct authority and foreign policy guidance of the Secretary of State. This bill supports that objective.

This bill includes a section which provides that funds formerly allocated to the International Development Cooperation Agency (IDCA)—which is abolished by this legislation—now be allocated to the Secretary of State. The bill provides that the Secretary of State may allocate or transfer these funds to the head of any other agency. It is the understanding of the committee of conference that Secretary Albright intends to allocate this foreign aid and the administrative funds currently apportioned to AID to its Administrator. Bringing AID under the direct authority and foreign policy guidance of the Secretary of State, will strengthen the U.S. Government's coordination of long term development and humanitarian assistance.

AUTHORITY TO TRANSFER FUNCTIONS EARLY

Section 616 provides that the Secretary may, notwithstanding any provision of this subdivision and with the concurrence of the head of the appropriate Federal Agency, transfer the whole or part of any function prior to the effective dates established in this subdivision, including the transfer of personnel and funds associated with such functions. In exercising this authority, personnel and funds would be transferred in accordance with the applicable provisions of Title VI. This provision is intended to permit the Administration to have an orderly transfer of functions if the Administration chooses to transfer some functions from an agency prior to its abolition. It is intended that the Secretary will consult with the Broadcasting Board of Governors if she exercises the authority of this section to transfer personnel or assets that might otherwise be used to provide administrative support for the Board when it becomes a separate federal establishment.

DIVISION B—STATE DEPARTMENT AND RELATED AGENCIES AUTHORIZATION ACT AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The conference substitute authorizes a total of $6,140,895,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $6,664,093,000 for fiscal 1999. The President's request for FY 1999 is $6,789,259,000. The conference substitute follows the Senate format providing the authorization of appropriations in the specific sections of the bill.

ADMINISTRATION OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS

The House bill (sec. 1101) authorizes $2,610,271,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $2,610,271,000 for fiscal year 1999 for the Administration of Foreign Affairs. The House bill (sec. 1101 (1)(B)) requires the Secretary of State to provide passport information without charge to citizens of the U.S.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1101) authorizes for $2,609,661,000 fiscal year 1998 and $2,634,706,000 for fiscal year 1999 for the Administration of Foreign Affairs. The Senate amendment has no comparable provision to House sec. 1101(1)(B) on passport information.

The recommended level of authorization for Diplomatic and Consular Programs is intended to be utilized to maintain a strong U.S. presence abroad, and to meet current unfunded needs, including security of personnel and overseas U.S. facilities, and does not include funding for new programs, not presently funded for environmental conferences, programs, and associated expanded staffing.

The conference substitute incorporates the sub-authorization of $2,000,000 for fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for recruitment of minorities for careers in the foreign Service.

for fiscal year 1999 for voluntary contributions to international organizations. The provision also includes limitations for the World Food Program, the United Nations Voluntary Fund for victims of Torture, and International Program on the Elimination of Child Labor.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1104) is the same as the House bill, except it authorizes $294,500,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $294,500,000 for fiscal year 1999.

VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS TO INTERNATIONAL PEACEKEEPING OPERATIONS

The House bill (sec. 1102(d)) authorizes $87,600,000 in fiscal year 1998 and $67,000,000 in fiscal year 1999 for voluntary contributions to peacekeeping operations.

LIMITATIONS ON U.S. VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE UNDP

The House bill (sec. 1102(g)) requires the withholding from U.S. voluntary contributions to the UN Development Program an amount equal to the amount UNDP intends to spend in Burma during each of the fiscal years 1998 and 1999, unless the President certifies to Congress that UNDP programs in Burma are focused on eliminating human suffering and other issues.

The Senate amendment contains no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1106) is the same as the House bill.

UN POPULATION FUND

The House (1523) House bill section 1523 UN Population Fund, authorizes $25 million for the UN Population Fund for fiscal years 1998 and 1999, but makes only $12.5 million available to UNFPA before March 1 of each fiscal year. It also contains other prohibitions.

The conference substitute (sec. 1107) is similar to the House bill, but deletes subsections (b), (c) and (d).

House International Relations Committee

DEPARTMENT OF STATE AUTHORITIES AND ACTIVITIES

OVERSEAS EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES

The House bill (sec. 1213) provides the authority for US government agencies to make grants to overseas educational facilities. This amendment allows agencies that may not have grant authority to make grants to support these schools if agency employees have children attending these schools.

The Senate provision (sec. 1136) is identical.

The conference substitute (sec. 1201) is identical to the House provision.

REVISION OF DEPARTMENT OF STATE REWARDS PROGRAM

The House bill (sec. 1201(a)) rewrites the State Department rewards statute to update the program and improve its use as a tool to help capture fugitives abroad in cases of terrorism and narcotics offenses. The following changes are made to current law: (1) raising the cap on the funds available for the rewards program; (2) requiring that, to the maximum extent possible, the program funds are split equally between terrorism and narcotics related rewards programs; (3) allowing rewards to be paid for help in preventing counterfeiting of U.S. currency by state sponsors and others supporting terrorism; (4) allowing rewards to be paid for help in arresting any individual who aids or abets in the commission of any narcotics-related offense; (5) deleting the requirement for consultation over procedures for the chiefs' of mission recommendations of rewards the Secretary of State and the Attorney General; (6) requiring an annual report on the rewards program and; (7) making clear that the funds authorized for the rewards program are available to advertise rewards offered by foreign governments for international terrorism offenses. The Secretary is also required to submit a report to Congress when a reward payment is made.

The House bill also clarifies that determinations by the Secretary of State regarding counter terrorism and narcotics-related rewards are solely at the discretion of the Secretary, in consultation, as appropriate, with the Attorney General and are not subject to judicial review. This language conforms the State Department rewards program to similar provisions in various statutes that provide the reward authorities of the Attorney General, including those related to domestic terrorism. This language is intended to preclude unnecessary lawsuits that could divert Department resources, as well as bring unwarranted negative publicity to the rewards program and discourage potential informers.

The House bill (sec. 1201(b)) makes available to carry out the rewards program up to two percent of the foreign assets frozen by of the President under the International Emergency Economic Powers Act. This section also clarifies that determinations by the Secretary of State regarding counter terrorism and narcotics-related rewards are solely at the discretion of the Secretary, in consultation as appropriate with the Attorney General and are not subject to judicial review.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1125) similar to the House provision, amends section 36 of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 to make clear that terrorism rewards would be paid at the sole discretion of the Secretary of State and that reward determinations made by the Secretary would not be subject to judicial review.

The conference substitute (sec. 1202) adopts the House language with modifications. The conference substitute requires that before making a reward in a matter over which there is federal criminal jurisdiction, the Secretary of State shall obtain the concurrence of the Attorney General. The House provision required "consultation" with the Attorney General. The conference substitute also deletes the House section requiring the use of frozen foreign assets for the rewards program.

RETENTION OF ADDITIONAL DEFENSE TRADE
CONTROLS REGISTRATION FEES

The House bill (sec. 1208) amends section 45(a) of the State Department Basic Authorities Act to enable the Department to retain all of the registration fees that the Department's office of Defense Trade Controls collects. The additional fees are to be used for enhanced reporting on end-use monitoring and expanded registration and licensing and company audits.

The Senate amendment contains no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1203) is the same as the House bill.

FEES FOR COMMERCIAL SERVICES

The House bill (sec. 1211) allows fees collected for commercial services provided to businesses to remain available for obligation until expended. This authority will ensure the Department does not forfeit funds collected late in a fiscal year and that are not obligated by the end of that year.

The Senate amendment contains no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1204) is similar to the House position but makes the collected funds available only for two fiscal years.

PILOT PROGRAM FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS
REIMBURSEMENT

The House bill (sec. 1209) amends section 701 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 by adding a new subsection to allow the State Department to provide training for employees and their family members of the U.S. companies operating overseas on a reimbursable basis. In addition, this section allows the Department to provide foreign language training on a reimbursable basis to Members and employees of Congress. Section 1209(b) authorizes the Secretary of State to charge a fee for use of the National Foreign Affairs Training Center Facility. These fees shall be deposited as an offsetting collection to any State Department appropriations and shall remain available until expended. Fees set for renting these facilities should not provide a competitive advantage over other commercial facilities.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1135) is similar to the House bill except the training program is set up as a pilot project that terminates October 1, 1999. The provision also requires an assessment of the program within one year after enactment.

The conference substitute (sec. 1205) is similar to the Senate amendment. Changes include extending the pilot program to October 2002, and requiring the report two years after enactment.

FEE FOR USE OF DIPLOMATIC RECEPTION ROOMS

The House bill (sec. 1210) authorizes the Secretary of State to charge a fee for use of the Department of State diplomatic reception rooms. Such fees are deposited as an offsetting collection to recover the costs of such use and shall remain available for obligation until expended.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1124) is identical to the House bill.

The conference substitute (sec. 1206) is the same as the House bill.

BUDGET PRESENTATION DOCUMENTS

The House bill (sec. 1212) requires the State Department to report in the budget presentation documents all sources of income from fees or other collections.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1207) is the same as the House bill. This Act provides several additional new fee collections for the Department, as well as continuing the collection and retention of fees for machine readable visas. This provision is designed to secure budget transparency particularly for funds that are not subject to appropriations, and provide a full accounting of resources available to the Department. The report on income required by this provision is intended to include an accounting of proceeds from the sale of properties owned by the Department, projected expenditures from and the balance in the Foreign Service Building Fund for long term capital reinvestment.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL

The Senate amendment (sec. 1126) amends Section 209 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 to require the State Department Inspector General (IG) to provide (1) information to employees on rights to counsel, and (2) guidelines describing in general terms IG policies and procedures with respect to individuals under investigation, other than matters exempt from disclosure under other provisions of law.

The House bill contains no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1208) maintains the Senate language and further amends Section 209 of the Foreign Service Act to require that only officials from the Office of the Inspector General may participate in formal interviews or other formal meetings with the individual who is the subject of an investigation unless that individual receives prior adequate notice regarding the participation of any other person, including any officer or employee of the Department of Justice, in such interview or meeting. The notice requirement does not apply to (1) any intelligence-related or sensitive undercover investigation; or (2) any situation in which the Inspector General has reasonable grounds to believe that the provision of notice would cause tampering with any witness, the destruction of evidence, or the endangering of the life of any individual.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT FUND

The House bill (sec. 1202) amends section 135 of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1994 and 1995 to allow the Capital Investment Fund to be used for the procurement and upgrade of information technology and other related capital investments of the department of State. Sec. 135(e) eliminates the requirement that subjects money in the fund to Congressional reprogramming requirements before it is obligated.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1209) is identical to the House bill.

CONTRACTING FOR LOCAL GUARD SERVICES OVERSEAS

The House bill (sec. 1204) amends section 136 of PL 101-246 by repealing subsection (c)(7) and replacing (c)(3) with a more efficient process for evaluating requests for proposals for contracts for the local guard program. These changes continue a preference for firms and joint ventures qualifying under an existing definition of a U.S. person.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1210) is similar to the House bill, with a change to the price preference system. The price preference which is used to reduce the price of US firms' contracts, was increased from five percent to ten percent.

AUTHORITY OF THE FOREIGN CLAIMS
SETTLEMENT COMMISSION

The House bill (sec. 1205) amends section 4 of the International Claims Settlement Act to permit the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission to preadjudicate claims by U.S. citizens. Preadjudication would provide the Department with important information on the value and validity of claims by the U.S. public in advance of the negotiations and conclusion of an agreement. The Committee understands that in the event of preadjudication, the Secretary of State will make every effort to inform affected people.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1122) amends section 4 of the International Claims Settlement Act to permit the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission to preadjudicate claims by the US citizens in a category determined by the Secretary of State. Currently the Commission only has general authority to adjudicate claims after settlement has been reached by the Department with a foreign government. This section is designed to facilitate claims settlement practices by providing a mechanism for obtaining further information from US citizens about their claims in advance of actual negotiation.

The conference substitute (sec. 1211) is identical to the Senate amendment.

EXPENSES RELATING TO CERTAIN
INTERNATIONAL CLAIMS AND PROCEEDINGS

The House bill (sec. 1206) allows the Department to accept in certain cases reimbursement from private sector claimants for tribunal expenses, salaries and ordinary expenses. The intent of this provision is to allow the Department to accept reimbursement from claimants who would normally pay for the legal expenses of pursuing a claim.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1212) is similar to the House bill, with a clarification that eligible expenses include salaries and personnel expenses.

GRANTS TO REMEDY INTERNATIONAL
ABDUCTIONS OF CHILDREN

The House bill (sec. 1214) amends section 7 of the International Child Abduction Remedies Act to allow the U.S. Central Authority to make grants or enter into contracts or agreements for the purposes of carrying out certain functions required by the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1137) is identical.

The conference substitute (sec. 1213) is identical to the House bill.

COUNTERDRUG & ANTICRIME ACTIVITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The Senate amendment (sec. 1128(a)) requires that not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall establish, implement, and submit to Congress a comprehensive, long-term strategy, involving all elements of the Department, to carry out State Department counterdrug responsibilities in a manner consistent with the National Drug Control Strategy ("National Strategy").

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1214) adopts the Senate approach with several modifications: (1) the strategy shall also ensure that the President's drug certification determinations conform to meet the objectives of the strategy; (2) the annual reports shall include a detailed analysis of how drug certification determinations made the previous year affected achievement of such objectives for the previous calendar year; (3) the required coordination of counterdrug and law enforcement programs, policy and assistance shall include coordination of rule of law and administration of justice enforcement programs, policy and assistance; and (4) the section clarifies that such coordination will be consistent with memoranda of understanding between the State Department and other United States agencies.

ANNUAL REPORT ON OVERSEAS SURPLUS PROPERTIES

The House bill (sec. 1216) requires the Secretary of State to report annually on the list of overseas surplus properties for sale. In addition, the provision requires that proceeds for the sale of U.S. overseas surplus properties be deposited in the Treasury to be used for deficit reduction.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1215) requires an annual report on the surplus properties identified for sale.

HUMAN RIGHTS REPORTS

The House bill (sec. 1704) makes two changes to the requirement for the annual country reports on Human Rights Practices. First, the reporting date is extended from January 31 to February 25. Second, the section requires that the report include information on child labor practices in each country the report covers.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1216) is identical to the House bill.

REPORTS AND POLICY CONCERNING DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY

The House bill (sec. 1215 and 1706) requires the Secretary of State to submit to Congress an annual report on cases involving diplomatic immunity.

A related provision, section 1215 of the House bill amends the State Department Basic Authorities Act, requiring reporting similar to that required under section 1706 of the House bill. It also requires the Secretary to take "such steps as may be necessary" to educate and encourage local law enforcement officials to investigate, charge and prosecute members of foreign missions to the extent consistent with international law. Section 1215 forbids "interference" by State Department officers in the investigation, charge, or prosecution of aliens not exempt from the criminal jurisdiction of the United States and requires notification by the Secretary to members of diplomatic missions about United States policies relative to criminal offenses committed by members of the diplomatic corps.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision to House bill section 1215, and Senate section 1610 is identical to section 1706 of the House bill.

The conference substitute (sec. 1217) is a modification and consolidation of sections 1215 and 1706 of the House bill. The conference substitute adds several provisions drawn from Section 1215 of the House bill, such as broadening the definition of "serious crime" (triggering reports to Congress) to include reckless driving and driving while intoxicated or under the influence of drugs or alcohol whether or not personal injury resulted, requiring the provision of information furnished to the Secretary on crimes that appear to have been committed by a person with diplomatic immunity in periods prior to the period covered by a particular report by the Secretary (so that readers of the report will be aware if there is a pattern of violations attributable to a particular person), and encouraging the Secretary to notify diplomatic missions of United States policies encouraging the prosecution of members of foreign missions who commit crimes.

The conference substitute provides Congressional impetus for restructuring a troubling aspect of international practice with respect to diplomatic immunity: the prospect that an individual who commits a serious offense will escape all liability because of his or her status as a diplomat. A number of highly publicized, and indeed tragic, cases have occurred in recent years. The fact is that while cases of diplomats abusing their immunity in the United States are relatively rare, the number of such cases needs to be reduced, if possible, to zero.

Diplomatic immunity serves the interests of the United States. The United States cannot have its diplomats exposed to the full rigor of the criminal laws of the countries where they are stationed, since they could be subject to trumped-up charges, unfair treatment in court, or inhumane punishments.

The committee of conference applaud governments, such as the government of the Republic of Georgia, which have waived the immunity of their diplomats accused of serious crimes. They suggest that in the exceedingly rare cases where American officials apparently abuse their status—and do so in countries where they would be prosecuted on an equal footing with local residents and can receive a fair trial and humane treatment if convicted—the Department consider waiving the immunity of the Americans in question.

The committee of conference also supports the Administration's practice of notifying prosecutors that they may charge diplomats whose immunity has not been waived and who have been withdrawn from or expelled from the United States. Such abusers of diplomatic immunity are then put on the Department's "watch list" and are denied visas; they may also be subject to extradition if they travel to third countries where they are not covered by diplomatic immunity.

REAFFIRMING UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATIONS POLICY

The Senate amendment (sec. 1127) clarifies that the Diplomatic Telecommunications Service Program Office will have full and open competition in the procurement of telecommunications services; will make efforts to promote the participation of all commercial private sector provider; and will implement these requirements at the prime contracting level and at the subcontracting level unless the fixed price contracts make it more costly to require a prime contractor to compete subcontracts.

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1218) is identical to the Senate amendment.

Concerns about DTSPPO continue as certain users have decided to utilize other systems to meet their overseas communications needs. DTS was unable to meet agency requirements in a timely fashion. Developing a cost sharing system to increase resources for DTS for post communications upgrades and maintenance should be priority. The committee of conference urges the Office of Management and Budget to promptly finalize a charge back system thereby enhancing DTS's capabilities to coordinate overseas communications structures and provide the services for which it was created.

REDUCTION OF REPORTING

The House bill (sec. 1203) eliminates several reporting requirements. This provision has been requested by the Administration.

The Senate (Sec. 1121) eliminates several reporting requirements as follows: Repeals section 161(c), second sentence, 22 U.S.C. 4171 note, on required reports on competency of foreign language experts at embassies. Repeals Section 502B (b), 22 U.S.C. 2304 (b), on required reports on human rights in countries that receive security assistance. Repeals Section 705 (c), P.L. 99-83, on required reports on emigration from Haiti. Repeals Section 123 (e) (2), P.L. 99-93, on required reports on Operation, Maintenance, Security, Alteration, Repair of Foreign Service facilities. Repeals Section 203 (c), P.L. 99-529, on required reports on military training and other nonlethal assistance for Haiti. Repeals Sections 5 and 6, P.L. 96-236; 7 U.S.C. 3605 and 3606, on required reports on implementation of the sugar agreement. Repeals Section 514, P.L. 97-121, the Foreign Assistance and Related Programs Appropriations Act, a one time report on appropriations. Repeals Section 209 (c) and (d), P.L. 100-204, on required reports on audience survey of Worldnet program and notification of selected surveyor. Repeals Section 228 (b), P.L. 102-138; 22 USC 2452 note, on required reports on Near and Middle East research and training.

The conference substitute (sec. 1219) is similar to the Senate amendment and eliminates seven reports and modifies two reporting requirements. The provision does not repeal Section 502(b) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2304(b)) and Section 514 of the Foreign Assistance and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 1982 (PL 97-121).

USE OF CERTAIN PASSPORT PROCESSING FEES FOR ENHANCED PASSPORT SERVICES

The House bill (sec. 1241) requires that thirty percent of the funds generated by the expedited passport fee (estimated to be $18 million in fiscal year 1998) be dedicated exclusively to enhancing passport services for U.S. citizens, improving the system of issuing the passport, developing a more secure document and increasing U.S. border security.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1221) is identical to the House bill.

The Committee of conference is alarmed by recent revelations that the State Department does not maintain a data base on lost or stolen U.S. passport. These U.S. passports are the frequent document of choice for international travel by drug traffickers, other criminals, and terrorists who may target U.S. interests. The timely identification of lost or stolen documents for law enforcement purposes is critical to protecting our national security.

In addition, the committee of conference is aware that on weekends there is no Departmental procedure or mechanism to access the passport issuance records maintained by the Consular Affairs Bureau. The result is that when a foreign law enforcement authority inquires about the status of a person or passport on the weekend, the State Department does not or cannot respond. This is a clear deficiency in border security procedures. The two identified shortcomings limit the U.S. government's responses to foreign police security inquires at airports and often makes it impossible for such authorities to prevent travel by possible criminals and terrorists who may use lost or stolen U.S. travel documents.

The Department shall provide a report within 180 days of enactment on the Department's efforts to rectify weekend access to passport data, and establishing a data base for lost or stolen passports. The committee of conference urges that the Consular Affairs Bureau work expeditiously with the Diplomatic Security Bureau to establish a weekend access program to records now available on U.S. passports.

SURCHARGE FOR PROCESSING CERTAIN MACHINE READABLE VISAS

The House bill (sec. 1207) extends the authority to collect and retain fees collected for the machine readable visa for fiscal years 1998 and 1999. The fees collected are offsetting collections to be used for the costs of the State Department's border security program. The House bill limits fees deposited to $140 million in each fiscal year and fees are subject to appropriation.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1222) is similar to the House bill. The limitation on the deposit of $140 million and requiring that fees be subject to appropriations were both deleted. The provision requires that collections that exceed $140 million will only be available for expenditure subject to Congressional approval of a reprogramming notice that details how the Department intends to spend any fees above $140 million in either fiscal year 1998 or fiscal year 1999. The reprogramming notification will be sent to the Chairmen of the House and Senate authorizing committees and the House and Senate appropriations committees.

CONSULAR OFFICERS

The House bill (sec. 1242) permits U.S. citizen employees abroad who are not consular officers to perform additional consular functions, including the issuance of reports of birth abroad, the authentication of foreign documents, the administration of nationality provisions, and the administration of oaths for patent purposes. This provision is intended to improve the service to the public and to overcome consular staffing shortfalls abroad.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1151) is similar to the House bill except that it also authorizes the Secretary to allow US government contractors to serve as notaries abroad.

The conference substitute (sec. 1223) is similar to the House bill with the inclusion of the Senate provision on notaries.

REPEAL OF OUTDATED CONSULAR RECEIPT REQUIREMENTS

The House bill (sec. 1243) repeals an 1856 Act that required the issuance of a receipt when fees were collected by a consular officer for a service.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1152) is virtually identical.

The conference substitute (sec. 1224) is identical to the House bill.

ELIMINATION OF DUPLICATE FEDERAL REGISTER PUBLICATION FOR TRAVEL ADVISORIES

The House bill (sec. 1244) eliminates a duplicative report on travel advisories. Presently, both the Secretary of Transportation and the Secretary of State publish the same advisories. This section eliminates the need for the Secretary of State to publish this advisory.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1153) is virtually identical.

The conference substitute (sec. 1225) is the same as the Senate amendment.

DENIAL OF VISAS TO ALIENS WHO HAVE CONFISCATED PROPERTY CLAIMED BY NATIONALS OF THE UNITED STATES

The Senate amendment (sec. 1155) would provide the Secretary of State with discretion to deny the issuance of a visa to any alien who has confiscated or has directed or overseen the confiscation or expropriation of property claimed by a United States national, or converts or has converted for personal gain confiscated or expropriated property claimed by a United States national.

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1226) provides the Secretary of State with the authority to deny the issuance of a visa to any alien who, through the abuse of position, including a position of governmental or political party position, converts or has converted for personal gain real property that has been confiscated or expropriated, a claim to which is held by a United States national, or who is complicit in such conversions, or who induces any such actions or omissions.

The committee of conference consulted closely with the Department of State in fashioning a provision that is acceptable to both sides. The committee of conference intends that this section provides the Secretary of State with the authority to respond to particularly egregious, unlawful confiscations by foreign governments, especially those confiscations not undertaken for a public purpose but rather for the private gain of certain persons of public position. The committee notes that this provision would cover abuses of governmental or political positions, but there may be rare cases where aliens hold positions of particular social prominence and exercise forms of authority that allow them to take the property of foreign nationals for personal gain.

This section is not intended to apply to the issuance of a visa to aliens involved in a foreign government's legitimate expropriation of property, consistent with international law. Neither is this section intended to affect in any way the broad variety of private commercial disputes in which United States citizens are involved all over the world. Further, this section does not cover the exercise of ministerial functions or legitimate police powers, such as seizures of property used in police and judicial authorities involved in anti-drug programs. While this section supplements the sanctioning authority of Section 527 of the 1994-1995 Foreign Relations Authorization Act (P.L. 103-236, April 30, 1994), it is not meant to revise or otherwise detract from the substantive requirements of that section of law.

INADMISSIBILITY OF ANY ALIEN SUPPORTING AN INTERNATIONAL CHILD ABDUCTOR

The Senate amendment (sec. 1156) denies visas to aliens or family members of such aliens who assist in the abducting of children.

The House bill has no similar provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1227) is similar to the Senate amendment with technical changes.

HAITI; REPORTS AND EXCLUSION OF CERTAIN ALIENS

The Senate amendment (sec. 1607) requires a report to Congress on the deployment of United States armed forces, and the costs thereof, in Haiti. The Senate amendment (sec. 1614) makes findings regarding political killings in Haiti and requires the exclusion from the United States of any alien credibly alleged to have been involved in such political killings or in the September 1991 coup d'etat or related violence against Haitians. This exclusion provision is subject to an exemption by the Secretary of State on a case-by-case basis, under specific conditions.

The House bill has no similar provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1228) combines and modifies Senate sections 1607 and 1614. This section clarifies the subjects of the report to Congress. For the purposes of the report, activities "in Haiti" shall apply to those activities in the territory of the Republic of Haiti, including its territorial waters; and "cost of deployments of United States Armed Forces" shall include, inter alia, any extraordinary United States Coast Guard operations initiated to control smuggling to and from Haiti.

Regarding the exclusion of aliens, the conference substitute incorporates several technical amendments requested by the Department of State; however, it does not include language that the Department requested that would have broadened the Secretary's exemption to include "compelling foreign policy" reasons.

MIGRATION AND REFUGEE ASSISTANCE

The House bill (sec. 1104) authorizes $623,000,000 for each of the fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for Migration and Refugee Assistance. Of this amount, $1,000,000 is authorized for each fiscal year 1998 and 1999 for Tibetan refugees in India. This section authorizes an additional $80,000,000 for each of the fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for the resettlement of refugees in Israel; and $1,500,000 for each of the fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for displaced Burmese. The total amount available for refugee programs for fiscal years '98 and '99 is $704,500,000.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1102) authorizes a total of $650,000,000 for each of the fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for Migration and Refugee Assistance.

The conference substitute (sec. 1231) authorizes $650,000,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $704,500,000 for fiscal year 1999 for Migration and Refugee Assistance. The total for each fiscal year includes specific authorization of no more than $2 million for the Tibetan refugee program, the resettlement of refugees in Israel and for humanitarian assistance for the displaced Burmese.

UNITED STATES POLICY REGARDING THE INVOLUNTARY RETURN OF REFUGEES

The House bill (sec. 1701) provides that no funds authorized by division B be used for the involuntary return of refugees to countries in which they have a well-founded fear of persecution, except on grounds recognized as precluding refugee protection under the 1951 Convention and the 1967 Protocol. It would not prohibit funding for the return of persons who had been found to be non-refugees by a process genuinely calculated to identify and protect refugees.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1241) is similar to the House bill with a technical change.

US POLICY WITH RESPECT TO THE INVOLUNTARY RETURN OF PERSON IN DANGER OF SUBJECTION TO TORTURE

The House bill (sec. 1702) prohibits the involuntary return of any person to country in which he or she is in serious danger of being subjected to torture.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1606) prohibits the United States from expelling, extraditing, or otherwise effecting the involuntary return of any person to a country in which there are reasonable grounds for believing the person would be in danger of subjection to torture.

The conference substitute (sec. 1242) is similar to the House bill but makes a statement of policy regarding implementation of the Torture Convention. The provision gives the authority to the appropriate federal agencies to promulgate regulations to implement the Convention, subject to the conditions of ratification set by the Senate in its resolution of ratification of the Torture Convention. The conference provision also makes clear that the regulations will be consistent with the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA). The provision agreed to by the conferees does not permit for judicial review of the regulations or of most claims under the Convention. Finally, the Conference provision ensures that the Attorney General is not prevented from detaining any individual under the INA.

REPROGRAMMING OF MIGRATION AND REFUGEE ASSISTANCE FUNDS

The House bill (sec. 1262) provides a waiver of the 15-day notification requirement of the drawdown of funds from the migration and refugee account in the case of an emergency.

The Senate amendment has no similar provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1243) is identical to the House bill.

ELIGIBILITY FOR REFUGEE STATUS

The Senate amendment (Sec. 1624) amends current law to permit the unmarried children of Vietnamese persons who emigrate to the United States under the Orderly Departure Program to also qualify for emigration under the program.

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (Sec. 1244) is identical to the Senate provision.

REPORT TO CONGRESS CONCERNING CUBAN EMIGRATION POLICIES

The House bill (sec. 1261) requires periodic reports on the Cuban Government's methods of enforcing its 1994 and 1995 anti-immigration agreements with the United States, on treatment of persons returned to Cuba under the 1995 agreement, and on the methods used by the United States to monitor such treatment and enforcement.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1245) is similar to the House bill with technical change on the first reporting date.

ORGANIZATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE; PERSONNEL; FOREIGN SERVICE

COORDINATOR FOR COUNTER TERRORISM

The House bill (sec. 1301) establishes the office of the Coordinator for Counter terrorism.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1301) is identical to the House bill.

ELIMINATION OF DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE FOR BURDENSARING

The House bill (sec. 1302) eliminates the statutory requirements for the Assistant Secretary for South Asia, the Assistant Secretary for Oceans, Environment and Science and the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Burden sharing.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1131) eliminates the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Burden sharing.

The conference substitute (sec. 1302) is identical to the Senate amendment.

PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

The House bill (sec. 1303) provides that the official with primary responsibility for matters relating to personnel in the Department of State, or that person's deputy, shall have substantial professional qualifications in the field of human resource policy and management.

The Senate amendment contains no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1303) is similar to the House bill and includes technical changes.

DIPLOMATIC SECURITY OFFICIALS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The House bill (sec. 1304) provides that any Assistant Secretary with primary responsibility for diplomatic security, or that person's principal deputy, shall have substantial professional qualifications in the fields of (1) management and (2) federal law enforcement, intelligence, or security.

The Senate amendment contains no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1304) is similar to the House bill. It modifies the House provision so that any "official" with primary responsibility, rather than any "Assistant Secretary" with such responsibility (or that person's deputy), is required to have the stated qualifications. This provision is intended to apply even if the primary responsibility for diplomatic security is lodged with someone other than an Assistant Secretary.

The committee of conference is concerned that a lack of professional expertise in the areas of security, law enforcement, intelligence, and management at the top often places the Bureau at an operational disadvantage. The head of the Diplomatic Security bureau must contend with the institutional indifference to security matters while keeping abreast of threats and countermeasures. Professionally experienced leadership should help improve the implementation of security standards, oversight of regional security operations, confidence within the executive branch agencies, and advocacy within the State Department for appropriate resources. In short qualified leadership will ensure that the duties assigned to the Diplomatic Security Service are fully executed.

NOMINATION OF UNDER SECRETARIES AND ASSISTANT SECRETARIES

The conference substitute (sec. 1306) added this section to require that the President identify the particular position the Under Secretary or the Assistant Secretary will occupy when the nomination is transmitted to the Senate for confirmation.

FOREIGN SERVICE REFORM

The Senate bill (Sec. 1138): 1) requires that Foreign Service Officers, as Officers commissioned by the President, receive in all such instances their regular salaries based upon rank and service; (2) makes it possible to confer a Presidential award without requiring an accompanying cash payment; and (3) requires the Secretary of State to develop and implement a plan to identify officers who are ranked by promotion boards in the bottom 5% of their class for any two of five years, and recommend such officers for separation from the Foreign Service.

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (Sec. 1311) is similar to the Senate bill but eliminates the requirement regarding regular salaries. The substitute also amends the expedited separation out requirement to add protections where one supervisor has a grudge against an individual he or she is supervising.

RETIREMENT BENEFITS FOR INVOLUNTARY SEPARATION

The House bill (sec. 1326) corrects drafting oversights regarding retirement benefits for the foreign service employees under the "new system" for those who are involuntarily separated. The amendment makes clear that separated members cannot receive both immediate retirement benefits and severance-type payments.

The Senate amendment had no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1312) is identical to the House bill.

AUTHORITY OF SECRETARY TO SEPARATE CONVICTED FELONS FROM SERVICE

The House bill (sec. 1323) excludes individuals who have been convicted of a crime for which a sentence of imprisonment of greater than one year may be imposed from the right to have the cause for their separation established in a hearing before the Foreign Service Grievance Board.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1313) is identical to the House bill. The committee of conference believes that because of the special trust placed in members of the Foreign Service, in the case of an individual who has been convicted of a felony and where the Secretary has determined that the individual be separated for cause, the due process rights of the individual will have been sufficiently protected by the processes of the criminal justice system, and the individual in question may be separated without the need for a hearing before the Grievance Board.

CAREER COUNSELING

The House bill (sec. 1324) provides that the statutory authority permitting career counseling and related job placement services that may be provided to employees prior to their separation from the Foreign Service shall not be construed to permit an assignment that consists primarily of paid time to conduct a job search and without other substantive duties. This limitation would not have applied to individuals being separated from the Foreign Service and who are both (a) not receiving an immediate annuity, and (b) have not been stationed in the United States within one year prior to their separation.

The Senate amendment contains no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1314) modifies the House provision to prohibit any member of the foreign service to be assigned to more than one month of paid time, free of other substantive duties, to undertake a job search. This limitation does not apply to the one month "job search seminar" currently offered to certain departing employees. The Committee of conference does not intend to create an entitlement to either program. The Administration may further limit or eliminate the program.

As in the House bill, the effective date of this new provision is delayed for 180 days so as not to disadvantage individuals who had relied on the earlier policies of the Administration.

LIMITATIONS ON MANAGEMENT ASSIGNMENTS

The House bill (sec. 1328) amends section 1017(e) of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 to modify the definition of "management official" to include only those individuals involved in labor-management relations or personnel programs. Section 1017 was previously amended to restrict the movement of Foreign Service personnel between certain positions in labor organizations and management positions in the Foreign Affairs agencies in order to prevent conflicts of interests from arising. This provision is intended to continue to protect against conflicts of interest, but narrows the application of the two-year prohibition to individuals who take management jobs subsequent to serving in a position with the American Foreign Service Association and vice versa.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1141) is identical to the House bill.

The conference substitute (sec. 1315) is the same as the Senate amendment.

AVAILABILITY PAY FOR THE DIPLOMATIC SECURITY SERVICE

The House bill (sec. 1327) extends eligibility for law enforcement availability pay (LEAP) to certain agents with the Department of State's Diplomatic Security Service. The House intended to provide LEAP to certain individuals (1) whose "primary" duties consist of "performing" protective functions or criminal investigations or both, and (2) who actually worked the required hours.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1139) is similar to the House bill but it does not contain either of the two conditions set out above.

The conference substitute (sec. 1316) is similar to the House bill. It deletes condition (1) and retains condition (2) of the House bill.

NON OVERTIME DIFFERENTIAL PAY

The House bill (sec. 1322) allows the Secretary of State to substitute another day in lieu of Sunday for purposes of Sunday premium pay in countries where the normal workweek includes Sunday.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1134) is virtually identical to the House bill.

The conference substitute (sec. 1317) is identical to the House bill.

REPORT CONCERNING MINORITIES AND THE FOREIGN SERVICE

The House bill (sec. 1325) requires the Secretary of State to submit an annual report concerning minorities in the Foreign Service.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1318) is similar to the House bill with two modifications: (1) it requires a report only for calendar years 1998 and 1999; and (2) it deletes the redundant requirement to provide the numbers and percentages of all minorities in the Foreign Service.

AUTHORITIES AND ACTIVITIES FOR UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY

AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS

The House bill (sec. 1106) authorizes a total of $1,112,928,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $1,102,928,000 for 1999 for the U.S. Information Agency.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1301) authorizes a total of $1,093,120,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $1,083,410,000 for 1999 for the U.S. Information Agency.

The conference substitute (sec. 1401) authorizes a total of $1,116,300,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $1,115,363,000 for 1999 for the U.S. Information Agency. The conference report includes the following subauthorizations:

(1) Vietnam Fulbright exchange programs: $5,000,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $5,000,000 for fiscal year 1999.

(2) South Pacific exchanges programs: $500,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $500,000 for fiscal year 1999.

(3) East Timorese Scholarships: $500,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $500,000 for fiscal year 1999.

(4) Tibetan Exchanges: $500,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $500,000 for fiscal year 1999.

Vietnam Fulbright Authorization. The Senate bill (section 1301 (b)) authorizes to be appropriated $5,000,000 in each of the fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for the Vietnam Fulbright Program established by Section 229 of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1992 and 1993 (PL 102-138).

The House bill contains no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1401(3)(A) (ii)) is identical to the Senate provision.

This program was first authorized at an annual level of $3 million in fiscal year 1994 and was funded at $2.7 million in fiscal year 1997. The increase in authorization will provide for an increase in the number of scholarships given to Vietnamese candidates to study in the United States and an expansion of the teaching program in Vietnam including the curricula and the number of American teachers and Vietnamese students.

The conferees remain deeply concerned about the current lack of political and religious freedom in Vietnam. However, the conferees believe that exchange programs of this nature, which provide educational opportunities and exposure to American institutions and values, can be important tools in hastening the transition of countries like Vietnam into free and open societies. The conferees understand that the Vietnamese Government does not select the participants in this program and that any Vietnamese citizen can apply for admission to this program. The conferees expect USIA to continue to ensure that opportunities to participate in the program are made available to all qualified applicants and to administer this program under the guidelines set out in Section 102 of the Human Rights, Refugee, and Other Foreign Provisions Act of 1996 (PL 104-319).

The success of the Vietnam Fulbright Program and similar programs in like countries will be marked by the extent of progress toward freedom and democracy. The conferees will continue to monitor this program to evaluate its impact on such progress.

Women's World Cup Soccer. The committee of conference is pleased to note that the 1999 Women's World Cup soccer event will take place in the United States. The committee of conference recognizes that the U.S. Information Agency has provided support for similar events in the past since such competitions offer opportunities to advance the public diplomacy goals of the United States. Accordingly, the committee of conference urges the U.S. Information Agency to provide appropriate support within available resources for exchange-related activities associated with the World Cup.

National Endowment for Democracy. The Senate amendment (sec. 1302) authorizes $30,000,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $30,000,000 for fiscal year 1999 to carry out the National Endowment for Democracy Act. The section prescribes in law current National Endowment for Democracy (NED) practice, that 55 percent of funding will be divided equally between the four major NED grantees: the International Republican Institute (IRI), the National Democratic Institute (NDI), the Free Trade Union Institute (FTUI), and the Center for International Private Enterprise.

The House bill (sec. 1106(9)) authorizes $30,000,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $30,000,000 for fiscal year 1999 to carry out the National Endowment for Democracy Act.

The conference substitute (sec. 1401(9)) is identical to the House bill.

RETENTION OF INTEREST

The House bill (sec. 1402) authorizes grantees of the National Endowment of Democracy to deposit their grant money in interest bearing accounts and to use the interest for the purposes of the grant.

The Senate bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1411) is identical to the House bill.

USE OF SELECTED PROGRAM FEES

The House bill (sec. 1404) expands the United States Information Agency's existing fee retention authority.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1311) is virtually identical.

The conference substitute (sec. 1412) is similar to the Senate amendment, with technical changes to fully rewrite the section of law amended by the section.

MUSKIE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

The House bill (sec. 1405) expands the fields of study covered by the Muskie Fellowship Exchange Program which operates in the former Soviet Union, Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia. In addition, the provision replaces the term "Soviet Union" in the statute with "Independent States of the Former Soviet Union."

The Senate amendment (sec. 1313) is nearly identical to the House bill.

The conference substitute (sec. 1413) is identical to the House bill.

WORKING GROUP ON UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SPONSORED INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGES AND TRAINING

The House bill (sec. 1406) establishes an interagency working group on international exchanges and training to improve the coordination, efficiency and effectiveness of US government sponsored exchange programs.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1317) is similar to the House bill.

EDUCATIONAL/CULTURAL EXCHANGES AND SCHOLARSHIPS FOR TIBETANS AND BURMESE

The House bill (sec. 1407) requires USIA to provide 30 scholarships for Tibetans and 15 scholarships for Burmese. It also requires USIA to establish exchange programs for Tibetans and Burmese.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1415) is similar to the House bill. The provision was redrafted to amend current law (Section 103(b)(1) of PL 104-319) to extend the Tibet and Burmese scholarship program for fiscal years 1998 and 1999. In addition, section 1732 of the House bill was incorporated into this section which provides for participants from Tibet to be active in the preservation of Tibet's culture, religion and language.

UNITED STATES-JAPAN COMMISSION

The House bill (sec. 1408) amends the United States-Japan Friendship Act (PL 94-118) to permit the Commission to invest the trust fund in either Japan or US Government securities.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1618) is virtually identical.

The conference substitute (sec. 1416) is identical to the House bill.

SURROGATE BROADCASTING STUDY

The House bill (sec. 1409) requires the USIA to conduct studies on the feasibility of providing surrogate broadcasting service to Africa and Iran.

The Senate has no comparable amendment.

The conference substitute (sec. 1417) is similar to the House bill but eliminates the study regarding Iran.

RADIO BROADCASTING TO IRAN

The Senate amendment (sec. 1315) provides $2 million of the grant funds designated for Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty to be available for broadcasting to Iran. It also requires a report on how this new surrogate broadcasting service will be implemented.

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1418) is identical to the Senate amendment.

AUTHORITY TO ADMINISTER SUMMER TRAVEL AND WORK PROGRAMS

The House bill (sec. 1410) authorizes the Director of USIA to administer the summer travel/work program without regard to the pre-placement requirements of the "J" visa.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1319) is virtually identical.

The conference substitute (sec. 1419) is identical to the Senate amendment.

PERMANENT ADMINISTRATIVE AUTHORITIES REGARDING APPROPRIATIONS

The House bill (sec. 1411) allows the USIA to transfer among accounts in the second year of a two-year bill and makes this authority permanent. The transfers could exceed the authorized levels, but are subject to limitation. The limitations are that amounts appropriated to the Salaries and Expenses and Exchange Program accounts may not exceed by more than 5% the authorized level. No other appropriation account may exceed by more than 10% the amount authorized.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1312) is similar to the House provision, except that it permits the transfer to occur in either year of a two year authorization and makes the authority permanent.

The conference substitute (sec. 1420) is the same as the House bill.

VOICE OF AMERICA BROADCASTS

The Senate amendment (sec. 1316) requires that the Voice of America devote programming time each day to broadcasting information on the individual States of the United States. The broadcasts are to include information on the products, cultural and educational facilities, and trade opportunities.

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1421) is the same as the Senate amendment. The committee of conference notes that the House Report (105-94) discussed this issue in support of expanding VOA programming to incorporate specific interests of the states and territories. Such programming is in keeping with U.S. international broadcasting standards and principles.

RESTRICTIONS RELATING TO INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL TRIBUNAL

The Senate amendment (sec. 1211) requires that any participation of the United States in an international criminal court is subject to the advise and consent of the Senate and statutory implementing legislation.

The House bill has no similar provision. The conference substitute (sec. 1502) is similar to the Senate bill but clarifies the definition of membership and jurisdiction under such a court. The provision also makes clear that nothing in the section would prohibit the sharing of information, expertise, or other such assistance with such a court prior to Congressional approval. Finally, the conference substitute makes clear that this provision does not apply to the existing Rwanda and Former Yugoslavia war crimes tribunals.

MEMBERSHIP IN THE INTER-PARLIAMENTARY UNION

The Senate bill (Sec. 1213) requires either a cap of $500,000 on U.S. payments to the Inter-Parliamentary Union (IPU) or withdrawal by the United States. The fund also requires that funds allocated for travel by Members of Congress be returned to the State Department.

The House bill has no similar provision. The conference substitute (Sec. 1503) makes technical and conforming amendments to the Senate provision. The provision has the same effect of capping U.S. payments at $500,000 or requiring withdrawal so that the United States will not accumulate arrears to the IPU. The provision also makes conforming amendments to delete the permanent appropriation for travel by Members of Congress. Unobligated balances in this account shall be transferred to the U.S. Treasury following enactment of this Act. This provision was requested by the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives due to a lack of Congressional interest during the last decade. The Secretary of the Senate has indicated that interested Members of Congress can still travel under Leadership authorization and use State Department 502b funds.

SERVICE IN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

The House bill (sec. 1501) repeals a provision in the Federal Employees International Organizations Services Act which entitles a Federal employee after terminating his/her service with an international organization and reentering the federal service, the difference between (a) the salary, allowance, post adjustment and other monetary benefits actually paid to him/her by the international organization and (b) salary/benefits that he/she would have received had he/she been detailed to the international organization but paid by the U.S. Government.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1504) is similar to the House bill with technical changes.

REPORTS REGARDING FOREIGN TRAVEL

The Senate amendment (sec. 1214) requires any officer or employee of United States Executive agencies attending any international conference or engaging in any other foreign travel to submit a report to the Director of the Office of International Conferences of the Department of State stating the purpose, duration and estimated cost of the travel. The requirement does not apply to the President, the Vice President, or any person traveling on a delegation led by the President or Vice President, or any officer or employee of the Executive Office of the President, or the foreign travel of officers or employees of United States Executive agencies who are carrying out intelligence or intelligence-related activities, or law enforcement activities, or the deployment of members of the Armed forces of the United States or U.S. Government officials engaged in sensitive diplomatic missions.

The House bill has no similar provision. The conference substitute (sec. 1505) is similar to the Senate amendment but makes changes to limit the application of the reporting requirement to travel to and from international conferences and meetings. The exception to this reporting requirement is narrowed to apply only to the President or Vice President (not their staffs), and officers or employees engaged in protective functions, intelligence activities, or sensitive diplomatic missions. For all other travel, the substitute requires the President to submit a report detailing the cost of and number of persons engaged in international travel.

ACDA AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS

The House bill (sec. 1107) authorizes $44,000,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $44,000,000 for fiscal year 1999 for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1501) authorizes $39,000,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $0 for fiscal year 1999 for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

The conference substitute (sec. 1601) authorizes $41,500,000 for fiscal year 1998. For fiscal year 1999, $0 is authorized for ACDA. The committee of conference notes that there will be an expected 2-fold increase in fees collected from the Machine Readable Visa which can be used to offset costs for ACDA.

STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION

The Senate bill (sec. 1511) reinstates a clarification contained in the Arms Control and Disarmament Act removed in the 102nd Congress. This section makes clear that the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency cannot authorize policies which would interfere with the use of firearms by an individual for the lawful purpose of personal defense, sport, recreation education or training.

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1602) is identical to the Senate amendment.

TITLE XVIII—EUROPEAN SECURITY ACT

The House bill (sec. 3201-3207), includes the "European Security Act of 1998" which contains various provisions relating to security relations with Europe and Russia, including with respect to NATO enlargement, conventional arms control negotiations in Europe, and ballistic missile defense.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1701-1705) is similar to the House bill with modest changes.

With respect to NATO enlargement, the Act declares, among other things, that Poland, Hungary, and the Czech Republic should not be the last emerging democracies in central and Eastern Europe admitted to NATO. To implement this policy, the Act designates Romania, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, and Bulgaria as eligible to receive assistance under the NATO Participation Act of 1994. This designation gives these countries the same status under U.S. law as currently enjoyed by Poland, Hungary, the Czech Republic, and Slovenia. The Act further declares that NATO enlargement should be carried out in such a manner as to underscore the Alliance's defensive nature and demonstrate to Russia that NATO enlargement will enhance the security of all countries in Europe, including Russia.

With respect to conventional arms control, the Act declares that no revisions to the Conventional Armed Forces in Europe Treaty will be approved for entry into force with respect to the United States that jeopardize fundamental United States security interests in Europe or the effectiveness of NATO as a defensive alliance by, for example, extending rights or imposing responsibilities on new NATO members different from those applicable to current NATO members, or by limiting the ability of NATO to defend the territory of new NATO members.

With respect to ballistic missile defense, the Act declares that as the United States proceeds with efforts to develop defenses against ballistic missile attack, it should seek to foster a climate of cooperation with Russia on matters related to missile defense. In particular, the United States and its NATO allies should seek to cooperate with Russia in such areas as early warning.

To implement this policy, the Act provides that no agreement establishing a demarcation between theater and strategic missile defense systems may enter into force with respect to the United States without the advice and consent of the Senate pursuant to Article II, section 2, clause 2 of the Constitution. The purpose of this restriction is to prevent the Administration from implementing such an agreement on its own on the theory that Congress has "preauthorized" the implementation of such an agreement in prior legislation.

The Act further implements this policy regarding ballistic missile defense by requiring the submission of a report on cooperative ballistic missile defense efforts with Russia, including in the area of early warning, not later than July 1, 1998, July 1, 1999, and July 1, 2000. This report shall include, among other matters, a discussion of the status of any dialogue with Russia aimed at exploring the potential for mutual accommodation of outstanding issues between the two countries arising under the ABM Treaty.

REPORTS ON CLAIMS BY U.S. FIRMS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT OF SAUDI ARABIA

The House bill (sec. 1703) requires a report every 120 days on the progress in resolving the commercial disputes between US firms and the Government of Saudi Arabia.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1802) is similar to the House language, although it does not amend the permanent law but applies through September 30, 1999. The conference substitute also clarifies that the reports shall not identify the names of entities under review pursuant to Title IV of the LIBERTAD Act.

The House bill (sec. 1710) requires periodic reports on the compliance of the signatories to the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction.

ECUMENICAL PATRIARCHATE BY THE GOVERNMENT OF TURKEY

The House bill (sec. 1711) expresses a sense of Congress that the US should recognize the Ecumenical Patriarchate, located in Istanbul, Turkey as the spiritual center for more than 300 million Orthodox Christians worldwide.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1804) is the same as the House bill, except that the reference to the US using its influence as a permanent member of the UN Security Council was deleted.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1806) is identical to the House bill.

REPORT ON AN ALLIANCE AGAINST NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE

The Senate amendment (section 1608(a)) expresses the sense of the Congress that the President should discuss with the democratically-elected Western Hemisphere governments, during the President's trips in the region in 1997 and through other consultations, the prospect of forming a multilateral alliance to address drug trafficking. In such consultations, the President should seek such governments' input on the possibility of forming alliance structures to (1) develop a regional, multilateral strategy to address the drug trafficking threat; and (2) establish a new mechanism for improving multilateral coordination of drug interdiction and drug-related law enforcement activities in the Western Hemisphere.

The House bill has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (section 1807) is the same as the Senate amendment with technical changes.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1809) is the same as the House bill.

LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE TO COUNTRIES AIDING CUBA NUCLEAR DEVELOPMENT

The House bill (sec. 1801) prohibits assistance to countries aiding Cuba's nuclear programs.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1810) is the same as the House bill.

INTERNATIONAL FUND FOR IRELAND

The House bill (sec. 1737) amends the Anglo-Irish Agreement Support Act of 1986 (P.L. 99-415) to strongly recommend that U.S. contributions "shall" be used in a manner that effectively increases employment opportunities in communities with rates of unemployment "significantly" higher than the local or urban average of unemployment in Northern Ireland (defined as the counties of Antrim, Armagh, Derry, Down, Tyrone, and Fermanagh).

Funding should be provided by the IFI only if individuals or entities receiving such funds are in compliance with the "principles of economic justice." The principles of economic justice are defined as the "MacBride Principles" as modified, include:

(1) Increasing the representation of individuals, from under represented religious groups in the workforce, including managerial, supervisory, administrative, clerical, and technical jobs,

(2) Providing adequate security for the protection of minority employees at the workplace,

(3) Banning provocative sectarian or political emblems from the workplace,

(4) Providing that all job openings be advertised publicly and providing that special recruitment efforts be made to attract applicants from under represented religious groups,

(5) Providing that layoff, recall and termination procedures do not favor a particular religious group,

(6) Abolishing job reservations, apprenticeship restrictions and differential employment criteria which discriminate on the basis of religion,

(7) Providing for the development of training programs that will prepare substantial numbers of minority employees for skilled jobs, including the expansion of existing programs and the creation of new programs to train, upgrade and improve the skills of minority employees,

(8) Establishing procedures to assess, identify and actively recruit minority employees with the potential for further advancement, and

(9) Proving for the appointment of a senior management staff member to be responsible for the employment efforts of the entity and, within a reasonable period of time, the implementation of the principles described above.

The section also includes the principles of economic justice to insure that these principles should be applied by those individuals or entities who receive any portion of the U.S. contribution to the International Fund for Ireland.

In addition a new provision was added to insure nothing shall require quotas or reverse discrimination, which is consistent with the intent and purpose of the MacBride principles.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1811) is similar to the House bill except the mandatory requirement that the US contributions shall be used in a manner that effectively increases employment opportunities in communities with rates of unemployment "significantly" higher than the local or urban average of unemployment in Northern Ireland (defined as the counties of Antrim, Armagh, Derry, Down, Tyrone, and Fermanagh) is changed to "should".

US POLICY WITH RESPECT TO JERUSALEM AS THE CAPITAL OF ISRAEL

The House bill (sec. 1709) contains four provisions which together reaffirm and strengthen U.S. policy as reflected in the Jerusalem Embassy Act of 1995 (P.L. 104-45) that Jerusalem should remain the undivided capital of Israel.

The Senate amendment (sec. 1603) similar to the House bill.

The conference substitute sec. 1812(a) authorizes the appropriation of $25,000,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $75,000,000 for fiscal year 1999 for the construction of a U.S. Embassy in Jerusalem. This subsection restates and updates the Jerusalem Embassy Act of 1995 (P.L. 104-45). It reiterates Congressional intent concerning the establishment of the U.S. Embassy in Jerusalem, Israel, no later than May 31, 1999.

Subsection (b) urges the President to correct the current anomalous situation in which the United States Ambassador to Israel, currently resident in Tel Aviv, does not supervise all U.S. diplomatic and consular activities in the State of Israel, and particularly, does not supervise the Consul General and consular personnel in Jerusalem, Israel.

Subsection (c) requires new public documents to describe Jerusalem as Israel's capital as a prerequisite for funding under the bill. This requirement follows State Department practice in such publications as the "Background Notes" for Israel.

Subsection (d) requires that for purposes of registration of birth, certification of nationality, or issuance of a passport, that the Secretary of State, upon the request of a U.S. citizen born in Jerusalem, record the place of birth as Israel. The section does not constitute a requirement that U.S. citizens born in Jerusalem have Israel recorded as their place of birth.

A reporting requirement pertaining to subsection (a) is required by P.L. 104-45. The committee of conference recommends that that report also include information pertaining to subsections (b), (c), and (d). Accordingly, the commitment to implement subsection (b) should be detailed, the new public documents referred to in subsection (c) should be included with the report, and the Department of State should indicate the steps taken to inform U.S. citizens born in Jerusalem of the option they may exercise in seeking implementation of subsection (d). The Department of State should also include the number of citizens requesting the change permitted by subsection (d).

SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION IN IRAQ

The conference substitute (sec. 1813) adds a new section on Iraq. The committee of conference notes that bringing Saddam Hussein and other Iraqi officials to justice for war crimes has been a stated goal of President Clinton's administration since 1993. Legislation encouraging the Administration to pursue this course has passed the House (H. Con. Res. 137) and is pending in the Senate (S. Con. Res. 78). Secretary of State Albright's statement of February 26, 1998 is noted: "We look forward to working effectively with them in the future." The overt support for political activities and broadcasting by opposition forces can have a significant impact inside Iraq. In addition, the committee of conference notes that disparate Kurdish, Shiite, and Sunni groups have in the past been willing to set aside their differences and unite under the umbrella of the Iraqi National Congress (INC) to effectively challenge Saddam Hussein. The committee of conference recommends supporting efforts to reunite these disparate groups under a unified umbrella, whether it be the INC or another opposition group, to present a solid, pro-democracy, Iraqi front against Saddam Hussein. The Administration is expected to work closely with the Committee on Foreign Relations and the Committee on International Relations in the development of the program, including the selection of grantees.

DEVELOPMENT OF DEMOCRACY IN SERBIA

The House bill (sec. 1713) expresses a sense of Congress regarding the various methods and actions that can be taken to support the development of democracy in the Republic of Serbia. The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1814) is similar to the House bill with modifications to consolidate the findings.

CUBA ASSISTANCE

The House bill (sec. 1901) makes $2 million available for democracy programs in Cuba under chapter 4 part II of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961.

The Senate amendment has no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1815) is the same as the House bill.

FOREIGN ORGANIZATIONS THAT PERFORM OR PROMOTE ABORTION; FORCED ABORTION IN CHINA

The House bill (sec. 2101)

The Senate amendment had no comparable provision.

The conference substitute (sec. 1816) combines House bill sections 2101 and 2102. Section 2101 concerns U.S. population assistance to foreign organizations that perform or promote abortions. Section 2102 concerns UN Population Fund (UNFPA) activities in the People's Republic of China in relation to forced abortions carried out in connection with the Chinese government's population program.

The conference substitute prohibits, inter alia, population assistance to foreign organizations that "engage in any activity or effort to alter the laws or governmental policies of any foreign country concerning the circumstances under which abortion is permitted, regulated, or prohibited." Such practices include not only overt lobbying for such changes, but also such other activities as sponsoring, rather than merely attending, conferences and workshops on the alleged defects of the abortion laws, as well the drafting and distribution of materials or public statements calling attention to such alleged defects.

DIVISION C—UNITED NATIONS REFORM GENERAL PROVISIONS

Short title

The House bill has no similar section.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2001) names this division the "United Nations Reform Act of 1997."

The conference substitute (Sec. 2001) is identical to the Senate bill.

DEFINITIONS

The House bill has no similar section.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2002) defines the terms: appropriate congressional committee, designated specialized agency, secretary general, United Nations member, United Nations peacekeeping operation.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2002) is nearly identical to the Senate bill.

NONDELEGATION OF CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

The House bill has no similar section.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2003) expresses that the Secretary of State may not delegate the authority in this chapter to make any certification.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2003) is identical to the Senate bill.

TITLE XXI—AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS

ASSESSED CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE UNITED NATIONS AND AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS.

The House bill (Sec. 1102) provides for $960,389,000 in fiscal year 1998 and $987,590,000 in fiscal year 1999 for assessed contributions to the United Nations and affiliated organizations.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2101) provides for $938,000,000 in fiscal year 1998 and $900,000,000 in fiscal year 1999 for assessed contributions to the United Nations and affiliated organizations, subject to certifications and conditions enumerated below.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2101) provides $901,000,000 for fiscal year 1998 and $900,000,000 for fiscal year 1999.

NO GROWTH BUDGET

The House bill has no similar provision.

Of the funds authorized, the Senate bill (Sec. 2101) makes available in fiscal years 1998 and 1999, $80,000,000 on a semi-annual basis only when the Secretary of State certifies to the Congress that no action has been taken by the United Nations to increase the United Nations 1998-99 budget of $2,533,000,000 during that period without finding an offset elsewhere in the United Nations budget during that period.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2101) amends the certification for a no growth budget to become an annual rather than a semi-annual certification

INSPECTOR GENERAL

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2101) withholds 20 percent of the funds made available for the United Nations until the Secretary of State certifies that the Office of Internal Oversight Services (OIOS) continues to function as an independent inspector general. This section requires the Director of the OIOS to report directly to the Secretary General on the adequacy of his resources and to notify in writing each program, project, or activity funded by the United Nations that it has the authority to audit, inspect, or investigate it.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2101) makes several technical and conforming amendments to the inspector general requirements of the Senate bill. This section requires that all reports completed by the Office of Internal Oversight Service, including audit, investigation, inspection, and evaluation reports, are made available to the United Nations members states, regardless of whether or not these reports are provided to the Secretary General.

PROHIBITION ON CERTAIN U.N. GLOBAL CONFERENCES

The House bill has no similar provision. The Senate bill (Sec. 2101) prohibits U.S. funding of U.N. global conferences.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2101) is nearly identical to the Senate bill, except that it exempts conferences that were approved by the United Nations prior to enactment of the Act. The Conferees agree that the U.N. Global Conferences referred to in this section are those organized on a one-time basis with universal participation to address a single subject, such as the environment or population, outside of the normal course of regularly scheduled deliberations by existing U.N. bodies. For example, this section would have applied to the Rio Earth Summit, the Beijing Women's Conference, or the Habitat Conference. Should the U.N. schedule a conference of this kind, the U.S. will not fund such a conference nor any arrears related to such a conference. This section does not include conferences directed to the achievement of a binding international agreement, or other legal instrument, on a particular matter (such as, the negotiation on the control and elimination of anti-personnel land mines in the U.N. Conference on anti-personnel land mines in the U.N. Conference on Conventional Weapons and the U.N. Conference on Disarmament).

REDUCTION IN THE NUMBER OF POSTS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2101) requires annual withholding of $50,000,000 until the Secretary of State certifies that in fiscal year 1998 that 1,000 authorized posts have been suppressed at the United Nations, and that in fiscal year 1999 the United Nations is maintaining a vacancy rate of at least five percent for professional staff and 2.5 percent for general services staff. Both policies have been presented by Secretary General Kofi Annan as part of the 1998-99 budget for the United Nations.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2101) makes several technical and conforming amendments to the post reduction requirements of the Senate bill. The Conferees note the Secretary General's intention to abolish 1,000 posts, and understand that this reform represents the deletion of 1,000 posts that will not be filled. The Conferees intend that the transfer of posts due to changes in UN budget methodology, or for any other purpose, must not be counted toward the 1,000 post suppression required by this section. For example, posts from the jointly-financed activities which still exist, but are deleted from the UN staffing table because of the use of net budgeting, would not be included in the 1,000 post suppression.

PROHIBITION ON FUNDING ORGANIZATIONS OTHER THAN THE UNITED NATIONS FROM THE UNITED NATIONS REGULAR BUDGET

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2101) requires the Secretary of State to certify that no United States contributions have been used to fund other international organizations out of the United Nations regular budget. This certification is not intended to refer to the U.N. giving grants or payments to other organizations.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2101) makes several technical and conforming amendments to the prohibition on funding of other organizations in the Senate bill. The Conferees clarified that no portion of the U.S. contribution to the United Nations regular budget should be used to fund the operating costs of another organization, which has been established through a framework treaty. Such organizations are those established under separate treaties of a framework nature, composed only of parties to the treaties, having their own secretariats. This term does not include U.N. human rights treaty bodies. Should any such framework treaty organization be funded out of the regular budget, the provision will require that the U.S. withhold from its U.S. assessment to the U.N. budget the U.S. share of the amount budgeted for such organizations.

LIMITATION ON U.S. ASSESSED CONTRIBUTIONS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2101) caps the amount authorized in assessed contributions to international organizations at $901,000,000 for fiscal years 1999 and 2000. Additional authorization is required to exceed this amount.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2101) is identical to the Senate bill.

REFUND OF EXCESS CONTRIBUTIONS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2101) requires that the United States continue to press its policy that the organizations in this account should have procedures in place to return excess contributions to member states when contributions exceed expenditures.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2101) is identical to the Senate bill.

ASSESSED CONTRIBUTIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACEKEEPING ACTIVITIES

The House bill (Sec. 1102) authorizes $240 million for fiscal year 1998 and $240 million for fiscal year 1999 for assessed peacekeeping operations and activities.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2103) authorizes $200 million for fiscal year 1998 and $205 million for fiscal year 1999 for assessed peacekeeping operations and activities. This section also consolidates many current reporting requirements regarding international peacekeeping activities.

The Conference substitute (Sec. 2102) authorizes $210 million for fiscal year 1998 and $220 million for fiscal year 1999 for assessed peacekeeping operations and activities.

CODIFICATION OF REQUIRED NOTICE OF PROPOSED UNITED NATIONS PEACEKEEPING OPERATIONS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2103) consolidates many current reporting requirements regarding international peacekeeping activities.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2102) amends the timing of notification and makes amendments to the funding and troop levels that trigger notification.

TITLE XXII—UNITED NATIONS ACTIVITIES

UNITED NATIONS POLICY ON ISRAEL AND THE PALESTINIANS

The House bill (Sec. 1522) requires reports on efforts to promote full equality at the UN for Israel. Section 1522 expresses a sense of Congress to expand Israel's participation at the United Nations. The Secretary is required to submit a report not later than 90 days after the date of enactment (and on a quarterly basis thereafter) that outlines actions taken by the United States to encourage the Western European and Other Group (WEOG) to accept Israel as a member, and the efforts undertaken by the Secretary General of the United States to secure Israel's participation in that body. The report must include the specific responses of each of the WEOG member states regarding their position concerning Israel's membership as well as other measures either underway or planned to promote Israel's full and equal participation in the United Nations.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2102) provides that it shall be the policy of the United States to assist Israel in gaining acceptance into a United Nations regional bloc. It states further that it shall be the policy of the United States to seek the abolition of the U.N. Special Committee to Investigate Israeli Practices Affecting the Human Rights of the Palestinian People and other Arabs of the Occupied Territories; the U.N.'s Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People; the U.N.'s Division for the Palestinian Rights; and the U.N.'s Division on Public Information on the Question of Palestine. The Secretary of State is required to consult with the appropriate congressional committees on steps taken to these ends, including efforts to bring Israel into the Western European and Others Groups of the U.N.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2201) requires that it be the policy of the United States to assist Israel in gaining acceptance into a United Nations regional bloc. It states further that it shall be the policy of the United States to seek the abolition of the U.N. Special Committee to Investigate Israeli Practices Affecting the Human Rights of the Palestinian People and other Arabs of the Occupied Territories; the U.N.'s Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People; the U.N.'s Division for the Palestinian Rights; and the U.N.'s Division on Public Information on the Question of Palestine. The section requires an annual report on actions taken by the United States to encourage the Western European and Other Group (WEOG) to accept Israel as a member, and the efforts undertaken by the Secretary General of the United States to secure Israel's participation in that body. The conference substitute also requires the Secretary to consult with Congress when submitting the annual report on the specific responses of each of the WEOG member states regarding their position concerning Israel's membership as well as other measures either underway or planned to promote Israel's full and equal participation in the United Nations.

DATA ON COSTS INCURRED IN SUPPORT OF UNITED NATIONS PEACE AND SECURITY OPERATIONS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2104) requires the United States to report annually to the United Nations on the total costs of United Nations peacekeeping activities—including assessed, voluntary and incremental costs—to the United Nations. The section also requires the United States to request that the United Nations prepare and publish a report that compiles similar information for other United Nations member states.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2202) is nearly identical to the Senate bill. The Conferees expect that this comprehensive reporting will quantify all costs to the United States for peacekeeping activities, and enable the Congress to consider those costs in relation to the proposed operation or expansion of an operation prior to action by the United Nations Security Council.

REIMBURSEMENT FOR GOODS AND SERVICES PROVIDED BY THE UNITED STATES TO THE UNITED NATIONS

The House bill contains no similar provision.

The Senate bill (section 2105) requires that the United States seek and receive reimbursement for any assistance, including personnel, services, supplies, equipment, and facilities, to the United Nations, United Nations assessed peacekeeping operations, and bilateral assistance designed to assist that country to participate in the peacekeeping operation.

The Senate bill is prospective in its application and permits the President to waive the provision if he determines that an important national interest exists. However, such a waiver is subject both to notification requirements of section 634A of the Foreign Assistance Act and a joint resolution of disapproval by Congress if Congress disapproves of the President's determination.

The Senate bill also exempts direct assistance for U.S. military personnel. The Administration requested this provision, and understands that it is designed only to allow for incidental costs in support of U.S. troops such as extra blankets, latrines, or other similar services that the U.N. does not ordinarily supply for troops carrying out a U.N. peacekeeping operation.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2203) makes several changes but, like the Senate provision, is intended to ensure that the U.S. Government is reimbursed by the U.N. in a timely manner for military assistance it provides in support of the U.N. or U.N. peacekeeping operations, whether this assistance is provided to the U.N. or to another country participating in such an operation. The conference substitute makes clear that this provision is not intended to apply to civilian police monitors, which are funded individually by the nation contributing monitors.

As drafted, the conferees believe that this section does not impede the President in his ability to use any constitutional authority to provide assistance at any time. The conference substitute exempts the deployment of United States troops by the President from the requirement of reprogramming procedures under section 634A of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961. As written, this section does not affect the President's constitutional authority as Commander-in-Chief. Nothing in this section shall be construed as an authorization of the use of force.

UNITED STATES POLICY REGARDING UNITED NATIONS PEACEKEEPING MISSIONS

The House bill has no similar section.

The Senate bill (section 2107) makes clear that the policy of the United States is to limit the size and scope of United Nations peacekeeping missions. It is not the policy of the United States to support major U.N. peacekeeping operations such as the United Nations Protection Force (UNPROFOR) in the former Yugoslavia. Smaller peacekeeping missions should be considered on a case by case basis (with full consultation with Congress as required in section 2102 of this Act).

The conference substitute (Sec. 2204) is nearly identical to section 2107 of the Senate bill and also consolidates section 2106 of the Senate bill into this provision. Thus, this section also makes clear that the stated policy of the United States is not to fund peacekeeping activities out of the regular budget unless the President determines and notifies Congress that an important national security interest exists.

The Conferees expect that a clear statement of this policy will save United States taxpayers millions of dollars as it limits the scope and mandate of United Nations peacekeeping missions.

REFORM IN BUDGET DECISION-MAKING PROCEDURES OF THE UNITED NATIONS AND SPECIALIZED AGENCIES

The House bill (Sec. 1521) extends current law allowing the President to withhold 20 percent of appropriated funds for the U.N. or any of its specialized agencies if the U.N. or the agency fails to implement consensus-based budget decision making procedures. The President is directed to notify Congress of any decisions to withhold the U.S. share of an assessed contribution to the United Nations.

The Senate bill has no similar provision.

The conference substitute is nearly identical to the House bill.

CONTINUED EXTENSION OF PRIVILEGES, EXEMPTIONS, AND IMMUNITIES OF THE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS IMMUNITIES ACT TO UNIDO

The House bill (Sec. 1524) extends U.S. privileges and immunities to the United Nations Industrial Development Organization consistent with longstanding U.S. policy regarding U.S. withdrawal from multilateral organizations.

The Senate bill has no similar provision.

The conference substitute is identical to the House bill.

SENSE OF THE CONGRESS REGARDING COMPLIANCE WITH CHILD AND SPOUSAL SUPPORT OBLIGATIONS BY UNITED NATIONS PERSONNEL

The House bill (Sec. 1728) urges the Secretary of State to fully comply with regulations regarding compliance with child and spousal support obligations by United Nations personnel. The House bill also withholds $10 million until the Secretary certifies that the U.N. is enforcing child and spousal support payments, and reforming its pension policy.

The Senate bill has no similar provision.

The conference substitute deletes the withholding requirement but continues to urge that the Secretary of State ensure that the U.N. is enforcing child and spousal support payments.

ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN STATES

The House bill (Sec. 1502) expresses the Sense of the Congress that the Secretary of State should make every effort to pay the United States share of assessed funding levels for the Organization of American States (OAS).

The Senate bill (Sec. 2108) is identical to the House bill.

The conference substitute deletes this provision. The Conferees recognize that the OAS is uniquely important to the United States interests in the Western Hemisphere, especially in the areas of trade, anti-drug trafficking efforts, support for human rights and democracy, and that the OAS is disproportionately supported by the United States contribution of 59 percent. Responding in part to the leadership of the United States, the OAS is continuing broad reforms in its agenda and its budget. The Committee notes that the OAS operating budget has not grown for the past three years. It was the intent of both the Senate and House provisions that the State Department consider these factors when allocating resources to international organizations.

TITLE XXII—ARREARS PAYMENTS AND REFORM

Chapter 1—Arrearage to the United Nations

AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2201) section authorizes $100,000,000 in fiscal year 1998, $475 million in fiscal year 1999, and $244 million in fiscal year 2000 for the repayment of arrears to the United Nations, United Nations peacekeeping activities, United Nations specialized agencies, and other international organizations.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2301) is nearly identical.

DISBURSEMENT OF FUNDS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2202) outlines the manner in which disbursements will be made, and requires that certification of specified reforms be completed prior to any disbursement of funds by the United States. This section also requires a 30 day notification by the Secretary of State to Congress prior to the disbursement of any funds.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2302) is nearly identical, except that it contains a limited waiver of certain conditions. In response to a direct request from the Secretary of State, we agreed to grant the Secretary a very limited waiver authority upon assurances that it would be exercised only if strict conditions are met. We continue to believe that achievement of each of the reforms contained in this plan is essential if the United Nations is to be able to contend with the challenges of the 21st Century. Thus, we expect that all of the conditions required by the legislation will be met and that there will be no need to use the waiver authority.

The bill grants the Secretary of State a very limited authority to waive one of the conditions in each of the second and third years of the U.N. payment plan. This waiver may be exercised only if substantial progress has already been made in meeting the condition proposed to be waived. Further, prior to exercising such a waiver, the Secretary of State must first consult with the appropriate Congressional Committees to explain in detail why it is important to the national interest of the United States to do so.

Most important, this section prohibits the Secretary from waiving requirements to reduce U.S. assessment rates or to establish an inspector general in the specialized agencies. The Secretary of State, while serving as the U.S. Permanent Representative to the United Nations, proposed a bold plan to reduce the U.S. assessment to 20 percent. That proposal was incorporated into this legislation and it is expected that the Administration will achieve this reduction within three years. For this reason, this section strictly prohibits the Secretary from waiving the requirements on reducing the U.S. assessment rates for peacekeeping operations or for the U.N. regular budget. Also, the Conferees continue to believe that the specialized agencies are in need of serious, independent scrutiny. Therefore, the requirement that there be established within the World Health Organization (WHO), the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), and the International Labor Organization (ILO) an inspector general to investigate cases of waste, fraud and abuse, cannot be waived.

While we rejected outright the Administration's proposal to allow a waiver of the U.S. assessment rates, we are persuaded that an unforeseen circumstance may arise which prohibits total achievement of the legislative requirements related to the assessment rates. For this reason, the Administration should be allowed some flexibility if it has substantially achieved the requirement to reduce the U.S. general budget assessment to 20 percent. If Congress is convinced that the Administration has substantially achieved the requirement to reduce the U.S. assessment to 20 percent, we commit to act expeditiously to consider legislation to release the funds in Fiscal Year 2000.

Throughout the three year reform period, we expect that the Administration will consult with Congress regularly to discuss the status of each of these reforms and to explain well in advance if a particular reform cannot be met fully.

Subchapter B—United States Sovereignty/Certification requirements

SUPREMACY OF THE CONSTITUTION

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that the Secretary of State certify that the United States Constitution controls U.S. law and no action by the United Nations or any of its agencies has caused the U.S. to violate the Constitution.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2311) is identical to the Senate bill.

NO UNITED NATIONS SOVEREIGNTY

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that the Secretary of State certify that neither the United Nations nor its specialized agencies have exercise authority over the United States or taken forward steps to require that the U.S. cede sovereignty.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2311) is identical to the Senate bill.

NO UNITED NATIONS TAXATION

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that the Secretary of State certify that U.S. law does not give the United Nations any legal authority to tax the American people; no taxes or comparable fees have in fact been imposed; and there has been no effort sanctioned by the United Nations to develop, advocate or promote such a taxation proposal.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2311) is identical to the Senate bill.

NO UNITED NATIONS STANDING ARMY

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that the Secretary of State certify that the United Nations has not taken formal steps to create or develop a standing army under Article 43 of the United Nations Charter.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2311) is identical to the Senate bill.

NO INTEREST FEES

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that the Secretary of State certify that interest fees have not been levied on the U.S. for any arrears owed to the United Nations.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2311) is identical to the Senate bill.

NO UNITED NATIONS REAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that the Secretary of State certify that neither the United Nations nor its specialized agencies have exercised any authority or control over public or private property in the United States.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2311) is nearly identical to the Senate bill. This section should not be construed to override obligations of the parties to the International Organizations Immunities Act, the Agreement Regarding the Headquarters of the United Nations, supplemental agreements to the Agreement, the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations, or under any other agreement with the United States according the United Nations or its specialized agencies privileges and immunities, or apply to property occupied or utilized under lease or contract with private or government owners.

TERMINATION OF BORROWING AUTHORITY

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that the Secretary of State certify that the United Nations has not engaged in external borrowing, nor have the financial regulations of the United Nations or any of its specialized agencies been amended to permit borrowing, nor has the United States paid any interest for any loans incurred through external borrowing by the United Nations or its specialized agencies.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2311) is identical to the Senate bill.

Subchapter C—Reform of Assessments and United Nations Peace Operations

CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR FISCAL YEAR 1999

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2221) requires that the Secretary shall not make her 1999 certification if she determines the 1998 certifications are no longer valid, and prior to payment of authorized arrears in fiscal year 1999, certify that the certification requirements set out below have been met.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2321) is nearly identical to the Senate bill.

CONTESTED ARREARS ACCOUNT

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that prior to disbursement of any funds authorized in this title, a contested arrears or some other appropriate mechanism has been created for the U.S. This account represents the difference between what the United Nations says is owed by the United States and the amount recognized by the United States Congress. Thus, the sum of the obligations that the Congress is authorizing in this legislation is the total that the Congress shall authorize to be appropriated to the U.N. for its arrears under the regular and peacekeeping budgets. Agreement must be reached with the United Nations that any monies identified in this account will not affect the voting rights of the United States as contained in Article 19 of the United Nations charter.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2321) is nearly identical, but the timing of the certification was moved to fiscal year 1999 certifications at the request of the Administration.

LIMITATION ON SHARE OF REGULAR BUDGET

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2211) requires that the share of the total regular budget assessment for the United Nations and its specialized agencies does not exceed 22 percent for any member.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2311) is identical to the Senate bill.

LIMITATION ON ASSESSED SHARE OF BUDGET FOR PEACE OPERATIONS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2221) requires that the Secretary of State certify that the share of the total peacekeeping budget for each United Nations assessed peace operation does not exceed 25 percent for any member.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2321) is identical to the Senate bill.

TRANSFER OF REGULAR BUDGET-FUNDED PEACE OPERATIONS

The House bill has no similar provision.

The Senate bill (Sec. 2221) requires that the Secretary of State certify that the mandates of two peace operations funded from the regular budget, the United Nations Truce Supervision Organization (UNTSO) and the United Nations Military Observer Group in India and Pakistan (UNMOGIP) are subject to annual review by the Security Council, and the Congressional notification requirements for peacekeeping activities.

The conference substitute (Sec. 2321) is identical to the Senate bill.

GPS Standards Negotiations. The Committee of Conference finds that the U.S. Department of Defense-developed and operated Global Positioning System provides crucial information for global navigation, position location and precision timing. With its various military, scientific and commercial uses, GPS is making important contributions to the national security, foreign policy, economic growth, and trade goals of the United States.

The Committee of Conference further finds that, by seeking to establish GPS as an international standard, the United States can advance national security interests, strengthen cooperative security relations with our allies, and support the competitive leadership of American industry in providing GPS products and services to the global marketplace. The broad use of GPS spurs global economic growth as it contributes to improving infrastructures of both developing and industrial countries.

The Committee of Conference is pleased that the U.S. Department of State is undertaking an important leadership role in coordinating efforts within the executive branch in pursuit of regional agreements with U.S. allies, starting with Japan, that seek to achieve three critical goals: (1) ensure the operation of the GPS on a continuous worldwide basis free of direct user fees; (2) establish GPS and its augmentations as an acceptable international standard; (3) eliminate any foreign barriers to, and other restrictions of foreign governments on, peaceful applications of GPS.

The Committee of Conference therefore directs that, not later than 60 days after the enactment of this legislation, and annually thereafter, the Secretary of State shall submit a report to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Committee on International Relations of the House of Representatives that provides the status, prospects and results of cooperative activities undertaken by the United States with the governments of other countries to achieve regional agreements that establish GPS and its augmentations as an acceptable international standard.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 7, 1997, the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. ISTOOK) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the majority leader.

Mr. ISTOOK. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to take the time this evening to talk about one of the most significant problems that has plagued America because of a multitude of Supreme Court decisions, which the American people have never accepted. You see, there is a problem with lack of respect for our Constitution and for the history and the heritage which brought our Constitution to us.

In fact, what brought so many people to America originally was their desire for religious freedom. We look at the stories of the Pilgrims and Puritans, and we recognize that they were motivated by a desire to be in a land where they could be free to worship as they pleased to worship. And that has been so much of the bedrock of American values, but it has been under attack by the United States Supreme Court.

In 1962, the Supreme Court said it did not matter if it was voluntary; students could not come together and pray at school the way that they had since the founding of the republic. In 1998, the U.S. Supreme Court said the Ten Commandments could not be on the wall of the public school because, and this is what the U.S. Supreme Court said, the students might read and obey the Ten Commandments. So, thanks to the court, of course, our students do not read the Ten Commandments and certainly there is a problem in getting people to obey them.

In 1985, the U.S. Supreme Court said even a moment of silence was wrong. A law to permit a moment of silence, they declared, was unconstitutional because it said that this was okay for students to use that time to pray silently.

In 1992, the Supreme Court said that a rabbi broke the law by offering prayer at a public school graduation. And in 1995, the same Supreme Court, which has ruled that a Nazi swastika is protected on public policy, ruled that a cross could not be included in a group of symbols on a city seal to show the heritage of that community.

In fact, I know that case very well, Mr. Speaker, because it happened in my congressional district in Edmond, Oklahoma. The city seal had five emblems on it: A pair of hands clasped in friendship; an oil derrick, symbolizing the importance of oil to Oklahoma's economy; a covered wagon, indicating the heritage of the Oklahoma land run; a tower that is at the university, the University of Central Oklahoma, in Edmond; and a cross depicting a portion of the religious heritage of the community. And I will bring it on another case, Mr. Speaker, that city seal has a blank spot because the other courts ruled and the Supreme Court said, oh, yes, you cannot have a cross displayed on public property.

Now, that is the same Supreme Court that had said that you could not have a nativity scene in Pennsylvania in Allegheny County. They said a nativity scene, or for that matter a menorah, were unconstitutional because they were not sufficiently balanced by emblems like Santa Claus and Frosty the Snowman and the reindeer. Because of that, they said it was unconstitutional to have the Christmas displays that so many places have had.

I know there are many places in this country where people still do things like have a prayer at a high school football game or as part of the school assembly or maybe in a classroom. But often, Mr. Speaker, that is because the ACLU and their friends have not got around to suing that particular community yet. And, indeed, I see in this Chamber of the House of Representatives right above the Speaker's chair, it reads, "In God we trust." And if the Speaker looks directly across the Chamber from his chair on the back wall here, he sees the visage of Moses, the great lawgiver. And yet, if we had those displayed in public schools, they would likely be held by the U.S. Supreme Court to be unconstitutional.

These decisions started in 1962. There is a whole series of them. I have not even mentioned all of them. But, Mr. Speaker, the time has come to end the judicial misinterpretations of the U.S. Constitution.

The first amendment says, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." But the Supreme Court has misconstrued that to say, "Oh, well, if you have a prayer at public school, that is the same thing as establishing an official church." Of course it is not.
